Happy Valley Forest land donation is a true 'Love story'

By Mark Pavilons

King's precious Happy Valley Forest, a rare jewel in the GTA, has grown by 90 acres, thanks to a generous donation by a local family.

With this donation, a project some 10 years in the making, generations to come can enjoy their trek to the Love Mountain Nature Reserve, thanks to the contribution and patience of David and Ann Love.

"We're lucky to be able to do," David said during a public ceremony and tour last week.

The official unveiling was attended by politicians, York Region staff and members of the Nature Conservancy of Canada (NCC), stewards of Happy Valley Forest.

James Duncan, regional vice-president of NCC, said the key to such things is partnerships and people.

"We do it for plants, animals and forests, but we do it through people," he said.

The scale and importance of Happy Valley Forest hasn't gone unnoticed. In fact, NCC received a $225 million government grant in 2007 to carry out its important conservation work.

Part of an important headwater region, conservation projects in the Happy Valley Forest Natural Area - including Love Mountain - contribute to the protection of important water resources, and help to provide safe drinking water for residents as far away as Toronto. Trails within the Happy Valley Forest are open to visitors year round for walking and wildlife viewing.

Paul Calandra, MP for Oak Ridges-Markham, said many people talk about environmental protection but few are actively involved. Standing at the foot of Love Mountain, Calandra said it's obvious to see why such efforts are vitally important.

Additional funding for this project was generously provided by the federal government, York Region, and other foundations.

Calandra noted in these challenging economic times money isn't abundant, but the government is "proud to do this."

It's a big commitment from the Love family and it lets others know this program exists and there are many ways to give and become local advocates.

He considers himself very lucky as an MP for "the most beautiful riding in the country, bar none."

David Love noted he first saw the property and forest in 1946 when his family first became "enchanted" by the natural beauty. He admitted he grew up here, fell in love here and has raised children and now enjoys grandchildren who share a love of the forest.

The area provides him a "sense of place" and "is my family touchstone."

Ann shared some stories and captured moments, including the origins of the Sunny California pond and meadow and Green Leaf Lane. European settlers called the property "Sunny California" because, with a south facing slope, the lot was always several degrees warmer than anywhere else in King Township.

David said the "gift" really belongs to the earth. "Love Mountain and Happy Valley Forest are simply coming home," he said.

"We hope that our donation of the land that we love so much inspires those fortunate enough to consider doing the same in the Happy Valley Forest and beyond," the Loves added.

Erin Mahoney, commissioner of environmental services for York Region, said it's inspiring to hear and see the passion for the land. She was taken by seeing such partnerships in action and this donation supports the Region's greening strategy. She praised the generous and educational gift the Loves bestowed.

"York Regional Council is actively engaged in the protection of our natural features though the Regional Greenlands Securement Strategy and partnerships with organizations such as the Nature Conservancy of Canada," said York Region chairman and CEO Bill Fisch. "The combined efforts of all parties to conserve Love Mountain in the Happy Valley protects this land for current and future generations."

"The Love family is leaving a wonderful natural legacy that also honours their family legacy, and we are so pleased they chose NCC to receive this gift, and trust us to guard it," said Mark Stabb, NCC Ontario program manager. There are many parts to assembling the forest "puzzle" and he stressed this particular donation involved a lot of work and patience.

He said the forest has to be experienced to be appreciated.

Duncan noted they need to increase the pace of conservation. "We can't allow development to outpace conservation," he observed. "Our work is your work. We do it for everybody."

Named for the "high mountains" described by early settlers and travelers of the Toronto Carrying-Place Trail, which passed very near this area, Love Mountain is a tribute to both a cultural and a family history. The old-growth forest and wetland habitats of the property provide a haven for species at risk and other rare wildlife including Acadian flycatcher, Jefferson salamander, southern flying squirrel and snapping turtles.

Love Mountain's kettle ponds, a prominent feature of the Oak Ridges Moraine, were formed during the end of the last ice age and are important habitat for many wetland animals.

David Love's grandparents, Ellsworth Flavelle, an accomplished photographer, and his wife Muriel, founder of Kingcrafts Studios, first purchased land in the Happy Valley Forest in 1930.

The Happy Valley Forest is one of the largest remaining intact upland deciduous forests on the Oak Ridges Moraine.

The Happy Valley Forest is a special area that features all the elements necessary to achieve old-growth structure in the next 50 years. The forest area supports more than 110 breeding bird species.

NCC manages 521 acres (210 hectares) of conservation land within the Happy Valley Forest Natural Area. NCC and partners together have protected 630 acres (255 hectares).

If only Love Mountain could speak. Maybe she doesn't have to. Fortunately, there will be many more generations of stories to tell.

That's love!

Fifteen minutes of fame, or a lifetime of love?

"I know what happiness is, for I have done good work."

- Robert Louis Stevenson

As I look around, I have to wonder whether we're embarking on the wrong path, or barking up the wrong tree.

Instead of savouring the fruit from the tree of knowledge, we're scratching at the bark, clawing our way to riches, fame and fortune.

But what happens when we get to the top and we're perched, like a bird, on the upper-most branches? Nice view, if you can afford the price.

Like an overly optimistic fool, I faithfully purchase lottery tickets, in hopes of hitting the jackpot.

I'm not greedy. Many achieve success and relative wealth through their careers, and upwardly mobile jobs. In many chosen careers (mine included), it's more of a labour of love.

But being a realist, I do know the needs of my family are paramount. And should my lottery investment pay off one day, the money will be put to good use - paying down debt, providing for my family and spreading the wealth among needy charities. I've even thought about handing out $100 bills to genuinely nice people I encounter on a daily basis.

To do otherwise, in my opinion, could have devastating consequences. Too many have self-destructed after huge windfalls because they were overwhelmed and perhaps lacked a clear focus.

As Mother Teresa noted, even if it's not appreciated, we should do good each and every day. And Albert Schweitzer reminds us: "Do something for somebody every day, for which you do not get paid."

Here's a little exercise to try, to see what's really important.

Name two millionaires; the last five Stanley Cup winning teams, or a popular runway model.

Name a teacher who influenced you or left a lasting impression on you.

Name five friends or family members you love, cherish and respect.

Name a person who touched you emotionally or spiritually.

I imagine you've

guessed that it's much easier (and enjoyable) to take note of special people in your life and not wealthy strangers or acquaintances.

Friends and family will carry you through life, support you, love you and care for you.

We all like know this, yet many put these thoughts on the backburner, preferring to concentrate on power, wealth and material possessions.

What's important to some is a meteoric rise to the top of the ladder - the proverbial corner office with a nice view, personal assistant, six-figure salary, company expense account and company car.

Do you know someone like that? Ask them if they're truly happy. And ask them if they take their full allotment of vacation time each year. Ask them how their family life is and if they manage to share daily tales with their kids at the dinner table.

There's no great secret to life, really. And I don't have any remarkable answers to share.

No one ever became poor from giving generously.

Don't believe me? Just ask John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who said:

Giving is the secret of a healthy life. Not necessarily money, but what ever a man has of encouragement and sympathy and understanding."

These days, many of us fall into the category of the "working poor." We work out of necessity, just to live and not because we've found our life-long passion, niche or true calling in life. That's not to say, however, that we can't jump out of bed each morning with a smile and do some good each day.

When I become down, all I have to do is turn my thoughts to my family.

I recall with crystal clarity the night I proposed to Kim on the deck of the tall ship Empire Sandy as we cruised Lake Ontario, capping off the night with fireworks, literally. I also remember borrowing the money for the engagement ring from my future father-in-law!

I remember the birth of each child like it was yesterday.

When I hear our boy child Liam laugh uncontrollably, it's infectious and it leaves me with a lasting ear-to-ear grin.

When I hear Lexie singing while she does her homework, I'm filled with a sense of accomplishment.

When our youngest tells us about her day in rather lengthy detail, I smile, knowing something is right in the world.

From time to time, I think of my dad's laugh and sister's smile. I can still recall those hugs that only a mother can give - a squeeze that, at any age, feels like home.

I wonder how they're all doing in Heaven.

I am reminded by my wise, caring wife, to pick my battles and free up time to spend with the kids. It's so easy to bury our faces in our iPads and apps that time literally slips away. We spend way too much time pondering the could-have-beens, and not the possibilities.

As we trudge along, we are creating our family photo album, our memoirs so to speak. How many of those picture-perfect moments involve work, money, career, yachts and luxury automobiles?

How many of those involve sharing an ice cream cone with the dog; an impromptu squirt gun fight while washing the car, or watching the kids' soccer games?

"It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy what we have, that makes happiness."

- Charles H. Spurgeon

Letter to the Editor

MP Paul Calandra leaves us flying blind

Canadian taxpayers are now paying more for less, thanks to MP Paul Calandra and the Conservative Party's costly changes to our national census.

The results are in and their decision to eliminate the mandatory long-form census has produced much lower-quality data that will often not be useable at the local level. In fact, Statistics Canada withheld data on over 1,100 Canadian municipalities, including Lake of Bays, because the numbers were just too unreliable.

The government spent an extra $30 million to collect this inaccurate data compared to the traditional, proven census. What a waste!

How will a community know where a food bank is needed if we don't know which neighbourhoods have the most poverty? How will school boards know where adult language training is most needed without knowing where immigrants are settling? We just don't know.

The errors in the data will only get worse over time. At least this time Statistics Canada can use the last full census as an anchor to correct some of the problems. Next time, that option won't do much good.

The problem is spreading: governments and the private sector use data from the census to adjust their surveys if a group's response rate is low. Now all these other statistics will be less reliable.

Mr. Calandra and the Conservatives are asking us to start making big, expensive decisions blindly, without the basic data that is essential to good planning. And they're charging us more to do it. It's irresponsible and we're paying the price.

The Canada Job Grant – delivering change for the better

York-Simcoe residents, like most Canadians, are known for their work ethic and entrepreneurial spirit.

These strengths have helped our community and Canada to weather the economic downturn better than most other countries. People want to work, and our government believes that it is important to support those getting back to work in fields where jobs are available.

In Canada, there is a labour gap caused by a great demand for skilled workers and a lack of workers with the matching skills. Our plan is to bridge this gap – to connect Canadians with available jobs by equipping them with the skills and training needed to obtain high-quality, well-paying employment.

The Harper government has a three-point plan to help Canadians get trained with the skills that are in demand and connect them with employers. The centerpiece of our plan is the creation of the Canada Job Grant. This will take control of money for training out of the hands of government bureaucrats and put it in the hands of those who want to work and the people who want to hire them. Finally you will be trained for a job that actually exists. The three points of our plan are as follows:

1. Creating the Canada Job Grant, to provide $15,000 per person, including the federal contribution and matching contributions from provinces and employers, to train you for a job that exists.

2. Creating opportu-

Peter Van Loan

MP York-Simcoe

nities for apprentices by making it more practical and easier to get the experience needed to make the leap to journey person status.

3. Providing support to those facing challenges in the current market, including people with disabilities and youth.

The Canada Job Grant will take skills-training choices out of the hands of government and put them where they belong: if somebody wants to hire you for a job for which you need new skills training they could provide up to $5,000 to provide the training. That would then be matched by up to $5,000 from the federal government, and up to another $5,000 from the provincial government.

The Canada Job Grant will require the agreement of the province of Ontario as a new way to deliver skills training. But, for the first time, instead of a government bureaucrat in an office telling you what course to take, and then hoping you could find a job – you will actually be trained for a job that exists, and one which someone wants you to fill.

By matching employers with those who want to work, and providing them with the funding for the skills training we will see better results for families, and for the economy. What's more, it will mean less spending on bureaucratic overhead – focusing spending where it will make a positive difference.

It just makes sense to help hard-working Canadians get trained with skills that are in demand. Canadians will be able to find long-term, well-paying jobs faster. We are working hard to set Canadian families and businesses up for success now and in the future. We remained focused on creating jobs, growth and long-term prosperity – something I think all Canadians can agree, is a change for the better.

Julia Munro, MPP York-Simcoe Regulations, costs, plague planning process

One of the issues people frequently ask me about is how a particular development in their neighbourhood was approved and who makes the decisions. I'd like to use my column today to shine some light on how the process works. It can be confusing for the average citizen to figure out the complicated decision-making processes. Planning can have an important effect on your life, particularly in a fast-growing area with a lot of development.

All levels of government have a say in local planning but you're not likely to have to deal with the federal government unless a development affects Lake Simcoe. Almost all planning is a shared responsibility by the provincial and municipal governments. The province writes the laws which set out the obligations of municipalities.

What does the province do?

The Ontario government decides policy under the Planning Act and prepares provincial plans such as the Greenbelt and the Greater Golden Horseshoe Growth Plan. Provincial plans designate Barrie as a growth area. The province promotes interests such as protecting farmland, natural resources and the environment as well as ensuring development is sustainable.

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing oversees Ontario's planning system and gives advice to municipalities and the public.

What do municipalities do?

Municipalities make local planning decisions, prepare official plans which set out general planning goals and write zoning bylaws with rules and regulations for projects. For most permits you deal with your local municipality.

For townships, local planning is determined by the town's official plan and the official plan of the county (Simcoe) or region (York). Municipal bylaws under official plans can have an important effect on your property and it is important to know your rights and obligations. Official plans are generally reviewed every five years so you should keep an eye out for notices of meetings in the local paper or the town website.

You may also have to deal with the Lake Simcoe Region Conservation Authority if your home is near a watercourse or a wetland. Many activities, such as building a dock or a boathouse, require permits, which you can find out more about on their website.

So why do we have this very involved planning process and is it really necessary?

In an ideal world, we could all do what we want with our own property. In many cases, we can. However what you do with your own property can have a great effect on you and your neighbours. Preserving the livability of communities such as King makes planning necessary as we balance the demands of growth with the need to preserve our local environment and our quality of life.

One of my main concerns with planning is there are too many regulations and costs. This is why I would love to hear your thoughts on any problems or ideas for reform that would make planning work better for you.

The Residential Construction Council of Ontario wrote a report in 2011, which outlined how some of our planning rules are driving up the cost of housing. They estimate that government imposed costs (such as development charges) can make up almost 20% of the cost of housing in GTA municipalities. Since government policies also restrict the amount of land that can be used for housing, we run the risk of many low-income or young families being unable to afford a home.

We must have a balanced planning system, one that allows the preservation of our communities and quality of life, while allowing for affordable housing for families.

MP sees pandas

MP Peter Van Loan (left) and other guests of the Toronto Zoo, got a glimpse of the two new pandas, Da Mao (shown here) and Er Shun. "This day has been a long time coming - in fact it has been more than 20 years since Canadians have had the opportunity to see giant pandas in our zoos - but I am happy to say today that wait is finally over," Van Loan said.

REMINDER FROM THE TOWNSHIP OF KING

Spring is a good time to connect to the sanitary sewer system, if you haven't already done so.

Having part of your property dug up to lay the connecting sewer pipe and de-commission your septic tank is best done before summer landscaping and gardening begins.

For more information about connecting to the sewer system, please go to www.king.ca and click on Sanitary Sewer Projects on the home page (under "Popular Topics").

Questions can be directed to our Project Phone Line at 905-833-4073 or by email to nobletonsewers@king.ca.

Groombridge explores every corner of the globe

By Jeff Doner

World traveller Brock Groombridge said he hears it from people all the time: "I wish I could do what you are doing." And each time he answers the same way: "you can!"

Currently visiting Singapore (his 62nd country in just a few years), Brock has just started another mammoth trip, this time a two-month jaunt across Asia and Australia.

But he's not just doing it on his own. He is working and experiencing the world with a company called Viator, which has him go on tours in different cities and then he puts together a two-minute video of the experience.

"It's an amazing gig actually, I feel pretty fortunate to say the least," he said. "Landing this job just kind of confirmed to me that I was on the right track and found a niche that I was quite good in and that I enjoyed."

Brock, 25, explained that Viator does not sell trips per se, but rather experiences and tours that usually are a few hours long.

"For me, this past year has been really big. I have a very large company that has brought me on in a very big way and I'm getting to do exactly what I want to do. I get to travel to all these places and I get to experience all these tours and share them with other people."

So far, Brock has visited every continent except the Antarctica, which he quickly added is a place he would like to go someday.

In this role, Brock said he has had the opportunity to do some pretty amazing things.

"I had never been in a helicopter; I've now been in quite a few. I have flown a fighter jet in Vegas; I've explored Hawaii and gone to a luau. I've gone snorkeling with manta rays and greenback sea turtles and white water rafting through the Grand Canyon."

Prior to finding a role with Viator, Groombridge went on an adventure of his own, careening across North America, Europe and North Africa on a one-year, 36-country trip.

This experience gave him the idea to blog about his adventures and actively seek a life in what he does best - travelling smart and efficiently.

And aside from his work with Viator, Brock wants to help people realize that they can do it, too.

"A big part of it for me is encouraging other people to do this. Obviously I'm taking it to a big level and I travel for large amounts of time, but a big part of what I do and what I'm passionate about is encouraging people to get out there and try something," he said. "I've learned so much about myself and the world around me just by travelling. I think a lot of people are apprehensive to just jump out there."

When (and if) he finds himself at home for an extended period of time, Brock said he has his sights set on a couple new projects.

"I think a next step for me would be speaking at more high schools and universities. For me, heading out to travel, it was the best thing that ever happened to me. I feel like it was a master's degree of sorts."

"I genuinely think that anyone who wants to should just take off and go somewhere. Go explore a place. You learn so much about yourself, because you're being forced to work on your communication skills and problem solving."

He also made it clear that he's not necessarily telling everyone to take off for a year to travel, but instead to think of it in a more manageable way. Maybe three weeks to just go away and experience something totally different.

Another important message he wanted to get across is that he has managed to pay for his school and travels on his own.

"I went through university and paid for it by myself and I paid to travel by myself," he said. "I really saved up and worked hard. I made furious sacrifices before I left."

So if this is something you want to do, Brock said there are ways to do it and he can help as part of something he calls, 'adventure coaching,' where he helps people plan their ideal trip.

"My goal in all of this is to get people out there and explore the world around them. There's this big world and so much to learn about and see and it's accessible. It's not hard. The hardest part in all this is booking the plane ticket and then all you have to do is show up."

To contact Brock and see what he has been up to or to have him speak at your school or venue, visit www.backpackwithbrock.com, on Twitter @backpackerbrock or Facebook.com/backpackwithbrock.

Wynne unveils Highway 427 extension plans in Vaughan

By Angela Gismondi

The government of Ontario plans to extend Highway 427 north through Vaughan to Major Mackenzie Drive if the provincial budget is passed.

Premier Kathleen Wynne came to Vaughan to deliver the news in person Thursday. She was joined by Vaughan MPP Steven Del Duca, Transportation Minister Glen Murray, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing Linda Jeffrey and Vaughan Mayor Maurizio Bevilacqua and members of council at Conair/Cuisinart Consumer Products in Vaughan.

The Highway 427 extension is included in the 2013 Ontario budget. If the budget is passed, construction on the 6.6-kilometre highway extension would begin in 2016/17. The extension would take the highway from its present terminus at Zenway Boulevard up to Major Mackenzie Drive in Vaughan. The project proposes three new interchanges including Langstaff and Rutherford Roads, nine bridges and protection for a future transitway and transit stations along the west side of the highway.

Wynne, the former Minister of Transportation, said she knows how important the project is to the community.

"Our investments in infrastructure are building a roadmap for Ontario's future," said Wynne. "As our communities continue to grow, we need to fund smart projects like this that will help people get home from their jobs quickly at the end of the day, and connect our businesses to their expanding markets."

The expansion of the highway would open up the Vaughan Enterprise Zone employment lands, an integrated multi-modal transportation services and economic hub of regional importance in the city's southwest corner. The Vaughan Enterprise Zone encompasses an area of more than 1,120 hectares (2,767 acres) and is currently home to more than 350 businesses.

"As businesses expand, we need to be able to facilitate the expansion in a smart and sustainable way," said Wynne, adding the extension will also help goods and people move more efficiently, help connect businesses to their workforce and allow commuters to spend less time in their cars. "It's about job creation and quality of life."

The extension is part of government's commitment to make smart infrastructure investments to improve infrastructure across the province, explained the premier. The investment is part of the government's strategy to create jobs, help Ontario create a competitive business environment and help people in their everyday lives. This project has been in the works for years. An environmental assessment has already been completed.

"There have been works ongoing on this project for a number of years," said Wynne. "What's important is that we have the plans and we can have the shovels in the ground and move ahead as soon as the plans are finalized."

MPP Del Duca, who has lived in Vaughan for 28 years, welcomed the funding news which he said will have a tremendous positive impact for Vaughan. He added the Liberal government is committed to investing in important public infrastructure such as the extension of Highway 427.

"This is a project that when fully built out, will help residents in Vaughan and York Region and particularly in Woodbridge and Kleinburg to spend less time in their cars so they can do the things they want to do with family and friends," said Del Duca.

Furthermore, the extension of the highway will unlock the potential in the Vaughan Enterprise Zone, Del Duca explained.

"This is something Vaughan is very proud of and rightfully so," said Del Duca. "There is tons of potential here, potential which will be realized thanks to today's announcement. It's a huge win for moving our economy forward."

Mayor Bevilacqua said he is grateful for the attention the provincial government has given the City of Vaughan and York Region.

"We understand and we appreciate the fact that you're making this investment in our region, in our city, when resources are scarce," said Bevilacqua, adding the extension will create jobs and improve the quality of life for local residents and businesses. "This project speaks to the vision the premier has for this province."

"The subway will help connect Vaughan and create a dynamic, complete community," said Murray. "The 427 completes that trifecta of really important infrastructure for the way to secure the future of Vaughan."

Not everyone was impressed with the Highway 427 extension announcement. Vaughan provincial Progressive Conservative candidate Peter Meffe said he was pleased to hear the 427 extension was included in the budget, but felt it stopped short of what the community really needs.

The vote on the budget is expected at the end of the month. The Liberals need the support of the Andrea Horwath and the New Democrats in order to pass the budget and avoid triggering an election.

Although Wynne admitted she met with Horwath, she was reluctant to speak on the details of the meeting and said that it was "productive" and she was "optimistic." She plans to meet with the NDP leader again this week.

King's Corners

King City United
By Eleanor Fry

Pentecost is sometimes described as the "Birthday of the Church."

Jesus appears to the disciples for the last time. It fired up the disciples, marking the end of their despondency over the death of their friend Jesus. It was the beginning of a new day. Right now in the ministry of the United Church there is a time and a way that is coming to an end.

New forms of ministry are sprouting up all over like sprouts in a garden. Yoga church, café church, house churches, cooperative churches, partnerships and more. All are trying to address the needs of Canadians for a community of fellowship, a safe place to express and explore their beliefs. They want to make a difference in the world. A new zeal emerges to encompass God's mission of compassion, justice, and healing directly into our communities.

The picture on the front of last week's church bulletin showed a minister on her motorcycle in her full white robe with her scarf flying in the wind as she tended to her duties. We hope to share with our younger generations other new forms of ministry that bring about these things, and above all, love for one another.

Saturday, May 25 is our King City Amazing Race starting at 1 p.m. sharp at our church. If you don't wish to race you can join in for the BBQ at 5:30 at our church. If you plan to do this, please let Serena know so food can be planned. Call 905-833-2707.

Sunday, May 26 our service will be led by our youth group. Join us to enjoy the leadership these young folk will show us.

Thursday, June 6 come to enjoy a fish fry with all the trimmings including desserts and beverage. Tickets will also be available at the door, but don't wait too long. A silent auction is also being held for you to browse while you wait for your number to be called for dinner.

The King City United Church website is updated weekly with "This Week At KCUC" as well as "Sermons." Photos of current events are there to be enjoyed. Our Presbytery representative Sandra Kirby has located a website for Living Waters Presbytery which contains a wealth of information including a weekly newsletter of which Sandra is the author. This website is now available on www.kcuc.ca using our page "King City and United Church of Canada."

Check it out. Remember to send your comments, input, including digital pictures, and suggestions to fjesty@hotmail.com.

Please join us for our Sunday service with Sunday school at 10 a.m., then stay for coffee, cookies and conversation in the auditorium. See you on the 26th.

Seniors Centre's 25th Anniversary Plans Are Revised

As a result of lower than anticipated ticket sales, the decision has been made to change the location of the KC Seniors Centre's 25th anniversary party. The June 1 celebration, originally set for the Sacred Heart Church's Banquet Hall, will now be held at the King City Seniors' Centre. The program for the event - catered banquet, entertainment and guests remains unchanged. Seating is now at a premium, so reserve your tickets now. Cost is $40 per person. For further information call Vince Cancelli at 905-833-6305 or Betty Simmonds at 905-833-5140.

King City Seniors Travel Club

On Thursday, June 6 travellers will enjoy a mystery tour that promises to be a full day of adventure. The all-inclusive cost is $90 per person. Our coach leaves the arena at 8 a.m. To obtain tickets for this event, contact Jane at 905-833-5870 or Carol at 905-833-3324.

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

St. Andrew's invites you to join us!

We welcomed one of our elders, Dirk de Roos, to our pulpit last Sunday. Dirk offered further insight into the book of Ecclesiastes, giving us much food for thought. Next Sunday's service, May 26, will see Rev. Fred Stewart officiating. Our worship ser-VICES are at 10:30 a.m. with Sunday school and nursery care running concurrently. Stay afterwards for coffee and a chance to chat and visit in the lounge.

Our next Communion service is to be June 2 with Rev. G. Beaton presiding.

The Truth Project video series continues on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. We'd love to have you join us for dessert and coffee/tea followed by the viewing and discussion. Wondering what it's all about? Come out and see for yourself. Check out the website <http://www.thetruthproject.org>.

Evangel Hall, our inner-city mission is in need of spring/summer clothing and personal care items for their clients. Donations are still being received in the narthex of the church. Food Bank items for the King Township Food Bank will be delivered.

Vacation Bible School is coming! Mark your calendars! Tell your neighbours, friends, family! It's happening here, July 15-18, between 9 a.m. to noon. The Kingdom of the Son, a Prayer Safari!, is for ages 5 to 12 years. Call the church, 905-833-2325, or send an email to vbs@standrews-kingcity.ca for information and registration. Cost is only $15 per child or $35 for family.

Prayer is key to our ministry at St. Andrew's. Currently we have 2 prayer groups: Sunday mornings at 9:45 a.m. before worship, for everyone, and the Ladies' Prayer Group which meets Tuesday mornings, usually at 9 a.m., but call Deana Weyman (905) 833-5375 for confirmation, or a ride, if needed.

The third Thursday of the month is the scheduled day for a group, one-hour visit from St. Andrew's to King Lodge. Our next visit is scheduled for today, May 23. The dear residents, and their care group are always happy to join in our praises to God, through hymn singing and a message of encouragement about God's enduring love. If you love to sing hymns, as the old folks certainly do, (as best they can), why not join them and us? You can be assured of a wonderful and obvious welcome, and all you have to do is sing along. The visual awards are great, the spiritual, a joy. We usually meet at 1:30 p.m. at the church, and depart, car pooling, for arrival at 2 p.m. at the Lodge. Call Deana Weyman, at 905-833-5375, if you would like to join us. Another voice will make such a difference.

The National General Assembly this year is being hosted by the Oak Ridges and Han-Ca Presbyteries at the Vaughan Community Church and Seneca College. There's lots of excitement and anticipation as we prepare for this important gathering taking place May 30 - June 3. Speak to Jim Agnew re how you can help out and/or attend sessions.

We have some exciting news for the whole community. The King City Farmers' Market is coming soon! We are pleased to announce that we will be hosting the market on our grounds beginning on Sunday, June 16. It will run on alternate Sundays from Like other farmers' markets we will showcase local produce, homemade crafts and foodstuffs. There will also be children's programming and we hope to attract local musicians to perform. Church services will continue as normal, so you may hear the strains of Bach's organ music whilst you buy your fruit and vegetables. We hope this will become a fun and welcome event in the community. Opening Day is Father's Day, June 16, so bring Dad and he will receive a free gourmet burger or hotdog, and we mean gourmet! In the meantime if you make interesting crafts or know someone who might like to be a vendor, please email allsaints3@bellnet.ca for an application form.

8 a.m. to 1 p.m. through to the fall

On May 25, a group of us are going to visit the Six Nations Reserve in a day guided by local elders. We will learn about the community, the Mohawk Institute Residential school and then end with an aboriginal meal and Communion service. We hope to come back with a greater understanding of native issues.

On Sunday, June 2 join us for a Spring Tea and Bake Sale from noon to 3 p.m. Tickets are $20 and it will be a fabulous afternoon with scrumptious food.

You are welcome to join us any Sunday. We are traditional yet relaxed, and our focus is on the love that God offers to the whole world through Jesus Christ.

Officials gather to cut the ribbon for Residences of Spring Hill

The official grand opening for the Residences of Spring Hill luxury condominium in King City was held on May 6. Fausto Rossetto, director of development, and Janice Rossetto, director of marketing and sales, were joined by Mayor Steve Pellegrini, councillors Cleve Mortelliti, Debbie Schaefer and Avia Eek as well as a large group of Spring Hill residents for the ribbon cutting ceremony.

Located at 80 Burns Blvd. just west of Keele Street on King Road in the heart of King City, the Residences of Spring Hill is situated on three acres strategically located next to 20 acres of protected conservation lands. The four-storey, 138-unit boutique condominium complex features country inspired design both inside and out which reflects the unique rural character and country elegance of King.

The building overlooks an existing natural feature and naturalized pond which can be enjoyed from the various common areas and terraces in the building. The building is ideally located close to Highway 400, the King City GO Bus and Train Station, the shops and restaurants at the four corners in King City and a future commercial development at King Road and Dufferin Street.

The condo is geared toward those who desire care-free, resort-style living with all the amenities and services that go along with it.

Getting 'hitched' at the Schomberg Agricultural Society Spring Fair

Experience horsepower like it was intended. Feel the stands and the earth tremble as the horse hitch teams create a spectacle as they stomp into the ring as one, outfitted in patent leather and chrome harness pulling the large hitch wagons.

The Schomberg Agricultural Society's Spring Fair Draft Horse Show with line classes and teams are back once again to show the beauty, grandeur and the sheer force of today's draft horses.

Registered line classes start at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 25, and the Hitch Show starts at 1:30 p.m. with the Jeff Hodgson Memorial Six Horse Hitch Class leading things off. A hitch is a unit consisting of the exhibitor, his or her horse(s) and vehicle, being a cart or wagon. The judge observes all hitches normally from the middle of the ring. A judge may want to see the horses and hitch come straight on and would therefore stand at one end to enable him to see how straight and fluidly the horses are moving and that the hitch is properly aligned. All of the hitches are driven both ways of the ring to see the working of all horses, you know yourself performing some tasks, it is quite common to be better doing something one way or to work on the outside as opposed to the inside.

While many spectators are in awe of the beauty and grace of these teams, the judge is the person determining the criteria of the day, as the ribbons are to be pinned. Exhibitors in these classes are showing their horses to the best of their ability. Whether it is a single horse, a team of 2, 4 or 6 horses, they must perform together as a unit.

The general public sees a matched team as being of similar colour and markings. Think more about the height of each horse, about length of stride and height and flex of action in movement of both the hind and front feet and legs, carriage and height of the nose, head and neck should be similar in the team and at all times each horse should complement each other and work together. Presentation and style in general are big factors, enhancement of decorations, maintenance of both the wagon and harness and the proper fit of the harness.

The Schomberg Agriculture Horse Show is one of the recognized heavy horse shows in Ontario fair circuit. It is also now known to Ontario 6 Horse Hitch teams as an opportunity to be able to qualify for the North American Six-Horse Hitch Classic Series. The goal of the North American Classic Series to promote the draft horse breeds is being realized within all levels of competition. Each year, more than 175 six-horse hitches across the United States and Canada compete at agricultural fairs to accumulate points for the classic series. At the end of the series, the four highest point hitches in each of three breed classifications are invited to compete at the North American Six-Horse Hitch Classic Series Final Championship.

Schomberg Fair is extremely proud to celebrate its 10th anniversary of showcasing the 6 Horse Hitch on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. With the generous support of the Bradford firefighters and Cole Engineering of Markham, the Jeff Hodgson Memorial Six Horse Hitch Class for the past three years has been a qualifier for this fantastic series.

The Schomberg Spring Fair show features some of the finest horses in Ontario, representing the best of the Belgian, Percheron, and Clydesdale/Shire line and performance horses. If you have not experienced the beauty and skill of these teams, help fill the stands to watch the competitions May 25.

The fair runs May 23-26. For more, visit www.schombergfair.com.

Nobleton Karate praises students' accomplishments

Nobleton Karate held their second grading on May 1, followed by the ceremony on May 8. Testing was based on a combination of form, technique, sparring, self-defense, stamina and spirit.

"We devise the testing to be challenging in order to see how the students handle pressure and they all performed at or above our expectations," said Sensei Rocco Morelli, one of three senior black belts assessing the students.

A total of 22 students progressed to the next rank including yellow stripe, yellow, orange stripe and orange belts.

Sensei Giancarlo Esposito recognized Logan Hall as an outstanding student for his focus, dedication and determination.

"I am so proud of what the students have accomplished in such a short time within the club and at tournaments," said Sensei Esposito, owner of Nobleton Karate and Kai Shin Martial Arts.

Students participated in the Mississauga Martial Arts Tournament April 21 and brought home several medals, an impressive achievement for students training less than one year. Of particular note were Stefano Lucente (first in sparring and third in Kata) and Lorenzo Rossi (first in Kata).

Nobleton Karate continues to grow with students filling up evening classes, bubbling with excitement to learn the new and perfect the old; even the push-ups are taken with a positive attitude. The club has added other programs including Women's self-defence, Women's CardioKarate and Kid's Yoga.

A Summer Introduction to Karate will be offered in July and August to new students that would like to try out the martial arts.

University of Saint Francis (Hartford City, Indiana) senior Tyler Gregory leads 2013 USF All-Crossroads League baseball team selections after the right-fielder led the CL in home runs and RBI during the regular season.

King's Kyle McKay was also a

Gregory finished with nine home runs and 49 RBI during regular-season play becoming the first player from USF to lead the league in home runs as well as RBI in the 50-year history of the USF baseball program. Including post-season play, Gregory led the CL in home runs with nine and tied for first in RBI with 50. The 5-foot-10 right-hander set a USF single-season record for stolen bases with 20 this season (he was caught stealing once) and set a USF career record for doubles finishing with 43.

C3's Yorke at the New Zealand World Cup Triathlon

Who ever would have thought that a young soccer-playing kid from Caledon East would one day be putting Caledon on the international map for triathlon?

Twenty-four-year-old Andrew Yorke has been waving the Caledon flag all over the world for the last few years, but this particular year has been extra busy. Yorke took the spring semester off from McMaster University to try to make the 2014 Commonwealth Games Team for Canada (the games are in Scotland next year).

He started the year with a three-week camp in Florida, where he was swimming 75 kilometres per week, and running and biking as well. Yorke came back to Canada for three weeks of cold-weather training before he headed off with his C3 coach Barrie Shepley to Tucson, Arizona. After three weeks in Arizona, Yorke went back to Florida for a sixth place (in Clermont) and a fourth place (in Sarasota).

"Andrew had some great early season races and showed indications of how fit he is," Shepley commented.

Yorke returned to Tucson for a three-week, huge training camp, where he was averaging 450 kilometres of biking, 110 kilometres of running, 40 kilometres of swimming and three hours of strength training a week.

"Those were some of the toughest training days of my life," Yorke recalled.

Yorke then headed to Auckland, New Zealand, to race on the toughest course in the world against the London Olympic athletes, and he had a world-class 16th-place finish.

"To come 16th against 30-year-old top men on such a tough course was a great confidence booster for Andrew," Shepley observed.

Yorke then raced in San Diego, California, on the course on which the very first ever triathlon occurred 39 year years ago.

"Mission Bay San Diego is the home of the first ever triathlon in 1974, so it was pretty cool to race on that historic site," Yorke said.

Yorke has been back in Tucson, getting ready for a major race in Mexico, before he returns to Caledon for the May 26 C3 Kinetic Kids of Steel Triathlon.

"I got my start in Caledon at the KOS race and I will never forget how excited I was to race against the other youngsters and to look up to people like Sean Bechtel and Hans Porten, who were some of the top athletes winning the early races," he said.

Kids Of Steel Race May 26

Yorke and his C3 High Performance Team will be volunteering all day and are encouraging families to come out and meet him and his teammates at the Caledon village race.

"The race is at Caledon (Central) Public School on Kennedy Road, and we will be giving away free prizes just for showing up and meeting us," Yorke said.

Following the Kids of Steel Race, Yorke will be headed to Madrid, Spain, as well as Edmonton, Austria, Germany, Sweden and London before going back to McMaster for his final semester of schooling.

"I owe all my success to C3, my parents, my coaches and the great sponsors who have believed in myself and my teammates," Yorke commented.

Participants in the Kids of Steel race need to register in advance so that organizers can put the athletes into specific swim waves.

"While people can just register the race morning for the two-k and five-k runs, if they are participating in the triathlon races, we need them to pre-register so that we can be organized and ready for them on May 26th," Barclay said.

One of the highlights each year is the C3 Elite Professionals, who will be in attendance. Joining Yorke, will be Mayfield's Taylor Reid and Sean Bechtel. Both local men have won major races and are a part of the Caledon-based C3 High Performance Team.

Registration details can be found at www.c3online.ca/2013Events/KOS/index.html.

C3 professional triathletes Taylor Reid, Sean Bechtel, Andrew Yorke, John Rasmussen, will be in attendance to meet families at the May 26 Caledon Kinetic Kids of Steel Triathlon.

Lions bike rodeo helps youngsters with their skills

The Schomberg Lions Club hosted a bike rodeo at the Trisan Centre recently, inviting young cyclists to bring in their bike to get the brakes and tires checked, get their helmet fitted properly and also go through an obstacle course to test their skills. Shown are Cordelia Vincent, Darian Vincent and Laura Milne.

all of the above, and your local Lions Club, check out our website, www.nobletonlions.com.

An ongoing program run by the Lions is the collection of used eye glasses. Take your old glasses to the Nobleton Pharmacy where they will be collected, refurbished, and distributed to those in need.

The Lions Club is seeking new members at this time. If you are interested in helping your community become a better place to live while having lots of fun, please call Bob Phillips at 416-522-9675.

May Flower Show

We hope you'll visit the Nobleton-King City Horticultural Society's May Flower Show and Meeting this coming Monday, May 27.

The theme of this month's show and the name of the premiere category in the design class is "The Artist's Palette." Other design categories include Mona Lisa, a design using one bloom with foliage and/ or filler; Girl with a Pearl Earring, a miniature, Canaletto's Venice, a design with a water component and Group of Seven, a design using 7 flowers all the same or mixed. The "Are You Up For A Challenge" category is "Andy Warhol" a complementing design in a labelled container such as a soup can, ketchup bottle, cookie or cereal box, or a jam or peanut butter jar etc.

Cultural categories include tulips, irises, dicentra spectabilis (bleeding hearts), hosta leaves and trollius (globe flower).

Our guest speaker Diane Greenfield with the topic "Creating a Low Maintenance Garden," will certainly not lead you astray even blissfully.

So remember it's May that daring month when everyone throws self control away and comes to the N-KCHS Flower Show in the Nobleton Community Hall on Old King Rd. in from Hwy. 27 at the north end of the arena complex starting at 8 p.m.

St Alban's

For many years Trinity, referring to God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit (Ghost), the Three in One, was the name of the longest season in the church year but today Pentecost has replaced Trinity as that season.

Before Trinity Sunday the attention in many Christians churches has been on what God has revealed to Christians with Christ becoming man and his good deeds while here on Earth. After Trinity Sunday the focus is now on how Christians respond to God in faith, commitment, good deeds and trying to understand Christ's transforming work within each person.

St. Irenaeus, who lived from 130 to 200 AD, expressed it best by writing in Thoughts for All Seasons: "Because of His boundless love He became what we are in order that He might make us what He is."

The traditional colour for Trinity is green, symbolizing life and new beginnings and this colour is still used for church hangings, altar frontals and the long scarf like stole worn by many clergy during Pentecost. But white, symbolizing love and purity, is used for Trinity Sunday and this colour will predominate this coming Sunday, May 26 as St. Alban's Anglican Church 13162 Hwy. 27 next to the cemetery marks Trinity Sunday with a 9:30 a.m. Holy Communion service.

King Public Library

The Mother-Daughter book club's next meeting is on Monday, May 27 at 6:45 p.m. at the King City Library. They will be discussing "A Taste of Heaven" by Meg Tilly.

Madison Stokes leads a pretty average life. Her best friend becomes Alyssa Hawkins and the girls share everything. But when Madison discovers a secret that Alyssa has been harbouring, she fears it could put their friendship in jeopardy. Madison questions whether she should divulge this secret.

This book is appropriate for a grade 4-grade 5 level.

The Schomberg Public Library is calling out to all "Wimpy Kid" fans to join them for some fun, games and crafts on Saturday, June 8 at 10:30 a.m.

The cost is $3 per child and is aimed at kids 5-12 years of age or younger with a caregiver.

Schomberg and Nobleton Libraries invite all patriotic kids to come celebrate with them Canada Day and its birthday. This celebration happens on Saturday, June 29 at 11 a.m. Please pre-register your patriotic child with your librarian or call Schomberg at 939-2102 or Nobleton at 859-4188.

The Library is excited to try these new and innovative programs. Please pre-register your child as space is limited and we don't want anyone disappointed.

Schomberg Horticultural Society

The Schomberg Horticultural Society is pleased to present a talk by Diana Pooke Tuesday, May 28 at 7:30 p.m. at Schomberg Community Hall 325 Main St. Her talk will be on "Peonies: The Imperial Flower." She will cover the flower's many varieties, including single, double and tree peony, as well as their care.

Diana is a Mississauga master gardener, editor of the Ontario Rock Garden & Hardy Plant society's journal, co-president of the Georgetown Horticultural Society and a founding member of the Lucy Maud Montgomery Heritage garden in Norval. Diana is also an RBG certified horticultural judge.

This promises to be an entertaining and educational talk. All are welcome. Please come out and join us.

The Schomberg Horticultural Society (SHS) is pleased to announce its speaker's program for the remainder of 2013:

May 28 - Peonies: The Imperial Flower, Diana Pooke.

June 25 - Hedges and Living Walls, Tony Mori.

Sept. 24 - Components of an Outstanding Perennial Garden, Sheila Cording and Shirley Miller.

Oct. 22 - Magnificent Magnolias and Ravishing Rhodos, David Hinton.

Schomberg Agricultural Society

The Schomberg Agricultural Society welcomes volunteers to help at this year's Fair. Great opportunity for high school students to earn their community hours or new residents in Schomberg to get to know their neighbours. Please check our website: www.schomberg-fair.com to contact any member or secretary/manager Cathy D'Alessandro, 905-939-8283.

We realize the draught horse show with the famous Six Horse Hitch is a real drawing card.

So is the Agricultural Educational Tent (new last year); the lawn tractor pull; the horse pull; the Junior 4-H dairy & beef cattle show; the beef cattle show; the beer tent and the list goes on and on - there is such a long list of varied and exciting events happening on the grounds of our great Schomberg Fair.

New this year, Master Gardener Kathleen Gorsline will be giving seminars both Saturday and Sunday right by the Horticultural booth. On Saturday at 1 p.m., Square Foot Gardening; 2:30 p.m. New Plants the WOW; 4 p.m. Vertical Gardening. On Sunday these will be repeated at noon, 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m.

The arena is the home of the Homecraft Competitions. This includes art, antiques, crafts, hobbies, culinary arts, needlework, horticulture, photography and an exceptional school works and juniors display.

There will be displays on local organic farming, the King Museum, the Heritage Committee and the Huronia Spinners Guild both Saturday and Sunday. On Sunday, Lynne Binding will demonstrate the art of Smocking.

For the children there will be free face painting by local artist Jaime Upieter both Saturday and Sunday from 1-3p.m.

Schomberg Lions are once again serving up their fabulous pancake breakfast on Sunday morning to help get you off to the Fair! It runs May 26 from 8 to 11 a.m. and we will be serving pancakes, back bacon and all the fixings. Price is $8 per adult, $5 for 4-12 years and free if you are under 4. This will be in the Community Hall, 325 Main Street, Schomberg.

York Pines

The public is cordially invited to attend the 47th anniversary service of the York Pines United Church on Sunday, May 26 at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Carol McKinley of the Living Waters Presbytery will be the guest preacher. Reach down into your righteous core by attending worship.

Later that week marks the beginning of the second series of workshops sponsored by the group, "Women, Wine, and Watercolours." Plan to attend on the Wednesdays of May 29, June 12 and June 19 to learn to paint flowers in a vase, a barn scene, and a landscape vista. Ms. Peggy Hegbar is your instructor. Dr. Martha Grant is the registrar. Call 905-939-7379 to register. The workshops begin at 7 p.m. and conclude at 9 p.m. The cost is $30 for the series. The place is the church hall, 3150 Aurora/Lloydtown Road, Kettleby.

The last Friday of the month of May is the occasion for our "children and adults together in worship experience" called, Messy Church. On May 31 arrive at the church at 5 p.m., enjoy a snack, tour the different craft tables, hear a Bible Story told by the "Little People," make the crafts, pray and worship and then eat together with a light supper. The program ends at 7 p.m. Adults without children are welcome too!

Lastly, the York Pines Church and the Schomberg-Nobleton Church are jointly sponsoring a Vacation Bible Camp program from August 19-23. Call your church office for more information, 905-727-8118 or 905-939-7162.

Church BBQ

The Presbyterian Church's annual barbecue chicken dinner is this Saturday, May 25.

You can find the church on Main Street, beside the Community Hall and adjacent to one of the gates to the fair. The church is also on the mammoth parade route.

So on Saturday morning when you are enjoying the parade, your senses will be delighted by the tantalizing aromas of the chicken being barbecued by the skilled cooks of the Presbyterian Church.

The barbecue takes place from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. in front of the church. They will be selling complete chicken dinners (both quarters and half chickens), and also chicken separately if you choose.

In addition to Chicken Barbecue on the Fair Saturday, you would be very welcome to join the worship service at 9 a.m. each and every Sunday.

Kitchen Breedon Manor's fundraiser

Our seniors at the Kitchen Breedon Manor, 40 Roselena Drive, cordially invite everyone to their beautiful home on Saturday, June 1 between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Their group, "The Pride Club" is holding their annual fundraiser and they will welcome you with open arms and free coffee, door prizes and many surprises. There will be miscellaneous items, new and gently used items, home-made baking and local honey all there for your perusal.

There is plenty of parking between the Library and the KB Manor and you can enter in the Main Street doors.

In 1997 our Schomberg Lions Club proudly opened the doors of the Kitchen Breedon Manor and gave many of our seniors, my Dad included, the chance to remain in their community when it was time for them to make a change. The building is dedicated to Jim Kitchen and Bill Breedon, two Lions who worked relentlessly to achieve this dream.

Joe Huson, a Lion and the manager and caretaker of this worthy enterprise since its doors opened, has recently retired, but he is the reason this building has remained in such pristine conditions all these years. My Dad, Len Bishop, was responsible for the name "Pride Club." A group or pack of Lions travelling together is known as a pride and since this is a Lions building it seemed an appropriate name and has remained so.

June 1 is your opportunity to support the "Pride Club" of the Manor and allow our seniors to welcome you to their home!

Amazing Race 2013

The King City United Church invites you to participate in their 8th annual Amazing Race - Proud To Be A Canadian.

This all happens on Saturday, May 25, starting at the King City United Church. Sign in at 12:30 p.m. and the race starts at 1 p.m. sharp!

Teams can be anywhere from 2-6 people and the route is a 7-kilometre walking only route.

The cost is $5 per participant plus a team potluck donation for the BBQ after the races and draw prizes.

Please call Serena Edmunds at 905-833-2707 for registration and any further information.

Dufferin Marsh

Join us on May 26 at 6:30 a.m. for a bird walk in Schomberg. Discover the variety of birds we have in our own backyard. Following the walk we will be having pancakes with the Lions at the community hall.

Meet at the DMC bulletin board on Dr. Kay Dr. Bring your binoculars and a good pair of walking shoes.

Food Bank

The good ladies of our Schomberg Canada Post Office are once again showing their support for our community. They have a huge jar, full of pennies. On their front counter. The caption reads:

"Please donate your pennies,

We'll pick them up.

Let's stamp put hunger

Share our good luck."

The penny has long been a symbol of luck, thrift and generosity.

King Township Food Bank is collecting pennies to combat hunger in our area and offer one last good deed for the penny.

Call them if you want to participate with your family, business, school, church or organization, 905-806-1125 or visit www.kingtowshipfoodbank.ca.
