Premier Wynne delivers positive message to party faithful

By Mark Pavilons

Despite some major mistakes by the provincial Liberal government, its leader is adamant that they're on track and making inroads.

Ontario Premier Kathleen Wynne delivered a strong and uplifting speech to more than 100 party faithful and members of the public Friday night at a fundraiser held at Holland Marsh Wineries in northern King. Wynne and members of the host York-Simcoe Liberal Association, worked the room and met with people one-on-one.

The premier readily admitted the costly relocation of gas plants was a bad move, and the estimated $1 billion price (numbers are debatable) tag was largely due to avoid litigation.

"I am part of the government that made those decisions," she said. "We didn't pay close enough attention to the siting. We have to put a better process in place."

She did note the government has successfully built 21 other gas plants.

King resident Susan Beharriell asked the premier about measures to help sustain the horse industry, something vitally important to King Township.

The previous decisions, Wynne said, "were not well thought out." The province has pledged some $400 million over the next few years to support the horse industry, and they're working with race tracks. The premier is optimistic "we'll have a sustainable industry." The new chair of the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation (OLG) fully supports an integrated racing industry.

The province is also leading the charge to revamp the Canadian Pension Plan. Finance Minister Charles Sousa has met with his provincial counterparts to discuss enhancing the CPP. The major concern is that the current retirement system in this country is not adequate and it's important to address it now. They are hoping the federal government "comes around," but if not, Ontario is prepared to move ahead with a provincial plan.

These are long-term discussions but they need to start now. "If we don't talk now, we lose a group of people who deserve these things," she said.

The province is also investing in infrastructure improvements, particularly waste water systems, which will ensure the economic viability of many small towns. Ontario is also pushing for a nationwide infrastructure plan to address the aging infrastructure.

The Liberals are also strong supporters of Ontario's agri-food manufacturing industry, which "has huge potential to grow." Wynne is also agriculture minister and she's working with that sector to promote local food options.

"I'm a huge optimist when it comes to Ontario's potential," Wynne stressed.

Many investments will be outlined in the Nov. 7 economic statement, but the premier said constraining and cutting back is not the way to go. The government is on track to eliminating the deficit by 2017.

Referring to the informal gathering Friday night, Wynne said she loves to get in a room and engage in conversation. She lauded Oak Ridges-Markham MPP Dr. Helena Jaczek for her judicious and firm hand on the gavel as caucus chair. She also thanked riding association president Jonathan Scott and King Councillor Avia Eek for putting the event together.

Wynne stressed the importance of the need to link urban and rural needs and communities. In rural areas like King, residents want the land looked after. The roads and bridges need to be maintained and the province recognizes that all regions of the province are equally important. The province is also looking at some land use planning issues.

"We're all interconnected," she said.

The premier said she was thrilled to open the Royal Winter Fair earlier that day – the stage where city and country meet. She said it's important to recognize the kids showing cattle, for instance, and offer them the same opportunities as those in urban centres.

Wynne intends to "play the long game" and make investments for the future. It's tempting for politicians to look at the four-year cycle, but "it's not how I'm going to govern or why I'm in politics."

The Liberals, she said, are committed to working with opposition parties as they move towards a spring budget.

Dr. Jaczek noted the premier isn't flowery, offering over-the-top messages, but she really listens to people. In the coming months, we'll see the fruits of all that listening, Jaczek predicted.

Premier Kathleen Wynne spoke to residents during her visit to the Holland Marsh Wineries in King for a Liberal fundraiser Friday night.

Retirement Planning

The Value of Independent & Trusted Advice

Mary Rourke
Senior Investment Advisor,
HollisWealth

The office of Mary Rourke, Senior Investment Advisor is centrally located in Aurora with plenty of parking. We were delighted to speak with Mary on a variety of issues. Mary spoke at length about her practice as well as her approach to Financial and Retirement Planning for her clients.

King Weekly Sentinel: We note that DundeeWealth will now be known by the new brand name of HollisWealth, was there a reason behind this change?

Mary: On November 1st we adopted a new brand identity to replace the DundeeWealth brand – HollisWealth. The name HollisWealth recognizes our parent firm's first head office building, which was constructed in 1837 at 188 Hollis Street in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Including "Hollis" in the name is a reference to our history while "Wealth" identifies our core business.

KS: How do you and your team feel about the new brand identity?

Mary: We all really like the reference to our heritage; there is no change to our business, independence or our core value of placing our clients first. We continue to be a premier, independent, and national firm placing focus on "planning" for our clients.

KS: Do you continue to focus on Retirement Planning?

Mary: Yes, my practice focuses on all aspects of retirement planning. This includes those who are planning to retire in the next 10 years or so as well as full retirement planning for those who are already in full retirement. The preparation of an integrated income and retirement plan is central to the work we do for our clients.

KS: What are the main concerns of those who are either thinking about or already in full retirement?

Mary: The main concern I hear is the fear of outliving ones financial resources as well as the adequacy of income throughout the lengthy period of retirement. One of the key "risks" in retirement that we face today versus that of previous generations is one of life expectancy. Generally we will live longer than our ancestors did; financially we need to be prepared to fund our retirement horizon for a much longer period of time than those of previous generations.

KS: What is it you do for your clients in order to manage this risk?

Mary: The preparation of an income and retirement plan provides the road map for our clients; the planning we do lays and provides the framework for financial stability.

KS: Does the planning address any other areas or concerns?

Mary: The planning we do is very broad and also addresses areas such as investment planning, tax planning (reduction) as well as estate planning.

KS: It was great to meet your team; you have wonderful support!

Mary: Thank you, we all share the core value of placing our clients first, we enjoy working with all of our clients and of course all of our work is fully confidential. Key for my practice is the principle of meeting on a regular basis to ensure we are tracking well against our planning work.

KS: Congratulations on your new brand name; can our readers contact you if more information is required?

Mary: We would be delighted to speak with anyone within your readership; I can be contacted at 905-503-4100, we are located at 520 Industrial Parkway S. beside Thompson Funeral Home in Aurora.

Who will stop runaway government spending?

"The real goal should be reduced government spending, rather than balanced budgets achieved by ever rising tax rates to cover ever rising spending."

- Thomas Sowell

As budget time nears for many levels of government, the public will be bombarded with fancy footwork, pedantic, long-term-gain talk. It's to numb us to the inevitable pain that increased costs, taxes and cuts will bring to average Canadian households.

At the local level, even a modest, 4% to 6% increase can take its toll. On average, it would amount to perhaps a week's worth of groceries.

It's like a masked burglar, being invited into your home at the dinner hour, and cleaning out your entire refrigerator.

Out goes the HP sauce, 1.5-litre bottle of ketchup, package of lean ground beef, jar of hot peppers, pack of cold cuts, brick of havarti and bag of milk. Think of the classic holiday movie, How the Grinch Stole Christmas, when he cleans everyone out, leaving not so much as a crum behind.

I don't know about you, but I don't relish forking out an extra $200 or $300 a year simply for the privilege of living in my community.

Don't get me wrong. I like my community. I even like some of my neighbours.

But every year it seems like we're all paying more for less.

In Caledon, we will soon get to enjoy scaled-back garbage and recycling pickup to once every two weeks; an overpaid bunch of councillors (regional councillors in Caledon earn over $100,000); and a slow-moving local economy.

Meanwhile in King, there's been a burst of development, road improvements across the municipality, government funding for bridge work, and even a municipal surplus.

That's not to say living in King is cheap. Far from it. Being one of the country's most affluent community with the highest house prices in the land comes with a cost. But it seems most residents are willing to pay them, and few come out to complain at budget time.

From what I've seen in the last two years, there's no fat to be trimmed at the local level.

By contrast, government spending seems quite healthy at the provincial and federal levels.

Federal government waste and mismanagement is estimated to cost Canadian taxpayers between $158 billion and $197 billion over the past 25 years, concludes a study published by the Fraser Institute, an independent, non-partisan Canadian public policy think-tank.

"Federal Government Failure in Canada: 2013 Edition" examines auditor general reports from 1988 to 2013 and finds 614 instances of government failure including cost overruns, unnecessary spending, inefficiencies, inaccurate reporting of financial information, and other failures in federal programs and initiatives.

We in North America, have become accustomed to bloated bureaucracies, overpaid civil servants, waste, graft and spending scandals.

The recent antics of a few senators have made headlines lately. They're just another in a long list of occurrences that strain our faith in the system.

A couple of the more expensive blunders in Ontario include eHealth, ORNGE and the relocation of the gas plants. Tipping the scales at $1 billion, these costly decisions may haunt the reigning Liberals for some time.

Here's an idea of just what a billion amounts to.

It's 1,000 million. A billion seconds ago it was 1981. A billion minutes ago the Roman Empire was still around. A billion months ago, dinosaurs roamed the planet.

There are at least two dozen countries whose Gross Domestic Product (GDP) is less than $1 billion.

And yet, our counterparts in Washington spend a billion dollars every eight hours.

By comparison, Canada government spending reached an all time high of $35 billion in May of 2013.

Total provincial government net debt hit more than $512-billion in 2012-13. Ontario accounts for almost half (or $253 billion) of Canada's total provincial debt. Ontario's debt alone is expected to reach $550 billion before the end of the decade.

The current federal net debt stands at roughly $676-billion and Canadians are currently leaving a legacy of $1.2 trillion dollars in debt to the younger generations to come. You're welcome!

I don't know about you, but even contemplating numbers on these scales gives me a headache.

In the face of astronomical amounts of money is the plight of the average Canadian, who earns just over $40,000 (gross) annually.

We face ever-increasing cost of living, gas prices, house taxes, income taxes, post-secondary tuition, increased wait times for medical care, etc., etc.

There is enough money floating around in our national economy to address all of our needs. Cash flow and revenue are not the issue - efficient spending is. Always has been.

We've proven we can do it; we've done it before.

Letters to the Editor

Access to medication

I am writing to you as I do have a strong link to King Township. I was a resident of the village of Laskay from 1990 to December 2012, when I sold my property and moved to Toronto.

The Ontario Ministry of Health has refused to fund the drug "Esbriet," which has already been approved for use in Canada by the Federal Ministry of Health and by 27 European countries (of which 10 provide public funding).

This medication has been proven to slow the progression of mild to moderate Idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis which is a progressive and eventually fatal disease which causes scarring of the lungs. Until recently the only recommended treatment has been a lung transplant.

Now here is a drug proven to slow down the progression of the disease and improve lung function, but due to the cost of the treatment (approximately $42,000 per year), most sufferers in Ontario have no hope of accessing this first and only proven medication.

Why can't Ontarians receive the same care that so many other countries provide? The government needs to fund this drug to give those suffering with the disease a fighting chance.

*Michael Jarvis
Toronto*

Inaccuracies in letter

I made two mistakes in my previous letter, regarding Bolton's proposed Canadian Tire warehouse and the traffic it will generate. There is going to be some train transportation. John Barrington of BA Group estimated that 50% of the truck traffic would be going to and from the trains.

I misread the map that shows the route to Nobleton. I thought that it showed the trucks going up Highway 50 from Mayfield.

On closer examination, I realize that the route goes north on the Caledon Vaughan Townline, east on the King Road, through Nobleton to Highway 400. My apologies to BA Group for saying that they missed that trucks are prohibited from turning at Highway 50 and the King Road. Their map did not involve Highway 50.

The heavy truck traffic from Bolton's proposed Canadian Tire warehouse still concerns me as it will impact on the lovely heritage village of Nobleton. Since Nobleton does not have a bypass, this is a huge issue. Many of the buildings that we love were built in the 1800s and are very close to the King Road.

They will be negatively impacted by these heavy tractor trailers. People living on Hawman Ave. (north of and parallel to the King Road) report that their houses shake when a heavy truck goes by on the King.

We would like to enjoy our lovely heritage community. Having heavy tractor trailers rumbling through town at all hours of the day and night just ruins this.

*Nancy Hopkinson
Nobleton*

Majority of road infrastructure costs paid by motorists

In the Greater Toronto and Hamilton Area, road users more than cover the total cost of road infrastructure.

Ontario drivers pay almost the full cost of the roads they use, according to a Conference Board of Canada report released today. Province-wide, fuel taxes and other fees cover between 70 and 90 per cent of annual road construction, maintenance and policing costs.

In the Greater Toronto and Hamilton Area (GTHA), the Conference Board analysis indicates that road users paid more in taxes and fees than it cost to operate the road network.

The report, "Where the Rubber Meets the Road: How Much Motorists Pay for the Road Infrastructure," produces new and comprehensive estimates of the costs of the Ontario road network, and the revenues generated by road users.

"One of the major challenges in addressing traffic congestion is determining who should pay the costs of additional road infrastructure," said Vijay Gill, director of policy research, The Conference Board of Canada. "Virtually all the discussion about congestion is related to the presumption that users of the road infrastructure are heavily subsidized by all taxpayers. The findings of this report don't remove policy options such as congestion charges from consideration. They do, however, shed new light on the conventional wisdom about who pays for road infrastructure."

Report Highlights

- Ontario motorists cover between 70 and 90 per cent of the costs of the road network through fees and fuel taxes.

• In the Greater Toronto and Hamilton Area, road users more than cover the costs of construction, maintenance and policing.

• Vehicle ownership and operating costs make up, by far, the largest portion of total costs for road users. However, they are paid directly by the motorists themselves.

The analysis focuses on light-duty vehicles, which cover automobiles up to 4.5 tonnes – cars, minivans, sport utility vehicles and light pickup trucks. Revenues included in the analysis included federal and provincial fuel taxes, vehicle registration fees and tolls, but not general sales taxes. The Conference Board used three different approaches to estimate total road infrastructure costs (construction, major and regular maintenance and policing).

Province-wide, road-network related revenues from fuel taxes, licence fees and other sources totaled more than $7.5 billion annually between 2008 and 2010 (the latest year with available data). These revenues covered between 70 and 90 per cent of annual road costs, depending on the method used to calculate infrastructure GTHA between 2008 and 2010 generated almost expenditures. Motorists cover even more of their share of the costs of the Greater Toronto and Hamilton Area. Revenues collected in the the infrastructure – collect a relatively small portion of the revenues related to road use.

Vehicle ownership and maintenance costs were not included in the results as they are paid for directly by motorists, although estimates of those costs can be found in the report. Social costs – from accidents, congestion, greenhouse gas emissions, and criteria air contaminants – are not included in the main calculations. But research evidence on them was examined, and typical estimates of the external components of congestion, accidents and emissions would not change the conclusions of the calculations radically.

The research was initiated and financially supported by the Canadian Automobile Association South Central Ontario (CAA SCO). A subsequent report will elaborate on the policy implications of these findings.

Tightening the purse strings

In the U.S., the New Deal of the 1930s put millions of Americans to work in quick fashion – they built or repaired roads, hospitals, schools, airports and playgrounds. They fought fires, controlled floods and planted trees.

The ideology at the time was to try something. If it failed, try something else.

What happened to that mentality? Today, we're more bent of doing the "same," or what's always been done, regardless of its inefficiency or ramifications.

And we've permitted it, through apathy and indifference. We shouldn't be too busy working for our families to allow our state to fall into the abyss of financial bankruptcy, sparked by ethical decay.

It's our money, people, we have a say in how it's spent! That's something we should never forget, regardless of the party in power. Whatever happened to the concept of "we, the people?" Just when did democracy turn on its head, leaving us at the mercy of a self-serving bureaucratic monster?

Imagine a society if we controlled the purse strings and forced the issues.

Politicians would earn slightly above minimum wage; salaries of civil servants would be reduced and capped; stay-at-home moms would receive credit; referendums would be held regularly on contentious issues; efficiencies would be rewarded, waste would be punished; green energy would be in; cancer would be beaten once and for all.

Is frugality and common sense spending too much to ask?

Report shows 82% diversion from landfill in York Region

York regional council received the York Region 2012 Waste Diversion Report outlining York Region's successes in waste diversion from landfill. Report highlights include:

- 82 per cent waste diversion from landfill (including energy from waste).
- 89,488 tonnes blue box recyclables processed.
- 92,260 tonnes organics collected.
- 43,688 tonnes yard waste collected at the curb and at depots.
- 6,657 tonnes of tires, clean fill, textiles, wood waste, scrap metal.

York Region, with its municipal partners, implements innovative solutions for the delivery of waste management services. For information on waste management initiatives, please visit www.york.ca/waste.

Mayor & Council of the Township of King

Lest We Forget

King gives Kettleby Fair a hand to cover shortfall

By Angela Gismondi

The Kettleby Fair is getting a helping hand from the Township of King.

Council decided to approve one-time funding assistance for the Kettleby Fair at a meeting Monday. Kettleby Fair coordinators Carol Ann Trabert and Gary Vogan requested financial assistance after a shortfall was experienced two years in a row due to inclement weather, which resulted in poor attendance.

"We have, unfortunately a situation that after 35 years of good weather, we had two years of bad weather," said Michael Hogg, a member of the fair committee.

Council granted the committee $2,517.21. The funds, which will be taken from the Mayor's Charity Golf Tournament account, will be used to pay off debts incurred at this year's fair. In 2012, the event was cancelled due to the weather. Organizers tried to minimize their losses by cancelling entertainers in advance of the event.

This year, the committee decided to go ahead with the fair in the hopes that the weather would clear up. Unfortunately, the weather did not cooperate and attendance was down considerably, resulting in a loss of revenue.

"We want to invite you all back on Sept. 6, 2014 but before that can happen we need to deal with the past," said Hogg.

Hogg explained that in recent years, the fair has changed. Many volunteer groups from across the township help run the event and, in turn, the groups use the fair as a venue to promote their organizations. The fair typically sees a profit of between $1,500 and $2,000 and just started to put money aside for emergency situations but they depleted that reserve in the past two years. Hogg explained that the committee had to take a loan from a local resident to settle some bills.

"We're here on bended knee to ask for assistance to discharge this debt," Hogg said.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini brought up the matter under new business at the last council meeting. He pointed out that Kettleby is known for the fall fair, which takes place every year at the beginning of September.

"I am 100 per cent in support of this," said Pellegrini, adding the money is not coming from taxpayer dollars. "It's not about bailing out an organization. It's a matter of working with people. They did have a rainy day fund but they used it up twice. I think it's a very fitting cause."

While she realized it might set a precedent, Councillor Debbie Schaefer said she was in support of helping the fair. She pointed out that the Kettleby Fair is an important festival in the township that people look forward to every year and serves to showcase community groups.

"I really see this financial problem is one that if not handled appropriately, is going to have an effect across the entire township," said Schaefer. "If there was an organization that had a comparable problem, I would feel that we should support them too."

Councillor Cleve Mortelliti suggested a policy be put in place to deal with these sorts of situations. He was also supportive of providing financial assistance to the fair.

"I would be in support of it for any one of our events in the township if they experienced something like the Kettleby Fair," he said. "I would hate to see for an event like this cause the Kettleby Fair not to run next year."

Councillor Peter Grandilli warned councillors that this could set a precedent and other organizations could be knocking on the door if their events are unsuccessful.

"I don't think this is a wise move," he said.

Councillor Bill Cober said Grandilli had a valid point, but argued this is a special circumstance and a one-time thing. Should other organizations come forward, they will be dealt with on a case-by-case basis, he added.

"It's coming out of the money from the golf tournament, not taxpayer dollars," said Cober. "It's fundraising dollars not tax dollars, which makes a very big difference."

Willoughby marks her 90th

Doris Willoughby celebrated her 90th birthday with friends and family at the King City Seniors Centre in King City on Saturday. Willoughby officially turned 90 on Oct. 31 and said it was fantastic to spend the day with so many friends. Pictured are Paul, Doris and Cathy Willoughby, her son and daughter-in-law.

St. Paul's Presbyterian marks its 25th

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Nobleton celebrates 25 years in their current home on King Road.

One of the strengths of the congregation is its commitment to children's ministry, according to Pastor Jeff Loach. One of the most significant ministries that has drawn people from the community to St. Paul's has been their annual Bible Fun Camp, Camp WannaKnowGod.

The general makeup of the people who attend St. Paul's is increasingly diverse. They have several young families, as well as a good mix of seniors, youth, children and other adults. Many are not of a Presbyterian background originally, and the ethnic diversity is reflective of the community, too, Loach observed.

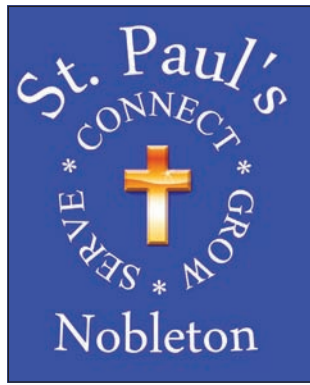

Numbers are growing. Loach said they will receive a half-dozen new members this month, and they received new members back in the spring, too.

Loach said their active youth group could use some more kids.

"There are so many things that tantalize young people today that the youth group - which is for the whole community, not just St. Paul's - has become just one more thing to do among many. Our youth pastor, Dave Mullings, and his team of volunteers seek to bring fun and learning together each Friday evening."

Church history

In 1958, St. Paul's was established. There had been other Presbyterian churches in the area but none in "downtown" Nobleton and a need was felt to plan a new church. Longtime residents of Nobleton marvel how, in 55 years the church has grown from a small, concrete block pink church to the attractive building it is today.

It was a small group of local families who formed the first congregation. They first met in a one-room building called the "Orange Hall," located on the east side of Highway 27 north of the King Road. A pump organ was the instrument of choice for music and it is hard to believe that only 55 years ago, that first meeting place for the church had no indoor plumbing!

The late 1950s saw real growth in the village of Nobleton. Just as developers today provide building sites for parks and common space, so too was a site provided by a local developer for a new church building. The site chosen was where the current fire hall is now located. Fortunately for St. Paul's the Township saw a need to build a fire hall and purchased that property from St. Paul's. This allowed the church to build at its present location where there was space for a parking lot and room for future expansion.

The original church had marked improvements: flush toilets, a sanctuary, a large Sunday school room and a tiny 8-foot-by-6-foot kitchen. The building constructed of "oversized" concrete blocks costing only 13 cents a block became known to locals as the Pink Presbyterian Church. It is a true story that when volunteers gathered to paint the church, they discovered that the red brick paint they had purchased had been mislabeled and it was pink. They painted the church pink! The congregation flourished as "the Pink Church" and eventually purchased two school portable buildings to accommodate expanding children's programs.

The congregation began focusing on building a new church building. The original pink church building still exists today but was bricked over so that, from the outside, the whole building looked the same. The old church sanctuary became a gymnasium.

Today, the congregation is served by Jeff Loach, the senior pastor and David Mullings, the youth director. The original pump organ was retired and Haydn Evans, the director of music, leads the congregation with a keyboard, a grand piano, or electric organ.

St. Paul's continues to grow, and on Nov. 17 the congregation of St. Paul's will celebrate 25 years in the present building. An invitation is extended to the community, whether you have ever been a part of the St. Paul's or not. Please drop in and see what they are all about. You will feel most welcomed.

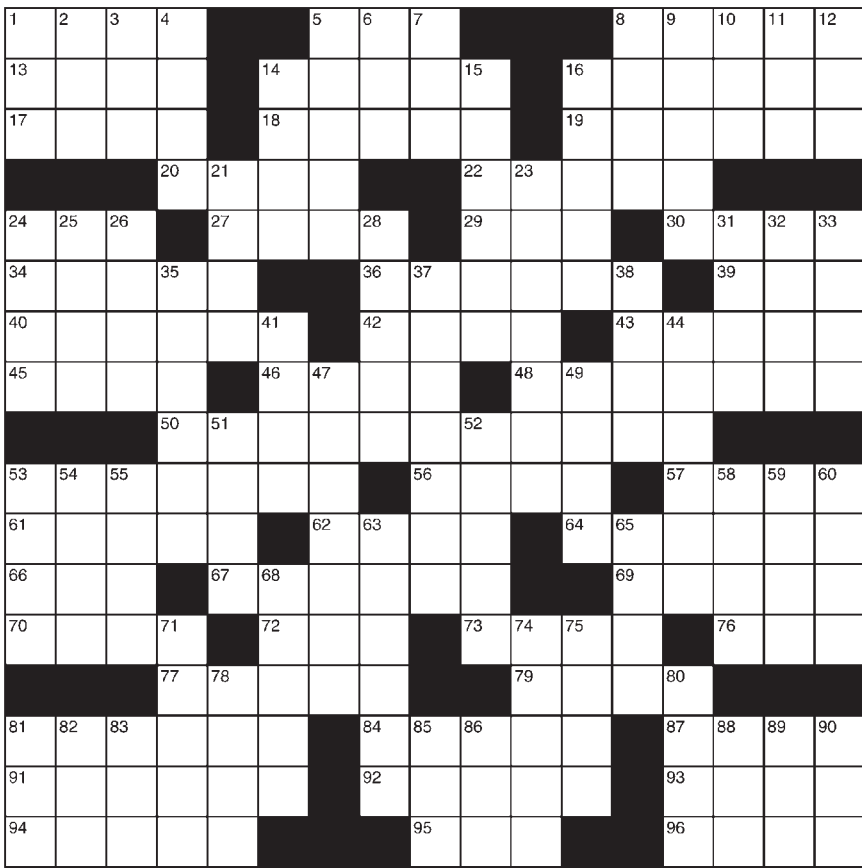

The service is casual and starts at 10 a.m. There is a nursery for toddlers, church school for those interested and following the service, a complimentary lunch will be offered. There is always lots going on at St. Paul's, take time to visit the church web site at www.stpaulsnobleton.ca.

Until 1983, St. Paul's was paired with St. Andrew's Church, King City, as a two-point charge - one pastor served both congregations. In this case, the pastor's home was in King City.

Significant growth necessitated a full time pastor and the erection of a larger facility in Nobleton. In 1983, the two congregations each became single-point charges and St. Paul's purchased a church manse on Cross Avenue.

Pancreatic cancer awareness month

"Most likely, three to six months" is an all-too-common prognosis hurled at shocked pancreatic cancer patients at the time of their initial diagnosis.

Amidst clever advertising campaigns, 10-K runs and corporate sponsorships for other cancers, pancreatic cancer will quietly kill approximately 4,300 Canadians in the same year that sees 4,700 diagnosed. Do the math!

The survival rate - in the low single digits - for pancreatic cancer hasn't budged in the past three decades, while the survival rates for all other cancers have improved in the same time period, some dramatically.

Another stop-you-in-your-tracks fact about pancreatic cancer: the reason so few people know about it is because there are very few survivors. Cheerleaders are few and far between. Also, pancreatic cancer, while the most lethal type, is the least funded cancer, receiving less than one per cent (1%) of all private and government funding.

Pancreatic Cancer Canada has launched its Purple Lights Campaign to raise awareness of this 'silent killer' in the lives of Canadians.

Virtually every home in the village of Kettleby in King will be decked out in purple lights to support the cause. Strings of purple lights will be shining in every province of Canada! For more information on Pancreatic Cancer or to order your purple lights, visit www.pancreaticcancer.ca.

King resources for honouring war sacrifices

King Township never forgets. In fact, there are many local resources to read about local contributions.

King's senior librarian Sharon Bently and her team has built the Heritage and Timeless King web pages on the library site. If you go to <http://www.king-library.on.ca> and click on "Heritage," you will see several portals to King's past. One is "Remembrance Day: a Digital Collection." There you will find a list of names of King residents who served in the world wars, most of whom have live links to photos, papers and biographies from the King Archives.

Many of these people are well known in the community, not as soldiers but as adults who have lived full and interesting community lives after their time of service.

Margaret Coburn, for instance, was a staunch founder of the Concerned Citizen's of King and of the Historical Society, who ran for mayor not that long ago.

There's Joe Gelleny, the developer who created Kingcross Estates and King Heights - a radical idea in the 1960s to attract city families to large wooded lots in the hills of King. John Manson became principal of Runnymede Public School in Toronto and was a lead volunteer in moving the King Station to the Museum site.

There's Bruce Davis and some of his family still lives in Kinghorn.

Diana Armitage of King Creek has been collecting the names of King residents who were killed or lost in the First World War. Cross checking their names on cenotaphs and memorials, Armitage is compiling a list to submit to the Township of King as possible road names for all the new subdivisions in the area. This is a remarkable way to celebrate those young people who served in a war that started 100 years ago next year. If you know someone who should be on that list they can contact her through the King Township Historical Society website, <http://www.kingtownshiphistoricalsociety.com>.

There was a lot of work done on the home front to support the war effort.

Some of this is documented in the Tweedsmuir Histories. You can find them online as well. Most of the Histories have something on the war effort and one good example is the War Record section of the Laskay volume. Here you will enjoy the intimate details.

CDS 'Remembrance Garden'

Each Remembrance Day, The Country Day School seeks to make the practice of remembrance meaningful for its students. Inspired by the 3rd annual Operation Raise a Flag campaign at Sunnybrook Veterans Centre, each student in junior kindergarten through Grade 6 planted a total of 300 flags last week in honour of Canadian veterans.

The Country Day School is the first school to adopt Operation Raise a Flag and bring it to their community. This meaningful Remembrance Garden was created by and for the children. Each child had his or her own quiet moment of reflection as they planted their flag. It is their hope that this simple act of remembrance will provide a special thank you and bring a smile to those who courageously served our country.

A school-made video of the children taking part in the Raise a Flag initiative will be presented to the 500 veterans who live at Canada's largest veteran's care facility, along with a card signed by all of the students.

Canadians may take part in the online campaign as well at www.raiseaflag.ca.

MP Calandra encourages applications for Canada Summer Jobs

Oak Ridges-Markham MP Paul Calandra is encouraging local businesses and not-for-profit organizations to begin preparations to apply for Canada Summer Jobs 2014.

(CSJ) is an annual federal grant program that provides funding to help employers create summer job opportunities for students. It is designed to focus on local priorities, while helping both students and their communities.

Some of the benefits of the Canada Summer Jobs program include:

- Federal funding to support seasonal hiring where it would otherwise be impossible.
- Allowing students to gain valuable work experience.
- Providing funding based on local needs and priorities.

"Canada Summer Jobs creates an opportunity for local businesses to develop employment opportunities that without the program may not otherwise, benefiting local organizations and students tremendously," said Calandra.

Canada Summer Jobs provides funding to not-for-profit organizations, public-sector employers and small businesses with 50 or fewer employees to create summer job opportunities for young people intending to return to their studies in the next school year.

Not-for-profit employers are eligible for up to 100% of the provincial/territorial adult minimum hourly wage. Public and private-sector employers are eligible for up to 50% of the provincial/territorial adult minimum hourly wage.

To be eligible to participate in the CSJ initiative as a student, individuals must:

- Be between 15 and 30 years of age at the start of the employment.
- Have been registered as a full-time student in the previous academic year and intend to return to school on a full-time basis in the next academic year.
- Be a Canadian citizen, permanent resident, or person to whom refugee protection has been conferred under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act.

- Be legally entitled to work in Canada in accordance with relevant provincial/territorial legislation and regulations.

Applications will begin being accepted Dec. 2 until the deadline of Jan. 10, 2014.

For more information on the program please visit: <http://www.serviccanada.gc.ca/eng/epb/yi/yep/programs/scpp.shtml>.

King Chamber seeks nominations for business awards

The King Chamber of Commerce is looking for the best of 2013.

Please nominate your peers who have shown excellence this year for the Chamber's business awards. For the Entrepreneur of the Year we are looking for someone who has had a very successful year both personally and professionally. Over time this award has recognized many entrepreneurs who have demonstrated ongoing success in business and strong commitment to our local community.

Other awards include the Business of the Year (for large businesses and for smaller businesses), New Business of the Year, and a business that leads in sustainable practices.

Nominations are open until Nov. 30. The nomination form can be found on the King Chamber website. Please complete and e-mail to info@kingchamber.ca. The winners will be announced at the awards dinner in January.

THE LAST GREAT LOCATION IN PRESTIGIOUS UNIONVILLE, UPPER UNIONVILLE CELEBRATES FALL WITH QUICK MOVE-INS AND A FUN “PUMPKIN FEST” EVENT

The allure of Unionville has long made this historic village the preferred destination for new home buyers, and all the more so with the phenomenal success of the Upper Unionville community.

Now after a particularly productive summer, the community’s four builders have a number of inventory homes available, with occupancies as little as 90 days for those who want to move in quickly.

House hunters have been attracted not only by the quick move-ins available but also by the community’s recent “Pumpkin Fest” Fall Celebration.

Purchasers and members of the community were all invited to the customer appreciation event which took place on Sunday, October 27th at the Upper Unionville Sales Centre. Over 700 attended, including lots of kids dressed up in their Halloween costumes.

Everyone that attended received a free pumpkin from the mountain in front of the sales office, and many of them carved it into a jack-o-lantern right on the spot, along with enjoying coffee, hot chocolate and treats from cookies to pumpkin pie tarts – and all provided compliments of the four builders.

Together, Arista Homes, Fieldgate Homes, Paradise Homes and Starlane Homes are offering a huge selection of luxury homes from which to choose at Upper Unionville, ranging in price from the mid $500’s to the $800’s. Included in the vast range of floor plans being offered are 34’, 38’ and 42’ singles, 25’ and 28’ semi’s, and freehold townhomes – all of which can be viewed online at MyUpperUnionville.ca.

Located at Kennedy Road and 16th Avenue, Upper Unionville is a thoughtfully conceived master-planned community just minutes from Unionville’s best shopping, restaurants and entertainment, including schools, parks and golf courses. The neighbourhood is conveniently close to GO Transit and major highways for easy access to all points within the GTA.

Measuring over 200 acres, it’s the last great parcel of land remaining in Unionville, which has contributed to the tremendous popularity of the project amongst the new home buying public.

The community’s record-breaking launch benefited from a huge pent-up demand for homes in the prestigious area – a demand that resulted in over 1,000 sales since opening, while interest and sales have continued at a high level ever since.

The portfolio of new homes at Upper Unionville have all been designed to meet and exceed homebuyers’ expectations, in a family-oriented and pedestrian-friendly community that is a great place to move up to. Prospective purchasers should register at MyUpperUnionville.com now for more information on what inventory homes are now available, as well as to ensure they have a chance at the next release of lots which are coming soon.

Fibromyalgia Effective Approaches for Lasting Relief

Fibromyalgia is reaching alarming levels and ineffective treatment is common. If you suffer from Fibromyalgia you need to know poorly known facts about the condition in order to avoid years of pain and suffering.

You may be experiencing constant, unrelenting joint pain ... tender, achy spots all over your body... including your neck and upper back... pain between your shoulder blades ... chronic fatigue ... and maybe constant or intermittent headaches. You can't sleep at night and are exhausted all day.

You can't even enjoy the simple things in life anymore, such as playing with your children. Getting out of bed everyday is an unbelievable challenge.

Life has become unbearable... Your doctor does an exam... negative. He takes some X-rays... negative. Does a few blood tests... negative. Maybe even an MRI... negative.

The doctor may tell you that you may have Fibromyalgia and may give you anti-inflammatories, pain relieving or muscle relaxing drugs. You may find that the approaches you try do not help or may even make it feel worse.

So you go back, again and again, and your doctor gives you different drugs to try to make you feel better.

The doctor eventually may say.. "I've done all I can do, you just need to learn to live with it..."

After exhausting the list of medications you may also be told it's "all in your head" and they may even send you to a psychiatrist for anti-depressant drugs.

You may have gone through months, if not years, of grueling tests and drugs with horrible side effects.

It is clear that sufferers need much more information on what Fibromyalgia really is and how they can help themselves.

There are other approaches, beyond the use of drugs, that have safely and effectively helped many Fibromyalgia sufferers improve their lives dramatically.

To help sufferers, a workshop is being offered to reveal effective ways to feel better; increase energy; improve sleep and improve quality of life. The workshop is at no-charge as a community service.

There are other approaches, beyond the use of drugs, that have safely and effectively helped many Fibromyalgia sufferers feel better.

The workshop will be held on Wed November 13, 7:30 pm - 9 pm at the King West Wellness Centre 141 King Rd Unit 10, Richmond Hill. Seating is limited.

Call to make reservations 888-837-0407.

Making the draw Friday afternoon at the Post Office in Nobleton were Mary Jean Vena, Barb Pricop-Post, Postmaster Darlene MacIver, Mary McGee and Rose Dominnelli. Missing was Lucy Speranza.

Nobleton Post Office staff strong in fundraising campaign

By Mark Pavilons

The enthusiastic and energetic staff at the Nobleton Post Office put their people skills to good use recently.

The employees have been raising money to support the Canada Post Community Foundation. They're among the top five post offices in the country so far in this year's fundraising campaign and have raised more than $3,500 for the foundation.

Their fundraising included a raffle for donated prizes and a 50-50 draw.

Joining Postmaster Darlene MacIver were Barb Pricop-Post, area manager, and Stanley Eng, supervisor, in making the draws Friday afternoon.

The winner of the 50-50 draw earned a Nobleton man $815. They also made draws for more than two dozen prizes, ranging from art to jewelry.

"They've outdone themselves," said Pricop-Post.

"We're a small community with a big heart," MacIver observed. Along with the draws, staff extended their thanks to residents with a customer appreciation day. Residents enjoyed cake and coffee. The customer appreciation event was their way of saying thanks to their fantastic customers.

United churches host roast beef dinner

Schomberg Should Know

By Wendy-Sue Bishop
905-590-0054
wsue52@hotmail.com

Schomberg United Church

Saturday, Nov. 16 Schomberg Presbyterian and United churches are joining forces and holding "Hot Roast Beef Dinner" in the Schomberg Community Hall. There will be two sittings starting at 5 p.m.

Tickets are $15 per person. For tickets please call Dorrie Harrison at 905-939-8653 or Lis MacPherson at 905-939-8181.

Schomberg United Church invites all to their Bake and Craft Sale and "Tea Room" at the church on Saturday, Nov. 23, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

These two churches joined forces and together they put on a very successful pancake supper last spring. This winning partnership is at it again so on Saturday, Nov. 16, c'mon out to our Schomberg Community Hall and enjoy a great Hot Roast Beef Dinner with all the trimmings!

Schomberg Youth Club

Just to remind you that the Schomberg Youth Club is once again up and running its third season. All youth between the ages of 10 and 16 are more than welcome to come out to the Schomberg Public School gymnasium on Friday nights from 7-9 p.m., right through until June 2014.

You are welcome and encouraged to bring a friend and join the Youth Club for fun, food and laughter!

There will be a variety of activities provided including indoor sports like basketball, volleyball and ball hockey along with a variety of entertainment like crafts and music—something for everyone's tastes!

Occasionally, there will be outside field trips to locations such as Cold Creek Conservation Area.

This non-profit venture, sponsored by the Nobleton/Schomberg United Church Parish, very much appreciates the support it receives from the King Township Parks and Recreation Department, various Community organizations and of course, the parents of participating youth.

For more information, call our program youth leader, Nancy Cober, at 905-939-2358.

York Pines Church

Civil society gathers on Sunday, Nov. 10 at noon hour at the Cenotaph in Kettleby for the Remembrance Day ritual. It is always good to see young people in attendance.

York Pines United Church is located at 3150 the Aurora/Lloydtown Road, Kettleby. To learn more check out the web site at www.yruc.ca or call the church at 905-727-8118.

St. Patrick CWL

On Thursday, Nov. 7 from 1-8 p.m. we have Bacci Night, a drop-in night for all ladies to meet the CWL of St. Patrick's and learn how to make chocolate truffles with us, we will also be having dinner at 6 p.m.

On Sunday, Nov. 10 after the 11 a.m. mass we will be having our annual bake sale. All home made goodies for people to pick up and enjoy with their families.

On Sunday, Dec. 1 we have our annual Family Day at St. Patrick's Church after the 11 a.m. Mass. Adults $5 and all children are free. Lunch will be provided.

All events are at St. Patrick's church hall.

Christmas Tree Lighting

Everyone is encouraged to come out and celebrate the start of the "festive" season as we officially turn on the lights of the "A Main Street Christmas Tree."

This all happens on Sunday, Dec. 1 at 5 p.m. at The Main Street Christmas Tree.

This is our 6th annual Community Christmas Tree Lighting and that tree just keeps getting bigger and bigger!

The St. Patrick's School Choir and Stephen Ruppert will entertain us all with holiday music and carols and as is the holiday tradition there will be free hot chocolate and cookies for all!

This event is sponsored by the Schomberg Village Association. Please contact Susanne Prince at 905-939-4024 for more information.

King libraries dishing out copies of children's book

All four branches of the King Township Public Library will be handing out free copies of "Boy Soup," written by Loris Lesynski and illustrated by Michael Martchenko. The Book was chosen as this year's TD Grade One Book Giveaway.

"We are pleased to be able to participate in this program and provide grade one students in the York Region District School Board system with their very own copy of this entertaining book," said Rona O'Banion, chief executive officer of the King Township Public Library. "Not only is it a pleasure to see the joy and excitement when young children pick up their free books, it's also an excellent opportunity to promote literacy in our community."

TD Bank Group, in conjunction with the Canadian Children's Book Centre, will be distributing more than 500,000 copies of the book to children across Canada. Now in its 14th year, the TD Grade One Book Giveaway has distributed over five million books across the country and is supported by school boards, ministries of education and library organizations in all provinces and territories.

TD Community Giving - TD Bank Group invests in communities to make a positive impact where it does business and where our customers, clients and employees live and work.

The Canadian Children's Book Centre is a national, not-for-profit organization and registered charity founded in 1976 to promote, support and encourage the reading, writing and illustrating of Canadian books for children and teens. With book collections, programs and services and extensive resources in five cities across Canada, the CCBC is a treasure-trove for anyone interested in Canadian books for young readers.

REVISIONS AND ADDENDA TO ENVIRONMENTAL STUDY REPORT NOTICE OF FILING OF ADDENDUM

CLASS ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT, ENVIRONMENTAL STUDY REPORT SEWAGE SERVICING FOR THE COMMUNITY OF NOBLETON TOWNSHIP OF KING

Municipal Class Environmental Assessment for Nobleton Sanitary Sewer System was originally completed in July 2003. Construction of Nobleton Sanitary Sewer System was started in 2009 and significant progress has been made so far.

The original preliminary design prepared for the project envisioned a sanitary sewer connection crossing 12805 Highway 27 between Highway 27 and Crestview Drive. In the preliminary design for the project it was anticipated this connection would be constructed when development of 12805 Highway 27 occurred and no easement requirements were identified. As Maidenstone Limited Partnership is moving ahead with the construction of the Gates of Nobleton Subdivision in advance of the development of 12805 Highway 27, an easement is required for this section of sanitary sewer.

An Addendum has now been completed to the Environmental Study Report which presents the easement required for the sanitary sewer between Highway 27 and Crestview Drive. Please note that only the changes proposed in the Addendum are open for review.

By this Notice the Addendum is being placed on the public record for review in accordance with the requirements of the Municipal Class Environmental Assessment. Subject to comments received as a result of this Notice, Maidenstone Limited Partnership intends to proceed with the construction of this sewer in the summer of 2014.

The Addendum is available for review at the following location:

Please provide written comments to the Town Clerk within 30 calendar days from the date of this Notice. If concerns regarding this project cannot be resolved in discussion with Cole Engineering, a person may request that the Minister of the Environment make an order for the project to comply with the Environmental Assessment Act (referred to as a Part II Order), which addresses individual environmental assessment. Requests must be received by the Minister at the address below by December 6, 2013. A copy of the request must also be sent to the Town Clerk. If no request is received by December 6, 2013, registration of the easement will proceed.

Food Bank seeks fundraising director to boost efforts

By Mark Pavilons

For a couple of hundred residents, the King Township Food Bank is a god-send.

It takes a group of dedicated volunteers and an efficient delivery system to get help where it's needed most.

King Township Food Bank was born out of necessity, despite this municipality's reputation as the most affluent community in Canada.

"The size of the problem is too big for any single church to get its arms around, here in King," according to Carol Ann Trabert, head of the Food Bank.

The Food Bank is completing its 9th year of distributing food to King residents on a monthly basis. In September, volunteers provided a week's worth of non perishable groceries and food cards to 181 people through its four distribution centres.

In October, Trabert said the number hovered around 174, representing 56 families.

"But we will be back up again come winter, no doubt," she stressed.

The food is distributed the third Saturday of every month, through four centres – churches – in King City, Schomberg, Kettleby and Nobleton. The only qualification is proof of residency in King.

Recipients run the gamut – single people, disabled, single parents with children, parents supporting children and their parents and seniors. Trabert estimates that of the total, 37% are children under 19 and 11% are seniors. That adds up to 48% who are unable to earn a living by reason of age. People are either on fixed incomes that don't cover their needs, or are underemployed, running sometimes three jobs trying to make ends meet. Some are unemployed, for reasons of disability. Some are unemployed for reasons of not being able to find a job.

Numbers have risen steeply since 2010, Trabert noted, and the annual contributions are now quite substantial.

The Food Bank has an annual budget of roughly $80,000 worth of food and food cards dished out. It's hard to calculate an exact figure because the Food Bank purchases what it needs on a regular basis, which changes from month to month. As well, their bargain-hunting volunteers tend to buy products on sale, below market value, to stretch their budget even further.

Their overhead amounts to roughly $5,000 per year, for things like rent, insurance, supplies, etc.

Since their inception, the Food Bank has likely pitched in more than $250,000 worth of food.

Over the years, they acquired an excellent warehouse site, improved that facility for safety and efficiency, set up an effective distribution operation, become incorporated, and achieved charitable status.

"We have a valuable and dedicated group of sponsors and donors who have been instrumental in the Food Bank's success in delivering its mandate," Trabert said. "Our shoppers work hard to stretch donated funds as far as possible to provide ultimate value in purchased groceries."

The Food Bank's board comprises dedicated, hands-on volunteers with excellent professional backgrounds who are most beneficial to the organization. It is very much a "working board."

They are planning to expand the board to include a director who will assume responsibility for fundraising. This person's job will be to develop and implement a program that encompasses expanding the sponsorship and donor base, identifying fundraising events, and embarking on a program of heightened community awareness.

"Rising need is putting greater pressure on the finances of the organization, and we must engage in an organized and well planned program to ensure fiscal stability," Trabert noted.

It's ideal for a person with a passion for grass roots helping, who wants to "give where you live" and who is enthusiastic about carrying the Food Bank's message to others in the community.

"This is potentially a very exciting opportunity," Trabert said.

What continues to motivate Trabert and board members?

"The concept of people not having enough to eat is enough to keep you up nights," she said. "So the community needs to come together to help any way it can. We can't solve all the problems, but we can help with one week a month. The generosity of people in unexpected ways is most gratifying. We would like to think that everyone in King who needs help is getting help from us."

"The dedication of the volunteers, including the board, is simply amazing. It's a privilege to be working with such committed people."

If you would like to help, or take on a fundraising role with this very worthy organization, call Carol Ann at 416-559-7898. Visit their website – www.kingtowshipfoodbank.ca – for more.

Cougars stand tall, chalk up two more wins

By JEFF DONER

The Schomberg Cougars continue their ascent this season, with two more wins against Stayner and Orillia last week.

The four points keep them near the top of the standings with 26 points — just one behind the first-place squad from Penetang.

“We’re still improving and we’re only a third of the way through the season, so we still need to find the ways to improve and get better,” said assistant coach Doug Taylor. “There are still little things we’ve got to work on, but they’ll come in time. The good thing I saw this weekend was the depth on our team really showed. Guys that are maybe not our top offensive guys really stepped up and carried the team. It was good to see that.”

Spooky victory

Things didn’t look good for the Cougars early in the game against the chippy Siskins on Halloween.

Forward Brandon Falsarella got the Cougars on the board first with a goal assisted by John Gage just five minutes in, but the Siskins turned it right back on them scoring three goals within seven minutes.

When things started to get a little rough in the second period, the Cougars seemed to take advantage as Declan Lampe and Kiefer McIntosh each scored a power play goal and Blake Culley converted a penalty shot to tie the game 4-4.

With much more of the same happening in the third period, the Cougars woke up and really took it to their opponent.

Lampe, Culley and Falsarella each scored their second goals and Cougars’ captain Brandon Yorke added one of his own on an empty net to seal an 8-4 win.

Taylor Ewart made 32 saves for the win and the power play was the difference in the win, with the Cougars going 3 for 12 in the game.

Assistant coach Doug Taylor said he saw some positive things from his club in Stayner.

“We were short a few of our key guys with the flu and whatnot, our captain and a couple other players and we lost a couple more in the game with suspensions, but it really showed our depth with some of the other guys

The Schomberg Cougars chalked up two more wins last week to remain just one pint back of the league leaders.

stepping up. They met the challenge and answered to the 8-4 loss (Stayner) gave us at home earlier in the season”

Orillia dumped

Against Orillia, the Cougars once again found themselves down early in the game, but dug deep and worked their way back.

While on their first power play of the game, Gage opened the scoring to give the Cougars a 1-0 lead, but Orillia’s Jake Shaw replied with a shorthanded goal to tie it all up for the third.

Orillia took the lead just two and a half minutes into the second, but Cailean Thornton-Wilson and Ryley Egerton quickly got the lead Cougars back for the Cougars to set the stage for the third period.

To take the wind out of Orillia and their home crowd, defenceman Justin Formenton made it 4-2 just 16 seconds in.

And to make matters worse for Orillia, Mitch Safaric scored a shorthanded goal of his own to give the Cougars a 5-2 win.

This time Garrett Taylor got the win for the Cougars in net, making 39 saves in a well deserved victory.

“We were back on larger ice there, so it took us a little while to get our legs underneath us,” said Taylor, “but once we got going we got through that game and came out of it all with the four points, which keeps us in second place, so it was a good weekend for us.”

Forward Brandon Falsarella, who has eight goals thus far, said the two road wins were big for his team.

“Both games were very important for us to stay out of the box and both games we did, so the discipline was there,” he said. “As a team we worked well together and pushed forward. In Orillia, we worked well as a team to come back and get the win.”

Falsarella said the whole team has been working hard and has bought into their coaches’ systems and therefore isn’t surprised about their early season success.

“When guys do that it rubs off on the rest of the team. I think that we’re putting in hard work and trying to win games and working to our full potential together,” he said.

“I feel that one of the advantages that our team has is that we’re all around the same age. It’s a fairly young team and there are no superstars on the team, but we have a lot to work with. Everyone has their role on the team and it works well like that.”

The Cougars will come back from their road swing on Thursday night to play against Huntsville at the Trisan Centre at 8:30 p.m.

King Tornadoes host first sanctioned meet

By JEFF DONER

For the past three years, the King Tornadoes Speed Skating Club has offered something challenging and different to athletes of all ages and skill levels, as popularity in the sport continues to grow.

The club will hit a bit of a milestone when it hosts King Township's first-ever sanctioned Ontario Speed Skating Association meet on Nov. 16 at the Trisan Centre in Schomberg.

The meet will also include a Special Olympics Ontario speed skating competition.

As one of the only clubs in the area, the King Tornadoes serve all of King Township and surrounding areas including Aurora, Vaughan and New Tecumseth.

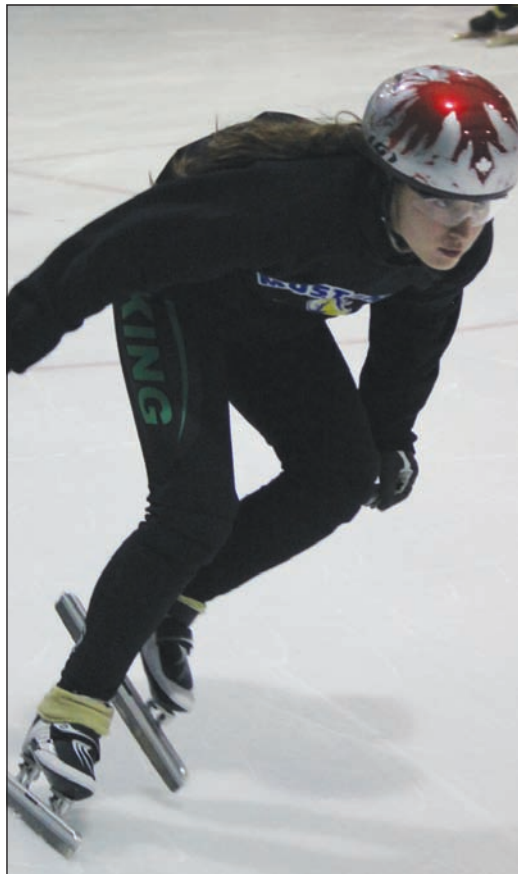

There are 15-20 regular skaters in the club and roughly 120 skaters are expected to attend the event.

Rose Kimber, president of the club, said such events take an enormous amount of volunteers and is looking for a few more helping hands to run the event.

"The number of volunteers that we need from officials, referees, timers and track stewards, it probably takes about 30 to 40 people to run this event," she said. "We're a very small club, so we really have to rely on a lot of other clubs to provide these officials and people to help us do this event. So far the community has been great in helping out."

The club itself is also looking for volunteers who can help on a consistent basis.

"We're always looking for volunteers.

We're looking for help with coaching and help on ice and off ice. It really takes a village to run a speed skating club."

The club was recently the beneficiary of a Trillium grant, which helped purchase various equipment and items, but Kimber said the growing club is looking for some sponsorship help as well, particularly to help subsidize the Special Olympians that will be taking part.

"We want to make it easy for them to come and make it a positive experience and obviously if we get sponsorship we can get some medals and make the experience a little more special and give them some hardware to take home," Kimber said.

In order to get started, the club has had many expenses including on-ice mats for along the boards and an inventory of skates for its members.

With Canada hosting the 2010 Winter Games and the Sochi Games quickly approaching, Kimber said the popularity of the sport will continue to be on the rise.

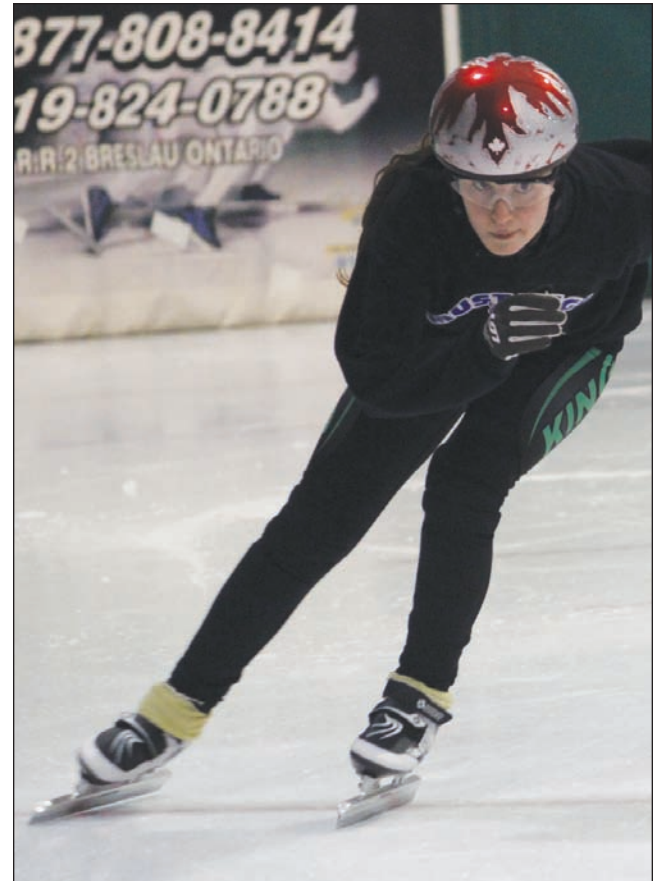

"Speed skating is absolutely growing in popularity since the last Olympics," she said. "I think speed skating is growing faster than they're able to keep up with the officiating and the demand for it. This year being an Olympic year, I expect there to be a surge in the popularity again."

The Tornadoes have members from all ages who come out for a variety of different reasons.

"It's for fitness, competition; you can make it what you want. Some people want to just be recreational skaters and come out for the exercise, some people want to go faster and go into competitions," she said.

"In speed skating you're always competing against your own time. It's always about bettering yourself and not necessarily about trying to beat the person beside you. It really lends to having a great club atmosphere because the kids aren't always trying to beat each other. It's really about trying to beat your own personal best."

For more information on the club, its upcoming events or how you can get involved, visit their website at www.king-speedskating.com.

Curlers use 'hocus pocus' for spine-chilling results

By SHELEE MORNING

While the skies darkened, so did the chilling sheets of the King Curling Club as members crept their way towards another frightful evening throwing stones and broom (sticks) working their magic. The Grimm Reaper graced his presence throughout the early draw on Thursday's Mixed Team Entry league as did a few other extremely unique costumed players.

Don Cherry, a Russian immigrant, Indian chief(ette) and cowgirl, and of course no ghostly night would be complete without the cackle of a curling witch. The spine-chilling atmosphere clearly had a few teams all shook up as their scores were carved deeper into the hole of blackness.

All four sheets on this early hour of doom played heavily into the caldrons as the scoreboard resulted in lopsided victories for teams Groombridge, Howard, Phillips and Ellison as they dominated with their spooktacular take-outs all claiming victory against their victims.

wolves howled and the moon remained hidden behind creeping clouds. The wind whistled through the gusts of cold rain and the late draw members began to make their way through the haunted curling house. The air was filled with a spirit of excitement and at the same time a call for courage and bravery to those that needed to take advantage of their opponent.

The four Amigos (aka Larry and Sue Sheardown, Cindy Phillips, and Charlie Pringle of Team Sheardown) met with Team Barber in hopes of using some of their finely tuned hocus pocus magic during their first of the season match up. But the wizardry of skip Dave Barber and his crafty team of Sandra MacDonald, Karl Davis and Anne Jessop were too much to handle for the amazing Amigos. A tight game full of scares and surprises, Team Barber squeaked through the final end by a score of 6-5.

The Biker Gang of Team LaPlante roared through the first 2 ends of their match against Team Sidon with a score of 5-0 after 2. The commanding lead allowed LaPlante and his gang a moment of coolness that only bikers in leather can do.

Team Sidon who switched player positions placing Michael Johns as Skip, Diana Russo 3rd, Mike Sidon 2nd, and Petra Sidon as Lead, also had a bit of witchcraft up their sleeves and slowly chipped away at the score board a point at a time.

Biker Chicks Shellee Morning and Karon Dalby along with Biker Dude John Frans narrowly kept their tough image above water allowing the opposition to come within one by the final end. Skip Jody LaPlante and leader of the gang, managed to hold onto a tie after a hair-raising 8th end. The tie maintains the first place spot for LaPlante, but slashes their lead with Team Barber by one.

Special Moments

Wednesday night curlers were missing a few of their regular members last week with the timely arrival of possibly the club's newest future member. King Curling member Fraser MacDonald and his wife Julie welcomed their first child – baby Hannah. Jim and Pat Earl were also missing their game to welcome baby Hannah as they excitedly became first-time grandparents. Congratulations to the MacDonalds and the Earls on your new bundle of joy.

King Curling Club would also like to welcome Al Courneya back to the rings after successful hip surgery last summer. Hurry hard and keep the broom sweepin' Al!

PACKARD: James Robert George. July 3, 1947 - October 24, 2013. The family is saddened by the death of Jim Packard who passed away October 24, 2013 at the Mackenzie Health Center, Richmond Hill, Ontario. Born in Sherbrooke, Quebec, he was the only son of the late Vernon Packard and the late Edith (Kinnear) Packard. Beloved nephew of Ayton Cruickshank and Ethel (Kinnear) Cruickshank, both deceased. Grandson of James and Eva Kinnear, Clayton and Abby Packard, all deceased. He is survived by his wife Lynda Norine, his precious daughter Lynda Maureen, stepson Kyle Stanley, his sister Maureen Packard (Olson), brother-in-law Bryan Olson (with whom he was friends for 55 years), nephew Michael James Olson, his wife Meghan. Also left to mourn, brothers-in-law Bill, Jim, John, Ken, sister-in-law Mary, as well as numerous nephews and nieces. Jim was raised in North Hatley, Quebec until he moved to Toronto, Ontario to study electronics. Following the completion of his studies, he worked many tireless hours establishing two companies, "Falc Systems Ltd" and "James Packard Mechanical-Electrical Inc." Falc Systems was sold in 1989. James Packard Mechanical-Electrical Inc. was sold March 2013 due to Jim's failing health. Each summer, Jim and his family spent their vacation in North Hatley, Quebec. Jim had many fond memories of living in North Hatley; his dream was to retire and return to his roots where he would continue with his greatest passion of repairing and rebuilding vehicles. By Jim's request, a simple family funeral service has been held. At a later date, a private interment will take place at Macpherson Cemetery, Georgeville, Quebec. Donations in Jim's memory may be made to a charity or a church of your choice. C45

GRGURIC: Maria. Suddenly at her home, on Thursday, October 31, 2013, Maria Grguric, of Tottenham, formerly of Nobleton, beloved wife of Carl Grguric. Loving Mama of Gerry and Anne Grguric, Beanna and Arend Mynnten. Adored Baka of Caitlin, Taylor, Kyle and Meggie. The family received their friends at the Egan Funeral Home, 203 Queen Street S. (Hwy. 50), Bolton (905-857-2213) Sunday afternoon 1 - 4 o'clock. Funeral Mass was held in Holy Family Roman Catholic Church, 60 Allan Drive, Bolton on Monday morning, November 4 at 11 o'clock. Interment Assumption Cemetery, 6933 Tomken Road, Mississauga. If desired, memorial donations may be made to the Canadian Diabetes Association, 1400 - 522 University Avenue, Toronto M5G 2R5. Condolences for the family may be offered at www.EganFuneralHome.com C45

MALLARD: Geoffrey David. With great sadness we announce the passing of Geoff Mallard on Wednesday, October 30, 2013 at Southlake Regional Centre in Newmarket. Born in Duston, Northampton, England on October 24, 1930, he adopted Canada as his home in 1964 with his devoted wife Betty of 61 years. Cherished by his children: Portland Stirling, her partner Ron McKittrick and previous spouse Rod Stirling, Yvonne Mallard, John Mallard and his wife Nancy, and Charles Mallard. Forever in the hearts of his grandchildren: Rachel Stirling and husband Frank Genovese; Katrine Fraser and husband Chris Fraser; Michael Stirling and partner Chrissie Belanger and his great-grandchildren: Isabella Genovese, Myla Genovese, Cameron Fraser, Jaedin Stirling, Avery Fraser and Taylore Stirling. Predeceased by his brothers Phillip and Dick and lovingly remembered by his sisters Kathleen, Vicki and twin sister Nuala in England. Geoff was passionate about everything he did; cooking specialties of pork pies, Christmas cakes and preserves, fishing, camping, public speaking, music, beer making and growing roses. He served in the British Air Force and was a veteran of the Suez Canal Crisis. He became a Leather Chemist starting up and running Mallard Leathers with Betty in Tottenham for 25 years. He will be forever

PEDDLE: Raymond Lloyd. Passed away peacefully in the Palliative Care Unit at Southlake Regional Health Centre, Newmarket on Monday October 28th, 2013. Ray Peddle, at 74 years of age, beloved husband and best friend of Gladys. Loving father of Charlene Pearson and Darren Peddle. Sadly missed by son-in-law Ian Pearson. Dear brother of Edith Badcock and Eric Peddle. Pre-deceased by brother Bill Peddle and sister Ethel Smith. Ray's love for his 3 wonderful grandchildren was truly boundless. Hayden, Zachary, and Mackenzie will greatly miss their grandpa, who was their biggest fan. Special thanks to Dr. Kumar and the nurses of 6th Central, Southlake Regional Health Centre, whose patience and attentiveness were crucial to Ray's quality of care. The peace and tranquility of Ray's final days were largely due to the compassionate care he received from the SRHC Palliative Care Team under the dedicated guidance of Dr. Soo. Rested at Rod Abrams Funeral Home, 1666 Tottenham Road, Tottenham, 905-936-3477 on Thursday October 31st, 2013 from 2-4 and 7-9 pm. Funeral service was held in the chapel, 2:00 pm Friday November 1st, 2013 followed by interment in Mt. Tegart Cemetery, Tottenham. Donations in Ray's memory to the Tottenham United Church, 26 Mill Street East, Tottenham, L0G 1W0, would be appreciated by the family. www.rodabramsfuneralhome.com B45

Joey Stipek is CDS athlete

Joey Stipek is in Grade 11 at The Country Day School. A three-term athlete from Aurora, Joey played on the senior boys' soccer team this fall and plans to play for both the senior boys' hockey and baseball teams as well.

He also plays for the Oakville Royals, a travel team competing in the Premier Baseball League of Ontario. In the community, Joey shares his passion for sports by coaching Special Olympics' baseball and basketball teams.

In his Grade 10 year, Joey won the MVP award for both junior boys' hockey and sr. boys' baseball. Also, he was named Athlete of the Year and won the Sportsmanship Award at the intermediate level.

Joey's love for sports extends beyond CDS as well.

This past summer, Joey played AAA baseball for the Aurora Jays, which placed 3rd this year at the Ontario Championships.

"The athletics program at CDS combines a sense of competitiveness with the chance to play sports with people of many different skill levels, creating the perfect atmosphere to have some fun playing sports while representing my school."

Somerville name Coach of the Year

The annual King United Soccer Club's dinner dance was held on Sept. 28 in King City where volunteer coaches were acknowledged for their dedication and efforts in the 2012 outdoor season. The Wayne Lankester Memorial Award for Coach of the Year was awarded to Jennifer Somerville of Schomberg. Pictured are Dion Bowman, past-president of KUSC and last year's recipient; Kelly Lankester who was there to present the award, Jennifer and Stefani Konidis, president of KUSC.

Mackenzie Health sets record for fundraising gala

Mackenzie Health Foundation hosted A Season for Change Oct. 24, and set a record for the highest revenue in the event's 26-year history.

More than 1,000 guests including local community members and leaders attended and helped to raise over $900,000 supporting Mackenzie Health's vision "to create a world-class health experience" for the people of Southwest York Region. Presented by Rogers, A Season for Change was hosted by the talented Dina Pugliese from City TV. Internationally renowned singers Tony Bennett and Chantal Kreviazuk wowed the crowd with stunning performances.

The true stars of the night were the guests and sponsors who attended this evening of elegance supporting health care in the region. During a special call for support, guests were asked to place bids on the purchase of three new non-invasive, lifesaving Bi Pap Respiratory machines used to assist patients who are unable to breathe on their own. The end result was the generous funding of 4 machines in less than 5 minutes, totaling $130,000.

"We are sincerely appreciative to each and every person who helped make this gala our most successful in the Foundation's history," said foundation board chair Fraser Nelson. "It is because of our community that Mackenzie Health will have the capacity to provide exceptional healthcare close to home, minimizing the need to seek specialized care outside of Southwest York Region."

Proceeds from this year's gala will be directed towards the advancement of patient care at Mackenzie Richmond

Hill Hospital, as well as the community portion of funding for the future Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital.

"We are very pleased to have the full support of our community," said Altaf Stationwala, Mackenzie Health president and CEO. "Mackenzie Health is committed to ensuring that each and every patient gets the right care at the right time, at the right place. This is only possible with the necessary equipment, facilities, resources and talent. We are grateful for the generosity of our donors."

Since the first gala was held in 1988, this annual event has raised more than $7.5 million for life-saving medical equipment and technology for virtually every department at Mackenzie Richmond Hill Hospital. This includes a new digital mammography unit for breast health, cutting-edge surgical equipment, heart monitors for the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit, a nuclear medicine camera, standardized infusion pumps and a new permanent MRI scanner to be up and running next fall.

Papaluca excels on the field and on the ice

Sarah Papaluca is the athlete of the week for Villanova College.

The senior on the varsity field hockey team is one of Villanova's most successful "ice-to-field" players.

For an ice hockey player who shoots left, the transfer to field hockey which is a right-shot-only sport, can be challenging.

Sarah has a unique gift of being able to recognize the little nuances of this complicated-skill sport and has done an excellent job adapting to the game on the field and developing the skills required to play a finesse game.

Her soccer playing experience also helps her understanding of the game and to "see the field well."

Sarah has been a key element in Villanova's record-breaking season for 2013. She is the anchor of the VC midfield playing an integral role on both attack and defence, including both penalty corner units one of the keys in the sport of field hockey.

This year she is exhibiting skills that would attract the attention of quite a few university field hockey scouts both locally and south of the border. Sarah is also one of the captains of this year's team and leads her teammates on the field with her strong skilled play.

Sarah helped her team in the hunt for an OFSAA spot when they faced St. Johns Kilmarnock in the qualifier semi-final.

The team is 9-2-1 this season - the best ever posting for Villanova Field Hockey in Division 1 CISAA.

Sarah is a scholar-athlete at Villanova, who competes on the hockey team in the winter, and she was an integral part of the soccer team last spring that captured Villanova's 2nd OFSAA gold medal.

She does all this while maintaining an 81% overall average. She has a bright future ahead of her and the VC staff and students wish her nothing but good luck in her upcoming seasons.

King/Vaughan Christmas Home Tour raises funds for women's centre

Florists and designers have teamed up to decorate eight spectacular homes in King/Vaughan in their holiday best with proceeds going to Women's Centre of York Region.

Women's Centre of York Region is dedicated to providing programs, counselling and support services to women who have been affected by abuse or financial challenges. Their clients are mothers, friends, volunteers, co-workers and neighbours – all part of the community as a whole.

The two-day home tour featuring Intercity Realty Inc., Brokerage as the title sponsor, will take place on Friday, Nov. 29 from 4 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 30 from 10 to 4 p.m. Tickets are $45 for the Friday twilight tour and $40 for the Saturday daytime tour.

A holiday shopping boutique generously sponsored by Royal Pine will be open both dates conveniently located at 3600 Langstaff Road in Vaughan next to Intercity Realty Inc., Brokerage. It is a great opportunity to gather your friends to see some beautiful homes decked in their holiday best, while also having the opportunity to pick up some holiday gifts for those on your Christmas list.

"We are delighted to have the community come together, and be part of this event, including interior designers; realtors, and local business owners to support this cause," said Alda Neves Dubé of Intercity.

Swag bags full of great offers are available for the first 200 women at the holiday shopping boutique.

Tickets are available from a number of local businesses – Intercity Realty Inc., Brokerage-3600 Langstaff, Suite 14, Vaughan; King Country Flowers, 3565 King Road, King City; Black Forest Garden Centre, 15445 Keele Street, King City.

Supporting the King/Vaughan home tour are (l to r) Liz Dobrovich, marketing Intercity Realty Inc. Brokerage; Jean Bisnaire, designer and owner of Niche Decor; Ruth McKenzie-Liddie, florist and owner of Eleganza Design; Heather Yeo, florist and owner of Kings Country Flowers.

The word around King

Should senators' expenses be reviewed?

Jane Gardhouse
 "Of course. They should be held to the same standards as everyone else."

Sharon Passero
 "Sure. What's good for the goose is good for the gander. They should absolutely be reviewed."

Peggy Kenny
 "Definitely, so that everybody is accountable for everything they spend. Same goes for other politicians and groups."

Dave Gardhouse
 "Yes, I think so. I think that all politicians' expenses should be posted online for people to see as well."

 By Eleanor Fry

Do you remember the story of the Pharisee and the tax collector? The Pharisee – a religious layperson who looks after his family and gives the required amount to meet his social and religious obligations.

Then he reminds God how fortunate God is to have such a wonderful worshipper. The tax collector was despised. He was free to collect whatever taxes he wanted, but required to send only a specific amount to the district. He was very wealthy. During the week he did a few good things. Then he beat his chest and asked God for mercy.

"All who exalt themselves shall be humbled, all who humble themselves shall be exalted" – Luke 18 : 9-14. Reverend Evelyn's message was about heartfelt prayers. We pray not so much for God to hear us, as we do for us, to be able to name our concerns, our joys, our frustrations. It helps us to make decisions. We begin to understand our dilemmas, our difficulties a little better. It clears our minds. It gives us a sense of peace and contentment. Think about the theme of stewardship. We are an offering – stewardship of self. How do we offer ourselves? We give with our whole being, not just our wallet, not just our abilities, not just our words. Stewardship is what we do after we say we believe.

A group of curious people gathered Sunday afternoon to enjoy a presentation of insights and some excellent photography of Iceland. This was given by Alan Laycock, son of Earle Laycock. Some of those present had already travelled there, and shared some of their experiences. Iceland offers a totally different experience, in winter as well as summer. Alan has lived there for 5 years, earning his masters in medieval studies and is now working on his PhD in archeology. Thank you Alan, for sharing.

Shop and support KCUC again. Orders are being taken for prepaid retailer cards for groceries, gas, dining out, gift cards for special occasions or Christmas. KCUC receives the percentage instead of the retail store. Call our office – 905-833-5181 for more information or to place an order. Prepaid by Nov. 24 for delivery Dec. 1.

Got your tickets for "The Dinner" yet? It is scheduled for Nov. 22 and 23. Tickets are $30 per person for roast beef dinner and entertainment. Can't beat that! Call Al for tickets 905-833-5047. Hurry!

They sell quickly. Men are always needed to help prepare and serve. If you can help either night call John 905-833-6432.

Pot luck lunch is Sunday, Nov. 17 to celebrate the end of our stewardship journey. "We are an offering." There will be a guest speaker, Rev. Gordon Dunbar of Port Nelson United Church in Burlington. Join us to listen, eat and enjoy fellowship.

The Prayer Shawl Ministry is in need of wool. Do you have any to spare? Leave it with Evelyn.

Monday United men meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday is Bible Study at 10 a.m. in the chapel. Thursday is hand bells 6:45, vocal choir at 8 p.m.

Sunday, Nov. 10 Remembrance Day special service. Worship committee meets at 11:15 in the chapel.

Wednesday, Nov. 20 the UCV meets at 1:30 in the parlour. Wendy Soden will lead us in a bible based discussion. We will finalize plans for hosting the Presbyterian meeting Monday, Nov. 25 at 9:30 a.m. Bring a sandwich. Soup, tea and coffee provided.

Everyone welcome to join Sunday worship with Sunday school at 10 a.m. 50 Elizabeth Grove. Stay for refreshments and fellowship.

Send input, suggestions, digital pictures to fjesty@hotmail.com for inclusion to our website

Christ Church Kettleby

Christ Church Kettleby will hold its annual fall bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 2, from 1-4 p.m. There will be a bake table, vegetables and preserves, white elephant treasures, books and crafts, and quilt draw. Afternoon tea with scones, cream and jam will be served also. All are welcome.

King Bible Church

Join us this Sunday, Nov. 10 as we welcome our guest speaker John Casels from Arkenstone.

Arkenstone helps organizations, churches and concerned individuals understand the needs of Canadian street youth, and explore practical responses.

We have Celebration Zone available downstairs for kids aged 2.5-Grade 7. We also have nursery available downstairs for babies 0-2.5.

This month our Seniors Overtimers group will be meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 12 at 1 p.m. We will begin our time with light refreshments and a time of fellowship. Afterwards we will have a presentation by the King Museum.

We will learn about the development of the town and Marylake.

All are welcome to join us!

We would like to invite all ladies to join us for a special ministry event, next Monday, Nov. 25 at 7 p.m. at the church. "Set Free," will teach visitors how God is working amongst incarcerated women in Ontario. Rhonda Flemming of Prison Fellowship will be on hand.

KC Seniors Travel Club News

On Thursday, Dec. 5 the Travel Club offers a trip to the McIntyre Theatre of Mohawk College for a performance of the Geritol Follies "Christmas Magic." The show showcases the talents of an ageless cast, 60-plus years young, in a hit musical comedy variety show. The day will begin with a visit to the Dutch Mill Country Market for lunch and shopping.

Get your tickets early by calling Carol at 905-833-5870 or Jane at 905-833-3324.

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

St. Andrew's welcomes all our neighbours - new and old! Join us this Sunday at 10:30 a.m. for our Remembrance Day Sunday worship service led by the Rev. Dr. John Vissers.

Our Kids' Time runs concurrently and nursery care is also available. Stay afterwards for a time of fellowship over coffee. John will be preaching again Nov. 24 and then he and his wife, Lynn will start their year contract on Dec. 1, the First Sunday in Advent, when we'll celebrate Holy Communion. Gordon Brown, a recent Knox college graduate will be leading us in worship Nov. 17.

Last Sunday, St. Andrew's welcomed back Peter Leyland, an Elder from St. Andrew's, Newmarket whose sermon was entitled "Following Jesus in an Age of Skepticism," based on John 14:1-11.

This month our Ethnic

Dinner will be Nov. 15, at 6:30 p.m. at Sofra's Mediterranean Restaurant in Richmond Hill. Want to join us? Call Kathy Patterson at 905-833-0391.

Christmas is coming, along with many opportunities to share our many blessings. The Christmas in King information for gift-giving has been posted in the narthex. The congregation is invited to sign up to provide gifts for families in need. The gifts, hamper items and cheque donations are to be handed in by Dec. 1 to enable the CiK in fulfilling the many requests. Also, each Christmas, the "Tree of Warmth" is placed in the church narthex where mittens, socks, scarves and hats along with tins of homemade cookies are placed for distribution by evangel hall. Please contribute as able.

Mark your calendars! The congregational Christmas potluck and Sunday school party is Saturday, Dec. 7 starting at 4 p.m.

Prayer is key at St. Andrew's. The Ladies' Prayer Group continues Tuesday mornings at 9 a.m. in the church narthex. We'd love to have you join us.

Should you have any prayer requests, praise items or any questions or concerns, please contact the church office at 905-833-2325 or call Kathy Patterson, clerk of session or our interim moderator, the Rev. Dr. Neal Mathers at 905-895-5512. Our church is located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. There is a ramp available for accessibility.

All Saints By Nicola Skinner

This Sunday, Nov. 10, Remembrance Sunday, the Right Rev. Peter Fenty, our new area Bishop, will be the celebrant and preacher. Peter is a dynamic preacher and is the first black Anglican Bishop in Canada. We look forward to his visit with us.

Do you love Mexican food? If so, on Nov. 17 we are hosting a fantastic Mexican buffet from 11.30-2 p.m. to raise funds for our youth trip to the Diocese of Cuernavaca in Mexico. Tickets are $15 each or $50 for a family, and it will be a feast of flavours. The meal is being cooked by a parishioner who used to run a Mexican restaurant, so you can be guaranteed a mouth watering meal.

Our National Indigenous Bishop, the Right Rev. Mark MacDonald, will be joining us on Thursday, Nov. 21 at 7 p.m. for an evening on aboriginal issues. Do you know about Canada's shocking history with the Residential Schools, which took hundreds of thousands of native children from their homes and tried to "take the Indian out of the child?" Are you aware of the Idle No More Campaign? Bishop MacDonald, another fabulous speaker, will highlight the current concerns for indigenous people and answer questions on a variety of topics. All are welcome.

The Good Yule Market is coming soon! Saturday, Dec. 7 from 10 a.m. to 3 pm. Yummy baking, artsy crafts and gifts, scrumptious lunch. Be there!

All Saints is an inclusive and welcoming Anglican church in the heart of King City. We strive to be a community of compassion and hope, following in the footsteps of Jesus. Service times are 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. and we are located at 12935 Keele Street, King City. See www.allsaintskingcity.com. Please leave messages at 905-833-5432.

York Region Physiotherapy holds holiday toy drive

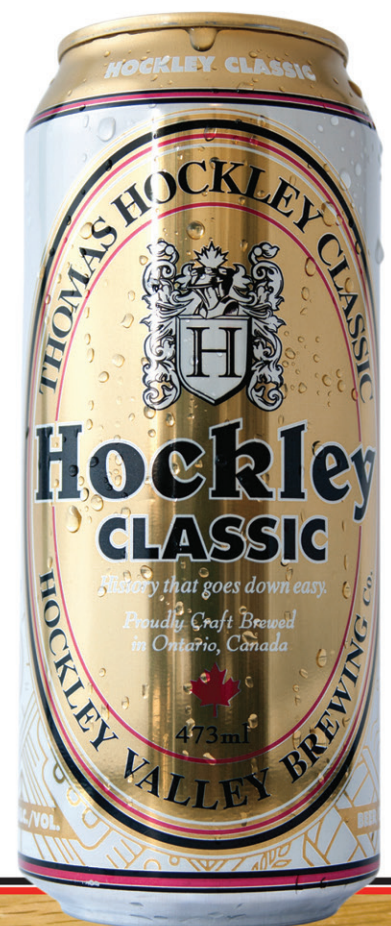

This year York Region Physiotherapy will be participating in the Holiday Hero's Toy Drive, sponsored by York Regional Police.

They will be collecting new, unwrapped toys from Nov. 12 to Dec. 16.

The community is invited to drop off toys at the King City location, 18 Doctor's Lane, Unit 4. For more, call 905-833-7171.

They appreciate your contributions and generosity in helping the children in need!
