King supports York's Internet funding plans

By Mark Pavilons

Teaming up with York Region will help fill some gaps in Internet service across the region.

King Township officially voiced its support for York's move to seek millions in funding from the federal government's Connect to Innovate Program. The plan in York is to expand the broadband network in King, Georgina, East Gwillimbury and Whitchurch-Stouffville through a massive, 175-kilometre network.

Both York and its rural member municipalities have pegged broadband as a key priority. York wants to be a "Gigabit Region," where an innovative collaboration results in a connected lifestyle community. This means "raising the bar where there is underservice" and staying ahead of the curve.

In December of 2016, the Ministry of Innovation, Science and Economic Development announced the Connect to Innovate program, which plans to invest $500 million by 2021, to bring high-speel Internet to rural and remote communities. The program anticipates direct public sector and municipal involvement. A proposed fibre loop in King means connecting Nobleton and Schomberg to the existing telecom network in King City. The King portion is roughly 38 kilometres, with a cost of $2.88 million. The proposed route is designed to maximize internet access to Regional and municipal infrastructure and facilities. The total estimated cost to build the three proposed routes (175 kilometres) in York is roughly $14 million, and an estimated $8 million can be recovered from Ottawa. That leaves York on the hook for the remaining $5.6 million.

Plans for Nobleton strip mall moving forward

By Mark Pavilons

Responding to input from residents, the proponent of a Nobleton strip mall has made substantial changes and improvements to the design, making it much more palatable.

King council hosted a public meeting on a bid by Condor Properties to amend the zoning bylaw to rezone the lands to permit the commercial operation.

The changes are necessary to permit the strip mall on the 1.25-acre parcel at the southwest corner of Highway 27 and Mactaggart. The original application went to council back in 2015 and several concerns were raised by staff and members of the public.

Since the initial proposal, council approved the new Nobleton zoning bylaw and the applicant revised their plans with this in mind.

The proposed 31,000-square-foot, three-storey building is oriented to the intersection and will provide for an attractive, pedestrian-oriented atmosphere. This new plan includes a smaller footprint, modified setbacks and a more aesthetically pleasing building.

The plan calls for 72 parking spots and 20 bicycle parking spots as well. Landscaping will feature plantings and benches.

A two-metre retaining wall and privacy fence is planned for the boundaries that face existing homes.

Planning department staff are still reviewing the proposal and comments from various agencies. They will report back to council with their recommendations at a later date.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini lauded this newest version, noting the proponents listened to the public. The original plan called for a drive-thru which many opposed. The mayor said he'd like to see the addition of a gateway feature at the northeast corner of the property, welcoming motorists to Nobleton.

Davide Pellegrini, a representative of Condor Properties, said they removed the drive-thru and underground parking concepts from the original proposal. The zoning permits many uses, and he said at this point they're likely looking at offices, a day care and perhaps a bakery. They tried to increase the pedestrian access to the site and this plan is much more functional.

Ken Kruck, of ACK Architects Inc., said the design has evolved into a much "softer, quaint" project, giving it a "main street feel."

Muckers tie up laces for fundraiser

It's that time of year again, when the King Marsh Muckers don their running shoes to raise funds for Southlake Regional Health Centre. Teams also enjoy a friendly rivalry among York's N6 municipalities to bring home the hardware through the Mayors Cup Challenge, one of the categories identified.

King Township has a solid track record at the event and this year is no exception

In honour of the 15th anniversary of the Run or Walk for Southlake, the route has been changed to incorporate passing in front of Southlake, and under the iconic Southlake bridge.

In 2012, Councillor Avia Eek was invited by the then chair, Steve Hinder, of the Run/Walk for Southlake to join the organizing committee as the King Township representative.

"I agreed, and became part of this community-minded, fun, well-oiled machine that has raised more than $1 million in support of our hospital," Eek said.

"When I asked our mayor and council, at that time, if they would like to form a team to enter in the Mayors Cup Challenge, I was happy to have received a resounding yes! As team captain, I was given the opportunity to name our team. Since I am a farmer in the Holland Marsh (Marsh Mucker), and since vegetables are part of a healthy lifestyle, and since the Holland Marsh is 60% in King Township, it just made sense to call ourselves the King Marsh Muckers.

"I am proud of our King Marsh Muckers Team, as we have always had the majority of council participate in this event both physically and obtaining pledges. We have had a team entered each year since. The first year we won the trophy for having raised the most funds in our category. Wouldn't it be great to have the bragging rights and the trophy on display at our Township office?"

"It's truly wonderful to know that my community has a facility like Southlake ready to respond when there is a health crisis," said Councillor Debbie Schaefer. "When a loved one is given the diagnosis that no one ever wants to hear, it is a relief to know that there will not be the need for road trips to Toronto for the chemotherapy. When a visiting relative is stricken and is hospitalized it is a pleasure

He said the exterior of parts of the new building are inspired by the historic Hambly House, which struck them as "architecturally interesting."

Councillor Debbie Schaefer was pleased the design elements reflect the character of the community.

A 21-year resident who borders the property said this will have a big impact on them. She appreciates the improvements made from the first submission, but is still concerned this mall will generate a lot of local traffic. As it is, residents park on Mactaggart, instead of using the church lot and she believes this will increase when the new mall arrives.

Former councillor Peter Grandilli said he supports the concept, adding he'd like to see even more in the way of planters, benches and interlock walkways, making it appealing to residents and pedestrians.

Resident Susan Beharriell lauded the applicant for listening to resident concerns, and she suggested the facility incorporate as many "green" elements as possible.

Councillor Bill Cober asked staff to look at upgrading the sidewalk from Sheardown to Mactaggart, suggesting King creates a joint partnership with York Region on this much-needed improvement.

"Public opinion shapes our destinies and guides the progress of human affairs"

~ Frank B. Kellogg

Common regrets should motivate all of us

"Regrets, I've had a few; But then again, too few to mention. I did what I had to do And saw it through without exemption."

"I planned each charted course; Each careful step along the byway, And more, much more than this, I did it my way."

As human beings, regret remains as one of our frailties.

That being said, we can avoid the host of emotions associated with regret if, in fact, we leave no stone unturned in our lives.

We often regret the things we failed to do, not the things we've done.

A recent online post brought the message home with "Those top 37 things you'll regret when you're old."

The number-one item was not travelling when you had the chance.

I was a late bloomer in this regard, taking my first trip abroad with my wife Kim when I was in my mid-20s. We became "hooked" and did as much travelling as we could. Of course, our jet-setting took a back seat when our youngins arrived.

Our first stop was quaint Port Lucaya in Freeport, Bahamas. It was amazing and opened up a whole new world of possibilities for us.

Kim and I managed to check off a few more locales during our BK (Before Kids) time together. Admittedly, it has become much harder these days, especially with three expensive, I mean wonderful, children in tow.

Other than day trips and weekenders, we haven't been able to arrange a family vacation. I had to pass a couple of years ago when my family and in-laws all went to visit relatives in Puerto Rico, while I stayed home with the dogs.

My last trip with my son Liam to the Dominican Republic was not a holiday, but a volunteer mission trip.

My daughter Lexie, with our encouragement and support, has been quite the traveller, visiting Europe and Africa.

chance to travel while you're young, or whenever the opportunities presents itself, grab it and take advantage of it.

Mark Pavilons

see, but alas, many are no longer whole these days.

I kick myself for not getting tickets to see Robin Williams perform at Rama before he passed away.

Most of us have a few fears, some of which prevent us from doing things.

I happen to have a fear of heights. I hate roller coasters and avoid them. I would never go skydiving.

Regrets? Not one!

One interesting regret on the list was missing the chance to ask your grandparents questions before they die.

Unfortunately, I never had the opportunity – both sets of grandparents died before I was even born. But had I had the chance, you can bet I would have spent time with them.

Risk-taking is part of being human and some of us regret not leaping forward with both feet.

This can relate to relationships, marriages and other big decisions that involve risk. Heck, almost every we do involves some level of uncertainty and putting ourselves out there.

Worrying too much was put at 33 on I would agree that if you have the the list. Boy, this should be near the top for everyone!

Heed this, I say.

Sure, in our reckless youth and state of "me-ness," it's hard to appreciate what we have. My wife and I are constantly telling our children to not only appreciate what they have, but enjoy every day for what it is.

We are not a rich family, but if I can get one message across to my kids, it's realize their goals. I want them to be the key!

compassionate and help others along the way, too. I want them to feel alive.

I also want them to be free of regrets. They say the funniest people tend to be the saddest. I can attest to that. Despite my ramblings and self-absorbed pity parties, I know that I'm blessed and I appreciate all that surrounds me.

Regrets, I've had a few. Knowing to be thankful, and use that to see and when to stop having them, now there's

Letter to the Editor Growth plan riddled with holes

I read with interest the Neptis Foundation's recent report concerning the loopholes within the provincial Growth Plan and wondered why it has taken Neptis so long to report on a situation that has been quite obvious to many rural residents of the Greater Golden Horseshoe (GGH) for several years.

The government's original plan of Smart Growth relied on unrealistic dreams as to how growth should be controlled. However, when examining the cliché-ridden document, you find that there has been no true attempt to actually achieve the goals it purports.

A favourite on the government's wish list was what it terms "Complete Communities." These would be self-supporting communities where residents would live, work and play, making commuting to large urban centres no longer necessary.

Unfortunately, the government believed that these communities would simply evolve naturally, with no financial inducements or infrastructure support. The reality is that there are few true complete communities in southern Ontario.

The Toronto and Hamilton axis casts a deep shadow within the province and in this shadow are many towns and villages that are simply dormitories for people working in the two cities.

A semblance of what you would call a complete community could be Kitchener-Waterloo or cities and towns that are simply too far from Toronto/Hamilton to be commutable.

So what did our illustrious government do to accommodate the increasing population in the GGH? They came up with the concept of "intensification." In other words, the government determined that there would be more homes per hectare and we would all have to live closer to each other in highly serviced communities.

However, when it came to the "crunch" they left it to the land developers to create this dream and businessmen being businessmen, the developers took the more profitable route and built high-end homes on land around our rural villages; land which they had been sitting on for many years. And almost overnight these underserviced communities with little infrastructure were inundated with new homes and population.

If the new home developers had constructed affordable and appropriate housing for the growing population in places identified by the report as being desirable, there would be no housing shortage. But no, they took advantage of a naïve government and encroached on these rural towns and villages and began building as many as seven one million dollar plus homes on a space where in the past they would have built maybe just three. All in the name of intensification. They then went laughing to the bank with their additional bounty. Meanwhile, the normal "Joe" has been pushed farther and farther away from the Toronto/Hamilton axis looking for affordable and practical housing, which in turn has created an ever-increasing burden on our highways and the air we breathe. While the government has created an admirable Greenbelt that will protect agricultural land surrounding Toronto and Hamilton, it has failed to fund true complete communities and has allowed sprawl to spread to communities that are simply incapable of handling it. One has to wonder how much thought the government really put into their Growth Plan in allowing this inappropriate housing to be developed in locations that lacked the infrastructure to accommodate it. If it was not incompetence one might conjecture that it was collusion between the powers that be and the homebuilders. Finally, King Township is a perfect example of this misguided plan. In the past five years the population has grown by 23%. It is now the 15th fastest growing community of between 5,000 and 200,000 inhabitants located in a census metropolitan area in Canada. What was a tranquil, rural landscape dotted with small villages is becoming a congested outer suburb of Toronto.

This list indicates that not learning another language is a big regret.

Both of my parents were European immigrants, but we only spoke English at home. I had opportunities to learn German and Latvian, but never really jumped in with both feet. I studied French and German in high school so I have a decent grasp, but that's it. I would love to become fluent and even learn Spanish.

Another regret on the list is missing the chance to see your favorite musicians.

I was never much of a concert-goer when I was younger. I did manage to interview a few well known Canadians in my journalism career – Gowan and Kim Mitchell. My wife and I caught Gowan Brampton, and at Casino Rama with Styx.

Worrying and getting stressed out is so common today, it's almost reaching epidemic proportions.

I was a worry wart as a teen and literally sweated over tests, exams, oral presentations in school. In my early career, I was nervous before every interview. Of course, over time, we all get more accustomed with the world around us and we rise to the challenge.

Not spending enough time with loved ones was another regret.

This is an important one to keep in mind.

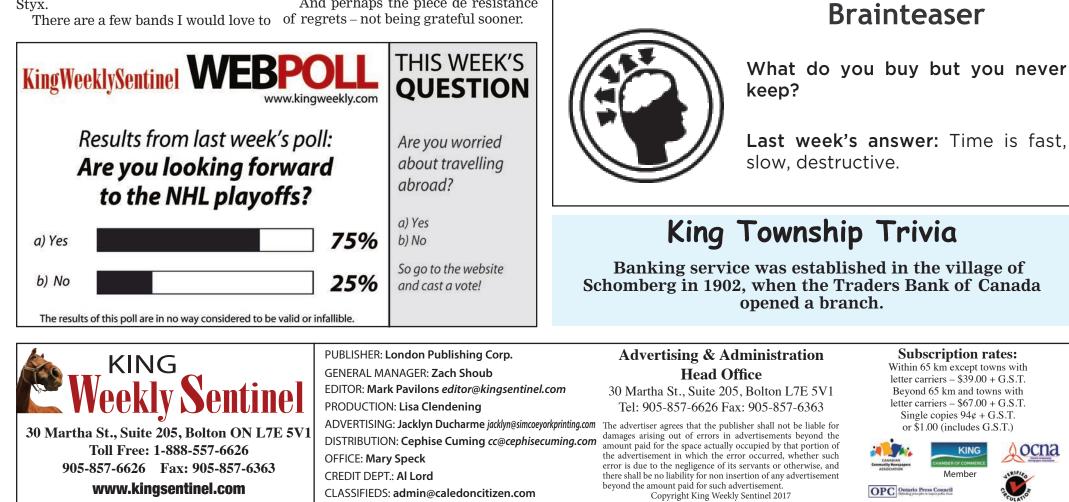

I have lost my entire family – mother, father, sister and uncle - who all perished within a 10-year period. I had the horrible task of arranging all of their funerals and cleaning out their homes. I will never forget going through their personal belongings after they passed again last year, once at Rose Theatre in and regretting every single minute of time lost with each of them.

And perhaps the piece de resistance There are a few bands I would love to of regrets – not being grateful sooner.

Nothing in the budget for York-Simcoe residents, MP says a budget that will continue to drive up the deficit and raise taxes on the hard working residents of York-Simcoe.

"With growing deficits and rising taxes, this Liberal government has betrayed Canada's middle class. They've broken promises to keep the deficit below $10 billion and balance the budget by 2019. They have betraved small business owners by increasing pay roll taxes, eliminating the Hiring Tax Credit, and cancelling the reduction in the small business tax rate. They have increased taxes on middle class families with the elimination of the Children's Fitness Tax Credit, the Children's Arts Tax Credit, the Education Tax Credit, and the Textbook Tax Credit. They then went one step further introducing a Carbon Tax that is making every aspect of Canadian life more expensive," said York-Simcoe MP Peter Van Loan.

The budget increases the taxes on alcohol and now has included a provision that such taxes will rise every year into the future. Farm insurance is facing a new tax.

"The Liberal economic plan is not

The Liberal government introduced working. They are taxing York-Simcoe residents into poverty, as they continue to enact policies that are raising the cost of living on families and seniors. Thanks to the Liberal Carbon Tax, commuters are already feeling the hit to their wallets with a 5 cent per litre increase at the pump, that is expected to grow by another 10-15 cents per litre when implementation is complete," he added. "Public transit is less of an option. The Liberals are cancelling the Transit Tax Credit."

> Total spending by the Liberal government is rising to an unprecedented $330 billion.

> Despite the Liberal campaign promise to balance the budget by 2019, instead, the deficit is rising again - to $25.5 billion, and the national debt to a staggering $667 Billion ($76,229 per family of four).

> "The Liberal government has a spending problem. And for all this out of control spending and tax hikes, there is nothing of apparent benefit to York-Simcoe residents in this budget. Simply put, they cannot afford this Liberal government," Van Loan said.

"At King's I've gained confidence.

I've learned that I don't need to be part of a pack.

I can be myself and become whatever I want to be."

King Township Food Bank seeks fundraising director

King Township Food Bank is seeking an energetic and passionate volunteer to lead its fundraising.

This is a working role, and well suited to a person who is organized and outgoing, with reasonably good computer skills. This is an interesting opportunity for someone who wants to play an important part with an independent organization that makes a difference in the lives of many people, right here at home.

The successful candidate will oversee all fundraising activities, chief among which are the Sponsorship Campaign and Sip & Savour, being held this year on October 26. The Food Bank has successfully operated to serve the residents of King since early 2005, with fundraising efforts starting in earnest in 2009 and Sip & Savour being added in 2014 as the budget grew to meet increasing need.

The organization comprises about 30 volunteers, most of whom are long term in their commitment to KTFB. This includes a small working board, with each director assuming specific responsibilities related to his or her portfolio. Visit www. kingtownshipfoodbank.ca for more information.

King Township Food Bank is an incorporated not for profit, and federally registered charity. Being totally volunteer means over 95% of donations go to the kitchen tables of its registrants.

Serving over 250 people, the budget now tops $100,000 in cash needed (in addition to food donated). With no central funding or support, the Food Bank relies entirely on the community for its existence.

If this interests you, please call Carol Ann Trabert, KTFB President at 416-559-7898. She will welcome the opportunity to chat about this and perhaps other volunteer opportunities with the Food Bank.

Spring Hill puts the fun in fundraising

The 2017 Run or Walk for Southlake, presented by Nature's Emporium is fast approaching, and participants are already eagerly gearing up for the special 15th anniversary event.

The event is the largest annual community fundraiser hosted by Southlake Regional Health Centre Foundation in support of the Newmarket hospital. Since it began in 2002, more than $1 million NET has been raised thanks to the dedicated efforts of individuals and teams who participate and raise pledges to run or walk.

Among this year's fundraising teams are the Spring Hill Spring Chicks and Jocks, a team based out of a condominium residence in King City who have developed a unique way of fundraising for the event.

Last year, team co-captain Geri Stricker generously donated a designer purse as an auction item – but one item quickly became many. Soon, more than half of the residents in the building came forward with items to sell in support of the team. Five tables were filled with more than 100 new and gently used donated items, including purses, candles, golf clubs and more.

"People bought things for hundreds of dollars, and people bought things for $20 or $30," said team co-captain Sharon Petersil. "All the proceeds – everything – came back to sponsor our team and support Southlake, which was phenomenal."

This year they're putting a twist on their annual spring dinner, with proceeds from this ticketed event going towards sponsoring the team. Geri, who recently celebrated a milestone birthday, also raised pledges by generously asking for donations instead of birthday gifts.

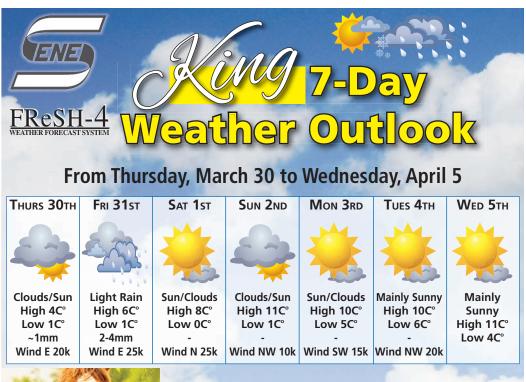

It all stems from a low-pressure mentality about fundraising that puts the focus on community and fun. Because some team members aren't comfortable asking friends and family directly for pledges, they've found these types of events are still very successful and are good fun for everyone involved.

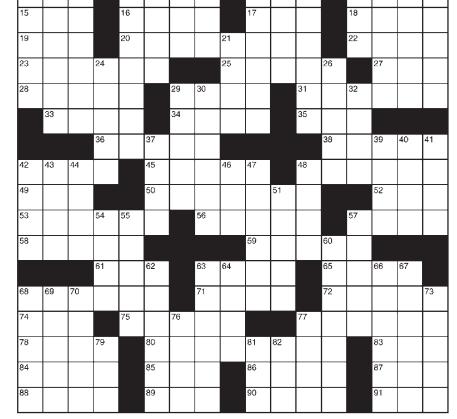

"We definitely want to raise as much as we can, but we don't want our people to feel pressured," says Geri. "We like to do it with fun - with a carrot instead of a stick.'

Geri first heard about the event through family members who work at Southlake, and thought it sounded like a lot of fun. Not only did she want to support the hospital for her own family, but as a regional centre of excellence she knew that others would be interested in supporting it as well. Four years later, what started as a team of six has more than doubled. This year, both Geri and Sharon are aiming for a team of at least 20 walkers of all ages.

"Every one of us on the team has either had care at Southlake, or had family members cared for there," added Sharon. "Supporting Southlake is very important to us. When we cross the finish line and we're presented with that medal, there's a few of us with tears in our eyes. It brings us together, and we really enjoy it."

Join team Spring Hill Spring Chicks and Jocks, and help make sure patients like you and your loved ones can get the care they need by participating as an individual or a team in the 2017 Run or Walk for Southlake on Sunday, April 30. Funds raised through this event support the purchase of new and replacement equipment that is urgently needed across the hospital. Register at runforsouthlake.ca.

Small medical clinic planned for King City

By Mark Pavilons

Township staff will be reporting back to council soon on a proposal to repurpose a home in King City into a small medical clinic.

The public information meeting was held in the council chambers Feb. 27, attracting few comments.

Dr. Angelo Pinto has applied for a bylaw amendment to allow his clinic on the north side of King Road, east of King Boulevard and west of Alex Campbell Crescent.

The plan is to repurpose the home into a medical clinic operated by Dr. Pinto. The other change to the lot would be a parking area to accommodate five spaces. A wrap-around ramp for accessibility is also planned.

The .3-acre property is currently designated Core Area in the King City Community Plan and zoned urban residential. A medical clinic is a permitted use in the Core Area designation. The Community Plan encourages mixed uses, through the conversion of existing buildings.

The application is to rezone the lands to commercial, and allow for a reduction to the minimum frontage and setbacks.

The applicant has provided supporting studies that address everything from erosion and grading to tree inventory, landscaping and noise assessment.

Staff will review any comments received and report back to council with recommendations.

Councillor Debbie Schaefer said it's great to see the repurposing of a property in the core.

Dziuran said they offer both dry and Barrie, Owen Sound and Brampton ist's studio. keep remain loyal.

Dziuran hopes to make some improvements to the exterior of the shop in the coming months. The proof, as they say, is in the pudding, or in this case, the perfect cut of meat.

Walk for Wellness supports CHATS

Seniors in York Region and South Simcoe are very fortunate as CHATS is here to help them live independently in their own homes.

Community and Home Assistance to Seniors (CHATS) is a not-for-profit charitable organization that offers a full range of home care and community programs.

There are two categories of beneficiaries. First, there are the Seniors themselves. And second, there are the family members and/or friends who can consider CHATS as their back-up when they need a break. Programs include transportation, assistance for the transition from hospital to home, home safety assessments, meals on wheels, wellness programs and more.

The Walk for Wellness is CHATS's major fund raising event.

"I am a keen supporter of it – this is my 7th one," said Councillor Debbie Schaefer. "As a councillor I meet a wide variety of people; when talking with seniors I often hear about a recent interaction with CHATS. I am always amazed to hear how the specific exact need of the individual has been met and how it was done so pleasantly."

This year's event is on Saturday, April 8, from 9 to 11 a.m. Even it if turns out to be a rainy day the walkers will be dry as the Walk for Wellness is on the indoor track at the Aurora Leisure Family Complex (135 Industrial Parkway, Aurora).

You can support CHATS by joining the walk; registration fee is $20. Or, you can support someone else who is walking. To register as a walker or to support someone, visit http://www.chats.on.ca/FundEvents.

If you would like to support Councillor Schaefer, and would prefer to write a cheque, please send it her at 2075 King Road, King City, L7B 1A1. Charitable tax receipts are provided.

"I hope to see you on the track!"

The Roost Cafe marks first anniversary

King City's specialty shop, The Roost Cafe, is marking its first anniversary this Friday.

"I cannot believe it has been one year already. We are so grateful for the support of the community over the past year. We would not be here without our valued customers and local supports," said owner Alison Mumford. Reflecting over the past year, Mumford said they have come a long. They are now open 7 days per week, have expanded the menu selection to offer more lunch items, including homemade soup. They continue to offer a selection of natural baked goods, made without refined sugars, which are gluten free and vegan, as well as their traditional baked goods and treats! The cafe continues to cater to dietary alternatives, by offering different types of milk for lattes or specialty drinks. The Roost held a number of events last year, including a music night, board game night, paint night, and gingerbread decorating for the holidays. Mumford said they're looking forward to expanding the patio this spring, and to offer ice cream, a wider selection of smoothies and bring in fresh pressed juice! We will also be hosting more music and community events this summer. "I am so appreciative of all the support I have received this year, whether its from family, friends, strangers willing to help a young entrepreneur, or other local business owners. The community has been amazing at helping to promote the café, and offer ideas or suggestions for growth. Looking forward to what year two has in store for us!" Local dignitaries will be on hand Friday evening at 5 p.m. for a brief ceremony.

From Pops' Kitchen Stuffed pasta dish

By Chef Pops

March 21 marked the first day of spring, but it was also "National Ravioli Day." This week's recipe is for a delicious stuffed pasta tossed in a fabulously simple double tomato, parsley and olive oil sauce that is rich in garlic.

Here's what you'll need to feed four:

- About 1 lb (500 gr) store-bought spinach and cheese stuffed ravioli.
- 1 very generous drizzle of extra virgin olive oil.
- 1 generous glug of dry white wine.
- 1 250 ml can cherry tomatoes or good quality diced tomatoes.
- 6-8 sun-dried tomatoes, slivered.
- 6 cloves of garlic.
- 1 fistful of fresh flat leaf parsley.
- 1 teaspoon corn starch
- A few shavings of asiago cheese.

• 1 tablespoon Parmesan cheese, (preferably not that terrible powdery stuff in the green cardboard tube).

Method:

In a large, high-sided skillet, pour in enough oil to cover the bottom of the pan. Sliver the garlic cloves and add them to the oil.

As soon as they sizzle, add the wine (careful, it might spit) and let it boil a few seconds to burn the alcohol off. Add the tinned tomatoes, salt and a good ten turns of the pepper grinder. Chuck in the slivered sun dried tomatoes. Allow the mixture to cook on medium heat for 5-6 minutes, then break down the tinned tomatoes a bit with the back of a wooden spoon.

Mix the cornstarch with about 1/4 cup of water. Turn the heat up to high and stir in the mixture – it'll help bind the olive oil to the tomato base. Turn off the heat and add the parmesan and parsley.

Give it all a good stir.

It can sit like this for hours until you're ready to eat. If it gets too thick, add a ladle of the pasta cooking water from the boiling ravioli.

When you're ready to eat, bring a large pot of water to the boil and cook the ravioli as per the packet instructions.

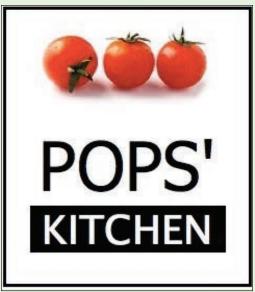

Drain the pasta and carefully toss it in the sauce using a large slotted spoon, being careful not to break open the ravioli.

Serve immediately with shaved Asiago on top.

10 - THE WEEKLY SENTINEL - Thursday, March 30, 2017 _ Campus Church hosts combined Good Friday service

The Campus Church group of churches, a community of Christ followers learning together to Love and Serve God and People will welcome the congregations of all three churches to Good Friday services April 14 at their newest site, The Campus Church North site, 19740 Bathurst Street.

This location meets each Sunday at 10 am. in the King Christian School but on Good Friday will hold two services (9 a.m. and 11 a.m.) to accommodate all of the sister churches.

The Campus Church, is a vibrant community of churches with poignant messages given each Sunday by Lead Pastor David Payne.

"Our ultimate goal is to leave a footprint in people's lives for eternity by exposing them to biblical truth, through the teaching and application of Scripture."

"We are one Church in multiple campuses, sharing mission and statement of faith. Each campus is uniquely equipped to meet the demographic and cultural needs of its community with the good news of Jesus," states The Campus Church website.

"My husband and I appreciate Pastor Payne's ability to relate Biblical content to where the rubber meets the road in today's world," stated a parishioner. "I usually leave each week with a nug-

Pasta dinner a success

Nobleton's famous DiFebo Pasta Dinner was an outstanding, sold-out success. Many thanks to Gino and Sue DiFebo for the delicious pasta and meatballs, and the bruschetta; Val Ball for the fruit, ice cream and pizzella crispy Italian wafer; and many others for the Caesar salad, set-up of the tables with the alternating red and white tablecloths, the decorations of lanterns on each table, the serving and clean-up. MP Deb Schulte left Ottawa on Friday afternoon, landed at Pearson at 6:30 p.m., and was driven directly to the dinner by her husband Dave. Deb was happy to enjoy the delicious food and camaraderie of the community. Here, Gino and Sue DiFebo worked hard making all the meatballs and sauce for the dinner.

get of truth or information that tells me modern worship service, with music that God knows what I'm going through and is really with me."

"Pastor Payne's messages are spoton each and every time," said another attendee.

In 2007 The Campus Church was running out of space each Sunday in their building and parking lot at their original site at 14430 Bathurst St. They were unable to obtain permission to expand in this location so after much prayer and planning it was decided they would launch a second location at the movie theatres on the other side of town on Bayview Ave in a new and growing subdivision. The Bayview site was launched in November 2009. In the fall of 2015 they were once again seeing full services and discerned God's calling to a new site in East Gwillimbury. The North Site began services in November of 2016 and is privileged to serve the communities of King, East Gwillimbury and Bradford. As the newest site the congregation is looking forward to the opportunity to host the other two sites for special Good Friday services.

led by the individual bands at each location.

"Our goal is to involve people in a meaningful worship experience through engaging worship music, prayer and a biblically based message that relates, challenges and inspires," said Pastor Keith Sparrow, Lead Pastor for the Campus Church North site.

"We are uniquely located where three communities intersect," states Pastor Keith. "We enjoy the opportunity to come together as one larger community sharing in this special service. If you are looking for a church home, or just want to check us out, we invite people from the communities of Bradford, East Gwillimbury and King to join on this special day in the Christian calendar to commemorate the ultimate act of love shown to us by Jesus, giving his life for us."

Easter Sunday services will be held at each location at their regular service times. The Campus Church North site meets each week at 10 a.m at King Christian School on Bathurst.

York Pines United Church

We would like to correct some misinformation we included in a previous week's publication. The speaker for the Curiosity Cafe on March 19 was Linda Hemerez, and her parents and brother's family have joined her in Canada with the support of the Church Refugee Resettlement Committee not King for Refugees, as previously reported. Also, we managed to switch the numbers in our own address; it is 3150 Lloydtown Aurora Rd., not 1350.

The Curiosity Cafe continues to meet every Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m. in the Fellowship room at York Pines United Church. In April, the Curiosity Cafe guest speaker will be Mandy McNeil, to speak about "Being an LGBTQ Family." You can read more about what's happening each week at the Cafe by searching for Curiosity Cafe on Meetup.com or following York Pines on Facebook.

Plan ahead and pencil it in for Holy Week and Easter. Wednesday, April 12 beginning at 6 p.m. we will be hosting a labyrinth walk. Thursday, April 13 beginning at 6 p.m. we will be marking Maunday Thursday with a brief service and communion marking the Last Supper.

Friday, April 14 a service marking Good Friday will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Sunday, April 16 people can gather in the parking lot of York Pines at 7:15 a.m. to walk to the Kettleby cemetery, or meet us there for 7:30 a.m. for a sunrise Easter service. At 8 a.m. a light Easter breakfast will be served at the church (call Martha to RSVP, 905-939-7379), and then at 10:30 a.m. an Easter service will be held in the sanctuary at the church. Also, watch out for YPUC's Spring Pop-Up Market on April 29 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

There will be tons of vendors, crafters, local artisans, demonstrations, food and entertainment for the whole family. It's a great spot to pick up that ever-important Mother's Day gift and the kids can make a great craft for Mommy there, too!

There will be a bake sale and refreshments, free parking, a $2 admission fee. Door prizes, draws and when you fill out your Market Passport, you will receive a free swag bag.

Anglican Parish By John Arnott

This past Sunday morning with pussy willows and our treasured organist's playing of Handel's 'Come see where golden hearted Spring rides crowned like a carefree king` during the Holy Communion service we, at St Mary Magdalene's, welcomed spring, briefly setting aside the solemnity of purple clad Lent.

Purple the colour of hangings and our priest's stole [long scarf like vestment] at Christ Church, Kettleby, St Mary Magdalene's, and much used in Anglican churches during this season of Lent was once extremely. difficult and expensive to get. No mordant [dye fixer] could be found to make purple, obtained from plant material or combining red and blue dye, colourfast.

But by the 15 century BC the Phoenicians, a sea trading people from what is today Lebanon in the eastern Mediterranean, discovered that certain glands taken from small sea or rock snails called murex, and left in the sun for a precise length of time, produced a beautiful shade of purple they marketed as Tyrian purple after their chief city, Tyre. Now purple dyed cloth was made colourfast by soaking it in a colour binding mordant usually stale urine – the staler the better!

However, it took some 12,000 murex to produce 1 ounce of dye and in today's world the cost of dyeing purple a piece of cloth the size of a large facecloth would be $3,000.

No wonder purple came to be called the colour of kings! And in mediaeval Europe only the great cathedrals could afford purple hangings and purple vestments for their highest clergy.

This all changed just over 161 years ago when British chemistry student William Perkin accidentally discovered how to make a quality long lasting synthetic purple dye while he was attempting to create something else. Soon purple became available to most everyone.

Red Wings fall to Port Dover in OMHA finals

By Jake Courtepatte

For the third time in four years, the Juvenile Schomberg Red Wings will hang an OMHA finalists banner in the Trisan Centre.

Heading into Saturday's home game down 5-3 in points with Port Dover, the Pirates needed only a tie to clinch their second championship in three years.

A large crowd packed Trisan for what could be the final game in a Schomberg jersey for many of the players, with the home team earning the majority of the chances early on. Jamie Babcock had the first good chance to put the Wings on the board when wide open in the slot, though the Port Dover goaltender stacked the pads for a magnificent save.

It was the Pirates who drew first blood, capitalizing on the power play midway through the first after a scramble in front of the Schomberg net.

From there, Clint Reid was solid between the pipes for the Wings in the remainder of the period, who took a 2-1 lead with two straight goals. Just over a minute after the Pirates' goal, Dan Giglio made a cross at the Port Dover hashmarks and sent a wrister over the goalie's glove, before a bad Port Dover giveaway in their own end led to a Schomberg lead at intermission.

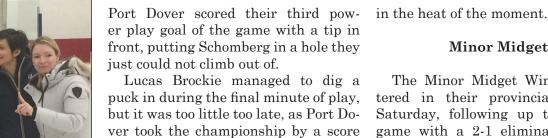

Special teams continued to struggle in the second for the Wings, who gave up their second power play goal early in the period, a shot from the point that Reid just could not see.

The Pirates took a 4-2 lead heading into the final period, with the Wings needing at least three more goals to extend the series.

A fluke too many men penalty handcuffed the Wings early in the third, playing the puck too close to the bench.

The Juvenile Schomberg Red Wings fell 5-3 to the Port Dover Pirates on Saturday to finish as runners-up in the CC OMHA Championship.

ver took the championship by a score of 5-3. As the final buzzer sounded, instead of sticks and gloves being thrown in celebration, they were thrown in preparation for a fight, with many of the players on the ice getting physical

Minor Midgets

The Minor Midget Wings also faltered in their provincial finals on Saturday, following up the Juvenile game with a 2-1 elimination loss to the Pelham Minor Panthers. Backto-back wins in early March were followed by back-to-back losses, ending Schomberg's final playoff hopes.

Stage is set for championships in King curling

By Shellee Morning

The curlers of King play all season long to not only build on their calibre of curling but to accumulate points by winning their games and become one of the 2 final teams for a chance to play in the final for the title of League Champion.

Last week some of the season's most exhilarating curling was displayed in semi-final action that applied tension for some and a stellar confidence for others.

During Monday night men's league the final 4 played with integrity and the will to survive. Defending champions Team Davis won against Team Stronach for their spot in the A division final after a solid performance by all Davis members.

The game between Teams Sheardown and Barber came equipped with some spice and flare with both teams producing superior shot making. After rubbing rocks and brushing pebble to the core, Skip Larry Sheardown and his rink played to a gutsy win over Barber and will now enter the showdown game alongside Davis for League Champion.

First time finalists, Sheardown and his team of Wayne Rhind, Gino DiFebo and Bryce Clark will go broom for broom against league veterans Skip Karl Davis, Steve Broad, Gary Boose and Joe Brunato for a match that will undoubtedly be a hard hitting takeout round that's not to be missed.

B Division finalists will be Team Wright against Team Sidon.

In the ladies semi-final round, first place league finishers Team Bones were up against Team Abbotts for what anticipated in being a tight end for end game. Both teams were exchanging points in the early ends of the contest keeping their cool and performing stable results. Torie Abbots skipped a great game with skill and confidence for her team of Carol Herzog, Jessica D'Arrigo and Nicole Redigonda.

Skip Fran Bones and her girls Cheryl Hamilton, Tamara Niepage and Lyne Woodcock (spare) played solid applying a defensive squeeze mid-way through to take a comfortable lead allowing them to own the rings and the scoreboard. Bones then put the game on cruise control in the last end for the win and their place in the Final Championship game.

Take a sweet ride down memory lane

King residents are invited to take a "sweet ride" into the past by visiting Over on sheet 3 defending champions Team Gorsline were partnered up against first time finalists Team Morning. Skip Shellee Morning and her squad of Kaye Groen, Nancy McCarren and Sharon Dorney secured a solid lead after 3 ends, and not forgetting the strength of Team Gorsline focused on keeping it close. During the 4th end, Skip Kathleen Gorsline guided her team of Marnie Deathe, Christine Warner and Kim Battershell (spare) towards a 4 point end bringing the score 6-4.

Morning rebounded with a single in the 5th and another in the 6th then collected another 3 in the 7th securing an early handshake for the 10-4 victory. Team Bones and Morning are both first time championship finalists and will face the rings for the title of Ladies League Champion.

B Division finalists will be Stronach against Jessop.

Thursday Mixed league witnessed some lopsided curling with heavily one sided scores. Team Broad awaited to see who they would be playing against in the final game for League Championship between Team Gerrits and Clark. In the early part of the crusade the game was evenly matched with points secured for both squads. Skip Bryce Clark and his team of Gino DiFebo, Sue DiFebo and Brenda Clark played a sturdy game of hits and draws but the Gerrits gang seemed to find their mark collecting a multiple end half way through the round. Skipper George Gerrits, Shelley Courneya, Allen Courneya and Ann Gerrits switched gears and went full steam ahead for the win and their spot in the Championship Final against Team Broad.

B Division Finalists will be Steenhoek against Boynton. Consolation championship features Barber and Clark.

The Sunday night league began with 9 eager teams playing to the tune of championship dreaming with veterans and rookies alike taking to the sheets with a determined season ending result of making it to the finals. With an explosive playoff series now complete, Teams Boutin and Grosse will trade rocks and rings in a challenging battle for League Champion.

Competition will be fierce as Skip David Grosse and (mother-in-law) Gail McKinley fight for bragging rights against his wife Pam McKinley who plays Vice for Team Boutin. Cheryl Teasdale and Erich Heise close out the front end for Team Grosse while Skip Richard Boutin, Nicholas Beck and Lisa Hutchinson complete the Boutin team.

There are approximately 128 rocks left to be thrown (per team) to decide who will be crowned League Champion. Each rock will need to be placed strategically and each player will need to bring their A-Game for any chance at the title. Stay tuned for an exciting finish for King's final games of the 2016-17 season!

Skip Fran Bones and her team of Cheryl Hamilton, Tamara Niepage, Wendy Yates and Skip Shellee Morning with Kaye Groen, Nancy McCarron, Sharon Dorney will play for the Ladies League Championship title.

Skip George Gerrits along with his team of Shelley Courneya, Allen Courneya and Ann Gerrits will play for the Mixed Team Championship Title against Team Skip Steve Broad, Kim Broad, Stephen Heise and Cindy Peelar.

Alan Bray's collection.

The home museum will be open to the public Saturday, April 29 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Admission is free.

It's located at 19230 Bathurst Street, on the west side, 5 kilometres north of Highway 9.

Sadly, it will be open for the last time to King residents, 12 years and up. Bray has plans to auction off the contents.

The collection is 28,000 square feet of vintage automobiles, service station gas pumps, soda pop bottles, oldstyle farm equipment, and lots more including a startlingly well-preserved Conestoga wagon all inside a modern partially-Mennonite-built barn.

The collection goes up for auction June 7, 8, 9 and 10.

UNITED WE PLAY!

King City United By Earle Laycock

Rev. Evelyn used the parables Jesus taught of the lost sheep, coin and son as the text for her sermon Sunday. You can read these in Luke 15: 1-32.

How rich are you? With tax time approaching we may not consider ourselves rich.

Rev. Evelyn McLachlan used Luke 16:19-31 as her text. She checked a website www.globalrichlist.com to see where she ranked in the world. Rev. Evelvn said. "There are 7.5 billion people in the world. I happen to register in at #12,508,460. Apparently, I am in the top 0.21% of the world."

But what does this mean? Maybe to the Ministry and Personnel Committee, Rev. Evelyn is overpaid. Perhaps it means that we are very fortunate to live in Canada sharing in the wealth of the country. Or it may mean that we are expected to use our good fortune to help others less fortunate in the world. We are very blessed indeed to have been born in Canada or immigrated to Canada. Most others are not so fortunate. Where do you rank in helping others less fortunate?

The first of two dinner and discussion evenings was held last Tuesday to discuss the movie "The Shack." This movie is still playing in theatres and tells the story of Mack Phillips who after suffering a bad childhood, sees a family tragedy challenge the foundations of his weakened faith. Mack acquires new insight into his faith by a strange experience in a remote shack one weekend. Although turnout was limited, the food and discussion was excellent.

There is a fundraiser for the King Township Food Bank at Sacred Heart Catholic Church on Saturday, April 1, a Lasagna Cookoff. One of Fr. Michael's parishioners challenged our Ev the Rev to enter and she's all set to go! She's been getting some "advice" from friends on Facebook as to how to maker her lasagna a winner! Thanks to the Knights of Columbus for arranging this tasty fundraiser for a great cause!

Dr. Neal Mathers. Our aim is to arrive at three viable options for further consideration. Please pray and plan to be there.

The Easter services at St. Andrew's are: April 9 - Palm Sunday worship with Pastor John Mills at 10:30 a.m.; April 13 - Maundy Thursday service at 7:30 p.m. led by The Rev. Dr. John Vissers; April 14 - Good Friday service with the United Church held at St. Andrew's at 10:30 a.m., and Easter Sunday worship and communion service at 10:30 a.m. presided by The Rev. Dr. John Vissers. A warm welcome is extended to all.

King's Corners risma to present "The Song Lives On" - choral music for Holy Week at Thornhill United Church, 7:30 p.m. A freewill offering in support of Hill House Hospice in Richmond Hill will be received.

> Tuesday morning Prayer Time continues at 9 a.m. All are welcome to pray, give thanks, or just listen and be still before the Lord who is with us as He promised, hearing and answering our prayers, offering comfort, hope, and direction. Let us know if you have prayer requests or thanksgivings.

Nobleton United Church By Nancy Hopkinson

On Monday April 3 at 7 p.m., at Nobleton United, there will be a special Covenanting Service between Carol-Ann Chapman and Nobleton United and Schomberg United churches. Both congregations promise to support Carol-Ann in her ministry and she promises to support them. There will be reps from Toronto Conference and from Northern Waters Presbytery. Symbolic gifts are given to Carol-Ann. The music will be lively. The guest speaker is retired Rev. Warren Schell, who has a passion for social justice and is also lively. He served at Hagersville United Church 1997-2006 and now enjoys being a guest speaker. Warren's message will be memorable. The community is invited to join us in officially welcoming Carol-Ann. You are invited to socialize afterwards.

Carol-Ann invites you to come for Sunday worship at Nobleton United at 11:15 a.m. or at Schomberg United at 9:30 a.m. or phone 905-859-3976 to let Carol-Ann know that you would like a visit. Please leave a message.

The Youth Music program for youth 10 to 16 years old, is now a component of the Schomberg Youth Club who meet on Friday evenings, 7-9 p.m., at Schomberg Public School. Thanks to Heather Patterson for providing the seventh guitar. Dennis Kowal and Barry Simpson, will be offering this introduction to guitar until mid-June and may continue 14, Mother's Day with flowers for the when the Schomberg Youth Club begins again in September depending on interest. They are situated in the lobby while games are on in the gym, that way youth can bounce back and forth to both activities. There are currently seven right-handed guitars to use and are available for loan at weekly intervals should you wish to practice at home (parent's signature required). If you already have a guitar, bring it with you. If you are left-handed and interested in learning how to play, let Jack Campbell (905-939-2992) know and we'll try to acquire a left-handed guitar for you.

Sunday, April 9 is Palm Sunday, a time when we remember with great joy Jesus entering on a donkey and people waving palm branches to greet him. We will have palm branches to wave!

Tuesday, April 11, 5-7 p.m., Messy Church, 5-7 p.m. We will be doing crafts and activities related to the theme of Easter. One of the activities involves making a cross using Perler beads which are fusable beads, so an adult has to iron the creation after the child has completed a colourful design of the cross. We have story time at 6 p.m., followed by a meal at 6:15 p.m. Children must be accompanied by an adult. All are welcome to attend this free event.

Friday, April 14 at 10:30 a.m. Good Friday service is a remembrance of Jesus's death on the cross.

Sunday, April 16, at 11:15 a.m., Easter is a joyous occasion with lots of tulips in the sanctuary and with special singer/guitarist Danny Szauter. If you would like to order a pot of tulips in someone's memory, please contact Sue DiFebo at 905-859-4260. The cost is $9.

ladies; June 18, Father's Day with Beatle's Music; June 25, Canada Day Celebration with Orangeville's lively "Day by Day" guitar/singing group.

Last Thursday some of us watched "The Perfect Family" movie on the big screen in the sanctuary. The Perfect Family is a 2011 comedy-drama film about a devoutly Catholic wife and mother who has been nominated for one of the church's top awards. She then goes about trying to prove she has the "perfect" family, refusing to accept her adult children for who they are. After her husband leaves her, she comes to her senses and learns that love is what God wants us to use to guide us and our relationships. There was a happy ending We enjoyed the discussion afterwards as we recalled our favourite lines and the different secrets that the members of the family had.

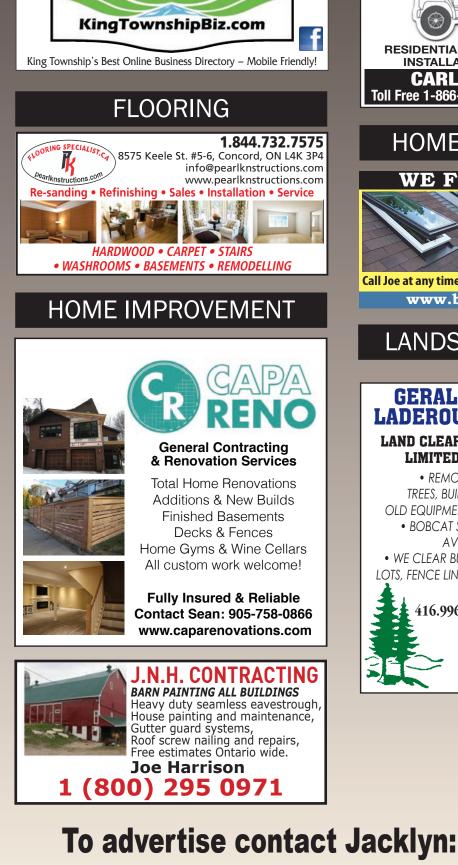

For more info, visit nobletonunitedchurch.com, our Facebook page, or call 905-859-3976. The Nobleton United Church office is normally open on Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Messages are picked up regularly. We are located at 6076 King Rd., north side, about 6 buildings west of Hwy 27. We have a big parking lot at the rear of the building, an accessible ramp at the rear of the building.

St. Alban's Anglican Parish By John Arnott

That he was angry was apparent to all when the priest stormed into to the officers quarters of Fort Rouille demanding to see the commandant, What was said behind closed doors in commanding officer quarters is lost to history. But Abbe Picquet was a man to be reckoned with not only because of his fiery temper but he had the ear of the Marquis de la Galissoniere governor of New France (Quebec) and through him Louis XV King of France.

The St. Alban's Anglican community in Nobleton notes that Francois Picquet born in Bourg-en-Bresse, France, and a priest of the Sulpician Order came to Canada as a missionary. He established Fort de la Presentation, a mission station with a military presence, near present day Ogdensburg New York as his headquarters from where he travelled around Lakes Ontario and Erie attempting to Christianize the First Nations people mainly Haudenosaunee (Iroquois) and persuade them to support the French against the British to the south. He would often visit small French outposts on his journeys mainly to call out those in charge for their harsh treatment of the native people which he knew was undermining his mission. He was especially vehement about the French commanders turning a blind eve to traders supplying these people with liquor [brandy] instead of silver as payment for their furs which the king strongly condemned.

When Picquet arrived at Fort Rouille built in 1751 and named for Count Antoine-Louis a minister in the French government but most often referred to as Fort Toronto he focused his attention on Teiaiagon, the nearby First Nations village where the Humber River meets Lake Ontario, and began the task of converting its inhabitants to Christianity. His efforts must have met with some success as before he left some of his converts were asking for a church to be built. Picquet passed this request on to the fort commander. But on his subsequent visit he found no church but instead a liquor outlet had been built. This discovery no doubt led the heated meeting going on in the fort that day.

Now, whether or not Picquet succeeded in replacing the liquor store with a church is not known for shortly afterwards the French burned Fort Rouille to the ground to prevent it falling to the British. And the substantial village of Teiaiagon was home at times its thought to almost 1,000 souls and lasted longer than most First Nations settlements of the day.

A plaque on the banks of the Humber River in the fashionable west Toronto neighbourhood of Baby Point now marks the approximate location of the village.

And a large granite column just inside the Dufferin Gates on the grounds of the CNE marks the site of the fort and its 180 by 180 ft/55 by 55 is marked out in concrete on the ground around it.

Internet funding plan 'great story for King'

At this time, York has not earmarked the funds and will have to identify potential funding sources. Staff hopes to bring these details forward as part of the 2018 budget process.

"This is what we want," stressed King Mayor Steve Pellegrini at the March 20 council meeting. It's an opportunity for others to join in this "dark fibre" infrastructure project. "It's a great story for King."

While there may be other methods available to bring high speed Internet to homes, "this is vital."

Former councillor Peter Grandilli appeared before council, asking about the costs to homeowners, specifically the historically high hook-up charges. He said the municipality should explore different ways to deliver services, including wireless systems.

Councillor Avia Eek said providing these services "is all about collaboration, noting by supporting York's application, King has an 80% chance securing the needed federal funds.

York's application through Connect to Innovate a "fabulous stepping stone."

King CAO Susan Plamondon noted that King took on a leadership role to initiate the collaboration with York. By getting the ball rolling, King has boosted the regional application.
