King draws attention with threat to close the Town Line

By Mark Pavilons

King Township's tough stance, and threat to close the Caledon/King Town Line near Bolton, got the attention of the Town of Caledon.

King council, Oct. 17, voted to look into closing the Town Line, unless Caledon or Peel Region ponies up the needed funds for road repairs.

King Mayor Steve Pellegrini discussed the matter with Caledon Mayor Allan Thompson Friday, who was shocked that there was no formal agreement between the two municipalities over this stretch of road. King's move got their attention and now both King CAO Susan Plamondon and Caledon CAO Mike Galloway have begun talks.

According to Andrzej Drzewiecki, director of engineering, public works and building, the strong recommendations were "difficult," but "I don't think we have a choice."

There have been concerns for some time over the structural integrity of what's known as "culvert 210" on the Town Line, a few hundred metres north of King Road. There are insufficient funds available to replace the culvert, estimated to cost roughly $2 million.

"Replacement of culvert 210 has been determined to be a priority considering the concerns about structural integrity of the culvert. This raises concerns about potential Township liability should the culvert's structural integrity be compromised," according to the staff report.

Therefore, staff are recommending the road be closed, between King and Mt. Pleasant Road, "until the funding for the replacement of culvert 210 is identified."

Blood clinic collects 66 units

Mayor Steve Pellegrini and Councillor David Boyd were among those who came out to support the blood clinic at the Trisan Centre recently. The goal was to collect 72 units and a total of 66 were collected. The next clinic will be Tuesday, Dec. 20, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. again at the Trisan Centre. Watch out for representatives from Canadian Blood Services at the Main Street Christmas Parade again this year!

Township explores zoning for medical marihuana

By Mark Pavilons

King Township planning staff are reviewing the policies and zoning, to create guidelines for medical marihuana production facilities. They're trying to decide just where these operations should go, given some mixed messages by politicians.

Councillors received a staff report at their last council meeting, establishing location and zoning parameters.

The draft bylaw zoning amendment, which will return to council at a later date, includes limiting the use of such facilities to lands zoned Rural General and avoiding the use in Specialty Crop

Areas of the Holland Marsh. It further provides for setback standards of the buildings and requires licensing by Health Canada.

Planning staff consider a medical marihuana production facility to be an agricultural use and believe they should be in rural areas, not industrial settings.

"There is little justification to modify the Official Plan and Zoning Bylaw to provide for medical marihuana production on the Township's industrial lands," the report said.

Planner Sarah Allin noted many municipalities have dealt with this issue. In urban areas, they tend to designate them for industrial parks, while they're considered agricultural operations in rural municipalities.

This is where Mayor Steve Pellegrini had a different take.

"I don't believe it's an agricultural use," he said, noting it's more of a pharmaceutical production and more suitable to an industrial location.

He believes such as facility would be out of place in the rural countryside. Given the traffic, demands on water and hydro, he's adamant that they be located in industrial areas.

"It's a business," he said. "Let's fill up our industrial land. I just can't see it going in a rural area."

Councillor and Holland Marsh farmer Avia Eek begged to differ.

Marihuana production involves growing, harvesting and processing - no different than carrots or onions, she argued.

She had an opportunity to tour a facility in Puslinch. It's located in an agricultural area and uses aquaponics.

The mayor said perhaps a visit to another facility, like the one operating in Creemore, would be useful for staff.

A review of applicable provincial and municipal policy indicates a medical marihuana facility would be permitted under the Oak Ridges Moraine Conservation Plan, Greenbelt Plan, and Township's Official Plan.

The Marihuana for Medical Purposes Regulations (MMPR) underwent changes in April 2014, which carried through until this past August. Then, Access to Cannabis for Medical Purposes Regulations (ACMPR) came into effect and provides a framework for commercial production by licensed producers in secure and sanitary conditions.

After the announcement of the MMPR in 2014, King did receive a number of expressions of interest from farms, companies and individuals. There are currently two properties in King that have made an application for licensing under the new regulations. Currently, there are 20 licensed facilities in Ontario.

Licences are issued by Health Canada for three years.

Staff will review the input received and fine-tune their recommendations for council's approval at a later date.

Caledon asked to chip in for culvert

Drzewiecki added there are very few residences along that stretch that will be impacted. However, the road does see a lot of volume, which is considered to be commuter, through traffic.

He noted extensive public consultation, and ongoing talks with the Town of Caledon will take place before the road is closed, and detours spelled out.

King CAO Susan Plamondon noted the "most prudent action is to signal our intent to close it," noting the Township can reopen the road at any time. "Hopefully it gets Caledon's attention," she said at the council meeting.

At that meeting, Mayor Steve Pellegrini was adamant about the closure. "Either chip in, or this is the result," he said.

There has been suggestion that the road be "uploaded" to the regional governments, but so far neither York nor Peel has indicated any interest in taking over the road.

Pellegrini noted that when the road closes, drivers will find alternative routes, placing a burden on other arterial roads.

Councillor David Boyd said given the amount of Peel-based traffic using the road, it's surprising that Caledon and/or Peel won't help pay for the upgrades.

Thompson said about 9,000 cars use the road per day.

Councillor Linda Pabst said she anticipates getting a lot of phone calls and complaints about the road closure. She added it should become a regional road, and pointed out that most municipal border roads are regional roads.

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"Public opinion shapes our destinies and guides the progress of human affairs"

~ Frank B. Kellogg

Sensitivity or just knee-jerk reaction?

What is happening in our society? With horrible strife and conflict in Africa, and an odd U.S. election campaign, it's good to see we're now taking on serious issues at home – whether sports logos and team names are "racist," and removing clown paraphernalia from store shelves.

Seriously, this is what we North Americans are talking about?

Prior to the first home playoff game between the Toronto Blue Jays and the Cleveland Indians, a court case was heard to ban Cleveland's use of the term "Indians" and its unflattering and "racist" logo.

What? I understand that our liberal society recognizes political correctness. We wouldn't use such images and stereotypes today, but we're talking about sports history here, not modern advertising.

Some sports teams have been around more than 100 years, and have long and proud traditions. In the good, old, US of A, it's mom, apple pie, stars and stripes, baseball and football. Don't mess with any of them!

Is there any pressing need to? Our Toronto Maple Leafs may be safe, but what happens when someone complains about the Ottawa Senators, and the atrocities committed by the Roman Legions throughout their tyrannical 1,000-year reign?

OK, I get it that some of these images may not be up to our modern day standards. And no one would ever suggest them in this day and age.

But the whole idea behind sensitivity and political correctness is to curb negativity which can lead to discrimination and hurtful sentiments based on ethnicity, religion or gender. I honestly don't think such images promote this. Most sports fans likely don't even give it a thought. And they certainly weren't designed for that purpose in the first place.

In fundamental law, intent is a biggie. Where there is no intent or malice, there is often no criminal intent.

No one is inciting riots in the streets with the placement of a logo on a jersey. It's almost as weird as pulling clown costumes off store shelves.

While largely romanticized and sensationalized, some "clowns" have been committing pranks and assaulting people in random acts of stupidity. The incidence is largely speculative.

Nevertheless, some large retailers have pulled all clown costumes this Halloween season. I assume they believe they're doing the right thing and don't want the bad PR or have to defend themselves should a major incident occur. I think this is just "risk management" and has little to do with corporate responsibility and the greater good.

But they're still available at many locations. One wouldn't think that clowns, in any incarnation, would be popular choices for Halloween costumes.

In my opinion, Halloween is dedicated to the unknown, the supernatural and the downright scary. In my Halloween celebrations, there's no place for costumes that are just stupid – hot dogs, bananas, cartoon characters or scantily clad anything! Keep these behind closed doors!

My top picks would be the Headless Horseman, zombies, vampires, mummies and werewolves. Even the Puppy Monkey Baby has a certain amount of creepiness! But forget about dressing up like Bart Simpson, Pikachu, Super Mario, Angry Birds or Scooby-Doo!

The funny thing is I think you can tell a lot of a person by the type of costume they prefer!

These issues, and many, many more, all attest to human nature and our collective IQs as the dominant species on earth.

American astrophysicist Neil deGrasse Tyson said: "I know of no time in human history where ignorance was better than knowledge."

I wholeheartedly agree. I'm not saying that political correctness, if handled properly, is bad. Everything in moderation.

But I do think that some causes and special interest groups take things a bit too far, and demand that we, as a society, change everything deemed inappropriate, all in the name of sensitivity. We don't have a Ministry of Morals and Ethics, so we rely on the electorate, and general public, to make law-makers aware of issues and concerns.

We've come a long way, but not without some major battles. Canada was ahead of our U.S. neighbours in legitimizing same-sex marriages. But still today, this issue is divisive, even though it's legal with all associated rights.

I think we have one of the most diverse societies, largely due to our welcoming nature and laws that foster acceptance and tolerance. That doesn't mean that intolerance and opposition don't exist.

While we should accommodate the majority of legitimate concerns, we don't live in a motherhood state and we can't coddle everyone who has a beef. We can't change history but we can learn from it.

And yes, racism, genocide and sexism are all part of our past, and our present.

We can curb racism, bigotry and violence. But we can't legislate common sense or rid the world of stupidity.

We're only human after all.

Letter to the Editor

Contradictory provincial government positions puzzling

Is it any small wonder that many people treat politicians with such disdain? Our neighbours to the south are presently experiencing a good example of the discord that comes when governments ignore the mainstream and operate to benefit special interest groups.

We don't have to go far to witness an equally contradictory governmental position. If we were to believe the Ontario government's proclamations concerning the Greenbelt, we would believe this land to be sacrosanct.

However, contrary to what Ms. Wynne may have us believe, the Greenbelt is under direct threat from developers who would remove large sections of this "designated" land in order to continue to expand urban sprawl onto yet more agricultural land.

Too many citizens see only the propaganda that government spouts and do not question loopholes that may exist in the legislation.

It is no secret that the Ontario Liberal Party receives major funding from the new home development industry. Ms. Wynne needs to make a decision as to where her loyalties are, with the citizens of southern Ontario or with the homebuilders!

Leaving the responsibility with the municipalities and the regional governments to police the security of the Greenbelt boundaries is both naïve and foolhardy. Time and time again these levels of government have been either unable or unwilling to oppose the pressure exerted by special interest groups.

If the Provincial government truly believes in the concept of the Greenbelt and its growth, all they have to do is take total responsibility for it and become the one and only authorizing body. To do so will prove once and for all that their commitment is genuine and not a "dog and pony show!"

science, and eventually medical science captivated him. He graduated from U of T medical school in 1944, where he met a beautiful nurse, Kathleen, whom he married. He practised and taught for over 45 years in Toronto and then London, Ontario. His clinical research led him to contribute to scientific knowledge on stroke prevention, early detection, clinical care, and treatment for which he received acclaim and prizes world-wide, including an honorary doctorate of letters from Oxford, the Karolinska Stroke Award for Excellence in Stroke Research in Stockholm, and the Companion of the Order of Canada.

In later life he pursued his passion for the natural world as a volunteer advocate with the Nature Conservancy of Canada (NCC) for the Happy Valley Forest in King Township. He bought property there when his children were young and used the forest, ponds, and meadows to pass on his and Granny Kay's delight in nature to the children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren.

A blueprint for fixing Ontario's Greenbelt and Growth Plans

Environmental Defence released a checklist of 13 critical actions for how the Ontario government can improve the draft Greenbelt and Growth Plans.

"Ontario's proposed amendments to the Greenbelt and Growth Plans are a good start but don't go far enough to protect and grow the Greenbelt or put an end to rampant sprawl," said Erin Shapero, Greenbelt and Smart Growth senior program manager, Environmental Defence. "These 13 actions would fix the Plans to ensure a stronger Greenbelt that protects farmland and ecosystems, and encourage compact urban growth that is better for our economy and climate."

"The development industry is putting enormous pressure on the province to weaken the Growth Plan and remove farmland, forests and rivers from the Greenbelt's protection. We urge the province not to bow to this pressure and keep their promise to protect the Greenbelt forever. These proposed actions will protect vulnerable water supplies, support local agriculture and enable vibrant, mixed-use, public transit-supported communities that Ontarians want," added Shapero.

The checklist includes growing the greenbelt; protecting sensitive headwaters; freezing municipal urban boundaries; extending greenbelt protection to the natural heritage system; cancel proposed changes that weaken protection for species at risk; restrict linear infrastructure; halt expansion of construction; protecting the agricultural system; asking for municipal climate change actions.

Accompanying the checklist is a report card that fully evaluates the province's proposed amendments to the Greenbelt and Growth Plans. The report card gives the province's proposed amendments an overall grade of B-

The province's proposed amendments to the Greenbelt and Growth Plans are open for public consultation until Oct. 31.

Environmental Defence is Canada's most effective environmental action organization. They challenge, and inspire change in government, business and people to ensure a greener, healthier and prosperous life for all.

King cold case subject of a Global TV episode

By Mark Pavilons

A 44-year-old murder case in King Township was in the spotlight last week, thanks to a Global TV series.

In an attempt to generate tips and perhaps jog people's memories, the TV news feature aims at shedding light on some cold cases primarily in Ontario. Producer Erica Villa said the episode on Leroux, which aired Oct. 20, included an interview with Yvonne's mother, as well as some archive clips.

Even after such a long time, there were some sad moments during the interviews, and revelations about Leroux's troubled childhood.

This was the third of the six-part series looking at GTA cold cases. Strong storytelling and powerful characters relive these unsolved crimes that resulted in the death of loved ones. Investigators believe the killers could still be among us.

"Ultimately, we are trying to help track down the people responsible to help bring these families some resolve."

York Regional Police have not given up hope of cracking the Leroux murder.

On Thursday, Nov. 30, 1972, the body of 16-year-old Leroux of Weston (Toronto), was located in King Township, on the 16 Sideroad, between Jane Street and Keele Street.

It was determined that blunt force trauma was the cause of death.

The investigation revealed that Yvonne was last seen in the evening on Nov. 29, 1972, near the York Finch General Hospital (known today as the Humber River Hospital), located at Finch Avenue and Norfinch Drive in North York.

She was a student at Toronto's Emery Collegiate and had been involved in the city's drug scene for about a year and a half. At roughly 7 p.m. that night, she left her parents' home on Topeka Road to attend a group therapy session. She left the clinic at roughly 10 p.m. and was expected home within half an hour, but never arrived.

Her body was found the next morning.

Yvonne's killer has never been found. She's buried at Beechwood Cemetery in Vaughan.

At the time of the murder, officers conducted interviews and investigated information supplied by the public.

At the time, Yvonne was described as approximately 5'3" with a medium build; long, dark brown wavy hair; last seen wearing a navy-blue wool coat, a white shirt, blue jeans, a metal chain around her neck, and three-quarter-length tan boots with zippers and carrying a brown purse.

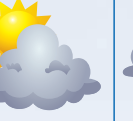

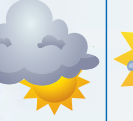

Despite the passage of time, investigators in York's Homicide Unit remain actively committed to solving this case. With the advent of new forensic techniques and input from members of the public, investigators are hopeful that they will be able to move the investigation forward.

A reward from YRP will be in effect until March 26, 2017.

Anyone with information on this case is asked to contact the York Regional Police Homicide Bureau at 1-866-876-5423, ext. 7865, or call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS.

Your Voice for Business in King

Township shines the spotlight on local businesses

A few local businesses are shining brighter today after being recognized at the annual Mayor's Business Networking Breakfast for their contributions to the quality of life in King.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini personally congratulated each of the business owners during the unveiling of a one-minute video, profiling each of their businesses at the sold-out event held at Kingbridge Centre.

"This is the sixth year we've recognized local businesses because of their success and the way they help make King such a great place to live and work in," said Pellegrini. "It's just one more way we're actively supporting our local business community."

Nobleton Physiotherapy

Nobleton Physiotherapy has been in King for 12 years, and just recently relocated to the RBC building on Highway 27 to accommodate their flourishing business.

They offer registered physiotherapy and massage therapy, chiropody services, occupational therapy, fitness and nutrition counselling. They have been an active member of the township over the years focusing their attention to high-quality therapy and customer service.

Foodland

Schomberg Foodland, with about 90 employees, many of whom have been with the business long term, is a mainstay in the Schomberg community.

Schomberg Foodland works hard to promote local products, and is an active supporter of the King Township Food Bank, reflecting the Foodland mission of helping the community eat better, feel better and do better.

Steyn's Garden Centre

Steyn's Garden Centre, located on Highway 11 in the northeast corner of King Township, is a third generation family owned business that prides itself on its quality products.

With two and a half acres of greenhouses on site, all plants sold at Steyn's are grown in the greenhouses or locally. Community oriented, every year Steyn's helps the local school fundraise with their hanging baskets.

Hogan's Inn

Hogan's Inn at Four Corners in King City dates back to 1851, and its unique charm has been preserved over the years.

Patrons can enjoy fine dining and exceptional service in the main dining room, on the upstairs patio, or in the Hunt Pub, which continues in the spirit of Hogan's original tap room.

"By profiling these businesses as well as providing them with a free promotional tool, we are raising the way we recognize local businesses to the next level," said Jamie Smyth, Economic Development Officer. "Not only are we increasing awareness of their excellent products and services, we are also giving them tools to continue to drive future success."

Names added to Case of Distinction

On entering the main foyer of King City Secondary School (KCSS), visitors and students are greeted by the Case of Distinction, which showcases former students who have distinguished themselves through outstanding achievement and thereby made a positive contribution to their communities and beyond.

It is hoped that the accomplishments of these inductees will serve as an inspiration to present and future students of KCSS.

The tradition continued as three more former students were inducted into the Case of Distinction on Oct. 1. This year's inductees are Lt.-Col. Jill (Hyland) Bishop, Ms. Odilia Bonebakker and Mr. Kyle Quincey Lt.-Col. Jill (Hyland) Bishop attended Royal Military College in Kingston following graduation from KCSS and obtained her engineering degree. Jill has served her entire career in support of the tactical aviation community working with Kiowa, Twin Huey and Griffon helicopters. Her operational experience includes a technical assistance visit to evaluate the tactical unmanned aerospace vehicle in Kandahar, Afghanistan in 2008 followed by a tour in Kandahar as the air wing maintenance officer from March to November 2009. Most recently (July 2015), Jill took command of 400 Tactical Helicopter Squadron at CFB Borden, Canada's oldest and longest serving squadron. She is the first female and the first engineer to command the squadron. Decorations awarded to her include the Canadian Forces Decoration with bar, the Queen's Jubilee Medal and General Campaign Star - Southwest Asia with bar.

Ms. Odilia Bonebakker obtained a BA and MA from Queen's University and then a PhD from Harvard. She also spent a year as a graduate student at UC Berkeley in California. Odilia is a museum curator and scholar - an expert in the paintings of Pieter Bruegel the Elder. She has published several essays and catalogues, including Dutch and Flemish paintings at the National Gallery of Canada (2004). Odilia has curated several exhibitions on topics ranging from paintings and photographs of Andy Warhol to Peruvian textiles. In addition, Odilia has been widely published and has lectured internationally.

In the OHL, Kyle played for the London Knights and the Mississauga Ice Dogs. He was a member of Team Canada that won gold at the World Hockey Championships during 2004-2005.

Kyle began his NHL career with Detroit and was part of the Stanley Cup winners in 2008. Kyle played with the LA Kings, Colorado Avalanche and again with Detroit. In 2012, he was selected to represent Canada in the World Hockey Championships in Helsinki, Finland. Kyle was recently traded to New Jersey where he continues to fulfill his childhood dream of playing in the NHL.

Sip & Savour gala raises more than $40,000

By Carol Ann Trabert

It was a wonderful evening, with huge community support again extended to King Township Food Bank for its annual fundraiser – Sip & Savour held at Nobleton Lakes last Thursday. In all, the evening is estimated to have raised $41,000 net of expenses.

These dollars will be directed to serving the over 230 registrants of the King Township Food Bank. That is just over half the amount of funds needed according to the 2016 budget.

This year, the theme was Viva Las Vegas, complete with casino tables, show girls and a grand prize of a trip to Las Vegas, won by Michelle Capobianco.

The King Firefighters Association provided greeters in their dress uniforms, setting the stage for a special event at Nobleton Lakes.

Matt Scarborough, food and beverage manager, and Chef Roger Walikeh went above and beyond to provide a vintage Frank Sinatra video, and an amazing array of food that included hot and cold served hors d'oeuvres, antipasto bar, mini corned beef station, cheese station and staffing the oyster and shrimp bar, sweet table courtesy Cappuccino Bakery, and assorted beverages.

Mark Pavilons, all decked out Vegas style, was the Master of Ceremonies for the evening, announcing that he was in town from Las Vegas until Thursday, fully certified and licenced to do Vegas weddings as well. As it turned out, later in the evening, one couple decided to re-marry, just to renew the contract. After all, the old one had been in force for 50 years. Thanks go to Mark for his role in creating the old Vegas ambience.

At the mid-point of the evening, Dog Tales presented a cheque for $10,000 with Mayor Pellegrini in attendance. After that most generous presentation, Mayor Pellegrini announced that Train Trailers, although unable to attend, had pledged $10,000 again to further the work of the Food Bank.

David Beasley, of Beasley Auctions, provided wonderful professional services to auction off items donated by Priestly (a Raptors box), Shaftesbury (2 Murdoch Mystery set visits), Andrea Scott-Pearse (original King Township painting), The Summerhill Restaurant (dinner with actor Art Hindle), David Boyd (foursome at National Pines).

A cheque for $500 was presented by David Beasley from the King City Lions with his comment that he couldn't attend the event "empty-handed." The Lions are generous supporters, and are called upon throughout the year for various projects, from turkeys to Back to School help.

RBC King City and Nobleton were on hand to process charge card purchases, which was a huge assist at the end of the evening. Thanks to Raffaele Innocente and his team for volunteering!

Colio Wines provided the wine bar, Hockley Valley provide the beer selection and Dorio's provided the mix to make the great margarita cocktail. Madison Country donated their beautiful coffees. A beverage for every taste!

More in kind sponsors included Schomberg Quality Meats (corned beef and bacon), Alloro Fine Foods (Italian deli meats for antipasto), Schomberg Foodland (a host of incidentals, including olives and mustards), and Cappuccino Bakery's famous sweets.

To create the event, Party Magic's generous sponsorship helped provide not only the covered cruiser tables, but also specialty items including balloons, draping, and entrance décor. Dorio's Bakery provided décor including table centres. King Print's sponsorship helped provide the sponsor recognition items as well as the marketing materials.

Thanks go to King Weekly Sentinel for their sponsorship that provided extensive coverage of the event, both before and after.

The Committee offers thanks to Lucy Brookhouser for her Platinum sponsorship for desserts, to Gemma & Gary Barclay for their Gold sponsorship for antipasto, and Brownsville/Foley as a partnered Silver sponsorship of the Margarita table.

This year's Diamond Sponsor was York Energy Centre, taking the leadership position in the roster of corporate sponsors for the evening. KTFB is happy to welcome them as new partners in the project that helps those struggling to make ends meet.

Platinum sponsors this year included BMO, Somerville, Trisan, Zancor Homes, John's No Frills, and RBC Dominion Securities (Michael Hogg). This is a marked increase over last year's numbers.

Gold Sponsors included Priestly, Tribute Communities and BTN. The Silver category increased significantly this year, with new sponsors coming on. Locale, State Farm (Anna Raeli), Anne Hilliard & Martina Tallova of Ronan Realty, Magna, Talsin Investments, Guaranteed Roofing, Nutri-Lawn, Ganz, Queensway Law Chambers (Rocco Loccissano), Orr & Associates Insurance Brokers, and Joe Saraceni.

Off stage, Ronan Realty presented a cheque for $1,000 from their fundraising golf tournament held in the late summer. The Food Bank is grateful that for the second year, Ronan Realty has included them in their list of worth causes.

The sponsorships are most gratefully received, as they are what make the event "work." Without that support, the Food Bank could never undertake such an event, critical to the annual fundraising efforts.

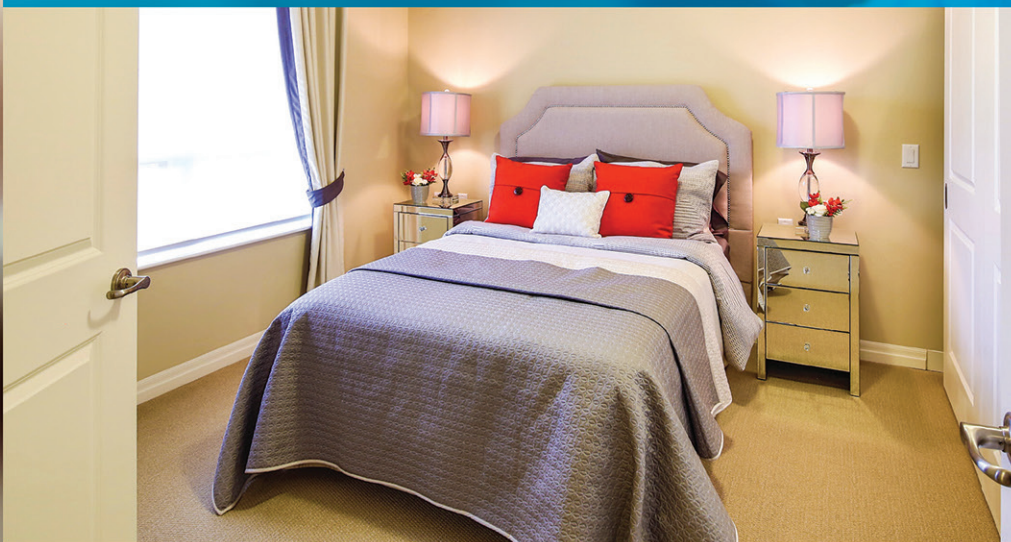

King Township also offers thanks to all who attended, placed their bets, and shopped at both live and silent auctions.

'JD and Maddy' podcast bridges the generation gap

By Mark Pavilons

Maddy's outgoing personality and zest will take her far in life.

Not yet a teenager, she's already entered the entertainment field, but she won't let her new-found popularity go to her head.

Her dad and mentor will see to that. The 12-year-old King Township girl has some big shoes to fill – her "producer" is legendary Toronto radio personality John Derringer of Q-107.

Together, they launched JD and Maddy, a weekly radio show/podcast that covers everything from music to current events, with ample helpings of humour and genuine father-and-daughter interaction.

It's an audio reality show of the purest kind. It's like eavesdropping on the conversation around the Derringer family dinner table, complete with parental controls and creative editing.

Magic is often made in the simplest of ways.

JD and Maddy is uploaded every Thursday (jdandmaddy.com).

The idea grew from a visit Maddy made to John's workplace at Q-107 when she was just eight years old. They chatted on air and he quickly realized that Maddy was born for radio and displayed a comfort level and gift far beyond her years. The duo work amazingly well together, both on and off the air.

"We have a great time together," John said, noting they share similar interests.

It's an educational experience for the Derringer duo, who have managed to do what most fathers and daughters hope to accomplish – bridge that massive generation gap.

They have developed a passion for one another's generation and tastes. While John may be a die-hard rocker, listing Led Zeppelin, the Beatles and

The Stones as his favourites, he can relate to Maddy's top pick – Panic! At the Disco – an emo pop group that was featured on the Suicide Squad soundtrack, doing Queen's Bohemian Rhapsody.

Maddy, who loves drama at her school, has her own style, and she's not afraid to tackle any subject or issue. She introduced her own ideas for the show, such as "Achy Breaky Big Mistakey." John said they try to come up with five subjects for each show, prepare some ideas and then let creativity and the moment carry them through the 30-minute segment.

Maddy's high energy displaces her nerves and even after just a couple of broadcasts, she has the makings of a true professional.

John himself, got a very early start in radio at just 16. Today, he finds it great that he can pass on many tidbits of wisdom and techniques to help his daughter flourish.

Derringer has been named "Radio Personality of the Year" by Canadian Music Week 10 times, and has been named "Favourite Toronto Radio Personality" by the Sun, Eye Weekly, Now Magazine and Top Choice Awards. In 2012, Derringer received the Allan Waters Lifetime Achievement Award and was inducted into the Canadian Broadcast Industry Hall of Fame at Canadian Music Week in Toronto. Also in 2012, he received the Queen Elizabeth Diamond Jubilee Medal for his work with the Canadian Centre for Abuse Awareness.

Maddy has already noticed that working with her dad has improved many social skills.

John said he's not one of those parents who see talent where none exists, noting they work extremely well together.

"We learn as we go," he said, adding they really enjoy it.

Maddy's friends are now listening to Derringer in the Morning.

An important part of any local broadcaster/podcaster's responsibility is to help out in the community in any way possible. To that end, JD and Maddy are including a feature called Community Corner, an old school way in a new school world to let listeners know about upcoming events in the area. They also include a link or information about one community event around the time of every podcast.

Keeping it simple, they plan to explore options for the show over the next year. In the future, it may include special guests, callers and even some music.

Until then, the Derringers are riding the airwaves, combining wisdom and youth in a fun and entertaining way.

METROLINX
An agency of the Government of Ontario

Transit Project Assessment Process - Public Meetings

Our Greater Toronto and Hamilton Area (GTHA) is now home to nearly 7 million people – heading towards 10 million by 2041. This growth is a sign of success and opportunity. But as we grow, so too must our transportation network – the lifeblood that connects this great region and each of our communities.

Metrolinx, an agency of the Government of Ontario, is bringing more transit and more connections to more places within the GTHA. Every community transit project, big or small, plays a vital role in the regional transportation system. We want to share our plans and get your feedback.

Starting in November we will be hosting community open houses to share information and updates on three of Metrolinx's projects to build new track and electrification infrastructure. We will be seeking your input on these specific plans and feedback on proposed mitigation strategies:

GO Rail Network Electrification Transit Project Assessment Process (TPAP) (Hydro One as co-proponents): gotransit.com/electrification

- Environmental Baseline Condition Reports have been prepared, Impact Assessment Reports to evaluate potential environmental effects of the project are underway, and stakeholder consultation is in progress. The project is currently in the Pre-Planning Phase of the TPAP.
- The focus of this round of public meetings will be to provide an update on the project and conceptual design of the Traction Power Supply and Distribution components.

Barrie Rail Corridor Expansion TPAP: metrolinx.com/RERBarrie

- The environmental assessment studies are prepared, which include a detailed overview of impacts to evaluate the environmental effects of the preliminary design. The project is currently in the Pre-Planning Phase.
- The focus of this round of public meetings will be to provide an update on the project and seek feedback on the environmental impacts.

Lakeshore East-Don River to Scarborough Expansion TPAP:

metrolinx.com/DonRiverScarborough

- The project is currently in the Pre-Planning Phase with existing conditions studies completed.
- The focus of this round of public meetings will be on existing conditions.

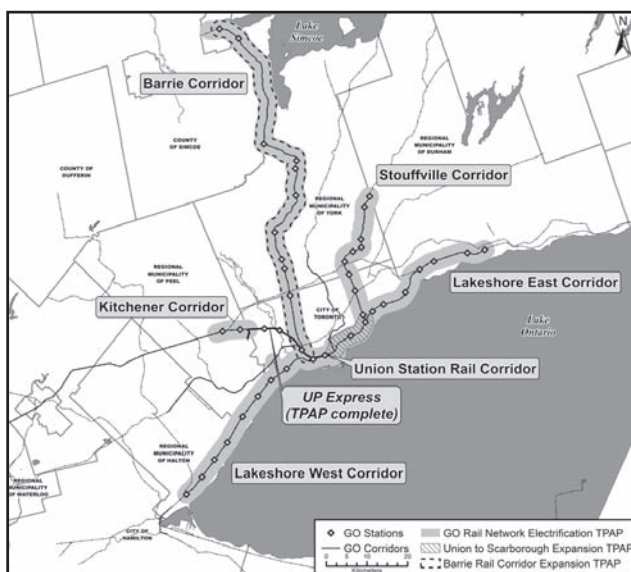

These meetings will also include information on the Regional Transportation Plan (RTP) which guides the work being done to transform the transportation network in the GTHA. A review of the RTP is underway, providing the opportunity to formally incorporate new insights into the plan, while ensuring we maintain momentum on the projects underway. Information updates on other key studies and projects in your neighbourhood will also be provided.

We invite you to join us in person at the public meeting nearest you to find out more. (Or, participate online at metrolinxengage.com)

Barrage of goals sink Cougars over weekend

By Jake Courtepatte

Eighteen goals found the back of the Schomberg Cougars' net over a brutal weekend for the Junior C squad.

Match-ups with two of the newly-minted Provincial Junior Hockey League's top teams left the Cougars with a pair of lopsided losses, as both the Alliston Hornets and Stayner Siskins walked away with big wins.

Hosting the powerhouse Alliston Hornets for the first time this season at the Trisan Centre on Thursday, Vince Michelizzi was bombarded with 42 shots. Ex-Junior A all-star Drake Board was lethal for the Hornets in the first period, notching a goal and two assists in taking a 4-1 lead.

It was much of the same in the second, while a 20-shot third period secured the Hornets a 9-4 win.

Schomberg goals were scored by Brandon Cohen, Evan Woodhead, and Ryley Egerton with a pair.

Visiting the raucous Stayner Memorial Arena on Sunday, the Cougars met a Siskins squad on a hot streak that continued through their sixty minutes of play.

A scoreless first period was followed by a penalty-riddled second, where JD Falconer scored twice, once on the powerplay, to put the Siskins up by a pair. Another powerplay marker by Jordan Taylor, as well as an even strength goal from Zack Trott, put the home squad up 4-0.

Schomberg captain JP Crescenzi put his team on the board with just over a minute to go in the period, although the third would be much of the same action.

Stayner scored five times in the final twenty minutes, matched by only one goal from Kiefer McIntosh, for a final score of 9-2.

Nabuurs, who played all sixty minutes for the Cougars, was bombarded with 47 shots in total.

Remaining seated in the PJHL's Carruthers division standings, the Cougars have experienced a fairly uneventful season to date. A record of 4-9-0 still has Schomberg in seventh out of eight, six points up on the struggling Caledon Golden Hawks.

The Hornets claimed a 6-3 win over the Midland Flyers on Sunday to stay perfect, bringing a 12-0-0 record into the seventh week of the season. Schomberg will meet Alliston again next Thursday on the road.

Meanwhile, a battle of the basement commences this Thursday at Trisan, with the Cougars hosting the Golden Hawks (1-13-0). Caledon's only win of the season came against Schomberg in the season opener back in early September.

Schomberg closes out the week with a road game Saturday against the Orillia Terriers (5-9-0) who sit just two points up on the Cougars in division standings.

For stats, schedules, and more information, visit www.schombergcougars.com.

Nicholas Nabuurs is crowded in front of his net in the Cougars' 9-2 loss to Stayner on the road Sunday.

Woodroffe ties 20-year-old St. Andrew's record as top runner

By Jake Courtepatte

A St. Andrew's College student has become just the second Saint in over a century to be crowned the top runner in the school four times.

Nobleton native Connor Woodroffe claimed the Wallace Cup for the fourth time earlier this month, after running the college's annual cross-country run in just over twelve minutes.

"It feels amazing," said Woodroffe. "It's something I will treasure for the rest of my life."

The Grade 12 student tied alumnus Dan Wells for the most race wins ever with four, after Wells accomplished the feat in 1995-1998. Wells went on to become an accomplished triathlete following his SAC years.

Woodroffe admits he doesn't particularly have a background in running, but has been playing soccer at a high level since a young age.

"I don't really do any training for this run, I mostly just do my daily soccer and hope that's enough."

As a midfielder for the first soccer team, Woodroffe has helped the Saints to an almost perfect record in the CISAA fall season so far.

The Wallace Cup was handed out for the first time in 1902, making it the oldest and most storied trophy within the college. The history of the Cup only adds to the accomplishment, which Woodroffe says is a highlight of his SAC career.

"My school highlights the motto of leaving a legacy before leaving the school and I guess this was my way of leaving a legacy."

Woodroffe's win helped secure an overall victory for his "clan" MacPherson, with an average placing in the run through the college's campus of 138th. The finish was well ahead of second place Ramsay Clan, who had an average of 163rd place.

The winner of the Middle School Race was Jeronimo Cuevas Aguilar Alvarez, a grade eight boarder in Macdonald House and member of the Montrose Clan.

MacLennan to get welcome home ceremony in King Nov. 10

By Jake Courtepatte

Canada's most decorated golden girl of the past eight years will get her moment to shine in her home town early next month.

Rosie MacLennan's accomplishments will be celebrated November 10 at a special event open to all residents, commemorating her second Olympic gold medal in individual trampoline in as many Games.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini will be on hand to personally congratulate MacLennan, with the event held at Cardinal Golf Club on Davis Drive.

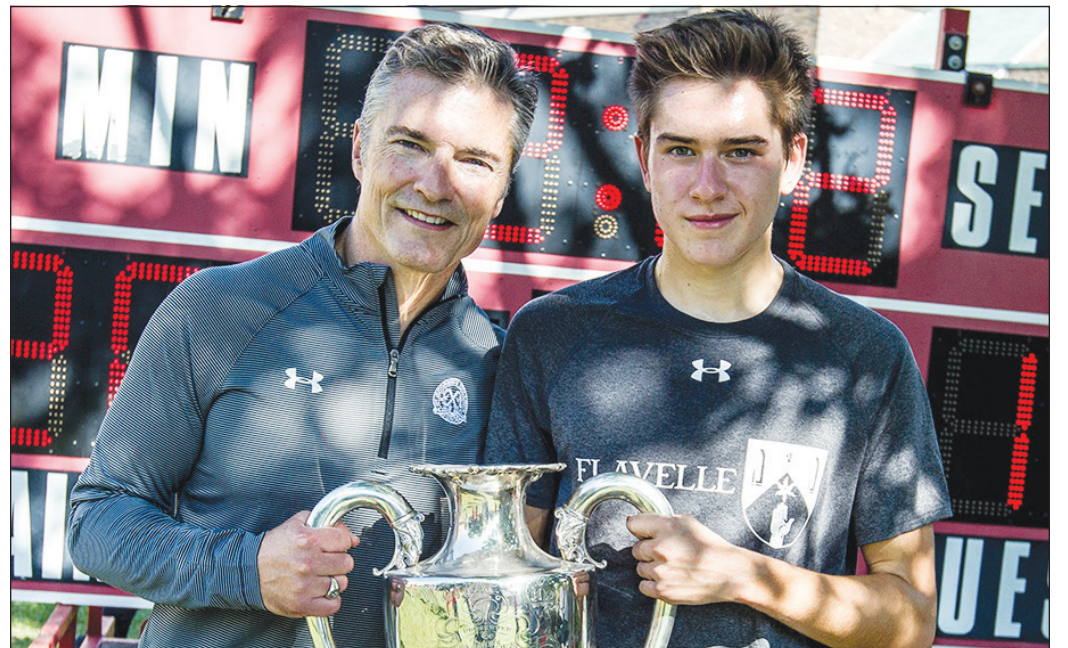

"On behalf of council and all of King Township, we're inviting residents to congratulate Rosie on her amazing gold-medal performance in Rio," said Pellegrini.

A graduate of King City Secondary School, MacLennan finished at the top of the podium in Rio in August for her second straight solo gold medal, a first for Canada in the sport.

She trains out of Skyriders Trampoline Place in Richmond Hill, also the home training grounds of Olympian Jason Burnett of Nobleton.

"We want to be able to show her the impact she's made on our community," said Pellegrini. "She gave us all something to cheer for and she is a wonderful ambassador for King."

Residents are asked to contact Teresa Barresi for an RSVP to the event no later than November 4, at 905-833-4020 or tbarresi@king.ca.

Connor Woodroffe accepts the Wallace Cup from SAC headmaster Kevin McHenry for the fourth time in early October.

New properties expand King's Happy Valley Forest

The Nature Conservancy of Canada announced the purchase of two new properties in an expansion project to one of the GTA's most biologically rich areas.

"I'm happy to say, that with the help of our donors and sponsors, the future of the Happy Valley Forest has been further strengthened," said James Duncan, NCC's regional vice-president. "With the conservation of two more substantial tracts of forested and ecologically diverse land."

In front of a crowd of sponsors, politicians, and local businesses, the NCC announced the acquisition of both the Glen Echo and Deep Woods properties, adding 116 acres to the existing protected space of over 1,500 acres.

"These acquisitions represent a significant step forwards towards our goal of protecting the core of the Happy Valley Forest for the benefit of current and future generations," said Duncan.

"I'm delighted to announce that the Government of Canada is investing more than $2 million to help conserve this important old-growth forest in the heart of the Oak Ridges Moraine," said MP of King-Vaughan Deb Schulte. "Through the Natural Areas Conservation Program, our government is proud to support the efforts of local donors to protect this ecologically important landscape."

The Natural Areas Conservation Program has been funded by $345 million from the Government of Canada since its inception to secure the natural heritage of Canada's wild lands, while raising over $500 million through matching contributions from partners and sponsors.

A popular site for hikers, nature lovers, and outdoor enthusiasts, the Happy Valley Forest is one of the largest remaining intact upland deciduous forests on Canada's Oak Ridges Moraine. It protects the headwaters of streams that head north to Lake Simcoe, and south to Lake Ontario.

The forest is home to many species of wildlife, including a number of birds labeled "at risk" under federal legislation, such as the Acadian Flycatcher and the Canada Warbler.

"The wetlands provide important drinking water, and support recreational activities," said Schulte. "It supports public health and quality of life, and to be honest, if you haven't been on the Oak Ridges Moraine trail, than you have to get out there. And now is the absolutely best time."

Schulte said that preserving Canada's wild lands is a "joint responsibility" for all Canadians.

"We all have a role to play. This is certainly a step in the right direction."

Classic curling in mixed team excitement

By Shellee Morning
King Curling Club

Putting some curl into the rock may sound difficult to the non-curler, but for the Thursday night Mixed Team players, it's an essential part of their game. Ice conditions also play a major factor for these athletes and more importantly, it's how the Skip reads the ice first.

Ice maker Richard Quick has once again prepared a fast pebbled surface that keeps the players on their brooms as the ice conditions change throughout the game. Once the ice reading is conquered, the Skip can then guide his/her team to perform to the best of their ability and ultimately achieve victory.

Sheets one through 4 on the early draw was full of action this past week as they headed into week 3 of regular season play. The night's team contests were as evenly matched up as the Jays/Indians bull pen, minus a star rookie. Team Karl Davis against Team Dan Steenhoek always certifies a back and forth hit for hit style of game. Tied going into the last end at 4 a-piece, Skip Dan Steenhoek led his squad brilliantly towards a last rock hit and stick shot for the 5-4 win.

Team Robinson and Team Gerrits both missing key players on their team due the current fall Hunting season required skilful spares to be competitive against their opponents. Skip Larry Sheardown (spared for Skip George Gerrits) commented on his front end playing great and throwing their rocks to what was asked for. Nancy McCarron stepped up into Skip position for her team as Clay Jackson was off to hunt for that prestigious prize. Midway through Team Gerrits had the lead and control of the game but knowing quite well to never underestimate Wilf Robinson and Kaye Groen as they chipped away at the board eventually squaring off for a 6-6 tie.

Sheet 3 was well represented by Teams Gorsline and Broad. An exciting end for end contest with both teams executing some great shots, but it was Stephen Heise for team Broad who had a magnificent game with several end-changing shots that kept the Gorsline team in the chase.

Gorsline up by 1 point in the 7th and final end, Skip Broad delivered his last stone at nuclear speed in hopes of either a hit and roll to tie or a lucky double hit to win the game. As the rock crusaded down the ice at warp speed it nicked a guard re-directing itself removing two of his stones and leaving 3 opponent rocks handing Gorsline an 8-4 win.

The Boynton versus Howard game was classic curling with all the bells and whistles. Howard jumped out first for the lead, but Boynton switched gears by the 3rd applied some pressure and came within one. Vice Fran Bones focused well on her throws setting up her skip Scott Boynton throughout the game while the husband and wife duo of Diane and Gary Howard continued with their matrimonial style of accurate takeouts and timely guards. Final decision was a 5-5 tie.

The late draw was to be no different for exciting games and surprising wins. Dave Swackhammer and his comrades hammered Team John Phillips 9-4 while over on sheet 3 Skip Bryce Clark guided his team with a solid effort win of 7-3 over Team Sidon.

Skip Dave Barber, wife Sandra as vice, and Anne Jessop at Lead welcomed Greg Switzer new to the team this season to play in 2nd position. Switzer, a veteran player, seems to have fit well into the Barber weave as they trounced Team Wright 10-1.

In the battle of rookie teams new to the Mixed League are Skip Brad Stronach, Vice Kelly Stronach and Stephan Niepage against Skip Doug Brown, Vice Cindy Brown, 2nd Dave Grosse and Pam McKinley at Lead. Opening ends were exchanged as the evenly matched teams both collected their points. Superior draws were made while the double take-outs were executed with ease. As both squads were playing for rookie bragging rights, Team Stronach squeaked by after an in-off hit by the Skipper for an 8-7 win.

Brad Stronach delivers towards his team victory in Thursday's Mixed league curling. The 8-7 win over Team Brown gives this rookie team a 2-0-0 solid start for their team's league standings.

UCW begins collecting winter outerwear for needy

King's Corners

King City United
By Earle Laycock

Rick McKinley was our guest preacher Sunday as Rev. Evelyn McLachlan is on study leave.

Rick based his message on Luke 18: 1-8. This is the parable of the Persistent Widow and the Unjust Judge. The judge only cared about his own career and had no regard for his decisions, public opinion or justice. But the widow persisted in coming before him demanding justice. Finally, not wanting to see this woman again and fearing retribution for his neglect of her case, delivered a just verdict to her.

Rick said that often we are too quick to give up and gave many examples of people persisting and finally succeeding. Trust God and continue to pray and work for a better world!

Bible study is held every Wednesday morning at 10:30 a.m. in the chapel. Whether you attend King City United or not, you are welcome to join us for Bible study and fellowship.

Join us for Tea & Talk at the King City Sunset Grill Friday mornings at 10 a.m. Drop by to discuss the latest news, your faith, meet new friends, renew acquaintances or just to enjoy a delicious breakfast.

Remember Rev. Evelyn asking for your favourite hymns and why they are special to you? On Sunday, Oct. 30 we will enjoy a hymn sing in worship with a selection of favourite hymns along with the reasons they were selected. This should be an interesting and fun worship. Bring your singing voices and join in!

Looking for some baked treats? The King City Nursery School (KCNS) is going to have pumpkin carving and a bake sale on Sunday, Oct. 30, from 9:30-12:30 a.m. Yes, this is during worship but what a great opportunity to support KCNS and pick up some delicious treats in the process. They will use their classroom for the carving and will have the bake sale in the auditorium.

The United Church Women are collecting warm winter outerwear (hats, mitts, coats, jackets, insulated vests and leggings) for kids ages 5-16 until Nov. 13. Please drop items off at the church office or call Marylee at 905-833-5960 for pick up.

Worship services are held at King City United Church every Sunday at 10 a.m. Everyone is welcome. There is Sunday school for the young folks. King City United is located at 50 Elizabeth Grove, King City. For more information, call Kristen our office administrator at 905-833-5181 or visit our website at www.kcuc.ca

St. Mary Magdalene's

For more information call the church office 905-939-2314 or visit the website www.anglicanparishofloydtown.com

King Bible Church

We welcome you to join us for worship service on Oct. 30! Pastor Mark will be starting our sermon series "Growth Matters" with "Growth Matters."

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning "Celebration Zone" provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in Grade 1-8 will join their parents for the beginning of the service until they are invited to go downstairs. The children in kindergarten can go directly to their class at the start of the service.

If you have children aged 0-3 then we invite you to bring them to our beautiful and safe Nursery facilities which are located on the lower level. Caregivers will meet you there.

We chose the theme of "Legacy" because we believe that's what families are looking for; both to be a part of as well as leave a lasting "Legacy."

Our children's classes will be JK-Grade 4, Grade 5-8 and Grade 9-12. They will meet downstairs and begin with a time of Worship altogether before breaking off into their classes for a time of study, crafts and games!

Patricia Edmonds will conduct the service for Oct. 30. She is the self-described "Lady of Leisure," who is a licensed lay leader and conducts 25-30 services annually, is a recording secretary for Toronto Conference United Church Women (UCW) Executive, who visited Cuba a few years ago with UCW members, and who has been married for 53 years, mother of 2 daughters, grandmother of four. Is this a "Lady of Leisure?"

Our Annual Craft and Bake Sale is on Saturday, Oct. 29, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. This is a very popular event. Some people come early to get the most choice in the baked goods and return for lunch. There will be lots of variously sized quilts on display and available for purchase. The tea room is offering a delicious lunch of sandwiches, tea/coffee/water and cookies. Weather permitting, we will also have a BBQ. The winning raffle tickets are drawn at 1 p.m. First prize is a beautiful Queen-sized quilt, hand sewn by our own Nobleton quilters; the second prize is a gift basket; the third prize is a lovely lap quilt, 40" by 40."

We have a congregational membership meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 2 at 7 p.m. Pizza will be served to entice us to attend!

We are delighted to have a musical worship service with King City's Sandra Kirby for Nov. 6. This is entitled "Women in Song," a look at the musical contribution women have made in Christian music of praise over the years.

The next Messy Church is Tuesday, Nov. 8, 5-7 p.m. The theme "Remember me" is on remembering Jesus and also on honouring by remembering war veterans. All the activities will be related to that theme. Story time is at 6 p.m., we eat at 6:15 p.m. and then socialize or do more activities. October's Messy Church was changed to Wednesday from the usual second Tuesday of the month, as 5 families were able to come on the Wednesday and none on the Tuesday. Please let Nancy know if you would like to come with your children and then you can be notified if there is a last minute change.

Patricia Edmonds will return on Nov. 13 to conduct a Remembrance service.

Remember Doris Hill? She lived in Nobleton most of her life and moved a few years ago to Barrie (not Bracebridge as I had stated last week). She will be returning to Nobleton to celebrate her 100th birthday at an open house at our church on Saturday Nov 19, 2-4 pm.

We have posted on our Facebook page a video clip of Mt. Albert's Rhythm A' Peal playing their 42 bells at our Anniversary.

Horticulture By John Arnott

Sunshine in the shade may sound like an oxymoron but when at this time of year I see splashes of bright yellow along the shaded damp trails in the bush near my home in Tecumseth Pines (Tottenham) the term seems most appropriate. The sunshine is swaths of blue-stem goldenrod one of the 120 species of this harbinger of fall most native to North America, as is this perennial.

Goldenrods, all members of the aster family, have the botanical name solidago from solido Latin for to make strong referring to their long medicinal use and this particular species has caesia Latin for grayish blue referring to its stems added.

Blue-stem goldenrod, also known as wreath or woodland goldenrod, grows anywhere from 10 in. to 2 ft./25 to 60 cm tall but I have come across plants 3 ft./1m tall. Clusters of tiny yellow 5 petaled florets grow all the way up the bluish stem in wreath like circles interspersed by small narrow lance/spear shaped leaves. With some plants I've seen the flowers don't go completely around the stem but with others they do. Most plants consist of a single stem I have seen some where the main stem has branched out near the top.

Although happiest in damp shade this goldenrod will grow in sun in drier ground where it gets some afternoon shade.

Unlike its more familiar cousins blue-stem is not aggressive. It does spread by underground stems held in place by fibrous [string like] roots but it's easy to keep in check.

No goldenrod causes hay-fever as its pollen is too heavy to be carried by air and it simply falls to the ground—rag-weed with its much lighter pollen is usually the culprit!

Think 3 in the morning and a couple of weary 18th century botanists are racking their brains to come up with a name in time for the 9 a.m. meeting for these perennials newly arrived from the Colonies. Half asleep they accidentally bump heads and see stars. "Eureka we've found it" they shout! "They look like stars; we'll call these Colonials star flowers." But it's got to sound more 'botanish' what's that Greek word for star – aster you say? "That's it we'll call these North American natives asters – perennial asters."

Think 3 in the morning and a couple of 20th century botanists rack their brains to come up with a name for the 9 a.m. meeting to re-classify these same North Americans, now popular with gardeners worldwide as perennial or fall asters. Half asleep hair hanging in their eyes they suddenly shout "Eureka we've found it. Their circle of fringe like florets look a bit like hairs so we'll reclassify them as hair flowers. But it's got to sound more 'botanish' – what's Greek for growing like hair – symphos trix you say – well we'll just Latinize it up a bit into symphotrichum."

And thus their new name came about but they'll always be perennial asters to me and many other gardeners!

There are 90 species of these asters, some annuals most perennials, and all native to North America.

The 2 most common species found wild in our area are s. novae angliae (New England) an s. novi belgii (New Holland). In the early 18th century plants and seeds of these arrived in England. In succeeding years their off springs were hybridized giving us today a wide variety of cultivars which produce masses of small daisy like blooms, most single with yellow centres, in wine, rose, pink, blue shades of purple and hard to find white. Some cultivars have semi or fully double blooms.

Because many species of these plants flowered in Europe, especially England around the Feast of St. Michael September 29th they were all nicknamed Michaelmas daisies.

Fortunately these sun loving perennials that can grow 6 ft./2 m high in clumps about 18 in./45 cm wide but are usually around the 4 ft. /1.2 m mark didn't lose their hardiness due to hybridizing. Long lived they're an easy grow easy care plant in King area gardens. Most do well in average garden soil, growing as happily in the clay soil of Nobleton as they do in the sandy soil of Tecumseth Pines and they're drought tolerant. But that doesn't mean they don't appreciate a shovelful or 2 or composted cattle manure dug in around them. And a good drink now and again in long spells of hot dry weather.

There are dwarf varieties as well but I don't have much luck with them. Plants from the wild will grow well in gardens, too. They're a bit more aggressive but easy to keep in check. Three years ago, I was lucky enough to find a rare pink wild aster and it now grows well in my garden, so much so that last year I found a new young pink seedling close by.

My favourite "store boughts" are Harrington's Pink and Alma Potechke, a deep rose while Winston Churchill is a rich wine and Marie Ballard nearly blue.

In my mother's Toronto garden her White Swan always won 1st at the local St. Clair Horticultural Society shows, but try as I might I haven't yet found any garden centre with this heritage plant for sale.

Anytime up till the end of October is a good time to plant perennial/fall asters or divide old clumps and replant the divisions.

Canadian Gardening says "perennial asters positively shine in the fall garden and extend the blooming season by 6 weeks." What more could we ask?
