Emerald Ash Borer Tree Removal

What: King Township is in the process of cutting down several hundred trees killed by the emerald ash borer, an invasive species that has killed tens of millions of ash trees in North America. Staff estimate up to 300 or more trees need to be removed on township-owned boulevards.

Why: The trees are completely dead and many are on township-owned boulevards next to sidewalks. Removing them is a matter of public safety.

Where: The tree removal started July 25. Arbor-tech, the company that will be doing the removal, started in Nobleton to be followed by King City and Schomberg.

Next steps: King is committed to planting new trees in the future. This year will see the start of Phase 1 of the program, which will include the removal of the dead trees but not the stumps. It is more efficient to remove the stump and plant a new tree at the same time due to the hole created during the stumping process.

Phase 2 will include the removal of the stumps and the planting of new trees. Phase 2 is expected to be a multi-year initiative.

New Nobleton Zoning Bylaw now in effect

By Mark Pavilons

Years of work has culminated in an updated Nobleton Zoning Bylaw (NZBL) for the urban area.

The review began in 2014 and staff fine-tuned the bylaw following an open house and workshop in 2015. The final draft was prepared earlier this year and the public was invited to the May 16 meeting to provide final comments.

According to the staff report by Stephen Kitchen, planning director, the by-law review process benefitted from “an engaged community that has participated throughout the process ... input was welcomed and received ... and has been valuable in providing local context to help shape the new NZBL.”

Kitchen said there have been several requests from the public to expand the core area of Nobleton. The NZBL follows the core designation within the Nobleton Community Plan. The NZBL review, he pointed out, is not the appropriate process to extend or include additional properties in the core area, since the NZBL can only be implemented as directed by the community plan. Changing the core designation could be part of the official plan review process.

Zoning bylaws, prepared in accordance with the Planning Act, must conform to relevant policies and official plans.

Kitchen stressed that all input they received was taken into consideration. Some resulted in modifications to the final bylaw. They include redefining “farmers’ market;” reference to home occupation provisions; parking requirements in the core.

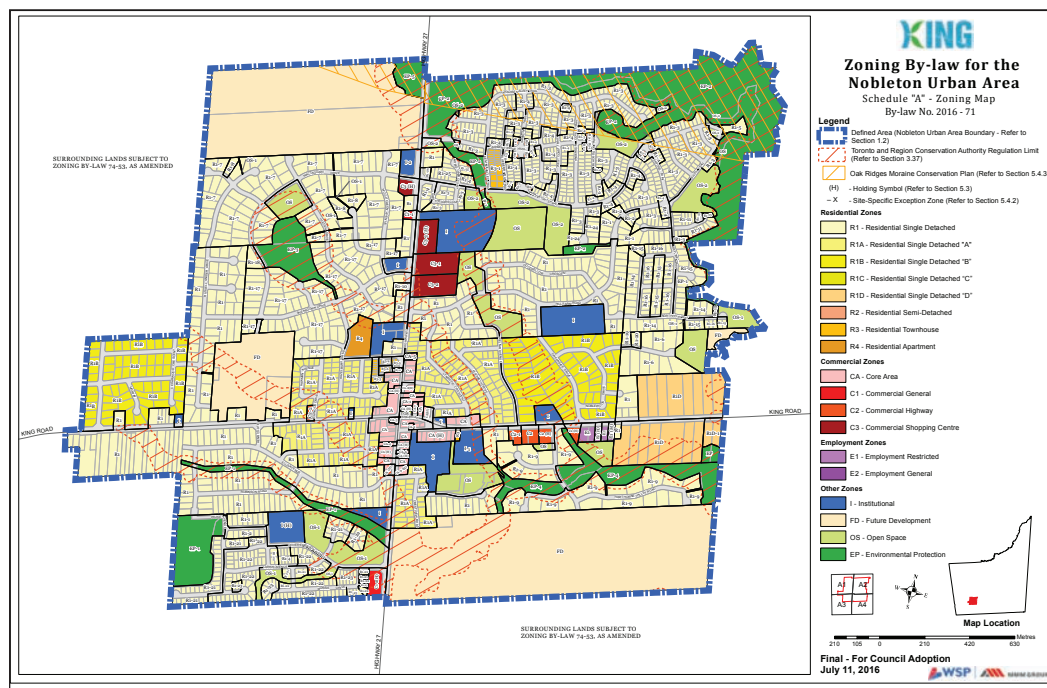

The final bylaw not only implements policies of the Nobleton Community

Plan, but considers the ongoing official plan review; recognizes the character of mature residential neighbourhoods; updates zoning issues; improves clarity for administration and serves as a template bylaw for King City and Schomberg, whose plans are currently under review.

The NZBL also manages “spaciousness” through the introduction of minimum surface requirements, which will result in portions of lots being maintained as landscaped open spaces. The bylaw also ensures conservation of natural heritage and identifies hazard and conservation lands.

“Overall, the NZBL review has provided the opportunity to implement existing direction from the Nobleton Community Plan, and modernize the zoning, with the benefit of simplifying and streamlining future zoning conformity exercises,” the report stated.

Further, the review strengthens and helps implement action items contained in the Integrated Community Sustainability Plan.

Driver out catching Pokemon draws police attention

A driver received a stern warning from police after he was observed by officers in the York Regional Police helicopter, Air2, driving around the City of Vaughan catching Pokemon. On Monday, Aug. 8 at 3:23 a.m., officers in Air2 spotted a motorist in a Mercedes driving suspiciously in the area of Keele Street and Teston Road in Vaughan. The helicopter followed the vehicle as it drove erratically, then stopped in a parking lot off of Keele Street. The vehicle then started driving again, entering a residential neighbourhood where it stopped in front of a park. The car then started driving again making suspicious turns in the middle of the roadway. The vehicle was eventually stopped by police in the area of Saint Joan of Arc Avenue and Drummond Drive. Officers spoke with the driver who advised that he was just out to catch them all.

Ain't nothin' better than enjoying sunny days!

Sunny days
Oh, sunny, sunny, sunny days.
Ain't nothin' better in the world, you know

Lighthouse 1972

Our Canadian summer is rather short, so it's important to enjoy every second of it.

I don't get a chance to get away, save for a few short jaunts here and there.

But my private back yard, in our Bolton subdivision, is my retreat, my place to reconnect. We back onto a large forested area, so in many ways, it's as good as any rural estate.

It was my mom's favourite spot, in the brief time she lived with us. I know why.

My skills at the BBQ grill have improved immensely over the years, thanks to my wife and father-in-law - very good teachers both of them.

I can now expertly grill a steak, chicken and sausage to near-perfection. I pay attention to those food shows, trying to find some new techniques and even special marinades that pop.

I like to have a beer while I'm doing the BBQ duties. Like a fine wine, I'm getting better with age.

Now, I can have a representative of the LCBO bring me my favourite beverage, right to my BBQ! I no longer have to even venture inside my kitchen to grab one out of the fridge!

The LCBO now offers online shopping and door-to-door delivery of some

Mark Pavilons

5,000 products!

Consumers can have their order delivered directly to their home, anywhere in Ontario. Now, that's service!

Now, as much as I like a cold one in my back yard, I never once said to myself "self, you know what would make this perfect? Getting beer delivered to me in my back yard by the LCBO!"

I realize the world is changing and the Internet provides countless e-commerce opportunities. But really, folks, do we need this?

In my younger days, when the mood struck, someone in our group would make that proverbial "beer run." Even before the advent of Sunday shopping, we had little trouble getting a case of beer when needed.

Granted, home delivery would have solved many of our dilemmas back in the 1980s. But that's a tale for another time.

I think the bottom line is the bottom line - it's yet another way for the LCBO to generate even more profits. And they fully admit it: "Today's e-commerce launch strengthens LCBO's ability to generate revenue for Ontarians and continue to fund key public services such as health care and education."

Ontario is expanding access responsibly. In partnership with Canada Post, the LCBO will ensure that online orders are only handled by and delivered to adults of legal drinking age. Ontario is also developing a comprehensive alcohol policy to support the safe and responsible consumption of alcohol.

Time will tell.

There are some beautiful back yards throughout King Township. I've seen many of them first-hand.

Growing up in rural Caledon on a four-acre property, I was spoiled. I had the best and didn't even know it then. As a teen, I was given many chores around the property that likely hindered my appreciation of nature.

I recently pointed out to my company that I haven't taken a real vacation in three years, and I have no plans to take one this summer either.

There are many reasons, not the least of which is my commitment to overseeing two newspapers in our chain of weeklies. For someone to step in and edit two papers and do production on two consecutive days, is not easy to say the least. Training someone, and constantly worrying about it while I'm away, often takes the joy out of any time off.

My daughter Lexie just returned from a rather expensive trip to Africa and she's preparing for university, sucking up pretty much every last penny we own!

But back to the fun part of enjoying summer.

The back yard, or any back yard for that matter, is just fine with me.

My family had the opportunity to spend a night at Kingbridge Centre on Jane just west of King City. It's an oasis, a beautiful piece of paradise, just steps away from the hustle and bustle.

When talking about King Township, tourism and its attractions, Kingbridge is one special place. It has undergone several evolutions over its lifespan and it remains as a particularly unique and special place.

It's host to many special events, public meetings, conferences and business gatherings. But it's also a place of solace, a spot where you can reconnect with yourself.

I highly recommend it.

Of course, it's been said that the further removed you are from "home," the better you feel. Distance, in this case, does make the heart grow fonder - fonder of serenity and the untouched beauty this planet has to offer.

Lexie said nowhere has she felt more at peace than on the expansive Kenyan savannah.

It's funny how, as we age, we enjoy those simple things in life. Just getting kissed by the sun and relaxing in relative serenity, does wonders for a stressed out soul.

Letter to the Editor

Editorial misses the mark

Three things amaze me about the editorial appearing July 7 - "When is a severance not a severance?"

First, you have wildly missed the mark regarding the very real SLAPP suit levelled against a Kingscross Ratepayers Association director. Our Senior Associate, Ms. Anne Sabourin, did in fact label this a SLAPP suit, and enumerated steps King Township council should take to prevent it from succeeding in "chilling" free speech.

This statement from the editorial in particular is dead wrong: "Even the KRA legal representative, after espousing the evils of putting a "chill" on public participation, admitted this doesn't fall neatly into the definition of a typical SLAPP suit."

Why wouldn't you endeavour to get this right by contacting us before publishing, as most editors do?

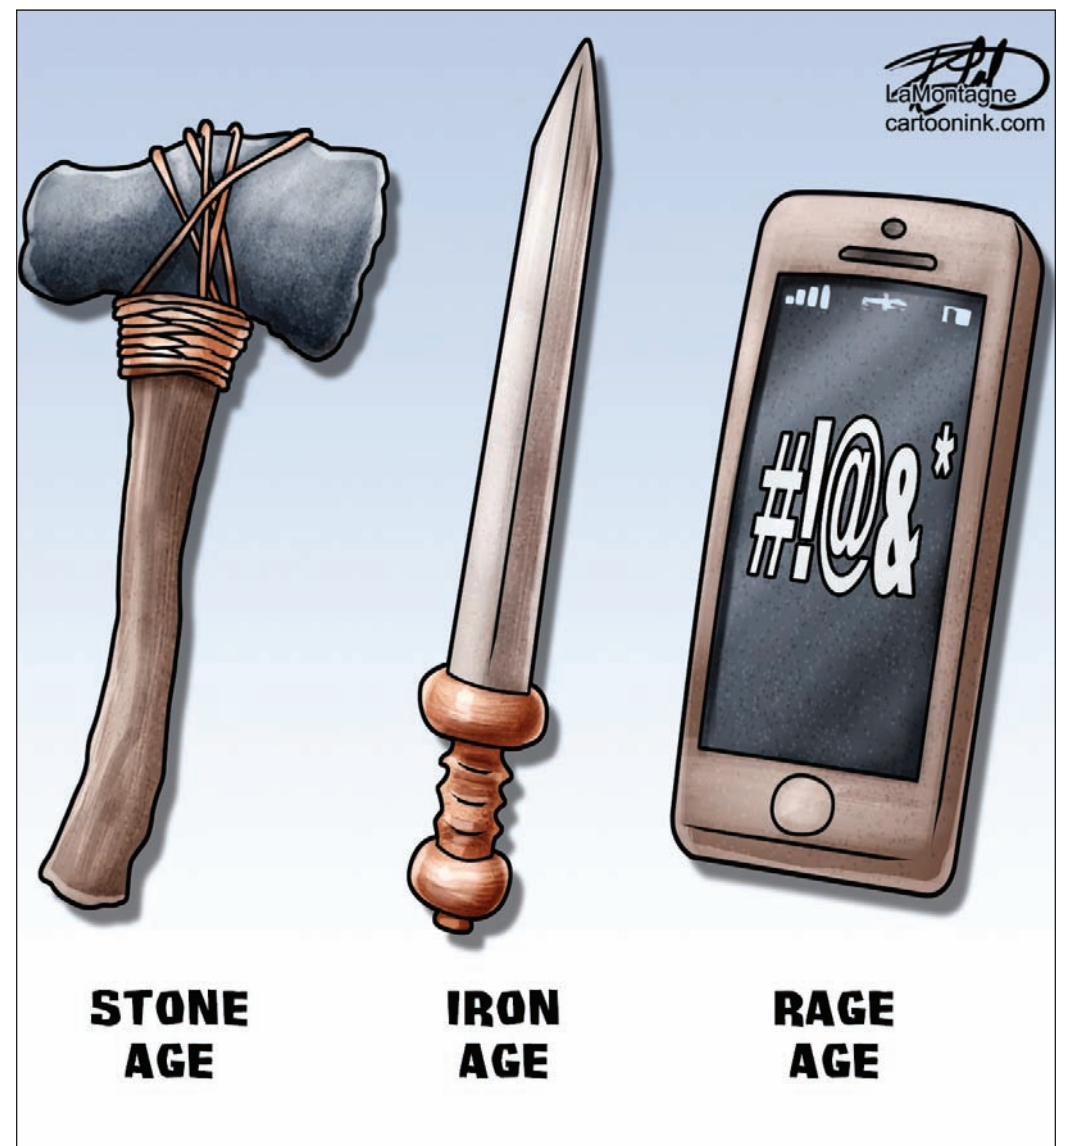

Second, your editorial seems to endorse the applicant's SLAPP suit. Are you aware the substance of the allegations? Why leave the reader with the impression you support the lawsuit?

Finally, in my 28 years of experience as an environmentalist, I have never encountered a newspaper taking a developer's side in a single severance application, unless a farm dwelling was involved.

As you say yourself, this matter is only one lot and engages no public interest issues in favour of development, only private profit.

Is there a personal relationship between you and the developer of which your readers should be aware? If not, why lend the paper's good name to such a small commercial interest, over the voice of the community?

CCKT provides input into Greenbelt review

Representatives from Concerned Citizens of King Township (CCKT) attended an all-day meeting of the Ontario Greenbelt Alliance (OGA) June 14 at the The Old Mill in Toronto to discuss strategic steps to both strengthen and expand the Greenbelt.

Various environmental and community groups from across southern Ontario were in attendance and during a number of breakout sessions throughout the day, many individual local issues were identified and summarized. This allowed the OGA to coordinate a united front to the Provincial Government regarding its recommendations concerning the future viability of the Greenbelt.

While the original reason for the creation of the Greenbelt was to protect and maintain farmland in and around the Greater Toronto-Hamilton Area, the concept has since developed many facets: Protecting existing green spaces like urban river valleys, watersheds and natural heritage sites; implementing plans to mitigate the effects of climate change.

The freezing of urban boundaries is crucial if we are to end urban sprawl and it is imperative that new infrastructure that promotes sprawl like new highways is eliminated. In that fight to protect our farmland care must be taken that we do not transfer the sprawl from these "greenfields" to our rural communities, thus creating unsustainable "dormitories" for nearby cities.

Traffic mayhem is a reality in the present GTHA. If we simply transfer sprawl from one area to another we will have gained nothing and traffic gridlock will persist, costing us billions of dollars in lost productivity, deterioration of air quality and a general decline in our standard of living.

In the larger urban centres, such as Barrie, Newmarket, Guelph, etc. we need to plan for more complete communities in terms of jobs, local amenities, recreational and cultural opportunities, viable local transit, in an effort to reduce the commuter traffic.

In addition, improved, efficient regional transit systems need to be improved and expanded throughout the GTHA to provide a truly viable transit option for the many commuters traveling to the major urban centres.

During the meeting many points were made concerning how the Greenbelt could be improved and grown. However, the predominant theme that came across in the discussions was the need for the provincial government to take full ownership of the Greenbelt and not to allow it to be diluted by delegating enforcement and governance to the regional and municipal levels of government.

Expanding the Greenbelt to include urban river valleys and other natural heritage features in urban areas is clearly a positive addition. However, the need to expand the Greenbelt to include additional regions closely connected to Toronto and Hamilton (e.g. Simcoe, Wellington, Kitchener-Waterloo, Niagara) is essential in protecting prime agricultural land and natural heritage systems. Provincial planning policies within the Greenbelt Plan bring consistency in the approach to preserving farmland, wetlands, forest and water corridors in areas with urban growth pressures.

It is important to recognize the Greenbelt concept has many opponents. The residential construction industry and many farmers are opposed to it in principle because the guidelines have set down parameters that restrict what land can be developed and what land cannot. Both groups view it as limiting control and are looking at the Greenbelt skeptically.

While many municipalities in the GTHA support many aspects of the Greenbelt Plan, they will often allow the expansion of urban boundaries for municipal benefits, which weakens the whole Greenbelt concept. Consequently, there needs to be tight control on what is allowed and what is not, through consistent provincial government legislation across the whole Greenbelt.

It is with this in mind that the government has invited all members of the public to participate in the process by requesting they submit their views on the recently-released provincial recommendations and what additional land should be incorporated into the Greenbelt as well as what services and infrastructure should and should not be allowed in specific areas.

The maintenance and expansion of the Greenbelt will affect all King residents in the future, as it will all people in south central Ontario.

With this in mind the government is inviting all citizens to submit their views on the future of the Greenbelt by Sept. 30, 2016. Your submission can reflect your own personal opinions or you can sign a group submission that the OGA has created. To view the OGA group submission go to: growourgreenbelt.ca/action

To access the recently-released recommendations from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs please go to: Co-ordinated Land Use Planning Review

The submission needs to be sent to the Honourable Bill Mauro, Minister of Municipal Affairs and can be sent via e-mail to: bmauro.mpp.co.co@liberal.ola.org

Mathews raises the goal for record-breaking Moraine trek

By Mark Pavilons

Kelly Mathews has upped the ante for her unprecedented, fundraising Moraine marathon.

She's less than one month away from starting her Oak Ridges Moraine Trail 300km hike (ORMT300), to raise money for both the Oak Ridges Trail Association and Seneca College's King Campus expansion.

It's a solo, week-long adventure and Mathews will be hiking 12 hours a day, from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., covering the equivalent of a marathon - 42 kilometres or 26 miles.

She will begin her marathon Sunday, Aug. 28 at 6 a.m. in Palgrave in nearby Caledon. She will end Sept. 3 at Trent Hills near Brighton.

She originally set $5,000 as her fundraising goal, but support and donations have surpassed it.

"We blew past the revised $6,000 fundraising goal set on July 1," she said. That works out to $21.62 per kilometer (over 300 km)! This is amazing - thank you! I feel confident enough to increase Every penny counts and every penny will make a difference!"

Her training continues as she prepares for the challenge.

She said she's switching back to trail running for these last 40 days.

"I think the running will help with cardio, weight loss and be more time-efficient," she said.

She has purchased some ultra-light camping gear, noting there is some "really neat stuff out there these days!"

Mathews will be updating everyone each day/night from the trail over the seven days with Twitter and Instagram and potentially "Snap Chat," assuming she can get a signal. She will also be filming with a Go-Pro and taking photographs to share along the way.

For more information about the #ORMT300 or to make a donation, visit www.canadahelps.org/en/pages/ormt-300.

Neville-Lake Family Memorial Day at Wellesley Park

Hundreds of people are expected on Sunday, Aug. 14 at Wellesley Park in King City, to commemorate the three Neville-Lake children and their grandfather who were fatal victims in a tragic drinking and driving crash in September of last year. Organizers created this memorial for parents Ed and Jennifer so they would have a permanent place to honour their children and father. Jennifer Neville-Lake grew up in King City. Through donations from the community, organizers have planted four trees with plaques dedicated to the deceased children Daniel, Harry, Milly and their grandfather, Gary Neville at Kettle Lake Park. The event runs 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The morning celebration starts at 11:30 a.m. with a dove release, with bubbles provided to children in attendance to blow during the release. Wellesley Park is on the northwest corner of King Road and Keele Street.

Open house helps residents navigate the building process

Starting a home improvement project can be a daunting task, from deciding what supplies to use to whether or not to get some outside help.

The last thing you need is to be held up by a complicated municipal building approval process.

That's why King's building department is launching a new service with a series of information open houses starting this month. The first one is scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 24 at the municipal office building department counter at 2075 King Road in King City.

At the open houses, residents can meet with building department staff in an informal setting to learn the ins and outs of the application process for building projects.

"We realize that people who have no experience with home renovations may not know exactly what they need to do to get their project approved," said Andrzej Drzewiecki, director of King's engineering, public works and building departments. "The open houses will be a good way to connect with staff and have their questions answered before they start the process."

Staff also realize that many residents work full-time jobs and attending King's municipal offices during the day can be a challenge. That's why the open houses will be held between 5 and 8 p.m.

Peter Lavrench, King's chief building official, said offering more flexible hours is part of the department's commitment to exceptional customer service.

"We tend to see contractors and other professional builders during the day," said Lavrench. "Running the open houses after regular business hours will make it easier for residents - especially commuters - to get the information they need at a time that works best for them."

Whether you're looking to build a deck or add an extension to your home, the open houses will help residents learn about the permit approval process to turn home improvement dreams to reality.

For more, contact Jennifer Caietta, manager of building services. 905-833-4008 or caiettaj@king.ca.

Breakthrough Treatment for Wound Healing and Skin Ulcerations

Skin wounds are a problem that frequently occur, but are not limited to, certain injuries, post-operative, or diabetic conditions. Wound healing is a complex and dynamic process of replacing devitalized and missing cellular structures and tissue layers. The human wound healing process can be divided into 3 distinct phases: Inflammatory, fibroblastic and maturation. This process, because of a variety of factors, can go awry and produce excess scar tissue, or can be deficient and produce insufficient wound healing.

Regardless of the cause of the problem, MLS Laser Therapy has proven both effective and successful in their treatment. This innovative and therapeutic technique is anti-inflammatory, anti-edemic, analgesic, and has bio-stimulant effects on the tissues. This is key to speeding up healing by accelerating the natural recovery process. At the same time, MLS Laser Therapy relieves symptoms such as pain and inflammation, by significantly reducing recovery times by stimulating tissue regeneration. "These results are due to the effect that MLS Laser Therapy has at the cellular level: Increasing the production of energy and stimulating the synthesis of the new proteins necessary for the growth and repair of the damaged tissue."

What does this mean for you?

Many of our patients have reported a 90-95% closure of their wounds and symptom relief, more mobility, increased sensation and vastly improved function!

It is the very latest in medical technology, with years of clinical studies supporting its safety and efficacy and we are very proud to offer our patients effective solutions to their recent or chronic conditions.

"This new, natural, safe and highly effective approach has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically".

Come in and allow us to help you achieve the results you deserve! Call (905) 773-2225 to book your FREE consultation and examination at King West Wellness Centre 141 King Rd., Unit 10, Richmond Hill (In the Home Hardware Plaza)

YRP stepping up their game to combat driving infractions

By Mark Pavilons

York Regional Police are stepping up their enforcement efforts to trim preventable traffic occurrences across the region.

While officers are making a dent in certain areas, the leading causes of automobile collisions – distracted and impaired driving – continues to plague them.

King council was given an overview of law enforcement initiatives by York Regional Police's top officers recently.

Superintendent Mark Brown noted traffic safety has always been a priority over his career on the force.

Inspector Paulo DaSilva pointed out that traffic collisions are more costly to society than all other crimes and occurrences combined. "Road safety is in our hands," he said, adding there is one collision every 63 minutes somewhere in York region. On average, one person is injured every four hours and a pedestrian is struck by a vehicle every two days. There is one fatality on average in York every 17 days.

Focusing on driver behaviour, Inspector DaSilva said distractions, aggressive driving, impaired and use of seat belts are the main areas they enforce.

Impaired driving remains as the number one criminal offence and despite all efforts, impaired driving charges continue to climb. Over 2014-2015, they were up 12.3%. They are the highest in the 25-29 and 20-24 age groups.

All of these are preventable and YRP is focused on proactive enforcement. They now have a year-long RIDE program and they're also looking at drivers impaired by drug use.

"Road safety is everyone's responsibility," he said. "We all need to obey the rules of the road."

Distracted driving, he stressed, is the leading cause of collisions.

Currently, distracted driving carries a $490 fine plus demerit points. "Put your device down," the inspector urged.

YRP has created "Pledge to Ignore," a campaign designed to help save lives. It means making a commitment to yourself or a loved one not to use your cell phone while driving or walking near traffic. Their goal is to obtain as many pledges as possible from residents across York Region. Each pledge represents one less distracted driver.

Residents have a role to play in curbing incidents. You can get involved by reporting impaired drivers. You can also visit YRP.ca and file traffic complaints, or fill out Road Watch forms.

Superintendent Brown noted they monitor each municipality and work closely with municipal staff and politicians.

Councillor Debbie Schaefer was pleased to hear that YRP staff will now follow up more frequently with residents' complaints and report back to them.

Councillors also offered up ample servings of trouble intersections in King, all of which are on YRP's radar.

Officers are responding, Brown said, adding all data they collect is sent to York Region to use in their traffic analysis and planning. If King wants more traffic calming measures, red light cameras, etc., they can ask the Region.

DaSilva added local politicians can also bring those trouble spots to their attention.

Mosquito traps test positive for West Nile Virus in York Region

Two mosquito traps have tested positive for West Nile Virus (WNV) in the City of Markham; one at the intersection of 14th Avenue and Kennedy Road and the other at the intersection of Highway 7 and Warden Avenue.

"Residents can take simple steps to reduce the risk of West Nile virus and exposure to mosquitoes," said Dr. Karim Kurji, York Region's medical officer of health. "Cover up when heading outside, especially during dusk and dawn and eliminate standing water around your property to reduce mosquito breeding."

King enacts new Emergency Response Plan

By Mark Pavilons

King Township residents can rest assured the powers that be are looking after their continued safety.

King council gave its stamp of approval recently to its revamped Emergency Response Plan.

The aim of the plan, according to Fire Chief Jim Wall, is to make provisions for the "extraordinary arrangements and measures that may have to be taken in order to protect the health, safety and welfare of the local residents ..." It provides for a coordinated response to emergencies throughout King and meets provincial legislation.

"The Emergency Response Plan not only reflects and enhances the Township of King's approach to emergency management, as defined by the Office of the Fire Marshal and Emergency Management Ontario, it also incorporates subordinate plans such as Annexes, which provide detailed response procedures for the most likely hazards that the Township of King may be confronted with," Wall wrote in his report to council.

Plans such as the long-range master fire plan, need to be continually evaluated for their relevancy.

Not only does it meet provincial legislation, it updates practices regarding public safety, public health, the environment, mitigation and prevention.

"Having an up-to-date Emergency Response Plan not only promotes economic stability and a disaster-resilient community, it also provides for good governance during an emergency situation."

Marian Procession held at local churches

Nobleton Notes

By Angie Maccarone
905-859-5174

St. Paul's Church

The Youth Group will meet bi-monthly during August this summer. Check here for details or contact our Youth Leader Taylor Scott at scottie_tay@yahoo.ca or 289-338-2539.

A2J is a program for kids in Grades 3 to 6. It will resume in September. Join us Sunday, August 14 at 10 a.m.

as we welcome our Youth Leader, Taylor Scott to the pulpit.

Jeff has a blog and he records his weekly messages there after worship each Sunday. Anyone interested in listening to his messages can go to www.passionatelyhis.com to hear them.

For more information about ANY of our activities or events, please contact the church office or visit our website at www.stpaulsnobleton.ca.

St. Mary's Church

The annual Marian Procession will be held at St. Patrick's Church, Saturday, Aug. 13 at 4:30 p.m. The procession starts at St. Patrick's School. It takes place at St. Mary's Church on Sunday, Aug. 14 at 3 p.m. The procession starts at Nobleton Public Library.

Come honour our Holy Mother Mary at our annual Marian Procession. Let us witness to our faith and our filial love for the Mother of God and the Mother of the Church.

In the event of inclement weather, procession starts in the Church.

Life Teen is a Catholic youth ministry organization within the Catholic Church. Its goal is to lead teens into a deeper relationship with Jesus Christ and His Church. Life Teen is already taking place in over 1,000 churches in over 31 countries around the world. Let's bring this movement to Saint Mary's Church in Nobleton.

For the used clothing drive, please leave your bags in the foyer of our Churches after masses. For every one bag collected, $1 goes towards St. Mary's Mortgage Fund.

Nobleton United Church By Nancy Hopkinson

For Aug. 14 and 21, the joint services will be at Nobleton United at 11:15 a.m.

The August 14 theme is "Perceiving a situation differently than someone else. What did you do?"

Schomberg's Jack Campbell discovered "Preacher Portal" where really great sermons can be downloaded (for a reasonable fee). We chose a sermon on Climate Change, called "This Is Our Time" by Very Rev. Dr. Bill Phipps, who was the 36th Moderator of the United Church of Canada (1997-2000). It is based on scriptures from Jeremiah 33: 14-16, and from Luke 21: 25-28, 34-36. Bill considers himself an activist in Calgary and in Canada. He wants us to do something and not just ignore the situation. Bill is the person who gave the official apology to the First Nations regarding the involvement of the United Church with residential schools.

We will be projecting the sermon on the screen via our power point projector. Light refreshments afterwards.

The August 21 theme is "When did you know that you were called by God?" This will be an informal group discussion in Nobleton's Lower Hall with light refreshments.

On August 28, we will join with Schomberg Presbyterian, Schomberg Anglican and Schomberg United at the Dufferin Marsh at 11 a.m. for an ecumenical service. Bring your own chair and bug spray!

Our Harvest Dinner is Thursday, Sept. 15. Reserve the date. More info next week.

The next Messy Church is Tuesday, Sept. 20, from 5-7 p.m. The theme of Bible Seaside was postponed as many people were away in July and August.

Jack Campbell reported "the July 31 service with Sandra Kirby was an excellent sample of a lay-led program, especially one with an emphasis on music. There were people who said afterwards it was the best service they had ever attended."

Jack added "Sandra is a professional musician who was able to tie together the meaning or purpose behind the music being sung to the personal stories of the songwriters and to Bible scripture. Her solo hymns were impressive both in their professionalism and entertainment factor. For music that our regular organist was not familiar with (and new to us) she brought her own recorded music as accompaniment so that there was a good flow to the presentation. The service had a spiritual theme to it.

King City's Hunt suits up for U20 national team

By Jake Courtepatte

While continuing to dominate the competition in her home country, McKinley Hunt has been granted the opportunity to put her talents to the test across the pond.

The Country Day School graduate has been selected to represent Canada at the under-20 level against England's under-20 squad next week, marking her first time representing her Canada in rugby.

"This has been a dream of mine," said McKinley, who learned she had been long listed for the team back in February. "It has been a long time coming, lots of early mornings and late nights."

Her passion has landed Hunt a long list of accomplishments. Aside from her four trophies with CDS, she also captained the under-20 Provincial Ontario Storm team to gold at the 2016 Canadian Rugby Championships in early July.

She hopes this experience at the provincial level can translate to the national stage.

"This is my first time competing for Canada. I am so excited to wear the red and white. This has been something that I have been dreaming of for a long time. Not many people can say they have represented their country and I'm lucky enough to have that honour."

Upon arrival in England on Aug. 13, the 26-member team will practice for five days before their first game on Aug. 18. Two more games are to follow over the next week, all played at Trent College in Nottingham.

Hunt said she expects the competition to be "exceptional."

"Rugby has a proud history in England. It's part of their culture and they grow up surrounded by the sport. I expect that this will contribute to a strong group of talented rugby players. I'm excited for the challenge."

"There is no greater test for an athlete's skills, conditioning and mental fortitude than playing an international competition against the best rugby players in the world," said Jen Boyd, U20 Women's head coach. "These tours are pivotal for the next group of athletes interested in playing at the senior level."

First taking the field for the CDS Cyclones in Grade 9, Hunt became a leader for the perennially-successful team both on and off the field. Four years later, she captained the CDS Senior Girls' team to its 11th consecutive CISAA championship.

"My four years playing for CDS greatly contributed to my success as a rugby player," said Hunt. "As a lifer, I grew up watching the team win title after title. When I joined in grade nine I knew nothing about the sport but I quickly fell in love with the teamwork and sisterhood that the sport develops. My CDS coaches and teammates have always supported me in my pursuit of rugby at the elite level."

Hunt also plays for the senior Aurora Barbarians, fresh off an Ontario Women's League provincial championship last weekend, and will suit up for Queen's University in the fall for a second season.

On Friday evening, flag bearer Rosie MacLennan led Team Canada into the opening ceremony of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.

MacLennan leads Canada into Games

By Jake Courtepatte

The pride of York Region was front and centre when Team Canada entered Maracana Stadium in Rio last Friday.

Rosie MacLennan, in her second Olympic Games, led the team as the Canadian flag bearer for the 2016 Olympics, an honour bestowed upon just one athlete each Games.

"It was unbelievable," MacLennan told CBC's Scott Russell. "Far beyond what I ever could have imagined. It was so exciting and the energy in the room was just spectacular. It's just beyond words."

MacLennan said it was an Olympic opening ceremonies she saw as a child that played a role in her inspiration to strive to one day be an Olympian, as well as her grandfather, who was selected as an artistic gymnast for the 1940 Games in Tokyo but was unable to compete due to World War II.

"The Olympics are an incredible celebration of humanity," MacLennan told Russell. "What we saw just highlights that. What you're going to see out of the next 16 days, those 300-plus athletes are going to bring Canadians through every single possible human emotion."

After the ceremonies, MacLennan also announced an exciting philanthropic gesture that was a long time in the making. When plagued by injury last year and unsure if she would be making the trip to Rio, she made the decision that if she did make it to the Games, she would donate the money she put aside from her win in London to JumpStart, an important charity to help parents fund minor sports.

"When I was faced with a lot of uncertainty last year, my sports psychologist encouraged me to keep trying to find that deeper meaning of sport, and really connecting with that, because that was what really fueled my passion and fueled my drive."

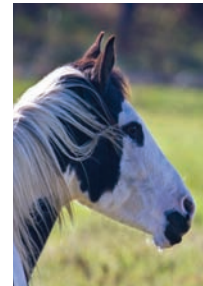

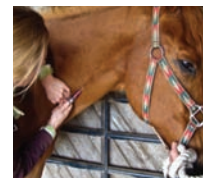

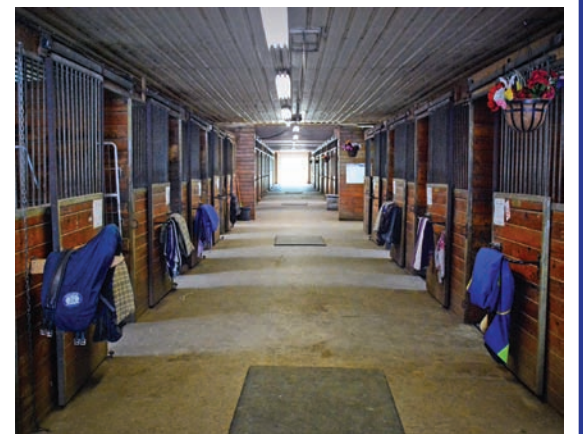

"(JumpStart) is an organization really close to my heart, I had the opportunity to get involved with sport, and my life's changed because of it. If any kid is inspired over these next 16 days I want them to have that chance, too."

MacLennan was the only Canadian to win a gold medal in London in 2012, doing so in individual trampoline, the only time Canada has claimed gold in the sport.

She will be looking to retain her title when she enters competition as a favourite beginning Friday with medal rounds coming on Saturday.

Also competing in individual trampoline is Nobleton's Jason Burnett on the same days, who is taking part in his third Olympics.

Northern Air peewees lose by one in a slugfest

By Steven Sansone

On Wednesday, July 20, Northern Air peewees played host to Remax at James Lloyd Park in the Aurora King Baseball Association.

Remax took an early lead by scoring 3 runs in the top of the first. Northern Air rallied back in the bottom of the inning and scored 5 runs to take the lead 5-3. Remax came up with some big hits in the second and scored 5 runs to take the lead 8-5.

A double by Francesco Filicetti drove in Northern Air's only run in the second, and they trailed 8-6 after two. Remax scored 4 more runs the third to extend their lead to 12-6. Michael Critelli led off the bottom of the third with a triple and then came around to score off a double by Ben Wright. A few batters later, Christopher Petrungaro singled and score Matthew Siarkas and Daniel Sansone. Northern Air scored 5 runs in the bottom in the third and trailed 12-11 going into the fourth.

In the top of the fourth Ryan Dimitroff took the mound for the first time since June 27. He retired the side in order with 3 strikeouts! In the bottom of the fourth Joseph Carvalho doubled to score David Paglia and tied the game up at 12. Ryan Dimitroff went back out for the fifth and continued to dominate. He retired the side in order again with 3 more strikeouts! Northern Air looked to walk off Remax in the bottom of the fifth. Unfortunately they failed to score, and the game ended in a tie, 12-12.

On Monday, July 25, Northern Air took on the King Cobras at Memorial Park in King.

With the bases loaded for the Cobras, David Paglia made a great throw to catcher Michael Critelli at home to get the runner and limit the Cobras to only 2 runs. Now, with the bases loaded for Northern Air, Francesco Filicetti crushed a ball to centre field for a grand slam! This gave Northern Air a 5-2 lead after one inning.

King Cobras rallied back in the second and scored 5 run to take a 7-5 lead. In the bottom of the second, a base hit by Anthony Macedo tied the game up at 7. Then a few batters later, Francesco Filicetti crushed another one to deep centre for a 3-run homerun and give Northern Air a 10-7 lead. The Cobras would not be discouraged as they managed to score 5 more runs in the top of the third to take the lead 12-10.

A base hit by Jeffery Long scored Christian Velocci and Massimo Amodio to tie the game at 12. Then, with two on for Michael Critelli, he hammered the ball to deep right field for a three-run homerun and gave Northern Air the lead 15-12. The Cobras continued to rally back, and they scored 4 runs to take the lead 16-15.

Northern Air looked to win the game in the bottom of the fourth. Unfortunately, they fell short by leaving the tying run at third and lost the slugfest 16-15.

Thanks extended from ASK Rock Concert organizers

By Lynda Rogers

"I didn't think you could do it, but you topped last year!" said attendee Barry Wallace.

Arts Society King put on a rock concert to rival them all.

There were three bands on stage, including Beatsync, an a capella ensemble from Toronto; the Joe Cocker Tribute Band featuring Terry and Liz Fitzgerald backed by the Blackboard Blues Band Horn section; topped off by the dynamic Patti Jannetta and her band. Country Day School Performance Centre was rockin' to the rafters.

Arts Society King (ASK) is a not-for-profit organization in King Township with a vision to enrich King Township through arts and culture for all. The new LIVE Music in King Committee is working on the next pillar of the cultural landscape bringing live music events to the King community. This is their second year and the committee is working harder than ever to bring the best home to our backyard.

The LIVE Music committee hard working members are Phyllis Vernon, Chair; Len Vernon, treasurer; John Ebata, musical director; Denny Starritt and Lynda Rogers, sponsorship. This group continues to offer programming throughout out the year: April was a Gordon Lightfoot tribute band and July 16 at Pathway to Perennials offers lunch and guitarist in the garden. In October at Kingsbridge Conference Centre, where plans for a jazz/gospel show with a dinner are in the works.

This kind of programming and caliber of offering, is funded entirely by sponsorship and diligently handled by a volunteer committee who make it happen! Country Day School is a great theatre venue. Thanks to Kim Marchesault, technical director.

LIVE Music in King series sponsor is Oak Ridges Retirement Community for the second year, and represented by marketing director Jeannine Beatty, who never misses a show. This year we knew that to take the show to the next level we needed to ask for more from the community. When asked they stepped up and we all raised the roof with music.

Title sponsor Owen and Lynda Rogers started the ball rolling. Gold level was Joe Saraceni Reality. Patron level sponsors included Judy and Gordon Craig; Andy Leonard of the Fireplace Stop; Shawn Peebles of Northern Wide Plank and Rob and Michelle Capobianco of Guaranteed Roofing. Friends level included Dr. Melisa Siragnusa, Nobleton Optometry; Danielle Chaput of Woof N Cuts, and Scott and Neil Boyton of Boyton Bros. Sod. We thank these businesses for their faith in us to bring Live Music to King.

The LIVE Music in King Committee sincerely thanks all the many hands that made this fabulous night of music possible. We look forward to seeing you at the next show. Keep up to date check out the ASK website ArtsSocietyKing.ca

The Backyard Astronomer

By Gary Boyle

One of the best meteor showers of the year will peak on the night of August 11/12. The Perseid meteor shower is the result of Earth ploughing through a cosmic cloud of debris from the passing of Comet Swift-Tuttle that last rounded the Sun in 1992. In past showers we have seen 60 to 100 meteors per hour vaporizing high above us at 58 km/sec. But this year has a twist.

Every 12 years the planet Jupiter in its 11.86 year orbit affects the cloud of debris making it a bit denser. This last occurred in 2004 and this shower is the 12th year. Observers might see higher numbers of 100-200 meteors per hour or more. Best time to set out a lawn chair in the countryside or campground with a good horizon is after midnight local time on Friday morning Aug. 12 when the pesky moon sets. The entire shower lasts through August 20 with the peak on Aug. 11/12.

Memorial service for Wear

King's Corners

King City United
 By Earle Laycock

Rev. Evelyn McLachlan continued her sermon series on Job. Remember Job? Everything Job did turned out well and life was good. But then everything Job had was lost: his sheep, his cattle, camels, donkeys, servants and even his beloved children.

At the time, the common belief was that if you obeyed God's laws, your life would be rewarded, but if you disobeyed God's laws, you would be punished. Friends of Job suspected that Job had done something pretty terrible to bring down such disaster upon himself. But Job knew he had followed God's will the best he could and that while he had lost everything, it was not due to his misbehaviour.

Job chapter 3 tells us that Job was in a state of grief, wishing that he had never been born. Then all of this calamity would never have happened.

Rev. Evelyn said, "Do not be disturbed by his lament. This is a normal state to be in when we find ourselves living in the midst of disaster, difficulties ... and just what seems to be bad luck."

Job puts his faith in God despite his despair. Job did not know of Jesus but we do. In our despair when life goes wrong, we have the remarkable gift of love and forgiveness that Jesus offers us. A new way of life.

The memorial service for Jack Wear is Friday, Aug. 12 at 1:30 p.m. at King City United Church followed by a Celebration of Life. Jack passed away peacefully on July 24, 2016 at the Hill House Hospice in his 78th year after a courageous battle with pancreatic cancer. In lieu of flowers, the family would appreciate your consideration of donations to Hill House Hospice, Richmond Hill or Stronach Cancer Center South Lake, Newmarket.

Remember Tea & Talk at the Sunset Grill Friday mornings at 10 a.m. Please drop by to discuss the latest news, your faith, to meet new friends or renew acquaintances or even to just enjoy a delicious breakfast.

Sunday worship services are held at King City United Church every Sunday at 10 a.m. All are welcome. King City United is located at 50 Elizabeth Grove, King City. For more information, call Kristen our Office Administrator at 905-833-5181.

Rio's iconic monument

There were even references made to various translations of the Bible that described how they came to be and also about a new annotated NIV bible that makes it much more readable and helps readers with overview and context."

The August 7 service, led by Joan Montgomery, was on the topic of anxiety and many people shared their particular worries. Margaret Brookes beautifully read the reflection that Rev. Kerrie Perry had published in the August Northern Waters Presbytery newsletter on the topic of anxiety. Helping others is one tip that helps to relieve one's anxieties. Also taking one day at a time, as there is more than enough to worry about in one day. Scripture is also referenced. Anglican Parish By John Arnott

Jesus's beautiful face and outstretched arms show his compassion for all the world in this simple but magnificent statue, Christ the Redeemer, atop Mt. Corcovado overlooking Rio de Janeiro and is the first thing most travellers including our Canadian athletes with their Olympic dreams see as they arrive in this historic city.

The St. Alban's Anglican community in Nobleton notes that the idea of a religious monument on this rocky 2,300-foot-high mount within Rio's city limits was originated in the 1850s by Roman Catholic priest Pedro Maria Boss, who wanted to honour Princess Isabel, Brazil's regent and daughter of Pedro 11 the country's last monarch. Changing times and politics squelched the plan.

But in 1920, the idea of a religious statue on the mount was resurrected by a group calling themselves the (Roman) Catholic Circle of Rio to bring attention to what they saw as the godlessness of the time. They mounted a campaign to collect signatures and donations for this project and Brazil's ordinary Christians gave generously.

Designs considered came down to a huge cross, a statue of Jesus holding a globe and standing on a pedestal representing the world and a statue of Jesus with arms outstretched symbolizing the compassion of Christ the Redeemer. The latter was chosen.

It was truly international venture designed by French sculptor of Polish heritage Paul Landowski and built by Brazilian engineer Heitor da Silva Costa in collaboration with French engineer Albert Coquaot from soapstone imported from Sweden and reinforced concrete. Christ's face was created by Romanian sculptor Gheorghe Leonida. The 98 ft. /30 m statue stands on a 26 ft./8m base and Christ's outstretched arms measure 92 ft./28 m in length The building program took 9 years 1922-1931 and cost $250,000 (equivalent of $2.3 million U.S. today). It was dedicated in 1931 with some members of Brazil's former royal family in attendance and was consecrated 75 years later in 2006 by Rio's archbishop Cardinal Eusibio Oscar Schneid upon the completion of a chapel at the base of this 635 metric tonne monument. It has been damaged by erosion, lightning and more recently by vandals with spray paint who were caught and made a public apology.

Now fully restored complete with lightning rods and water proofing and declared one of the New Seven Wonders of the World, this iconic Christ the Redeemer symbolizes Brazil to that world.
