Partners boost Seneca's expansion

Seneca's major expansion at King Campus got a huge boost with the announcement of a $3-million donation from Magna International, Seneca's largest-ever philanthropic gift.

The news came at the official launch of the expansion Tuesday, which included remarks from the Hon. Deb Matthews, Minister of Advanced Education and Skills Development, the Hon. Dr. Helena Jaczek, MPP, Oak Ridge-Markham and Steve Pellegrini, King Mayor.

The King Campus expansion is a $104-million project, which resulted from a unique collaboration among Seneca, the provincial government, the Seneca Student Federation and the Student Athletic Association.

"We are delighted that Magna International has chosen to support the students at our King Campus," said Seneca President David Agnew. "Time and again Magna has shown its dedication to strengthening communities across York Region. This contribution will help us welcome more students to King, where they will receive the education to become leaders in sectors like health sciences, public safety, social services and early childhood education."

The $3-million gift will support the new 200,000-square-foot building at King Campus, which will be named Magna Hall. The building will feature 25 classrooms, labs, a student centre, gymnasium and fitness facilities. This expansion will provide space to welcome an additional 1,500 students annually, increasing the King Campus population from 3,500 to 5,000 full-time students. Construction is scheduled for completion September 2018.

"Magna is committed to helping organizations in the communities where our employees live and work," said Marc Neeb, Magna executive vice-president and chief human resources officer, who is also a Seneca alumnus. "We are pleased to be partnering with Seneca on this critical infrastructure expansion that will provide more postsecondary opportunities for students living in York Region."

Sustainable practices have been built into every aspect of the plan. For instance, Seneca plans to utilize reclaimed water in the new facilities to lessen the impact on the local environment. The new build will also be certified LEED Gold in the Canada Green Building Council's Leadership in Energy and Environment Design (LEED®) rating system.

The provincial government has contributed $59 million to build the new facility, which is scheduled to be ready for classes in the fall of 2018.

Infrastructure Ontario is working with Seneca College to deliver this project using its Alternative Financing and Procurement model.

Ontario has invested $735 million in capital funding for colleges and universities since 2013-14.

"The new King Campus at Seneca College will provide students with a state-of-the-art facility where they can develop the skills required for the jobs of today and tomorrow. I'm thrilled that our government recognizes that post-secondary infrastructure investment is critical to building up our province's highly-skilled workforce, creating jobs and growing our economy," said Deb Matthews, Minister of Advanced Education and Skills Development.

"This expansion means that more students in York Region and across the province will have access to higher education in a state-of-the-art facility in beautiful King City. I'm proud that our government is supporting a project that will see a total of 5,000 students access postsecondary education," added Dr. Helena Jaczek, MPP for Oak Ridge-Markham.

Map reveals development plans will 'destroy' Greenbelt

By Mark Pavilons

The release of a map by a leading environmental group has shocked and outraged residents and politicians.

The Ontario Greenbelt Alliance (OGA) released a map highlighting the potential harmful impacts of more than 650 requests, by developers and municipalities to the Ontario government, to remove land from Ontario's protected Greenbelt.

The map pinpoints just one-third of the 650 requests made by developers, land speculators and municipalities to remove protected lands from the Greenbelt. Just a fraction of the total requests, the portion mapped is almost 11,000 hectares (27,000 acres). The map also shows existing towns and villages in the Greenbelt that could be ringed with more sprawl subdivisions if developers get their way.

"Every Ontarian who values clean drinking water, local food, protected forests, farmland, rivers and wildlife provided by the Greenbelt should be very concerned by developers and speculators trying to pave over the Greenbelt with costly and outdated sprawl," said Lynda Lukasik, executive director of Environment Hamilton. "This new map makes it clear that many in the development industry see the Greenbelt as a target for sprawling subdivisions and highways and are trying to pressure the province to give into their demands."

The land removal requests came forward through the provincial government's review of the Growth Plan and the Greenbelt Plan - a review aimed at improving the laws passed to permanently protect agricultural and natural lands and promote smart development in the Greater Golden Horseshoe.

"Removing land from the Greenbelt piece by piece would be the exact opposite of what Greenbelt farmland, forests and rivers need - permanent protection. Developers don't need more land, especially in the Greenbelt," said Erin Shapero, Greenbelt and Smart Growth program manager, Environmental Defence. "There is already a huge amount of land available to develop: in the GTHA alone, there is more land already approved for development than the size of Mississauga and Oakville combined. The Premier must ask why developers insist on paving over the Greenbelt instead of developing lands already allocated for future growth?"

More than two thirds of all removal requests come from York Region, where land speculators and municipalities are seeking to remove roughly 7,500 hectares of land from the Greenbelt, including prime farmland, natural areas along highway corridors and sensitive areas around the headwaters of important creeks and rivers, including the Rouge and Don which flow to Lake Ontario, a source of drinking water for millions in southern Ontario.

"York Region is where the Oak Ridge's Moraine Plan and the Greenbelt Plan were born. In the early 2000s, development pressures, gridlock and rapid destruction of farmland and sensitive ecosystems forced the province to act to protect these important landscapes. The fact that developer pressure is being applied here again speaks to the land speculation that continues to happen as part of the development industry's attempt to hoard land in the Greater Golden Horseshoe Region," said Sony Rai, Director of Sustainable Vaughan.

"With climate change bringing more extreme weather and floods we should be protecting more of our vital headwaters and green infrastructure, not paving over them to satisfy the greed of land speculators," added Jim Robb, President of Friends of the Rouge Watershed.

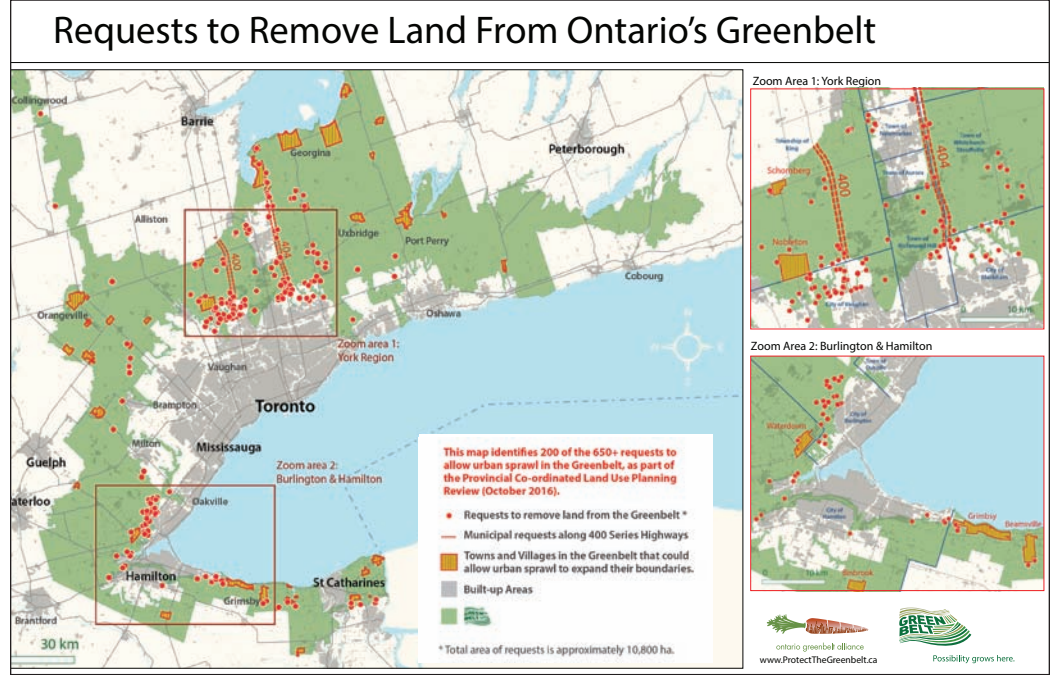

"The Premier has a clear choice: protect and expand the Greenbelt and build healthy and sustainable cities, or favour developers and urban sprawl at great public expense in terms of increased traffic gridlock and taxes, and increased damage to our health and quality of life," said Jack Gibbons of the North Gwillimbury Forest Alliance.

According to King's Ward 5 Councillor Debbie Schaefer, the review of the Conservation Plans and the Growth Plan has been under way for over 18 months now. Except for those who have really got engaged by attending the public consultations, reading the draft amended plans it has been a fairly "arcane exercise."

"Public surveys show over and over that a large majority of people appreciate the Greenbelt and are happy to know that the land is being protected so that food can be grown locally, that important water sources are protected and that there are available places for great outdoor activity. I think that these people will be shocked, perhaps outraged, to see the extent to which the Greenbelt is threatened."

The map clearly shows how vulnerable the Greenbelt is and how it can be seriously damaged without anyone knowing.

The red dots shown are only 1/3 of all the requests to the Province to take land out of the Protected Countryside.

This is land which has been protected to date as that is where our food is grown, where there are headwaters for rivers which ultimately are drinking water for 250,000 people.

Schaefer pointed out there are at least 20 requests from land owners in King Township to take 520 hectares out of the Protected Countryside.

She noted it's "shocking ... as if a veil has been ripped off and you can now see clearly what is happening."

"And I am appalled that any of these requests would be granted without quality public consultation. The public should not have to comb through the Environmental Registry to find requests in order to communicate concerns to the Province."

In addition, the proposed amended Growth Plan includes a new opportunity for sprawl. It proposes that towns and villages in the Protected Countryside such as Schomberg and Nobleton can be expanded as part of a Municipal Comprehensive Review.

"Two things trouble me with this. First there is the apparent acceptance that boundaries are no longer considered fixed. And I am troubled that expansion could be approved without Provincial Review. Given what the Greenbelt is about I think it is wrong that individual municipalities would have that control. The Greenbelt is not in place to serve any one municipality; it is about conserving land where food is grown and protecting sensitive ecosystems for those far beyond a specific municipality. Expanding the boundaries for Schomberg and Nobleton should not be left to the discretion of King Township Council and York Region.

"Every property owner who has made a request to have lands taken out of the Protected Countryside is lobbying the Province to approve their request. And they will be lobbying the Province to ease the hurdles for expanding towns and villages."

Greg Locke, of Concerned Citizens of King Township (CCKT) said they're in agreement with the OGA's concerns in this matter and "we encourage the public to have their say on the Province's input period until Oct. 31. The map is quite telling."

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"Public opinion shapes our destinies and guides the progress of human affairs"

~ Frank B. Kellogg

Social media lowering our collective IQs

"Social media websites are no longer performing an envisaged function of creating a positive communication link among friends, family and professionals. It is a veritable battleground, where insults fly from the human quiver; damaging lives, destroying self-esteem and a person's sense of self-worth."

~ Anthony Carmona

Those of us who are "connected," have a grasp on the power of social media.

But in reality, we're like little children playing with a new toy, not fully understanding how it works or what it is. We just push all the buttons, leap on the information highway and join the long "commute" to our destination.

Too fast, too soon, too much. Words to keep in mind.

Most of our society is ill equipped to manage our own grocery lists, credit card bills and personal relationships. So, let's give everyone a gizmo with enough power, data and connectivity so everyone has their 15 minutes of fame. Is this wise? Do we really want the prevailing social voice, or current trends to be in the hands of teenie-boppers with a thirst for gossip and exploiting human frailties?

I guess I've answered my own questions, but I can't stress enough how dangerous the situation is becoming.

Seemingly innocent indiscretions are caught on camera, broadcast within seconds around the globe for all to see. We can't even scratch our behinds in public for fear of being caught on tape. Nose-picking? Don't even think about it!

No, fellow citizens, social media and our related techno-toys are evolving (?) into modern-day methods of surveillance. Forget about Orwell's "Big Brother" - our own brothers and sisters are in on it and watching our every move. Boy, had Orwell seen this coming, his story would be quite different, indeed.

Why give all the power to the government, and secret agencies, when the public can watch each other's every move. Brilliant! The conspiracy theorists must be having a field day with all of this.

I wouldn't go so far as saying John and Jane Doe are all in league with Lucifer, but there is "evil" afoot.

And that shouldn't come as a surprise to anyone who pays attention to human history or human behaviour.

"People take things at face value on social media. Earnestness is the assumption."

~ Mindy Kaling

Mindy is quite right. But when has our species been perfect in making assumptions, or displaying "earnestness?" Since when has our collective judgement been impeccable?

You're right, never!

So, along comes an array of new tools and gadgets, things that make our lives better, more entertaining, easier. We don't want to be left out, so we flock to stores and follow the mobs as they line up for the newest and latest in devices.

Many are addicted to technology and simply must be on the leading edge of advancement.

Notice I didn't use the word "progress," since that would be a matter of opinion. I'm still on the fence.

What I'm clear about is the destructive capability of social media in the wrong hands.

In recent years, we've now added cyber-bullying, online luring, social media stalking and the collection and distribution of all sorts of disgusting imagery to our list of "accomplishments." I find it disheartening that humankind exploited another method of displaying its base and twisted tendencies.

Dear friends, social media has, in many ways, kicked morality in the shins, with no regret or remorse. It's so easy to become Jekyll and Hyde online or behind a mobile device that our weaker souls flourish in their own debauchery.

I will now get off my soapbox and close my Bible.

The Internet and social media can do such good in bringing a community, or the world, together.

It's a mainstay of today's marketing, promotional and fundraising toolkit.

It's a must for spreading awareness and keeping people informed and educated. The key is finding reputable sources for your "fix" of instant information.

Being in the information business, I am a bit torn between traditional and new methods of educating the public. Sure, you can read almost any publication online or via your phone or tablet. Does that make physical newspapers, magazines or catalogues things of the past? Not at all. For many, flipping through pages, or reading your community newspaper with a cup of coffee simply can't be beat.

I will admit, though, that you can't ignore the interest in online access. Our paper has its own website, and I know people from all around the world keep tabs on King via our informative articles. And that's a good thing.

We are living in interesting times. I would suggest that everyone familiarizes themselves with virtual reality and exploring the wonders of encyclopaedic knowledge at your fingertips.

But be warned. With great power comes great responsibility. Enjoy social media wisely and in moderation!

Happy Valley lands clarification

The article published in the King Weekly Sentinel (dated Oct. 5) mentions the proposed acquisition as a donation. While Mrs. Rose is working closely and cooperatively with NCC on this project, it is in fact a purchase of 26 acres of her property, and not a donation.

In regards to council, nothing final has been approved or conveyed as of yet. Council voted to receive the application and the staff report regarding the rezoning and proposed conveyance of portions of the Rose property and adjacent NCC lands. They also received public input on the proposal up to and including the public meeting on Sept. 26. Council will later receive and table a staff recommendation report (which will note any additional public or agency input) at a future Council meeting. That report will include recommended conditions, but no conditions have been set yet. If the rezoning is approved, then the Committee of Adjustment has to approve the actual boundary changes before any conveyance of land can take place.

Letter to the Editor

Mill Road traffic 'madness!'

Mill Road is a short, winding, hilly, gravel road, some 2.2 kilometers between King Road and the King Vaughan Line. The road is basically a local access road to 14 residences and 12 residences on Elmpine Trail.

Some two years or so ago, commuters started travelling Mill Road to bypass traffic, for whatever reason.

Nevertheless, the reason for doing so caught on and today, Monday through Friday mornings, from 6.30 to 8 a.m., some 250-plus vehicles travel down Mill Road.

What really is really more disturbing is that many of these vehicles exceed the posted speed of 60 mph limit some 120 metres after exiting south off King Road! I guess they have to get to work soon!

Ward 2 Councillor, David Boyd and our mayor have been made well aware of this! What did they do? They posted a sign at the end of Mill Road: "Local Traffic Only."

Really? Come out early one morning and watch our "local traffic" on Mill Road.

GTA West Corridor review

In December 2015 the Ministry of Transportation suspended its work on the environmental assessment of the Greater Toronto Area West (GTA West) highway corridor to conduct an internal review of the work undertaken since 2007, and ensure that the project still aligns with current government policy and emerging technologies.

To assist with the review, an advisory panel made up of industry experts was appointed. The panel members are Gail Beggs as chair, along with Rod Northey and Matthias Sweet.

Ontario's unprecedented investments in public transit and transportation infrastructure, the Climate Change Action Plan, changes to the Growth Plan for the Greater Golden Horseshoe, as well as car sharing services and automated car technologies all support a more efficient use of existing highway infrastructure.

The advisory panel is preparing a strategic assessment of potential alternative approaches to meeting future transportation demand and infrastructure needs, to ensure the efficient movement of passengers and goods in the GTA West corridor. The panel has had the opportunity to review material dating back over a decade, and is now seeking public input through a call for submissions, an online questionnaire, and stakeholder consultations.

Municipalities, Indigenous communities, interested stakeholders and the general public are invited to provide feedback. An online questionnaire will be available at www.gtawestreview.com, and questions or comments may also be submitted by email to gtawestreview@ontario.ca.

"With new emerging technologies and the government's commitment to help protect the environment and the Greenbelt, it is essential to have a forward looking plan when it comes to dealing with congestion and transportation needs," said Steven Del Duca, Minister of Transportation.

It could be a pair of track shoes, a theatrical costume, or maybe even a robotics set. If your child has a passion for something, we will harness it and take it to a whole new level. We will essentially attach a big set of sub-woofers to it and allow it to be amplified to the world. If they have yet to find it, we will dig down deep and explore all the possibilities, and not stop until we unearth that one thing that opens their mind and their eyes as big as humanly possible. It's an incredible place to discover big, dreamy answers to the question,

'Moving the McGillivrays' receives amazing response

By Mark Pavilons

The biggest residential home build of Scott McGillivray's career has come with its own unique challenges. And those are revealed, for the whole world to see, weekly on TV.

Moving the McGillivrays is a 10-part series on HGTV Canada that welcomes viewers into Scott McGillivray's family life and home. It follows the McGillivrays' real-life adventures as they build their dream home together in King Township.

Just three episodes in so far, and it's the highest rated program he's done to date. "It's amazing how we've been received," he said.

Working on the large, custom-built home while filming the TV show presents its own trials and tribulations. McGillivray's team of professionals is joined by trades supplied by local niche builder Hard at Work.

"We're working our butts off (to get the house completed)," he said.

Normally, a project of this magnitude would take two years. The house is being built in less than a year, and they're well into their TV production schedule. They're cutting it close, though. McGillivray said shows are aired roughly five weeks after they're shot. If it were any closer, they'd be live, he joked.

"We're happy but tired," he said.

They did encounter some unanticipated problems, which are not unusual with such a large-scale project. Good weather last winter and through this summer have helped move things along.

Admittedly the work has been disruptive in the community, but neighbours have been "amazing," he said. "Everyone's been so good about it."

The reception locally has been great and the family hopes to be in the home celebrating Halloween.

Scott and his wife Sabrina, plus their two little girls, Myah, 4 and Layla, 2, are all excited about making King their home. "We've already embraced it as our home," he said.

One part savvy real estate investor, one part skilled contractor and one part accomplished entrepreneur, Scott McGillivray is a triple threat.

McGillivray's passion lies in educating homeowners to make smart renovation and investment decisions that deliver financial rewards.

Best known as the host and executive producer of the award-winning HGTV series, Income Property, Scott has taken home renovation television to the next level, helping cash-strapped homeowners choose their perfect investment property and renovate it to generate maximum rental income. 140+ episodes over 11 seasons currently air on HGTV and DiY Network, as well as other networks across 30+ countries.

Scott and Sabrina are also passionate about giving back to their community and sharing their time and expertise to help others achieve their own goals of home ownership. To that end, the McGillivrays have partnered with Habitat for Humanity to help build a home for a hard-working family.

Watch Moving the McGillivrays Sundays at 9 p.m. on HGTV Canada.

Parade of Horses finalist for award

The Headwaters Parade of Horses was named a finalist in the Innovator of the Year Award category, for the 2016 Ontario Tourism Awards of Excellence.

The Headwaters Parade of Horses initiative came to life because of area communities' commitment to this project. During the course of the project, more than 45 amazing, talent and passionate artists came together to voluntarily donate their time to transform these equine canvases into magical works of art.

As a not-for-profit organization, this project had no budget, but rather was the vision of our Headwaters Equine Leadership group to create a legacy for the equestrian events of the Toronto 2015 Pan Am Games and to do something spectacular to showcase the breadth of artistic talent that can be found in Headwaters.

"As such, we extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to all the sponsors and patrons who provided us with financial support for bringing this project to life – you believed in our vision, you supported our artistic community, and you were a critical part of making it happen," said Michael Harris, executive director of Headwaters Tourism. "It is because of you that the Headwaters Parade of Horses continues to draw visitors from far and wide to our area, and we are thrilled that because of your commitment, the Headwaters Parade of Horses is garnering provincial and national recognition."

Several of the horses can be seen around King Township as a lasting reminder of the project.

Ontario Tourism Award of Excellence award winners will be announced in Ottawa on Nov. 22 and Canadian Tourism Award winners will be announced in Gatineau, Quebec on Nov. 29.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini was joined by Councillor Debbie Schaeber, Dr. Bruce Robinson and staff at the ribbon cutting of the dental office in King City.

Revamped dental office holds opening

It was a beautiful evening on Sept. 16 for celebrating the grand opening of the dental office of Dr. Bruce Robinson and his staff at 2151 King Road in King City.

The fall-themed event was catered by Maunders Fine Foods of Aurora, and all who attended seemed to enjoy the occasion. Guests had the opportunity to tour the new office, and learn a bit about the history of this charming historic building.

In his speech, Mayor Steve Pellegrini commented that Dr. Robinson has done a great job of preserving the 119-year-old building and repurposing it for his new dental clinic.

At the end of the evening, Dr. Robinson thanked everyone for coming, with special acknowledgment given to his staff, patients and all who were involved in the construction and improvement of the property. New patients are always welcome.

Sustainability a top priority as Seneca breaks ground on King Campus expansion

By: Lisa Pires

Seneca's King Campus expansion project celebrated a new milestone this week, as ground was officially broken on the construction of a new academic facility and student centre.

This expansion, which is the first major revitalization of King Campus in more than 30 years, will provide teaching and learning opportunities for more than 5,000 full-time students annually, while enhancing the quality of student learning and campus life.

According to Angelo Miranda, Seneca's Director of Major Capital Projects, sustainability was a top priority when planning for the expansion.

"Energy efficiency and environmental sustainability have always been goals for this project," said Miranda. "We are hoping to be certified LEED Gold in the Canada Green Building Council's Leadership in Energy and Environment Design [LEED®] rating system."

Sustainable practices have been built into every aspect of the plan. For instance, Seneca plans to utilize reclaimed water in the new facilities to lessen the impact on the local environment.

In addition, once the expansion is complete the campus will be able to accommodate 1,450 additional students. This means that more students in York Region will have the opportunity to study close to home, reducing their carbon footprint.

Seneca is also keen to preserve the campus's 700 acres of forest, hills, meadows and wetland, and the pristine 45-acre Lake Seneca. Much of the campus is protected under the Oak Ridges Moraine Act as well.

"The environmental heritage of the King Campus is an integral part of its identity, and it inspires our commitment to sustainable and environmentally-conscious design," said Miranda.

Society speaker talks about herbs

Parsley, sage, rosemary and thyme – is there anything more delicious and aromatic than herbs fresh from the garden? The special guest speaker at the upcoming and last regular meeting for this year of the Schomberg Horticultural Society is a professional herb and food educator who has developed and presented hundreds of programs for audiences across Ontario and the U.S. including the Royal Botanical Gardens, Mohawk College, Canada Blooms and other venues. Glenn Brunetti's presentation will provide details about growing and various uses of herbs – culinary, scent, medicinal, aesthetic, wildlife attraction, etc. Please join them, ask any questions of the speaker, and stay for refreshments on Tuesday, Oct. 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Schomberg Community Hall, 325 Main St.

a Covenanting Service will be held at 4 p.m.

We invite all members and friends of York Pines to attend as we join with our new minister Rev. Paul Rumbolt to renew our commitment to the service of God in our community. The President will be Rick McKinley, Toronto Conference Liaison and Rev. Audrey Brown will deliver the sermon. Refreshments to follow. Please call the church to let us know if you're coming, 905-727-8118.

Main Street Christmas

Main Street Christmas happens this year on Saturday, Dec. 3. Gates are open at 3 p.m.

The Main Street Christmas Santa Claus Parade happens at 4 p.m. starting at Western Avenue and Main Street, heading south on Main Street and turning right at Church Street.

I am the Parade Marshall and last year I had an amazing response from the community so let's make it even better this year. I am looking for the participation of all organizations, businesses and anyone who wants to be in a parade to contact myself at 905-590-0054 or email me at wsue52@hotmail.com

It would not be possible to run "A Main Street Christmas" without the assistance of our gracious sponsors. Sponsoring the event is a great opportunity for companies, not only to support a significant local event but also to get better known in the community. The AMSC brochure is distributed to 8,000 homes in King Township, and last year we had a record 6,000 people attend the event. As a result, sponsoring AMSC is definitely beneficial and a cost efficient way of promoting local businesses in and around the Township.

Some changes have been made to the 2016 sponsorship package including the use and exposure opportunities by promoting our sponsors through social media.

If you are interested in sponsoring "A Main Street Christmas," please contact Richard by email at amscontact@gmail.com or by phone at 647-559-0989. Further details and information about the event are also available on our website, www.amainstreetchristmas.com.

Schomberg Community Farm

Cheryl Fisher, of the Community Farm, is pleased to announce that the costly and time-consuming abutments are finally in and all is ready for the all-important Bridge installation to happen in 2017.

Many thanks to Trisan Construction for their hard work on this project, to the Township for its great support and generosity and to the Schomberg Village Association (SVA) who generously provided more funds for the Farm so they could purchase a water pump to water the fruit plants. This has been a mammoth project this past summer.

Cheryl would also like to send out thanks to County Zen Yoga who held several yoga fundraising events this year to help raise over $520 to support the Schomberg Community Farm.

The Farm will once again this year be creating a large Gingerbread House for a raffle to take place at AMSC on Saturday, Dec. 3. Tickets will be $2 each or 6 for $10 and of course all proceeds will go towards supporting the Farm. You can call Cheryl at 905-949-8494 for info.

Please visit their website or call Cheryl at 905-939-8494 for more.

York Pines Church

Sunday, Oct. 16 a Community Meal is being hosted by York Pines. We continue our year-long 50th anniversary celebration with an invitation to the community to join us for supper and entertainment. In September, York Pines welcomed a new minister, Rev. Paul Rumbolt. We invite people to come to a worship service on a Sunday at 10:30 a.m. to welcome Paul to the community, and to listen to the music he has such a passion for (he sing and plays his guitar at almost every service!).

Dance classes happen in the basement of York Pines every Monday from 7-8 p.m. for those more advanced dancers, and from 8 to 9 p.m. for those just starting out or dusting off their dancing shoes. Cost is $23/couple for a 1 hour lesson. Newcomers are especially welcome at the 8 p.m. class. For more information, call Jackie at 905-939-2233.

Cougars tame the Terriers for first home win

By Jake Courtepatte

Fans at the Trisan Centre were treated to their first Junior C win of the season last Thursday, with the Schomberg Cougars offence coming on late in a 4-1 win over the Orillia Terriers.

Schomberg captain J.P. Crescenzi scored his first goal of the season in a 5-3 loss to the Orillia Terriers on Sunday.

A hard-fought game on both sides until mid-way through the final frame, it only took a span of 32 seconds for the Cougars to gain a commanding hold of the lead with goals from Kiefer McIntosh and Brennan Young for a 3-1 score.

With Orillia goaltender Brendan Dale pulled late, Young added an empty-netter to seal the win.

Connor May continued an impressive outing in his first year in Schomberg, scoring the first goal of the game just over 12 minutes in. The rookie has put up seven points over his first nine games.

Nicholas Nabuurs proved his worth between the pipes for the Cougars in his fifth start of the year, and best yet. He stopped 26 of the 27 shots he faced from the Terriers, only allowing Marty Lawlor to beat him ten seconds into the third period.

Win over Midland

Regular Vince Michelizzi was forced to contend with 42 shots the following night in Midland, but came out on the right side of a 6-4 victory.

Connor Whiteside and Young each scored twice, while Ryley Egerton and Daniel Perry each added singles in a game where the Cougars were outshot in each period.

The only thorn in the side of the Schomberg players was Francesco Corona, a former Cougar who has spent the last two seasons in Midland. Putting up two points in the contest, he leads the Flyers with an incredible 19 points through six games.

Terriers bite back

Nabuurs returned between the pipes on Sunday in Orillia, where the Cougars' streak came to an end. With the score tied 3-3 late in the third, the Terriers added two goals in the final five minutes for a 5-3 win.

Captain J.P. Crescenzi, Liam Spurgeon, and Matthew Hudgin all chipped in for Schomberg.

Sunday's loss gave the Terriers a two-point advantage over the Cougars in the Carruthers division of the PJHL, but Schomberg's first two-game winning streak of the season does not come without reward. Their record of 3-6-0 puts them four points up over the Caledon Golden Hawks, who are still in search of their first home win.

The Alliston Hornets, to no surprise of any PJHL spectator, continue to be the most dominating force in the former GMOHL. The reigning league champs remain undefeated while amassing a goal differential of 30 through their first eight games.

A month's reprieve of facing the Hornets comes to an end for the Cougars this Friday, at New Tec Rec with a puck drop set for 7:30 p.m. The weekly home game goes the night prior at the Trisan Centre, when the Cougars look to continue their success against Midland. Game time is 8:30p.m.

King City Royals wrap up best season

Despite ending their York Region Soccer Association's first division season with a loss against the league and Ontario Cup champion Woodbridge Strikers 2-1 on Sept. 27, the U13 King City Royals boys' soccer team probably played their best overall game of the season in the defeat.

Going into the game, Woodbridge averaged more than seven goals a game and allowed just two the entire year as the Royals held the Strikers at bay for most of the game. The first half was primarily a mid-field tussle as both teams were feeling each other out. The Royals actually had the first shot on net about eight minutes in as they broke down the wing for a shot outside of the box. Woodbridge was trying to use their pace to get by the King City defence with some long passes early on but defencemen Andrew Lamanna, David Matyiaszek, Matthew Mura, Miguel Parra, Giovanni Sciuilli, Dominy Xu and Jacob Snelgrove, who normally plays on the wing but used his speed to fill in admirably on defence, were outstanding all game long.

Woodbridge finally had a shot on target at the 15 minute mark but Anthony Bruno made a diving save low to his left side to keep the game scoreless. Woodbridge then broke through on a turnover at the half hour mark as they scored on a shot placed high in the corner to take a 1-0 lead into half-time.

Although Woodbridge made it 2-0 nine minutes into the second half, that goal actually picked up King City's pace as they took advantage of a Woodbridge defensive mistake at the 18 minute mark when striker Marco LaVerde scored with a bullet shot to make it 2-1. There were a few more opportunities for each team thereafter but no more scoring as the game ended in a competitive 2-1 final.

The Royals were missing midfielder Kahyl Jadavji but the others, Mario Fratto, Gianpaolo Luciani, Luca Lupinetti and Nico Toledo-Duenas, worked hard all game long containing the high powered Woodbridge offence. The striker trio of Marco LaVerde (33 goals this season, third overall in the league), Zack Donsky (15) and Mason Dalakis (6) also had a solid game in the loss as the team's fourth striker, Lucas Schiavello (4), missed the game to injury.

Overall the season was a massive success as the Royals finished fifth in their 21-team division with a 14-4-2 (44 points) record as they scored 86 goals on the year and allowed just 30, both fifth ranked in the league. Goaltender Anthony Bruno also recorded three shutouts as the team's goals against average for the year was a respectable 1.50 per game.

The boys will be playing in the Hershey Indoor League this winter as games there are scheduled to start in late October/early November. This will prepare the team as they get ready for next summer's CSL (Central Soccer League) season.

Graham to be inducted into Jump Hall of Fame

One of King's equestrians will join three colleagues as new inductees into the Jump Canada Hall of Fame. The induction ceremony and gala, presented by BMO Financial Group, is on Sunday, Nov. 6, at the Liberty Grand in Toronto.

The Jump Canada Hall of Fame was created in 2006 to recognize outstanding contributions to hunter/jumper sport. To date, 53 champions have been welcomed into the Hall of Fame, including 19 horses and ponies, 24 humans, six organizations, and four teams. This year, the Hall of Fame will debut the new category of Groom to pay tribute to the hard-working individuals behind the scenes whose dedicated care for their equine charges plays an integral role in the hunter and jumper industry.

Rider Hugh Graham of Schomberg will take his place among his peers.

"We are thrilled to present the 10th Jump Canada Hall of Fame Gala," said Mark Samuel, chairman of the Jump Canada Hall of Fame committee. "We are inducting four very deserving champions, and it promises to be an entertaining and emotional evening."

"This year, we have decided to refresh and innovate with our selections and will be debuting the new category of Groom," continued Samuel. "For anyone connected to the sport, there is a great awareness that the very foundation for the nurturing and caretaking of our equine partners begins with the groom. We are excited to honour Marion Atkinson as our first inductee in this category, and look forward to making many more such inductions in the years ahead. I warmly invite the entire horse community to join with us in November to celebrate Marion, Elizabeth Bordeaux, Hugh Graham, and of course, Glen Owen!"

The Jump Canada Hall of Fame Gala has quickly grown into an annual favourite and each edition has been a sell-out. Videos commemorating each inductee's contributions to the sport are a highlight of the evening, and friends and associates present the distinct Hall of Fame awards, making for a very special evening recalling the sport's greatest memories. Induction and acceptance speeches run the gamut from factual to humorous to poignant.

Tickets for the Jump Canada Hall of Fame Gala and Induction Ceremony are $200 per person and can be purchased individually or in tables of eight. To purchase tickets, please visit <https://www.equestrian.ca/sport/jumping/hall-of-fame>. Hall of Fame tickets will only be sold on-line through an easy-to-use credit card system.

For more information, please contact Chrystal Labelle at 613-287-1515 ext. 142 or e-mail: CLabelle@equinecanada.ca.

A veteran rider, Hugh Graham has been a stalwart of the Canadian Equestrian Team for more than 40 years. A champion calf roper throughout high school, Graham's rodeo career ended due to a fractured leg. He went on to work for Olympic team gold medalist Jim Day and became interested in show jumping, winning his first grand prix event in 1973. Graham has since ridden on Olympic, World Championship and Pan American teams with great success, including a team gold medal at the 1987 Pan Am Games, and has represented Canada in four World Cup Final events.

Graham's career continues to flourish into its fifth decade. He won two FEI level events in 2014 riding Airborne, owned by Julie Firestone, and continues to enjoy great success riding products of the breeding program at KingRidge Stables, denoted by the '3E' at the end of their names, where Graham is the head trainer. No stranger to the hunter ring throughout his long career, Graham also successfully competes in the hunter derbies.

Graham's daughter, Laurel, is following in her father's footsteps by also pursuing a show jumping career.

Anglican Parish By John Arnott

"Do you reaffirm your renunciation of evil? Do you renew your commitment to Jesus Christ? Do you put your whole trust in his grace and love?"

With these challenges to each of the young candidates presented by parish priest Rev. Shellagh Ashworth, the Right Reverend Peter de Courcy Fenty Suffragan Bishop of York-Simcoe, Anglican Diocese of Toronto, began the centuries old Sacrament of Confirmation dating back to earliest Christian times and beyond having roots in the Jewish bar Mitzvah service of Christ's day.

Each of young people, Sarah Ashworth, Ethan Hall, Aidan Kokelj, Cameron Kokelj, Aidan Matukas, Samuel Matukas, Beatrix Shields and Hayden Shields, supported by the large gathered congregation that included family and friends of the candidates, answered the challenges affirmatively.

Bishop Peter in his homily urged all, especially those who make up the Anglican community in the Parish of Lloydton to look less solemn, smile more and always have friendly and welcoming words for that "stranger in church." He urged the young people and their elders to ever be accepting of others regardless of their colour, ethnic heritage, language, religious beliefs or lack of, sexual orientation, or social position as Jesus himself showed when without reserve he ministered to all he met.

Our treasured organist Joy Gannicott wove a moving tapestry of music all through the service and Zoe Simmons from the St. Alban's Anglican community in Nobleton enriched it even more when as soloist during Communion she sang the beautiful "Pie Jesu" (Pious Jesus).

The theme of this memorable Service of Confirmation, a high point in the lives of the young people involved as they assume full membership in the Anglican Communion, was certainly summed up in the refrain of the Offertory Hymn "Come and journey, come and journey with a Saviour who has come. We are all God's sons and daughters, in the Spirit we are one."

'Souper Thursday' coming to St. Mary's

King's Corners

King City United
By Earle Laycock

As we celebrated Thanksgiving, Rev. Evelyn McLachlan reminded us of the sign in front of the church that reads "Are You Thankful or Just Full?" In Exodus 32:1-14, we hear about Moses's people who have escaped slavery from Egypt, are fed miraculously by God on their escape, guided by a divine GPS system, yet are so quick to turn away from all their blessings while Moses is occupied on the mountain.

As Rev. Evelyn stated: "So, enjoy your turkey or prime rib or macaroni and cheese, but focus on the abundance of grace, mercy and faithfulness of our God who desires to be in relationship with each one of us ... Be aware of God's presence ... Keep on doing the things you have learned and received and heard and seen in those faithful who have gone before you because then the God of peace will be indeed with you!"

The October King City United Church newsletter is now available. You can receive the newsletter electronically by contacting Kristen at 905-833-5181 or via email kcuc@bellnet.ca Drop by the office to pick up a printed copy if you prefer.

Bible study is held every Wednesday morning at 10:30 a.m. in the Chapel. Whether you attend King City United or not, you are welcome to join us for Bible study and fellowship.

On Thursday, Oct. 13, a group of concerned citizens are meeting in our parking lot with Metrolinx and King Township council to talk about the concern they have regarding those who use our parking lot as the overflow parking for GO Transit. They have noted that Elizabeth Grove has become a shortcut for those wishing to bypass the lights at King and Keele Streets and that many who leave the church's parking lot drive over the speed limit through the neighbourhood while children are playing or people are walking/jogging. Rev. Evelyn will be joining this walkabout at 3 p.m. to hear their concerns and hopefully together we can all arrive at a solution that will benefit everyone. If you are interested in coming on the walkabout, please meet at King City United Church at 2:45 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 13.

Rev. Evelyn will be leading worship at Richmond Hill Retirement Home on Sunday, Oct. 16 at 2 p.m. with Sandra Kirby. Please note the change of time. If you would like to be part of this ministry, contact Rev. Evelyn.

Remember Tea & Talk at the King City Sunset Grill Friday mornings at 10 a.m. Drop by to discuss the latest news, your faith, meet new friends, renew acquaintances or even just to enjoy a delicious breakfast.

Enjoy a great roast beef dinner with some great singing but terrible skits and jokes on Friday or Saturday, November 25 and 26 by attending "The Dinner," sponsored by the United Men. Tickets are $30 and are available from Alan Henderson, 905-833-5047 or through the church office.

On Sunday, Oct. 30 we will enjoy a hymn sing in worship. But we need YOUR favourite hymns. They can be in Voices United or not. Please send your favourite hymns and the reason why they are your favourite by Friday, Oct. 21 to Rev. Evelyn, kcucmin@bellnet.ca

Worship services are held at King City United Church every Sunday at 10 a.m. Everyone is welcome. There is Sunday school for the young folks. King City United is located at 50 Elizabeth Grove, King City. For more information, call Kristen our office administrator at 905-833-5181 or visit our website at: www.kcuc.ca

St. Mary Magdalene's

Souper Thursday is coming to St. Mary Magdalene's Anglican Church in Schomberg kicking off on Thursday, Oct. 27 from 5 to 7 p.m. with a choice of 2 hearty soups and crusty rolls - eat in or take out. There'll be fun and games for the "inners!"

AA Meetings continue a St. Mary Magdalene's Schomberg Monday evenings starting at 7:30 p.m., with visitors welcome the last Monday of each month. For more information call the church office 905-939-2314 or visit the website www.anglicanparishoflloyd-town.com

King Bible Church

We welcome you to join us for worship service on Oct. 16! Pastor Mark will be continuing our sermon series "Family Matters" with "Pray for One Another."

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning "Celebration Zone" provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in Grade 1-8 will join their parents for the beginning of the service until they are invited to go downstairs. The children in kindergarten can go directly to their class at the start of the service.

If you have children aged 0-3 then we invite you to bring them to our beautiful and safe Nursery facilities which are located on the lower level. Caregivers will meet you there.

We chose the theme of "Legacy" because we believe that's what families are looking for; both to be a part of as well as leave a lasting "Legacy."

Breakthrough Treatment For Diabetic and Peripheral Neuropathies

Diabetic neuropathies are a family of nerve disorders caused by diabetes. People with diabetes can, over time, develop nerve damage throughout the body. Symptoms depend on the type of neuropathy and which nerves are affected. Some people with nerve damage have no symptoms at all. For others, your symptoms may include numbness, tingling, or pain in the feet, toes, hands, arms, and fingers.

Some of you may experience pain in the thighs, hips, or buttocks leading to weakness in the legs, a condition called proximal neuropathy.

A smaller percentage of you may experience a sudden weakness of one nerve or group of nerves, causing muscle weakness or pain, a condition known as focal neuropathy.

You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your symptoms. But you find the symptoms keep returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of medications that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

There is a new, natural, safe and highly effective approach that has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically: Laser therapy uses light to favor and accelerate the body's natural healing processes. The innovative Multiwave Locked System (MLS) Laser produces a safe, efficient and simultaneous effect on pain, inflammation and nerve conduction, exceeding the limits of traditional LLLT (Low power) and concerns of HP (High power) laser therapy.

According to multiple studies MLS therapy appears to be uniquely capable of healing the injured nerve in DPN (Diabetic Polyneuropathy) and shows great promise in the battle against the devastating sequelae of this disease.

What does this mean for you?
