King OP review in its final stage

Bv Mark Pavilons

The review of King's Official Plan is entering the final stages and should be wrapped up by next spring.

Councillors received a staff report recently, updating them on the review process and remaining schedule.

This past March, staff circulated the first draft of the OP to Township departments, asking for feedback. The input was then summarized and given to the consultant for review and consideration. In August, a revised draft was received and it's being reviewed once more. Staff hopes to release the first draft to council and the public in November.

After that, the public will have a chance to provide its input as we enter the third and final phase.

A public open house is planned for January 2018, followed by a statutory public meeting. A final, revised OP is expected between February and April, with the final document going to council in May 2018.

When the draft was released this past March, it hit a hurdle when the Nobleton Community Plan was appealed to the OMB.

Population statistics are being added to the document and the OP directions are that the majority of King's growth be directed to the King City area.

While Nobleton could reach upwards of 10,900 people, it won't be able to accommodate this growth by 2031, due to limits on water and sew-

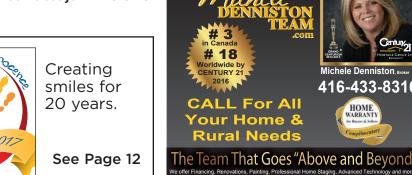

To understand the growth potential of Nobleton, York Region has begin an environmental assessment process to explore servicing solutions. It's expected this review will take a considerable amount of time, and therefore the OP will continue to urge that growth be limited to the King City area.

Fire station open house

The Schomberg Fire Hall held an open house for the public last week, drawing a good crowd of families. The public had a chance to get a close-up look at the equipment, see some demonstrations and learn about fire safety and home escape plans. It was all in an effort to help inform the public as we are in the midst of Fire Safety Week in Ontario. Mayor Steve Pellegrini and Councillor Linda Pabst join Fire Chief Jim Wall at the event.

Spreading the message during Fire Prevention Week

By Mark Pavilons

Every second counts.

This is a phrase that King Township Fire & Emergency personnel are all too familiar with.

King Fire Chief Jim Wall provided councillors with some sound advice in anticipation of Fire Prevention Week later this month.

Helping the local service spread the word and improve their training was a $5,000 donation from Enbridge Gas.

Wall noted that from the start of a fire, you may have less than two minuteds to escape. Smoke alarms should activate in less than a minute and people should be out of the house by the time firefighters arrive on scene.

Wall urges everyone to have a home escape plan in case of an emergency. Everyone in the home should know at least two ways out of each room. The advice during a fire is always "get low and go.'

Fires are getting faster, due to modern synthetic materials and furniture. It's estimated that people have roughly three minutes to escape once a fire has broken out. It's important to close doors, especially when retiring at night. A closed door can make a 900-degree difference.

OP will boost planning rules

This past June, the urban zoning bylaws were approved for both Schomberg and King City. Again, appeals were launched in July and all required documentation submitted to the OMB. Currently, the more restrictive provisions of the two bylaws applies until the new bylaw comes into full effect.

The OP review, when completed, will strengthen King's planning legislation and bylaws, to reinforce environmental protection, public health and safety, and create a natural heritage inventory. It will also develop a strategy for intensification and infill and ensure King's financial sustainability.

Fund for the OP review were already included in the budgets through 2017.

It's important to have working smoke alarms, which are all-in-one devices that sense smoke and sounds an alarm. It's important that homeowners test their smoke alarms once a month and replace the batteries once a year. They need to replaced every 10 years. It's recommended that one smoke alarm be installed outside all sleeping areas.

CO alarms are also necessary to protect against the "silent killer" – carbon monoxide. It's the leading cause of accidental poisonings in Ontario every CO alarms are legally required and they're also suggested for every level, next to sleeping areas.

Clothes dryers tend to be fire culprits within the home, so homeowners should ensure they're working properly. Some helpful tips include making sure the lint screens and vents are clean. Don't leave the dryer running when you go to bed and make sure the vent cover is not blocked by snow in the winter.

Charge your devices at the local library

Need to charge your smart phone or tablet and forgot your cables at home? No problem! The King Township Public Library (KTPL) will now loan kits to support charging both Android and Apple devices.

KTPL recognizes the need for this service and is offering a "charging kit" for patrons' convenience, to use while at the library. The kit contains a portable charger, a charger plug, and the respective cables. The benefit of the portable kits is that you can keep your devices with you while they re-charge. The library has plenty of workspace and available outlets for you to plug into.

All you need to access this new service is a KTPL library card. Visit one of our four branch locations or our website at kinglibrarv.ca for additional information on this exciting new service.

The U.S. has to adopt strict gun control laws

I find it sad that it takes a tragedy for our American neighbours to sit down and seriously talk about gun control.

The worst mass killing in U.S. history saw a lone gunman kill 58 innocent people, and injure hundreds more, at an outdoor concert in Las Vegas.

It's often said that guns don't kill people, but people kill people. That's true. But allowing all kinds of people to own all kinds of guns is a recipe for disaster.

It's no secret that some U.S. states have low restrictions on firearms.

Nevada is one of them. In that state, you don't need a permit, licence or registration to buy a gun. "Open carry" is permitted, but you do need a permit to conceal a handgun. There is no law regarding assault weapons, and there's no restriction on magazine capacity. There is also no limit on how many guns you can buy at one time, nor is there a waiting time to purchase a weapon. According to the National Rifle Association, in Nevada you can own, purchase or sell a machine gun that is registered according to federal regulations, which means that you can own a machine gun that was manufactured before 1986. However, Las Vegas authorities banned fake guns, like BB guns or airsoft.

What? What exactly does one do with a machine gun? In this most recent case, the gunman had an arsenal, in his hotel room and at his home.

So, you can see that virtually anyone can waltz into a gun shop or pawn shop like going to a convenience store to buy smokes.

States Constitution:

"A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed."

As I see it, this was intended for states to create and equip their own pseudo-military or national guard to protect against invasion or insurrection. I don't think the founding fathers ever intended this privilege to be extended to each and every citizen.

In our country, we've made things and grab a handful of guns. It's almost quite clear. Letter to the Editor

Tree destruction a warning to all

Mike Shackleford's letter Sept. 28, regarding wanton tree destruction in King. is a fimely cry of warning to all citizens of King Township, regarding the massive degradation of the environment in which we all live.

In a Zen moment, it coincides with the recent eloquent call in GoodLifeMagazine.ca (pp. 34 ff) by prominent sculptor, Brett Davis, which should swing the thinking public, if they have breathing issues, or indeed, if they care about breathing at all, to a mind set of protecting our best friends on this planet - the trees. Brett testified to the great assistance with breathing issues which planting trees afforded him over the years. There are five bullet points in the article which should drive home the vital role of trees in our own welfare and survival ultimately:

- One large tree can create enough oxygen for four adults.
- Trees reduce home heating and cooling costs.
- Trees relieve stress; Reports have shown hospital patients with tree views recover more quickly than those without.
 - A mature tree adds 5 to 15% to a residential property's value.
 - Trees reduce noise pollution by 40%.

KingWeeklySentinel WEBP

I can personally vouch for these points. When we moved into our Lloydtown property, we took advantage over 20 years, of the tree-planting programs mentioned, and had several thousand native species planted on our 10 acres. Each summer, I have measured the temperatures on our south area and have found as the trees became large, the temperatures dropped by 10 to 12 degrees consistently. My large tree buddies were there for me during almost two years' recovery from cancer surgeries and heart surgery, surrounding me as I sat weakly on my verandah, and I could feel the benefit of their cool and calming presence each day. I am considered a cancer survivor so far, and attribute it to my trees and bird/animal population sheltered in them.

Efforts should be made to save trees when possible

On the third point, our property was a denuded, former farm and historic brickyard badly in need of more trees 20 years ago. Now, visitors unfailingly remark on the beauty of the place with the thousands of trees (most over 20-30 feet tall) and native shrubs and the large numbers of birds, animals and reptiles (several endangered species) who have moved in because of the tree cover

On the final point, our house stands relatively close to the Lloydtown Road on the east end of the village, and even with trees, the noise of huge, fast-driving trucks, motorbikes, etc. is quite disturbing, but lessened by the large trees on our north end.

In the past few months we have been notified by the Township, and have had a visit from several courteous engineers, to explain why the entire north face of our land facing onto Lloydtown Road, will in the course of the next vear, have all its huge mature trees (including both those technically owned by the Township on its roadside strip and those on our property 15 feet bevond township land) felled and scraped down to soil level to create a tall slope. stretching about 90 feet along our property. This will include shrubs and large trees carefully dug and planted by us over the years. It appears the Township has the "right" to cut its own trees on its verges, and to intrude onto our land, so long as they "replace" the huge, beautiful old trees with a few small shrubs. All of this destruction is being done in the name of a master plan for roads in this area to accommodate projected increased traffic in future. Meantime, we are to have a steep slope cut into our north face, taking about a year of noise, dirt and disruption, to facilitate these changes, and we will be left with small shrubs, no noise barrier to the road, exposure to the elements on that side, loss of all our birds and animals that shelter in these trees, an empty, destroyed front as I try to recover my health, and reduced property values.

Cold Creek Stewardship is pleased to announce the celebration of the restoration of the Heritage English wheat barn at Cold Creek Conservation Area. The celebration is to unveil a permanent plaque to recognize the generosity of local businesses and service clubs who made donations towards the barn restoration.

The English wheat barn at Cold Creek was built in the 1840s by the Cairns Family. The farm was in production until the late 1950s when the Toronto Region Conservation Authority bought the property.

Shrubs don't cut it when you have about 40 large trees being felled to make way for speeding vehicles, whose speeds will increase dramatically as the road is flattened and straightened. Already the roadkill of animals on this stretch is heart-wrenching and walks along the road must avoid the two hours of morning and evening rush-hours. Imagine walking along this denuded area of the new Indy 500!

If you live in King, particularly Lloydtown area; if your kids cycle or play in this area; if you drive along here to work on hot summer days; if you are a cycle group who daily are cooled under these trees; if you are a walker or walk your dog along here and stop to be refreshed in body and spirit as you gaze up at the flaming autumn maples with their beautiful black branches, or listen to the birds singing in them or feed the squirrels with your kids in this area, I hope you will contact King Township to voice your concerns with what is going to happen soon to your living environment.

Surely engineers can rise to the professional challenge of altering the road design somewhat to allow safe traffic flow without needlessly destroying everything. We have voiced our dismay and anger to King Township, apparently to no avail, but perhaps if enough people really care about their home and life here, we can help our representatives to a better solution all around.

KCSS honours alumni in The Case of Distinction

The Case of Distinction, established in 2003 by an adjunct committee of the King City Secondary School Alumni Association, hosted its annual induction ceremony at the school on Saturday, Sept. 30.

This year, an additional three alumni joined the ranks of 54 alumni who have been recognized for impressive professional accomplishments and contributions to their fields of expertise. Inducted in 2017 are Jeff Poulis (1981), acknowledged for his work as a set director and property master; Krista Vriend (1992), celebrated for her contributions to business and finance; and Tom Deans (1981), recognized for his work as an author, entrepreneur, and key-note speaker.

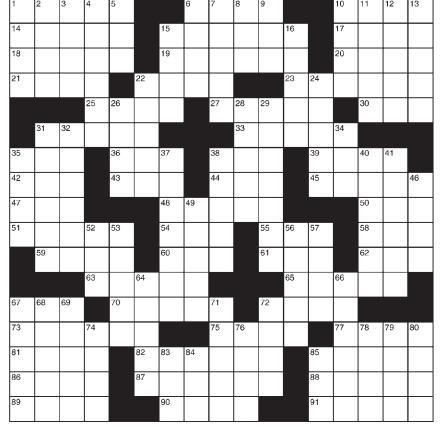

Once inducted, the honourees' are then featured in a glass case, located in the main foyer of the school. The case displays an array of biographies and photo-

On the Friday afternoon prior to the ceremony, Ms. Vriend and Mr. Poulis participated in an informative, gratifying forum with students at the school, where they shared insights relevant to their respective careers, recounted anecdotes, and answered questions.

Case of Distinction inductees are drawn from the arts, sciences, business, sports, public service, law, and the armed forces. Inductees are nominated for consideration, and then vetted by a committee of retired staff and alumni, prior to induction.

Grilled Chicken Involtini

SAUCE

- 1/3 cup extra-virgin olive oil
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley 1 tsp lemon zest, from 1 lemor
- 1/4 tsp salt INVOLTINI
- 3/4 tsp kosher salt • 1/4 tsp dried oregano
- 1/4 tsp red pepper flakes 8 chicken breast cutlets
- 8 slices Prosciutto di Parma 8 oil-cured sundried tomatoes 1 Tbsp extra-virgin olive oil
- SAUCE 1. Preheat a charcoal grill to medium-high heat. Move the coals to the side so that one part of the grill has indirect heat. 2. In a small bowl stir together the olive oil, parsley, lemon zest and salt. Set aside. INVOLTINI 1. In a separate small bowl, mix together the salt, oregano and red pepper flakes. 2. Lay the chicken cutlets flat on a cutting board, lengthwise, and season all sides with the salt mixture. Place a piece of prosciutto on each cutlet. Fold each piece of provolone in half and place on top of the prosciutto. Follow with 1 sundried tomato.

3. Working one at a time, roll the chicken up, in a continuous spiral roll, and seal by sticking 2 parallel skewers through the roll. Proceed with the remaining chicken, sticking 2 rolls on each pair of skewers for easy flipping. Drizzle the chicken with the olive oil and grill starting directly over the coals. Sear the chicken on all sides flipping as needed, until golden brown, about 10 minutes. Move the skewers to indirect heat and continue to cook until cooked through, about an additional 10 minutes or.

Remove from the grill and allow to rest for 5 minutes. Remove the skewers from the involtini, slice and serve, drizzled with the parsley oil. Recipe by: Giada De Laurentis

Family business Loconte Fine Meats opens in Nobleton

By Mark Pavilons

A 40-year family tradition has come to Nobleton.

Loconte Fine Meats, a well known family run business established in 1978, has expanded locally, with Ambrogio Loconte at the helm. Respected far and wide for its quality meats, Loconte is bringing top quality products to the community.

The Nobleton resident is celebrating two milestones – the opening of his first shop and the birth of the couple's third Ambrogio literally grew up in the business, learning everything from his father Vito, who's become quite a fixture in the Woodbridge community.

Loconte buys their meat live at auction and the family stands behind the Mennonite-raised beef – Black Angus, Limousin, Belgian Blue and Charolais. Ambrogio said the quality of their cuts are second to none, and the Charolais crossbred beef commands a premium.

All the meat and poultry are sourced from local farms within 100 kilometres.

He's skilled at the art of cutting and preparing the meats and wields his knife like a surgeon. It's almost a lost art these days, but Ambrogio shares his father's passion for the business.

When you visit the shop, you can watch the maestro at work, preparing your cuts the way you like them. Ambrogio will also tell just how to cook each and every piece to perfection.

The fully stocked shop will offer fresh beef, pork, chicken, veal and hand-made sausages and burgers. They are well known for their succulent speducci.

Loconte stresses you can find everything there, from A to Z, even fresh meat sauce, just like nonna makes.

Customers, he observe, are getting creative with their dishes, and willing to try different types of meat. Just ask the staff, and they'll you exactly how to prepare it, and what to serve with it. It's Loconte said they also offer imported Italian cheeses, olives, taralli biscuits, pastas, oils and vinegars.

Customers today are also looking for complete meals and he will cater to those needs as well.

Loconte has been up to his elbows for the past couple of months, renovating the store and making the shop his own.

Villanova College continues the fight against cancer

By Stephanie Posocco

Friday, Sept. 29 marked the 13th annual Terry Fox Run at Villanova College. The independent, Catholic school in King City celebrated the memory of Terry Fox alongside all Canadians who participated in runs across Canada this September in support of cancer

As Senior Adriana Gurreri explained at a pre-run assembly, the run at Villanova has a personal connection as well. Adriana's sister, Giuseppina, a member of the Class of 2012, was first diagnosed with colon cancer at 16 years of age when she was a sophomore at the school, and battled courageously until she sadly passed on Nov. 9, 2015 at the age of 21. Despite her diagnosis, she continued to participate in the run at Villanova each year, and even spoke at the school's pre-run rallies. Giuseppina is dearly missed by the VC community and remembered as a fighter, much like Terry Fox. Villanova College continues to host the Terry Fox Run in her memory each year.

Lindsey Kirschner of the Terry Fox Foundation addressed the Villanova community before this year's run, highlighting the importance of fundraising and continuing the fight to end cancer. In her address, she also announced that Villanova College ranked 9th out of the top 50 fundraisers in Canada by the Terry Fox Foundation last year. Over the past 12 years, Villanova College has raised more than $336,000 and has ranked in the top 10 of all Ontario schools for fundraising.

This year, the school aims to surpass the $25,000 mark. The five-kilometre course at Marylake was run by staff and students alike despite the cold. rainy weather. The Terry Fox Run at Villanova College also doubles as the school's annual cross-country run and culminates with ribbons awarded to the top 5 male and female runners in each grade. Villanova College is proud to participate and contribute to the Terry Fox legacy and to raise awareness for such a deserving cause.

Organization has been making smiles for 20 years

By Mark Pavilons

Children battling sickness or terminal illness are among the strongest superheroes on the planet.

As we all know, every superhero has to have a sidekick, or "hero support."

Smiles of Innocence Memorial Charity has been providing that support for two decades.

The charity was founded by longtime King residents John and Anna Povegliano, following the death of their four-year-old son Daniel in 1996.

The Poveglianos don't wear fancy costumes, but they do have a powerful logo – a smile inside a tiny handprint.

In the past 20 years, Smiles of Innocence has raised more than $3.25 million to benefit Toronto's SickKids Foundation. The charity has largely flown under the radar and is a bit of a "sleeping giant," John admitted. That's simply because the focus has always been on the children. It's a sentiment that has kept the charity on track, on target and successful.

"We are fortunate to have such a loyal following," Povegliano said.

This year's 20th anniversary gala, which will be held Nov. 18 at the Paramount Event Space in Vaughan, promises to be a joyful experience for all. True to form, it's the charity's way of giving back to its sponsors and supporters.

charity and organizing committee have grown exponentially, to become a real force in children's fundraising. The Smiles of Innocence Memorial Charity has grown and become one of the leading community based fundraising groups for SickKids Foundation. In the past, they have purchased special cardiac monitors, Neo-natal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) incubators and have provided funds to staff a clinical fellow. Funds have also been invested in research. Through medical and scientific advances the hospital continues to improve the lives of children and their families in Canada and around the

The gala sells out every year, often in a matter of hours. And the loyal supporters help Smiles of Innocence raise roughly $250,000 annually. That money goes a long way to helping children who struggle with a variety of illnesses and disabilities. Povegliano says their efforts help SickKids check off items on their annual wish list: everything from incubators for preemies to prosthetics for youngsters.

At the gala every year, patrons are given a rundown of where the money went, and how the funds reach those in need.

This year's gala will also feature guest speakers from SickKids and some fabulous entertainment. Also on tap will be one of the finest live and silent auctions around. In fact, you could say Smiles of Innocence created the foundation for charity silent auctions when they began two decades ago.

Much of the charity's success comes from its transparency, and the fact that almost every penny goes to where it's needed most. Povegliano is adamant that all funds go to SickKids, and there are no free rides for patrons or even VIPs who attend the gala. Everyone pays the freight.

Povegliano ensures that every dollar turns into a smile on the face of a child.

He never imagined the charity would grow the way it has. A lot of its success is due to the solid group of volunteers, which also includes a youth committee.

When John talks about this charity and its legacy, his own smile lights up the room. He's illuminated by the smiles of hundreds, perhaps thousands, of others who've been touched by his organization over the years. Even visiting John in his office makes you smile. He's surrounded by meaningful mementoes, and many framed certificates and awards. But John stresses it's not about the plaques on the wall. It's about those tiny superheroes.

John and Anna Povegliano are proud to present the annual gala for Smiles of Innocence.

Group's legacy will always give back

Almost everyone has been touched in some way by SickKids. And every parent can understand dealing with a sick child.

The Poveglianos endured some unfortunate events in life. Their devastation turned into a venue to give back and touch others. The charity is also Daniel's legacy.

Daniel was born with a rare condition known as Mastocytosis, a disorder caused by the production of too many mast cells in the body and organs. Daniel spent a lot of his short life in pain, yet his smile was always an inspiration.

Smiles of Innocence, John says, helps children every day. And that gives the Poveglianos the motivation to do even better.

John noted it's not always sad and tragic. There are countless happy endings and the charity has showcased many "ambassadors" throughout the years – children who've overcome the odds to accomplish a great deal in life.

Povegliano pointed out they also help support other children's charities, and offer their expertise in the areas of fundraising.

"We do it (all) for the right reasons," John said. "One permanent smile on a kid's face is worth so much."

Children often don't fully understand their condition or their struggle. That's why they are the real heroes in all of this.

Povegliano is also proud of the Daniel Povegliano Endowment Fund. The purpose of the endowment fund is to support The Hospital for Sick Children's (SickKids) "highest priority needs" as determined annually by SickKids Foundation in consultation with the hospital's executive committee. The Endowment will provide flexible funding for important needs of the Hospital, such as support for research, clinical scientists, staff education and training, or equipment.

This in itself, will leave an everlasting imprint on the world and pave the way for many more happy endings.

"It will always be touching kids," Povegliano observed.

Povegliano has been blessed, through the success of his furniture frame company Frame Tech Designs Inc. and its spin-offs.

"Giving back has cleansed me," he admitted.

The black-tie gala has become quite the social event, and many look forward to the evening.

A limited number of tickets are available for the gala, but you can always donate to the charity. Visit www.

Diamonds and Denim gala

The fair board held a gala on Sept. 30 as a fundraiser for a local farmer. Proceeds from this event will go directly to Mike and Bonnie O'Hara. Mike O'Hara has been farming his entire life. He was born on a farm near Brampton and moved to King Township in the early '60s. He is a long-time member and currently vice-president of the Schomberg Agricultural Society. Most importantly, Mike is a true and loyal friend and member of the farming community. He is always ready to help whenever he can. Mike has been battling a virus for several months, which has been attacking his spine and has left him immobile. He has had some help from his friends and family with his farm work however, his crop has suffered significantly.

King Township resident Richard Turchinetz claimed the prize he won in the Wheels for Meals Lottery, put on in support of Caledon Meals on Wheels (CMOW). The grand prize was a 2017 Ford F-150 pickup truck, which came from Fines Ford Lincoln in Bolton, as well as two new bicycles and camping equipment. He and his wife Elaine were at Fines Ford to accept the prize from Bob Fines, CMOW Executive Director Christine Sevigny, who actually sold Turchinetz the winning ticket, and Lauren MacDonald, CMOW administrative and quality coordinator.

YRDSB leads in Specialist High Skills Major program

York Region District School Board has the largest Specialist High Skills Major (SHSM) Program footprint in the province of Ontario.

An SHSM is a specialized program which allows students to experience a range of customized, career-focused learning opportunities while working towards their Ontario Secondary School Diploma (OSSD).

YRDSB has 32 secondary schools offering over 103 separate programs that represent 13 specific sectors of the economy. Currently, every secondary school in the Board offers at least one SHSM sector. In the 2016-17 school year, YRDSB had over 2,800 students participating in an SHSM, primarily from Grade 11 and 12, and also added 10 new SHSM sectors in eight new schools.

"The Specialist High Skills Major program is an exciting opportunity for our students to customize their high school learning experience to their future goals," said Kathryn Wallace, interim director of education. "The SHSM program provides students with another option to personalize their high school experience according to their individual pathway."

Nobleton group holds a fundraising party to support children

During the summer, a group of ladies, along with their children, gathered for a "soap and soccer ball" party in support of CFFC, Canadian Food For Children.

The organization is fully operated by volunteers, raising food, money and supplies for third world countries.

Sadly, underprivileged kids often have no toys to play with, and something as simple as a used sports ball is greatly treasured. Without toys, they rummage through the garbage, finding old tins cans to kick around to play with.

With only the clothes on their back, cleanliness is a big problem. Soap keeps the people and their clothes clean, and helps to eliminate germs and diseases.

All of the roughly 50 people who attended the backyard gathering in Nobleton were asked to bring new or used sports balls, books, and soap.

In all, 168 balls were collected, along with 828 bars of soap, hundreds of books and miscellaneous items, and were shipped to Sierra Leone.

King City's Formenton makes NHL debut with Sens

By Jake Courtepatte

When the Ottawa Senators were introduced for their warm-up before their match-up with the Detroit Red Wings on Saturday night at Canadian Tire Centre, one lone skater took to the ice for a couple of laps.

As is tradition in hockey circles, that player was Alex Formenton, skating in his first-ever regular season NHL

Just two seasons ago, Formenton was skating on the left side at the Aurora Community Centre for the OJHL's Aurora Tigers.

Saturday, the winger from King City saw his NHL dreams come to fruition, lacing up for the Ottawa Senators.

Two years removed from a 13-goal,

JRA Memorial tournament Oct. 19

Newmarket Hurricanes' JRA memorial benefit hockey game "Battle of York" against the Aurora Tigers coming up on Thursday, Oct. 19 at 6:30 p.m. This annual hockey game is in memory of Kevin Lord who played for the Hurricanes, and also KJ Ramolla and Josh Sedore. All proceeds are in support of Newmarket Regional Cancer Centre.

13-assist season in Aurora, Formenton became the youngest player in Senators history to make his NHL debut at 18 years, 24 days.

"It's definitely exciting," said Formenton. "I can't take the smile on my face. It's been fun lately."

His rise to the top level of hockey has been rapid and unexpected from all corners of the hockey perspective, with most scouts pegging the skinny youngster as a mid-second round pick at the 2017 NHL Draft.

Picked 47th overall by the Senators, Formenton impressed the higher-ups enough in camp to earn a surprise roster spot over a handful of much more experienced NHLers.

Though Saturday's debut against the Red Wings came with just seven shifts, compiling a little under five minutes of ice time, Formenton made sure to make his presence felt with both a hit and a shot block.

"It was tough because it was so tight," coach Guy Boucher said in a press conference after a 2-1 shootout loss to the Red Wings. "You don't want the kid to make the poor mistake there and he remembers his first game. If you take the lead, matchups are a little tough. He's not on the power play and he's not on the penalty kill. He worked hard, he skated. There's no issue there."

The skilled winger started showing NHL potential in his one season with the OHL's London Knights in 2016-17, when he put up 16 goals and 18 assists as a rookie with limited ice time.

An expected assignment to the Senators' AHL affiliate, the Belleville Senators, was put on hold after a strong pre-season in September where Formenton notched a goal and two assists in five preseason appearances.

Alex Formenton, shown in this file photo with the OJHL's Aurora Tigers in the 2015-16 season, made his NHL debut with the Ottawa Senators on Saturday.

Hornets win both weekend games

By Brian Lockhart

It didn't take the Alliston Junior C Hornets long to set the tone of their Friday (Oct. 6) night home game against the Orillia Terriers.

At the end of the first period the Alliston team was leading 6-0. The second period saw the Hornets give up three goals but matched it with three of their own to lead 9-3 with one period remaining. The Hornets finished off the night with two third period goals to leave the ice with an 11-4 win over the Terriers.

On Sunday night the Hornets hosted the Mitchell Hawks of the North Pollock Division of the PJHL.

There are a few inter-division games this season just to mix it up and keep things interesting. The Hornets led 2-0 after the first period in the Sunday game. After a scoreless second frame the Hawks battled back in the third scoring twice but couldn't overcome a two goal deficit and the Hornets left he ice with a 4-2 win.

The win moves the Alliston team into first place in the division – two points head of the Stayner Siskins although the Siskins are undefeated and played two less games than Alliston.

More than 200 riders and trail walkers participated in the third annual Gianni Giro Bike for Heart in King, hosted by The Country Day School.

Country Day School hosts theannual Bike for Heart

More than 200 cyclists took to the trails and backcountry of the Country Day School campus recently for the third annual Gianni Giro Bike for Heart, a number close to double the turnout of the highly-successful year prior.

The event offered 5, 45, and 90-kilometre trails for riders on that sunny Sunday morning, as well as a live band, handfuls of sponsors from around the area, and booths and activities to promote heart health.

Though final numbers are still coming in, last year's event raised over $300,000. This year's total will go to benefitting the Heart and Stroke Foundation and the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre, UHN.

profits? Last quarter, the big 6 banks posted a net profit of $10.15 billion. According to the Canadian Bankers Association, 56% - a significant portion of their profit - is generated from net interest income, such as from residential mortgages.

Local investors can now follow this proven formula for success by becoming mortgage lenders.

"Our investors earn between 8% and 12% annually on private mortgages," said Victor Camba, a mortgage agent at UNION Capital Management who specializes in matching borrowers with individual investors.

For those wanting to learn more, there will be a free workshop on October 26th in Aurora. Investors will learn how to get involved, and how to examine private mortgage deals in order to maximize returns and reduce risk.

Private lenders can invest using cash or registered funds (such as their RRSP). In return, they obtain similar benefits that banks enjoy, such as predictable and stable monthly cash flow. and "bricks and mortar" security.

It is becoming increasingly more difficult to obtain mortgage financing through traditional banks. As a result, these borrowers are turning to private lenders.

A misconception is that these are bad-quality borrowers. "Bad credit? No Credit? No Problem," are advertisements sometimes seen. This is far from the truth.

In 2016, 2.7 million Canadians were self-employed (Statistics Canada). These people are generally in the sales and services industry, such as Realtors and Contractors. There were also 1.2 million small businesses. These borrowers do not meet the bank's lending criteria, and are therefore turned down. Their tax return may show a significantly lower figure than what they actually take home as income.

"We take into consideration all sources of the client's income, including stat-Ever wonder how banks earn big ed business income, something the banks don't do," Victor said. "But we are not going to take undue risk. We will take a calculated risk."

> He prefers to offer loans below 80% of the value of the property to limit losses in case of a housing price downturn. Unlike mutual funds or stocks, a mortgage investment is col-lateralized with existing residential properties within the Greater Toronto Area, including Aurora and Newmarket. If the borrower defaults, their lender has the legal power to sell the property to recover their funds.

> "It used to be investors went to their lawyer or accountant and said, 'I have a few million dollars and I want to lend this out and make a good return," Victor said. "Thev are still around, but now there are opportunities for the average investor with cash or an RRSP."

King's Ridge hosts fundraising photo day

By Barbara Winslow, DVM

Our pets are like family.

When they are sick or injured, we worry about them like we would any other family member.

Now what happens if the barrier between your pets and the medical help they need is finances?

For many people on various government support programs, this barrier would be insurmountable.

This is where The Farley Foundation, a charity operated through the Ontario Veterinary Medical Association (OVMA), comes into play. They can offer funding of up to $1,000 to help cover the medical treatment of a pet in need, belonging to a family in need.

Since its inception in 2001, Farley has helped more than 8,000 pets and their loving families by dispersing more than $3 million to assist with the cost of unexpected vet care.

King's Ridge Veterinary Clinic is happy and proud to support "Fundraise for Farley month."

Since we opened our doors in January 2016, we have had the privilege of helping four pets with medical conditions (2 of them life-threatening) with the assistance of The Farley Foundation.

For the second year in a row, the clinic is hosting a Pet Portrait Photo Shoot, with proud pet parents getting a 15-minute photo sitting and a retouched digital image for their minimum $20 donation.

"Fotos For Farley" takes place on Saturday, Oct. 14, with professional photographers Karen Merk (www.merkphotography.com) and Lia Stefanidis (www.liasphoto.ca) behind the lenses. Costumes and props are available to all, and a host of volunteers will keep everyone moving smoothly and "smiling" for the cameras.

If you would like to make a donation to the Farley Foundation in King City, reach out to King's Ridge Veterinary Clinic on the corner of King and Dufferin, info@kingsridgevet.com, phone 289-207-3837, and receive a bandana or other thank-vou for you and your pet!

Heritage Barn Celebration

Cold Creek Stewardship is pleased to announce the celebration of the restoration of the "Heritage English Wheat Barn" at Cold Creek Conservation Area. The celebration is to unveil a permanent plaque to recognize the generosity of local businesses and service clubs who made donations towards the barn restoration. President Peggy Belcher says how proud she is of the hours of dedication the volunteers of the Stewardship have given to successfully complete this project over the last decade.

The English wheat barn represents a time in King's and Canada's agricultural history from the 1840s to the mid-1860s when wheat production and export to England were very important to the economy of Upper and Lower Canada. The barn was built in the 1840s by the Cairns family. The farm was in production until the late 1950s when the Toronto Region Conservation Authority bought the property.

The conservation ceremony will take place in front of the barn in Cold Creek Conservation Area at 14125 Concession 11, King, on Oct. 21 at 10:30 a.m. For more information about Cold Creek Stewardship go to our website www.coldcreek.ca

Knee Pain:

New Approach
Delivers
Remarkable Results

If you suffer from Knee Pain (Injury/strain/tendonitis/Arthritis) you need to be aware of effective advancements that can eliminate years of pain, suffering, immobility and frustration.

You may have told your doctor you suffer with one or more of the following: sore, stiff, painful knee, "clicking" sound with movement, difficulty bending at the knee.

You may find that your pain or stiffness affects your work, housekeeping, leisure activities, exercise, sports or other activities. You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your pain. But you find the pain keeps returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of pain pills or anti-inflammatory drugs that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

There is a new, natural, safe and highly effective approach that has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically: Laser therapy uses light to favor and accelerate the body's natural healing processes. The innovative Multiwave Locked System (MLS) Laser produces a safe, efficient and simultaneous effect on pain, inflammation, swelling and water retention, exceeding the limits of traditional LLLT (Low power) and eliminates concerns of HP (High power) laser therapy.

What does this mean for you? Our patients have reported a 90-95% relief of their symptoms, more mobility, increased flexibility and vastly improved function!

Anglican Parish By John Arnott

Things went to the dogs - and the cats – this past Thanksgiving Sunday when during the Holy Communion St. Mary Magdalene's Schomberg Christ Church, Kettleby along with the St. Alban's Anglican community in Nobleton celebrated Thanksgiving and St Francis of Assisi Day, the Blessing of the Animals. Both churches were beautifully decorated for the season. Artistic Carol Bailey of St. Mary Magdalene's with the eye and skill of an interior designer made the church not only look lovely but feel warm and welcoming. And she shared wonderful produce from her vegetable garden with congregation members following the service.

Geraldine Alletson and Teresa de Vries are the imaginative decorators whose flair and talent were much in evidence in the decor that graced Christ Church this past Thanksgiving.

At the Schomberg church we welcomed guest organist Elly Hollander and her husband. We also welcomed our new warden Sharon Simmons formerly warden at St. Alban's Nobleton (now sadly closed), along with her mother and her young son Gavin. During the service Gavin assisted Rev. Sheilagh with the blessing of the animals.

"Let All Things Now Living" opened the service as the processional hymn with "Morning Has Broken" as gradual hymn sung before and after the reading of the Holy Gospel. God of the Sparrow was offertory hymn and the powerful 17th century German hymn of thanksgiving Now Thank We All Our God/ Nun Danket Alle Gott (Martin Rinkart words/Johann Cruger, music) was the recessional which ended the service.

This coming Sunday morning Oct. 15 there will be Holy Communion services at 9:30 a.m. in Christ Church, Kettleby on Kettleby Rd. mid-way between Keele and Jane Sts. and at 11:15 a.m. in St. Mary Magdalene's, 116 Church St. in Schomberg.

708 OBITUARIES

In Memory of Mary Lynn Kennedy (née Dyrun)

On September 28, 2017 she passed quietly and peacefully of heart failure in her sleep at MacKenzie Health Hospital. She is survived by her beloved husband Steven and loved children, Michael and Matthew. She was a colourful, dynamic and determined lady who often entertained her baseball friends while beside the pool. Born in Peterborough, she grew up as a devout Roman Catholic along with her late sister, Carol and her brother, Richard. She met Steven from Toronto in 1974 and the relationship flourished, and we were married on October 9th, 1976 at St. Alphonsus Church in Peterborough and our life together was begun. It is a memorable and solid marriage, she presented me with two fine sons and much joy over the years. She went by "Lynn" thus Lynn, go with God and in peace, you will always live on in our hearts and minds. A celebration of life will be held on Saturday, October 14th, 1 p.m. at the Royal Canadian Legion Branch #329, 25 Richmond St., Tottenham.

Brenda Aspden

Brenda Aspden went home to be with her Lord on Tuesday, October 3, 2017, in her 59th year. Brenda s remembered for her special sweetness and for hanging on to innocence despite life's circumstances. As a thoughtful, soft spoken and kind daughter, sister, aunt, great aunt, and friend, she had a profound effect on those who loved her.

Brenda, we find comfort that you are resting in the peace that surpasses all understanding. We celebrate your finding your way home.

King's Corners

King City United By Earle Laycock

This week, Rev. Evelyn McLachlan chose the scripture reading from Exodus 16: 1-18. After the Israelites were freed from slavery, they travelled through the desert where eventually people began to grumble about lack of food, even to suggest that they were better off as slaves. Kids now like to complain about the length of car rides with nothing to do. "Are we there yet?" is a familiar lament.

We shouldn't grumble. It is good to remember our blessings and to be thankful. Thanksgiving Day is a natural time to be especially thankful for what we have in King Township.

Rev. Evelyn pointed out that the Canadian Thanksgiving Day has nothing to do with Pilgrims like our American friends celebrate. In fact, the first "Canadian Thanksgiving" was celebrated decades before the Pilgrims even arrived at Plymouth Rock! It had to do with safe journey for Martin Frobisher as he landed in Newfoundland in 1578. Later official proclamations for Thanksgiving were for Jan. 10, 1799 in Lower Canada during the Napoleonic wars. On April 15, 1872 a proclamation was issued in the Dominion of Canada "For the restoration of health of H.R.H. The Prince of Wales." Seven years later Thanksgiving was declared on Nov. 6, 1879 for "blessing of abundant harvest." It wasn't until 1957 that The Parliament of Canada declared that the 2nd Monday of October in every year to be "Thanksgiving Day" for general thanksgiving.

Thanks to Betty Beaton for decorating the church so beautifully for Thanksgiving and also to Maria Ehnes for making our entrance gardens so lovely.

Join us for Bible Study every Wednesday morning at 10:30 a.m. You do not need to be a scholar to join this group. You just need to be curious about what the Bible says to us today.

Are your Friday mornings free? Why not join us for breakfast at King City Sunset Grill at 10 a.m. We usually are seated at the table to the right of the entrance. This is a time to make some new friends, enjoy a delicious breakfast and discuss the latest happenings in our lives and the world. You are welcome to drop by and see if this event is right for you.

The UCW are collecting children's coats and boots to send up north. Donations may be left in the Chapel.

The latest church newsletter is now available. Call the office if you would like to receive the document electronically or obtain a printed copy.

But the world's promises leave us empty and searching for more. God's Word is the only answer that promises to TRANSFORM our lives from the in-
