King pushes for lights at Greenside and King Road

By Mark Pavilons

King councillors voted to install traffic lights at a Nobleton intersection, despite a lack of support from York Region.

Council voted to approve the signals at Greenside Drive and King Road and the Township has offered to pick up the tab. York Region must give their permission before the project can proceed. York, on several occasions, indicated this particular intersection doesn't meet the minimum warrants set up by Regional staff.

A regional policy change roughly 18 months ago indicates York won't consider these projects if they're not warranted. Word from the Region indicates they may entertain the idea if King is adamant.

King wants to move ahead immediately and they're asking York for its approval. The Township will fund the costs through its capital budget. The work is estimated to cost $250,000.

Councillor David Boyd said he's pleased with the move, noting it will be a big plus in assisting pedestrian safety. It will be a big step forward if York gives its blessing.

"We're optimistic," Boyd said. "We're doing what we can to get the lights in."

Residents and politicians have pushed hard for traffic lights at this intersection, which would offer some traffic relief for the nearby subdivision. It's been an issue for years and given the increased volume of traffic, it's become a safety issue.

York Region conducted a study for the lights in 2016, but the numbers failed to generate a need or meet their criteria.

Rebels open 167th Schomberg Fair

Members of the Lloydtown Rebellion Association descended upon the Schomberg Fairgrounds Saturday. Members, dressed in period attire, had a unique way of opening this year's 167th fair - with a flintlock salute. Turn to Pages 12 and 13 for more photos of the fair.

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE OF PASSING OF A ZONING BY-LAW AMENDMENT BY THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF KING

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of King passed By-law Number #2017-51 on the 29th day of May, 2017 under Section 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O., 1990, Chapter P.13. Zoning By-law Amendment #2017-51 amends the Township's Zoning By-law for the Nobleton Urban Area (By-law 2016-71, as amended).

By-law 2017-51 concerns a parcel of land located on the east side of Highway 27, south of King Road. The subject lands are identified as 12959 Highway 27 and measure 0.197 acres (0.8 hectares). The property currently features a detached dwelling and garage. The intent of the zoning by-law amendment is to amend the Township's Zoning By-law for the Nobleton Urban Area (By-law 2016-71, as amended) to rezone the property from 'Core Area – Exception CA-6' to 'Core Area – Exception CA-6' to expand the permitted uses on the property from exclusively business/professional offices to include the full complement of Core Area permitted uses, while recognizing the existing sideyard encroachments of 1.73 metres on the north side of the property and 0.6 metres on the south side of the property.

AND TAKE NOTICE that any person or agency may appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board in respect of the by-law by filing with the Clerk of the Corporation of the Township of King not later than the 19th day of June, 2017 a notice of appeal setting out the objection to the by-law and the reasons in support of the objections, together with 1 cheque in the amount of $300.00 (certified cheque or money order only) payable to the Minister of Finance to cover the Ontario Municipal Board fee, and a cheque for $210.00 representing the Clerk's Department administrative fee, payable to the Township of King. If you wish to appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board, a copy of an appeal form is available from the Ontario Municipal Board website at www.omb.gov.on.ca or from the Clerk of the Township of King. Please note the Board will only accept filing fee payments by certified cheque or money order.

Only individuals, corporations and public bodies may appeal a by-law to the Ontario Municipal Board. A notice of appeal may not be filed by an unincorporated association or group. However, a notice of appeal may be filed in the name of an individual who is a member of the association or the group on its behalf.

No person or public body shall be added as a party to the hearing of the appeal unless, before the by-law was passed, the person or public body made oral submissions at a public meeting or written submissions to the council or, in the opinion of the Ontario Municipal Board, there are reasonable grounds to add the person or public body as a party.

Comments received and considered in the preparation of By-law 2017-51 from the public were summarized and included in the Planning Department Recommendation Report (P-2017-21). The report is available on the Township's website www.king.ca. Comments received were in relation to potential concerns with respect to access, parking and overall congestion within the Nobleton village core area. If the property is redeveloped in the future it will be subject to Site Plan Development Control through which staff can require additional information from the applicant including, but not limited to, grading and drainage plans, tree inventory and preservation plans, and planting plans as well as ensure that additional items such as adequate parking are addressed prior to the site's redevelopment.

The Heritage Advisory Committee wants to celebrate these kinds of properties as these properties are vital to maintaining our unique community character.

Submit your nomination of a heritage building worthy of recognition because it's evident that the heritage value of the building is appreciated by its owners. The owner of the winning property will be awarded a handmade drawing of their building by a local artist.

Nominations will be accepted beginning May 31. You can submit by email to heritage@king.ca or by mail to Heritage Planning, King Township, 2075 King Road, King City L7B 1A1. The nomination must include municipal address of the property being nominated; also include you own name and contact information. If possible, provide a photograph of your nomination. Nominations must be received by Monday, July 3.

Advanced Metering Infrastructure program

Contractors will be making the rounds of King Township over the next 6 to 8 weeks, installing a new feature on water meters.

This Advanced Metering Infrastructure (AMI) is being implemented to enable the township to better manage and monitor metered water consumption. It will also help King proactively troubleshoot metering problems instead of waiting for the quarterly billing submissions.

For example, before AMI installation, an underground leak in a pipe might not be discovered until a scheduled meter reading shows a huge spike in consumption. Under the AMI system, a dramatic increase in water consumption would be flagged almost immediately.

Installations are on the outside of buildings. The contractor or township staff may have to arrange for entry to some sites.

If you have any questions about this program, please contact John Vandenberg at 905-833-4059.

This year's tournament takes place Thurs., July 13 at Nobleton Lakes Golf Club and the theme is "Hollywood Classics". Proceeds will go towards the construction of a new multi-use recreation facility in partnership with Seneca College. You can register online at www.king.ca

C150 Global Odyssey will be a technological marvel

By Mark Pavilons

The crunch is on with only one month remaining before the historic 150 Global Odyssey lifts off.

This adventure will set new records in many respects, not the least of which involve technological navigation and communications systems.

Kingscross resident Steven Dengler and his father Bob have created the C150 Global Odyssey (C150GO). It will be the world's first Canadian around-the-world helicopter flight, and the first-ever father-son global circumnavigation by any light aircraft.

In celebration of Canada's 150th anniversary, the Canadian crew – comprised of Bob, Steven, and helicopter ace Rob "Dugal" MacDuff – will fly a Canadian-made Bell 429 helicopter over 38,000 kilometres in just over one month. Starting in Ottawa on July 1 and zigzagging the globe, the crew will visit more than 100 airports in 14 countries. Along the way, they will be joined by notable Canadians such as astronaut Dave Williams and hockey legend Guy Lafleur.

Dengler's mind is racing as fast as those chopper blades, in anticipation of the launch one month today.

This ultimate father-and-son road trip will also boast several technological firsts in modern aviation.

Major sponsor Honeywell has supplied an innovative Aspire 200 unit that will be tested and evaluated on a Bell 429 for the first time. It is the first broadband Internet communication system for a helicopter. This system has virtually eliminated the minute signal delay caused by the rotating blades, resulting in near-perfect, real time communications.

The Bell 429 Global Ranger is a military grade helicopter, used by many search and rescue organizations. Such a fool-proof communications system would be extremely valuable. "Imagine the possibilities," Dengler said. The system will be tested during the journey.

As well, providing unlimited satellite service is Inmarsat, the industry leader and pioneer of mobile satellite communications.

The amount of interest and support in this landmark adventure is simply "amazing."

Dengler is quite excited about the trip, adding it's been a ton of work. There have been mountains of paperwork, including permits, documents and obtaining permission from several foreign countries and governments.

One of the most interesting parts of the journey will be the long trek through Russia. They've spent more than a year working with Russian officials and will have a Russian navigator with them during this leg of the trip. Their contact in Russia did say this is a "dream trip through the most beautiful part of Russia."

Dengler is looking forward to a stop at the Maple Leaf, a popular pub in London, England that's a home base for Canadian ex-patriots.

He's also looking forward to hopefully stopping at two French war memorials – Vimy Ridge and the Beaumont-Hamel Newfoundland Memorial.

There are a ton of interesting landmarks along the way, including many in Canada such as the Confederation Bridge, Alexander Graham Bell National Historic Site in Baddeck, Nova Scotia, and Signal Hill National Historic Site in St. John's, Newfoundland.

As a Canadian, Dengler can't wait to see all of these wonderful parts of our beautiful nation's history, and document them for all to see. All Canadians can join them by following C150GO on social media starting July 1.

The entire trip will be documented via video and still photography, as well as social media. Also travelling with the crew will be renowned Canadian photographer Peter Bregg, who has captured life over his 50-year career. Bregg received the Order of Canada in 2016 and during his career has travelled to more than 70 countries as a photojournalist. He's covered eight Olympic Games, the Iran hostage crisis, the Vietnam War, and the 9/11 attacks. He has photographed monarchs, celebrities, presidents, and prime ministers, including serving as official photographer to Brian Mulroney in 1984-85.

Dengler envisions the result will be a coffee table book, if not other forms of imagery. Steven has already been booked for speaking engagements after the trek.

The team's inaugural stop (and official sendoff) will be the Canadian Aviation and Space Museum in Ottawa.

Crew flight suits, documents and memorabilia will all be donated for a special display at the museum.

The team lifts off from Bolton's National Helicopters on July 1, heading to Ottawa for Canada Day celebrations that day.

From there, they head up the coast to Baffin Island, then off to Greenland and Iceland. The route goes from west to east to take advantage of the prevailing winds and Dengler pointed out a tail wind is always an advantage. The Bell 429 can comfortably travel 400 nautical miles at a time, and two legs of the journey push the envelope.

Two of the longest stretches run from Baffin Island to Greenland (392 NM) and Greenland to Iceland (400 NM).

Dengler stressed flying is not "simply sitting on your butt." You have to constantly be aware of the airspace, monitor communications, watch the instruments and track everything from temperature to wind speed. Weather is a major factor. But the in-cockpit technology will be a major bonus.

C150GO is a registered Canadian not-for-profit organization supporting both the Southlake Regional Health Centre Foundation and True Patriot Love Foundation.

To learn more about the C150 Global Odyssey, to become a sponsor or to view the complete C150GO itinerary, please visit www.c150go.ca

Bob and Steven Dengler are putting the finishing touches on a world first - their father-and-son helicopter adventure around the world. They lift off Canada Day.

Kettleby hosts 150th birthday on Canada Day

For a number of years now, King's celebration of Canada Day has been held at Tyrwhitt Park in picturesque Kettleby. This year marks a triple anniversary in the hamlet. As well as this being Kettleby's 175th anniversary, the beautiful stone Christ Church marks 125 years and of course Canada turns 150 on July 1.

This year's Canada Day Celebrations in Kettleby will be the biggest yet. Organizers are planning a wonderful and fun-filled day of games, crafts, live music, food and drink and a host of other activities, all topped off with free birthday cake and a spectacular fireworks display.

The organizers are looking for sponsors and volunteers to help make this the best Canada Day in Kettleby ever. Sponsorship packages are available at all levels and volunteers are needed to help organize the activities or at the event itself. More information can be obtained by contacting Elaine Kitteridge at elainekitteridge@gmail.com, or calling 416-824-1613.

Help make this an event worthy of our country's 150th birthday. Become a volunteer or a sponsor today. And be sure to come down on Canada Day for the biggest little party around!

'Big Data' looks into managing wireless spectrum

I've heard of Big Brother, Big Mac, Big Daddy, and locally, the Big Pipe. Enter Big Data.

I guess that no one ever imagined the explosive growth of the Internet and the information highway when it first appeared in the early 1990s. No one likely envisioned the birth of a wireless flow of massive amounts of data, whizzing through the air at break-neck speeds.

Internet use has grown more than 100 times since its inception, to reach more than 1/3rd of our planet.

Most of us average citizens really don't understand the technical intricacies of either and so we go about our day, punching keys and tapping smart phones, having full confidence that the Internet fairies keep everything running smoothly and efficiently.

It's hard to believe that one of the most powerful creations of humankind has no physical borders and no governing body. Like Forrest Gump put it maybe everything is just "floating around incidental-like on a breeze ..."

The Internet has no centralized governance in either technological implementation or policies for access and usage; each constituent network sets its own policies. Only the overreaching definitions of the two principal name spaces in the Internet - the Internet Protocol address space and the Domain Name System (DNS) - are directed by a maintainer organization, the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN).

Our federal government is harnessing the power of big data to make "smarter" use of wireless spectrum, the radio waves responsible for everything from TV and radio broadcasting to data and phone service for smartphones.

The government recently opened the Big Data Analytics Centre at the Communications Research Centre, an innovation lab for wireless communications located in Ottawa.

This one-of-a-kind research lab collects and analyzes vast amounts of data on Canada's wireless spectrum, which is a public resource that's regulated by the government.

The research being conducted at the Big Data Analytics Centre will allow the government to predict where on the wireless spectrum there are unused radio waves that can be put to work to ensure that the wireless networks Canadians depend on are reliable and accessible, regardless of traffic load.

Spectrum is a scarce resource, especially as the amount of data traffic on wireless networks continues to grow exponentially. In particular, the ubiquity of smartphones and other wireless devices has triggered an explosion in the amount of data travelling over wireless networks.

The research being conducted at the Big Data Analytics Centre has potential applications in many other sectors of the economy beyond telecommunications. The technologies that enable wireless spectrum to be managed dynamically can be used for connected cars and other systems that rely on merging advanced machinery and networked sensors and software, known as the "Internet of Things."

"To power their smartphones, tablets, TVs and radios, Canadians rely on the judicious use of wireless spectrum. We can't make more wireless spectrum, but we can make better use of it. To do that, we need to understand exactly how it's being used and where. We need to know, in real time, where there are unused radio waves that could be put to work. Big data is the key to understanding that. It gives us the power to turn data into useful insights that allow us to predict where the surplus capacity will be at any given time. The research being conducted at the Big Data Analytics Centre has the potential to transform not only the telecommunications sector but all sectors of the economy," said The Honourable Navdeep Bains, Minister of Innovation, Science and Economic Development Canada.

"Using big data analytics, cloud computing, crowdsourced information, data fusion and state-of-the-art visualization, the Centre enables our researchers to work with big data in ways that were previously not possible to support sustainable spectrum management and help foster innovation in Canada," added Dr. Jean Luc Bérubé, President, Communications Research Centre.

The wireless spectrum refers to the invisible radio waves that are responsible for everything from TV and radio broadcasting to data and phone service for smartphones.

The Communications Research Centre conducts world-class research focused on optimizing the use of wireless spectrum for next-generation mobile services.

The Big Data Analytics Centre is available for use by other government departments and for collaboration with industry and academia.

Just like the Internet itself, all of this is like some sci-fi holo-program. It's intangible, and as such, almost incomprehensible by average folk.

And therein lies the danger. We're neck-deep in this "wireless spectrum" and don't have a clue how it works and what the limitations are. We see new and improved smart phones all the time, getting better, faster, smarter. We never pause to think that this "spectrum" could ever become overloaded or explode one day from over use.

Don't get me wrong, I love how science has furthered our species to this point and how truly marvellous some innovations are. Future applications will save lives, extend life spans and hopefully save our planet.

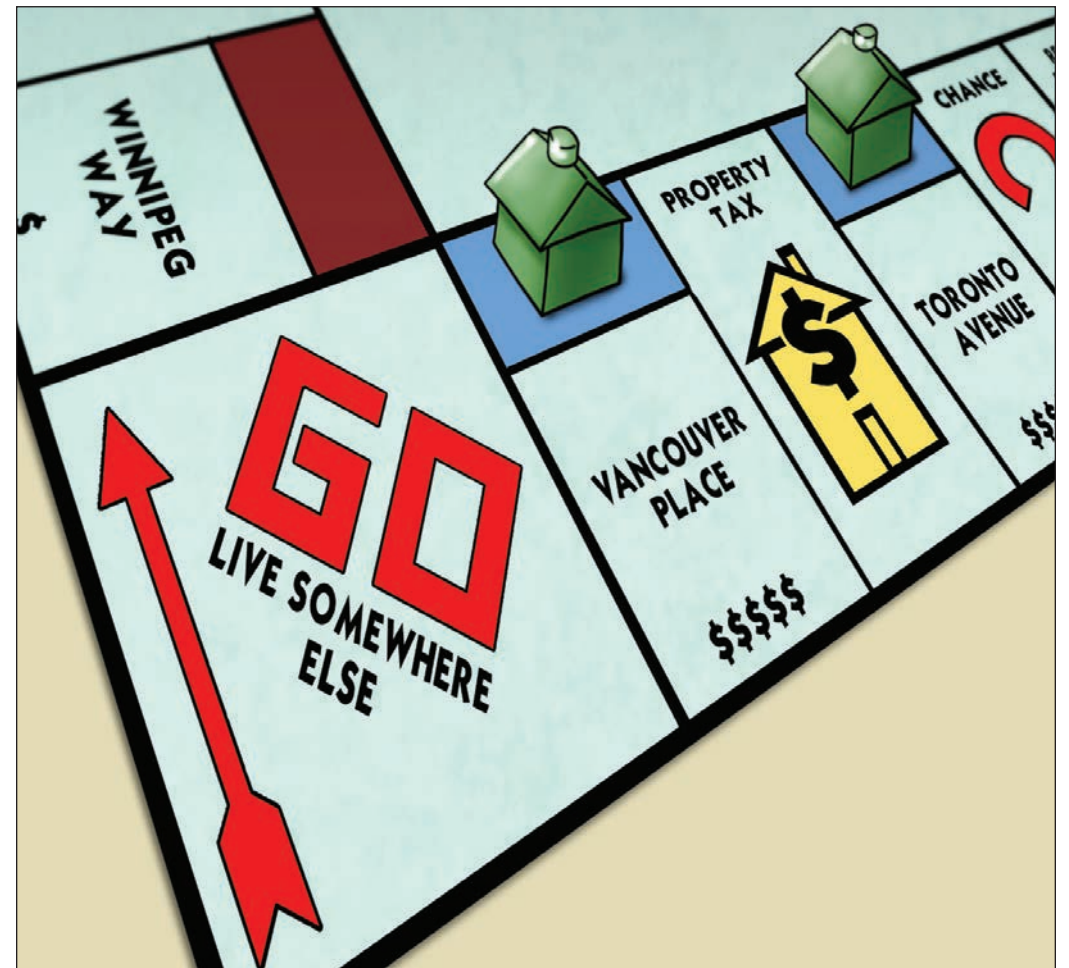

It's all a bit mind-boggling, as is the universe we live in. The universe, apparently, is infinite. Our brains are not. The wireless spectrum is not infinite, so we must preserve and conserve this resource.

Boy, a cabin in the woods is looking better all the time!

Natural light show

On the night of May 27, sky watchers across Canada and as far south as Pennsylvania were treated to a beautiful light show - the aurora borealis. Primarily seen as a greenish glow low in the north, the aurora at times creates long spikes or columns of green, red, blue and violet that brighten and fade. This particular G3 geomagnetic storm was a result of a coronal mass ejection (CME) that blew off the Sun on May 23. These billion-ton clouds of charged particles interacted with Earth's magnetic field producing the dance of light. Gary Boyle, "The Backyard Astronomer," was out all night imaging the cosmic show. Gary can be reached via his website: www.wondersofastronomy.com or on Twitter @astroeducator.

Multicultural dinner to celebrate World Refugee Day

By Janet McLeod Wortel

When a refugee boards a plane for the long, life-changing trip to Canada, their hopes are often simple. They hope that somewhere, their life will matter. Like anyone, a refugee wants to live in safety, with opportunities to contribute their skills and to see their children get an education. These basic human rights are forefront in this year's UN World Refugee Day on June 20. And King for Refugees is marking the value of refugees' lives in Canada with three events for the whole community, including a multicultural dinner.

First, from June 12 to 20, the public libraries of Schomberg, King City and Nobleton are posting King Diversity Maps. Canadians are a diverse bunch. Our diversity is both a Canadian reality and a defining value. Anyone in the community is invited to mark this shared world map with places in which family members live now or in the past. By simply coming by to mark the map, participants can take a stand for diversity and the value of all lives, including those of refugees.

The map will then be featured June 20 for World Refugee Day, and at Canada 150th celebrations in Kettleby. Videos are also showing at the libraries to tell the stories of refugees and their journeys to live in safety.

Next, the multicultural community dinner will take place Tuesday, June 20, with mouth-watering cuisine from around the world. Anyone from the community is invited to enjoy food that transcends all borders to celebrate World Refugee Day. What a delicious way to show unity for human rights and cultural diversity right here in King.

The event will be in the Seniors' Centre with easy parking at the King City arena or off Fisher Street. Tables will be outside if weather permits. So grab a neighbor (or at least their lawn chair) and join in between 5 and 8 p.m. A free-will donation will direct proceeds to the UNHCR. RSVPs are not mandatory but appreciated. Email king4refugees@gmail.com.

The third event commemorates hope and new beginnings in Canada with the planting of a new maple tree. It will add to the green space at the northwest corner of King and Keele streets in King City, on a date to be decided. To join this event, individuals or groups can email king4refugees@gmail.com.

King for Refugees is a local, grassroots group, sponsoring and assisting newcomers as they adjust to life in Canada. The group is now awaiting the arrival of a third family, hoping to board a plane early this summer.

Keep a lookout for invasive garlic mustard

Garlic mustard is an invasive herb native to Europe. It was brought to North America in the early 1800s for use as an edible herb. Available in the early spring and high in vitamins A and C, it has a strong, distinctive smell similar to garlic. Since its arrival in North America it has escaped into the wild and is now one of Ontario's most aggressive forest invaders.

In the first year, it grows only a cluster of leaves shaped like a rosette, while a strong root system develops. Plants that survive the winter produce flowers and hundreds of seeds in their second year. Dense stands produce more than 60,000 seeds per square metre. Stands of garlic mustard can double in size every four years.

Garlic mustard seeds are easily spread by people and animals. They can remain in the soil for up to 30 years and still be able to sprout. The plant can grow in a wide range of sunny and fully shaded habitats, including undisturbed forest, forest edges, riverbanks and roadsides. Garlic mustard does not provide a valuable food source for native wildlife.

Garlic mustard can invade relatively undisturbed forests. Once established, it can displace native wildflowers like trilliums (Trillium sp) and trout lily (Erythronium americanum). It hinders other plants by interfering with the growth of fungi that bring nutrients to the roots of the plants.

The plant threatens several of Ontario's species at risk, including American ginseng (Panax quinquefolius), drooping trillium (Trillium flexipes), false rue-anemone (Enemion biternatum), hoary mountain mint (Pycnanthemum incanum), white wood aster (Eurybia divaricata), wild hyacinth (Camassia scilloides) and wood poppy (Stylophorum diphyllum).

Garlic mustard resembles several native Ontario plants. The leaves at the base of the plant look like those of several plants in the carrot family (Thaspium and Zizia), the daisy family (Senecio) and the violet family (Viola). The seed pods look like those of several other mustard (Brassicaceae) species. The easiest way to distinguish garlic mustard from these plant families is to crush the leaves. If they emit a strong garlic smell, then the plant is most likely garlic mustard.

See The Landowner's Guide to Controlling Invasive Woodland Plants. Go to ontario.ca/invasivespecies, and see how you can help.

Dispose of invasive plants in the garbage. Do not put them in the compost or discard them in natural areas. Discarded flowers may produce seeds.

If you find garlic mustard or other invasive species in the wild, please contact the Invading Species Hotline at 1-800-563-7711, or report a sighting online.

McHappy Day proceeds to society

The Schomberg Agricultural Society was pleased to receive $4,900 from Rory McKinnon of McDonald's. The money was part of the proceeds from the recent, and first, local McHappy Day. The funds will be put towards building the new bridge to the fairgrounds.

The 60-year-old bridge that allows the Schomberg community access from Main Street to our Schomberg Fairgrounds (owned and operated by the SAS) had to be shut down since October 2016.

Because of the planning and manpower from Trisan Construction and Priestly Demolition, SAS now has a temporary arrangement in place so that they were able to open this weekend's 2017 Fair.

Because of the initial huge boost from Rory MacKinnon at Schomberg McDonald's, they are now in the full-speed-ahead process of raising funds towards a permanent bridge.

In addition to the donation, their first kickstart to fundraising is the "Bridge The Gap" raffle tickets on sale.

Only 500 tickets have been printed. First prize is $1,000; 2nd prize, $500 and 3rd prize is $250. The draw will be held on Sept. 16, at the annual Community Bonfire night, held at the fairgrounds.

Tickets are available from members, and by calling Linda at 905-939-2069.

Ron and Susan Mitchell, returning DIY seedling buyers, are planting 150 trees and shrubs on their property in Kettleby this spring.

Local landowners break record, plant more than 14,500 trees in 2017

Thanks to local residents, Lake Simcoe Region Conservation Authority (LSRCA) is breaking tree planting records. LSRCA's do-it-yourself (DIY) seedling sale saw more than 14,500 tree and shrub seedlings go to landowners across York, Simcoe and Durham for planting this spring.

"At a time when we're losing trees because of invasive pests like the Emerald Ash Borer, it's great to see record sales" said Paul Cottenden, forest technician at LSRCA. "It's easy to forget that at one time, most of southern Ontario was one big forest. Naturally, we're thrilled to provide affordable opportunities for residents to help add as many trees as possible to the landscape," Paul added.

Ron and Susan Mitchell, repeat buyers from Kettleby, bought another 150 seedlings this year.

"The trees we purchased last year were a great investment, with around a 90% success rate. We're doing our small part again this year," said Ron.

Conservation Authorities like LSR-

CA, subsidize seedlings and promote tree planting because trees are constantly working for us. Once trees are established, they can reduce erosion and flooding, and act as windbreaks to shelter areas from wind and blowing snow. Trees also provide special places for us to enjoy passive or active recreation, as well as habitat for our feathered and furry friends.

LSRCA foresters like Paul can help landowners every step of the way with tree planting, from funding and planning to planting and tending your growing forest. LSRCA's full-service planting program includes a customized planting plan and specialized equipment to undertake the planting. Landowners may also qualify for a funding grant to cover up to 90 per cent of the costs.

If you missed this year's sale, there's always next year. Visit www.lsrca.on.ca/DIYPlanting and join their mailing list.

Schomberg's Main Street gets a little 'Sugar and Spice'

By Mark Pavilons

A local family has brought some "Sugar and Spice" to Schomberg's historic Main Street.

The unique bake shop just opened and has already received a positive response.

This is the first retail venture for the Fortin family and Melissa is at the helm as the baker.

The family chose Schomberg "because it has a unique quaint charm. The community has been so supportive about our venture, confirming that Schomberg is the right choice for us."

Sugar and Spice offers artisan breads, rustic homemade baked goods, in-house-made soups and made to order sandwiches, as well as custom order cakes. They use local ingredients whenever possible.

As a side venture, Melissa's sister Nicole will be baking all natural dog treats, which will be sold at the bakery.

Melissa attended Humber College and graduated from baking and pastry arts management. She has worked at four different bakeries honing her baking skills. She has been passionate about baking from a very young age.

"We believe that customers are looking for traditional comfort foods made with local fresh ingredients and a bright cheerful environment."

The store is open seven days a week, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. week days, and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekends.

The shop took advantage of the Township's CIP grant program.

According to Jamie Smyth, King's economic development officer, they Mayor Steve Pellegrini, joined by Councillors Avia Eek, David Boyd and Bill Cober, helped cut the ribbon with Fortin family members in Schomberg recently.

"partnered for prosperity" with the Fortins to "assist support and nurture this latest business" grand opening on Main Street in Schomberg.

"King Township staff have worked with this property owner over the last seven months on guiding and facilitating them through this redevelopment project, and their two phased CIP application/grant approval in both the 2016 and 2017 fiscal years. They have been successful in securing just over $30,000 in grant rebates for this property conversion and revitalization project."

For more information on the Community Improvement Plan and Grant programs for business and property owners within the core areas of Nobleton King City and Schomberg please visit www.economicking.ca or contact Smyth Economic at ecdev@king.ca or call 905-833-4016.

Nobleton property owner granted expanded uses

By Mark Pavilons

A Nobleton landowner wants the core area designation expanded to her Highway 27 property. And King councillors did just that at Monday night's council meeting.

Councillor David Boyd also asked his colleagues to reduce the fees involved in this application, since the matter was a very straightforward request.

King council hosted a public information meeting just a few weeks ago on the application by Josephine Gunn, who sought a bylaw zoning amendment to expand the permitted uses on the property. Currently, it can be used as business and professional offices. Core area permitted uses run the gamut, and include retail, apartment units, commercial and various other establishments.

Dan Stone, of Thorstone Consulting Services, appeared before council, noting it's a straightforward request. Gunn has owned the home for 45 years and is considering selling the property. Adjusting the zoning will allow for a wide range of uses. A potential buyer is looking at converting it to office space.

There is some urgency, he noted and there are no objections to the plan. He asked that it be moved ahead as soon as possible.

Councillor David Boyd asked that it be expedited by staff. He noted comments from York Region are still outstanding, but he sees no problems with the idea.

Resident Susan Beharriell said this makes perfect sense in this case, and it's in keeping with King's planning policies and sustainability concepts.

Prior to the Nobleton bylaw coming into effect, Gunn's property had a site specific zoning exemption, dating back to 1989.

Staff noted that if the property is redeveloped in the future, it would be subject to site plan development control, ensuring "orderly development" of the property.

King's Joan Kelley Walker helps raise the bar in reality TV

By Mark Pavilons

Joan Kelley Walker has become a social media force to be reckoned with, following her "incredible" experience on the recent reality show, The Real Housewives of Toronto.

She's thrilled with the "entirely positive experience" that helped raise the bar for reality TV. She's happy that she helped contribute to the show's quality and remained true to herself throughout.

Viewers were drawn to the content of the show and found it interesting without being trashy.

Walker was adamant that she remain as real as possible. "Everything from me was real and spontaneous. I'm the real deal on that show," she said.

The participants were not all privy to the shots that centred around individuals, so many episodes came as a surprise to her when she watched the 10-episode series that debuted in March.

She did point out that she was a bit shocked at the choices some people made.

Despite the tensions and character conflicts, they mostly remain good friends. The cast of the 10-part series consisted of Walker, Kara Alloway, Roxy Earle, Gregoriana (Grego) Minot, Ann Kaplan Mulholland and Jana Webb.

Walker said she deepened her existing friendships with Jana and Grego and created new ties with Ann and Roxy. She wishes Kara every success. Walker noted it took her a while to click in to Ann's sense of humour and she finds Roxy to be quite open and genuine.

During the show's segment in Barcelona, Spain, Walker said she spent an entire day stomping on grapes in an ancient vineyard. This was the highlight of the trip, but unfortunately it got cut in the final edit.

The days of filming were long, intense and demanding. The crews did a lot of shooting, but given the tight timelines, a lot never made it to air. The focused editing did make for a better final product, however.

Throughout the process, Walker has become more active on social media, something she previously avoided. She has learned it's an "incredible tool" and she's discovered how nice it is to communicate with others in this manner.

"Now, I'm embracing it, but I have a lot to learn," she said.

People have been really receptive and so kind about her appearance on the show.

Producers are still going through the viewership numbers, but the good news is the show has been picked up to air in Australia, and some other countries have expressed interest.

Joan would absolutely embrace a second season of Real Housewives, but there has been no word on that.

This experience seems to have put some wind in Walker's professional sails.

She's about to launch a new lifestyle brand bearing her name. The line of products include apparel, accessories and household items. She also keeps busy with speaking engagements.

We will definitely be hearing more from Joan in the coming months.

Joan has been involved in humanitarian work for the past 18 years and most recently visited Cambodia, via World Vision's "Starting Strong" program that protects children from life-long stunting and premature death. The program focusses on the health of mothers during pregnancy and newborn health and nutrition.

The World Vision ambassador and advocate has received the Mother Teresa Award from Athol Murray College of Notre Dame and a Queen's Diamond Jubilee Medal as well as World Vision's highest award - "Heroes for Children-Power of Generosity Award."

As a World Vision spokesperson, Joan Kelley has emceed panel discussions at the U of T, featuring international experts on HIV Aids. She also organizes and hosts fundraisers.

Joan Kelley has served as Chair of the United Way of York Region's Women's Leadership Counsel. She volunteers locally with Neighborhood Network and has served on Committee for "Right to Play."

Walker and her husband Don, CEO of Magna International, are passionate philanthropists. Don was named Canada's Outstanding CEO of the Year for 2014.

For Joan Kelley Walker, "real" is the name of the game.

Food Bank bolstered by Bruce Wilson Landscaping

Bruce Wilson Landscaping has become a well known business in King Township over the last four decades. It's a business that has its beginnings in what was known then as Weston in 1965. Bruce Wilson started with, literally, a lawnmower in the trunk of his car at the age of 23. He was a Toronto firefighter at the time, but eventually landscaping took over and he moved to Kleinburg in 1974, with his business, of course.

Charlie, who presently heads Bruce Wilson Landscaping, joined the business in the '80s and took the business into landscape construction. This resulted in huge expansion, and they opened the current facility on King Vaughan Road in 1987. Bruce Wilson Landscaping now specializes in new residential development installing municipal parks, streetscapes, stormwater managements ponds and environmental wetland/channels.

A King Township Food Bank founding sponsor, Charlie has been supplying funds annually since 2009. He became the Food Bank's inaugural Diamond Sponsor in addition to tapping on the shoulders of many other businesses in King and beyond. This year, it's expected his efforts will ensure the Food Bank receives over $10,000 of much needed funds.

It's people like Charlie who help this totally volunteer charity to continue to fulfil its mandate of a week of non perishable groceries along with fresh produce every month to well over 200 people in King.

Student has sights set on Oxford summer program

By Mark Pavilons

A King student has her sights set on one of the best schools in the world.

Palma Gurdulic is motivated by her passion, and that drive led to a month-long program at Oxford University this summer that will teach philosophy, politics, and economics. While this experience would be one of a lifetime, it is also extremely expensive.

This experience is also a stepping stone for Palma's actual application to Oxford next year.

The Grade 11 student said this opportunity is offered for students who are interested in pursuing programs that they are really passionate about. This program not only gives students the opportunity to learn more about courses they might not have at school, but it also gives them the opportunity to be taught by a faculty that includes Rhodes and Marshall Scholars, as well as professors who are currently pursuing their DPhil at prestigious English universities.

The application process, she explained, involved the submission of a motivation letter, report card, and an optional reference letter from a teacher.

In her motivation letter, she emphasized her willingness to become a greater student and learner as well as my specific interest in politics, philosophy, and economics.

"I believe that a great understanding of these subjects would offer a full understanding of how the world works which makes me excited! I am extraordinarily happy and grateful for having been accepted."

She noted that in the UK there is a lot of focus put on interest and dedication to one's university program. Summer courses like the one she's taking, as well as other opportunities, further proves her willingness and excitement to learn as much about her course as you possibly can.

"I am really interested in either working in the UN or as an international human rights lawyer. By fully immersing myself in PPE (politics, philosophy, and economics), I will not only be able to draw myself all the closer to such goals but I will also draw myself closer to understanding the important role that these subjects play in dictating meaning, order, and purpose in our lives."

Oxford and Cambridge (commonly known as Oxbridge) are the two oldest universities in the United Kingdom. Both Oxford's philosophy and politics programs are ranked second in the world with economics placing eighth.

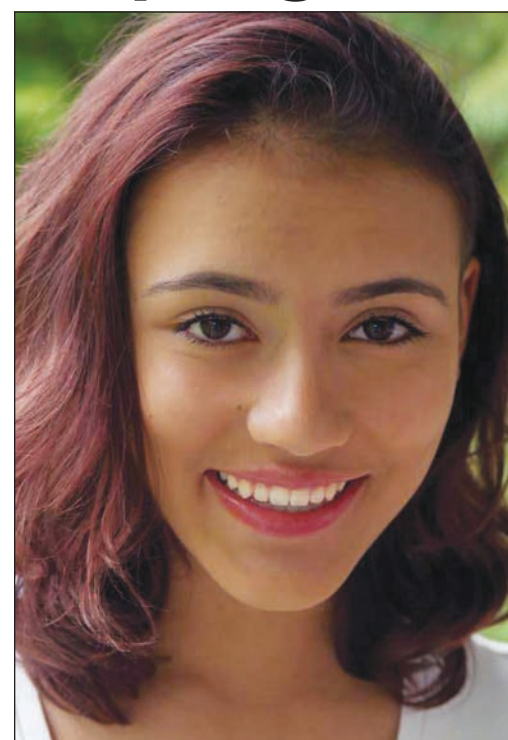

The part about Oxford that Palma finds so interesting is their tutorial system. This allows pupils to meet with an expert in their field twice a week in their first year. The tutors monitor academic progress, and provide support as well as encouragement, while the pupil is able to benefit from all the help offered by an expert academic. Only a handful of other universities utilize this kind of system, making this one of the many aspects of Oxford that will lead her to apply this coming school year.

Currently, she is "working on building myself as an individual. I am aiming to become a better learner, a better student, and more involved within the communities centered around my aspired fields. All I can hope is that I will be the best fit for the university I end up going to, whether it be Oxford or another."

This summer program costs $12,000 in total, which includes tuition, instruction, accommodation, all books and materials, guest speakers and more.

Palma's parents are matching her contribution, but she has to raise $6,000.

"If anyone feels inclined to make an inscription into my future I will gratefully give back to them whether it be by tutoring their children, cleaning their cars, painting their homes, etc. My GoFundMe account can be found here: <https://www.gofundme.com/m7hjk-a-oxford-summer-abroad-program>.

"As one of the authors of this huge impact on my life, your name will be inscribed on my future, my debt of gratitude never fully repaid."

York ranks in the top 10 for growth

Development and population indicators highlighted in The Growth and Development Review 2016 report show York Region remains competitive and ranks within the top 10 municipalities in Canada in key economic areas, including construction values and the housing market.

Learn more. Have your say.

Hydro One Networks Inc. has applied to the Ontario Energy Board to raise its electricity distribution rates effective January 1, 2018 and continuing each year for another 4 years, until December 31, 2022. If the application is approved, a typical residential customer of Hydro One Networks Inc., using 750 kWh per month, would see increases as set out in the table below:

2018 an increase of $2.79 per month
2019 an increase of $2.47 per month

2020 an increase of $2.31 per month
2021 an increase of $1.95 per month

2022 an increase of $2.23 per month

Other customers, including businesses, may be affected as well.

Hydro One Networks Inc. has also acquired the electricity distribution assets of Norfolk Power, Haldimand County Hydro and Woodstock Hydro. The distribution rates for the former customers of these distributors will remain frozen at current levels until December 31, 2020. As part of this application, on January 1, 2021, and January 1, 2022, the distribution rates for these customers will also be increasing.

If the application is approved, a typical former residential customer of these three distributors, using 750 kWh per month, would see increases as set out in the table below:

Former Utility	2021	Increase	2022
Norfolk Power	$3.18 per month		$1.09 per month
Haldimand County Hydro	$4.52 per month		$1.09 per month
Woodstock Hydro	$1.08 per month		$0.84 per month

Other former customers of these distributors, including businesses, may be affected as well.

Hydro One Networks Inc. has also applied for new service charges and for adjustments to many of its specific service charges, including increases to charges for the collection of accounts, for disconnection, reconnection and removal of load control devices and for access to Hydro One Networks Inc. power poles. You are encouraged to review the application carefully to determine whether you may be affected by these changes.

The Ontario government has introduced the Fair Hydro Act, 2017 that, if passed, would implement electricity rate reductions starting in the summer of 2017. The amounts set out above are provided before the application of any credits that would be implemented under the Fair Hydro Act, 2017.

Nobleton's Julian Lombardi makes his next big step

By Mark Pavilons

A Nobleton teen has entered the fame associated with Canadian hit drama The Next Step.

Julian Lombardi stars as Ozzy in season five of Family Channel's hit series The Next Step which premiered May 26.

We thought your readers would be interested in hearing about how Julian got into acting and what it's been like to join the cast of an internationally successful television series.

This opportunity means that "another door has opened in my life. Before I was cast on The Next Step, I was only exposed to dance and this allows me to explore the acting industry. I have learned so much through this opportunity," he said.

Ozzy is a witty, energetic and humorous character. He is very quick on his feet in different situations and often plays the underdog throughout the show. He is also the one who brings positivity and fun to the group.

"My character is almost identical to my everyday self. The only characteristic that is unlike me is the underdog trait - I am more of a leader than a follower. I like to be the spark of energy to get people going."

Lombardi finds a lot of freedom in dance.

"When dancing, there is a specific feeling I get that is indescribable. It feels like a rush of adrenaline that takes over my body and mind. This feeling typically comes from the music. I am very passionate about music and take pride in letting the music move me.

"In terms of acting, it is very new to me so I have not really figured myself out completely. However, I do look up to comedic actor Jim Carey as I appreciate and enjoy watching the way he plays his characters."

He said hip-hop and contemporary are his dance specialties, but he trains in all genres.

During the show, Julian hopes to learn more acting techniques. For example, "I want to learn how to carry myself in a scene when I am just observing, not speaking. Also, I want to learn how to interact with different people on set as I believe this is very important in life."

His family is behind him all the way.

"They have always attended all dance functions from the day I started dancing. They have always sacrificed many things to allow me to do what I love to do. They are my number one fans but also keep me humble and appreciative of all the things I have accomplished through dance."

Julian said he really likes the "family atmosphere" among the cast, both on and off set. He also likes the freedom he has within his own character: The crew, meaning directors, producers, editors, writers, sound, props, and choreographers, are all very respectful and friendly, making it a warm and comfortable place to be in.

Julian began competitive dance at the age of six and currently trains in a variety of genres at the Canadian Dance Unit. He proudly won Best Junior Male Dancer at The Dance Awards in New York City, followed by his performance in the opening ceremony at the Para Pan Am Games. Julian will be performing at Family Channel's Big Ticket Concert this summer.

Lombardi said his plans include getting a university degree, potentially in business or economics. He also wants to see where his dancing and acting take him.

A global phenomenon since premiering in 2013, this home-grown series has taken the world by storm. The fan-favourite series, which follows the lives of an elite group of dancers that train at the Next Step studio, has become a worldwide phenomenon, sparking three Canadian tours, international tours through Europe, the UK and Australia, a feature film, and spin-off series.

Nobleton's Colantoni earns leader award at film festival

By Mark Pavilons

Cultivating imagination is what film-makers and actors do every day.

Inspiring future generations of artists is vital to keeping the industry thriving for future generations.

Nobleton's Enrico Colantoni, a well known Toronto-born actor, was recognized by his peers recently.

Colantoni received the Independent Leader Award from the Vaughan Film Festival.

Colantoni, who is a producer, director and writer, is a "leading example of what talented and accomplished actors should be doing, which is supporting the next generation of filmmakers."

In his acceptance speech, Colantoni said: "The arts advance civilization because it cultivates imagination."

"All of the winners from this year's Vaughan International Film Festival represented incredible filmmaking and impactful storytelling! Our festival prides itself on the importance of celebrating artists – both in front of and behind the camera. Artists who have the creative ability to share and bring to life stories that inspire, challenge and entertain us. We believe that this year's international winners did exactly that, and we were honoured to recognize their achievements."

This year's festival included 35 short films from 9 different countries.

Colantoni's most recent prime time project was Global TV's Remedy. He had a recurring role on the popular CBS sci-fi series Person of Interest, starring Jim Caviezel.

Colantoni is well known for his roles as Sgt. Greg Parker on the Canadian TV series Flashpoint (2008-2012) and Keith Mars on Veronica Mars (2004-2007).

He's also national spokesperson for the Tema Conter Memorial Trust, which assists first responders deal with PTSD. It was created by King's Vince Savoia.

Enrico Colantoni (centre) receives his leadership award from Mark Pagliaroli, Sandra De Maria, Fatima Ptacek, Antonio Ienco.

Nobleton walks in support of dog guides

The annual Pet Valu Walk for Dog Guides in Nobleton raised almost double its 2016 total in the 2017 walk held on Sunday.

Over $4,000 was collected to support dog guide training programs across Canada, with the Lions Foundation providing over 2,500 Canadians with specially trained dog guides from coast to coast throughout its history.

Bev Berger, who worked with the Lions Club of Nobleton to originally acquire a guide dog, raised over $3,300 in this year's effort.

This was the 28th year the Nobleton Lions have participated in the event.

For more than 30 years, the Pet Valu Walk for Dog Guides has been a vital national fundraiser in support of Lions Foundation of Canada Dog Guides. Taking place in more than 240 communities across Canada, the Walk raises funds to provide life-changing Dog Guides to Canadians with physical and medical disabilities at no cost to them.

A family and dog-friendly event that welcomes participants of all ages and abilities, The Pet Valu Walk for Dog Guides relies on the generous support of volunteers, donors, and partners to meet its goal of giving Canadians a new leash on life.

Providing specially trained dog guides increase the independence, mobility, and safety of their handlers.

Residents and their dogs walked in support of the annual Walk for Dog Guides, which raises funds for the Lions Foundation of Canada (LFC) initiative to train and place dog guides for people with visual or other physical disabilities. It is spearheaded in Nobleton by resident Bev Berger and Lion Jim McDonald.

Shoulder/ Elbow/Wrist Pain: New Approach Delivers Remarkable Results

If you suffer from Shoulder/Elbow/Wrist pain (Injury/strain/tendonitis/Arthritis) you need to be aware of effective advancements that can eliminate years of pain, suffering, immobility and frustration.

You may have told your doctor you suffer with one or more of the following: sore, stiff, painful Shoulder/Elbow/Wrist, "clicking" sound with movement, difficulty bending, and/or walking.

Often times, problems/symptoms in one of these areas leads to compensatory issues in one or more of these other joints.

You may find that your pain or stiffness affects your work, housekeeping, leisure activities, exercise, sports or other activities. You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your pain. But you find the pain keeps returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of pain pills or anti-inflammatory drugs that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

Mackenzie Health awarded a contract to Compugen for Managed ICAT1 Services (MIS) at the future Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital. As a result, Compugen will be working with Mackenzie Health to provide and support an integrated technology platform to help build and implement its smart hospital vision. The partnership will also help create a number of new jobs to benefit the local community.

Under the smart hospital vision, Mackenzie Health plans to build a secured medical grade wired and wireless electronic platform. The smart system will include unified communications (audio/video) between providers and patients and access to patient portals, community provider portals and home health tools such as integrated private and secure patient electronic records. Compugen will provide infrastructure and services for the devices, network, security and technology management of the new hospital.

"With this contract we are realizing our vision for a smart hospital that will provide our patients and their families with the next level, high-quality care they need, when they need it, and transform the way healthcare is delivered in York Region. Our goal is achieve a truly 'smart' support service delivery model that is intuitive, patient-centred and highly efficient," said Altaf Stationwala, president and CEO, Mackenzie Health.

The smart hospital vision – applied at the new Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital as well as at the existing Mackenzie Richmond Hill Hospital – will create a truly connected patient experience inside and outside the hospital setting by utilizing digital communications and the Internet of Healthcare Things2 to provide quality healthcare delivered through the eyes of the patient.

"We are delighted to be supporting Mackenzie Health as they implement their remarkable smart hospital vision. The mission-critical platform will allow for the introduction of cutting-edge medical technologies and connectivity both inside and outside of the hospital walls to enable integrated care. We applaud Mackenzie Health for their commitment to transforming healthcare delivery to better serve patients and their families," said Harry Zarek, president and CEO, Compugen.

Expected to be completed in 2020, Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital will be the first hospital in Canada to feature fully integrated "smart" technology, which features systems and medical devices that can speak directly to one another to maximize information exchange. Through modern and proven best practices, the hospital will provide state-of-the-art health care and positive outcomes for patients and their families.

Impaired driving is still problematic in York Region

By Alex Bowlin

York Regional Police are pulling out all the stops to combat impaired driving. And yet, some drivers don't seem to get the message.

The majority of cases that YPR encounters are alcohol-related but they are seeing an increase in the number of drivers impaired by various drugs such as marijuana, opioids, as well as prescription medications. Such cases pose new challenges to YPR patrol efforts.

While it's known where alcohol can be bought and consumed, the same cannot be said about illegal drugs such as marijuana and opioids. In an effort to combat these increasing cases, along with being Qualified Breath Technicians YPR officers are now also Drug Recognition Experts, which enables them to conduct a series of tests that help them identify level of impairment and type of substance an individual is impaired by.

In a typical week, almost two dozen people are arrested for drug and alcohol related driving offences in York Region.

YPR's principle impaired driving prevention methods are ordinary patrols and RIDE spot checks. RIDE spot checks are increased in anticipation of events where alcohol is a factor such as St. Patrick's Day and the Super Bowl, as well as during the holiday season from mid-November right through Jan. 1.

In addition to on the road patrol efforts YPR does make a large effort to raise public awareness about the dangers of impaired driving. This is done through individual media releases and social media posts as well as larger campaigns such as the Safe Roads Your Call program, which encourages people to call 911 if they spot a suspected impaired driver, and the #ImThatPerson campaign which encourages friends and family members to step up and stop someone who is impaired from driving.

According to Andy Pattenden of the YPR, the effort to raise public awareness is at the heart of the force's philosophy of combatting impaired driving. Patrols and RIDE spot checks are effective because they deter people from driving impaired due to penalty, and catch people who are driving under the influence, but these deterrents are not what YPR would prefer.

Rather than fear of punishment or actually being caught after breaking the law, YPR would prefer that people exercise reason and factor responsibility into their decision making. It is YPR's stance that if you are capable of getting a driver's licence and operating a vehicle, you are capable of not drive impaired.

Because of this stance, YPR does not see it to be necessary that any responsibility is taken off the driver and placed elsewhere such as the institutions that serve alcohol. YPR does not think that any more prevention devices such as breathalysers, cab kiosks, or warning posters need to be placed in this institutions to discourage impaired driving. Highly publicized tragedies, such as the one that occurred in King Township that killed three children and their grandfather, should be enough to inform the public.

In most instances, people act responsibly, but others are still willing to take their chances, and set the stage for tragedy.

Villanova soccer falls to Appleby in CISAA final

By Jake Courtepatte

A high-scoring affair ended in a shootout heartbreak for the Villanova College varsity girls soccer team, playing in the CISAA championship on Monday afternoon.

Hosting Appleby College, the number one and two-ranked teams in the CISAA's top division battled to a 5-5 tie through a regulation period of back-and-forth action, before overtime solved nothing.

A shootout win for Appleby handed Villanova only their second loss of the 2017 season, and Appleby their third straight CISAA title.

The Knights, who posted a 6-1 record in the regular season to book a spot in last Wednesday's semifinal match-up, toppled Havergal College 4-2 to reach Monday's final.

In the junior girls category, the Knights were victorious over Appleby after finishing first in the division with a 3-1 record, while the Under-14 squad reached their championship match before falling to Hillfield Strathallan College.

Country Day School hosts rugby league championship

By Jake Courtepatte

The Country Day School Cyclones capped off a stellar season in CISAA junior rugby by hosting the independent league's championship tournament last Wednesday.

Nine teams from across the region converged on the fields in King City for the junior rugby seven's final, where Ridley College completed an undefeated season with four more playoff wins to earn the championship.

Country Day School, who entered the tournament with a record of 4-3-1 good for second in the West division, bowled over Hillfield Strathallan College in the day's opening match by a score of 26-5.

That set up a date with Toronto French School later in the afternoon, a strong defensive effort by both sides resulting in a narrow 12-10 victory for TFS.

Facing Ridley College shortly after their grinding battle with TFS, a battered CDS squad came out on the wrong side of a 33-10 score to be eliminated from the tournament.

Ridley went on to defeat Royal St. George's College 24-5 in the championship game.

The senior seven's Cyclone squad enjoyed a 3-0 championship Wednesday, held at Hillfield Strathallan College.

They defeated Holy Trinity School, Rosseau Lake College, and Ridley College en route to a perfect day.

Coyle dominates $86,600 CSI2* Jumper Classic

Daniel Coyle of Ireland dominated the $86,000 CSI2* Jumper Classic, presented by Case IH, on Saturday, May 27, during the CSI2* Classic at Palgrave Phase II at the Caledon Equestrian Park in Caledon.

Coyle, 22, qualified three horses for the jump-off, winning the event riding Tienna and taking second place with the ten-year-old grey Belgian Warmblood gelding, Dillinger. With his third entry, Grafton, Coyle finished in fifth position after having the final fence down for a total of four faults in a time of 37.60. All three of Coyle's horses are owned by Susan and Ariel Grange of Lothlorien Farm, located in Cheltenham.

The 22-year-old's winning streak began earlier in the day when Coyle rode to victory in the $20,000 Under 25 class, presented by BDF Equestrian, aboard Somersset and placed third with Fortis Fortuna, also owned by Susan Grange and her daughter, Ariel. Muhammad Itani of Essex, ON, broke up the Irish party by finishing second riding Tax Free.

Course designer Manuel Esparza of Mexico set a testing track for the 34 entries in the $86,000 CSI2* Jumper Classic, including a tight time allowed of 78 seconds that prevented three riders – Ian Millar, Hyde Moffatt and Nicole Walker – from advancing to the jump-off after leaving all the rails in place.

With eight horse-rider combinations returning for the tie-breaker, Coyle was poised for the win with all three of his entries qualified. However, as the first to return for the jump-off with Tienna, Coyle got the job done by coming home clear in a time of 36.85 seconds, a performance no one could improve on, not even himself.

American challenger Andy Kocher was the only rider to catch Coyle's time, stopping the clock in 36.45 riding Navalo de Poheton, but a rail at the 'a' element of the double combination left the pair in fourth place.

Coyle's final entry, Dillinger, left all the rails in place in a time of 40.23 for second place while Jonathon Millar of Perth, was the only other rider to jump double-clear, taking third with Daveau in a time of 40.81 seconds.

"Any one of my horses could have won today but Tienna is the fastest, and she won in the end," said Coyle of the nine-year Canadian Sport Horse mare (For Pleasure x Polydox) that was bred by owner Susan Grange. "It's really hard to expect that when you're first back for the jump-off. If she was last to go, it might have made it a little easier; it's always hard to go first.

"I haven't had that much jump-off experience with Grafton, and it took me a while to get the feel for Dillinger," continued Coyle of his three jump-off mounts. "He's a great horse, but he is not the easiest to ride. I was most impressed with him today."

Coyle is particularly fond of Tienna, noting, "When I first started riding her, I told Sue 'this is a star, she really is something special.' I have been bragging about her and I think she's a real grand prix horse. She's fast, she's scopey, she ticks all the boxes. It might take her another year to get there, but I believe she will be really special."

Coyle, who took over the top string of Lothlorien horses from fellow Irishman Conor Swail last fall, may be from Ireland, but his training base is only 15 minutes from the Caledon Equestrian Park, host of equestrian events for the 2015 Pan American Games.

"It's a great show with great prize money and world ranking classes, and it's great for Sue to be able to jump her horses as local as this is," said Coyle. "I think it's extra-special for Sue, as this is like her home crowd. Without Sue and Ariel Grange, I would not be where I am today, and I can never thank them enough for that."

Coyle's next stop is Thunderbird Show Park in Langley, BC, where he will ride Cita as a member of the Irish team in Nations' Cup competition on Friday, June 2. Then it's on to Spruce Meadows in Calgary, AB, for its four-week 'Summer Series', where Coyle broke onto the international show jumping scene last year.

Erynn Ballard of Tottenham finished 6th aboard Carimba B.

Schomberg's Beth Underhill was 7th on Count Me In.

The CSI2* Classic at Palgrave Phase II marked the second of five weeks of International Equestrian Federation (FEI) competition offered at the Caledon Equestrian Park this year by organizer Equestrian Management Group. Two weeks of back-to-back FEI-sanctioned show jumping competition returns to the Park with the CSI2* Summer Festival held from August 1 to 6, immediately followed by the CSI2* Caledon Premier II running August 8 through 13. The fifth and final week of FEI competition takes place from September 20 to 24 at the ever-popular CSI2* Canadian Show Jumping Tournament.

After the service, we hope you will join us for a social fellowship time.

Over the past 100 years, our Church has endured many tribulations, the first being in 1925 with the vote on Church Union when the pastor and three of four elders left to join the Union Church. Our church has experienced some disasters, natural and otherwise, from Hurricane Hazel to floods to vandalism and even an explosion which necessitated re-bricking and interior plastering. However, and thankfully, our church survives and thrives as an inspiration of dedication and perseverance, as we look forward to the next century.

Nobleton United Church By Nancy Hopkinson

Our regular church services on Sunday are at 11:15 a.m. This summer, we will have services all summer long at Nobleton United, except on Sunday July 23 when Jack and Kim Campbell have kindly offered their place for a short service, picnic, swim, and walk in the forest.

Schomberg United invites all to join them on Wednesdays in July for a short service at 6 p.m., and then a BBQ with potluck salads and desserts.

On Tuesday, June 13, from 5 to 7 p.m., Messy Church will have as its theme "The Lord's Prayer." It used to be that the Lord's Prayer was said in school, but most schools now do not allow it to be said! A lot of children have never ever heard it. All the activities will be related to "the Lord's Prayer."

Children from 2 years to early teens enjoy the various choices of activities. Since children come with a responsible adult, they can be helped with the activities if they are a bit challenging for them. Cathy Castator and I run the program, following suggestions from the Messy Church books, which are published in the U.K. The activities run from 5 to 6 p.m., then we have story time and at 6:15 we eat. The program is sponsored by Nobleton and Schomberg United Churches, and so there is no charge for this program.

Similarly, these two churches sponsor the Schomberg Youth Club (10-16 years) Friday evenings at Schomberg Public School. The new music program (guitars are supplied) operates in the front hall outside the gym. These programs are also free.

On Sunday, June 18, we will mark Father's Day with Beatles' Music. The Joyful Spirits music group will sing at both Schomberg United at 9:30 a.m. and Nobleton United at 11:15 a.m. Do join us if you can.

On June 25, we are having a Canada Day 150 Celebration with Orangeville's lively "Day by Day" guitar/singing group at Nobleton United at 11:15 a.m. This is a joint service with Schomberg United.

A message from Carol-Ann Chapman, the Minister of Nobleton United Church:

"Monday May 22 was my first Victoria Day in Nobleton. I had heard what an important day this was for the community, so I was excited to join members of the church in the Nobleton United booth. I spent time looking for just the right message to put on our new sandwich board and found one I particularly liked, "Guilt Free Service."

Over the years the church has been the source of guilt for many people and something I hope I can erase from the fabric of our church. People shouldn't come to church expecting to feel judged or guilty.

"Our society has discovered how important it is to remove what isn't needed and it is common to see such signs as; "Nut Free, Gluten Free," and "Sugar Free," so why not a "Guilt Free" church? As I sat at the booth, looking forward to meeting people, a couple holding hands looked over at me and then the sign.

Nobleton Notes

One woman said something to her partner and I heard the word "Guilt" and I could tell by the look on her face she was offended. I looked at the sign and wondered how this could have possibly offended her. What could possibly be offensive about such a message? Then a little while later I noticed a group pointing to the sign and once again I could see that the message of acceptance that I hoped to put forward wasn't being received. I looked at the sign again trying to figure out what they saw that I didn't, and then it occurred to me. I had written GUILT FREE. Were people thinking I was offering FREE Guilt? I was mortified. What I had hoped would be a message of inclusion suddenly became exactly what I was trying to remove. Perhaps if I hadn't written the words FREE in capitals or if I'd contracted the word with a hyphen the message would have been clearer. It has occurred to me how easy it is for a message to be misinterpreted. In a culture where brief messages through texts and tweets is the way we share our thoughts, I should know how easy it is for a message to be misunderstood.

"At the bottom of the sandwich board were the words 'ALL Welcome' and I meant ALL. If you are looking for a church that accepts you exactly as you are...no conditions, no guilt, then Nobleton United might be a place you'd like to try. If you want a place where you are welcomed wherever you are on your spiritual journey, then check us out. My underlying message is always one of unconditional love and acceptance. My hope is to be part of a church community that extends the love of God out into the world. Perhaps I should have used fewer words on the sign, maybe just one - LOVE - because in essence, that says it all."

At the Victoria Day activities, we also ran a Dunk Tank. We would like to thank everyone who agreed to be dunked. They were Mayor Steve Pellegrini, Councillor Dave Boyd, David Zacchigna, MPP Deb Schulte, me, Stephen Lecce (the provincial Conservative candidate) and Zoe Simmons. That water was very cold! Thanks also to all the people who supported by paying and throwing balls to dunk the volunteers. We raised $585 for our Youth program, Senior program and Community support.

If you would like to meet Minister Carol-Ann Chapman, come to Sunday service or phone the church and make an appointment. You are welcome to come to the church to meet, or Carol-Ann can visit you.

For more info, visit nobletonunitedchurch.com, our Facebook page, or call 905-859-3976. The Nobleton United Church office is normally open on Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Messages are picked up regularly. We are located at 6076 King Rd., north side, about 6 buildings west of Hwy. 27. We have a big parking lot at the rear of the building, an accessible ramp at the rear of the building, chair lifts and accessible washrooms.

Nobleton Lions

The Nobleton Lions Annual Fund Raiser is planned for June 4. This year the event is a Charity Golf Tournament to be held at Nobleton Lakes Golf Course. This is the major fund raiser for the Lions Club, with proceeds planned to go to numerous organizations in and around town. Golfers and hole sponsors are invited to call Jim Kassam at KARS on King Rd. west of Hwy. 27 at 859-5277.

Watch this space for further details as the events get closer, and why not check out our website at www.nobletonlions.com

Free advertising is available to non profit groups in and around Nobleton via the electronic sign at the library. Contact the Township of King for details on how to get your message up there at no charge. Residents are asked to remember that the Lions have arranged to collect unused eye glasses, refurbish and distribute them to those in need. Unused eyeglasses can be dropped off at the Pharmasave Pharmacy, where they will be collected for this purpose.

Your support is greatly appreciated by the Lions and those who we support, in keeping with our motto, "We Serve."

The Lions Club is seeking new members at this time. If you are interested in helping your community become a better place to live while having lots of fun, please call Bob Phillips at 416-522-9675.

King's Corners

King City United
By Earle Laycock

King City United welcomed guest preacher Sandra Kirby on Sunday. Sandra is studying to become a Licensed Lay Worship Leader in the United Church of Canada. Part of her curriculum requirements is to preach a sermon. Sandra chose Philippians 2: 1-11 as her text but focussed on verses 5-8.

Using scripture, music and laughter, Sandra delivered the serious message of striving to be the best we can be in humbleness with God's grace. Good message, Sandra. To quote from the Gospel of Matthew, "Well done, good and faithful servant!"

Rev. Evelyn McLachlan, minister with King City United Church, was recognized this weekend at the annual meeting of the Toronto Conference in Midland for her 30 years of faithful ministry. Rev. Evelyn will be retiring from regular ministry at the end of December. She was thanked by Sean Hopkins for sharing 1/6th of her ministry at King City. The congregation enjoyed a delicious home-baked cake by Sheryl Sinka in honour of Rev. Evelyn's ministry. Thanks to everyone who made this day so special for Rev. Evelyn.

King City United will celebrate the sacrament of Communion on June 4 at 10 a.m. This is the day of Pentecost, when the early church began. To help us with this, you are encouraged to wear colours of fire or wind that day ... red, orange, yellow, green, blue.

Thanks to all who helped clean up the church yard on Saturday. If you missed the day, there is still work to do. Please see Maria Ongaro or Earle Laycock if you wish to help at another time.

Join us for breakfast at 10 a.m. at Sunset Grill in King City. There's always lots to talk about (news, sports, what's happening in your life)! We usually are sitting at the table inside the doors on the right. Come join in the fun and make some new friends.

Keep Saturday, June 17 open. Our popular and mouth-watering Fish Fry will be happening again this year, from 4:30 to 7 p.m. Please call Kristen at the office (905-833-5181 or email her at kcuc@bellnet.ca) to reserve your tickets. There will be salads, oven roasted potatoes, all you can eat freshly caught and prepared white fish and an amazing selection of desserts!

Another Scrapbooking/Cardmaking Day will be held on Saturday, June 24 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Cost is $25 to help defray expenses and includes a donation to the church. Please pass the word along to those you know who like to scrapbook or create cards! Lots of laughter, food and creativity! Please call our Office Administrator Kristen at 905-833-5181 to register.

Keep Sunday, June 18 marked on your calendar. This will be our special outdoor worship and picnic at the Kell Farm, 14580 Keele Street, weather permitting. In the unlikely event of rain, the worship will be held at the church.

King City United is located at 50 Elizabeth Grove, King City. Worship is every Sunday at 10 a.m. There is Sunday school for the young people. For more information, call our Office Administrator Kristen at 905-833-5181 or visit our website at: www.kcuc.ca

King Bible Church

We welcome you to join us for Worship Service on June 4 as Pastor Mark will be continuing our series "The Book of Revelation" with The Purpose Behind God's Judgement.

We will be celebrating Communion on Sunday.

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning "Celebration Zone" provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in Grades 1-8 will join their parents for the beginning of the service until they are invited to go downstairs.

Sacred Heart Church

Sacred Heart Church at 14485 Jane Street at the 16th Sideroad, King City is holding its annual Spring Bazaar on Saturday, June 3 from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. There are many items such as kitchen & household goods, home decor, jewellery & handbags, garden plants, treasures, books and media, religious items, baked goods and a BBQ. There will also be an auction featuring a 1992 Harley Davidson Fat Boy Motorcycle and a Persian rug. We welcome everyone to browse, and have a good time.

For more, contact Vince Cancelli at 905-833-6305.

King's Corners

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

Welcome to St. Andrew's! This Sunday, June 4, the Rev. Dr. John Vissers will be back to lead us in our worship service at 10:30 a.m. with communion following. Sunday school (up to Grade 6) runs concurrently and there is a nursery available. Join us afterwards for coffee in the lounge.

We look forward to Lynn Vissers and Sophia Khani taking the service on June 11. Sophie will be speaking about her amazing school/mission trip to Belize last March. June 18, Father's Day, we're having John Mills preach, followed by the Sunday school wrap-up and BBQ. Join us for a wonderful time of good food and fun!

Thank you to all who attended last Saturday's follow-up meeting with the Rev. Dr. J-P Smit where we further discussed the future of St. Andrew's in King City. There was much food for thought and prayer as we move forward seeking God's direction.

The Ladies' Prayer Time will not continue over the summer. Instead, there will be opportunities for prayer walks! Lynn is preparing material that may be used. Anyone may participate at their own time, in their own community, with others or on their own. Let Lynn know if you'd like some materials to guide you in your prayer walks. God will be listening!

Drop-in Art on Wednesdays, between 2 and 5 p.m. for all ages will be coming to a close for the summer. But, mark your calendars! Art-in-the-Park is back and children, ages 4 and up and their parents are welcome to drop by July 4-7 from 1:30 -3:30 p.m. Make special memories together.

Coffee and Conversation will resume in the fall. Please call Lynn for further information on the youth group's activities as summer approaches.

This Sunday is the start of the 143rd General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, taking place at Queen's University, Kingston, June 4-7. The chosen theme is "Jesus Christ - the same yesterday, today, forever" from Hebrew's 13:8. St. Andrew's Bill Patterson is one of the delegate Elders from the Oak Ridges Presbytery.

Should you have pastoral care needs please contact Lynn Vissers, Director of Congregational Ministries. Our church office number is 905-833-2325, located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. A ramp is available for accessibility. www.standrews-kingcity.ca

All Saints Anglican Church By Diana Armitage

We had a delicious potluck lunch last Sunday after church while the Rev. Dr Elizabeth Green gave an introduction to the art of Biblical Storytelling. Afterwards, there was a short workshop. Thank you, Elizabeth! As of today, June 1, All Saints celebrates that Elizabeth and Kevin have been with us for one full year.

On Trinity Sunday, June 11, Bishop Peter Fenty will join us for a special worship celebration that will include the Sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation and the Reaffirmation of Baptismal Vows. It is very important to note that on this day the service will begin at 10 a.m., instead of 10:30 a.m. The service will be in the main church.

After Trinity Sunday, the summer service hours of 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. will continue for the rest of the summer.

Mark your calendars for a Strawberry Social and Sale on Saturday, June 24, 2 to 4 p.m., as part of our 160th anniversary celebrations. All are welcome and invited! The event is free of charge but a donation may be made to the Pikangikum Water Project. We will also have a mini market of art, books, boutique items and model cars!
