The long-awaited bridge that now connects the Schomberg Community Farm was installed April 4, is a welcome addition to the community.

Bridge connects Schomberg Community Farm

The vision of The Schomberg Community Farm became a little closer, getting a big boost the afternoon of April 4. The long-awaited bridge was finally installed. It has been a long and slow process, since the first meeting in October 2013. The six acres of land-locked, flood plain municipal land has presented many challenges to overcome.

The pouring rain on installation day did nothing to dampen the spirits of the ecstatic farm executive. The committee is thankful now to move forward with the preparation of garden plots for rent, planning and events.

There are many ways people can get involved with this exciting project. Work days are just one way, and a few are already scheduled as are some events. Follow them on Facebook or contact at schombergcommunityfarm@gmail.com and request to be on the email list, to receive updates and the quarterly newsletter. Also more information is on the website, as well as pictures and a short video of the bridge installation at www.schombergcommunityfarm.ca

New zoning bylaw discussed by councillors, public

By Mark Pavilons

Consultants are putting the finishing touches on King's new comprehensive zoning bylaw for its three major urban centres.

While this long overdue document will set the stage for years to come, some apprehension, and a chicken-and-the-egg scenario regarding an appeal to Nobleton's bylaw, raised concerns around King's council table.

A number of Nobleton residents packed the council chambers April 3, worried that changes in the new bylaw will curtail certain property rights. Several residents, who addressed council on the matter, also claimed they weren't given proper notification and detailed information on this important document. They asked for further consultation with property owners.

Bobby Gauthier, from consulting planners MMM Group, noted there have been many revisions to the zoning bylaw for Schomberg, Nobleton and King City Urban Areas since it was made public March 14. Consultants were driven by key issues – core area zoning, the character of established neighbourhoods, and a special policy area around the King City GO station lands.

Zoning policies have been updated in village core areas and Schomberg received a special policy area due to the presence of the floodplain. Gauthier said they've brought the zoning bylaw into conformity with the Oak Ridges Moraine Plan; addressed core parking issues and updated TRCA regulations, largely in King City. The ORMP affects only King City and the very northern portion of Nobleton.

A new section was added to address landform conservation, aquifer vulnerability and wellhead protection.

Council has the task of deciding just how to proceed. Gauthier said councillors can consider integrating Nobleton at a later date, once the appeal to its zoning bylaw is concluded. Staff indicated this should be taken care of shortly.

Gauthier pointed out King's Official Plan review is still in progress, and the new zoning bylaw supports broader strategic principles such as economic development, sustainability and customer service.

The final draft should be available for council's approval by late April or early May.

If the Nobleton appeal doesn't come soon enough, Gauthier said the best way to proceed is to approve the King City and Schomberg portions of the bylaw.

A representative of a Schomberg property owner asked for council to consider site-specific considerations for a property that's being eyed for development on Highway 27.

A representative of several Nobleton residents said they believe the zoning bylaw is premature. He said property owners need to know the exact impacts on commercial properties.

Former Nobleton councillor Peter Grandilli said many core property owners are not aware of the bylaw's intricacies. He asked for another information session to bring owners up to speed.

One resident argued the new proposed setback rules will result in more applications to the committee of adjustment, making more work for staff.

Another man said he had difficulty finding the information on the zoning bylaw. He was adamant that residents be contacted by the Township (and via mail) regarding meetings and be sent a copy of the bylaw.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini said all of the information is accessible on the Township's website. The process in coming up with the new bylaw has been laborious. He took offence to people suggesting the municipality wasn't open and transparent in this matter.

Planning director Stephen Kitchen said there have been ample opportunities for the public to participate in the process.

School boards top heavy with high-paid staffers

By Mark Pavilons

High-paid civil servants abound at the two district school boards subsidized by local taxpayers.

Both the York District and York Catholic District School Boards had many employees who appeared on the "Sunshine List" for 2016.

The salaries and taxable benefits of employees in the Ontario Public Service and the broader public sector, who were paid $100,000 or more in 2016, were released recently. The Public Sector Salary Disclosure Act requires public sector organizations to disclose, by March 31, the name, position, salary and taxable benefits of their employees paid $100,000 or more in the previous calendar year.

The York Catholic District School Board had three employees who topped the $200,000 mark. In all, 480 staffers, including many principals and vice-principals, made the list.

Normand Vezina, senior manager environmental and office services, earned $235,175.

Opiyo Oloya, superintendent of education, school leadership, earned $234,526.

Patricia Preston, director of education and secretary of the board, earned $229,910.

Chief financial officer and treasurer Anna Chan pulled in $181,167.

Jacqueline Porter, coordinating manager of budget and audit services, earned $175,619.

Frances Bagley, associated director of strategic leadership, earned $174,078.

The York District School Board paled in comparison, and seemed downright frugal, with only 106 employees on the list.

The top wage-earner was Scott Yake, associate director of education, earned $194,011.

Steven Reid, superintendent of education, earned $166,545.

Heather Sears, superintendent of education curriculum and instructional services, made $155,910.

Teacher David Wagman earned $150,964.

Katherine Witherow, superintendent of education, was paid $150,145.

Peter Tse, superintendent of education, earned $149,397.

Christos Sarella, superintendent of education, earned $148,799.

Your Best Insurance is an Insurance Broker

How does my policy really work?

The following definitions explain a few of the major building blocks of home insurance.

Acts of God
Acts of God are considered natural disasters that could not have been reasonably prevented or avoided. Most standard forms cover the perils of hurricanes and tornados. Lightning and hail are classified as named perils. Coverages for flood or earthquake are not automatic in standard policies but may be available in most cases for an additional premium. Flood or earthquake coverage is likely to be more expensive and difficult to obtain in areas susceptible to these perils.

Deductibles
Deductibles are the amounts you pay to cover a loss before you are entitled to payment by your insurer. Just about every policy has a deductible, usually ranging from $500 to $5000. Deductibles are designed to discourage small claims, since the purpose of insurance is to protect you from catastrophic losses, not minor inconveniences.

Exclusions
Quite simply, exclusions are items, perils or situations that are not covered by your policy. Your insurer might exclude anything from long-term mould damage to natural disasters, computer data or high-speed watercraft. Other common exclusions include avoidable damage from termites or rodents, water seepage, frozen pipes, intentional damage and high-value items such as art and jewellery.

Liability—in the home and away from home
Although liability insurance is part of your homeowner policy, it also protects against third party claims for bodily injury and property damage caused (unintentionally) by you when you are away from home.

Depreciation
Depreciation is a measure of the loss in value of an item over time resulting from wear or obsolescence.

Valuations
Your insurer will likely want to conduct a valuation of your home in order to set the right replacement value and coverage level. Unlike an appraisal, this does not determine the market value of the property but rather the likely cost to rebuild the dwelling and other structures in the event of a complete loss, to original standards.

Overcoming insurance-ese
Insurance involves technical terms that can be baffling. These terms help to make policies precise but don't always help to make them clear. Don't be afraid to ask your broker to explain terms that you don't understand.

Your broker is an insurance expert, so you don't have to be.

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"Public opinion shapes our destinies and guides the progress of human affairs"

~ Frank B. Kellogg

Salaries the biggest drain on running our country

Governments don't tend to be well oiled corporations. They tend to operate in the red most of the time.

Governments, at all levels, are responsible to us, the taxpayers. We elect them and trust them with looking after the public good.

Citizens can be quite demanding at times. We ask for high quality roads and transit options; emergency services; health care and police protection. We expect that our garbage gets picked up at the end of our driveway or laneway on time.

We fully realize that sewers, Internet fibre, fire engines and arenas cost a lot of money to maintain.

Any car owner has known for decades that the cost of labour far exceeds the cost of mechanical parts.

When the cost of our civil servants reaches astronomical proportions – levels that far outweigh any bricks and mortar – we have to sit up and take stock of where we're headed.

From where I sit, it has become obvious that we simply can't afford to pay huge salaries to civil servants, year after year, after year.

On March 31 of every year, under the Salary Disclosure Act, government employees making $100,000 is released. It has grown to the War and Peace of pay cheque recording.

In King, our upper tier government is the Region of York. In 2016, York had more than 1,880 employees earning $100,000 or more! While I haven't calculated the average (it would literally take a day adding up these figures), it's likely in the area of $135,000. Just on that alone, the total tab for worker bees in York in 2016 was $245 million.

I don't know about you, but when I pored over the figures, I felt sick to my stomach.

York had 13 employees who earned more than $200,000 last year. This baker's dozen of privileged staffers earned a total of almost $3.1 million.

Top of the list was the CAO, who made a whopping $298,125.

By comparison, Premier Kathleen Wynne earned $208,974 and Toronto Mayor John Tory earned $184,666 in 2016. Prime Minister Justin Trudeau earns roughly $340,000.

I have heard the arguments over the years, ad nauseum, that in order to get top shelf employees, you have to pay attractive wages.

I'm not averse to paying contributing workers their due. But I do question administrative remuneration when results are difficult to quantify, and budgets bleed red ink.

Governments, at all levels, place a lot of faith in their CAOs who basically run the municipality and oversee the staff.

They're in demand and the salaries tend to be comparable. Department heads or commissioners are similarly well paid at the regional level.

But union agreements, seniority systems and cost of living increases have upped the ante, and kept salaries rising at an artificially high rate. Annual increases of $10,000 or more are simply unwarranted and perhaps unearned.

York Regional Police has a complement of 1,529 officers and 605 civilians, serving York's population of 1.13 million people. Here, constables earn over $100,000 and sergeants, detectives and superintendents are bringing in big bucks.

An average patrol officer in New York, with a university degree and 12-18 months of experience, earns an average of $52,000 U.S. (or $69,000 Canadian).

Our top brass earn some very shiny salaries, indeed.

York Regional Police Chief, earned $272,696 and the deputy chief pulled in $230,974. This duo enjoyed respective raises $22,000 and $13,000 between 2015 and 2016. These are far above cost of living hikes, which many Canadians don't receive. Do they really need "cost of living" increases?

I'm having trouble comprehending the bureaucratic brass that runs the region's health department. They have three medical officers of health, all of whom earn well over $200,000.

Can someone explain why it costs more than $700,000 to oversee a department that's responsible for things like rabies control, giant hogweed, beach water testing, "a guide to eating fish," playground safety, and information packages for parents?

Overburdened hospitals; cutbacks to seniors' services and home visits; the nightmare that are LHINs, and regional health departments are part of a massively expensive health care system that's basically quite sick.

I also find it funny (in an odd way) that chief financial officers command huge salaries, when they're dealing with money-losing corporations, and balance sheets that never balance. Have any of them ever recommended staff cutbacks as a way to save money?

Our school boards are also spend-thrifts in the salary department, with the York Catholic board taking the prize.

The board's associated director of strategic leadership earned $174,078. I wonder if "strategic leadership" includes cost-cutting measures!

Call me jealous, and criticize my comments as the tirades of an average working stiff. Maybe I'm sour because our dog's surgery has killed any vacation plans we had for the summer. I put $4 worth of gas in my car the other day because that's the loose change I had in my pocket. Such are the challenges of the little guy who lacks "sunshine."

I contribute to all of these salaries, through my income and property taxes, and my purchase of everything from take-out to gasoline.

As a taxpayer, I do have a say. The burden of these astronomical salaries may not be fully realized for another decade. That generation includes my children, who may pay the price for our current civil service avarice.

By-election to be held for Georgina trustee

At the April 4 board meeting, trustees of the York Region District School Board announced their decision to fill the vacant Georgina trustee position through a by-election.

The position is vacant following the resignation of Nancy Elgie, effective Feb. 21.

"Having a by-election means the residents of Georgina have a fair and democratic process to select their representative," said chair of the board Lorelea Carruthers. "We wanted to ensure a fair and transparent process and that's why we held a community consultation to ensure community concerns were heard."

Trustees directed staff members to communicate with the clerk's department at the Town of Georgina to initiate a by-election. More information, including timelines and polling locations, will be made available through the Town of Georgina. The board website will be updated as information becomes available.

The elected candidate will hold the position until the next municipal election, scheduled for October 2018.

York Region District School Board is the third largest school district in Ontario with over 123,000 students in 176 elementary schools and 32 secondary schools. York Region students consistently perform above average in provincial testing and the Board is one of the top achievers in Ontario. For more information about the York Region District School Board, visit the Board website and follow @YRDSB on Twitter.

Mayor urges residents to take pride in their community

By Mayor Steve Pellegrini

Take pride in your community. This is the message I'm hearing – and delivering – at our recent annual Meet the Mayor and Ward Councillor events.

We've already hosted two of them, one in Nobleton, the other in Schomberg. The number one concern I have heard at these events is about the amount of garbage people are leaving around community mailboxes.

The second most common concern is about speeding vehicles in our neighbourhoods.

While they may not look related at first glance, they actually are. They both speak to pride – or lack of it – in a community.

It's disheartening to hear about the flyers and assorted junk mail that are casually discarded at community mailboxes, especially given how much importance King places on the environment.

I'd ask people to take ownership of keeping King clean when it comes to unwanted mail. There are several options. You can bring the mail home and put it in your recycling bin. You can contact Canada Post and let them know you don't want to receive any mail addressed to "occupant." Or you can place a sticker in your mailbox saying "no flyers." If everyone took these small steps, it would make King cleaner.

The other issue I'm hearing about, speeding, is also one that speaks to civic pride. We've had this issue come to council many times in the past. And when York Regional Police look into the matter they find that the majority of people caught speeding on local roads are, you guessed it, local people. So I'd say to them, slow down and take pride in making your community a safer place.

Getting back to cleaning up King, there's an event coming up that will allow you to get out, get some fresh air, meet other local people and make King greener. We're hosting our annual Clean-up Day this April 22, which is also Earth Day. We provide garbage and recycling bags, gloves and pick-up locations in various parts of King. For more information on the event, visit www.king.ca.

And if you come out and volunteer – or volunteer in other ways throughout the year – please come out to our annual Volunteer Appreciation Night. It's taking place Thursday, April 20 at the Kingbridge Centre at 12750 Jane St. at 7 p.m. Please RSVP to Teresa Barresi by April 13 at tbarresi@king.ca or 905-833-4029.

It's a great chance to celebrate those who take pride in making King such a great place to live.

April is Stress Awareness Month Is Stress Making You Sick?

Learn how you may be suffering from the effects of chronic stress and potentially attributing it to some other cause. Dr. Vienna Iafrate, Naturopathic Doctor invites you to take control of your health and book your initial health assessment today to learn more about how you may be at an increased risk of suffering from the well-documented, devastating effects of chronic stress, and ways you can begin to manage and treat your stress, naturally!

The stress response from an evolutionary perspective has allowed you the survival advantage required to be sitting here today, reading this advertorial. Your body adapted well thanks to the innate stress response, allowing you the speed and endurance required to flee from danger, survive a famine and perhaps emigrate to another country. This principle known colloquially as "survival of the fittest," where fitness denotes an individual's overall ability to pass copies of his or her genes on to successive generations, has brought us here today. The only trouble is, our bodies have yet to adapt to the stressors of the 21st century - here we have no bears to flee from and no imminent concerns of starvation or famine, but yet our innate stress response is working overtime. Research shows we are arguably more stressed today, than ever before in human history.

The medical community now attributes approximately 75-90% of all primary care visits to be stress related, with anti-depressant and anti-anxiety prescriptions exponentially on the rise. The stress response is meant to improve our chances of surviving a physical threat, but when this response is prolonged or extreme, as seen in today's society, the effects on the body and brain can be devastating. Chronic stress is now acknowledged as a key driver behind most of today's modern health concerns, both physical and mental. Nearly all illness is stress related: it's either caused by stress, aggravated by stress or causes stress.

In light of recent scientific research, a number of physicians and researchers now recognize the ancient Chinese and traditional medicine philosophies that our mind and our bodies are in fact connected. What we perceive to be true within our minds, can profoundly influence our bodies. So that meeting you just attended, the argument you had with your wife this morning or your 5pm traffic commute, are all perpetuating the negative effects of an unnecessary stress response. Chronic stress may be increasing your risks of developing or exacerbating the following health concerns:

- Experiencing fluctuations in hormone balance
- Thyroid dysfunction
- Obesity
- Accelerated aging
- Alzheimer's disease
- Suppressed immunity
- Osteoporosis
- Sexual dysfunction
- Cancer
- Mood and other psychological disorders
- Hypertension
- Skin issues and many more!

The King West Wellness Centre invite you to join Dr. Vienna Iafrate, ND for a complete health assessment designed to help you determine if stress is making you sick. If you suffer from any of these health conditions mentioned above, or are at an increased risk of developing one or more of these concerns, schedule your initial visit today by calling the King West Wellness Centre at 905-773-2225 or by emailing dr.vienna.nd@gmail.com. The devastating effects of chronic stress may be written on your face, but it doesn't have to be!

CHATS walk a success

The annual CHATS fundraising walk was another big success. Funds from this year's event will be directed towards the CHATS Aurora office on Edward Street, where there is a garden for seniors. The Walk's funds are important to the annual maintenance and upkeep of that garden with its raised beds. At same office in the activity rooms, there are now peddle bikes so that those who used to cycle but are no longer able can continue to get that important exercise. And, the funds are one of the means for providing subsidies to seniors who are not able to pay the fees for services. Shown at this year's event are Christina Bisanz, CEO of CHATS; Yash Kapur, board chair; Ian Hilley, vice-chair; Michael Klejman, board member and King Councillor Debbie Schaefer.

Beef Tenderloin with Cognac Cream Sauce

- Ingredients:
- 4 -1/2 to 5 pound beef tenderloin (about 18-inches in length)
 - 4 tsp olive oil, divided
 - Kosher salt
 - coarsely cracked pepper
- FOR THE COGNAC CREAM SAUCE
- 2 tsp unsalted butter
 - 1/4 cup chopped shallots
 - 1/2 cup plus 1-1/2 tsp Cognac
 - 3 cups heavy cream
 - 2 -1/2 tsp Dijon mustard
 - 1 tsp chopped thyme leaves
 - 1/4 cup grated Parmigiano Reggiano
 - Kosher salt and cracked black pepper, to taste
- Directions:
1. Remove tenderloin from refrigerator and let stand at room temperature for 1 hour before roasting. Using a sharp, flexible knife, trim the "silver" membrane from the surface of the tenderloin and tuck "tail" underneath to create a tenderloin of even thickness. Tie with kitchen twine. (Or, ask your butcher to prepare your tenderloin for roasting.)
 2. Rub the tied tenderloin with about 2 tablespoons of olive oil. Sprinkle each side liberally with kosher salt and cracked black pepper, pressing to adhere.
 3. Preheat oven to 475 degrees F with rack in middle position.
 4. Place a large stove-top safe roasting pan over high heat and add about 2 tablespoons olive oil to coat the bottom of the pan, heating until hot but not smoking. Sear the tenderloin for about 3-4 minutes per side, until well-browned. Remove tenderloin from roasting pan and carefully clean pan with a paper towel in a pair of tongs.
 5. Place a roasting rack in the pan and set seared tenderloin on rack. Roast until desired internal temperature is reached in the thickest part of the meat, 125 degrees F for medium rare, about 20-25 minutes. Remove from oven, transfer tenderloin to a cutting board, tent with foil, and let rest for 10-15 minutes.

MAKE THE COGNAC CREAM SAUCE AND SERVE

1. Remove the roasting rack from the pan and place the pan on the stove over medium heat. Add butter and chopped shallots and sauté until shallots are soft and lightly-browned. Remove the pan from heat, carefully pour in 1/2 cup cognac, and scrape up the brown bits from the bottom of the pan. Return to heat and let simmer for 1-2 minutes.
2. Whisk in heavy cream and Dijon mustard. Gently simmer until sauce is thick enough to coat the back of a spoon, about 5 minutes. Whisk in Parmigiano Reggiano until melted and smooth. Turn off the heat and add remaining 1-1/2 teaspoons cognac and chopped thyme leaves. Season sauce to taste with salt and pepper. Carefully remove the twine from the tenderloin and cut meat into 1/2-inch slices. Drizzle with Cognac Cream Sauce at the table.

LCBO outlet now open in King City plaza

By Jake Courtepatte

Bring out the bubbly.

The LCBO and King Township councillors celebrated the opening of the newest location in King City recently, located in the King's Ridge Marketplace plaza.

"This is such a special day," said King Mayor Steve Pellegrini. "We're extremely excited for this store to open:

it's a service that our residents have been asking for."

With King City listed as the second-fastest growing municipality in Ontario, and now the wealthiest, LCBO President George Soleos said it was "about time" to open up shop in the heart of King City.

The location features an extensive vintage wine selection, as well as a separate beer fridge location.

Local company offers tips on maintaining your home's roof

By Robert Capobiano
President
Guaranteed Roofing & General Contracting Inc.

The average homeowner is likely to encounter at least one roof replacement in their lifetime.

How do you know when it's time to replace your roof? Do you wait for water to be coming into the house? What are some signs of when to call in the professionals? What should you look for in a roofing contractor? What products are required and what is recommended?

Your roof is one of the most important parts of your home. It helps to protect one of your biggest investments and helps with many other aspects of the core function of your home - including, but not limited to, the heating and cooling of your home.

For the maximum performance and longevity of a roofing "system" to work effectively you need the following: Proper roof installation and roof ventilation, proper amount and proper installation of attic insulation, as well as an attic/cross ventilation system determined best suited for your home. These three components work hand in hand and will contribute to getting the most longevity of your shingles while providing comfort, potential cost savings and making less of an environmental impact.

Homeowners, maintaining your roofing system should be done at least twice a year, especially in the spring and fall. This should include cleaning of your eavestroughing and downpipes, clearing of any debris on the roof, trimming of any trees or branches that are in close contact with the shingles. Also, periodic inspections can be done from the ground to see if any areas of concern are seen. Should you see some of the following - it may be a good idea to call a professional roofing company to do an inspection and or estimate. Some things to check for may be, missing shingles, broken, damaged or displaced eavestroughing, noticeable loss of granular from shingles, condensation in the winter, ice damming in winter. Something to check periodically in the winter is for obvious signs of heat loss from an attic.

One sure tell sign may be when there is more than 3 centimetres of snow on a roof and you notice an area with no snow - it should be looked at. More signs may be visible curling of shingles and most obvious, water entering home.

When getting an estimate for shingle replacement it is recommended that you be sure that the quote is including the 3 feet of eaves protection. Be sure to check into options for shingles, valley, ventilation and underlayment. The contractor should be able to educate and inform you of the benefits and recommendations best suited for your home.

When getting an opinion of the condition of your roof, be sure that you are working with an experienced and qualified roofing contractor. It's important that you do your homework. You want to do the job properly, professionally and for a fair price. It is recommended that you get three quotes. When comparing apples to apples - all quotes should be within 10% of each other. If you find a quote that is substantially lower - that should be a red flag.

Reputable contractors should be able to provide when asked, proof of insurance, proof of Workers Compensation and that all workers have the new mandatory Working at Heights training and certificate by the province.

Educating yourself is best. Feel free to call us for any information or for a free inspection and estimate. Cheers to spring!

PC candidate Lecce wants to bring about change

By Mark Pavilons

With unbridled passion and a commitment to the middle class, a Kleinburg entrepreneur feels the time is right for change in Ontario's political landscape.

Stephen Lecce is not only the PC standard-bearer in King-Vaughan for the next provincial election, he wants to be one of the harbingers of change. Lecce earned the local nomination with a high vote of confidence recently, and just days after his victory, he began visiting King and knocking on doors.

He worked very hard to earn the nomination and demonstrating his commitment to fight for his constituents. After 15 years of Wynne Liberals running the show, change – particularly generational change – is needed. Large sectors of the population are being “pinched” by Liberal policies, to the point where people are struggling, in every nook and cranny of the riding.

Lecce said he's spoken with residents who “did everything right” their entire lives and tried to live debt-free, only to be burdened by the Liberals' skyrocketing hydro rates.

Public service, he said, is an honourable calling and he wants to improve the integrity of public office. His will be “a voice of common sense” and he wants to bring the message that “hope and change are on the way.” He also wants to see more transparency in government.

“We can do better,” he said. “I want to raise the bar in public service.”

Among his chief issues are affordability, taxes, hydro rates, accessible health care and leveraging the skills of Ontario workers.

“My pledge to you is to make affordability a centrepiece of my mandate – from lower hydro rates to lower taxes – so working families can make ends meet.”

Lecce pointed out that Ontario has the second highest tax rates for individuals and businesses in the country. We have the highest debt levels in history and the highest electricity rates on the continent.

The current atmosphere in Ontario makes it increasingly difficult for young people to live the dream in this province and Lecce said he and the PCs can offer solutions to many of these pressing issues.

One of the biggest paradoxes is that Ontario suffers from skill shortages, yet has the highest youth unemployment rate.

“We need to take corrective action,” he said, adding we have to create an attractive investment climate and retain the best minds in well paid jobs.

Our future, Lecce observed, is being mortgaged and he finds this level of intergenerational debt “reprehensible.”

Ontarians need a champion who's willing to talk about the issues and we need to remove the waste in bureaucracy and health care and direct more money to the “front lines.”

Lecce is also keen on preserving Ontario's cultural and historic heritage. There is no better time to conserve our history for the future than in Canada's 150th anniversary year.

The son of European immigrants, Lecce is driven by a strong work ethic and pride in Canadian democracy. He has been to countries where free speech is rare and that makes him even more bent on taking politics to a whole new level.

The unacceptable and wasteful Liberal policies should energize voters.

“We can't be complacent,” he said. “We have a duty to protect our strengths.”

Lecce finds PC Leader Patrick Brown to be a pragmatic leader who's optimistic, with incredible energy.

“Life is hard under Wynne, but the PC message is one of optimism, not pessimism,” Lecce stressed.

“My hope is that people are ready for change,” he said, adding he plans on travelling throughout the riding getting to know constituents.

Lecce is eloquent and accomplished, having served as director of media relations and chief spokesperson to former Prime Minister Stephen Harper, and was responsible for enhancing cross-government communications. He has worked in domestic and international markets, and co-authored and executed strategic plans on high-stakes projects, including successive national budgets, free trade agreements, human rights initiatives, international summits and Canada's combat mission against the Islamic State. Moreover, he has a record of advancing Canadian economic, trade and security's interests abroad, including at the 2015 G-7 Summit in Germany, and in bilateral missions to Ukraine, Italy and Poland.

While managing core responsibilities in the PMO, in 2014 Stephen concurrently assumed the additional duties as interim chief of staff to the Ministers of National Defence and Veteran Affairs, demonstrating a result-oriented, hands-on acumen managing a large staff, multi-billion-dollar budgets, piloting sensitive projects from inception to completion, and strengthening the reputation of the Ministry.

He operates Northern Narrative, a public affairs management firm, specializing in business development and communications counsel to companies and organizations across the country.

Lecce was accepted to the University of Toronto's Faculty of Law Global Professional Masters of Law executive program, while concurrently focused on local and national service initiatives in the City of Vaughan where he was raised and continues to reside.

- Reconstruction of the Highway 400/Lloydtown-Aurora Road interchange to a Parclo A4 configuration, including a new underpass structure to meet current MTO standards and allow for the ultimate ten lane Highway 400 cross-section;
- Reconstruction and widening of Lloydtown-Aurora Road to accommodate the new interchange geometry;
- Replacement of the Highway 400/16th Sideroad Overpass Bridge;
- Widening of Highway 400 within the project limits at Lloydtown-Aurora Road and 16th Sideroad to accommodate traffic staging, the future interim eight lane cross-section and ultimate ten lane cross-section;
- Construction of a new commuter parking lot in the southwest quadrant of the Highway 400/Lloydtown-Aurora Road interchange;
- Installation of partial illumination at off-ramps and signalized intersections;
- Construction of new drainage facilities including a new storm water management pond in the northwest quadrant of the Highway 400/Lloydtown-Aurora Road interchange, to accommodate the proposed improvements;
- Modification of property access, including to Kettleby Public School;
- Installation of a noise wall on the west side of Highway 400, near 19th Sideroad (approximately 600 metres in length);
- Culvert replacements and/or extensions;
- Landscape plantings and natural feature plantings;
- Gabion wall rehabilitation; and
- Pavement rehabilitation of the existing lanes within the study limits.

THE PROCESS

This project is following the approved planning process for Group B projects under the MTO Class Environmental Assessment (Class EA) for Provincial Transportation Facilities (2000). The Class EA process includes public consultation, an assessment of the potential effects of the proposed project and identification of measures required to mitigate adverse effects including to traffic operations during construction. Now that the study is complete, a Design and Construction Report (DCR) has been prepared to document the detailed design. The DCR will be available for a 30-day public review period beginning April 13, 2017. Interested persons are encouraged to review this document and provide comments in writing to the MMM or MTO Project Engineer listed below by May 12, 2017.

King's Alan Bray has been collecting transportation related memorabilia for decades. His museum will close for good and an auction is planned to liquidate thousands of pieces of rare Canadiana.

End of era as Brayhill Farms Museum prepares for auction

By Mark Pavilons

It's often hard to say goodbye to some precious family heirlooms. King's Alan Bray has the arduous task of bidding farewell to thousands of prized pieces of Canadiana. Brayhill Farms Museum will come to an end and a massive auction in June will liquidate countless, one-of-kind pieces of memorabilia. The museum, located on Bathurst Street north of Davis Drive, is home to more than 30,000 items in its 27,000 square feet.

Most of these collectibles are near-perfect, museum quality items. Even owner Alan Bray finds his 50-year collection "mind-boggling."

"There's nothing like it," he said with pride.

The climate controlled building showcases the collection in pristine condition. There's not so much as a cobweb or speck of dust anywhere.

Bray may shed a tear or two when the entire collection goes on the auction block June 7-10 at the farm. The property will transform into a village, with an expected 2,000 visitors coming from around the world. The reason Bray's collection has generated this level of interest is that everything is in near-perfect condition – like the day they were made. Many of his items are simply irreplaceable and likely the only known examples in existence.

The collectibles range from the 1920s to the '50s and include some of the best examples from brands like Esso, Texaco, Shell, Supertest, BP, Sunoco, John Deere and more. From large signs to fully functional gas pumps, the auction will undoubtedly generate record sales.

THE KING CITY EAST LANDOWNERS' GROUP

NOTICE OF SECOND PUBLIC INFORMATION CENTRE: A SCHEDULE 'C' CLASS ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT AND A FUNCTIONAL SERVICING / DEVELOPMENT AREA STUDY

The King City East Landowners Group is undertaking an integrated approach with the Planning Act for an Environmental Assessment (EA) to determine a location for a road crossing of Eaton Hall Creek in the King City East area (see map). This EA builds upon the Township's Transportation Master Plan process (completed in 2014) and will be integrated with the Township's land use planning practices as required by the Province, Region and Township.

Concurrent with the Environmental Assessment, an update to the Functional Servicing / Development Area Study (FS/DAS) is being undertaken as part of the planning approvals process to provide a comprehensive and co-ordinated approach to maintaining and enhancing natural heritage features and functions. This work is required by the Township prior to the approval of development plans and will be the basis for locating land uses, roads, parks, schools and infrastructure. This study will also provide information in support of the EA process.

The second Public Information Centre (PIC) will be an open house to present the three scoped design alternatives and a preferred design following analysis and public comment received from the first PIC. The PIC will provide an opportunity for public and government agency review and comment.

Public Information Centre

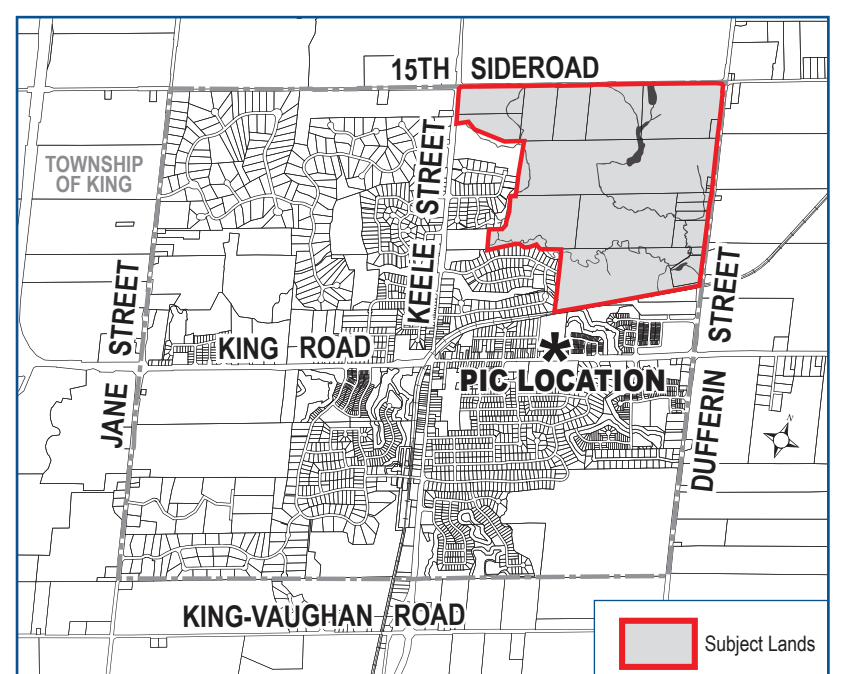

Time: Open House: 7:00pm to 9:00pm

Date: Wednesday, April 26th, 2017

Location: King City Library, 1970 King Road, King City

Representatives from the Township and the Consultant Team will be present at the PIC to answer questions and discuss the next steps in this study.

Public consultation is vital to the Class EA and FS/ DAS process. The Township wishes to ensure that anyone with an interest in this study has the opportunity to get involved and provide input before any decisions are made on a preferred location for the valley crossing. With the exception of personal information, all comments will become part of the public record.

Should you have comments or questions regarding the Valley Crossing EA process or FS/DAS study, please feel free to contact the undersigned.

One-of-a-kind items part of Canada's history

It may be one of the largest auctions of its kind in the country. From general store products and finely crafted original countertops, to an array of classic Coke memorabilia, the museum has it all. There are oil cans and tins of all shapes and sizes, perfect for any modern-day man cave. There's a modest, but amazing collection of Original 6 NHL hockey memorabilia.

The pride and joy of his collection is an antique Supertest tank truck in all of its restored glory. You could eat off the vehicle's fenders. Bray is also very fond of his meticulous model Texaco station that took thousands of man hours to create. It is likely the only one in the world.

Of particular interest are fully functional gas pumps, including a couple of 1930s clock-face pumps. A double glass Imperial pump from the early 1960s is quite rare.

Also on the block will be a 1956 two-tone teal Chevy Bel Air. Bray said it's a 1,000-point turn-key car. If that's not your style, how about a 1913 Model T delivery truck or a 1931 Chev pickup?

There is so much eye-candy in the museum, it's almost overwhelming for any casual visitor. And the place has welcomed thousands over the years, from car clubs and historical societies, to enthusiasts from far and wide.

There are so many one-of-a-kind items that simply must go.

Bray said he's approaching his 80th birthday and it's time to liquidate the collection. He's spent more than half his life collecting and preserving the pieces, so it's time to let others enjoy them.

And that they will.

Bray's interest in the transportation business dates back to 1958 when he drove a tank truck for Supertest, and became an agent in the Holland Marsh. In 1972, BP bought Supertest and that's when he started Bray's Fuels, a multi-generation family business that's still successful to this day.

The business boomed in the late 1970s and 80s. Bray was "crazy with ambition" and ran the business with his late wife, who joined him in acquiring rare items for his collection. They would venture out to auctions almost every weekend, storing the items in one of his many barns.

Bray himself specialized in restoring antique automobiles and he has several in his personal collection. While a few will be up for grabs, a couple are staying in the family, including a 1967 Mustang Coupe with hood-mounted signal lights. His son owns a modern Mustang Cobra with a visor signed by the late Carroll Shelby.

The impeccable building is a two-storey, 27,000-square-foot barn. Mennonite craftsmen finished the interior in solid pine and the building is simply immaculate. Bray admitted it was quite something to watch the workers go to it every morning during construction. Their workmanship is second to none.

After his daughter's wedding in 2012, the upper floor became the expanded museum with Lou Goddard responsible for meticulously polishing and setting up every single piece. Even the mannequins are dressed in their brand new uniforms.

There's a story behind every piece and Alan has an encyclopaedic memory of each one.

History will be made during the auction in June. And history will live long in the hands of some new owners, eager to have these pieces in their collections.

You still have a chance to see the collection before it vanishes. ASK is sponsoring a public event Saturday, April 29 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Admission is free. It's located at 19230 Bathurst Street, north of Highway 9.

Schomberg and NobleKing finalize hockey deal

By Jake Courtepatte

The ink has dried, and King Township Minor Hockey is officially under way.

Executive members of both Schomberg Minor Hockey and NobleKing Minor Hockey met Friday night at the Trisan Centre to put pen to paper to finalize the amalgamation of King's two rep programs under the King Township moniker, nine months after negotiations began.

With the bubbly popped along with King Mayor Steve Pellegrini and councilors Avia Eek, Bill Cober, and Linda Pabst, the organization can now hit the ground running to gear up for its inaugural 2017-18 season.

The King Township Coach Selection Committee has already made their determinations to head each A-level team in the new organization, with tryouts set to begin the weekend of April 22-23 and end the weekend of April 29-30.

Age groups will run from Novice up to Juvenile.

In anticipation of a high level of interest, and with many coaches seeing skaters they have never seen before, the tryout process will give some leeway to help form relationships.

The organization says the first weekend will be focused on assessing skills, with the help of hired outside instructors from Young Guns Hockey to mediate the skate.

The second weekend of tryouts will include scrimmages and simulated game play, with each skater guaranteed a minimum of two skates.

In terms of objectivity, the OMHA has stepped in to help create a Player Evaluation Panel to assist coaches and staff in making roster decisions. The Panel will consist of equal representation from both Schomberg and NobleKing.

An external goaltending coach will also be brought in to help make decisions between the pipes.

The organization also says that the viability of AE level teams will be assessed based on the interest and necessary skill shown at certain age levels.

With decisions to be made at a later date, only players who attend A-level tryouts and are not offered a spot will be given the opportunity to make the AE team.

With submissions for the new name, logo, and team colours now closed, all three will be unveiled to the public in late April.

The new King association will only form all rep hockey programs for both NobleKing and Schomberg, with their Local League programs as well as house league programs remaining independent.

For more information, visit www.kingminorhockey.com.

Kelly Harbridge and Mike Baldesarra officially signed the paper work Friday to amalgamate Schomberg and NobleKing under King Township Minor Hockey next season.

MacLennan inducted into Toronto Sport Hall of Honour

By Jake Courtepatte

Fourteen of Toronto's most famous athletes were inducted into the Toronto Sports Hall of Honour last Wednesday, one of which is King City's own Rosie MacLennan.

A relatively new initiative put out by the City of Toronto, the Hall was established in 2015 after the city hosted the Pan Am Games, with the ceremony taking place at the Pan Am Sports Centre.

"This recognition program is an opportunity for us to celebrate past and present athletes, coaches, builders and partners who have contributed to Toronto's communities through sport," said Toronto Mayor John Tory.

MacLennan, who won her second gold medal in two Olympics in individual trampoline at the 2016 Summer Games in Rio, said it has been "an incredible journey" up to this point.

"Everything has been moving so fast over the last few years," said MacLennan. "It's nice to just slow things down, and being recognized by the City of Toronto, a place I've grown up in and trained in my whole life, can kind of just bring you back down to earth."

Though she was named Female of the Year at the ceremony, MacLennan said she was "honoured" to be among the 13 others to be inducted, which included Maple Leafs great Bobby Baun.

"You look at some of those names, they're legends," said MacLennan. "They're the ones who kind of broke the surface, paved the way for the rest of us to pursue our dreams."

MacLennan was joined in the spotlight by fellow summer Olympian Andre De-Grasse, a rising track star who scored three medals in the 2016 Games.

After the ceremony, she added that thanks to her coaches and support, the gymnastics star "doesn't feel done yet."

"There are still routines and skills that I want to learn, and I want to get better and stronger. That's what we're working on right now ... we'll see what happens in the future."

Red Wings see plenty of success in playoffs

By Jake Courtepatte

It was a banner year for the Schomberg Red Wings, who can hang five more after plenty of success at the provincial and regional levels.

Both of the organization's most senior teams reached the Ontario Minor Hockey Association championships in late March, with the Minor Midgets following an unbeaten path to the penultimate series against the Pelham Panthers. There they lost in a hard-fought five game series.

The Juvenile Wings, who have seemingly been a lock to reach the CC Championship in recent years, won nine in a row before meeting a familiar foe in the Port Dover Pirates in the championship series. It was the fourth year in a row the team has been able to raise an OMHA banner.

The Bantam Red Wings were the only Schomberg team to capture the York-Simcoe Hockey League Championship, the largest regional tournament of its kind in Ontario.

After a run to the OMHA semifinals, the Bantam Wings rattled off seven straight wins including a sweep of the Whitchurch-Stouffville Clippers in the final to claim the championship.

SMHA President Kelly Harbridge said he was "extremely proud" of all of Schomberg's teams.

"As Schomberg Minor Hockey moves forward in helping to create a new chapter of minor hockey in King Township, we can't think of a better way to honour our Hometown Hockey heritage, than to have shared such a successful season with our Red Wing families and fans," said Harbridge.

The representative program is set to merge with the NobleKing program to create King Township Minor Hockey for the 2017-18 season, bringing a higher level of quality and competitiveness to the Township.

The Bantam Schomberg Red Wings, York-Simcoe champions, were one of a handful of Schomberg teams to bring a championship home this season.

The Local League teams, which will remain intact, secured a pair of Simcoe Region Championships this season.

After falling behind two games to none to the Richmond Hill Kings in their championship series, the Atom LL1 Wings put up a trio of wins to claim the title.

The Minor Midget LL team, who put up an impressive 22-10-6 record over the regular season, toppled the East Gwillimbury Eagles in five games ending last Wednesday.

"This certainly is not the end for Hometown Hockey in Schomberg. Our Hometown Red Wing fans will still be proudly cheering on all our Schomberg Local League Teams - who form the grassroots of our organization. So our Red Wing history will continue."

Now the Wings look to the future, with the partnership agreement set to be signed Friday night between Schomberg and NobleKing executives.

Old Sleepers men's league tourney

By Jake Courtepatte

According to the Schomberg Old Sleepers, the general rule of thumb to be an Old Sleeper is as follows: be an all-around good guy, have a penchant for drinking beer, and love to play hockey.

All three criteria were met when dozens of teams from across Ontario converged on Trisera Centre in Schomberg for the annual Old Sleepers Tournament, now in its 37th year.

With four divisions of competitive hockey, tournament chair George Spinola said the weekend makes for "a great social experience" for the players, all at the senior levels.

"After 37 years of organizing this wonderful weekend, we cannot say thank you enough to all the volunteers, businesses, family and friends that get behind this event," said Spinola. "To all of you, many thanks for making this tournament a marquee event for King Township and for Schomberg."

With sponsors on hand, sanctioned referees, and games running all weekend, you can be sure the tournament will be coming back for its 38th year next season.

Formed in 1978, the Old Sleepers take on teams from around the area. More information about the team can be found at www.oldsleepers.com.

SchombergShouldKnow

On April 23, at 9:30 a.m., we will celebrate Schomberg's anniversary at St. Mary's Magdalene Church, 116 Church St. The new music group, the Joyful Spirits, will sing "Water Flowing From the Mountains" and "My Love Colours Outside the Lines," accompanied by Dennis Kowal on piano and Barry Simpson on guitar. Nobleton United Church will join with Schomberg to celebrate the long history of Schomberg United. All are welcome to attend and enjoy fellowship afterwards with some light refreshments.

Jack Campbell supplied some information about Schomberg's anniversary.

The congregation is celebrating 169 years on April 23, beginning as the first Wesleyan Methodist Church formed in Brownsville (Schomberg) in 1848. In 1925 the United Church of Canada was created, an amalgamation of the Methodist Church of Canada, the Congregational Church, and many of the Presbyterian Churches in Canada. From 1881 to April, 2016 the Schomberg United Church congregation worshipped in the building at 31 Church St.

After selling the building to Saint I. Tesviteanul Romanian Orthodox Church last spring, the congregation moved to rented space at St. Mary Magdalene Anglican Church just further to the west at 116 Church St. The Schomberg United congregation now celebrates its first year of new beginnings sharing space with St. Mary Magdalene. The congregation continues to thrive and looks forward to continuing its ministry of outreach in the local community.

Blood donor clinic

Elaine St. Pierre, the territory manager for the Canadian Blood Services, is asking everyone to keep in mind that the next Blood Donor Clinic will be Wednesday, April 19 from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. They are hoping to collect 60 units of blood.

She would like to thank everyone for their support for our last clinic, in February. Fifty-eight units of blood were collected making it a very successful clinic.

Agricultural Society

Attention Schomberg Fair patrons! A long standing tradition of the Schomberg Fair has been a printed - the Fair book. This year we have moved to the digital age and now have an e-book on our web site. It is the prize list for all entries. However, if you wish a printed copy of the Homecraft section, please call Bev. at 905-859-5257 and for any other questions call the fair office 905-939-8283.

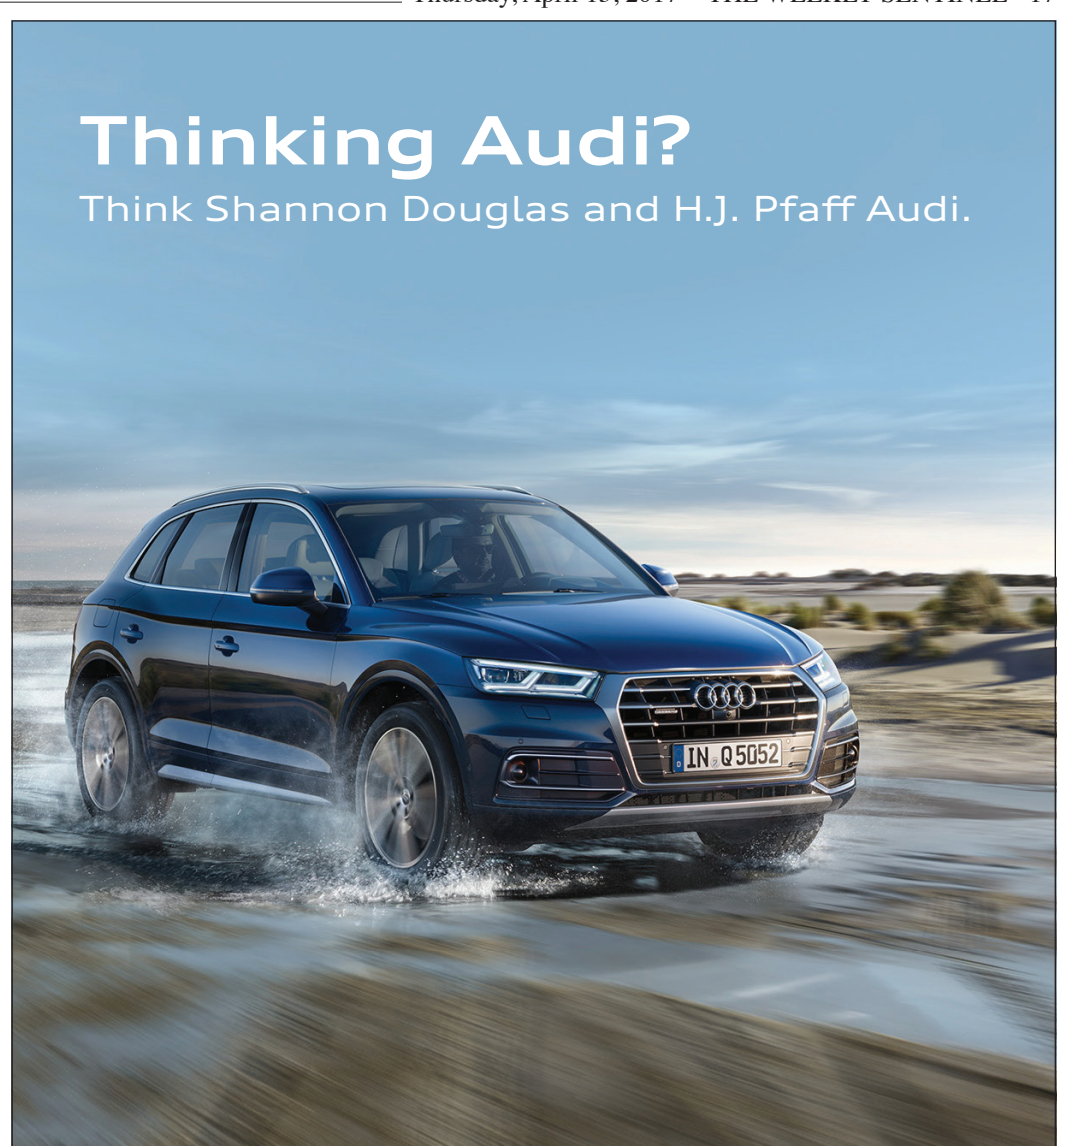

The move to an e-book is to help us meet our costs. As many of you already know we have to replace the bridge joining Main Street to our fair grounds, so trimming our budget is a must. You can help with the fundraising by buying one of the "Bridge the Gap" raffle tickets. 1st Prize is $1,000 to be drawn at our bonfire night in September. A complete new bridge will cost approximately $150,000 so we will be doing fundraising for quite a few years to come.

Another long standing tradition of our 167-year-old fair is the Heavy Horse Show. This year it will be changing as well due to the high cost to the exhibitors of shoeing their horses and preparing for the show. Since there isn't another horse show until late June, we are getting less and less exhibitors. As a result, we will be having demonstrations in the show ring rather than a show.

Just imagine doing that 6 times over for the 6 Horse Hitch, and then getting all 6 to work together to get hitched to the wagon? Learn how its all done during the demos that will be ongoing in the show ring. Also, come out to see some young foals and learn how they are judged when competing.

As always, look for new vendors this year as well as new entertainment, but never forgetting our old tried and true fair family entertainers.

Come celebrate Canada's 150th birthday at the 167th Schomberg Agricultural Spring Fair. For more info visit us at www.schombergfair.com

King's Corners

King City United By Earle Laycock

King City United celebrated Palm Sunday with a special worship service of scripture and songs, remembering the last week of Jesus's life before being put to death. The sounds of jubilation greeted Jesus as he entered Jerusalem, riding a donkey (a symbol of peace), not the way a king would be expected to enter the city. The cheers changed to shouts of "crucify him!" within a week. This is what is known as the Passion and is what is remembered on Good Friday when Jesus was handed over to the authorities for trial and crucifixion.

King City United will be sharing Easter worships as follows: Maundy Thursday, April 13 at 7 p.m. at All Saints Anglican Church commemorating the final gathering Jesus had with his disciples in the Upper Room. It was here that they shared in their final meal together and when Jesus showed them what service meant as he washed their feet, including the feet of the one who would betray him, Judas Iscariot.

Good Friday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, April 14 at 10:30 a.m.

Good Friday is a more solemn worship as we remember the sacrifice that Jesus made on the cross for each of us.

Easter worship will be at King City United, Sunday at 10 a.m. when we will celebrate the resurrection of Jesus three days after his death.

Last Monday, April 3, Rev. Evelyn McLachlan attended the Covenanting Service between Carol-Ann Chapman and Nobleton United and Schomberg United churches. King City United wishes Carol-Ann all the best in her ministry with these churches.

Last Sunday, Rev. Evelyn held a Palm Sunday worship at Elginwood Nursing Long Term Care Home. The residents enjoyed singing Easter music and receiving palm branches to re-enact the entrance of Jesus into Jerusalem. On Sunday, April 16, Rev. Evelyn will be holding a service at Richmond Hill Retirement Home. If you are interested in joining this outreach initiative, please contact Rev. Evelyn.

Our condolences are extended to the Crossley family on the death of Allan Crossley, who died suddenly at home on Saturday, April 8 at the age of 93. Allan was the beloved husband of Shirley for 65 years, father of David (Sheila), Bruce (Gail), Carol (Doug), Michael (Patricia), Stephen (Shirley) and Douglas (Anne). Allen was the grandfather of 10 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren. He is survived by his siblings Marion Kelly, Joseph Daniel and Roderick. Visitation was held on Wednesday at King City United Church, followed by the funeral and interment.

Our prayers surround our brothers and sisters in the Coptic church following the bombings of two Egyptian Christian Coptic churches in Egypt on Palm Sunday, killing over forty worshippers.

Bible study is canceled until Wednesday, May 3 at which time regular sessions will begin in the Chapel at 10:30 a.m.

Tea & Talk continues every Friday morning at 10 a.m. at Sunset Grill in King City. There's always lots to talk about! Join us for some discussion and delicious breakfast. We usually are sitting at the table inside the doors on the right. Come join in the fun and make some new friends.

King City United is located at 50 Elizabeth Grove, King City. Worship is every Sunday at 10 a.m. There is Sunday school for the young people. For more information, call our Office Administrator Kristen at 905-833-5181 or visit our website at: www.kcuc.ca

King Bible Church

Good Friday service is April 14 at 10 a.m.

This year we again have the pleasure of joining with Sovereign Grace Church for our Good Friday Service. We will have childcare for kids in Grade 4 and younger. In remembrance of Christ's sacrifice we will be celebrating Communion.

Easter Sunday service will be April 16 at 10:30 a.m. We invite you to come and celebrate Christ's resurrection with us! Pastor Mark will be preaching a special Easter message.

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning "Celebration Zone" provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in Grades 1-8 will join their parents for the beginning of the service until they are invited to go downstairs. The children in kindergarten can go directly to their class at the start of the service.

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

The Palm Sunday sermon title was

"The Donkey Made the Difference!"

Pastor John Mills reminded us that when Christ rode the donkey into Jerusalem, the crowds expected Jesus to become their earthly saviour; their deliverer from oppression, their new king. They shouted "Hosanna!" (Lord save us - now!) Very soon afterwards their cries became "Crucify Him!" They were easily swayed, thinking that their king should be charging forward on a magnificent horse, not taking into account that the use of the donkey was prophesied, and that God's plan for them and for the world was quite different than their immediate expectation.

During this Holy Week let's find out more about God's plan for us. The services are: Maundy Thursday service, April 13 is at 7:30 p.m. led by The Rev. Dr. John Vissers. The Good Friday service with the United Church, April 14 held at St. Andrew's this year at 10:30 a.m.; the Easter Sunday worship and communion service at 10:30 a.m., presided by The Rev. Dr. John Vissers. A warm welcome is extended to all.

On Easter Monday, April 17, some members of St. Andrew's will be singing with Chorisma at Thornhill United Church at 7:30 p.m. as they present "The Song Lives On" - choral music for Holy Week. A freewill offering in support of Hill House Hospice in Richmond Hill will be received.

Tuesday morning Ladies' Prayer Time continues at 9 a.m. Come to pray, give thanks, or just listen and be still before the Lord who is with us as He promised, hearing and answering our prayers, offering comfort, hope, and direction. Let us know if you have prayer requests or thanksgivings.

Thursday morning Coffee and Conversation and evening Soup and Conversation will resume following Easter, in the church office at 10 a.m. and at 6 p.m.

Youth group meets the first and third Fridays of the month at 7 p.m. Contact Lynn Vissers for further information.

Should you have pastoral care needs please contact Lynn Vissers, Director of Congregational Ministries. Our church office number is 905-833-2325, located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. A ramp is available for accessibility. www.standrews-kingcity.ca

St. Paul's Church

The Youth Group takes place every Wednesday night at the church from 7-9 p.m. (unless there is a special activity planned). Come join in the fun. Check here for details, or contact our Youth Leader Taylor Scott at scottie_tay@yahoo.ca or 289-338-2539.

A2J is a program for kids in Grades 3 to 6. It's an evening of Bible stories, songs, games, crafts, self-confidence building and lots of fun. A2J meets the 2nd and 4th Friday evening of each month, through May. It's not too late to join. Contact the church office at 905-859-0843 for more information.

Join us Friday, April 14 for your Good Friday gathering starting at 10 a.m. Jeff's message this day - "Watch With Him."

Come celebrate our Risen Lord on Sunday, April 16 starting with our annual pancake breakfast at 8:30 a.m. Then join us for our Easter gathering with Communion at 10 a.m. Child care (for children 3 years of age and younger) is provided during the gathering.

Our KidzKonneciion and NextStep programs (for children ages 4 to 11) will NOT take place this day as this is our family worship gathering.

Mark your calendars! Our Saturday morning men's group "Walk the Talk" and the St. Paul's Community Youth Group will be joining forces on Saturday, April 8 from 9 a.m. to noon for a Lawnmower Servicing and BBQ event. Join them in the front parking lot where your lawnmower will receive a free oil change, its spark plugs will be cleaned and the blade(s) sharpened. And enjoy a delicious bbq lunch as well. What better way to spend a Saturday morning?

Jeff has a blog and he records his weekly messages there after worship each Sunday. Anyone interested in listening to his messages can go to www.passionatelyhis.com to hear them.

For more information about any our activities or events, please contact the church office or visit our website at www.stpaulsnobleton.ca.

Nobleton United Church By Nancy Hopkinson

Friday, April 14 at 11:15 a.m. Good Friday service is a remembrance of Jesus's death on the cross. This will be a short solemn service for our two congregations, Nobleton and Schomberg.

Sunday, April 16 at 11:15 a.m. is Easter Sunday, a time when we sing "Hallelujah!" for the risen Christ. Easter is a joyous occasion with lots of tulips in the sanctuary (in memory of loved ones) and with special singer/guitarist Danny Szauter. Communion will be offered.

Sunday, April 23, at 9:30 a.m., Wake up early, Nobleton! It is Schomberg's anniversary at St. Mary's Magdalene Church, 116 Church St. The new music group, the Joyful Spirits, will sing "Water Flowing From the Mountains" and "My Love Colours Outside the Lines," accompanied by Dennis Kowal on piano and Barry Simpson on guitar. There will be no service at Nobleton that day as we join with Schomberg to celebrate the long history of Schomberg United. For more info on Schomberg's Anniversary, please read the column under "Schomberg Should Know."

Thursday, May 11 at 6:30 p.m. is the date of our popular Roast Beef Dinner and homemade pies. More info next week.

King For Refugees will be receiving a new family of 10, parents with eight children. We do not yet know the exact date of arrival. You may remember that Nobleton and Schomberg United had an appeal for funds to assist a refugee family. The funds were not needed for the first family (who are now living independently in Oak Ridges) so we have been waiting for this second family to provide our $16,000 raised. Their house in King City is almost ready for them. The committee in charge of furnishing the house is looking for donations of bunk beds with bunk bed mattresses and bunk bed sheets. If you can supply any of these (Note: this is not the same as twin bed mattresses), please contact King For Refugees at king4refugees@gmail.com.

Sunday, April 30 Baptism; Sunday, May 14, Mother's Day with flowers for the ladies; June 18, Father's Day with The Beatles' music; June 25, Canada Day Celebration with Orangeville's lively "Day by Day" guitar/singing group.

The covenanting service for our minister Carol-Ann Chapman was extremely well attended with lots of great singers, and we joined our voices together to celebrate Carol-Ann's new ministry among us. There were representatives from Toronto Conference, Northern Waters Presbytery, a fellow student from Emmanuel College, members of the Schomberg and Nobleton congregations and others from King City United. Carol-Ann's Mom and daughter surprised her by attending. It was a wonderful official start to Carol-Ann's ministry.

If you would like to meet Carol-Ann, come to Sunday service or phone the church and make an appointment. You are welcome to come to the church to meet, or Carol-Ann can visit you.

For more info, visit nobletonunit-edchurch.com, our Facebook page, or call 905-859-3976. The Nobleton United Church office is normally open on Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Messages are picked up regularly. We are located at 6076 King Rd., north side, about 6 buildings west of Hwy 27. We have a big parking lot at the rear of the building, an accessible ramp at the rear of the building, chair lifts and accessible washrooms.

Nobleton Lions

The Pet Value Walk for Dog Guides is planned for Sunday May 28. The Nobleton Lions will be hosting one of 240 walks across Canada. This walk helps provide funding for Canine Vision, Hearing Ear, Service, Seizure Response, Autism Assistance, and Diabetic Alert.

Crucifixion is one of the most horrific ways to die ever devised by man. The condemned man was fastened to a large stake, arms stretched above head and tied or nailed through the wrists to it while large nails hammered through his ankles so feet would be above ground level. The stake was heaved upright into a hole where it was anchored securely. Sometimes legs were left dangling freely putting pressure on the hung body Hanging for days the body gradually sagged as did internal organs slowing blood causing clots to form. Eventually in excruciating pain, the man would die from asphyxiation as his lungs collapsed, heart attack or exhaustion. Crucifixions are still carried out in Iran, Sudan, Saudi Arabia, And by the Islamic State (ISIS) in April 2014.

Crucifixion, designed to shame and degrade the victim, was usually reserved for deserters, criminals, traitors and slaves. It served as a warning to those tempted to flout authority.

Although crucifixion immediately brings the ancient Romans to mind with the Biblical account of Jesus's death crucifixions were being carried out centuries before the Roman times. 9th century BC Persians employed this method of execution probably copying their nomadic ancestors who would have fastened victims to a tree trunk. The Macedonians/Greeks learned from Persians - Alexander the Great was said to have crucified 2,000 survivors of his siege of the Phoenician city of Tyre (Lebanon). The Carthaginians in North Africa took it from the Greeks and after the Roman conquest of Carthage (Tunisia) in 202 BC they adopted it using a T shaped form which later became a cross shape. In 71 BC after the massive slave revolt led by Spartacus was bloodily crushed, the Romans crucified thousands of his men hanging them on crosses that lined the Via Appia, one of Rome's major highways, for miles.

Most depictions of Christ's crucifixion show him still clad in his undergarment but those condemned to be crucified, a humiliating death for criminals, rebels and traitors were always stripped naked.

There are accounts of men being reprieved and taken down still alive after 3 or 4 days.

Two early depictions of Jesus on the cross are miniatures in the British Museum, one carved into jasper the other into carnelian both dating to the early Christian era. They show his wrists roped to the arms of the cross. None of Gospels say he was nailed. However, after his resurrection he shows Thomas his hands and the nail holes. But nails through the hands wouldn't support a hanging man's weight and the nails would tear right through. Possibly Jesus was nailed through the wrists or they were tied on with rope. Perhaps there was an error; the original account written many years after this tragic event or in the many translations that followed. He hung on the cross only a few hours because the Jewish authorities didn't want him there on Saturday the Sabbath. And he died when one of the Roman guards thrust him with a spear ending his suffering.

The "Alexamenos Graffito," the earliest drawing of Christ's crucifixion yet discovered, dating from between 85 and 200 AD, was found scratched into the plaster of house on the Palentine Hill, home to ancient Rome's elite. And far from reverent it shows the back of a naked donkey headed Christ fastened to a cross like structure with a male figure to the side (possibly a Roman soldier) with one hand raised in salute or sign of worship with the words "Al-examenos worships his god" crudely inscribed under the figures. Obviously the work of someone mocking the Crucifixion and Christians it can be seen today in the Palentine Museum.

In the Anglican Parish of Lloydtown on April 13 the Maundy Thursday service takes place at Christ Church Kettleby on Kettleby Rd. mid-way between Keele and Jane Sts. The April 14 Good Friday solemn observance of Jesus's crucifixion takes place at St. Mary Magdalene's Church 116 Church St. Schomberg starting at 10 a.m. A coffee/tea hour with hot cross buns will follow in the churches lower level.

April 16 Easter Sunday Holy Communion services in the parish to celebrate with joy Christ's resurrection take place at 9:30 a.m. in Christ Church Kettleby followed by a coffee/tea hour and 11:15 a.m. at St. Mary Magdalene's Schomberg. All are most welcome to attend these services.

Easter service at Sovereign Grace

Looking for hope? Join us for our Easter Sunday service. Contemporary worship band; full dinner after the service; and preaching on the most hope-giving event in the history of the world: the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Everyone is invited! Sovereign Grace Church Toronto, 3 p.m. at 1555 King Road, across from Coppa's in King City.
