Roundabout draws mixed reaction at open house

By Mark Pavilons

Public reaction to the planned roundabout in King Township seems to be mixed.

Despite efforts to espouse the virtues of the efficacy of King's first roundabout, it comes as little consolation for the impacted property owners.

Hosted by York Region staff and a team of consultants, the open house at Kettleby Public School drew an impressive crowd of close to 100 residents who got to see video and artist renderings of King's newest traffic control measure.

Cynthia Martin, roads project manager at York Region, said the region endorsed roundabouts back in 2008 as the preferred option for intersection improvements. Each location is scrutinized and if a roundabout isn't possible, "we don't do it," she said.

This particular intersection in King - Lloydtown-Aurora Road and Keele Street - meets the criteria. The intersection sees a lot of traffic volume and has been the scene of many accidents.

York Region approved this locale, as well as others in the region, in 2012 and design work began.

Martin said the property owners were approached and staff worked at refining the details of the roundabout. One of the inherent problems with this stretch of road is there are no shoulders and a very narrow right of way.

Hopes are construction can begin in 2015. If it starts early enough in the season, it can be completed that year, but if not, it will drag into 2016. Martin said the estimated construction costs for this roundabout are $3 million.

The Region is looking at this measure as an "entrance" to Kettleby, making motorists aware they're entering a village, signalling a change and need to slow down. Promoting safe and efficient traffic flow is the fundamental purpose of a roundabout.

At this point the Region is only working on the inside track, but there are provisions for adding lanes in the future. But the current design will be fine through 2031, Martin said.

The Region is currently building the first roundabout, on the York-Durham Line south of Stouffville.

Local politicians were on hand at the open house to see the drawings and speak with residents. King council approved the concept of roundabouts several years ago.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini noted it's hard to turn away millions of York Region dollars spent to improve traffic in King. It's money well spent to make things better. He also said roundabouts are more environmentally friendly than signalled intersections because vehicles aren't stopping or idling.

The main opponents to the roundabout are impacted residents Jamie Puopolo, Joyce Harrison and daughter Dawn Muloin.

Councillor Peter Grandilli said the project is "excellent," adding drivers need to be educated.

Also on hand to learn more were Councillors Cleve Mortelliti and Avia Eek.

Some residents were not convinced this is the way to go.

Joyce Harrison, whose land at the northwest corner of the intersection will be affected the most, said a roundabout may work in some areas with few vehicles, but not on the busy Lloydtown-Aurora Road. The site, at the bottom of the hill, is not ideal.

Neighbour Jamie Puopolo, who's leading the opposition to the plan, said the Region is contemplating widening the road to four lanes in the future and they need to be more transparent through this process. The lands through the northwest corner of the intersection contain mature wooded areas that will likely be reduced.

"Generally we were very disappointed with the open house as the format did not provide local residents an opportunity to have any input on this project, many of our questions and concerns remain unanswered," Puopolo said. "The open house simply means that York Region has met their legal requirement to inform the public at the bare minimum. Many local residents were hoping to speak to our ward councillor, however, she was not there."

Puopolo also thought York Region staff were not clearly identified and several residents actually came up to her asking if she could answer their questions, simply because they noticed her clipboard. "After viewing the planned roundabout many residents came to sign my petition. Many residents still do not like it nor want it here. We will keep working on the petition to stop the roundabout in the hopes that someone will hear our collective voice."

One Keele Street resident said he was "mystified" by this design. He's concerned with this plan and he foresees some "serious issues" with the effects of ice and snow in the winter on drivers.

Another resident, a native of Germany, said it's been working well for years in Europe. With their large traffic volumes it has the effect of keeping the traffic flowing, instead of stopping it.

Introduced in the UK, roundabouts are common throughout Europe and are becoming more so in North America. They've been endorsed by the U.S. Department of Transportation Federal Highway Administration for years, noting they reduce accidents by 35%; fatalities by 90% and virtually eliminate head-on and high-speed collisions.

In Ontario, vehicles travel counterclockwise around a central island. Traffic entering the roundabout must yield to circulating traffic. Because approaching traffic only has to yield to vehicles already circulating in a roundabout, movement is often without delay. It has been shown that a roundabout can move traffic through an intersection at a much higher rate than traditional intersection controls.

King Library launches its new look, strategic plan

The King Township Library Board unveiled a new logo, and a long-term plan for members of the public last week.

The event, held at the King City branch, set the stage for reintroducing modern public library service to the community.

Board chair Gordon Craig welcomed and introduced council and board members in attendance. Rona O'Banion, library CEO, provided some context and background about the development of the logo, and subsequently, the multi-media video. They previewed the video for the public, which was very well received and generated a lot of positive feedback from the attendees.

The library board worked with local graphic designer Connie Clearwater for the development of the logo, and their new Programs & Services brochure, and Slipone Digital Studios for the multi-media video. Slipone is owned by Sam Reid, keyboardist for Glass Tiger.

Craig provided a brief summary of the Strategic Plan and its four main themes and goals:

Community Destination

This theme's primary focus is on King's facilities; specifically to make them community destinations by transforming them into vibrant, creative spaces for learning, discovery and relaxation. Library officials will incorporate green principals into their building plans and continue to align ourselves with the Township's sustainability philosophy.

Strengthened Services

This focuses on revitalizing the libraries collection, programs and services to meet the needs of our growing community.

"We want to also ensure that our staff have the necessary support and training opportunities to continue to grow and refine their skills."

Innovation and Connections

The library system will continue to foster a dynamic culture of innovation and leverage cutting-edge technology wherever possible to enhance library services.

Elevated Profile

The Library strives to be recognized and valued as an essential service by all members of the community. They will continue to work with community partners to realize this goal. And the first step in raising their profile is the video and the new logo.

Library board members also publicly recognized Vicki Leung, the King City Secondary School student who did the manga mural that's hanging in the children's area in King City. Kelley England, manager of children and young adult services, thanked Vicki and presented her with a token of their appreciation (an art book on manga).

Sharon Bentley provided a brief overview of the activities we have planned for Ontario Public Library. In 2012, the library board initiated a renewal of its strategic plan to identify priorities and chart a course for the King Township Public Library (KTPL) over the next four years. The new plan builds on past achievements and responds to the challenges of rapid changes in technology and intense population growth.

The board engaged the community in a variety of ways to solicit their feedback on current and anticipated services. The consultation process included public input in the form of in-house and online surveys and community focus groups. The library board, staff, senior municipal staff and elected officials were also canvassed to contribute their vision of future library services in the Township.

Results of the public consultation process were encouraging - KTPL scored very high in the area of customer service and its current users are very supportive of the library. Key areas identified as requiring attention included more spacious, functional facilities, and improved marketing and communication strategies.

"Public libraries have become catalysts of innovation and creativity, hubs for social interaction and engagement and, we need to ensure that facilities can fulfil these diverse roles. We must broaden our marketing to raise our profile within the community and ensure that all stakeholders recognize and appreciate the value of modern, 21st century public library service."

In order to realize these goals, the KTPL will spend the next four years focused on the four strategic themes. The goal is to advance library service and be recognized as an essential part of a sustainable Township of King.

"We will inform, inspire, enrich and entertain our citizens by respecting the past and embracing the future," according to Craig and O'Banion.

King CAO Susan Plamondon and Library Board chair Gordon Craig discuss the new strategic direction at the launch last week.

Only regret the things you never tried

*"There are no regrets in life, just lessons."
- Jennifer Aniston*

The other day, my unusually wise 15-year-old daughter asked me whether I had any regrets.

It didn't take me long to answer her honestly.

I mentioned that a good friend of mine, back in high school, said we should only regret the things we didn't do, not the things we did. There's a lot of truth to that.

I then went on to tell my daughter that I simply regret some of the stupid things I did as a teen and young adult - you know those college antics and minor indiscretions.

But on the whole, no. How can I regret falling love, getting married and having three really neat children? You can't put a price on that.

How can we regret all that we are?

Each and every day we make potentially life-altering decisions. We make fateful choices behind the wheel of our automobiles. We take our life in our hands crossing the street. We make good investments and bad. We spend when we should save. We say things that hurt others. We quit. Or we get back up again. We send that email that we've been itching to write for weeks.

We love, hate, accuse, forgive, sever and mend.

Boy, if you think about it, we have dozens of chances each day, perhaps on the hour, to really change the course of our lives.

And often, things just unfold as they're meant to. Some believe we are the pilots of our own ships of destiny, while others think there's a certain degree of cosmic or divine interference that governs our actions.

My daughter, while studying Canadian history, wanted to know the difference between freedom, free choice and free will. Ah, now there's some really good questions. My answer, though, was more philosophical than historical in nature.

By the very nature of our existence as humans, we are born with free will and free choice to think and act as we please. Of course, there are consequences to everything, and that's one of life's most important lessons that we learn at a very young age, and one that keeps evolving as we grow and mature.

Freedom is an entirely different matter, and that's where history comes in. In our country, we're very lucky to have enshrined fundamental human rights, freedoms and a political system that allows us to choose and be engaged. Many parts of the world, even in 2013, do not enjoy the things we take for granted.

And perhaps our free will and free choice is exactly where regrets are born. It's kind of an inherent catch-22 of being human, don't you think? If you must look back, keep one foot on the gas!

Most of us would agree that pondering "what could have been" is largely irrelevant and a waste of our energy and talents.

Sure, we all have wish lists, bucket lists and endless to-do lists. We all have dreams.

And in creeps those nasty necessities of day-to-day living - getting up in the morning, sending the kids off to school, putting gas in the car, going to work, paying bills, preparing dinner, doing dishes, taking out the trash...

Unfortunately, our free choice in North American society comes with a multitude of mundane and trivial tasks. It's the price of being a member of society, owning a home and raising a family.

And then, one of the most important roles a person could have - that of parent and guide - is fraught with mistakes and regrets. We chose to become parents, with no previous training or direction, and we're free to carry on, again without training or guidance. Like a sight gag in a sitcom, often this does not end well.

But that's the beauty of being human - making choices, even monumental ones, and making mistakes. That's how we learn, how we grow, how we mature and become wise.

So, for my daughter to ponder such things, before she's even had a chance to make any mistakes, is interesting, if not perplexing. This one is a deep thinker and "old soul."

She also "forced" her family members to engage in another interesting exercise. She asked us to write down five things (words, phrases) that best describe how we see ourselves. I mainly used things to describe my better qualities and sense of humour, along with one main negative self-esteem issue.

I'm not sure what she plans to do with this investigative, invasive exploration, but there must be a method to her "madness."

But back to regrets.

Should I have ventured to one of those big city daily newspapers or become a foreign correspondent? Should I have chosen computer programming and gotten into the video game industry when it was still forming? Should I have invested in real estate or gold bullion?

One can ask themselves similar questions for all eternity.

I would recommend that everyone rent or buy the movie The Family Man, starring Nicholas Cage and Tea Leoni. It illustrates my points perfectly.

My choices have not only led me to where I am today, but they are fully ingrained within my soul. They are part of me. All those thousands of people I've met during the course of my journalism career have made me a better and more compassionate person. My wife and my extended family has given me different perspectives. My children continue to test my limits and make me really see.

Regrets? Who needs them? I'm too busy finding new ways to make mistakes!

Paying debt, keeping taxes low messages in throne speech

By Mark Pavilons

The federal government is on track and Canadians should take comfort in that fact.

That's the word from Government House Leader and York-Simcoe MP Peter Van Loan.

The focus in the speech, he said, is on keeping taxes low, boosting a growing economy and keeping communities safe.

The throne speech calls for a balanced budget by 2015, with legislation making it a requirement to pay.

The most interest aspect is a new free trade agreement with the European Union. Negotiations are going well and Van Loan said they're currently putting the finishing touches on the pact, which will benefit Canadians tremendously.

He said Canada does roughly $12 billion net worth of trade a year with Europe and the new agreement will result in an additional 80,000 jobs here. In York-Simcoe, many residents have European roots, so those in business can advantage of the new deal. Canada can boast that it's the only country with free trade pacts with Europe and the U.S. Europe is our second largest trading partner and while some countries are experiencing difficulties, Europe is still the richest economy in the world.

There are three aspects that will appeal to average Canadians.

Van Loan is happy that the government is calling on a decrease in cell phone roaming costs, which are among the highest in the world.

As well, there's a move to unbundle cable TV channels and packages, to allow consumers more choice at reduced prices.

Making communities and citizens safer is the mandate of the Victims Bill of Rights, another feather in Canada's cap.

"Two and a half years ago, Canadians gave our Government a mandate to create jobs, keep taxes low, and help make our streets and communities safe for families," said Prime Minister Stephen Harper. "Despite ongoing global uncertainty, Canadians now have a unique opportunity to build on our ingenuity, our immense natural wealth, and our values and stability, to secure our future and our children's future."

"Our government will deliver on the commitments made in the Speech from the Throne by creating jobs and opportunities for Canadians, supporting and protecting Canadian families, and putting Canada first," he added. "This is Canada's moment; we will seize it together to help ensure that hard working Canadians prosper."

Some of the key measures that the government will undertake under each of its three principal themes include:

Creating jobs and opportunities for Canadians

- Balancing the budget by 2015 and reducing the debt-to-GDP ratio to pre-recession levels by 2017.

- Reducing the cost of the federal government to ensure that taxes remain low.

- Completing reforms to the Temporary Foreign Workers Program to ensure that Canadians always have the first chance at available jobs.

- Expanding trade with the European Union by concluding a Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement, as well as with markets in Asia and the Americas.

Prime Minister Stephen Harper announced Friday that this is the biggest, most ambitious trade agreement that Canada has ever reached. It covers most aspects of the Canada-EU bilateral economic relationship, including trade in goods and services, investment, and government procurement. It also grants the flexibility to include areas of mutual interest beyond those that have traditionally been included in Canada's trade agreements, such as regulatory cooperation.

"This trade agreement is a historic win for Canada," said Prime Minister Harper. "It represents thousands of new jobs for Canadians, and a half-billion new customers for Canadian businesses."

The agreement will provide Canada with preferential market access to the European Union's more than 500 million consumers. Canadian workers in every region of the country - including in sectors such as fish and seafood; chemicals and plastics; metal and mineral products; technology; forestry and value-added wood products; automotive; advanced manufacturing; and agriculture and agri-food - stand to benefit significantly from increased access to this lucrative 28 country market which currently generates $17 trillion in annual economic activity.

The elimination of approximately 98 per cent of all EU tariff lines on the first day of when the agreement comes into force will translate into increased profits and market opportunities for Canadian businesses of all sizes, in every part of the country.

Supporting and protecting Canadian families

- Supporting greater competition in the wireless sector by addressing roaming costs on networks within Canada.

- Providing Canadians with the opportunity to choose the combination of television channels they want by requiring that they be unbundled.

- Taking steps to address geographic price discrimination against Canadians.

- Supporting victims of crime and punishing criminals by introducing the Victims' Bill of Rights and legislation to address cyberbullying.

- Putting Canada first
- Providing the Canadian Armed Forces with the tools they need to defend Canada's sovereignty and vital interests.

- Providing further support to help meet the needs of veterans, including helping them secure jobs and reintegrate into civilian life.

- Further strengthening the immigration system, including introducing a new model to select immigrants based on the skills that Canadian employers need to expand their businesses and the economy.

- Honouring Canada's Confederation as we approach our historic 150th anniversary in 2017.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF COUNCIL TO DISCUSS REVISIONS THAT MAY BE REQUIRED TO THE OFFICIAL PLAN AS PART OF THE OFFICIAL PLAN REVIEW

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of King will hold a Special Meeting under Section 26 of the Planning Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter P.13. as follows:

DATE & TIME:

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28TH, 2013 AT 6:00 P.M.

LOCATION:

COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL in the AUDITORIUM
13415 DUFFERIN STREET, KING CITY

THE PURPOSE of this meeting is to provide the public with an opportunity to discuss revisions that may be required to the Township of King Parent Official Plan as part of the Official Plan Review. The Planning Act requires that Council consider any written submissions on the Official Plan Review and provide the public with an opportunity to be heard on the subject.

WHAT IS AN OFFICIAL PLAN? An official plan is an important planning policy document that describes how lands should be used. An official plan establishes principles, objectives, and strategies intended to guide development, while providing for the conservation and enhancement of natural systems to ensure that future planning and development meets the specific needs of the communities it serves. Official plans consist of a combination of maps, schedules, and policies that indicate where new housing, commercial, industry and offices will be located, identify where municipal services and infrastructure will be needed, and how communities will grow.

WHY ARE WE DOING THE REVIEW NOW? The Planning Act prescribes certain provincial and regional conformity requirements for municipal official plans, and requires such documents to be reviewed and updated not less frequently than every five years to ensure these requirements are achieved. King Township's Parent Official Plan (1970) was approved in 1970, and has since been amended over 80 times. King Township departments have undertaken initiatives that can be considered in the Official Plan Review, such as the Integrated Community Sustainability Plan, Parks Recreation and Culture Master Plan, and Economic Development Strategy. King Township proposes to undertake a review of its Parent Official Plan (1970), and to complete Greenbelt Plan and Growth Plan conformity exercises.

The Official Plan affects everyone in King Township. Your vision and input is important to undertake an effective review of the Official Plan. Public consultation is your opportunity to participate in shaping the Township's Official Plan.

REPORTS AVAILABLE: A Recommendation Report entitled "Request for Special Meeting of Council to discuss the Township of King Official Plan Review" is available on the Official Plan Review project page of the King's website at www.king.ca, and provides a more detailed outline of the proposed Review. An "Introductory Discussion Paper" will be available on the project webpage on October 29, 2013. The reports can also be obtained by contacting the Planning Department.

ANY person may attend the Special Meeting and/or make oral or written submissions advising Council of revisions that may be required to the Township Official Plan. Written submissions should be made to the Township Clerk.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION can be obtained by contacting Sarah Allin, Policy Planner in the Planning Department at 905-833-4066, by email at officialplanreview@king.ca, or by visiting King Township's Official Plan Review project page at www.king.ca.

Stop signs on Kingscross

By Angela Gismondi

Council approved the installation of two new stop signs on Kingscross Drive in King City at a council meeting Monday.

The stop signs will be located on Kingscross Drive, Watch Hill Road and Champlain Crescent and at Kingscross Drive and Chelsea Lane and will be installed in order to address safety concerns in the area.

Staff received a number of requests for stop signs to be installed from concerned residents living on the street. According to the report, staff does not normally recommend the installation of stop signs where traffic warrants are not met, but a number of petitions for traffic calming measures have been submitted and the Township is addressing those concerns. Although ongoing traffic analysis has not indicated a need for stop signs at these intersections, residents have continued to request the installation. Staff met with the representatives of the community to discuss various traffic calming and speed reduction strategies and the residents asked that the additional stop signs be posted along Kingscross Drive in an effort to slow vehicles.

Councillor Debbie Schaefer wanted to make sure the stop signs are a temporary measure and that the Township will continue to seek solutions to the problem.

"I just wanted to confirm that this is an immediate step we are taking in response to the petition," said Scafefer. "A more strategic solution is needed for the long term."

Rob Flindall, director of engineering and public works, explained stop signs are not supposed to be used for speed control.

"They are intended to provide access control into intersections to regulate and control conflicts," explained Flindall, adding staff recommended that they be installed on a trial basis and evaluated on an annual basis. "This is an interim measure."

He added a traffic analysis will be conducted over the next year and staff plans to report back to council in the spring.

The posting of the new stop signs will be funded through the 2013 operating budget. The signs are expected to be installed in the next few weeks.

Red light cameras turned on in King

The Region of York has activated the majority of its red light cameras.

Registered owners of vehicles running red light traffic signals at red light camera sites can expect to receive infraction notices under the Highway Traffic Act.

York Regional council approved the installation of red light cameras at 20 intersections throughout York Region, an initiative intended to help save lives and prevent injuries by modifying driver behaviour.

Side-impact collisions are among the leading causes of motor vehicle deaths and bodily injuries.

The installation of the cameras and equipment took place over the summer months and testing took place in September.

In King, they're located at King and Bathurst, and King and Dufferin intersections.

Headaches and Migraines: Natural Solutions for Lasting Relief

If you suffer from headaches or migraines you need to be aware of exciting new discoveries that can prevent years of pain and suffering.

You may have told your doctor you suffer with pain or pressure in the front of your head, sides of your head or a combination of these. You may have complained of neck stiffness or pain or experienced sleep disturbance, nausea, vomiting or visual changes.

You may find your pain and reduced concentration may affect your work, housekeeping, leisure activities and time with your friends and family. You may also find it affects exercising, sports or other activities.

You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your pain. But you find the headaches keep coming back. So you go back, again and again, and get the same or different drugs to make you feel better.

You are likely frustrated by having to suffer with the come and go pain but may also be concerned with your dependency on the pain pills...and that they may be giving you side effects. In some cases the drugs create headaches - these are called "rebound headaches". You may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of pain pills that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

Although the pain killing drugs are designed to numb the pain they do not correct the underlying root causes of the pain. The most common underlying causes include nutritional problems, postural problems, chemicals, jaw problems and emotional challenges. Only a small percentage of head pain is actually caused by underlying disease.

Your doctor will likely focus on medications to give relief but sufferers need to be aware that there are natural options available for most cases of headaches and migraines that are clinically proven and safe.

These approaches have helped many headache and migraine sufferers change their life forever.

To help sufferers an upcoming headache and migraine relief workshop is scheduled which will reveal poorly known secrets for lasting results. This eye opening information has helped countless sufferers feel better, sleep better and have more energy.

There are other approaches, beyond the use of drugs, that have safely and effectively helped many headache and migraine sufferers feel better.

As a community service the workshop is free.

The workshop will be held on Wed October 30 from 7:30 pm - 9:00 pm. At the King West Wellness Centre 141 King Rd., Unit 10, Richmond Hill. Seating is limited. To make reservations call (888) 837-0407.

Silver Band at King City United

King City United Church will bring the sounds of a renowned brass band to the community.

The church will host the Metropolitan Silver Band in King City on Sunday, Oct. 27 at 1 p.m. with a freewill offering to cover their expenses.

They will be sharing in the music during worship with a 15-minute prelude at 9:45 a.m., playing with the hymns as well as during the offering and the postlude.

The Metropolitan Silver Band was founded in 1931 and has been associated with Metropolitan United Church since 1934. The only brass band in the United Church of Canada, the band is a vital part of the Met's music ministry. In addition to playing the Met's worship services six times a year, their annual schedule of 18- 20 performances includes concerts and services at churches and concert venues in the GTA and beyond.

They have an extensive recording history, including their latest 4-CD release of favourites compiled from archived live and studio recordings. Their repertoire includes classics, marches, musicals, religious music, popular selections, and contemporary works written and arranged for brass band.

In 2009, the band celebrated its 75th anniversary. Over the years, they have visited many communities in Ontario, including Ottawa, Parry Sound, Gravenhurst and Orillia - and countless towns in between.

Current music director Fran Harvey has a long history with the town of King City and even helped turn the sod for the opening of King City United Church when she was just four years old. Michele McCall, the band manager and flugel horn player, grew up in King City in the 1970s. Local business Laura's Hairstyling was her mother's shop.

The public is welcome to attend the concert Oct. 27.

quality bulbs, why do daffodils I've carefully planted, following the instructions included on their packaging, bloom great the first year, then produce fewer and fewer flowers until finally they send up just leaves?

When is the best time to prune back butterfly bush (buddleia-named for 17th century botanist, Rev. Adam Buddle) spring or fall and how far? Should I wait till spring to move year old lupins or can I do it now?

These are the questions I have for master gardener Heinke Zemancik and her master gardener colleagues when starting at 8 p.m. this Monday, Oct. 28 in the Nobleton Community Hall. The Nobleton-King City Horticultural Society holds its final regular meeting of 2013 with a program called "Ask A Master Gardener."

From the most experienced ones to novices all gardeners run into gardening problems with which they need help. So here's a golden opportunity to get solutions to gardening difficulties you have and haven't been able to solve. And just maybe you have an answer to a gardening issue that you can share!

King bomber pilot's saga comes full circle

By Wendy Allen and Mark Pavilons

Supporters, friends and special visitors gathered at the King City seniors' centre Oct. 4 to honour one of Canada's few remaining Second World War pilots.

Lancaster pilot Alex Campbell, 90, was treated to a gather, partially to say farewell to some very special visitors from France.

Michel and Isabelle Leroueil of Ozoir-le-Breuil, France spent some time getting to know the Campbells. Michel lives in the area where Alex's Lancaster crashed the night of July 28, 1944 and over the past 20 years, Michel has slowly discovered the events that led to Alex's safe recovery by the French Underground. He also found the exact location where the Lancaster crashed as Michel works on that field every year. He is the manager of a large farm operation.

One year ago, Bob, Donna and Wendy Campbell travelled to France to meet Michel and to trace their father's footsteps from WWII. The people in France, who are directly connected to the story were very disappointed that Alex was not able to fly to France for this occasion so when the Campbells left France, they told Michel that he will just have to come to Canada to meet Alex and his wife Hazel.

This was their first trip to North America and the long-awaited meeting was a very joyous occasion as the couple arrived at the home of The Campbells on William Street in King

City. Alex and Hazel had hired Sam Martin, son of Jody Pollock, a neighbour, to be the interpreter for that first evening together. He did a remarkable job keeping up to all the questions and expressions.

Michel and Isabelle were here for one week and during that time, The Campbells made sure they experienced as much of Canada as possible. This included a trip to Algonquin Park and a night at the Bartlett Lodge where they rode in a large canoe to reach their cabins. The colours in Algonquin the last weekend of September were absolutely glorious.

Another highlight of the trip was visiting the Heritage Warplane Museum in Hamilton, where the Campbells and guests dined in the large domed banquet room after touring the excellent museum. The famous Lancaster was away on duty at a ceremony in Trenton that weekend, but all fingers were crossed in hopes of its return to Hamilton that afternoon. No one was disappointed – the Lancaster landed beautifully in front of the gathered crowd.

The pilots and crew came over to talk with Alex and as soon as the Lancaster was moved inside the hangar, Alex was the first one up the ladder and climbed through the difficult obstacle course inside and finally reached the pilot's seat.

A huge cheer went up from the crowd when Alex appeared in the seat and gave the thumb's up sign. Two of Alex's grandchildren accompanied him in the cockpit, as well as crew members of this aircraft. Alex told them his incredible story of his 25th mission and how the entire assault happened. Then Michel was given a turn to sit in the pilot's seat – something he probably never dreamed would happen to him!

Michel and Isabelle were then taken to Niagara Falls for the night with a fantastic view of the Falls from their hotel.

On Thursday, they were in Toronto where they visited the church of one of Alex's crew members – Bob Giffin. Giffin was the only man not to survive the attack on July 28, 1944. He is buried in a Commonwealth War Cemetery very close to where Michel and Isabelle live in France. The only reason they wanted to go to Toronto was to visit this church and to see where Bob Giffin lived at 111 Tyndall Ave. in the west end of Toronto. There is an apartment building now where his house once stood.

They then drove south a few blocks to King Street and parked in front of Holy Family Roman Catholic Church. Through his research Michel had found Giffin's home this church was just a few blocks away. Michel's research into Giffin's past was what led him to Alex and the Campbell family.

Michel and Isabelle brought two small bouquets of wheat harvested this year on one of the fields Michel works on – the very same field that the Lancaster.

They met with one of the priests at the church, who spoke fluent French, so they told him the story.

Unfortunately, there are no definitive records kept of Giffin's involvement in that parish.

On the final day of the visitors' stay, the group travelled to see Alex's original white farmhouse on Keele Street.

Back at the Campbell house, Alex brought down his box of wartime papers to the dining room table. Michel and Isabelle were speechless to see some of the items Alex showed them, including an original Franc bill from the war. It is very large and Alex had his comrades from the Freteval Forest sign this banknote – there were many, many signatures on it. Michel had never seen an authentic one before, only copies.

Then Alex got out his log book which has every mission recorded and the destination.

Michel was incredulous to learn some of the locations were very close to where he lives now, but back in the war, the Germans had taken over many factories in that area of France so they were targets for the Allies.

The week was capped off perfectly at the King City seniors' centre with a most-welcoming reception for Michel and Isabelle.

King Mayor Steve Pellegrini was on hand to present a certificate to Alex for his contributions to his community and his country.

In many ways, Alex Campbell's historic wartime story has come full circle.

It's reassuring to know just how important the efforts of Allied pilots are regarded in France, even to this day.

That fateful night – July 28, 1944

Enemy cannon fire pierced the wing, hitting the fuel tanks. The engines caught fire and Campbell guided the plane in a circular descending pattern so the crew could bail out. He was the last to leave, and almost didn't make it, having to struggle with his parachute and freeing one of his feet caught in the cockpit.

In the darkness of night he jumped with only seconds to spare, hitting the ground with a thud. He reached over and grabbed the earth beneath him, realizing he landed on terra firma and was still alive.

"Then I felt it was earth, so I grabbed a handful to see, and sure enough, that was earth. It almost brought tears to my eyes to think that, 'oh, God, I'm alive.' I realized I'd probably be taken prisoner, but at least I knew I would be alive and able to see my twenty-first birthday next month."

All but one of his crew survived. Bob Giffin died shortly after bailing out, apparently getting tangled in his chute.

Earl "Judy" Garland had taken two shells through his leg during the fighter attack, and was taken prisoner shortly after parachuting out of the stricken bomber. He spent the rest of the war in a POW camp.

Alex "Red" Campbell, Ben Lyons, Sam Harvey, Earl "Jonesy" Jones, Jack "Chappie" Chapman and Jock Donaldson spent three weeks in the Freteval forest before being rescued by the advancing allies. The French harboured roughly 150 airmen in that forest, hiding them from the enemy.

Veteran Lancaster pilot Alex Campbell, got a chance to relive some history recently. He was back in the saddle in the Lancaster bomber (left) at the Heritage Warplane Museum in Hamilton. He's shown during the war on the right. Campbell's plane crashed in France July 28, 1944 and both he and his family connected with French families from the area. Alex and his wife Hazel (top) pose with Michel and Isabelle Leroueil. Above, right, Alex receives a certificate from Mayor Steve Pellegrini at a reception held at the King City seniors' centre.

Motorcycles draw the crowds at shop's open house

Main Street Custom Powersports in Schomberg held their open house to welcome patrons in to see the new store and enjoy some refreshments, brats and more on Saturday.

People filtered through all day to see the completely renovated building that was once a long-time feed mill.

Owners John Sheard and Joanne Pearson are new to Schomberg, but not the motorcycle business.

Originally from Nobleton, Sheard has been in bike building for 35 years, is a certified mechanic and will be offering his services to clients out of the new location. They are also involved in selling motorcycles, parts and can do custom jobs.

They also have a brand new diagnostics machine that reports data back on your motorcycle.

Pearson said it has been a lot of work and that their team is thrilled the business is finally up and running.

"We're excited and ecstatic, because we're going to be living and working here," she said. "The location is fantastic because we see so many bikes going by constantly. We haven't had this feeling about the atmosphere before. It has been a great project."

Main Street Custom Powersports is located at the southeast corner of Highway 9 and Main Street in Schomberg.

King's Corners

King City United
By Eleanor Fry

Every once in a while a worship of a different nature is a nice change. While Rev. Evelyn is on a study week, the Sunday School, youth group and leaders presented a time of prayers, readings and words to live by written on fruits which were stuck on a pretend tree. It is very comforting to know there are leaders like this who are dedicated to teaching our young ones about the words of the Bible and how to live them, and knowing what being in church is all about. Thanks to everyone involved. Rev. Evelyn would have been proud of all.

On the back of the church calendar were some quotes of some very famous people. This one stood out: "When I was 5 years old, my mother always told me that happiness was the key to life. When I went to school they asked me what I wanted to be. I said 'happy.' They said I didn't understand the assignment. I told them they didn't understand life." -

John Lennon.

Not mentioned in last week's church news, Rosemary reported that for Thanksgiving Sunday the choir sang two anthems, for which they received a standing ovation! We are so blessed by the choir and leader we have.

Sunday, Oct. 27 we will be joined in worship with the Metropolitan Silver Brass Band. They will start to play at 9:45, so come early to enjoy the music. After worship we will all join together for a pot luck lunch. Bring your favorite dish. Their concert starts at 1 p.m. We welcome everyone in the community to come and enjoy. Free will offering. For any further information call our church office, 905-833-5181.

Monday - United Men practise at 7 p.m. Tuesday - Prayer Shawl Ministry at 7 p.m. in the chapel. Wednesday - Bible study at 10 a.m. in the chapel. Thursday - hand bells at 6:45, followed by the vocal choir at 8 p.m.

Yes, Christmas is around the corner! Shop and support KCUC. Orders will be taken again for pre-paid retailer cards for your every day shopping needs - groceries, gas, dining out. Of course as gifts for special occasions, too.

These cards are identical to those sold in stores. The big plus is KCUC will receive the percentage instead of the store. Check out the gift card list on the bulletin board or call Flora, 905-833-4578 or Nancy, 905-833-5181. Prepay your order by Nov. 24; delivery of cards will be Dec. 1.

"The Dinner," will be Nov. 22 and 23. Tickets are $30 each. Some tickets still available. Call Al Henderson (905-833-5047) or John Kell (905-833-6432). Men are needed to help prepare and assist in serving. Please call John Kell if you can help in any way. Call soon to choose which night you prefer.

November 10 is Remembrance Day service. Join in this special time to think of those who served and are serving. Wear your poppy proudly.

Lunch with Santa will be held Dec. 14.

Please remember the families of Marsh Geer, who was put to rest on Monday, Oct. 21. Among his many accomplishments, he was our choir leader for a time. The Chorus of men from Green Briar sang their tributes to Marsh. Members of his family shared their memories of a great dad and granddad.

KING WEEKLY SENTINEL

Cougars notch two more points, tied for first

By JEFF DONER

The Schomberg Cougars won their only game for last week, taking two points away from the Fergus Devils in a 5-3 win on Thursday at the Trisan Centre.

The win gives them a sparkling 8-1-1 record in their last 10 games and moved them into a three-way tie for first place in the Georgian Mid-Ontario Jr. C standings.

Cougars' goalie Garrett Taylor captured the win over Fergus with 21 saves. Taylor played well in net, despite a tough assessment of his own play after the game.

"I'm feeling good, but I didn't feel as though I played my greatest out there," he said. "Three goals is kind of unacceptable for me, but I've just got to step forward and go after it the next game."

However, Taylor had enough support from the Cougars' offence to negate the three goals scored against and said he was just happy to get the win.

"It felt good. They're a physical team and we don't take teams too lightly when the physical game steps in, so it felt good to get the two points," he said.

Right out of the gate the Cougars were on the prowl and looking to gain an early lead. Blake Culley made sure it happened with a goal just 26 seconds in, with John Gage and Nicholas Chaykowsky assisting on the play.

Less than a minute later, JP Crescenzi scored his first goal of the game to make it 2-0 for the Cougars. Bobby Quinn and Derek Neilly were credited with assists.

Devil Griffin Heitshu cut the Cougars' lead in half mid-way through the first, but the Cougars buckled down and refused to let Fergus even the score.

In the second period the Cougars threw all they had at Fergus, firing over 20 shots at Devils goalie Alex Elliott, who made some stunning saves to keep his team in the game.

But things would start to turn against Elliott and the Devils, as the referees called a goal back against them and a string of bad penalties opened a door for the Cougars.

At 8:14, Mitch Safaric scored a power play goal to make it 3-1 for Schomberg, but a mere 14 seconds later, Fergus once again got to within one goal before heading into the final frame.

The Schomberg Cougars defeated the Fergus Devils 5-3 last week to stay tied atop the Junior C league standings. Cougars goalie Garrett Taylor (below) performed well.

Schomberg captain Christian Muenz connected for his third goal of the season a minute and a half into the third on the power play to again give the Cougars a two-goal lead.

Mid way through the period, Fergus forward Ben Roelofson caught the Cougars scrambling in their own end and pushed the score to 4-3.

But as the period wore on the Devils continued to lead a parade to the penalty box, trying to knock the Cougars off their game.

Using the power play to their advantage, the speedy Crescenzi scored his second of the game to add the insurance marker in the 5-3 win.

It was Crescenzi's sixth goal of the season and was assisted by Ryley Egerton and Brandon Yorke.

"I've been in a slump the past five games, so it was just good to be back out there scoring goals," Crescenzi said after the game. "I feel like we could have done better, but a win is a win and tonight we did what we had to do."

With his team in a battle for first place, Crescenzi said he feels the Cougars have taken an important step forward.

"I think we're getting together well now," he said. "We're a good bunch of guys and we're all good friends and it shows out there. We all stick up for one another and it goes to show that we're all friends and family."

Taylor agreed. "We're a really close team and right from day one it felt like we all knew each other. Standing up for each other on the ice is a good sign of that."

The Cougars' next game is up against the Midland Flyers on Thursday night at 8:30 p.m. at the Trisan Centre. Earlier in the season, Midland handed the Cougars a hefty 9-2 loss, so the Cougars will be looking for redemption.

Curlers salute Oktoberfest, play at championships

By Shellee Morning

Traditionally this time of year, Germany, as well as many other countries around the world, are in celebration of Oktoberfest.

This festival can last up to 16 days and where few things have changed since the event began over 100 years ago. One tradition that has not changed over the years is the Beer and the Cheer.

For King Curling Club members, the tradition carried on as the Friday night Mixed Social league got into the spirit with "oompah-pah" and "prost" which was happily shared amongst the Friday's crew down on the ice and then well after the game's handshakes.

The scoreboard reflected some very interesting games during the third week of play where some contests were no match against their opponents. On the early draw, Team Kyle Barber met Team Scott Gilpin in what seemed like a balanced challenged for the pair of Skips in the early part of the game. The end for end contest was much closer than the 10-4 score as Team Barber was able to collect a few multiple scoring ends to keep it close late in the game.

A paper thin miss by Skip Gilpin in the final end allowed Team Barber to collect 4 points and seal the victory.

Lady Skip Hilary Sutherland gave league leader Team Dave Barber a run for his money on sheet one. Neighbouring curlers kept a close watch on the pair as the house featured many rocks in play, requiring some fairly creative shot making by both teams. It was Barber's team of Ron Ivany, Miriam Firth and Margaret Ann Smith taking over with control and sweeping into the win column scoring 9-7.

In other action, Team Groombridge made a statement against Team Duffy in their first meeting of the season confidently posting a 7-3 decision, while Team Stronach won by default over Team Lus.

Dominion Club Championships

King Curling was well represented last Saturday at the Zone 9 Playdowns for the 2013 Dominion Curling Club Men's Championships held at the Barrie Curling Club.

Team Belcher earned the honour of representing King by winning the Men's League Club Championships last year. Thirteen teams participated in the event in hopes of moving onto the Ontario Championships then eventually to the Men's Canadian Curling Club Championships in Thunder Bay later on in December.

Skip Bob Belcher, Vice Doug Groombridge, Second John Hackner, Lead Dave Swackhammer, and alternate Wilf Robinson competed enthusiastically throughout the distinguished tournament collecting their fair share of take-outs and timely draws. Although the scoreboard was not in their favour and continue their quest to the next round, the Belcher Team would like to thank the many members of King for their support and well wishes.

The Monday night Men's League has a wealth of talented curlers producing some very premium curling every Monday evening. The games are well under way this season and as the leader board indicates the quality of curling already, the journey to determine next year's representative's promises to be a very exciting season for the men of King.

Curling Club members, John Hackner, Doug Groombridge, Bob Belcher, Wilf Robinson and Dave Swackhammer represented the King Curling Club recently at the Zone 9 Playdowns for the 2013 Dominion Curling Club Men's Championships. The team earned the honour to represent their club by winning the club championships last year.

King Historical Society celebrates local Olympians

Can any other community in the world boast as many Olympians per person as King Township?

With a tiny population of well under 25,000, King is the birthplace, training ground, residence or retirement retreat of an astonishing number of world-class athletes.

For more than 60 years, athletes with King in their past, present or future have trampolined, run, skated, rowed and – in history-making numbers – ridden at the Olympic games.

To celebrate these amazing Olympians, The King Township Historical Society created a colorful four-panel photographic display and informative free brochure.

King's medalists have stories to share and applaud. Rosie MacLennan, for instance, won gold in Women's Trampoline at London's 2012 Olympics – Canada's only gold for the games!

Equestrian Jim Elder is another King record-setter – he won both gold and bronze medals when he competed in no fewer than six Olympic Games between 1956 and 1984. Elder followed in the steps of three King residents – Larry McGuinness,

John Rumble and Walter Pady – who galloped and jumped with the first-ever Canadian Olympic Equestrian Eventing Team (1952).

King has had its share of winter athletes too including Elvis Stojko, silver medalist in Men's Skating for Richmond

Hill – but he studied at The Country Day School where the teachers individualized his timetable to allow for his rigorous training schedule.

The King Township Historical Society display tells these stories and many more. With luck, it will have to be updated after the 2014 Sochi Winter Games!

See the display and pick up a brochure at the King Township Museum, 2920 King Road, through December 2013. To inspire young King residents – and budding Olympians – the display moves to the King City Secondary School Library in January and to King City Public School in February.

Other schools, community organizations and libraries are welcome to book the display. Make requests at "Contact Us" on the King Township Historical Society webpage, www.kingtowshiphistoricalsociety.com.

Bennett, Kreviazuk perform at gala

Mackenzie Health Foundation is celebrating their 26th annual gala – A Season for Change, with performances by world renowned entertainers Tony Bennett and Chantal Kreviazuk.

A fitting theme for a community undergoing a transformation in healthcare delivery, A Season for Change will support Mackenzie Health's vision to create a world class health experience at Mackenzie Richmond Hill Hospital, as well as the future Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital.

Since the first Gala in 1988, this annual event has raised over $6.6 million for a number of significant equipment and program enhancements at Mackenzie Richmond Hill Hospital.

The event will be held this Thursday, Oct. 24, at Paramount Conference & Event Centre, 222 Rowntree Dairy Road Woodbridge. It starts at 5:30 p.m. with a cocktail reception followed by dinner at 7 and performances by Kreviazuk (7:40) and Bennett (9:45).

Jackson Bain gets nod as CDS athlete

Jackson Bain is a Grade 7 student at The Country Day School and absolutely loves sports.

This year he is playing right midfield on the U14 boys' soccer team. He previously played on the U12 boys' soccer team for the past two years, which won the CISAA championships last year. Jackson also plays U14 soccer for the King United Soccer Club, which has also been undefeated for the past two years.

An avid hockey player, Jackson has played on CDS's U12 co-ed hockey team and hopes to play on the U14 boys' team this year. When he is not playing school hockey, he plays rep hockey in the peewee division for his home town team, the Schomberg Red Wings.

Since arriving at CDS, he has also tried his hand at U12 basketball and was awarded the Junior School MVP for track & field last spring. His favourite events are the 100m and 200m sprints, javelin and long jump.

Jackson finds his inspiration in family.

"My family has always been involved in sports. They have taught me to persevere and to be determined in all that I do."

The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair returns Nov. 1

The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, celebrating 91 years as the world's largest combined indoor agricultural and equestrian show, will run from Nov. 1-10 in the Ricoh Coliseum and Direct Energy Centre at Exhibition Place.

"This year's Royal will connect families with farming and food experiences in fresh new ways that entertain, and engage all of our visitors," said Sandra Banks, Royal CEO. "The animals take centre stage at the Royal, with more than 4,000 expected to come and go throughout the 10-day Fair. There's a lot that's new at this year's Royal as well as everything that our visitors have come to love and expect."

Highlights include:

The President's Choice Animal Theatre: Goats on the Go, sheep herding, jumping rabbits and an animal psychic. Additional performances include Victoria Stilwell, star of The Animal Planet's hit series "It's Me or The Dog," who will take the stage opening day, Nov. 1 as well as the President's Choice SuperDogs.

The a-MAZE-ing Food Journey: Ever wonder where your food comes from? Walk the path your food takes from farm to table with this interactive exhibit. A fun way for both kids and parents to learn about, and play with, their food.

AGtivity Central: Fun for the young ones, including face painting, mini tractor races and a farm-inspired playscape and dress-up area.

For The Love of Food: Royal visitors are introduced to the complete story of their food by meeting farmers, producers, scientists, health professionals and of course, chefs, all sharing their passion for food. Features include a working greenhouse, an edible garden, "Cook the Books" competition, as well as Health Professionals Night.

Royal Agricultural Competitions: The Royal celebrates the very best in Canadian agriculture.

Taste champion wines and cheeses at a daily "cinq a sept" (5-7 p.m.) event or try to pick the winners of the National Hereford Show and East National Dairy Goat Show on opening weekend, Nov. 1-3.

The Royal Chef Challenge 2013: The Royal will deliver what no other event can – the best in celebrity and small town chefs combined with fresh local ingredients. We have taken this quest for the best on the road, visiting local agricultural fairs looking for the best local chefs to square off against each other on the big stage at The Royal on Nov. 2.

The Ricoh Big Ben Challenge: Celebrating its 10th year, The Ricoh Big Ben Challenge on Nov. 9, will feature top international and Olympic riders and horses competing for a chance at the $75,000 prize.

A full schedule of The Royal's 2013 programming is available at royalfair.org/schedule. Discount tickets can be purchased online at royalfair.org or full price at the door. The Royal Horse Show tickets are also available online through royalfair.org.

Christ Church Kettleby holding fall bazaar and sale

Come and enjoy Sunday worship with Sunday school at 10 a.m., then gather in the auditorium for coffee, cookies and conversation. We're at 50 Elizabeth Grove. Reverend Evelyn always combines a good message, her happy anecdotes and some laughs here and there.

Information for our website, send to fjesty@hotmail.com. Items for local newspaper send to donaldelly@sympatico.ca. KCUC website www.kcuc.ca. Our church office kcuc@bellnet.ca. Rev. Evelyn McLachlan kcucmin@bellnet.ca.

Christ Church Kettleby will hold its annual fall bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 2, from 1-4 p.m. There will be a bake table, vegetables and preserves, white elephant treasures, books and crafts, and quilt draw. Afternoon tea with scones, cream and jam will be served also. All are welcome.

King Bible Church

Join us this Sunday as Pastor Mark Nowell will continue our sermon series on "Community" with Serve One Another.

We have Celebration Zone available downstairs for kids aged 2.5-Grade 7. We also have nursery available downstairs for babies 0-2.5.

Next month our Seniors Overtimers will be meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 12 at 1 p.m. We will begin our time with light refreshments and a time of fellowship. Afterwards we will have a presentation by the King Museum to celebrate the church's 50th anniversary. We will learn about the development of the town and Mary's Lake. All are welcome to join us!

KC Seniors Travel Club News

On Thursday, Dec. 5

The Travel Club offers a trip to the McIntyre Theatre of Mohawk College for a performance of the Geritol Follies "Christmas Magic." The show showcases the talents of an ageless cast, 60-plus years young, in a hit musical comedy variety show. The day will begin with a visit to the Dutch Mill Country Market for lunch and shopping.

Get your tickets early by calling Carol at 905-833-5870 or Jane at 905-833-3324.

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

This Sunday, St. Andrew's is celebrating its 58th anniversary in King City. We invite you to join us! The worship service is at 10:30 a.m. Our Kids' Time runs concurrently and nursery care is also available during the service. Stay afterwards for a time of fellowship over coffee.

We welcome back Mrs. Anita Van Nest from Newmarket, to lead us in worship. She is in her final year at Knox College, U of T. Last Sunday was Student and Colleges Sunday where Marianne Emig Munro, a recent grad led us in worship and remembered theological colleges and their students in prayer - especially the Toronto School of Theology and Knox College, McGill University and Presbyterian College and Vancouver School of Theology and St. Andrew's Hall. Marianne was ordained later Sunday evening at her home church, Armour Heights Presbyterian Church in Toronto. We wish her God's best as she soon ministers to the congregation at First Presbyterian Church, Brockville.

"The Vissers Team" - the Rev. Dr. John Vissers and his wife, Lynn, have moved from Montreal. We look forward to John being with us again for worship services on Nov. 10 and 24.

All Saints

All Saints would like to thank everyone who came out to support the Farmers' Market this year. Special thanks go to Ian and Janet Rodger who organized the whole venture and even cooked us a fabulous locally grown community dinner to mark the end of our first year. We look forward to spreading the word over the winter months so that we can have an even better turnout next year. Watch out for your flyer in the mail with all the dates for the 2014 season in it!

Our annual general meeting (Vestry) takes place after the service this coming Sunday 27. All are welcome to stay for the meeting. At Vestry we review the past year and look forward to another year of ministry and service in King City.

November has plenty going on. On Nov. 10, Remembrance Day we look forward to welcoming our new area bishop, the Right Rev. Peter Fenty as our celebrant and preacher. Then on Nov. 17 we are hosting a Mexican buffet from 11:30-2 p.m. to raise funds for our youth trip to the Diocese of Cuernavaca in Mexico. Tickets are $15 each or $50 for a family, and it will be a feast of flavours.

This past week we looked at the subject of healing. Whilst we often wish for miracle cures, healing can come in a variety of forms. Sometimes it is the cure we hoped for, at other times it is being given inner peace or strength for the journey. Sometimes it is even in dying that we are finally healed. Healing can even take the form of being able to forgive someone, or even being forgiven ourselves. For Jesus, healing was about making people whole, and restoring their dignity. At All Saints, we pray that we may find God's healing and wholeness in our lives, so that we may help bring it to others too.

All Saints is an inclusive and welcoming Anglican church in the heart of King City. We strive to be a community of compassion and hope, following in the footsteps of Jesus. Service times are 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. and we are located at 12935 Keele Street, King City. See www.allsaintskingcity.com.

Police seek witnesses

Officers with the York Regional Police Collision Investigation Unit are seeking witnesses following a serious four-vehicle collision which occurred Oct. 10 in King Township.

At 6:30 p.m. that evening, police responded to a serious motor vehicle collision at King Road west of Bathurst Street. Investigators believe that a black Honda Civic, travelling eastbound on King Road, crossed the centre line into the oncoming lane colliding with a white Dodge Ram 2500 pickup truck that was traveling westbound on King Road.

As a result of the collision the Dodge Ram crossed over in to the eastbound lanes where it struck an eastbound Toyota Corolla and then was hit by an eastbound silver Honda.

Several people were injured as a result of the collision and were transported to the hospital. All injuries at this time are considered to be non-life threatening.

York Regional Police are asking anyone with information to contact the Collision Investigation Unit at 1-866-876-5423, ext. 7704, or to call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS, or leave an anonymous tip online at www.1800222tips.com.
