Schulte elected the first MP for King-Vaughan

By Mark Pavilons

Following the national trend, the first MP to represent the riding of King-Vaughan is Liberal.

Deb Schulte became our first MP Monday night, outpacing her counterparts. Unlike the rest of Canada, the local race was a tight one, even though Schulte held the advantage throughout the evening, from the earliest polls reporting in.

Schulte won the election with 25,938 votes, 1,768 ahead of Conservative candidate Konstantin Toubis, who garnered 24,170. Schulte captured 47.4% of the vote. The voter turnout in King-Vaughan was a little over 64% for this historic election.

NDP candidate Natalie Rizzo finished third with 3,571 votes (6.5%) ahead of Green Party candidate Ann Raney, who earned 1,037 votes (1.9%).

Peter Van Loan, Conservative incumbent in York-Simcoe, survived the Liberal onslaught and handily defeated Liberal candidate Shaun Tanaka. Van Loan garnered 24,058 votes (50.2%), ahead of Tanaka who earned 18,083 votes (37.8%). NDP candidate Sylvia Gerl finished third with 4,255 votes, ahead of Green Party candidate Mark Vitala, who captured 1,483.

Paul Calandra, Conservative candidate in Markham-Stouffville, lost to Liberal Jane Philpott.

Nationally, the Liberals won 184 seats and a majority government, with the Conservatives (99 seats) relegated to the Official Opposition. The Liberal gains came at the expense of the Conservatives and NDP.

PUBLIC NOTICES

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF KING NOTICE OF INTENTION TO DESIGNATE PROPERTIES UNDER THE ONTARIO HERITAGE ACT

In the matter of the Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O. 1990, c.O.18 as amended and in the matter of lands and premises described as Plan 85 Lots 31 and 32 and municipally known as 2169 King Road and 2175 King Road in the Township of King in the Regional Municipality of York, Province of Ontario:

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of King intends to designate the following properties as properties of cultural heritage value or interest under Part IV, S. 29 of the Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O. 1990:

Victorian-Style Ontario Farmhouse, 2169 King Road
Ontario Cottage-Style Building, 2175 King Road

Statements of Significance:

Victorian-Style Ontario Farmhouse, 2169 King Road

Located on the south side of King Road, between Fisher Street and Patton Street, the property is situated prominently along the streetscape of King Road. Originally constructed circa 1896, the 1.5 storey building is valued for its design as a fine, well-crafted representative example of a Victorian-style Ontario Farmhouse. Its design is particularly distinguished by its L-shaped plan, which prominently extends towards the street, framing the front verandah and emphasizing the front bay windows. The building is set apart from others nearby due to the original yellow brick exterior with red brick quoining. Other features, such as the steep gable along the front façade and the gothic window below demonstrate a unique mixture of styles.

Constructed circa 1896, the building is one of the few remaining in the area from the period. The building was originally built and occupied by George Norman. The Norman family had many ties to the community since their arrival in the 1800's. In later years, the building was used as a parsonage for the nearby Bethel Baptist Church and as a private residence after the Church closed. The building continues to serve the community as a commercial property.

The building is visually, historically, physically and functionally connected to its setting on the south side of King Road, where it complements the neighbouring buildings in scale, setback and historic detailing. The building, as with many of those along the south side of King Road, is a turn of the century residential building that reflects the early development of the community. Since its construction, the building has served to define, support and maintain the character of the area.

Ontario Cottage-Style Building, 2175 King Road

Located on the south east corner of King Road and Fisher Street, the property is situated prominently along the streetscape of King Road. Originally constructed circa 1896, the 1.5 storey building is a unique example of the Ontario Cottage style. This style is evident through the rectangular 1.5 storey plan, with its central door and prominent steep gable above. The building displays a mixture of architectural styles, further defining its heritage value, such as the gothic style window below the centre gable. The board and batten exterior, alongside the long wrap-around verandah with decorative treillage, provide a distinct presence along King Road.

The building was originally constructed circa 1896, and is one of the few remaining from the period. The building was originally occupied by Henry Teasdale, a merchant and member of the Sons of Temperance. Other notable families from the Township that occupied the building included the Jenkins and the Loves. In later years, the building alternated between residential and commercial uses, including the Ellondale Florist and its current use as a law office.

The built form of the building combined with its setback from the road is visually, historically, physically and functionally linked to its surroundings. It serves to preserve the associated scale and built form that is characteristic of late 19th century residential development in King City. Given its prominent siting on the south east corner of King Road and Fisher Street, it serves to assist in anchoring the intersection, with the unique architectural details and style of the building further emphasized.

FURTHER INFORMATION regarding this project is available at the Township of King, Clerks Department at the address below, from 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m., Monday – Friday.

ANY PERSON may, within thirty (30) days of publication of this notice, send by registered mail or deliver to the Clerk of the Township of King notice of his or her objection to the designation, together with a statement of the reasons for the objection and all relevant facts. When a Notice of Objection has been received, the Council of the Township of King will refer the matter to the Conservation Review Board for a hearing and report.

Dated at the Township of King this 22nd day of October, 2015.

Publication Date: October 22nd, 2015.

Schulte rides the wave

The Liberal landslide seemed evident from the one-sided results from the east coast, which came in before the polls closed in Ontario.

As the night progressed, volunteers and supporters at the Schulte victory party in Maple went from happy to ecstatic. The crowd erupted every time a Liberal was elected across the GTA and the country. The venue was packed, as people were anxious to get a glimpse of their newest MP.

When Schulte arrived, she was literally swarmed by party faithful and it took her roughly 40 minutes just to make it out of the doorway of 9Baci on Keele Street.

Schulte said she benefited from the "Trudeau wave," noting the Liberals had a good platform. Trudeau, she said, is "an amazing leader" and as the campaign progressed, people saw that.

"I'm glad to be part of that," she said.

Peter Van Loan was one of the few Conservatives who were re-elected Monday night. Van Loan continues as MP for York-Simcoe.

"I'm thrilled. It's a wonderful opportunity."

Schulte said she the victory, and the majority, were "over the top."

"I'm here because of you," she told her supporters. She was filled with emotion as she expressed her gratitude to those who helped make it happen, including her husband and campaign manager.

"I'm looking at the all the faces," she said with a smile, pointing out the miles they walked with her on the campaign trail. "The energy has just been incredible."

With the majority, Schulte said she now gets to carry out some of the things included in their platform for her constituents. The majority is an "incredible gift. Now we can get some of this stuff done," she said.

While there were some challenges during the campaign, "no one was going to shut the red machine down."

Schulte said it was a privilege to campaign alongside Raney and Rizzo and she looks forward to working with them in the future. She called them on election day and she said she hopes they both remain active in the political realm.

Man charged with fraud

A 62-year-old King Township man has been charged with fraud by York Regional Police.

Police arrested the man Oct. 14 and charged with fraud over $5,000 by YRP Major Fraud Unit investigators. The man was boarding a flight for Panama at Pearson International Airport.

Police allege that between 2001 and 2013 the accused, while employed as the manager of the Carrying Place Golf and Country Club on Weston Road in King Township, defrauded the club of $92,000 by selling shares of the club to new members and misappropriating the money.

The accused was released from the Newmarket Court on a Recognizance of Bail and will be appearing next in court on Nov. 12.

Embracing our trusted companions

I said farewell to an old friend last week, but luckily made a new one in quick order.

Some of us are social creatures and make friends easily. Others take some prompting. I've always been a bit on the extroverted side, but in all honesty, I have but a few close friends.

We all have companions that we love, cherish and depend on. I have no regrets with my last relationship - he was dependable; didn't ask for much and served me well. I spent more time with him than I did with my children. Like my own, I appreciated him when he behaved, but chastized him when he didn't.

Alas, he outgrew his usefulness and while that sounds harsh, that's life.

These types of friendships are relatively easy to initiate and pretty simple to maintain. They do require regular maintenance and attention, though, to make them work flawlessly.

I will caution everyone, that these can be rather expensive undertakings. Similar to a "bro-ship," they involve some initial outlay and we tend to throw money around to dress to impress. After a while, we back off, but put in just enough to keep things rolling along.

We knew each other well for the last two years or so. In that short time, we became really close.

I became quite familiar with his demeanour, quirks, strengths and weaknesses. We shared many laughs on the road together.

Things started to unravel a few months ago. The rumblings of dissent began. First, there were some late arrivals and no-shows. Then, some last-minute appointments and check-ups.

He became quite cranky and we began to grow apart, even though we had this love-hate thing going on.

You hold on as long as you can. Neither of us wanted to let go or say goodbye.

So, you keep up appearances, continue to make excuses and carry on.

But we all know the time has to come to put your foot down and make a decision.

The situation was escalating to the point it was no longer safe. My 17-year-old daughter was starting to spend a lot of time with my friend and I had to ensure her safety and well being. She was really starting to warm up to him.

One day, while driving through Nobleton on King Road, I spotted her. She'd been around the block a few times, but I didn't mind at all. I do respect experience and wisdom.

Physically, she was nice enough, but nothing spectacular. Call me old-fashioned, but I don't mind plain and simple. Hey, I'm practical.

Before you get the wrong idea here, I am talking about a car.

Yes, an automobile.

I had to get rid of my 2002 Chev Venture mini-van because it was becoming a bit of an eyesore, and required several hundred dollars in repairs just to keep it on the road. I felt the money was better spent on a set of less troublesome wheels.

I'm not in the position to purchase a new car. In fact, I never have. The closest I came was buying a two-year-old Pontiac Bonneville from a GM dealer. I loved her immensely.

So, I had to find something dependable that would last me a year or two, without costing me a fortune in repairs.

I scanned autotrader.ca and kijiji and called people I knew in the area.

I have driven past King Road Auto for years, maybe even decades. I always wanted to stop in and chat with the owner, Norm. It looked like a place where you could get a decent second-hand car for a reasonable price.

I was right.

I found a 2002 Buick Century in very decent condition.

While Buick sedans have a reputation for being a bit of an "older person's car," they're popular and remain as one of the most dependable North American vehicles.

In fact, Buick is the oldest active North American automaker and oldest brand (along with Oldsmobile). In recent years, it has attracted a younger demographic and it's well positioned as a "premium marque" to compete with many entry level luxury imports.

I prefer a slightly larger car, to accommodate my slightly larger frame. In my opinion, a car is too small if the driver can reach across the passenger seat and open the passenger side window. However, a couple of my mid-life crisis impractical wish list cars include a VW Karmann Ghia and a Porsche 914.

I have had many love-hate relationships with automobiles in my life. I do love them. But I do hate the repair bills, and I've been on the receiving end of some whoppers.

I've heard that some automakers are vowing to have electric, or hybrid-only cars by 2050, thus ending the reign of the gas-powered horseless carriage. I'd be 87 that year, so I doubt I'd be in the market for a self-driving, solar-powered vehicle. But you never know. I also plan to get my essence downloaded into a robot, but that's another story.

I hope to build a mutually beneficial relationship with my new gal.

To my special friends and loved ones, I salute you and thank you for being part of my life. They are, in no particular order:

A 1970 Camaro RS; 1973 Dodge Charger; 1973 Dodge Dart Sport; 1981 VW Rabbit; 1973 VW Super Beetle ...

Letter to the Editor

Thanks for gala support

A heartfelt thanks for the community's support of the second Sip & Savour event in support of King Township Food Bank.

Hats off to MC Art Hindle, musical guest Catherine Hughes and auctioneer David Beasley, who greatly improved the bottom line in the most entertaining way. Thank you to Mayor Pellegrini and all of the councilors who attended.

Thanks to the Nobleton and King City firefighters who provided greeters in dress uniform to formally usher the guests into the venue.

Thank you to the volunteers, who helped collect auction items, and set up and took down the room.

And last but certainly not least, thank you to all those who purchased tickets and attended - after all, there's no party without guests!

This was an event that could never have taken place without each and every one of you.

To our sponsors, your generosity ensured that all of the food and drink - and it was lavish - was entirely paid for, allowing 100% of the proceeds from every ticket and every auction item to go straight to the families the Food Bank serves.

To Nobleton Lakes Golf Club, thank you for donating the venue and putting your heart and soul into the food preparation.

To Party Magic and Dorio's Bakery, thank you for transforming the venue with Hollywood drama. A sincere thanks to our auction item donors.

To all of the guests who attended, thank you for coming, thank you for having a great time, and thank you for bidding so generously on our auction items.

You have helped raise $35,000 for King Township Food Bank, well over last year's results of $20,000. Take a bow!

Finally, to Richard and Sandra Gladden, our heartfelt thanks for your incredibly generous donation of $10,000, which was presented during the evening. This is the largest donation in the history of the King Township Food Bank, and combined with the proceeds from Sip & Savour, means that the Food Bank has received a much needed $45,000!

NDQ achievement worthy of Nobel Prize

By Aladin Jarrah

There is much fuss and bother over the 2015 Nobel Peace Prize, which is to be awarded to The National Dialogue Quartet in Tunisia this coming December.

Back in the fall of 2013, Tunisia's newfound democracy was in grave danger, with the fledgling constitution unfinished and the country on the brink of war. Four civil society groups – the main labor union, the bar association, the employers' association and the human rights league – stepped up to the plate. Working together, they got the Islamist government to agree to resign in favour of a caretaker government that would organize new elections. These groups, together, were dubbed the National Dialogue Quartet, and are the recipients that have caused such ire in Norway.

The argument from the powers that be is that this "isn't what Alfred Nobel would have wanted." Nobel wrote in his will that his peace prize should go to "the person who shall have done the most or the best work for fraternity between nations, for the abolition or reduction of standing armies and for the holding and promotion of peace congresses."

Nobel Peace Prize Watch (NPPW) says the Quartet "is clearly outside the circle of recipients Nobel had in mind." So does Fredrik Heffermehl, who served as vice-president of the International Peace Bureau and also is a founder of the NPPW.

This award has been controversial before. Previous recipients include Barak Obama, President of the United States. However you feel about the man, there can be little doubt that the President, in his role as Commander In Chief of the massive U.S. war machine, has ordered more than his fair share of "non-peaceful" actions. Even in his acceptance speech he talked about how aggression was sometimes justifiable.

NPPW might be right, they might be wrong. The NDQ may or may not be the most deserving recipient. But the argument that awarding the NDQ "isn't what Nobel would have wanted" is what is alarming here.

Alfred Nobel died 120 years ago, and the world is a very different place than it was back then. Even he could not have imagined what has transformed the world since Queen Victoria was "not amused."

Two World Wars, the invention of the refrigerator, the rise and fall of communism, radio, Apartheid, the invention of the automobile, nuclear weapons, the oil crisis, the holocaust, antibiotics, extremism in all flavours, air flight, the creation of the state of Israel, the Vietnam war, the television, the Internet ... all events that were unimaginable to Nobel and have irrevocably shaped the evolution of the world since his death in 1896.

And therein lies the rub. That which does not evolve, dies. Conversely, everything that doesn't die evolves, and it does so in the context of a changing reality to ensure its survival. Anything that doesn't, that adheres to the words and not their underlying meaning, is at best doomed to irrelevance.

Not to suggest that Heffermehl's outrage is unfounded. He is a top scholar and has studied Nobel's correspondence first hand. But he is taking Nobel's words too literally, out of context, and ultimately missing the point, which is this:

In a part of the world that is deeply troubled, highly volatile and constantly interfered with by the West, a few groups got together and talked (TALK-ED!) an Islamist government into stepping down.

Taken in context, that is tantamount to magic. It's a magic we might never see because we will never know what could have happened in North Africa if the NDQ had failed. Certainly the region remains tumultuous and prone to outbreaks of violence.

But their achievement is nothing short of monumental, and wholly in the spirit of the intentions of Alfred Nobel.

CCACs 'failing patients miserably,' MPP Munro says

The Auditor General of Ontario released her report on the financial operations and service delivery of the 14 Community Care Access Centres (CCACs) in Ontario. The report stresses that the Liberal government must take urgent action to address the poor state of the home and community care sector in Ontario.

"Complaints about Ontario's home and community care sector is the number one phone call I receive in my constituency office," said York-Simcoe MPP Julia Munro. "Yet in the 12 years the Liberals have been in government, there has been no thorough evaluation of the current CCAC service-delivery model to ensure it's working in the best interest of patients. Where is the accountability?"

The report also revealed that only 61% of CCAC dollars go to face-to-face care. That means 40% of the budget isn't going to healthcare and is instead going to administration and bureaucracy. Administration such as the 54% increase of the salary of the Central CCAC CEO between 2009 and 2013 – making them the highest paid CCAC CEO in the province - or the CCAC's 43 employees making $100,000 salary or higher.

"These salaries are paid from resources that should be going to strengthen front-line patient care," added Munro. "Meanwhile, Central CCAC has 3.8 long-term care beds for every 1,000 residents, compared to the provincial average of 5.8 long-term care beds. This is unacceptable – the government has not built one new long-term care bed since 2003.

"Home and community care has the opportunity to improve health outcomes and cost-effectiveness in our health care system. The Wynne Liberals must make this a priority and take an approach that puts patients - not administrative waste or a lack of accountability – at the centre of decision-making."

Resident helps bring Clydesdales to the world stage

By Mark Pavilons

"There is something about the outside of a horse that is good for the inside of a man."

Winston Churchill

A lovely horse is always an experience. It is an emotional experience of the kind that is often spoiled by words.

Just ask King's Rob Wilson, who was part of the 2015 World Clydesdale Show, held Sept. 29 to Oct. 3 in London, Ontario.

The heavy horse event drew record crowds, largely from southern Ontario. Many of the individual events were standing room only, which came as a bit of a surprise to Wilson and the 20-member organizing committee.

In all, 569 horses descended upon the Western Fair District Agriplex for the five-day extravaganza.

The World Clydesdale Show, which started in 1999, tends to be held every four years, and has been referred to as the "Olympics for Clydesdales."

The 2007 and 2011 shows were held in Wisconsin and organizers wanted it to return to Canada in 2015. The committee spent more than four years working on this huge event, which presented many logistical challenges, not the least of which was finding a location to house and support so many people and horses. "We had a big event," Wilson said. "We didn't realize how much work was involved."

A glance at the numbers shows just how big the event was. It had 141 entrants in 86 classes, with 16 eight-horse hitches. They required 741 stalls and 2,276 shoes.

With only local advertising, the crowds kept growing exponentially, from opening night through to the closing ceremonies.

Unlike other horse shows, this is a single breed event that featured the most recognizable of heavy horses.

It was an unprecedented success and Wilson observed that it's very much a social event with the Clydesdale community. Exhibitors came from all across Canada and the U.S., with a handful of spectators from Scotland, England, Ireland, Germany, France, Australia and New Zealand.

Wilson was in charge of the opening ceremonies and he was fortunate to secure the London Police Service Colour Guard and London Fire Fighters Pipe Band, both of which wowed the crowds.

Wilson has had horses for decades and they included both light and heavy horses.

"I thoroughly enjoyed it," he said.

Any livestock, he pointed out, requires a great deal of care and responsibility.

The Clydesdale was raised in Scotland's Valley of the Clyde for more than 300 years. Breed records began in 1750 and The Clydesdale Horse Society of Great Britain and Ireland was founded in 1877. The first Clydesdale to enter Canada in 1840 was a stallion named Cumberland. Clydesdales have long enjoyed undisputed supremacy among the draft horse breeds in Canada.

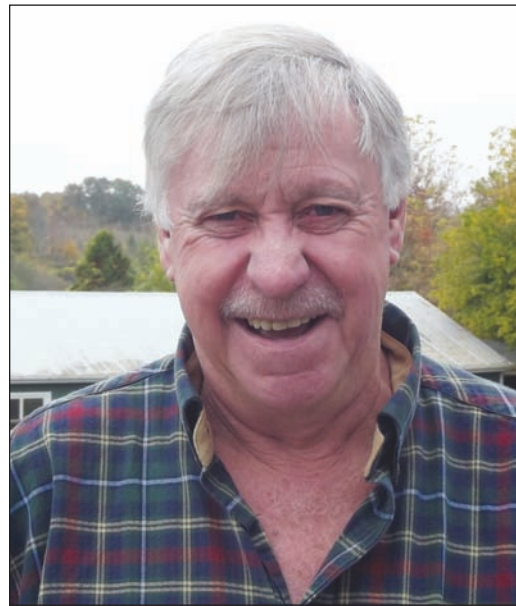

Of all the heavy horses, Wilson finds the Clydesdale to be a "very pretty horse."

They're very friendly, gentle and sensitive animals. Seeing them hitched, or in a parade is an amazing experience. Wilson said when you guide a team of Clydesdales out of their stall, groom them and harness them, they seem to swell with pride – a sense of purpose and duty if you will. They simply love to work.

They patiently wait for the final horse to be hooked up, before the handler gives the signal to go. That moment, no matter how many times he's seen it, "just gets you," Wilson observed. The passion and joy in his eyes are evident. He's overwhelmed just talking about it.

If you look into the eyes of a heavy horse, while stroking its powerful neck, you may just be at a loss for words. And that's how it should be.

KCSS adds three to prestigious Case of Distinction

By Jake Courtepatte

Three more photos now adorn King City Secondary School's "Case of Distinction," joining dozens who have made a positive contribution to their local communities, country, and world.

Ben Diplock, Joe Jackman, and Dr. Robert Sargeant were honoured in a special ceremony at the school recently, attended by family, well-wishers, as well as old teachers. All three took their own unique path in reaching the achievement.

Jackman sees himself as a "reinventionist." As the CEO of Jackman Reinvents, he is at the helm of an organization that works to reinvent the retail experience for customers. His experience includes helping launch the Joe Fresh brand as executive VP of marketing at Loblaws, as well as leadership roles with Old Navy.

His focus is on evolving the idea of brands, something he says is crucial in driving the market forward. In his speech, he quoted the words of musician Jerry Garcia, a quote he himself lives by:

"You do not merely want to be the best of the best. You want to be the only ones who do what you do."

Sargeant recalls his time at KCSS as "pretty much an average student, in every way." He was a student of small stature, earning extra credit in gym class by working the lines at football games as well as sweeping the floor at basketball tournaments.

It was actually in his studies in the sciences at the University of Toronto, where he learned that he could be good at something if he only applied himself, that he gained the confidence to take on new athletic challenges.

He started running, bought a bike, and soon found himself taking on the grueling Ironman challenges – of which he has now completed several.

Sargeant says that KCSS provided a "solid foundation" as his teachers were always encouraging him to strive to be better.

Diplock, the youngest of the three, only graduated from the school in 2008. But his challenges began at an early age, having a brain tumour removed at The Hospital for Sick Children at the tender age of eight.

As a result of the surgery, he experienced a tremor, partial blindness, learning difficulties, and requiring special accommodations at school.

"I spent a good majority of my childhood feeling self-conscious of what made me different from my classmates," said Diplock. "Even though I had fantastic support and encouragement at home and throughout the community, I still saw my differences as negative.

He says it is when he arrived at KCSS that he began to understand the opportunities he had. He was involved in mentoring new students, excelled in academics, and even played football for the KCSS Lions.

"The things I saw as making me 'different and disabled' in the past all but disappeared, in the wake of a positive environment."

Ben Diplock, Joe Jackman, and Dr. Robert Sargeant are the newest inductees into King City Secondary School's 'Case of Distinction', honouring past students for their accomplishments.

He left KCSS to earn his bachelor's degree in psychology, neuroscience and behavior; and was able to land a spot in assisting with childhood brain cancer research at Sick Kids. He now works at Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto on projects to help the overall well-being of both brain tumour survivors and healthcare workers.

King's Sarah MacRae wins Hoedown Showdown

By Mark Pavilons

A King woman's musical career got a boost recently, after winning the Hoedown Showdown competition, put on by Magna.

Aspiring country artists brought down the house at the 27th annual Magna Hoedown and King City's Sarah MacRae took centre stage as the winner Sept. 19.

As the grand prize winner, MacRae, 24, won a $15,000 prize package, that included cash, a guitar and some career-altering mentoring and production.

She received two days of recording time at Metalworks Studios; mentorship by Tom Cross, MC & Associates; coaching by Beverley Mahood, Lee Daniels and Spin Music Inc. and song production by Mahood and Sam Ellis.

MacRae has been on a journey to discover her true musical self and winning the Magna Showdown confirms that she's following the right path.

With a Bachelor of Music from Humber College, Sarah's music combines the honesty of folk with catchy riffs, poetic lyrics and country subtleties to create a unique style that clearly reflects her personality. Having found country music a little later on in her life, she has a special appreciation for the artistry involved, she said.

"The song-writing skills that country musicians have is astonishing and constantly inspire and challenge me to write good, well-constructed songs," she said.

King City's Sunset Grill treats residents to home-made goodness

By Mark Pavilons

Sunset Grill in King City cooks with a great deal of TLC.

In fact, the family run restaurant is looking forward to meeting customers and being part of the growing community of King City.

This is the first franchise for owners Mona and Fred Kiameh, who vow to make your dining experience at Sunset Grill an exceptional one.

The Kiamehs note Sunset Grill has a great reputation with family oriented communities. Food is prepared daily fresh in house and cooked to order. In addition, the hours of operation also appealed to the couple.

They're excited to be part of the King City business landscape.

"Being a part of a new growing community is important to our family. We greatly believe that King City has a promising future and is a place where great people live."

Residents have welcomed them "with open arms."

"We had an overwhelming positive feedback from the community awaiting for Sunset Grill to be in town," Mona said. "The community has waited for us for a long time to open our doors for business which was in mid-May."

Favourite dishes are "Eggs Sunset" and their large variety of omelets. Sunset Burgers made with 8-ounce beef done in-house fresh daily has also been a great seller. Mona noted they are also popular with our freshly squeezed orange juice, grapefruit juice and lemonade that are shipped fresh from Florida to this location. "Our waffles and pancakes are delicious and mouth watering," she said.

Sunset Grill is open Monday to Friday, 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Saturday and Sundays, 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini, Councillors Cleve Mortelliti and Debbie Schaeffer teamed up with the owners and staff at the official opening of Sunset Grill in King City.

York Region enacts mandatory food handler certification bylaw

York Regional Council approved a mandatory food handler certification for food premises across York Region.

This bylaw will require at least one operator and one food handler be certified in safe food handling, and at least one certified food handler be present at all times during operation.

Implementation will be phased in over three years and will require high-risk premises with complex food preparation such as restaurants, child care centres and long-term care homes to have certified staff by the end of 2016. Moderate-risk premises such as take-out restaurants and coffee shops will require certification by the end of 2018.

Enforcement of the Mandatory Food Handler Certification bylaw will begin in 2017 and will become a routine component of food premise inspections.

To learn more about the Mandatory Food Handler Certification program and to register for the course, please visit york.ca/foodsafety.

Another 50 acres to be added to Happy Valley Forest

By Mark Pavilons

King's precious natural resources will soon grow by another 50 acres.

Council was pleased to allow staff to pursue the conveyance of a 51.9-acre parcel from a local landowner to the Nature Conservancy of Canada, stewards of Happy Valley Forest.

While the application is to transfer the lot for natural heritage conservation purposes, it still requires a zoning amendment to comply with the Oak ridges Moraine Conservation Plan. A new zoning would place the lands within an Oak Ridges Moraine Feature Protection zone.

The staff report and presentation by members of the public have been referred back to staff, who are awaiting input from commenting agencies before making their final recommendation to council.

The parcel has 15 metres of frontage on the 7th Concession, and it's part of a 100-acre parcel. It's covered by dense, deciduous forest, part of the Happy Valley Forest Reserve. It contains two detached dwellings and a large number of accessory structures.

According to Mark Stabb, of the Nature Conservancy, the property is part of the former Glen Echo Park, a natural club that ran from 1955 to 2009.

The small buildings on the site will be rendered uninhabitable and will be dismantled and removed.

Stabb is excited to be adding this parcel to the forest, noting there's an opportunity to protect more species at risk.

The conservancy has been working with York Region on a comprehensive trail system, adding all of Happy Valley's lands are open for public access.

Their vision is to enjoy nature, but to "tread lightly."

Councillor Linda Pabst asked whether trails would be opened up once again to local equestrians and Stabb said they look into it.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini said council is delighted to be expanding the lands around Happy Valley.

The application sterilizes the lands from development and provides for long-term protection of significant environmental features such as Happy Valley Forest.

Kettleby resident Vickie Hotte played a tape of some bird songs, including that of the ivory billed woodpecker, a critically endangered species.

"We don't want to see any species disappear," she noted, adding the Township should always acknowledge the area's "natural inhabitants."

Food Bank's Sip & Savour boosted by generosity

By Mark Pavilons

The stars really came out last week during the second annual gala in support of the King Township Food Bank.

Sip & Savour, held at Nobleton Lakes Golf Club, drew record numbers and record donations in support of a very worthy local cause.

Bolstered by some fancy auctioneering by both MC Art Hindle and auctioneer Dave Beasley, they doubled up on some valuable items.

The highlight of the evening was the very generous donation by King residents Richard and Sandra Gladden. They presented Food Bank president Carol Ann Trabert with a cheque for $10,000!

King Mayor Steve Pellegrini drew the Gladdens' attention to the local food bank. They also support the Newmarket food bank and the Blue Door shelter.

"It's the reliable generosity of people like the Gladdens and our web and event sponsors who make KTFB a sustainable organization, until someone finds a way to make food banks redundant," Trabert said.

With the totals for the gala still coming in, it was a $45,000-plus night for the Food Bank (Sip & Savour raised a whopping $35,000 on its own). That's a tremendous show of support from the community.

Gemini Award-winning actor Hindle offered up a unique prize for the auction. He offered a studio tour and behind-the-scenes glimpse of the new CBC drama "Shoot the Messenger." When bidding on one package ended, Hindle offered the second bidder the same package, which she accepted. That raised almost $4,000.

King's "Diva in the Rough" siren Catherine Hughes performed during the evening. She also offered a personal, in-home concert and dinner for eight as a live auction item. Again, as bidders competed for this coveted opportunity, Beasley and Hindle offered a second prize to the second-highest bidder, which was accepted.

"My special thanks go to Art Hindle and Catherine Hughes for doubling their donation to the live auction, thereby doubling the benefit to the Food Bank," Trabert added.

Other auction items included a private box at a Toronto Raptors' game, donated by Priestly Demolition, and a beautiful granite bench, donated by Allstone Quarry Products of Schomberg.

The silent auction included many interesting and valuable items, including work donated by local artists. The silent auction raised roughly $5,000.

Food and Hollywood were the central themes of the gala, and many came dressed to the 9s for a special night out. From the popular sushi station manned by King's Paper Crane, to freshly chucked oysters, guests enjoyed some special treats. Also popular were the pulled pork sliders and massive cheese and antipasto tables. Mike Yordanou and his staff at Nobleton Lakes outdid themselves again this year.

Event co-ordinator Margaret Hastings praised Scotiabank for selling tickets and matching the money raised.

"Scotiabank is proud to make a difference in the community we call home, King Township," said branch manager Natalie Latchman-Greaves. "Our enthusiastic team members worked actively to sell 158 tickets between Nobleton, and King City Branches. As a result of these efforts Scotiabank will be able to match $5,000 in funds raised through our Scotiabank Team Community Program to further support the King Food Bank."

"The Food Bank wants to thank Mar-

The highlight of the 2nd annual Sip & Savour fundraiser was the presentation of a cheque for $10,000 by Sandra and Richard Gladden, seen on both sides of Carol Ann Trabert, president of the Food Bank. Mayor Steve Pellegrini introduced the Gladdens and on stage was MC for the night, actor Art Hindle.

garet Hastings for her extraordinary leadership and vision regarding Sip & Savour. It was her concept from the word go, and she has executed two amazing events, the second being even more successful than the first. Her joining the board was a blessing even greater than we knew at the time," Trabert said.

"I am so grateful to our incredible sponsors for making this event possible. Their sponsorships cover all of the costs of Sip & Savour, so that every single dollar from ticket sales and the live and silent auctions goes straight to the families that we help," Hastings said.

"So many of our sponsors also gave of their time and energy to make this event successful. Scotiabank sold an incredible 158 tickets in their branches, and matched $5,000 of ticket sales with a donation. John's No Frills provided the produce, and Schomberg Foodland supplied all the deli meats. BMO supplied staff and machines for a secure check-out after the auction.

"I particularly want to thank our venue sponsor, Nobleton Lakes Golf Club, for their beautiful facilities, their wonderful staff and service, and for transforming the groceries we dropped off into such incredible delicacies.

"It was wonderful to see so many people from our community come out and support the Food Bank. We are so grateful for everyone's support."

Acknowledge Exceptional.

Cougars late charge not enough, fall below .500

By Jake Courtepatte

The Junior C Schomberg Cougars have hit an early season slump after a positive start to the Georgian Mid-Ontario Hockey League season.

They faced a challenge in Thursday's home match up with the Midland Flyers, a team that has surprised the league with a one-year turnaround from the basement of the standings to become a top contender.

Evan Woodhead and Blake Culley helped the Cougars jump out to a 2-0 lead in the first, but were swiftly countered by two of Midland's own to tie the game in the second. Joseph Mete notched one on the power play mid-way through the second to regain the lead for Schomberg.

Just minutes after the goal, a slash by Kiefer McIntosh and a retaliation from a Midland player resulted in a mele that would take close to 20 minutes for the referees to handle, resulting in six game ejections, including McIntosh, Mike Elia, and Derek Neilly. The scuff-up seemed to unwind the Schomberg bench, as the Cougars gave up three goals in the third period to succumb to the Flyers 5-3.

Loss to Otters

A back-and-forth affair in Huntsville the following night turned ugly for the Cougars late in the second period, with three unanswered goals sliding past goaltender Vince Michelizzi to give the Otters a 5-2 lead in the third.

Tanner Smith cut the lead to two with 13 minutes to play, followed by a shorthanded tally from team-leading scorer Ryley Egerton with just under five minutes to play. That would be as close as they would get, dropping the contest 5-4.

Michelizzi made 29 saves on 34 shots in the loss.

The latest additions to the loss column now mean Schomberg has won just one of their last five games, with only two wins coming in the month of October. On a positive note, the team's goal production has continued to shine since reaching last season's GMOHL final, currently third in the league in goals-for.

However, the same cannot be said for their power play numbers. Although impressive at even strength, the Cougars are last in the league in scoring on the power play, taking advantage of just over six per cent of opportunities this season.

Only one game is on the docket for the coming week, albeit a crucial one. On Thursday the Cougars will be looking to catch the Huntsville Otters on the standings page when they host them at the Trisan Centre, currently one win back of the Otters.

The team is 3-2-1 at home this year. Puck drop is at 8:30 p.m.

The U14 CDS Cyclones improved to a 5 - 0 record on Monday with a challenging 3 - 2 win over Sterling Hall School.

Late-game heroics keep Cylones undefeated

By Jake Courtepatte

The under-14 Country Day School Cyclones remained the team to be reckoned with in the CISAA soccer circuit with an exciting win on home field Monday.

Having dominated the competition in the west division leading to a 4-0 record, they were slightly caught off guard by a 2-2 Sterling Hall School team that came out determined to break their streak.

Most of the action in the opening minutes took place in the Cyclones' end, with possession numbers highly in the favour of SHS. However, it was CDS that got on the board first, a nice strike that fooled the SHS keeper. The home team was saved by the crossbar just before the first half whistle, taking a 1-nil lead into halftime.

With ends switched and extremely high winds, the game seemed to shift in the other direction. This time it was CDS that began the half with dominating possession, but the shutout was broken when the wind took a soft chip off a SHS player's foot and helped it sail over the keeper's head and into the Cyclones' net.

The Cyclones countered with a controversial tally just minutes later, with a number of SHS players calling on the referee for what they thought was a missed foul in the box.

With fire now in their bellies, SHS tied the game for the second time on a beautiful strike off the woodwork and in from around 30 feet out, ecstatic to perhaps keep CDS from earning a win for the first time all season.

Their celebration would be short-lived, as the Cyclones regained the lead late in the game on a beautiful tic-tac-toe play that ended with a downed keeper and a soft touch into the net. They preserved their perfect season with a 3-2 victory.

"It was a tough game for both sides, with the wind and the cold, but the boys worked hard and it paid off," said head coach Rob Waldron.

The match marked the first time all season CDS has allowed more than one goal against.

Although currently at the top of league standings, their biggest challenge remains to be seen in the final game of the regular season. The Cyclones visit Appleby College after press-time Wednesday in a battle of the undefeated teams, to determine first overall ranking heading into the final tournament.

The winners of the east and west divisions will battle it out on Oct. 31 at Bayview Glen in Toronto. For schedules and standings, visit www.cisaa.ca.

Justin Formenton earned two assists in the Schomberg Cougars 5-3 loss to the Midland Flyers at home last Thursday.

Rockettes return to King Curling Club action

By SHELEE MORNING

Ladies curling has come a long way since the 1800s when the stones were shaped more like tea kettles than the way they look today. The weight of the stone hasn't change over the years, but the dynamic quality of the rock and the technique of throwing it and has made leaps and bounds ... or should we say a "grand slam" of a revolution.

King's Tuesday night ladies league has also seen an enormous amount of growth over the past four years as their league now has 10 energetic teams taking to the sheets for their 5th season of play. Membership is not the only visual growth the league has encountered. The quality of curling has risen to a new level with a stronger competitive field and with a tighter than ever challenge to be the best.

The "Rockettes" can sweep, execute double and triple take-outs, and deliver to the pin as good as anyone who's up to the challenge. Last week's second game of the season saw teams still making minor adjustments to their squad whether it be by position or finding that perfect weight they had from last year.

All 4 sheet score boards began with a quiet first end opening with teams collecting a respectable 1 or 2 points. By the end of the 2nd end, one team on every sheet created a shift in their game producing a multiple count score, which in the end, would turn out to be a very lop-sided match result.

On sheet 4, Team Jessop challenged Team Stronach 10-1 in the draw's first early decision along with Team Morning taking charge over Team Russo 7-1 on sheet 3. Sheet 2 featured Team Bones against Team Gorseline where Bones claimed the 9-2 victory and sheet 1 had Sheardown against Brown with Brown setting it on cruise control to land the 10-1 win.

Highlights included a beautiful come-around draw to the pin for Kaye Groen on Team Morning to secure a 6-point lead in the 5th end. Skipper Fran Bones delivered timely rocks throughout her game for a solid leader's effort. Skip Anne Jessop (new team to the league) and her squad of Sandra MacDonald, Connie Fraser and Cindy Perkins-Rode, definitely indicated that they will be a team to reckon with after precision guards and soft take outs were added to their collection.

The late draw featuring Team Oakley versus Team Abbots anticipated being a high energetic game as Skip Torie Abbots and Jenny Frans returned to the ice, after missing the last few years to starting their families. After a few ends were exchanged and both teams getting on the board, Team Oakley would take control with their veteran status for an 8-3 win closing out round two in the ladies league.

In any sport a team that may have struggled in one game, does not set the tone for their season. Never underestimate. They will be back ready to play and in better form.

Skip Fran Bones (above) delivers her final stone in last week's 9-2 win over Team Gorseline. Skip Julie Oakley (below) throws her stone for an 8-3 win over Team Abbots in King Curling Club's Tuesday night Ladies League.

World Food Sunday reminds us of sharing

King's Corners

King City United
By Eleanor Fry

Sunday, Oct. 18 was World Food Sunday.

Reverend Evelyn started with the story of Naomi and Ruth. Naomi and her husband went to the land of Moab because of the famine in their homeland of Bethlehem. Their sons married Moabite women. Then Naomi's husband died, as did their sons. Naomi wanted to return to her homeland. Orpah chose to stay where she was, but Ruth the other daughter-in-law loved Naomi very much and chose to go with Naomi. She married there and Naomi became a great grandmother. One of these children was David, who is the lineage of Jesus. Ruth was so welcomed in this new land, she never felt like an outsider.

Who do you think of as outsiders? In our world today there are so many, a different culture, language, religion.

Our guest was Carol Ann Trabert, who leads the King Township Food Bank, now in its 10th year. Do we think of Food Bank clients as outsiders? Maybe they are from a different culture, a different language. It may be the family of the provider of the household who becomes sick, or is in an accident. Maybe a sick child who needs expensive health care and the family needs provisions. The Food Bank is often used as a bridging at a time when tough times happen. Food is there to sustain them. It is ours to share. May we be a community who welcomes outsiders, to be hope givers, a community of believers that accepts people no matter what their circumstances may be, or where they are from. We thank Carol Ann for enlightening us on the inside workings of the Food Bank and the work all the volunteers do to keep it in motion.

A big thanks to all who contributed their baking and their help for the success of the apple pie baking contest.

Some important dates coming up: The King City Nursery School and afternoon UCW unit are hosting a pumpkin carving and bake sale event. Bring your children or grandchildren for a fun morning of carving and pick up some baked goodies. Call 905-833-1631 for information.

On Sunday, Nov. 1, we will be honouring Reformation Sunday with a slide presentation with Earle and Evelyn when they share their visit to Wittenburg, Germany where the Reformation Movement began with Martin Luther nailing 95 theses to the church door. Join us to see and hear. Sunday, Nov. 8 is Remembrance Sunday. A guest speaker will be sharing her experience with the Juneau Beach Foundation and her tour of war sites in France. After worship our Bell Choir will host a "Bites & Bells" luncheon and mini concert at 11:30 a.m. Please invite friends and neighbours for all or just lunch and concert. Cost is a free will offering for the Bell Choir ministry.

Rev. Evelyn will be on vacation Oct. 19-26. Rev. Brian Nicholson of Nobleton United Church will be on call for emergencies (905-859-3976) from Oct. 19-24. For Oct. 25 & 26, Rev. Maria Mindszenty of Temperanceville United Church will take calls (416-496-2299). Wayne Lowdon will lead our worship.

Join us anytime for all our interesting happenings at King City United Church. Sunday at 10 am Worship, stay for cookies and coffee, 50 Elizabeth Grove. For any information call 905-833-5181, email kcuc@bellnet.ca. Reverend Evelyn McLachlan's email: kcucmin@bellnet.ca.

York Pines plans annual turkey supper

King Bible Church

Join us on Sunday, Oct. 25 as Pastor Mark will be continuing our sermon series Big Church with "Big Opportunities for KBC." This will be our Visioning Sunday!

We have Celebration Zone available downstairs for kids aged 4-Grade 6. We also have a Youth Bible Study for students in Grade 7-12. They meet 2-3 Sundays each month. Please see our website each week for the schedule.

We are enjoying our science-themed "Truth Lab Investigations" at KidZone this year. We would love for your kids (JK to Grade 6) to join us as we investigate different discoveries about Jesus with Dr. Luke. KidZone is every Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. It's a fun night to re-connect with friends and meet some new ones.

York Pines

Tickets are now available for the much anticipated Turkey Supper at the York Pines United Church. The date is Wednesday, Nov. 4 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Sponsored by the United Church Women this event features a traditional turkey supper with all the trimmings. Even the minister is making an apple pie! This cost is $15 for an adult ticket and $5 for a child's ticket, age five to 12. Under the age of five children eat free. You have the option to dine-in or take-out. To reserve your ticket call the church office at 905-727-8118. This fund-raising event provides dollars for the annual donations that the U.C.W. contribute to service agencies.

On Sunday, Nov. 1 the morning worship service will have a memorial character. You are welcome to bring a photo of a loved one who has died. Their picture will be placed on the communion table. During the prayers the worship leader will name the individuals and offer the petition, "Lord, tell them they are missed." The people will respond with the words, "Mediate to us the assurance that all is well with them." The worship service begins at 10:30 a.m. Newcomers and visitors are welcome.

St. Andrew's
By Kathy Patterson

Hey everybody, St. Andrew's invites you to join us this Sunday for the Junior Youth Group's Youth and Family Service at 10:30 a.m. They'll be participating in a special service and would love to have you come and bring a friend!

They have also asked one of Leaskdale Presbyterian Church's worship teams to bring their instruments to lead us in worship and praise. Come out and feel the energy! All are invited to stay for lunch following the service. Sunday School will resume next week.

Konnie Vissers was back with us and preached on being Ambassadors for Christ, based on 2 Corinthians 5:14-6:1. Konnie's husband, Grant Vissers took the Youth Time and talked to the kids while wearing his Blue Jays cap. He asked them how they knew he was a Fan! How do people know we are Fans of Jesus? Is it obvious?

Being the third Sunday of the month, Family Fun took place following the service, starting with lunch followed by a program for the family to do together. It looked like the group was going to have a great time.

Donations of food and clothing continue to be collected in the Narthex for the KT Food Bank and for Evangel Hall. Winter is coming and warm clothing and personal care items are needed. Donations to "Give a Mug a Hug" for Evangel Hall are also being collected in the Narthex (mugs and $5 Tim Hortons or McDonald's gift cards).

Congratulations to our Bonnie Mooney for winning her category in the Pie Contest last Saturday at the King City United Church. This was a fundraiser for Christmas in King (CiK) which supplies Christmas hampers and presents where needed.

The King City Lodge Visitation is Thursday, Oct. 22. Meet in the church parking lot for car-pooling. The service is at 2 p.m.

Saturday morning, Oct. 31 is the Fall Yard Clean-up. Bring your rakes, but costumes are optional!

All Saints Anglican Church
By Diana Armitage

Sunday, Oct. 25 is Vestry! The meeting will be part of, but towards the end, of the 10:30 a.m. service. Please bring something to share for a nibble after the service, if you wish.

St. Paul's youth leader starts '4:12 Unplugged'

Nobleton Notes

By Angie Maccarone
905-859-5174

St. Paul's Church

Starting this fall, the Youth Group will meet on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. Check here for details or contact our Youth Leader Taylor Scott at scottie_tay@yahoo.ca.

Join us Sunday, Oct. 25 at 10 a.m. as we welcome Norm Allen of Touchstone Ministries to the pulpit.

FirstLink child care (for children 3 years of age and younger) is provided during the gathering and our Regular KidzKonnection and NextStep Programs (for children ages 4 to 11) take place at the same time.

Taylor Scott has begun a program for the youth following the worship gathering. It is called 4:12 Unplugged. It is a chance for teens to hang out, drink hot chocolate and ask tough questions about God and to talk about the sermon message. A fun, laid back way to get connected in the church.

Jeff has a blog and he records his weekly messages there after worship each Sunday. Anyone interested in listening to his messages can go to www.passionatelyhis.com to hear them.

For more information about any of our activities or events, please contact the church office at 905-859-0843 or visit our website at www.stpaulsnobleton.ca.

Nobleton United By Nancy Hopkinson

Our Joint Anniversary Service with Schomberg United is on Oct. 25 at 11:15 a.m. in Nobleton. We are inviting all of the King community to celebrate, especially St. Alban's Anglicans, quilters, families with three generations of women, farmers, woodworkers, and former members of Laskay United Church, former choir members and those interested in heritage. We will be celebrating our roots through very brief stories of our cross and the six stained glass windows. Nobleton United Church was built in 1896. We will hear some of Schomberg United Church's history as well as it is also their anniversary, although it has been around even longer than our church. Did you know that when Laskay United Church closed, it donated two stained glass windows to Nobleton United and two to King City United? We will be having a light lunch afterwards. Do join us.

On Saturday Oct. 31, we will be having our Craft and Bake Sale. There will be a BBQ (weather permitting) and a lunch room (autumn or broccoli soup this year with fresh buns, cheese, veggie sticks, tea and cookies). There will be handcrafts (quilts of all sizes, knitted goods, slippers, placemats), gourmet (pickles, soups, jams, frozen beef pies, frozen turkey pies), baking (dessert pies, squares, cookies, loaves) and miscellaneous. New items are accepted and we are looking for donations of unique handcrafted items. For more info, contact Fran Bones at 905-859-3819. Several of the ladies of the church have been enjoying friendship and fellowship in our two "pie bees", as we prepare for the Craft and Bake sale.

To see photos from Messy Church, visit our new Facebook page. One of the photos shows Septembers' theme "I am the true vine." The children walked along the vine and their toes were supposed to look like grapes. October's theme was "I am the light of the world." We made sparkly headbands (using glitter glue and stick on stars), lanterns, and stained glass pictures using coloured tissue paper. At story time, we turned off the lights and used the candles to admire the headbands. The reflections from the headbands made them look amazing.

Lions ready for events

On behalf of the Lions and all the organizations that we support, a very big thank you to all who buy a ticket. Winners will be announced here.

Upcoming in the month of November is the annual clothing drive to be held on Saturday, Nov. 7. Good used clothes, and small household articles will be accepted and put to good use by the Salvation Army. Residents are advised to have donations on their porch or curb as pickups will begin by 9 a.m. and be completed by noon. Watch for a flyer which will be mailed prior to the event, and can be attached to bags or boxes which are set out.

Residents are asked to remember that the Lions have arranged to collect old eye glasses and refurbish and distribute them to those in need. Old eyeglasses can be dropped off at the Pharmacy, where they will be collected for this purpose.

Upcoming community events in December include the Annual Skating Party which will be held at the Nobleton Arena with free skating for all, and Santa will be visiting to see the children. Watch this space for more details.

For information on these and other events, please visit our website: www.NobletonLions.com

Horticulture
By John Arnott

Do you have a place in your garden where it seems nothing wants to grow? I do, it's in front of a leggy shrub.

While the shrub is quite beautiful when in bloom its multiplicity of long bare splotchy marked grey stems are certainly not. Thus I'm hoping Gary Westlake, guest speaker at Nobleton-King City Horticultural Society's final meeting and flower show this coming Monday, Oct. 26, with his intriguing presentation "Garden Art for Cheapskates," will have some ideas to transform this barren patch into an eye catching, head turning highlight of the garden.

The meeting and show begin at 8 p.m. in the seniors centre of the Nobleton arena complex just off Hwy. 27 at Old King Rd.

The flower show themed "Canadians Write" has just 1 category Nobel prize winner for literature Alice Munro's "Dance of the Happy Shades," a design in various shades of green.

The "Are You Up for a Challenge" category calls on your baking skills - a Quick Bread Loaf, or a decorated Thanksgiving Cake (decorations judged). All entries in this category to be served up with tea, coffee or juice following the meeting

Nobleton movie night boosts Food Bank

The Nobleton Plaza was transformed in to an outdoor movie theatre back in September, all for a good cause

The outdoor movie night came about thanks to Mario's Bake Shop. Mario Spizzirri, a long-time supporter of the community, organized "Moonlight Movie Night" with area merchants to raise funds for The King Township Food Bank.

Despite the cool weather that night, many residents attended the event. Parents and their children snuggled under blankets, snacked on G.H. Cretors Chicago Mix Popcorn and enjoyed a fun night out in Nobleton.

The event raised $600 and a cheque was presented to the King Township Food Bank on Sept. 23.

Spizzirri plans to make Moonlight Movie Night an annual event. "It's encouraging to see so many local businesses getting involved and giving back to the community," said Councillor David Boyd. It's also exciting to see many new businesses opening up in town."
