Township staff on the 2013 'sunshine list'

By Mark Pavilons

Surrounded by high-paid civil servants throughout York Region, King Township seems rather tame – only eight of its staffers made the “sunshine list” in 2013.

Under the Public Sector Disclosure Act, salaries of civil servants earning $100,000 or more each year are made public.

King's CAO Susan Plamondon was on top with a salary of $186,395.86 and $1,358.76 in taxable benefits. She received an increase over her 2012 salary of $175,994.

Next in line was Brian Grubbe, chief building official, who pulled in $139,476.98, a little under $3,000 more than he was paid in 2012.

Robert Flindall, director of engineering and public works, earned $131,933 and $1,008.60 in benefits.

He was followed by Planning Director Stephen Kitchen who earned $113,341.27, just 3 cents more than Clerk Kathryn Smyth, who was paid $113,341.24.

Joseph LaPlante, deputy director of engineering and development, earned $112,229.67, while Jeff Schmidt, now former director of finance and treasurer, earned $108,55.264.

Fire Chief Jim Wall made the list in 2013 with a salary of $100,755.09.

By comparison, the Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville had 26 staffers on the list and Bradford West Gwillimbury had 17, with their town manager James Currier earning $180,000. Aurora had 26 on the list, with CAO Neil Garbe earning $197,507.18. Nearby Caledon, with a population of roughly three times that of King, had 31, with their CAO Doug Barnes earning $216,000.

Headwaters Tourism presents progress report to council

By Angela Gismondi

A lot of progress has been made since King Township joined the Headwaters Tourism Association a year ago.

Michele Harris, executive director of the Hills of Headwaters Tourism Association and Vicki Sword, project manager for Headwater Horse Country, came before council on Monday with a presentation and the annual progress report on Headwaters Horse Country partnership initiatives.

"This partnership is a testament to what can happen when communities work together," said Harris. "Economic development in rural communities is challenging but working together helps. This is a unique opportunity that is not available anywhere else."

Last April, King Township committed to a three-year partnership agreement with the Hills of Headwaters Tourism Association's (HHTA) equine initiative, Headwaters Horse Country, which includes them in the Headwaters Horse Country (HHC) equine marketing initiative and earns them a spot on the Headwaters Equine Leadership Group (HELG).

HELG was formed to promote the Headwaters area, which includes Caledon, Dufferin, Erin, and most recently King Township as the premier equine region in Ontario. This initiative, Sword explained, will use a regional collaborative approach that draws upon the resources and assets of the regional municipalities, business and economic development associations, sector and citizen groups to support, grow and advocate for the equine industry. It will enhance the capacity of the entire Headwaters region and its municipalities to support economic development strategies to create a prosperous regional economy.

In terms of funding, the program has received a three-year Trillium Grant, government and municipal support and partnerships and event sponsorship through local industry.

Through the partnership King hopes to achieve several goals which include promoting the Headwaters region and King Township as a destination and a centre of equine excellence, helping to facilitate related economic development opportunities that support the growth and sustainability of the equine sector in the region, identifying opportunities to enhance the equine industry capacity in the region and working with partners to capitalize on the opportunities and recognizing the opportunities presented by the 2015 Pan Am Games which will be hosted in the Headwaters region.

In the first year of the partnership several of these initiatives are well on their way, Sword reported. A "four legged approach" economic impact assessment framework has been developed which features four areas of focus that will establish a good understanding of the economic impact of the equine industry in the region and in respective communities. These four areas are: 2013 baseline indicators, database/asset mapping, profiling horse facilities in various sectors and benchmarking to other equine destinations/regions.

Branding and marketing materials have been developed to promote Horse Country, a microsite has been developed and will be launched in May, a monthly newsletter is produced and received by over 900 people and the group will also be tackling social media this year.

The program has a number of representatives from King Township including Jamie Smyth, King's economic development officer, Ward 3 Councillor Linda Pabst and Jennifer Coxworthy, who recently stepped down.

Two of King's equestrian facilities, Gimcrack Equestrian Center and Waterstone Estate & Farms, were featured along with nine other facilities on the 2013 Headwaters Horse Country Stable Tour, which was held this past October. Ideally more King facilities will be engaged and get involved in the 7th annual event taking place on Oct. 4 and 5 this year.

Headwaters has also developed a Pan Am strategy, Harris noted. The Games will be held in Toronto in 2015, with the equestrian events being held at Caledon Equestrian Park and at the Will O'Wind eventing facility in the Town of Mono. While the events will be held in Caledon, Harris said they anticipate there will be spillover into neighbouring municipalities such as King.

The strategy involves positioning the Headwaters Horse Country brand with regional signage and tourism strategies to leverage the legacy of the games including holding contests to provide a signature local food and drink and an art exhibit and trail linkages and potential partnership with Toronto's Pan Am Path.

In order to develop additional Pan Am legacy opportunities, Harris explained, Headwaters as Horse Country by is exploring partnerships with Equine Canada and the Ontario Equestrian Federation to develop and position the legacy of the Pan Am Games to support a national and international equestrian export and economic development strategy.

Staff recommended that council continue to support the partnership between King Township and the Hills of Headwaters Tourism Association until March 31 2016 pending satisfactory progress.

Municipal salaries

Mayor Steve Pellegrini earned $109,765.78 as supervisor, business systems community services for the City of Brampton.

"I'm very comfortable with what we pay our staff," Pellegrini said. "We're on the frugal side of the equation. We get more than our value from these individuals."

Plamondon's salary is the second-lowest for a CAO in York.

The mayor also observed that many firefighters make more than King's chief, as does a chief mechanic in the City of Vaughan.

Police offer $50,000 reward in King cold murder case

By Mark Pavilons

York Regional Police are hoping to crack a 42-year-old murder case.

They're offering a $50,000 reward for information that helps them solve the 1972 murder of 16-year-old Yvonne Leroux. The reward is in effect until March 26, 2015.

On Thursday, Nov. 30, 1972, the body of 16-year-old Yvonne Leroux of Weston (Toronto), was located in King Township, on the 16 Sideroad, between Jane Street and Keele Street.

It was determined that blunt force trauma was the cause of death.

The investigation revealed that Yvonne was last seen in the evening on Nov. 29, 1972, near the York Finch General Hospital (known today as the Humber River Hospital), located at Finch Avenue and Norfinch Drive in North York.

She was a student at Toronto's Emery Collegiate and had been involved in the city's drug scene for about a year and a half. At roughly 7 p.m. that night, she left her parents' home on Topeka Road to attend a group therapy session. She left the clinic at roughly 10 p.m. and was expected home within half an hour, but never arrived.

Her body was found the next morning.

Yvonne's killer has never been found. She's buried at Beechwood Cemetery in Vaughan.

At the time of the murder, officers conducted interviews and investigated information supplied by the public.

At the time, Yvonne was described as approximately 5'3" with a medium build; long, dark brown wavy hair; last seen wearing a navy-blue wool coat, a white shirt, blue jeans, a metal chain around her neck, and three-quarter-length tan boots with zippers and carrying a brown purse.

Despite the passage of time, investigators in York's Homicide Unit remain actively committed to solving this case. With the advent of new forensic techniques and input from members of the public, investigators are hopeful that they will be able to move the investigation forward.

Anyone with information on this case is asked to contact the York Regional Police Homicide Bureau at 1-866-876-5423, ext. 7865, or call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS, or leave an anonymous tip online at www.1800222tips.com or text a tip by sending TYPYORK and a message to CRIMES (274637).

'Sunshine list' civil servants continue to grow in York

By Mark Pavilons

In the sea of high-paid civil servants in government agencies serving York Region, the legions of those earning $100,000 a year or more continue to escalate.

The average salary on the Public Sector Salary Disclosure list was $127,433 in 2013, a decline from $127,576 in 2012. The average salary on the list has decreased for four out of the last five years, but the total numbers continue to grow.

York Region

The top prize within the Regional Municipality of York goes to Karim Kurji, medical officer of health, who earned a whopping $323,850.62.

By comparison Ontario Premier Kathleen Wynne earned $198,521.29. Kurji's salary is on par with that of Prime Minister Stephen Harper. The average salary for Canadians is roughly $40,000 annually.

Bruce MacGregor, York's CAO, earned an equally impressive $295,079.73. Lillian Yuan, associate medical officer of health, was next with a salary of $262,255.69.

Next was James Davidson, commissioner corporate services, who earned $223,214.69.

He was followed by Bill Fisch, chairman CEO, who earned $217,780.95.

Next were Erin Mahoney, commissioner of environmental services, ($221,149) and William Hughes, commissioner of finance and treasurer, ($221,148.99).

Dino Basso, executive director of strategic planning, followed with a salary of $205,820.70.

Rounding out the top 10 were Richard Leary, general manager transit, ($194,017.06) and Sylvia Patterson, general manager of housing and long term care ($183,770.81).

Mary-Frances Turner, president, York Rapid Transit, was paid $230,593.85.

York Regional Police

Many high-ranking officers earn well over $100,000 at York Regional Police.

Police Chief Eric Jolliffe was the top wage-earner with a salary of $228,529.29 and $7,233.81 in benefits.

Deputy Chief Thomas Carrique was next with $214,929.32, followed by Detective Claude Nicho Ibbott, ($187,883.76), Staff Sergeant David Trach, ($185,556.14), Det. Sgt. Alvaro Almeida ($182,278.25) and Det. Sergeant Cameron Walter, ($182,139.39).

York District School Board

The York District School Board had its fair share of staffers basking in the "sunshine."

Ken Thurston, director of education, was the top civil servant, earning $295,933.94 and $12,638.42 in taxable benefits.

Associate director Christopher Tuley was next with a salary of $216,519.74 and $4,335.21 in benefits.

Denese Belchetz, associate director of student achievement, earned $221,874.21 and $6,500 in benefits.

Leslie Johnstone, associate director of school and staff resources, made $164,615.10.

All superintendents and principals, along with most vice-principals and some teachers, earned over $100,000.

New director of finance starts in King

By Angela Gismondi

There's a new head of finance at the Township of King.

Allan Evelyn has been busy getting familiar with his role as King's new director of finance and treasurer over the past few weeks. His first official day on the job was March 10.

"With the 2014 budgets (operating and capital) approved by council before I arrived, the immediate focus relates to financial reporting and audit for the year ended December 31, 2013," explained Evelyn.

Evelyn is a Certified General Accountant and recently completed a Masters of Financial Accountability at York University.

Although Evelyn was employed by the Toronto French School board before coming to King, he is not new to the municipal sector. He has worked as director of finance and treasurer for the Town of Aurora and the Town of East Gwillimbury. Prior to that he worked as the deputy treasurer for the Town of Newmarket and as a treasury officer for the Region of Peel.

"My past experience within the municipal sector will enable me to slide into this role and make immediate contributions," said Evelyn. "As a resident of a neighbouring municipality (Richmond Hill), the location fits nicely from a live/work perspective."

Evelyn received a warm welcome from Township CAO Susan Plamondon at his first council meeting on March 17.

"We're very pleased and proud to have Allan join our team," said Plamondon. "We feel very confident that not only will Allan bring a considerable amount of professional experience, but he is going to be an excellent fit for our organization and our staff team."

Evelyn said he is looking forward to his new role in King.

"I will work collaboratively with staff and residents of King in support of council approved initiatives and priorities," Evelyn concluded.

York Catholic Board

Like its counterpart, the York Catholic District School Board had hundreds of staffers on the list.

Patricia Preston, director of education and secretary of the board, earned $230,461.30 and $5,646.42 in taxable benefits.

John Sabo, associate director leading services and treasurer of the board, pulled in $203,170.24 and $10,763.28 in benefits.

Some of the top-paid superintendents included Lynda Coulter, Bryson Eldridge ($162,984.90), Michael Nasello, ($161,391.88) and Nancy DiNardo, $158,483.84.

All principals and vice-principals at both boards earn over $100,000, along with a handful of teachers.

King's Bill Cober, principal of a new elementary school in Newmarket, earned $121,684.99.

The provincial government has already frozen salaries for executives at hospitals, universities, colleges, school boards and provincially owned electricity companies. All aspects of compensation plans are currently frozen and base salaries cannot be increased.

As well, on March 20 the government introduced legislation that would, if passed, extend a freeze on MPP salaries until the Ontario Budget is balanced. As the government is committed to balancing the budget by 2017-18, no pay increase would take effect until April 1, 2019.

The $100,000 threshold has remained the same since the Public Sector Salary Disclosure list was introduced in 1996. If the threshold had kept up with inflation (based on the consumer price index up to 2013), it would now be $141,705, meaning a fifth of the current disclosed list, or an estimated 19,300 employees, would be reported.

THE SPRING COUPON EVENT IS BACK

Partners in Powerful Communities

Gord Miller speaks at environmental forum

The future of Ontario's protected green spaces may very well depend on the fate of three very important pieces of legislation. To that end, the Concerned Citizens of King Township (CCKT), with support of other concerned environmental groups, is hosting a presentation and round-table discussion April 9 at the Kingbridge Conference Centre and Institute in King City.

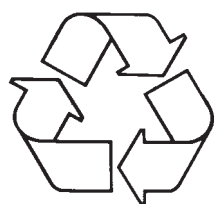

The Oak Ridges Moraine Conservation Plan, Greenbelt Plan and Niagara Escarpment Plan are all up for review in 2015 as mandated in the respective Acts, which brought them into effect nearly 10 years ago (1985 for the NEP).

Gord Miller, Ontario's Environmental Commission, will be the guest speaker.

The schedule for the night includes a reception from 6-7 p.m., followed by Miller's presentation at 7:15. The expert panel Q&A discussion runs 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Admission is free, but CCKT would like you to register to get an idea of attendance. For more, visit cckt.ca.

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"Public opinion shapes our destinies and guides the progress of human affairs"

~ Frank B. Kellogg

Taking time to notice what's dear in our loved ones

"If I died tomorrow, what is one thing you would always remember about me?"

This question made its rounds on Facebook over the weekend.

It's quite an interesting query, perhaps a little self-serving, but it does offer some food for thought.

I think we'd all like to be remembered by our loved ones, of course for our finer qualities. As parents we try desperately not to "wound" our youngins with harsh words or ego-deflating comments. We don't want to be remembered as disciplinarians, but as wonderful parents.

I think our memories and opinions change with age, wisdom and perspective.

My dad was not known for his winning personality or his fun-loving nature. But when he did laugh, it was a biggie. I remember watching him laugh to the point of tears during an episode of the Carol Burnett Show, starring Tim Conway, Vicki Lawrence and Harvey Korman. Priceless.

By comparison, my dad literally invented the sour look or what's commonly referred to today as "stink eye." When he was mad or disappointed, boy did you know it!

But these are minor things in the big picture.

What I remember most about him was his passion for the environment and growing evergreens, political justice, caring for his family and travelling.

My mom, who made it to just shy of her 80th birthday, had a lasting impact on my family. She had the opportunity to really enjoy her grandchildren and that's something that not only helped bring joy to her life, but theirs as well.

Mark Pavilons

They will never forget her home-cooked dinners, stories, card-playing and laughter. I remember her love of the simple things in life – relaxing with a good book on the beach; watching a good movie or compelling TV mini-series; feeling the sun on her face as she had her morning coffee.

You see, previous generations were much simpler, even though they likely saw the greatest changes during their lifetimes.

They grew up during the Second World War; they knew what fear, hunger and death were all about. They worked hard to have a decent life for themselves and their families and they tried to instill some fundamental yet time-honoured values in their children. They loved having a good time and sharing it with family and friends.

So, to remember my parents is to remember all that came before them and what they endured. I can never truly empathize with what they went through during their teenage years and coming to a new country to make a new life for themselves. I doubt many 20-somethings today are even capable of making such a journey.

Maybe my dad wasn't my best friend or "buddy." He didn't know how. He didn't have to be.

My mom was very loving and while she enjoyed all of her family members, she quite liked her "alone time."

Both had painful memories and seldom discussed them.

It's funny when we become parents ourselves, the characteristics we bring to the table from our own parents.

It's a totally different world today, but age-old sentiments and human qualities are never out of date. Things like good manners, a solid work ethic, a respect for your elders and a consideration of history never go out of style.

That's the beauty of our predicament here on earth. We learn, grow and pass on these things to our offspring. It's the circle of life.

We're lucky that we're here in the first place. If you think about it, in order for us to be here today, we have to have thousands of years of unbroken lineage – in fact we all can trace our roots to the very beginning. Our ancestors beat the odds – survived diseases like the Plague, lived through the Crusades and various other global conflicts.

To deny our past is to deny who we are. But back to the original question at the outset of my column.

The qualities of those we know should be cherished daily and enjoyed.

I love my wife and all of my children for all of their strengths, weaknesses, faults and positive characteristics. For my wife of almost 19 years, the same qualities that attracted me to her in the first place are still there. Sure we all change with age and are impacted by the world around us, but deep inside we are great souls.

I would find it hard to describe just one thing I'd remember about her most. I admire her strength, will, determination, sense of right and wrong, mothering skills and compassion for others.

My children are still evolving and pieces of their personal puzzles are still being shaped.

They are all curious, head-strong thrill-seekers. They are emotional critters. Their laughter can make the very soul of the earth jiggle.

I would miss everything about them. As for me, well it's not really for me to say. Others always have the final word.

I would like to be known for being fair, logical, loving with a razor-sharp wit and odd sense of humour. I am what I am.

I'm shaped by my past, and I continue to change thanks to my present.

The bottom line is to take notice of the wonderful qualities that human beings possess. They're all we have, so we may as well enjoy them – to the point of tears!

Letter to the Editor

No way to justify the shooting of dog

I felt so sad and hopeless after reading about Derrick Simonis's dog, Dutchess, being shot.

I cried hearing how the beloved pet made it home and over the fact that some human was cold enough to shoot a pet. This is where I totally disagree with the person who wrote about "Dog owners have responsibilities."

Yes, we do but there are circumstances beyond our control and like anything else, people should not make decisions over other's lives, human or animal. If someone was upset that the dog wandered onto their property it should have been dealt with very differently.

I do agree with being responsible for your pet but the letter was cold and times have changed. Dogs are part of people's families now, they are not just farm dogs anymore. I don't know how often Dutchess wandered off the property but some things are out of an owner's control and the dog nor the owner should be punished with shooting a family pet.

Sometimes dogs and cats get out of their owners control, it happens, and hopefully they return home safely and most times the owners are very careful after that. If a neighbouring farmer has a problem with someone else's dog wandering onto his property, there are a number of different ways to handle the situation and shooting the pet is not one of them, not in today's world!

I'm in my 50s and have had a lot of dogs and cats over the years and still own both now. I am very responsible and keep control of them but one day someone else could leave the gate open and I may not know. If that were to happen I would hope that someone would return my dog or report it found but didn't shoot it.

We have stopped and helped a few dogs on our road, keeping them safe until the owner, looking frantically for them, drove by and they were returned safely. My animals are a huge part of our family, they live with us, inside and out and I felt the absolute heartbreak of losing "Buddy" my cat that I had for 18 years to kidney disease.

My condolences to the Simonis family.

MP Van Loan sees Russian sanction as 'trivial'

By Mark Pavilons

A federal MP representing King Township has been barred from visiting Russia.

Russian President Vladimir Putin has imposed retaliatory sanctions on 13 Canadian officials, including York-Simcoe MP Peter Van Loan.

The sanctions were imposed "as a response to the unacceptable actions of the Canadian side," according to word from Moscow.

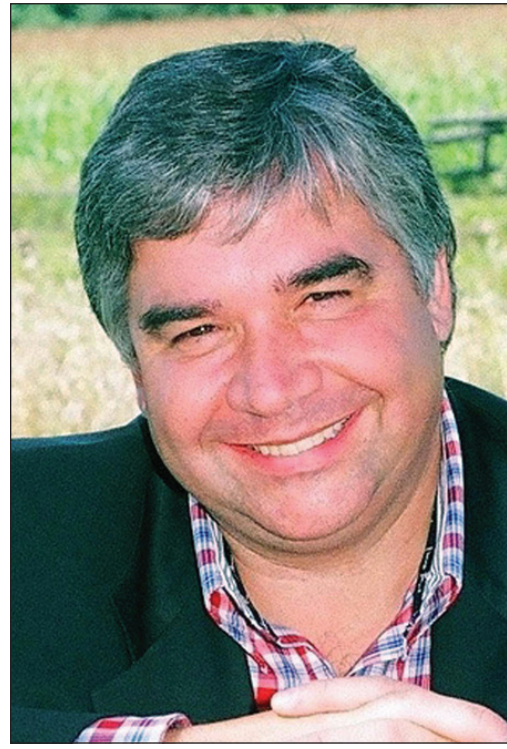

Russia's retaliatory sanctions came as G7 leaders met in The Hague for an emergency meeting to discuss a co-ordinated response to the situation in Ukraine.

The G7 decided not to expel Russia from the G8, but Prime Minister Stephen Harper has been adamant in his opposition to Russia's actions. G7 leaders suspended their own participation in the G8 "until Russia changes course."

The G7 includes Canada, the U.S., Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Japan. The European Union was also invited to take part in the emergency talks.

Harper and German Chancellor An-

York-Simcoe MP Peter Van Loan (left) has earned the disdain of Russian President Vladimir Putin. Moscow issued sanctions against 13 Canadian officials, including Van Loan, barring them from visiting the country.

Devin Ridley seeks NDP nomination

By Mark Pavilons

A Keswick area man is seeking the local NDP nomination.

Devin Ridley is hoping to represent York-Simcoe in next provincial election. He also had some harsh words for area MPPs.

"It is truly astonishing, the lack of economic and environmental understanding that Julia Munro and the current Liberal government are displaying by locating an unnecessary gas plant here in our riding," said Ridley. "It is just one example of why we need a stronger voice in Queens Park."

Should he succeed, Ridley said he would question how the Liberals expect Ontario citizens to forget their "record of financial mismanagement," such as the gas plants (that could cost Ontarians 43% more on their heating bill over the next 5 years), e-Health overspending, lotto scandals - the list goes on."

Ridley is currently an entrepreneur in the field of technology and a member of the Umbrella Entrepreneurship Co-operative, becoming an entrepreneur after being raised in a retail environment and working for several computer companies.

He studied in Hamilton at McMaster University, particularly focusing on logic, argumentation theory, and applied environmental and business ethics.

Ridley has played a key role in the growing popularity of the NDP in York-Simcoe, as the riding's youth officer. He is a volunteer, speechwriter, and technological consultant for the riding, and has helped design the York-Simcoe NDP's literature.

"My work with the NDP over the past 10 years has really shown me how to build a successful campaign," said Ridley.

"In the last federal election, the NDP placed second in this riding, making us the clear alternative for progressive voters," he added. "If elected, I want to tackle issues such as the growing youth unemployment rate, rising hydro costs, and the Liberal Party's contempt for the environment. I believe that the NDP is ready to bring the positive change that this riding - and Ontario - needs."

The York-Simcoe NDP will be holding their nomination meeting to select a candidate for the upcoming provincial election on Monday, April 7 at 7 p.m. at the Bradford & District Memorial Community Centre, 125 Simcoe St.

For more information please contact Devin at contact@devinridley.ca.

gela Merkel condemned Russia's actions when they met in Germany last week.

Van Loan, Government House Leader, took the sanctions in stride.

"It was a response to our government's efforts to stand up against Russian aggression in Ukraine," he said.

"From the beginning of Ukrainian citizens' efforts to defend their freedom and sovereignty, our government has stood in vocal support. As Russia has escalated efforts against Ukraine, we have called on Putin to respect international law and commitments. Mr. Putin's escalation and aggression, including a military takeover of Crimea, has forced our government, in coordination with our partners and allies, to impose economic sanctions and take actions that have further isolated his regime diplomatically."

He called the official sanction against him "trivial," especially when compared to the plight of the citizens in Crimea and the Ukraine.

"Russia's illegal occupation of Crimea not only violates Ukraine's territorial integrity and sovereignty, but poses one of the greatest threats to global security and stability in recent memory. Most troubling though, is its violation of the values of freedom, democracy and human rights - values Canadians and so many others have fought for time and again."

Van Loan himself has familial experience with the iron first.

"Being of Estonian heritage, I can tell you that the last time Russians imposed travel arrangements on members of my family, they were to Siberia and they were one way. My roots and the experience of my family have taught me that democracy and freedom can be easily lost, and must be vigorously defended. It is the driving force behind my becoming involved in politics. It has been one reason why I have been actively engaged in our government on responding to this issue and Russian aggression. What is at stake here is much greater than the sanctions brought against me and my colleagues."

He further lauded Prime Minister Harper's leadership in working with Canada's allies to suspend Russia from the G-8, and to demonstrate a strong united front against Russia's "reckless aggression."

"We need to ensure we do not see the same type of Russian violations to human rights and democracy that have occurred in the past. Our government will continue to stand with our allies and condemn Putin's military intervention in Ukraine."

ROAD CLOSURE

UPDATE TO STREET CLOSURE IN ANSNORVELDT

This update is to advise local residents and businesses of updates to the sequence of construction. As a result of the Contractor's schedule, King Street in Ansnorveldt, in its current configuration will remain open for local traffic for approximately the next 6-8 weeks. After this time, a temporary road will be constructed between King St. and Dufferin St. while the intersection and permanent realignment is being constructed. Residents must exercise caution throughout the construction area.

Access between King and Dufferin Streets in Ansnorveldt, will be maintained at all times throughout the construction; however the quality of the access cannot be guaranteed for all vehicles. Cars, trucks and busses are strongly encouraged to use the marked detour routes.

The Dufferin St. bridge will be closed after 9:00 am on Thursday, March 20, 2014 until the Fall of 2014 to complete the bridge replacement. There will be no access for vehicles, bicycles or pedestrians during the bridge replacement.

King fire team tops again

By Mark Pavilons

For the second year in a row, King Fire & Emergency Services has bragging rights for the top bowling team in the region.

The large crew competed again this year in Newmarket, during the Bowl for Kids Sake "Battle of the Badges" event featuring emergency crews from across York.

King's team consisted of Jen Baker, James Arnold, Lucas Stonehouse, Michael Lena, Reshawn Bairos-Steele, Laura Bastien, Avia Eek, Craig Eveson, JR Gregg, Frank Figliomeni, Sean Young, Marco Sacilotto, Dan Milne, Alan MacDonald, Rob Bruno, Markus Evans, Dave Baxter, Phil Defina, Rick Galati and Alex Cirasella.

They hail from all three of King's fire stations and the 20-member squad took over four lanes at the alley.

King had the largest team and placed first in their second year, raising the most money for Big Brothers Big Sisters of York.

King also earned a new trophy introduced this year by scoring the highest points during the bowling competition against York Region EMS, Police, and other York Region fire departments. These hard earned trophies will be proudly displayed in the front of the King City station.

The local fire department extends a big thank you to everyone who came out and showed their support.

York Regional Police were the event's major contributors, bringing out enough enthusiastic people from the three tiers of emergency responders to raise just over $12,000.

All in all, it was a very successful event to support a fantastic organization. And the King team has done the Township proud again. How about a three-peat next year?

Hospice wins VSRA award

For the third year in a row, Hospice King-Aurora (HKA) has won the VSRA, an award created by the CPA-Queen's Centre for Governance in partnership with the Chartered Professional Accountants of Ontario, sponsored by Grant Thornton and the National Post and endorsed by Imagine Canada.

The VSRA is Canada's most prestigious charity award and is given to charities whose annual reports demonstrate the highest level of accountability and transparency. HKA was the award recipient for the last three years in addition to being a finalist for three years prior. This year HKA was also designated as an Exemplar in Financial Reporting Transparency (a designation given to award recipients who received three VSRA's in any five year period).

Imagine running through rolling hills and wetlands, locating fossils, butterflies and hummingbirds. Reading poetry under an oak tree. Launching a rocket into the big blue sky. Now imagine teachers aren't ringing the bell to get you to come back in, they are out there with you, doing all the same things. It's a hands-on way for our students to learn about the environment, in the environment. Is the sky the limit? Not around here it isn't. It simply gives our students a massive playing field to seek out their own magical answers to the question,

Construction activity still strong through 2013

By Mark Pavilons

While 2012 was a banner year for construction in King Township, the totals from last year show a strong local trend. In all, the Township issued 644 building permits last year, compared to 781 in 2012. The number of sewage system permits dropped significantly, but that's attributed to the completion of the King City sewer project, and delays in the Noleton sewer project.

Last year, the Township issues 317 building permits for single detached homes, worth an estimated $128 million. A total of 56 permits for townhouses were also issued, at a value of $14 million. The Township handed out 49 permits for new accessory buildings worth $1.67 million. This was slightly ahead of the 44 issued in 2014. A total of 9 new industrial/commercial permits were given in 2013, valued at $3 million. The Township gave their okay for 32 new swimming pools across King, valued at $1.2 million, along with eight new decks and five garages. A total of 47 demolitions took place, up from 33 in 2012. The total construction value in 2013 was pegged at $167.9 million. "Looking forward, it is anticipated that 2014 will demonstrate similar construction activity to 2013 and associated construction value of building permits," said the report by Brian Grubbe, chief building official. The Township has retained consultants Tunnock Consulting Ltd. to carry out a building permit fee renewal and financial analysis, to help create a long-term model to keep the building services division healthy. Building permit fees have not changed since the last review in 2007.

A group of local Sparks visited the King Township Museum recently to try some art, courtesy of ASK.

'Sparks' of creativity at Museum

Through the creaking King Township Museum door, a jumble of pink hats, fur-trimmed boots, and animal print snowsuits ventured. Sparks and Brownies, all giggly and enthusiastic, had arrived. They had come to see the ASK Winter Blue art show and to try their hand at creating.

They sat down whispering, heads nodding, feet swinging, as the speakers showed them some professional artists' impressions of winter blue. They shifted and squirmed, impatient to get going, as the lesson turned to primary colours. "We learned this before, but in French," one commented.

Finally the brushes, paints and paper were distributed and the work began in earnest. Some painters chose tiny brushes and began tentatively with little snowflakes near the edges of the pristine paper. Others grabbed big brushes and swirled them in paint, boldly drawing mountains right in the centre. Blue was the colour of choice, with various hues emerging from the addition of white, red, and green. Snowmen with orange carrot noses, tree branches, winter suns, even an icebreaker, began to appear. Gradually the papers filled, and t-shirts showed the evidence.

After a time of silent concentration, brushes were put down and the finished paintings set out to dry. Chairs were hauled over to the sink for washing hands and brushes. Moms began to call from the lobby, and coats, mitts and boots were re-united with their owners. Emerging artists, carrying their own versions of winter blue, tumbled out into the night.

Breakthrough Treatment Now Available in Richmond Hill

Imagine thirty to forty years ago if you were told that lasers would replace scalpels in surgery or that robotic instruments would build cars; you may not have believed it. By the same token, would you believe that chiropractic treatments could be performed using a special hand-held instrument developed by NASA scientists, all while you were sitting in an upright position without any turning or twisting movements?

Advances in computers and engineering technologies have been able to uniquely blend with chiropractic in order to both analyze and treat the human body in such a way that was never before realized.

According to Dr. Sean Eastman, "This new form of computerized treatment is so gentle and effective, that it amazes even the most skeptical patients. It's called the ProAdjuster and is the latest, state-of-the-art technology in existence today, and the only one in the north Richmond Hill area.

The ProAdjuster can safely and gently analyze and treat the spine and other joints to remove the nerve impingement that is often the cause of pains in the lower back, neck, shoulder, and elsewhere in the body. It also works on a variety of muscular conditions to loosen tight muscles with ease and comfort. Many patients say that it's like getting a mini-massage.

It can also help increase the amount of motion in almost any joint. Even patients with knee, hip, and foot problems such as plantar fasciitis are being helped. It is also covered by insurance companies since this is a chiropractic treatment and does not cost you anything additional.

Dr. Eastman says that "The secret to the Pro-Adjuster lies in its advanced piezoelectric sensor that is able to detect the slightest amount of restriction in a joint and then deliver an extremely precise adjustment." He says that "Even though traditional forms of adjusting also work, people are drawn to this new technique because of how gentle it is and does not involve any twisting, especially in the neck. Many people love getting adjusted with traditional manual techniques, all of which are safe and effective. But there are a large number of people who never get to experience the amazing benefits of chiropractic because they are scared to have their spines adjusted in that way," says Dr. Eastman. Now, there is no longer a reason to be leary. The ProAdjuster is perfect for anyone who has been thinking about going to a chiropractor, but hasn't yet made that decision. Dr. Eastman wants everyone to be able to experience these same benefits and if you have any of the following conditions, the ProAdjuster may be the answer you've been looking for...

Dr. Eastman uses the Proadjuster to analyze a patient's spine and pin-point areas of nerve impingement syndrome causing mal-function and pain.

- Low Back discomfort
- Fibromyalgia
- Sciatic nerve pain
- Plantar Fasciitis
- Neck and shoulder pain
- Knee or hip pain
- TMJ dysfunction
- Scoliosis
- Carpal Tunnel Syndrome
- Arthritis
- Headaches
- Sports Injuries

Treatment with the ProAdjuster is consistent, measurable, and extremely gentle. There is no guesswork, and it's safe for individuals of all ages. Call our office today and mention this article to receive a FREE ProAdjuster analysis to pin-point your problem areas and to see how the ProAdjuster can help. Call within the next 7 days and you will also receive a complimentary nerve stress scan and computerized muscle test/semg that can show the areas of your stress and how it's affecting your body. Call 905-773-2225 today to reserve your free ProAdjuster Analysis Scan. (reg. $90)

Speakers note that good things grow in King

The King Township Sustainability Committee held the third of its "Sustainability Sundays" with a number of discussions about growing food in King.

Andy MacPherson kicked off the session by describing the Schomberg Farmers' Market that will be held again this year on the Schomberg fairgrounds. Plans are being finalized and the hope is that the vendors will be able to sell their produce, including organic fish, lamb and meat, fruits and vegetables in season, baked goods etc., every Saturday morning all summer long.

The Sustainability Committee granted funding to the market to support the purchase of more signs and a marketing tent. Watch the King Weekly Sentinel and the website for more details on dates and times. Come, shop very locally and support our area farmers!

Chris Cocombe then explained the work that he and a small committee are doing to create the Schomberg Community Farm. A 6-acre plot in the village was donated to the Township some years ago. Due to its location it is not suitable for development. The committee now has permission from the Township to develop the community garden on the site.

The major hurdle at the moment is that, for safety reasons, a bridge must be installed for emergency access. Until the bridge is installed the project is not eligible for further funding and grants. The task at hand is to raise the funds to install the bridge and then develop garden plots where families and groups can grow their own food. A priority of the farm is to provide food security and food literacy to families, youth and community organizations. An ambitious project of this scope relies on the support of volunteers, local donations and corporate sponsorship. For more information and to see a proposed layout of the farm, go to www.schombergcommunityfarm.ca.

John Bot, from the Nobleton/King City Horticultural Society, described the wide range of gardening activities available. Meetings are held on the last Monday of each month at 7:45 p.m. in the Women's Institute Hall next to the Nobleton Feed Mill from March to November.

An expert speaker gives an hour-long presentation, an extensive flower show is displayed and judged, refreshments are served and participants share gardening grief and glory!

The popular plant sale will be at the Nobleton Victoria Day celebration and the Kettleby Fair in September. The annual Garden Tour will be held on July 13 this year. For more info go to <http://www.altflora.com/nobleton/>

If you are just starting a landscape design for a brand new home or care for an established garden there is always more to learn about gardening! Come join the fun!

Joan Stonehocker from the York Region Food Network explained that the purpose of the group is "Food for Health ... Food for all."

Created in 1986 as a result of a gathering of food banks, the network has created a Food Charter that provides for the development of coordinated food-related policies and programmes in York Region. Did you know that York Region has 8 food banks feeding more than 52,000 people? Almost all of these people are employed and almost 75% have graduated from high school, college or university. Precarious employment, income inequality, housing costs and social assistance rates all add to the reasons why so many people, including many children, must depend on the charity of food banks. For more information go to www.yrfn.ca.

Carol Ann Trabert, from the King Food Bank, was the final speaker. The food bank has been active for almost 10 years, created because local church leaders simply could no longer support the need for food amongst their parishioners. The number of recipients has increased about 10% every year since and now more than 2,000 people in King are supported.

The mission of the food bank is to provide a week's worth of non-perishable groceries to clients each month. The registration process is simple, requiring only proof of residency in King Township. The group is happy to receive funds to meet the growing need.

Their shoppers can stretch dollars by 50% or even double the value of donations, as they watch for specials and buy large quantities when the price is right. Tax receipts are available. To donate, volunteer or register please go to <http://www.kingtownshipfoodbank.ca/index.html>

Participants learned a great deal about the good works under way and the food security challenges still facing all of us here in King. Thank you to all of the speakers for sharing their knowledge and passion for making King a better place.

Check out the Sustainable King website, Twitter and Facebook pages, local paper and public library bulletin boards for more information about future activities sponsored by your Sustainability Committee.

Special guest speakers explained food-related projects in King and York Region, at the information session hosted by the Sustainability Committee. From work of the King Food Bank and Schomberg Community Farm to the horticultural society and York Food Charter, there's a lot going on in the area

York Region receives 100% score for drinking water

The Region of York achieved a perfect score of 100 per cent inspection rating for 2012, as outlined in the 2013 Annual Drinking Water System Summary Report.

York Region's drinking water also achieved 100 per cent for samples meeting provincial water quality standards.

The Annual Drinking Water System Summary Report is an overview of the Region's commitment to providing high quality drinking water to our communities through programs designed to meet Ontario's regulatory requirements for drinking water.

More than 37,300 water tests were performed last year across all nine local municipalities to ensure compliance with Ontario's strict drinking water standards.

"Water is an important and vital resource for creating and maintaining sustainable communities," said York Region chairman and CEO Bill Fisch. "York Region is committed to providing safe and clean drinking water for all residents."

As required under the Safe Drinking Water Act, 2002, the Annual Drinking Water System Summary Report details water quality and quantity data, describing drinking water system investments and expenses. York Region results are reflected in the Ontario Chief Drinking Water Inspector's Annual Report, providing a comprehensive overview of Ontario's drinking water quality and Ministry of the Environment inspection results of drinking water systems from April 1, 2011 to March 31, 2012.

"York Region consistently meets or surpasses the requirements of the Ministry of the Environment," said Town of Richmond Hill regional councillor Vito Spatafora, chair of environmental services. "In 2012, York Region achieved 100 per cent on Ministry of the Environment inspections and on samples meeting provincial water quality standards."

York Region provides clean, safe drinking water to residents and businesses by:

- Completing tens of thousands of tests annually.
 - Complying with legislation and Drinking Water Quality Management Standards.
 - Ensuring infrastructure is planned and built to meet the needs of our growing communities.
 - Implementing innovative, progressive programs to ensure the Region remains an industry leader.
 - Ensuring all water operators receive comprehensive, ongoing training.
- A copy of the Annual Drinking Water System Summary Report is available online at www.york.ca under "Environment."

York Farm Fresh program promotes agri-food business

The York Region Farm Fresh program is an initiative that helps get local farmers on the map.

In King Township, residents are incredibly lucky to spoil themselves with a bountiful supply of fresh local produce each year. The Township and the Region recognize the importance of supporting local agri-food businesses and providing delicious, fresh, local food to the community.

Farms are able to have their business placed on the Farm Fresh Map, which highlights places where locally grown products can be bought and is distributed across the region, free of charge. The map and information about the farm will also appear in the widely distributed York Scene Discovery Guide.

In addition to the Farm Fresh program there is an opportunity to participate in the Pumpkin Pie Trail event that will take place the week of Sept. 27 to Oct. 5. The Pumpkin Pie Trail is a self-guided tour of local farms, farmers' markets, and attractions. Each venue will provide visitors with demonstrations, activities, or events that are pumpkin related. It is also free of charge and will earn participants a place on the Pumpkin Pie Trail Map, which is printed on the flip side of the Farm Fresh Map, and in the York Scene Discovery Guide.

This is a unique opportunity to increase the awareness of your farm/business in the region. Not only will it get your name out there but it will also get customers through your doors. Check out the 2014 Farm Fresh and Pumpkin Pie Trail Marketing Plan for more information. To register for your place on the map or to participate in the Pumpkin Pie Trail please contact Marnie Wraith, marnie.wraith@york.ca.

After that comes the Nobleton Lions Club annual fundraiser being held this year on June 8. This year, the fundraiser will consist of a charity golf tournament to be held close to home, at Nobleton Lakes Golf Course. This event will be the major fundraiser for the club, and proceeds from the event go to sponsor numerous organizations in and around town. Golfers and hole sponsors are invited to contact Jim Kassam at KARS on King Road, west of Highway 27 at 905-859-5277. Watch this space for further details on these events as the dates get closer, and why not check out our website at www.nobletonlions.com.

Free advertising is available to non profit groups in and around Nobleton via the electronic sign at the library. Contact the Township of King for details on how to get your message up there at no charge.

An ongoing program run by the Lions is the collection of used eye glasses. Take your old glasses to the Nobleton Pharmacy where they will be collected, refurbished, and distributed to those in need.

Your support is greatly appreciated by the Lions, and those who we support, in keeping with our motto, "We Serve."

The Lions Club is seeking new members at this time. If you are interested in helping your community become a better place to live while having lots of fun, please call Bob Phillips at 416-522-9675.

Horticulture By John Arnott

While the Ides of March proved very unlucky for Julius Caesar, the Nobleton-King City Horticultural Society's March flower show held Monday, March 24 in the Nobleton Community Hall.

Themed "Ides of March" good fortune smiled on Anita Pulla (King City) who earned highest points in the novice class and in the open class, Nancy Hopkinson (Nobleton) who earned highest points with 30, Jules Maule-finch (Caledon) who came second with 22 points and won Best in Show-Cultural with her indoor wintered over annual heliotrope and Barb Downey (Castlederg) who with 20 points came third and won Best in Show-Decorative with her design "Lion and the Lamb."

Carol Price (Bolton) judged the show and commented favourably on its 41 exhibits calling them all winners.

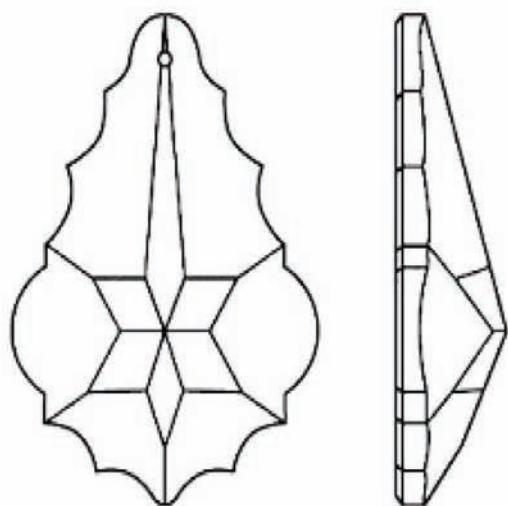

N-KCHS's next meeting and flower show falls on Monday, April 28 at the same venue.

Youth Club donation

The Schomberg Youth Club appreciates the generous donation from the Schomberg Lions Club. On hand were Jack Campbell, Schomberg Youth Club; Susanne Prince, secretary Schomberg Lions; Bob Gwalchmai, president Schomberg Lions and Tim Gerrits, Schomberg Youth Club leader. Joining them were some of the local youth.

KING WEEKLY SENTINEL

NobleKing Minor Hockey hopes to up the ante with a renewed vision and board

By MARK PAVILONS
& JEFF DONER

Helping improve players' on-ice skills is a key priority for the newly installed board of NobleKing Minor Hockey.

And a newly elected director of development will help further the cause and try to come up with some innovative ideas to up the skill levels.

Kevin Riley was elected as the new development director after he and the other candidate, Anthony Fasullo, gave their presentations about what they will bring to the ice for next season.

There was some confusion about the election process, and it was sorted out with ballots and Riley had the edge with a 40-29 vote.

Riley can be seen at the rink with his signature red hats and hockey has been in his family for generations.

He said it's time to give back and share to see the kids improve. He said he's spoken with parents and there's a need for visibility and vision in the club. He's come up with a "balanced score card," a road map of sorts for standardized skills.

He would like to see skill videos posted on the club's website as well as clinics for both players and goalies, and equipment clinics, too.

On-ice training is key, according to Fasullo, who wants to "make it better for kids." He wants to see a better ratio for training and get more trainers on the ice. He works part-time at a development school, so he has plenty of expertise to help put it all together.

Parents wanted to know how much money is allocated to player development. Player costs, fees and any other ideas, will be discussed and voted on by the new board when the executive meets in April.

Last season, roughly $4,600 was directed to development, which all agreed is simply not enough.

As the new director, it's up to Riley to make sure they're addressing the issue.

When the group irons out the fees, the breakdown of just where the dollars go, will be spelled out on the website.

The 2014 board of directors includes Mike Baldesarra, president; Jacques Paneton, vice-president; Jeanine Harrison, treasurer; Tom Diceman, head coach director; Helen Bazzo, equipment director; Michael O'Meara, house league director; Sabrina Critelli, tournament director; Rob DeRose, fundraising and sponsorship director; Paul Voorn, risk management director; Janesse McPhillips, public relations director and Danny Macedo, past-president.

Macedo said the organization had a lot of ups and downs this past year, and a lot of growth, hitting 400 kids with 80 skaters in the Junior Knights program. Older players are returning to their hometown league. They've asked the Township for an extra 8 hours of ice time for the coming season to accommodate the growth.

They're also redefining the novice and tyke division and will likely see 100 or more in the house league ranks.

He said the group wants its membership to be more involved.

He commended the executive, the "most dedicated and committed group" he's seen in years. He also extended thanks to Mayor Steve Pellegrini and Chris Fasciano of the parks department for their assistance.

The group also ratified its brand new constitution, which is streamlined and more in line with OMHA policies.

Joe Petrungaro noted back in 2009 the provincial government updated legislation which instructed non-profits to become incorporated entities with updated constitutions. NobleKing members put a lot of time and effort into the new constitution and its good practices.

New this season is a risk management director who takes care of legal matters and possible exposure (risk) to the organization, its players and coaches.

It's a committee-based constitution and any changes require board approval. Treasurer Loris Tomada noted their major sources of income are from registration fees and sponsorships, while user fees for ice are their major expense. Of their budget, a total of $262,760.90 went to renting ice at Nobleton and Schomberg this past season. As it stands, the group has a profit of just under $5,000.

The Knights also discussed launching a new website and brought up the OMHA's mandate that one parent from each family must complete a PRS (Speak Out!/ Respect in Sport).

"That is an online course to help educate parents out there not to be so involved with the game and take a step back, cheer for your child who is playing, but don't take out your frustrations on officials or coaches or whatever," Macedo said. "It's a mandatory course that you have to take by Aug. 31 this year otherwise your child will not be able to roster on a team. This is across the OMHA and we brought that forward to make sure all of our members were aware of this."

Macedo said he fully supports the OMHA's initiative that has already been made mandatory in British Columbia and Quebec.

"This year more than any other years, maybe it's because of the winter, it's been long, we've been indoors for months, I think people's fuses have been shortened and we have noticed a lot of disciplinary action happening," he said. "Not only with coaches, but also with parents, so we've had scenarios this year where we've had to discipline parents because you know what, they were not being themselves and they were taking it out on the officials and coaches."

The AGM is a forum for their ideas and concerns.

"Every year we have certain parent groups who are not happy with how the year progressed and this is all volunteer positions. When you're not happy with the way things are going you challenge things and the AGM is there for the greater good for the entire association. We're there as a membership, we're there as volunteers and we're there to put the best program possible on the ice for the kids."

Macedo said there were parents who voiced concerns over the direction of the club, to which he responded those parents should get involved and volunteer to be a part of the process.

"We only got one nomination for every director except one position had two nominations," he said. "I would love to see where you have two or three nominations for every director that would be phenomenal. That would be the ideal and you would have voting for every position, but if you only have one person put up their hand to take that position, if you're complaining about what we're doing, I say, 'come on our side and be part of making decisions and get involved.'"

James Binsfeld earns medals

Alpine Canada hosted the first integrated National Championships at Whistler last week. King's James Binsfeld went to the podium at this historic event, capturing bronze in SG (beating out our guys who went to Sochi). James also took bronze in NORAM GS the next day.

Binsfeld won gold again in the Para Alpine GS at Ontario Winter Games, Feb. 28 at Mt. St. Louis.

Binsfeld's teammates Mac and BJ Marcoux competed in Sochi for the Paralympics.

Binsfeld and Goesart are expected to represent Ontario at Canada Games next season.

Bantam Knights wrap up season

By Jeff Doner

The NobleKing Knights officially ended their 2013-14 hockey season last week when the bantam local league squad was downed in game five by Richmond Hill in the B consolation final on Thursday night in Nobleton.

It was a hard-fought series, but the Knights were unable to come out on top despite a strong finish to the season.

After one period of play, Richmond Hill held a 2-0 lead, putting the Knights' backs to the wall.

Richmond Hill kept using the power play to put the Knights deeper into a hole.

As the game progressed the Knights seemed to build up some energy, creating some solid scoring chances, while goalie Ethan Cooney did his best to keep Richmond Hill from building their lead.

Eventually Tommy Stante got the Knights on the board with nine minutes remaining to make it 4-1, but the Knights were unable to further close the gap.

"We had a great season and the kids have fun," said head coach Brian Cooney. "The series was pretty close there were no blowout games and the kids played well today."

The game was the last official game for NobleKing Knights minor hockey this season.

Schomberg Cougars seek training staff

The Schomberg Cougars Jr. C Hockey Club is looking to bring two new people on board for its training staff.

They need two qualified trainers, who will be responsible for the traditional duties of a trainer working with players and equipment, both home and away. They require a level 2 trainer's certificate or level 1 with the standard first aid course, and a speak out or PRS certificate.

Must have own transportation and be available for games and practices. The season begins in June with summer camp.

This is a volunteer position with a great organization. Enjoy the ups, downs and excitement of junior hockey.

King Curling Club crowns its new champions

By SHELLEE MORNING

The final week of play in the King Curling Club's 2013-14 season resulted in some very impressive playoff curling.

New and defending champions were crowned after the playoff series for the Mixed Team Entry League as well as the club's social leagues.

Wednesday mixed social began the capping of winners with a few of the clubs veteran curlers going broom for broom against each other.

Peter Wasylkiw, along with Donna Logue and Doug and Teresa Shorthill, played against Veteran lady Skip Kaye Groen and her team of Ian Donaldson, and Karen and Matthew Turrif. Both played with high energy and sharp strategy throughout the game, but it would be Team Wasylkiw taking the edge and claiming the title for consolation winners of early draw.

The championship late draw game included veteran curler Skip Wilf Robinson and his team of Mario Parete, Lois Groombridge and Edith Mussato against Skip Fraser MacDonald, Diane Bracken, Mike "Blister" O'Hara and Neil Harris. MacDonald led the game after 4 ends, but allowed Team Robinson to score 3 and tie it up in the 5th. Collecting another in the 6th for the go-ahead point Robinson clearly had the opposition scrambling. MacDonald found 2 in the 7th heading into the 8th without hammer.

Nervously watching from behind the hack Team MacDonald could only wait as the veteran Robinson threw his final shot of the year. The close game ended with Team MacDonald declared the champions with a winning score of 8-6.

Skip Fraser MacDonald has a lot to be thankful for as he needed to spares that night to which Karen and Matt Turiff happily agreed to step into. Both participated in the early draw on the runners-up winning team and apparently brought their winning form for MacDonald to also find victory with.

Mixed Team Entry

In the beginning there were 18 teams in the Mixed Team Entry League that started the ultimate playoff push. But the final 2 playing for the championship title were defending champions Team Gorsline against Team Steenhoek.

Team Gorsline, who last year won after a marathon game that took 3 hours to complete, were hoping that this year's match would end in regular game time play.

The featured match took centre ice with spectators giving play by play commentary. Skip Bruce Gorsline and his team of Kathleen Gorsline, Greg Switzer and Heather Routledge took control in the opening end putting the opposition in the chase. Skip Dan Steenhoek and his team of Teresa Steenhoek, as well as Peter and Rosie Kamstra played hard and with determination throughout the game, but it would be Team Gorsline who claimed victory for their 2nd consecutive championship title.

Friday Fun League

Friday Social League also wrapped up its season crowning their winners in both the consolation and championship division games.

The consolation title went to Ian Donaldson and his teammates John Zainia, Sheila McKenzie and Claire Murphy.

The championship game involved Team Morning against Kyle Barber to what was anticipated to be a close match between the two.

A solid hit and roll buried behind cover lifted Morning to a 2-0 lead after two. The scoreboard was in favour of Barber for the next 3 ends, but after 6 the score was settled at a tie. Skip Shellee Morning and her team of Charles Levine, and Rick and Wendy Yates were able to find 2 in the 7th making it a 6-4 lead coming home. Skip Kyle Barber and his squad of Rob Robertson, Miriam Firth and John Wilmot, played with control, and threw accurate weight for a solid team effort.

Lead John Wilmot, played a personal best by placing his guards in perfect position each end setting things up for his team. Barber executed some game-saving double take-outs also had a great game.

In the 8th and final end, Morning had stones counting in first and 3rd position while Barber had one at the back of the button. Morning's last rock was a guard that over curled, leaving an open hit for Barber. Barber threw with nuclear weight wicking off of one but sailed through the back of the house. Team Morning captured the win and the title commenting afterwards that "this was one of the best well-matched games played this season. It was a close game with great shots made by both teams and it's a great way to end the season."

LaPlante Lauded

King Curling Club would like to congratulate club member Jody LaPlante on his recent retirement and wish him all the best in his "future of freedom."

After a full year of exciting curling and where greater achievements reached new levels, the rocks of granite will be now laid to rest for a well-deserved break. After the many hits, angle raises and run-backs, that have been in the daily games by the curlers of King, are now only but an echo as we embrace and welcome the warmer weather upon us.

What's the best part about the break? It's only 6 months until we come back! Keep Calm and Curl On.

Thursday Mixed Team entry defending champions Bruce Gorsline (skip), Kathleen Gorsline (vice), Greg Switzer (second) and Heather Routledge (lead).

Champions of the Friday night Social League are Rick Yates (lead), Shellee Morning (skip), Wendy Yates (second) and Charles Levine (vice).

Wednesday Social League champions are Fraser MacDonald (skip), Mike O'Hara (second), spares Mathew and Karen Turrif (for Diane Bracken and Neil Harris).

Novice Knights come up just short, lose in overtime

The NobleKing novice Knights #3 team can surely hold their heads up high and be proud of a tremendous team effort.

It may have not been the result they were hoping for, but it was not for a lack of effort.

The final game in the championship finals surely was the most exciting and gut-wrenching game of the season.

Trailing 4-3 with only 14 seconds to go in the game, the Knights got a well-timed, game-tying goal by defenceman Kieran Riley. Needless to say, the King City Arena erupted in cheers from the Knights' fans.

Other NobleKing goals in the game were scored by forwards Christian Carinci and Noah Gidaro.

In overtime, both teams definitely had their chances, but a scramble play in front of the Knights' net proved to be the difference.

The NobleKing novice Knights would like to congratulate the Thornton Tigers #2 team on being named the Simcoe Region Local League champions.

The trophies may say finalists, but the memories and friendships gained from this past year is what will drive the novice Knights to strive for even more success next season.

NobleKing bantam LL2 wins consolation

NobleKing's bantam LL #2 travelled to Beeton March 16 to start their best of 5 "A" consolation championship series.

Beeton exploded with a 3-0 lead but they couldn't hold off NobleKing's high powered offence. NobleKing managed to come out on top with a 6-3 victory to open the series.

On Tuesday, March 18, the team was back in Beeton for game two.

The Knights dominated with a 8-4 victory. Goals were scored by Marco Arnone, Jacob Jans, Ryan Jans, Angelo Grande, Michael Di Carlo and Jordan Colangelo and assists by Ethan Fisher, Luca Turkiewicz, Andrew Warner, Riley MacKenzie and Luca Zambon.

The Beeton Stingers were facing elimination in Nobleton on March 20 and the Knights were one win away from being crowned champions.

NobleKing wasted no time as Marco Arnone decided to rush the puck end to end and put the puck through the Beeton goaltender with one second remaining in the first period. The second period was action filled but NobleKing exploded with 2 goals in the second. First, a wrap around from the sniper Michael Di Carlo assisted by Ryan Jans and Tristan Vosylius. A beautiful one-timer by Jacob Jans assisted by Marco Arnone and Steven Pignataro. The second period ended in a 3-1 score.

NobleKing never looked back and got an insurance marker mid-way through the third by Marco Arnone assisted by Riley MacKenzie and Luca Zambon.

NobleKing got solid goaltending by their AP goalie Matthew Plasa. As the clock ticked down NobleKing bantam LL #2 were the Simcoe Region Consolation "A" champions for the 2013/2014 season.

Thank you to the coaching staff of Bill Warner, Rick Jans and Bruce MacKenzie for their hard work throughout the season. A special thank you to the team manager Mary Grande for her time and dedication to the team.

Tom Marchese Trail Run aids King Township Food Bank

By Mark Pavilons

The stage is set for the second annual Tom Marchese Trail Run & Walk, in aid of the King Township Food Bank.

The event will take place during Springfest, at Cold Creek Conservation Area Saturday, May 10.

You can walk, jog or run one of three routes that range from three to 12 kilometres.

The run begins at 10 a.m. that morning before Springfest opens to the public at 11.

After the run, participants can enjoy a fun-filled day for the whole family that includes a BBQ, high ropes, rock climbing wall, guided nature hikes and more.

"Don't miss this opportunity to enjoy the beauty of Cold Creek Conservation Area, the fun of Springfest and to support the King Township Food Bank," Marchese said.

This event, he noted, is important for several reasons. "The Food Bank does incredible work throughout King Township, and the impact of this small group of volunteers cannot be overstated. I would like to help increase the awareness of the work, and need of the Food Bank."

Marchese added it's also a unique opportunity to show off Cold Creek, a "prized asset of King Township." Most people who participated last year had never been to the conservation area, and commented on the beauty that is Cold Creek.

They raised close to $3,000 for the Food Bank in their inaugural year. The Township is a valued partner in this event by offering to coordinate it with Springfest.

For more information on this year's run or to register, visit www.KingTownshipTom.com/TMTR.

Tom Marchese is pleased to present his second annual Trail Run & Walk in support of the King Township Food Bank. The event takes place May 10 at Cold Creek Conservation Area.

Classic cars, classic rock at MS fundraiser in June

The Schomberg fairgrounds will rock and roll this June during a family fund day with all proceeds to multiple sclerosis research and client services.

The event will be held Sunday, June 15 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Let's Rock 'n Roll MS Away committee, a group of dedicated and passionate individuals working to improve the quality of life for those living with multiple sclerosis (MS), is organizing this fun-filled '50s themed afternoon, which will include a classic car show. The goal of the event is to promote awareness and raise funds to help those with MS in York Region.

There are several King residents on the committee, organizing this first of what hopes to become an annual event.

Children and adults alike attending this event will have the opportunity to enjoy an afternoon of good wholesome old fashioned fun - classic car show, bouncing castle, kids games, popcorn, cotton candy, old fashioned BBQ, unique vendors and prizes for best costume - everything for the young and young at heart.

The committee for this exciting project is made up of a number of local community and business leaders, as well as volunteers who themselves suffer from MS. Monia Isgro, chair of the committee and an MS sufferer, came up with the idea for this event.

"It is important to raise awareness of this awful disease that strikes both men and women in the primes of their lives. It is also an opportunity to raise much needed funds for continued research which might someday find a cure."

For further information or tickets contact Grace Isgro at 416-543-1079 or visit www.letsrocknrollmsaway.com.

Schomberg Red Wings peewees win B title

The Schomberg Red Wings peewee Local Local #1 team won the B Championship, in the Simcoe Region Local League against the Bradford Bulldogs. Both teams played an awesome series and it could have gone to either team. The Schomberg boys would like to thank their head coach Larry Gould and the rest of the coaching staff, for a great season.

Blackhorse play a crowd-pleaser

By Anne Ritchie

“The Kitchen Witches,” Blackhorse Village Players current offering, provides a heart-warming feast of laughter, love in the midst of enmity, and a multitude of surprise twists that leave an unsuspecting audience fully satisfied.

The play is a duel almost to the death for two warring chefs united in enmity, sworn to competitiveness, and spiced with unexpected secrets that bubble up and spill over most unexpectedly. It leaves the audience on the edge of their seats wondering if the kitchen witches will survive to cook another day.

“It’s Satan calling, he wants to know when you’ll be home,” retorts the vibrantly flamboyant Babcha (Ginny Cathcart) to a phone call for her arch rival Isobel Lomax (Margaret Brady). Lomax, striving to remain cool, calm and collected, well-armed with quick-witted retorts of her own, hurls back words that serve to heighten the laughter. It doesn’t take long for this dangerously funny duo to whip up trouble, crack hidden identities, and chew reputations to smithereens. Cathcart and Brady ride the waves of animosity that sweep through their show, quickly caught in the undertow of quick-witted replies. It’s a stirring performance spiced by unexpected revelations leaving the audience hanging onto every word.

Between the warring factions stands Steven Biddle (Julian Bachlow), a mild mannered producer driven hilariously to desperation more than once while trying to stay afloat. Little does he know his destiny when he mixes the battling biddies into a competition that, in the heat of the moment, leads to a most bewitching twist. Yet, it’s out of the frying pan and into the fire when the tables are turned for Bachlow himself, and he plays it well.

The strong silent camera chick records it all. Elizabeth Coulter emerges from her role as stage manager to become Roberta the “camera chick,” a distinctly tattooed character that could be perpetually rolling her heavily mascaraed eyes at the kitchen witches antics. In a talented actress, silence has a language of its own, and Coulter proves it.

Bachlow incites great sympathy from the audience for persevering against all odds to unite the kitchen witches. He draws the audience into the action most convincingly, even to introducing the cameo appearance of a super surprised and thoroughly delighted judge. The hilarious twists and turns, the joy of a fun-filled evening, the tug of the heartstrings due to a surprising ending is felt by all, audience included.

Catch the spell-binding laughter of “The Kitchen Witches,” playing till April 12, Call 905-880-5002 for ticket information, sit back and prepare to be uproariously entertained.

Pathfinder holding fundraising breakfast at church

King's Corners

King City United
By Eleanor Fry

Reverend Evelyn's time with the children was a very visual demonstration of how faith can help you to swim or sink when the water gets stormy.

With a big bucket of water they dropped items in to see which would sink and which would float. This all led to her sermon "Storms of Life."

Remember the story of Jesus in the boat on the Sea of Galilee. This lake is 700 feet below sea level, the lowest fresh water lake in the world. The average depth is 84 feet, but in places it is 150 feet deep. It is surrounded by mountains. Violent storms arise very quickly.

Jesus is asleep in a small boat on the lake with the disciples. A terrible storm comes up. They fear for their lives. Jesus awakes, calms the storm and asks "Why are you afraid? Have you still no faith?"

Did they leave it back on the shore? Remember Jesus walking on the water? Peter challenges him, not believing it is really him. He gets out of the boat, walks toward Jesus, but looks away, and goes down. We have great faith when everything is smooth sailing, going our way. But the moment life challenges us, that's when we need to remember what faith can do for us. Don't leave your faith in the church.

Take it with you. Let it wrap around you when the boat starts to rock. We continue our Lenten journey "The Way - Walking in the Footsteps of Jesus" as we get closer to Palm Sunday and Calvary. Hooray! We have 10 new "Observer" subscribers. Welcome to each of you. This maintains our cost at $10, which is payable by cash or cheque made out to King City United church, placed in the envelop on the office door with your name on it and marked "Observer" or see Eleanor Fry after service April 6.

On Saturday, April 5 Meaghan Del-Fabro is hosting a pancake breakfast from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at KCUC. Tickets are $5, or $20 family at the door. Meghan is a member of 1st King Pathfinders who is working on her Canada Cord. Hosting a community event is one of the requirements. Proceeds from the event will go to the church.

Take your trip down memory lane at 10 a.m. with the King Social Group. See vintage cars, gas pumps, general store, juke boxes. Take Highway 11 north past Highway 9. Turn left onto Bathurst Street, right to #19230. Take driveway to large barn. Then return to the church for your breakfast or lunch. Let's give Meaghan our support.

"News from the Pews" is scheduled to be available on April 13. Please submit all items to our office by April 6.

Are you a scrap booker? Saturday, April 26 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. come to KCUC to share tools, ideas to glean and lots of laughter. The cost is $15 per person, includes snacks, lunch, prizes and a small donation to KCUC. Space is limited. Call our office to leave your name.

We are organizing a new church family directory. You can choose the time for your photo shoot beginning Sunday, April 6 after worship. Photo days are Thursday, May 22 from 2:30-8:30 p.m., Friday, May 23 from 2:30-8:30 p.m. and the following weekend Saturday, May 31 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sign early for your 1st choice. For information call Eleanor Fry 905-833-5954 or email donaldelly@sympatico.ca.

Holy week is fast approaching. Please note our worship times. Palm Sunday is April 13 at 10 a.m. This worship will include confirmation, adult professions of faith, transfer of membership, adult and infant baptism, and communion. This worship will be filled with immense joy and music. We will celebrate with a potluck lunch after.

Maundy Thursday is April 17 at 6:30 p.m. at KCUC. This meal remembers the last meal Jesus shared with his disciples, will be shared with All Saints Anglican Church.

Good Friday is April 18 at 10 a.m. at KCUC with St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Rev. John Visser will be preaching.

Sonrise is April 20 at 7 a.m. Muffins and coffee/tea after. Easter morning service begins at 10 a.m. Come to celebrate the greatest event in our Christian faith - the resurrection of Jesus Christ. There is a lot to celebrate.

Join us each Sunday at 10 a.m. with Sunday school, 50 Elizabeth Grove. King City.

Send photos, items to fjesty@hotmail.com for inclusion on our website www.kcuc.ca. Contact our office at 905-833-5181 or email kcuc@bellnet.ca ; Reverend Evelyn McLachlan, kcucmin@bellnet.ca. Items for local papers, 905-833-5954 or email donaldelly@sympatico.ca.

York Pines welcomes Moderator Gary Paterson

York Pines

The public is welcome to attend the service on Tuesday, April 8 at 7 p.m. when the Right Reverend Gary Paterson, D.D., Moderator of the United Church of Canada, will speak at the York Pines Church. Home for Rev. Paterson is Vancouver. He brings a west coast awareness of the new stirrings of the Spirit. He likes to use poetry in his messages. His theme will be a people in exile learning to sing their song. Our life in Christ will be celebrated with the distribution of communion.

For further information or questions please call the church at 905-727-8118. The York Pines Church is located at 3150 the Aurora/Lloydtown Road, Kettleby.

King Bible Church

Join us this Sunday, April 6 as guest speaker Dr. Stan Fowler will be starting the next phase in our series "What We Believe About ... God" with The Trinity.

We have Celebration Zone available downstairs for kids aged 2.5-Grade 7. We also have nursery available downstairs for babies 0-2.5.

Our Overtimers seniors ministry group meets the second Tuesday each month at 1 p.m.

We welcome everyone with a free afternoon to come and join us on Tuesday, April 8 at 1 p.m. as we are blessed to have Tom Hayes with us again. He will be presenting paintings by the old masters. The theme is "From Grief to Victory; a Visual Meditation on Christ's Passion." We will begin our time with refreshments and fellowship at 1 followed by the program starting about 1:30.

Ladies, please keep Monday, April 14 open and plan on joining us for our spring event "Worth It!" Do you need help getting organized? Does being organized help us to have a daily quiet time and prayer time, it is worth it? Please sign up today and invite your friends!

The Good Friday service will be held Friday, April 18 at 10 a.m.

We would like to invite everyone to our Good Friday service. Pastor Tim Kerr from Sovereign Grace Church will be speaking as we join altogether to reflect on our Saviour's love and sacrifice.

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

Join us at St. Andrew's as we travel during this time of Lent, ever closer toward Jerusalem with Jesus. We are being reminded that the God of all times and places will surprise us as we make our pilgrimage from life to death to new life in Him!

At times we wander like the Israelites in the desert, not comfortable, not content, but we are clinging to God's promise of "quenching our thirst" and providing life eternal. Our Sunday morning worship service is at 10:30 a.m. with Sunday school and nursery care running concurrently. Coffee and catch-up follows the service for all who can stay.

Peter Leyland, an Elder from St. Andrew's, Newmarket, led us in worship last Sunday, preaching from Matthew 26:57-67 and I Peter 1:13-25. He spoke about God's "Redeeming Love" and how that "Grace" is when we receive what we don't deserve and that "Mercy" is not getting what we do deserve - all possible because of that first Easter!

The Rev. Dr. John Vissers will be back with us for the fifth Sunday in Lent to continue his sermon series on Joy, looking at the book of Philippians. John will also be preaching during our Palm Sunday service, April 13, the Maundy Thursday Service, April 17 at 7:30 p.m., the Good Friday Service held this year at King City United Church at 10 a.m. and at our Easter Sunday and Communion Service at St. Andrew's at 10:30 a.m.

The Ladies Prayer Time is at 9 a.m. each Tuesday, meeting in the narthex of the church. Join us for a special, informal time of quiet reflection or of sharing verbally as we pray to our Heavenly Father. Should you have prayer requests, praise items or any questions or concerns, please contact the church office at 905-833-2325 or call Kathy Patterson, clerk of session at 905-833-0391.

For pastoral care needs please contact Lynn Vissers, our director of congregational ministries at 905-833-5762, or our interim moderator, the Rev. Dr. Neal Mathers, at 905-895-5512. Our church is located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. There is a ramp available for accessibility.

All Saints By Nicola Skinner

This coming Sunday at All Saints we wrap up our sermon series on Forgiveness by looking at the topic of "Forgiving Ourselves."

Sometimes it is actually harder to forgive ourselves than it is to forgive the wrongs that others have done to us. We can be guilty of holding ourselves to a far higher standard than we hold others, and it is only by learning to extend grace and compassion to ourselves that we can overcome this.

The following Sunday, April 13 is Palm Sunday and from there we move into Holy Week. On the Tuesday night we have a quiet Taize service at 7 p.m., on Maundy Thursday we worship with our neighbours at King City United Church at 6:30 p.m. On Good Friday we commemorate the Lord's Passion with the Solemn Liturgy at noon with guest singers, and on Easter Sunday we have our joyful celebration of the Resurrection at 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

As always there will be an Easter Egg Hunt for the children after the service.

Spring is in the air, at the time of writing at least, and we invite you to clean out your house and give us your good quality rummage. Then, you get to come our magnificent rummage sale on Saturday, May 3 and find some new treasures. This is the best rummage sale in the GTA. We have designer clothing, great books, genuine antiques, plus the usual knick-knacks. Don't miss it!

Next week, look out for details of our sell-out women's dinner. Chef Ian Rodger has something special planned for the 30th anniversary of this wonderful evening where the men cook and wait on the women hand and foot all night. Perhaps we should make it a weekly event?

Check our website at www.allsaintskingcity.com for news of all our events, and regular activities such as our book clubs, Bible study and choir.
