Lions Walk for Dog Guides best ever!

By Mark Pavilons

Residents and their four-legged companions came in full force Sunday morning to support the annual Purina Walk for Dog Guides in Nobleton.

This event, to support the Lions Foundation of Canada's Dog Guide program, was the most successful to date, according to Lion Paul Olsen.

It was a beautiful day for the walk with approximately 50 participants raising approximately $12,000. The numbers are not yet finalized as contributions continue to come in.

Olsen said they not only had lot of dogs come out, but they had two dogs in training attend the event.

"Thanks to all who supported this effort," he said.

Also on hand was Nobleton's own Bev Berger, a national spokesperson for the Lions' Dog Guide program. She took part with Jasper, her fourth companion guide. This was Berger's 25th walk for this cause.

The Lions Foundation now offers six different dog guide programs for various disabilities and demand continues to rise each year.

Thanks to fundraisers like this, the support continues for the Lions Foundation efforts.

King's Den subdivision gets the green light

By Angela Gismondi

A new subdivision in King City is moving forward thanks to a collaborative effort between Signature Communities and existing residents.

At the council meeting Monday, King councillors approved the application for the draft plan of subdivision, adopted the official plan amendment and enacted the zoning bylaw for Signature's King's Den subdivision.

Using a unique, collaborative approach, Signature Communities worked with residents in the neighbouring subdivision to create a development all parties can live with.

"I'm pleased that the community and the developer were able to work together and come up with a plan that fits," said Councillor Cleve Mortelliti.

The subdivision will be located on the southwest corner of Keele Street and McClure Drive in King City. The developer has proposed 18 lots for single detached dwellings with access from a new public road, a cul-de-sac, off of McClure Drive. The draft plan also includes an open space block at the corner of Keele and McClure which will act as a gateway to the community.

A previous submission for the development proposed four single detached dwellings and 45 townhome units under a condominium form of ownership. A statutory public meeting was held in December 2011 where the public voiced opposition to the proposed plan, particularly with the density and the types of homes proposed. After the meeting, the owner undertook discussions with surrounding residents regarding their concerns resulting in a fundamental change to the applications. The owner submitted new applications in November 2013, revising the proposal from 45 to 18 lots.

"This has really come along in achieving what the existing community wants in their front yard," said Councillor Debbie Schaefer, thanking the residents in the existing McClure subdivision and Signature Communities for coming together to create a development everyone can agree on. "I think we've got a good development here that's going to add a lot to King City."

Jeff Brookhouser, a resident living adjacent to the proposed subdivision, was part of the group that worked with the developer to provide input on the design for the new community. On behalf of the McClure Keele Area Ratepayers Group, he asked that council consider removing the sidewalks from the subdivision in order to encourage driveway parking as opposed to on-street parking. He added that the issue of landscaping has not yet been addressed and that the fences along Keele Street should be in keeping with the character of those of the existing neighbourhood. He also asked that the more mature trees on the property be saved and relocated. He requested that existing residents be kept apprised of any discussion regarding these issues.

"We have not been included in any of those discussions to date," he noted.

Brad Rogers, from Groundswell Urban Planners representing Signature Communities, explained the developer has held design charrettes with local residents to obtain input. He added the developer has agreed to pay one per cent for parkland contribution.

"Signature is getting ready to market these units," said Rogers, adding the applicant appreciates the Township bringing the report forward at this time.

He requested council consider a few minor changes to the bylaw including reducing front and side yard setbacks. He also asked that a clause which would require the applicant to have a minimum of three houses with tandem garages in the subdivision be removed.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini asked Rogers if Signature had considered the $10,000 per house contribution the Township requested. The funds, Pellegrini explained, would be put into a reserve fund for future repairs to the fence.

Rogers explained the matter has been discussed at length because Signature had never been asked to pay for something that would "essentially be owned by the municipality."

"This would be a first," Rogers explained. "But yes they are willing to."

"It would be a first for us too," responded Pellegrini, joking about calling it the "Signature Reserve Fund."

"Keele is a major road and we don't want a shabby fence back there. This way in 20 or 25 years there will be money there to maintain that fence. You can set an example for other developers."

Based on suggestions by councillors and residents, Pellegrini recommended a list of amendments to the staff report including accepting the $10,000 cash contribution and the one per cent parkland contribution and that the open space block be accepted as part of the parkland contribution. He also responded to the applicant's request to remove a clause which would require the applicant to have a certain number of homes with tandems in the garage and to reduce the setback from 1.8 metres to 1.5 metres. He added the developer should have regard for existing trees in the area and meet with staff with respect to architectural controls. He also included an amendment to exclude sidewalks from the new street.

The applications and the amendments were approved.

King native receives award for lifetime achievement

By Mark Pavilons

A King Township native son has been given a prestigious honour.

Paul Willoughby, a former resident of King City and a graduate of King City Secondary School, received the 2013 Lieutenant Governor's Ontario Heritage Award for Lifetime Achievement. It was presented at a ceremony at Queen's Park in February.

A member of the King Township Historical Society for more than 30 years, Willoughby has served on the boards of The York Pioneer and Historical Society; Brampton Heritage Board; Brampton Historical Society. He was vice-president of the Historic Sharon Burying Ground Association and a director of Community Heritage Ontario.

His love of history, culture and heritage is something that comes naturally to him.

"Growing up in King City I learned much about my family and my surroundings from my great uncle Donald (Dan) Rawlings and my friend Andrew McClure. Andy's daughter, Elizabeth Gilham, wrote the book on the history of King Township. My mother, Doris Willoughby (nee Hollinshead) continues to be a source of knowledge about King Township and an inspiration to keep learning. As a result I've tried to learn more about anywhere I've lived, be it the University of Guelph, Cabbagetown or Brampton."

Willoughby has much to be proud of. As far back as Grade 10, he won the Fred Swayze Award for Local History at KCSS. "I was the student representative on the planning committee for the celebration of the 100th anniversary in 1974 of the Ontario Agricultural College at the University of Guelph. And I was pleased to serve two terms as President of The York Pioneer and Historical Society, one of the oldest historical societies in Canada."

Willoughby is a firm believer in the idea "you can't know where you're going unless you know where you've come from."

As far as preserving heritage is concerned, Willoughby noted municipalities that have formed heritage committees are headed in the right direction, provided the local council is supportive. The Ontario Heritage Act has been improved since it was first written but still needs some work to safeguard valuable heritage assets. The provincial government's designation of certain communities as growth areas has resulted in the loss of heritage buildings to urban sprawl, despite the efforts of the heritage community, he observed.

"I would like to see more support from the federal government for national historic sites such as Sharon Temple," he concluded.

Free wood chips and compost for residents

Free wood chips and compost will be available on Saturday, May 31 at the King Township Works Yard located at 16735 8th Concession (at the south-east corner of 8th Concession and Lloydtown-Aurora Road) from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Residents are asked to bring their own shovels and containers.

Township staff will also be selling composters for $30 each and rain barrels for $25. The only method of payment accepted will be cash.

Township residents are also asked to provide identification as proof of residency.

Rewarding mediocrity and bad behaviour

One doesn't have to look far these days for some eyebrow-raising incidents.

The morning news provides plenty of fodder about the woes of the human condition.

Recently, a couple of items caught my attention, that seem to encourage mediocrity and promote prostitution, neither of which seems in keeping with our society's moral compass.

A high school in Calgary has done away with its academic awards ceremony, believing it singles out high achievers and not only makes average students feel bad about themselves, but segregates them.

Humans have been recognizing excellence, achievement, success and good study habits for hundreds of years. The premise is if you work hard, apply yourself, you might just achieve a modicum of success and excellence.

We're not talking perfection here. We're talking about building good study habits, responsible behaviour and a good work ethic.

These are fundamental aspects of the western world, for as long as the western world has been in existence.

Like it or not, our society embraces winners. We don't go to hockey or baseball games and cheer for teams to lose. We watch the Olympics and support our athletes, recognizing them for their hard work and dedication. Under-achieving athletes typically don't win medals or get those million-dollar contracts.

At the school level, we encourage our kids to compete in sports. Of course, winning isn't everything, but it is something.

We hold spelling bees, math and science fairs, debating and public speaking competitions. We celebrate our scholars, award-winners and scholarship earners.

We are a competitive species and we recognize and laud accomplishments.

While this school may be taking some sort of misguided moral high ground in terms of compassion, it's way off base.

You can't have it both ways. By eliminating awards ceremonies, you've robbed the hard-working students of their recognition, which may be important in their post-secondary pursuits and future careers.

Recognizing under-achievers is rewarding mediocrity. Let's all cheer for the high school dropouts who live in their parents' basement and refuse to get a job!

This next tidbit will likely upset most parents and turn some stomachs.

We are all familiar with the term "sugar daddy" - slang for a man who offers to support a typically younger woman or man after establishing a relationship that is usually sexual.

This practise has been going on for hundreds of years as well, but it had always been something kept quiet, and surely never openly encouraged.

But our fellow human beings, who are always willing to make money and leverage other human beings, have risen to the occasion.

Enter the website SeekingArrangement.com. "Entering adulthood is a struggle for 18-year-olds, but the world's largest Sugar Daddy dating site is helping to lessen the financial burden. SeekingArrangement.com is offering free membership to women upon their 18th birthdays, inviting them to connect with a new financial benefactor.

"Graduation season means an unfortunate truth for many high school seniors:

getting cut off by their parents. For Sugar Babies on SeekingArrangement.com, paying for college is easy with help from generous benefactors.

"Fiscal independence is a difficult undertaking for young adults," says Founder and CEO, Brandon Wade. "Unlike receiving funds from parents, money from a Sugar Daddy doesn't come with rules that dictate what kind of lifestyle they should live."

SeekingArrangement "prides itself in being a stepping stone to financial freedom, especially for the one million college students signed up. These girls are not looking for Gucci or Prada, but and avoiding career limbo with help from a Sugar Daddy."

Launched in 2006, the website currently has 3 million members worldwide.

A quick trip around the Internet will reveal dozens upon dozens of similar sites and services.

This definitely puts a new spin on working your way through college!

Again, what message does this send to our daughters (and sons)? In order to pay off some post-secondary tuition, it's okay to prostitute yourself?

How many parents out there would be comfortable with such an arrangement? How many are shocked by this? How many even know about it?

I don't know about the parents of the millions of young women who've signed up, but I'd get two part-time jobs and sell everything I own to pay my kids' debts. I certainly wouldn't be their "pimp."

But this issue has not even registered as newsworthy. Is society so self-centred, misguided and void of morals that no one cares about such an "arrangement?"

I haven't attained a lofty lifestyle. But I wouldn't sell my soul to get one, either. Alas, like many things in our "modern western world," things like self-esteem, self-worth and our very souls have a price.

We're just adding more pieces to our already unstable house of cards.

Letter to the Editor

Transparency questioned

I have been reflecting a great deal of late over all the discussion surrounding accountability, transparency and open government. I question if such a thing will ever exist.

For example, the Ontario Ministry of Education policy program memoranda, school board policy, and what is actually taking place at the ground level are identifiable separate matters. There is a huge difference between law and policy.

As campaigning vigorously continues over the next few weeks, I would ask all potential candidates to consider what accountability, transparency and open government would look like. And I would ask that all non-deciders consider accountability, transparency and open government when weighing the pros, the cons and the platform of their nominated candidates.

Legislation is only as good as those who enforce it. Current safe schools legislation in the Province of Ontario is proof positive of this. There is no real-time enforcement of Keeping our Kids Safe at School Act and The Accepting Schools Act. The very reason parents are turning toward our judicial system for resolve is because of the lack of accountability within our educational system.

"The main difference between a law and a policy are who can create them and who can enforce them. A law is legally enforceable by the judicial system and is created at the provincial and federal levels. A policy provides a set of rules or guidelines that are meant to guide behaviour or practices and are enforceable by the body that created it, rather than the judicial system" ... in this case, our school boards.

Policies are also created in response to legislation. Ontario safe schools legislation requires that each school have a safe and accepting school team in place. This is confirmed by way of Program Policy Memorandum No. 144 as follows:

"Each school must have in place a safe and accepting schools team responsible for fostering a safe, inclusive, and accepting school climate ..."

I have been told that "it is the expectation that all schools have a safe schools team in place. There was no requirement to report this and therefore there is no record." The mandate must in PPM 144 now becomes redundant because it omitted to state that the implementation of safe and accepting school teams must be reported. How convenient.

Further, "the safe and accepting schools team is responsible for creating a climate where bullying has no place, yet they are not responsible for responding to incidents."

AND the best of all - "School boards are not required to track incidents of bullying."

Are school boards choosing to ignore the serious issue of bullying or choosing to deal with the issue head on? The provincial government that created and promoted our safe schools legislation as the first of its kind in Canada is trying to appear as if they have done their due diligence?

A York Region District School Board trustee once told me to "trust your school board to do the right thing." I waited three years for that to happen. This is not an action that represents accountability or transparency.

PCs act on transportation, others just 'talk'

York-Simcoe incumbent and PC candidate Julia Munro promoted the PC plan for getting people and goods moving on our roadways and transit-lines. Increasing GO Train service to Barrie and finishing the Highway 404 Extension are both top priorities for Julia.

"People, families, businesses, everyone tells me this is a priority. 'Get us moving,' they say ... why aren't our tax dollars being spent on core services that would create real benefits for so many people? Bottleneck-free highways need to be a priority. Everyday, two-way train service needs to be a transit priority."

"GO Train service needs to be better, more frequent and more practical, so we can better integrate using the train into our everyday lives - not only for commuting. This government has been asleep at the switch. We have fewer trains running now than in the '80s, it seems.

"Certainly, with the population doubling in the York-Simcoe-Barrie area, we need more service. This is core regional transit that needs to work for people everyday, including weekends," stated Munro.

"And Highway 404 ... what a disappointment. Promises never kept. Again, this government has failed. The deadline for finishing the 404 Extension was years ago; the Liberals are AWOL on transit and transportation. The Progressive Conservatives will get it done," she said.

"Too many years of talking, not enough doing, the Liberals have wasted too much of our time and money. PCs will follow-through on expanded GO service and getting rid of gridlock-bottlenecks on our highways," concluded Munro.

Please check out the PC Plan at www.electmunro.ca.

NDP candidate Laura Bowman endorses AWARE Simcoe's vision

NDP candidate for York-Simcoe Laura Bowman is committing to working with the community in South Simcoe to implement the "Vision for Simcoe County" that residents of Simcoe developed last year.

Bowman, who is endorsed by Carl Cosack of Food and Water First, said that in particular the concept of net benefit to the community for development is important and "needs to be incorporated into provincial planning documents."

Bowman went on to say that "the concept of ensuring that development benefits existing residents in terms of environmental sustainability, cost-benefit and social benefit is missing from the Liberal philosophy in planning in Simcoe County."

Bowman pointed to the Liberal decision to continue to ignore community concerns about agricultural land protection when amending the Provincial Policy Statement, rapid sprawl and the recent amendment to the Growth Plan in Simcoe county as examples.

"If elected, I would work hard to ensure the vision for Simcoe County was a part of the province's policy and approach to good planning."

Bowman is looking forward to elaborating on her plans to protect and develop York-Simcoe's agricultural economy at the Holland Marsh candidates' debate on June 4.

The highlights of Bowman's campaign include:
Health Care: Bowman wants to see funding restored to the Assisted Care Living 24/7 care program, to improve long-term health care.

Jobs and Economy: A job creation tax credit and lower taxes for small businesses were two ways Bowman vowed to improve the economy. She also put her support behind better public transportation as a way to attract new business to York-Simcoe.

Education: Citing that a good education system attracts skilled workers and new jobs, Bowman wants more special-needs classroom assistants, and more high school services for the rural parts of York-Simcoe.

Environment: "A good economy comes from good environmental policy," Bowman said, pointing out the huge number of agricultural and Lake Simcoe tourism jobs in the riding. Bowman vowed to fight for better environmental protection of the lake and of York-Simcoe wetlands, stopping dirty fill dumping from Toronto, and speeding up cleanup of the Thane Smelter Site.

Carruthers and Del Duca share plans for farmers and the environment

Loralea Carruthers, the Liberal candidate for York-Simcoe, was joined by Steven Del Duca, who is running for re-election as MPP for Vaughan last week. The two candidates outlined Liberal plans to protect Lake Simcoe and our natural environment, and to support the agricultural sector.

"As platform co-chair, I am extremely pleased that the Ontario Liberal Party hosted a collaborative, grassroots effort to crowdsource ideas for our platform. It was an innovative way to engage citizens in the democratic process," said Del Duca. "The result of the process includes a strong plan to protect and preserve our natural environment."

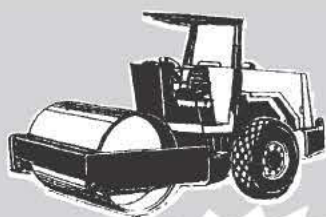

"We will take steps to encourage smarter growth across the province by giving citizens more say over planning decisions, increasing access to trails, expanding the Greenbelt, passing the Great Lakes Protection Act, tackling algae problems, and working with farmers to reduce nutrient run-off. Liberals believe that our natural heritage should be protected for future generations," said Del Duca.

"I'm so pleased to see such a strong commitment to environmental protection," said Lorealea Carruthers. "I know how important it is to protect our wetlands, forests, rivers and Lake. I'm proud of these commitments."

Previously, Premier Kathleen Wynne highlighted proposed Liberal investments to create 120,000 agriculture jobs through a $400 million investment in the sector.

"Agriculture is a major driver of our local economy, and I am proud this investment will help to create more jobs in our communities," said Carruthers.

Loralea Carruthers is an environmental activist and a three-term school trustee from East Gwillimbury, currently serving as co-chair of the joint York Catholic and York public transportation consortium. A long-time budget chair for the school board, Lorealea served two terms as vice-president of the Ontario Public School Boards Association. She also sits on East Gwillimbury's Environmental Advisory Committee.

CATCH BASIN CLEANING

In Kettleby, Pottageville, Carrying Place and Schomberg

Catch basin cleaning in the Township includes the removal of trash and sediments collected in the sump using a vacuum truck. It is important to maintain catch basins to prevent blockages and minimize the amount of pollutants entering storm drain systems which may eventually discharge into local streams and waterways. Clogged catch basins can result in the ponding of water along streets and parking lots causing a nuisance to motorists, pedestrians and businesses. Please remember: when wa king your pet, all waste should be picked up and disposed of properly. Anything that is drained into a catch basin, including dog waste or other hazardous materials, will go directly to the wetland areas and streams within the Township. This waste will adversely affect the wildlife, vegetation, and natural water supplies.

If you notice damage to a catch basin, please notify Engineering and Public Works Department at (905) 833-5321.

For a detailed description of all employment opportunities visit www.king.ca

Resident in her 5th walk to end cancer

By Mark Pavilons

A local woman will be lacing up once again for The Weekend to End Women's Cancers.

Cathy D'Alessandro will be participating for the fifth time in this walk, scheduled for this coming Sept. 6-7. This year, her 14-year-old daughter Julia will be joining her on the journey.

Together with thousands of other women and men, Julia will walk 30 kilometres and Cathy will walk 60 for one reason - to help save lives.

"Over the past 4 years, I have raised over $20,000 and that amount is climbing thanks to my many supporters. This year, once again I have committed to raise $2,000, but have set my personal goal at $5,000, a thousand dollars for every year I have walked. I am hoping to gain as many new supporters as possible. Just think, if every household in King Township made a donation of just $2, imagine the impact we would make."

D'Alessandro said knowing that she's helping to make a difference is such an incredible feeling. She has seen firsthand how far we've come in cancer treatments.

"Many of my close family members and friends have battled this horrible disease. Some have so bravely fought and conquered it. Some are still fighting and will continue to fight until they too can consider themselves survivors. And some who were among the bravest, strongest most incredible people I have ever had the privilege of knowing, have gone to a place where they are finally without pain. We are walking for all of them."

Prior to the September walk, D'Alessandro is holding a fundraiser at the Schomberg Community Hall on Saturday, May 31 at 7 p.m. The night will feature a dinner, dance and silent auction. Tickets are $35 each and include a homemade buffet dinner, music, dancing, raffles, a fantastic silent auction and live entertainment. For more information or to purchase tickets, please contact her at 905-939-0612 or cdalessandro@bell.net.

For more information on the Weekend to End Women's Cancers or to make an on-line donation, please visit www.endcancer.ca and enter D'Alessandro's name as the participant.

Cathy D'Alessandro will take part in her 5th walk this year. She's seen pictured in previous events.

Castles of King City fit for kings and queens

By Mark Pavilons

It's about how you live. With that simple introduction, a select number of guests got a chance to see King's newest luxury neighbourhood – The Castles of King City.

The new community is an enclave just off of King Road east of King City where luxury and high standards reign supreme. The large lots are backed by conservation land and no expense has been spared in the construction.

Tours of the model home on Sam Hill Crescent, great entertainment by Christopher Plock and his partners and great food combined to open the castle doors to the community and potential new residents.

From well appointed models at just over 2,800 square feet, to the Warwick at 4,788 square feet, the Castles offer elegant homes for every taste. Consider names like Oxford, Eden and Versailles – they all conjure images of tranquility and old world charm.

Some of the distinctive features include 10-foot main floor ceilings; oversized windows and doors; stained oak stairs; walk-in closets; ensuite spas and kitchens well suited to entertaining guests.

Zancor Homes believes they have “a great responsibility to enhance our communities with parks, playgrounds, natural spaces and convenience, because how you live is as important as where you live.

“We believe in setting the bar for customer service. From top management to our front line service personnel, each one of us feels a responsibility to our customers, going above and beyond, to ensure no customer goes unsatisfied.

“Your home is about more than bricks and mortar, it's about how your family lives. It's about enjoyable memories created every single day. A home purchase is a long-term decision, one never made lightly, and one you should look back on with pleasure.”

The family owned company has been building homes across the GTA for 30 years.

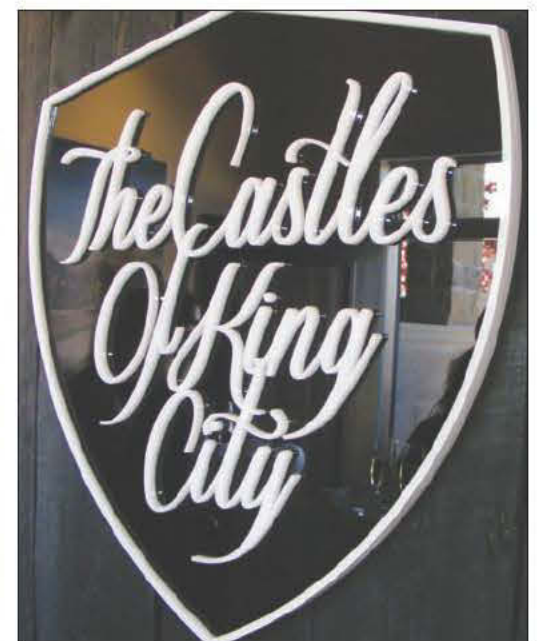

This newest addition to King is in keeping with the community's high design standards.

Lucas painting finds a home at Canadian War Museum

By Mark Pavilons

A new piece of art commemorating Canada's war contributions, has been unveiled for all to see.

King's internationally acclaimed artist Helen Lucas attended the dedication of her piece – the 5-foot-by-9-foot "Flanders Field No. 1" at the Canadian War Museum in Ottawa May 8.

"In Flanders field the poppies blow, between the crosses, row on row ..." are the famous words penned by Dr. John McCrae in his poem "In Flanders Fields." Written May 2, 1915 during the height of the Great War of 1914-1918, these immortal words have been part of almost every Canadian Remembrance ceremony ever since.

"Has there ever been a more poignant, more moving, more spiritual poem written in the English language?" Lucas asked.

Helen's daughter and her husband, while visiting Ottawa in 2007, brought her back a number of poppy seed packages from the War Museum – seeds gathered from the poppies growing in Flanders Fields.

With great anticipation and excitement Lucas planted the seeds just outside her King studio. Around the end of May the following spring the new plants began to bloom – proud, glorious, brilliant reds.

"I felt so spiritual because of my awareness of their past history of noble sacrifice," she said.

Regarding the actual artwork, Lucas started with brilliant yellow, the strongest colour next to the white light of the sun. A little red married with that yellow helped the painting all come together, making a bold statement, Lucas said.

She works from actual flowers to create her paintings.

After preparing a 5' x 9' canvas, she carefully sketched out her composition with a charcoal stick on the surface. Then for the next number of days, "each morning I would cut and bring into my studio three blooms, to paint that day. The next morning, three more and so on until they filled their place on the canvas.

"This painting is to be a constant reminder that never shall we break faith with those who died," she said.

Lucas said she's held on to this painting, praying that one day it can be seen in a place where the poppies will inspire the viewers to remember.

Lucas is a professional artist painting since the 1960s. In 1980, she began creating large-scale floral works. A number are in hospitals in Toronto and in three Canadian university collections. Most recently, 13 works went to a new church in Kigali, Rwanda and two paintings to new churches in Kenya.

"I have always strive to do paintings that offer hope and gratitude for the gift of life."

In Flanders Fields, Lucas has left a legacy for all to enjoy.

King artist Helen Lucas (right) donated "In Flanders Fields" to the National War Museum. She's seen with Beverley Richardson.

Building Relationships, Creating Dreams... Loving Life!

Animals have almost sixth-sense intuition, something that as humans we have a tougher time understanding, expressing and feeling. At Story Book Meadows, they want to blur that line and help individuals and groups connect with their inner-self while interacting with their amazing horses.

Gary and Trish Carlo have recently moved from the sunny farmland of Ocala, Florida, to the beautiful landscape of Loretto, Ontario in the spring of 2013. Both Gary and Trish have been riding and caring horses for decades. While in Florida, Trish had various experiences with horses being responsible for breeding, foaling and raising thoroughbreds as well as breaking and galloping the youngsters. She says her passion always lead her back to the farm and dealing with each horse one on one in a more intimate environment.

The focus of Story Book Meadows is to provide the community with a spiritual-based experiential learning process known as Equine Assisted Learning (EAL). EAL takes a powerful, personal approach to growth and development of groups and individuals. Why use horses? Trish explains that horses are amazingly intuitive animals that are acutely aware of their surroundings. Through their presence and intuition they are able to mirror actions and emotions of those interacting with them. She adds that the way a horse responds to an individual or group is an important part of the connection; in a non-judgmental way while giving immediate feedback needed for an individual to achieve their goals.

Programs and lessons at Story Book Meadows will focus on helping those in need, using faith and the power of the horses to overcome anxiety, develop teamwork, build self-esteem, deal with anger, and many other personal and group conflicts. Trish helps visitors to the farm with an accomplished background in the horse industry, along with numerous certifications. She is a Equine Specialist, certified in Equine Assisted Personal Development, a Certified Professional Coach, a certified coach at iPEC Coaching, the leading school for coach training, certified in the Energy Leadership Development System coaching, and is a member of the governing association for coaches, the International Coaching Federation.

KING WEEKLY SENTINEL

Lamaze scores back-to-back victories in Italy, France

By MARK PAVILONS

Schomberg's top show jumping champion has chalked up back-to-back impressive wins in European competitions in recent weeks.

One week following his stunning win in the €200,000 Grand Prix of La Baule, France, Canadian Olympic show jumping champion Eric Lamaze made it two in a row by claiming the €200,000 Grand Prix of Rome, Italy, on Sunday, May 25.

When Lamaze won the €200,000 Grand Prix of La Baule, France on May 18 riding Powerplay, it marked his first five-star victory since his partnership with Hickstead.

The former Schomberg resident has done it again, claiming the €200,000 Grand Prix of Rome with Zigali P S.

In an incredible twist of fate, Lamaze also won the Grand Prix of La Baule and the Grand Prix of Rome back-to-back in 2011 with Hickstead, just months before the great stallion's tragic death.

"After La Baule, everyone was saying that Zigali would win in Rome but I didn't think it was possible; it's so hard to win these grand prix events, especially with two different horses," said Lamaze. "Winning in La Baule gave me a lot of confidence coming into this week but, when you're on another horse, it's quite different."

Having used Zigali P S as a second horse to Powerplay in European competition this spring, Lamaze decided it was time for Zigali P S to step into the spotlight for the €200,000 Grand Prix of Rome. Fifty of the world's top-ranked riders started the event in the hopes of winning with 13 advancing to the all-deciding second round. When Lamaze entered the arena, he was chasing the time of 42.26 seconds set by Dutchman Frank Schuttert.

Demonstrating yet again why he was crowned the Olympic champion, Lamaze shaved almost a full second off the leading time, stopping the timers in 41.29 seconds. Next in, British legend Michael Whitaker came within fractions of catching Lamaze but, in the end, his time of 41.31 seconds with Viking would only prove good enough for second place.

"Zigali is a super-fast horse, he can leave strides out and can keep his jump," said Lamaze in praise of the 10-year-old Dutch Warmblood gelding (Kigali x STB-H Palfrenier) purchased by Carlene and Andy Ziegler's Artisan Farms last November.

Lamaze and Zigali P S had opened the four-day show jumping tournament in Rome May 22 with a win in the €24,000 1.50m Premio 3.

"Zigali won the first day, and then he wins again today," said an astonished Lamaze. "It's incredible! The first class he wins from 64 starters, and then he wins this one, too! For Zigali to come to Rome, a five-star event, and to compete in two classes and to win both, and for me to win my first five-star grand prix with him, is unbelievable!"

Following the death of Hickstead, Lamaze continued on with a heavy heart, competing for the fifth-placed Canadian Team at the 2012 London Olympics before taking a step back from the sport. Following a rebuilding phase, he is now back at the top of his game, winning two of the most prestigious grand prix events in the world.

"The faith I had in these horses is paying off," said Lamaze. "We are really clicking; everything is coming together between myself and the horses. I've spent time really getting to know them, and the moment has come now. Yes, I won these two events before with Hickstead, but to do it again now with two different horses really shows the depth of horses that we have. With the Ziegler family behind us purchasing these great horses, I can't help but to feel like we're back in the sport."

In addition to opening the four-day show jumping tournament in Rome with a win in the €24,000 1.50m Premio 3 riding Zigali P S, Lamaze made another trip to the winner's circle on Saturday after winning the €5,000 1.40m Land Rover Premio 7 riding Cesanna. In his competition debut with the newly-acquired Fine Lady 5, Lamaze was double clear to place fourth in the €24,000 1.50m Premio 5 for owners Artisan Farms.

At CSIO5* Rome, Lamaze competed alongside fellow Canadian Tiffany Foster of Schomberg. Lamaze and Foster are both based full-time with Artisan Farms in Vrasene, Belgium, and Wellington, Florida.

Victory in Baule

Lamaze rode Powerplay to victory in the €200,000 Grand Prix of La Baule on May 18, in France.

It was an extremely emotional win for Lamaze, who won the CSIO5* La Baule event, the highest ranking on the international show jumping calendar, on one other occasion in his career, in 2011 with the magnificent Hickstead.

"This is the first five-star grand prix that I've won since Hickstead," said Lamaze, who was smiling from ear to ear as tears rolled down his cheeks. "It is super exciting to win this grand prix. It's a grand prix that I've won before; I know what it feels like to win in La Baule!"

He raced through the timers in 35.83 seconds to easily eclipse the time of 37.53 set by Abdelkebir Ouaddar of Morocco riding Quickly de Kreisker. France's own Patrice Delaveau placed third with a time of 37.60 seconds with Carinjo HDC.

Powerplay stepped into big shoes by claiming the La Baule victory. Acquired by Artisan Farms LLC last spring from Switzerland's Pius Schwizer, Lamaze has been riding the 10-year-old Holsteiner gelding (Casall x Limbus) for almost one full year.

"I've never asked Powerplay to do something like this and to go so fast," explained Lamaze, who in a spur of the moment display of delight, leapt off the podium during the awards presentation to spray the supportive audience with celebratory champagne. "Last year was a learning year with the horse. I've really taken my time with him and been respectful of how careful he is. He's not a super-fast horse, but sometimes when you get to know a horse, you know when you can take risks."

"Today, it felt like it was time to be competitive. It felt like the time was right for me to ask him to do this."

La Baule marked the third five-star grand prix in a row that Powerplay has jumped clear, having placed sixth in the €300,000 CSI5* Global Champions Tour Grand Prix in Antwerp, Belgium, with one time fault and been clear in the opening round of the €300,000 CSI5* Global Champions Tour Grand Prix two weeks ago in Madrid, Spain.

Earlier in the day, Foster was double clear to place fifth in the €24,000 1.45m Prix Laiterie De Montaigu riding Melody des Hayettes Z and, on Thursday, placed sixth behind Lamaze and Zigali P S in the €27,500 Prix du Conseil Général with Victor. Lamaze and Foster are both based full-time with Artisan Farms in Vrasene, Belgium, and Wellington, Florida.

Lamaze's main focus this year is the 2014 Alltech FEI World Equestrian Games (WEG) in Normandy, France, at the end of August. The 2010 WEG Individual Bronze Medalist with Hickstead, Lamaze will decide between Powerplay and Zigali P S for this year's WEG competition, which will mark his sixth consecutive WEG appearance.

Lamaze claimed his second consecutive five-star grand prix victory, the €200,000 Grand Prix of Rome, on Sunday, May 25, riding Zigali P S, owned by Artisan Farms.

Villanova Knights win their fourth CISAA title

By JEFF DONER

The Villanova Knights senior girls' soccer team has done it once again, winning their fourth consecutive CISAA championship with a hard fought 2-1 win over De La Salle in the finals on Saturday.

The championship win culminated another dream season for the squad, who finished the season undefeated with six wins and one tie through seven games heading into the finals.

"It was a really great experience," said head coach Grant Purdy. "I told the girls that I've won a few championships and this is one that I'm most proud of. We only had 11 players, no subs, we had to use one of our goalkeepers out."

With such a short bench, the team faced some adversity, but stuck to the game plan that was successful throughout the spring and earned the victory.

"When the expectations are so high for the group - because last year's team was undefeated as well - the bar is set so high. These girls met that because they set their goals high and their perseverance got them through."

Veteran star Sarah Papaluca put the Knights up 1-0 early in the game and things stayed close for a while, until De La Salle rallied to score mid-way through the second half.

Bruised, but not broken, the Knights dug deep and poured on the pressure in the remaining time.

The hard work eventually paid off when Athena Kirou-Mauro scored the

Christina Pankovich was stellar in goal to help her team nail down the win.

"I think it was our fourth win in a row for the league, so it's pretty exciting from that standpoint," Purdy said. "I was really pleased with the effort because it was warm, we had no subs and we had girls with bruises and knicks who just kind of gutted it out."

The CISAA championship was the sole senior banner win for the school this year.

"That was also a motivator for the girls, which was good."

In getting to the finals, the team shut-out Appleby College 3-0 earlier in the week.

Taylor Taffo stunned Appleby with a fantastic shutout performance in goal, while Ava Montini scored two goals to pace the offence, followed by a single marker by Kirou-Mauro.

"The nice part was that we had to rise to the occasion in that final, because the odds were stacked against us - it was a warm day, we had nobody to look to with a lonely bench," Purdy added. "We found out in that game that it's not who you don't have, it's who you have. Those girls that were there were the difference."

The team won OFSAA gold last season and are now eager to defend their title in Windsor from June 5 to 7.

"We hope to be seeded number one, so we hope to repeat that as well. We have a really young team and we have a great group of girls who are looking forward to that."

The Villanova Knights senior girls soccer team won their fourth consecutive CISAA championship title last weekend, earning a 3-0 win over Appleby College in the semi finals and then defeating De La Salle 2-1 in the finals on Saturday. The Knights will now look to defend their OFSAA gold medal in Windsor in June.

York Region prepares for the 2015 Pam Am Games

York Regional Council endorsed the 2015 Pan American/Parapan American Games Strategic Framework for Transportation for the City of Markham and the City of Vaughan.

The framework includes a games route network to be established with dedicated lanes to provide priority access to venues for athletes, officials, media and high occupancy vehicles (HOV). YRT/Viva will provide additional conventional and specialized transit services during the Games.

The report also outlines the necessary bylaws to carry out and enforce the transportation strategy within York Region, including parking restrictions along Regional roads.

The City of Markham was selected as the location to host golf, water polo, badminton and table tennis. York Region is preparing to manage traffic in the City of Vaughan due to its proximity to the York University venue site.

The Games will run from July 10 to August 15, 2015 and are expected to be the largest multi-sport event ever held in Canada. There will be an estimated 1.4 million spectators involving 7,000 athletes from 41 nations with 500 events and 51 competitive sports.

Schomberg Community Farm ramps up efforts

By Jeff Doner

After first breaking ground and getting started last fall, the Schomberg Community Farm committee is ramping up their efforts to push the project ahead this summer.

Situated on a six-acre plot west of Main Street in Schomberg, organizers are looking to turn the site into a place for a variety of activities for people in the community. They hope to include gardening allotments, specialty gardens for herbs and butterflies, bee-hives, a chicken coop, picnic area, a farmer's market, a place to offer educational workshops; and much more.

However, in order to truly get the project off the ground, the committee needs to raise $80,000 to put in a bridge over the creek from Western Ave. for long-term access to the property.

"The bridge is really key to everything. Not just getting over there, but to all the many plans we have," said chair of the Schomberg Community Farm, Julie Schweizer.

"We have reached out to businesses within King Township. We need $80,000 and the bridge is a lifetime infrastructure that donors can put their name on and be a part of for forever. To be one that makes the bridge, may not be as impactful today, but as we go further and further the bridge will become more fundamental."

At this point in time, Schweizer said the committee has been canvassing businesses owners along Main Street for support and to help create awareness for the project.

"If not for financial support, we want to make connections and be friends, and that's going really well. People have been so great and supportive; it's just getting this bridge built before we can get going over there."

With spring already upon us, the committee is hoping to raise enough money for the bridge by mid-summer so that they can get to work.

"It could still happen if we get the funds by the end of June, even July, we could get this started in August-September and get things going for the fall," Schweizer said.

A big part of the commitment is towards their educational hands-on workshops, of which the first will take place on May 31 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the farm.

This workshop in particular will be based on teaching the key principles of permaculture (an eco-system approach to gardening). At the workshop, participants will learn hands-on techniques for garden designs that are "productive, healthy and engaging for people of all ages."

The cost for the workshop is $10 per person or $25 per family.

Schweitzer said she hopes the workshops and the overall vision of the garden will get people encouraged to learn more about establishing sustainable food sources and also just to get outside.

"I feel that we as a society are detached from earth," she said. "We're just rushing through life and I think that this farm and what we can do over there, for adults and children, is to slow down, reconnect, get your hands dirty, plant some seeds and watch those seeds grow into food. I'm doing this to bring about awareness and just talk about gardening."

When the garden gets off the ground, one of many initiatives will be to hold workshops on how to cook healthy things with the food they have grown.

For more information on how to get involved or how you can help, contact Julie Schweizer at julie.schweizer@sympatico.ca or visit www.schombergcommunityfarm.ca.

Schomberg Community Farm committee members Cheryl Fisher and Julie Schweizer weeding their first garden with some sprouting garlic cloves that they planted in the fall. The Schomberg Community Garden is in the early stages of establishing itself and members are currently campaigning to raise $80,000 to build a bridge to have access to the lot.

Breakthrough Treatment Now Available in Richmond Hill

Imagine thirty to forty years ago if you were told that lasers would replace scalpels in surgery or that robotic instruments would build cars; you may not have believed it. By the same token, would you believe that chiropractic treatments could be performed using a special hand-held instrument developed by NASA scientists, all while you were sitting in an upright position without any turning or twisting movements?

Advances in computers and engineering technologies have been able to uniquely blend with chiropractic in order to both analyze and treat the human body in such a way that was never before realized.

According to Dr. Sean Eastman, "This new form of computerized treatment is so gentle and effective, that it amazes even the most skeptical patients. It's called the ProAdjuster and is the latest, state-of-the-art technology in existence today, and the only one in the north Richmond Hill area.

The ProAdjuster can safely and gently analyze and treat the spine and other joints to remove the nerve impingement that is often the cause of pains in the lower back, neck, shoulder, and elsewhere in the body. It also works on a variety of muscular conditions to loosen tight muscles with ease and comfort. Many patients say that it's like getting a mini-massage.

It can also help increase the amount of motion in almost any joint. Even patients with knee, hip, and foot problems such as plantar fasciitis are being helped. It is also covered by insurance companies since this is a chiropractic treatment and does not cost you anything additional.

Dr. Eastman says that "The secret to the Pro-Adjuster lies in its advanced piezoelectric sensor that is able to detect the slightest amount of restriction in a joint and then deliver an extremely precise adjustment" He says that "Even though traditional forms of adjusting also work, people are drawn to this new technique because of how gentle it is and does not involve any twisting, especially in the neck. Many people love getting adjusted with traditional manual techniques, all of which are safe and effective. But there are a large number of people who never get to experience the amazing benefits of chiropractic because they are scared to have their spines adjusted in that way," says Dr. Eastman. Now, there is no longer a reason to be leary. The ProAdjuster is perfect for anyone who has been thinking about going to a chiropractor, but hasn't yet made that decision. Dr. Eastman wants everyone to be able to experience these same benefits and if you have any of the following conditions, the ProAdjuster may be the answer you've been looking for...

- Low Back discomfort
- Fibromyalgia
- Sciatic nerve pain
- Plantar Fasciitis
- Neck and shoulder pain
- Knee or hip pain
- TMJ dysfunction
- Scoliosis
- Carpal Tunnel Syndrome
- Arthritis
- Headaches
- Sports Injuries

Treatment with the ProAdjuster is consistent, measurable, and extremely gentle. There is no guesswork, and it's safe for individuals of all ages. Call within the next 7 days and you will also receive a complimentary nerve stress scan and computerized muscle test/SEMG that can show the areas of your stress and how it's affecting your body. Call our office today and book for only $35, regularly $125 and receive the FREE ProAdjuster analysis to pin-point your problem areas and to see how the ProAdjuster can help.

This technological marvel can help you return to a healthier lifestyle. You may no longer have to live with a persistent, painful condition. Call us today at 905-773-2225.

CDS senior girls' rugby team captures 10th CIS title

The Country Day School senior girls rugby team was successful in their bid to claim their 10th consecutive CIS championship, with a dominating 33-7 victory over Trinity College School last Friday.

It was the fourth time the two schools have met in the championship finals and second time in a row the CDS girls stomped their rivals from Trinity College School in the last two weeks.

The championship win is the cherry on the cake for the team after another stellar season on the field.

CDS tries were scored by Emma Soave (2 tries), Rachel Wong, Hayden Brown and McKinley Hunt.

CDS converts were kicked by Rachel Wong (2) and Olivia Hallis (2).

King's Corners

King City United
By Eleanor Fry

A very proud grandmother introduced her granddaughter to us on Sunday.

"Samantha's Story" - a page and a half was a very small look at the story Marilyn Munroe told of Samantha Field. After graduating from Brock U in the Outdoor Leisure & Recreation program, "Sam" went to experience the world.

Starting with camp counseling at summer camps to directing the leisure activities on cruise ships, working in Switzerland, climbing to base camp on Mt. Everest, building a brick and mud house in Vietnam with Habitat for Humanity. This summer she is camp director at Camp Big Canoe, where she spent many summers in her growing-up years. Sunday was a "Camping Day" service, so Sam was talking about all the good points of having children experience camping life at Camp Big Canoe.

This is the United Church of Canada camp, but that doesn't mean you have to go to church to be there. It is totally for everyone. The children learn how to accept everyone as a friend. Shake the hand of someone you thought was your enemy, find some new friends, enjoy evening vespers in the twilight, reach for the stars at campfire, learn campfire songs. This is what Camp Big Canoe has to offer, and this summer Sam will be there to lead you.

U.C.W. meeting is now Wednesday June 4, at 7 p.m. at KCUC. The topic is "In your Garden" with Susan Feindell hosting. Everyone is welcome.

Reverend Evelyn McLachlan is back in her office. She can be reached at kcucmin@bellnet.ca.

Tickets are available for the Manitoulin Fish Fry. Friday, June 13 from 4:30 to 7 p.m. at KCUC. Adults $15, children $5. For tickets call Al Henderson, 905-833-5047. There will be some available at the door. This is for everyone in the community. Join in to enjoy the yummy whitefish from the Island.

Nancy, our secretary, is on sick leave. We wish her a speedy and healthy recovery. We miss her. Meantime your phone calls and emails will be answered - 905-833-5181, email kcuc@bellnet.ca.

Our Sunday worship is at 10 a.m. with Sunday School. Join us after for refreshments and coffee. 50 Elizabeth Grove.

Any items for local paper - email donaldedly@sympatico.ca or call Eleanor Fry, 905-833-5954.

King City Seniors' Centre

Councillor Debbie Schaefer will be the guest speaker at the King City Seniors' Centre on Tuesday, June 10 at 11 a.m. The topic of her address will be "Development in King." Everyone is welcome.

The King City Seniors Centre will hold an open house on Friday, May 30 at 2 p.m. Everyone is welcome to come out and see a presentation of the many varied activities available at the centre. Included in this lengthy list of social events are card games, bowling, art classes, bingo, badminton, carpet bowling, fitness classes, shuffleboard, a walking club and our always popular Travel Club.

There's also regular luncheons, special event get-togethers, guest speakers and lots, lots more. Come out, bring a friend and discover what "The Centre" has to offer you. For further information, call Carol Field at 905-833-3324.

On Thursday, June 26, we will travel to Penetanguishene for lunch at Captain Robert's Table, followed by the hilarious play "Run For Your Wife" at the King's Wharf Theatre. The coach will leave the arena parking lot at 10 a.m. The cost is $106 per person, all inclusive.

Tickets may also be reserved by calling Jane at 905-833-5870 or Nora at 905-833-6162.

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church invites you to join us Sunday mornings for our worship service at 10:30 a.m. with Sunday School and Nursery Care running concurrently. Stay afterwards for "coffee and catch-up" while the children play.

Last Sunday, while the Rev. Dr. John Vissers and Lynn were attending their son Grant's graduation from Princeton Theological Seminary, we welcomed back Mr. Peter Leyland, an elder from St. Andrew's, Newmarket. Peter will also be leading us in worship this Sunday, June 1 while Rev. John attends the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada in Waterloo. John will continue his new series on the importance of music in the Bible when he returns June 8, when we will be celebrating Communion.

This Sunday, following the church service, everyone is invited to get their refreshments and stay for a Sustainability King Presentation by LCol (ret'd) Susan Beharriell. "What are we doing to keep King Green? Are we acting responsibly re the stewardship of the earth?"

Tell your neighbours and friends that Vacation Bible School is coming again this summer at St. Andrew's. We're having "Son Harvest," a farm/harvest theme with lots of fun activities for school-aged boys and girls, 5 -12 years of age, July 7-10, from 9 a.m. to noon. It's $15 per child for the 4 days. Call the church office for more information and registration.

The Ladies Prayer Time is at 9 a.m. each Tuesday, meeting in the narthex of the church. All ladies are welcome to this special time of fellowship and reflection as we join in prayer to our Heavenly Father.

Should you have prayer requests, praise items or any questions or concerns, please contact the church office at 905-833-2325 or call Kathy Patterson, clerk of session at 905-833-0391.

Speaking of prayer and praise, Kathy and Bill Patterson are first-time grandparents! Elinor (Ellie) Kathleen Reedman was born Monday, May 19 in East York to Lindsey Patterson and Alex Reedman, son of Kathy and Norm Reedman, Kettleby. Everyone is doing well and is so thankful for this beautiful gift from God.

For pastoral care needs please contact Lynn Vissers, our Director of Congregational Ministries at 905-833-5762. Our church is located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. There is a ramp available for accessibility. www.standrews-kingcity.ca.

All Saints By Nicola Skinner

How blissful it is to feel the warmth of the sunshine after our long, hard winter!

There is something about the brightness of the early morning sun and the sound of birds and frogs that produces joy in the human spirit.

This month at All Saints we have been able to witness the trees that were planted along our Keele Street lawn begin to bloom. These were planted a couple of years ago in memory of loved ones, and this Sunday we will be planting a Japanese Maple at our Doctors Lane end in memory of Sharon Rowlandson. Sharon was a much loved member of our choir and congregation. She left us far too early, but she had tremendous faith and loved nothing more than to sit outside and admire all vibrant colours of God's maple trees. We will think of her when we admire this one from our office windows.

There is also a meeting of the Parish Council immediately after church. Anyone who comes to All Saints is welcome to join us for this Pot Luck meeting. It won't last too long, we know you all have gardening to do!

Next Sunday, June 8 is our Parish Picnic at Kingswood farm on the King Vaughan Townline following the 10:30 a.m. service. Join us for a bouncy castle, races, ducks and geese, cow watching (they usually watch us) and a great barbeque! Just bring a starter or a dessert to share.

The Kidzone for the King City Craft Beer and Food Truck Festival will take place on our property on Saturday, June 14 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Come into Town and join in the fun! Our Farmers' Market of the year starts the next day. We have fabulous vendors, including some new ones this year. It is also Father's Day, so bring your dad for a free peameal on a bun as a Father's Day gift from us! The market runs from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. We look forward to seeing even more people this year as word of mouth spreads.

All Saints is an inclusive and welcoming Anglican church in the heart of King City. We strive to be a community of compassion and hope, following in the footsteps of Jesus. Service times are 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. We are located at 12935 Keele Street, King City. See www.allsaintskingcity.com. Please leave messages at 905-833-5432, and I will return your call.
