High speed broadband Internet has arrived in King Township with the installation of the first sections of optic fibre cable. Vianet has completed the initial stages of the project and hooked up its first customer. Homeowners Bob and Joan Balziel (left) were the first ones to receive the service during a ceremonial hook-up on Nov. 3. In attendance were Vianet Director of Business Brian McCullagh, MP for King-Vaughan, Deb Schulte, and Councillor Debbie Schaefer.

Broadband arrives in rural King Township

By Brian Lockhart

A partnership between government and business has brought high-speed Internet to rural areas of King Township with the initial installation of around 30 km of fibre optic cable.

Internet provider Vianet Inc. provided the first hook-up of a residential home on the 19th Sideroad after completing the groundwork of laying the cable including a section that feeds through a tunnel under Highway 400.

The service will eventually accommodate around 1,000 homes and businesses in the area.

Homeowners, Bob and Joan Balziel, were the first to hook up to the service.

“We couldn’t get Internet out here, only an Internet turbo stick. After you go through one gigabyte you have to pay more and you can go through that pretty fast. I even had satellite people come in and they said we had too many trees in the area,” Mr. Balziel explained. “Vianet came down here in June and let me know they were going to make a little noise and they put a pipe through here under the 400. It told them when they get it in I want it right away so I signed up with them.”

Funding for the project was assisted through the federal government’s Connect to Innovate program that is investing up to $500 million by 2021 to bring high-speed Internet to 300 rural and remote communities.

King updates its economic development strategic plan

King Township is undertaking a review and update of its Economic Development strategy.

The existing strategy was approved by council in 2013 to provide direction to the Township's economic and business development efforts. The strategy is intended to be a five-year strategy, but updated every three years to maintain it as an evergreen document. This update is intended to cover the 2018-2022 period.

The updated economic development strategic plan will identify the role and responsibilities for King Township and its partners in building and supporting a strong economy.

"Today's economy is rapidly changing and updating our approach to economic development ensures our efforts are relevant to the needs of the community," said Mayor Steve Pellegrini.

The strategy is based on research that identifies trends in the regional economy and considers the perspective of the community through a community survey and business survey that was launched during the mayor's business breakfast held during small business week Oct. 19.

The business community and all residents in King are encouraged to participate in the surveys by going online to www.king.ca and clicking on the "We need your Input - Take the Survey" button.

To complete the update, the Township has retained the services of MDB Insight, a strategic planning and economic development specialist consultancy, with extensive experience working with communities and regions across Ontario and the Greater Toronto Area and Golden Horseshoe.

MDB Insight will work with staff and other stakeholders to build upon the Township's recent economic development successes.

How can I reduce the effects of fraud?

Insurance fraud drives up premiums for everyone

The insurance industry estimates that 10 to 15 cents of every dollar paid in premiums goes to paying fraudulent claims—totaling more than $1.3 billion each year. This makes insurance fraud second only to the drug trade as a source of raising premiums to deal with the costs of fraud. A number of industry associations are working together to fight the problem. The Insurance Bureau of Canada, The Canadian Automobile Association, and The Canadian Coalition Against Insurance Fraud are just a few of the groups helping to promote public awareness, better business practices and improved investigative and enforcement techniques.

You can be part of the solution

It's easy to sit back and say "There's nothing I can do to stop fraud." But there is something you can do. Insurance fraud is often the result of fairly routine manipulations of the system—a tow truck driver who recommends a garage and gets a commission for doing so, a service provider who bumps up a charge because they know the insurer is paying, or a paralegal who asks for a percentage of an insurance award. These may seem harmless to you, but they are part of the web of fraud schemes that are costing you money. When you see fraudulent activity, challenge the service provider directly or report the behaviour to the police.

Insurance fraud is everyone's problem.

The Township of King is currently undertaking a process of reviewing its Built Heritage Inventory to identify properties of cultural heritage value in order to update the Heritage Register as per the Council adopted Work Plan outlined in report P-2016-21. Through this process the following above referenced properties have been identified as having potential heritage value and have been tentatively recommended by the Heritage Advisory Committee to be added to the King Township Heritage Register as listed (non-designated) properties based on currently available information and property research.

The listing of a property would not place restrictions or obligations in obtaining a Building Permit for alterations or renovations. Listing on the Register would increase the amount of time (from 10 days up to 60 days) the Township Council and staff has to process and consider a demolition application and explore possible options with the property owner.

The Township's Heritage Advisory Committee is pleased to host this public information session to provide an opportunity to further explain the Committee's process of recognizing and celebrating the Township's cultural heritage assets. This will also be an opportunity for affected property owners to provide feedback as well as any additional information they may have about their properties.

Following the public information session the next step in the process will be to bring forward a report to Council with a list of properties recommended to be listed on the Heritage Register. Further notice of the date of Council consideration will be provided. If you are unable to attend the public information session or have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Elizabeth Martelluzzi, Planner II/ Heritage Coordinator at the Township offices, either by phone 905-833-4061 or by email at emartelluzzi@king.ca to discuss the matter further.

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"Public opinion shapes our destinies and guides the progress of human affairs"

~ Frank B. Kellogg

Let's eliminate all senseless deaths in the world!

More often than not, our species is reactionary.

Try as we may to be proactive, all too often we're picking up the pieces of ill conceived plans and policy decisions.

In society, we don't really notice an issue unless it's thrown in our faces. These same faces tend to be buried in our phones or smart devices.

We all know our world is messed up at times. Unless it affects us personally, we often ignore the nasty bits going on in the world.

Most of us are aware of the recent church shooting in Texas that killed 26, and the murder in New York that left eight dead and more than a dozen injured. The NYC incident is being called a terror attack and the accused appears to support ISIS ideology. The Texas gunman was a lone wolf.

I'm not sure what separates a mass murder from a terrorist act. Simply saying one supports ISIS ideology doesn't make them a terrorist. Those American-born mass murderers seldom have any reason for their shooting sprees.

Mark Pavilons

And we may never know for sure what motivated Stephen Paddock for killing 58 people in Las Vegas in the worst incident in U.S. history.

The reality is, many innocent civilians, police officers and military personnel are killed each and every day in Afghanistan, Iraq, Syria, Somalia, Pakistan, Turkey ...

The same day as the New York incident, 15 were killed in Charikar, Parwan, Afghanistan with the Taliban as suspects.

Suicide bombers and car bombs kill 30 here, 40 there and another 90 over there. This is commonplace, so much so, that some don't even make the evening news.

This is life for many in the Middle East.

In Africa, the Boko Haram is responsible for thousands of deaths. One instance alone Oct. 14 in Mogadishu, Somalia killed 358. Another 23 were killed in that city on Oct. 28. Forty-three died in Kandahar, Afghanistan Oct. 18, and 70 the previous day in separate attacks.

There's no question that we're living in a terror-filled world. But is this anything new?

I believe that given the proliferation of smart phones and devices, news of such incidents is reaching more people around the world. In fact, those very same terrorists, in some remote region, have access to the same technology, which they use to further their own cause.

When I see these incidents on the news it breaks my heart. I see city streets reduced to rubble. Men, women and children die every day. Men, women and children drive around in pickup trucks armed with machine guns, ready to kill every day.

Sources I came across say so far in 2017, 6,596 people were killed in 1,052 terror attacks.

Messed up doesn't even begin to describe the situation.

Aside from the intentional mass killings around the globe, tens of thousands die every day from natural disasters, disease, starvation and preventable illness.

No, it's not fair. But such is life in developing nations.

About 29,000 children under the age of five - 21 each minute - die every day, mainly from preventable causes. More than 70 per cent of almost 11 million child deaths every year are attributable to six causes: diarrhea, malaria, neonatal infection, pneumonia, preterm delivery, or lack of oxygen at birth.

Alarming? You bet.

Heart disease and cancer combined kill more than 1.2 million people a year in the U.S.

Of the 56.4 million deaths worldwide in 2015, more than half (54%) were due to the top 10 causes. Ischaemic heart disease and stroke are the world's biggest killers, accounting for a combined 15 million deaths in 2015. These diseases have remained the leading causes of death globally in the last 15 years.

Again, this information is not new.

Humans have been waging the war against death since time began. We're losing.

And therein lies the dilemma. With all the resources we possess, even just here in Canada and the U.S., we could virtually wipe out almost all childhood deaths.

The cost of commonly used antimalarials (chloroquine, sulphadoxine-pyrimethamine) is only a few cents. The new and effective treatment, ACTs, cost $2 to $2.50 for an adult treatment dose.

The cost of 5.56 NATO ammo is roughly 23 cents per bullet or $7 per 30-round magazine.

The U.S. Department of Defense funded more than $76 billion of weapons, communication devices, and other security equipment to the Afghan security forces since 2002.

Hmmm, $76 billion. I could be wrong, but wouldn't that amount cure every preventable illness in the world, with money left over to combat heart disease, stroke, cancer and diabetes?

I find this situation more frightening than any terror attack on domestic soil.

Every senseless death - even those in daily car accidents - is a waste. Every human being has so much potential.

Maybe I'm a dreamer, but I'd love to see an end to all pointless deaths on our planet. One day, terrorism will be a thing of the past. Perhaps then we'll have to find something else to spend the money on!

Letters to the Editor

Council should refuse townhouses

Although I was unable to make the last council meeting, I was grieved to hear that a majority of council voted to permit the construction of four new townhouses on a site that is totally inappropriate, in that it is partially located on a floodplain.

From information previously obtained, I understand that in the event fire trucks are ever needed and the front of the lots are under water, these homes will require access from the Foodland parking lot at the rear of the property. Surely this decision was made with little regard for important standards that have been in place since the tragic consequences of Hurricane Hazel.

Additionally, no regard at all was given to the environmental wellbeing of the adjoining Dufferin Marsh. Construction over the past few years has impacted the marsh in a highly negative manner and this new development will only add to the stress on this sensitive wetland. Run-off from these new homes will add to the already high salt level present in marsh waters.

An active wetland within the boundaries of the village is something to treasure. Yet council has proven by its decision that it does not value the marsh at all. It is willing to allow a developer free rein. This land should always be left as a buffer to the marsh.

We seem to be living in the age of bending the rules and turning a blind eye. All in the name of commerce.

There are times when Council should say "no." This was one of those times.

Mike Shackelford
Schomberg

Mayor responds to concerns

Thank you for your email and for letting me know your concerns.

It was most unfortunate that you missed the fulsome discussion that took place - it was a true reflection of democracy in action. There was a lengthy debate on all issues.

To be perfectly clear the houses will NOT be a the flood zone.

Also, commercial zoning already exists on the entire parcel and in fact we were able get agreement that the southern part be placed in EP zoning.

And lastly, whether you agree or not, we have LSRCA approval, staff approval and existing commercial zoning, so what do you believe are our chances at the OMB?

In fact, you are the first person to speak up about the use of public funds in a responsible and respectful manner. How much and what do you think our odds are to stand on principle?

I will be the first to fight a good fight BUT this is a non starter. This is not about whether I support the environment, this is about being pragmatic and taking a responsible prudent position.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini

King honours memory of soldiers at special exhibit

This year has been a year of anniversaries – most significantly the 150th celebration of the establishment of Canada as a country.

In addition, this year we also commemorate the 100th anniversary of the historic battles of Vimy Ridge and Passchendaele of the First World War. These horrific and bloody conflicts recall a time in our nation's military history when Canadians were called on to help win conflicts.

Our soldiers proved themselves to be strong, stoic fighters who, when needed, supported the Allied forces to victory. Over 66,000 Canadian soldiers gave their lives and more than 172,000 were injured over the length of the War.

Would it surprise you to know that some of King's soldiers also fought in these battles 100 years ago? Those who survived returned to the rolling hills of King to raise families and work in the continued development of our community. An estimated 30 soldiers died on the battlefield and are remembered each November 11.

Their stories have been brought to life in a new exhibition "Our Soldiers," at the King Heritage and Cultural Centre, using research featured on the King Township Library website. We recall the "King boys," those who fought and survived and honour those who died.

The exhibition will close Nov. 18, with a performance of stories from the front followed by a thematic dinner with wine and food of the era. Tickets are $50 and can be purchased online at king.ca and at the Nobleton Arena and the Trisan Centre. Exhibit hours are Tuesday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Nov. 18 at the King Heritage and Cultural Centre, 2920 King Rd. King City.

King Township presented the 2017 Heritage Award to Isabelle Cameron recently. The drawing was created by King artist Donna Greenstein.

King Road property earns award

By Mark Pavilons

King councillors were pleased to present the 2017 Heritage Award. The award includes a sketch of the historic home, and one will hand in the halls of the municipal offices.

The award, the brainchild of the Heritage Advisory Committee, invited the public to nominate local properties across King. It also helps them identify heritage buildings.

From the nominations, HAC selected a property owner to be awarded with a drawing of their property produced by King artist Donna Greenstein, a local artist. The Committee appreciates the interest shown in this award as it confirms that people appreciate the value of having a sense of place.

The property selected is 2207 King Road, built by a Thomas Ferguson in 1872 as his retirement residence. The house was later owned by Dr. Quentin Alexander Hardy, who served overseas with the Royal Canadian Medical Corps during WWII. He graduated from both McGill University and the University of Toronto. Dr. Hardy practiced as a family physician and general surgeon in King City and York Central Hospital.

The current property owner is Isabelle Cameron, who purchased it 49 years ago in 1968 from Dr. Hardy. Mrs. Cameron and her husband were looking for real estate at the time and wanted to be in proximity to schools. While looking they became hungry and dropped in at the bakery on the north side of King Road and learned that 2207 was for sale.

The properties on the south side both east and west of 2207 King Road continue to contribute to the cultural heritage value of the historic streetscape of King City. It reminds us that King City (then called Springhill) was a rural village, a gathering place. It was an important gateway into the rest of King Township.

Passion results in the very 'best nut butter ever'

By Mark Pavilons

We all strive to be the best. The compliment, "best nut butter ever tasted," was contained in an email to a King woman. The proof is in the pudding, as they say, and Julia Brown has created something to be proud of.

Julia's Best Ever Nut Butter is a new taste sensation that's taking the area by storm.

Brown said she's always had a passion for cooking, baking and all things healthy.

"I started making my own almond butter while at university as I have always loved nuts and almonds in particular. I was disappointed by the in-store options and found that most almond butters were very bland and that peanut butters had a lot of added sugars and oils, I wanted to find something more natural yet delicious. I then began to experiment with blending my favourite nut with cinnamon and other ingredients hoping to create an almond butter that met my standards for both nutrition and taste.

"Once I started making my almond butter and giving it to family and friends, everyone seemed to love it and encouraged me to approach some local cafes and grocers including Roost Cafe in King City. Those who previously ate almond butter were surprised that mine tasted so delicious while also being so pure. I found that a lot of people were looking for healthy alternatives for the foods they eat and plant based sources of protein, so I figured right now is the perfect time for something like this."

This is Brown's first product to retail and she promises it won't be her last.

"In my kitchen, I'm constantly attempting different versions of my nut butter with a various kinds of nuts. I like to play around with ingredients I like such as vanilla, dark chocolate, coconut, maple and cinnamon and see how it tastes when mixed with different nut combinations."

Her butter is unique in that she personally carries out every step of the process, from roasting and mixing to labeling, sealing and food delivery. Many companies have their products mass-produced and add artificial ingredients to enhance the flavour.

Her vegan almond butter spread is made by hand with eight ingredients per jar and includes chia seeds and flax seeds.

"I like to control the entire process of production as I am able to know exactly what goes into the product I'm retailing and I can make sure it tastes perfect every time. I attribute the brand's success to its deliciously sweet and savoury flavour and the integrity of the ingredients used. Unlike other nut butter companies, the only oil I use is coconut oil and the sweetener is stevia. Most of the nut butter products on the market use peanut oils because they make it cheaper to produce, and add preservatives to the product."

The response so far has been extremely positive. This, she said, fuels her desire to keep going and moving forward.

"Many people are excited that the product is vegan and so many health benefits compared to regular almond butter. I have even had a few people purchase one jar and then come back and buy a case of 12 the next week because they ate the first jar so quickly. I laugh and smile when this happens."

Her smile widened when she received a particularly complimentary email, which read:

"OMGoodness!! Best Nut Butter Ever Tasted."

Brown admitted that every day is fun for her as she's constantly working on something new. She's quite busy, spending at least one day a week producing up to 300 jars in a rented private commercial kitchen.

Starting her own company is a lot of work, she noted, but "it pays off when people like your product and reach out to you and tell you how much they are enjoying Julia's Best Ever Almond Butter."

Health is something that is also very important to her and she likes knowing that she's providing people with a healthy yet delicious product that benefits their well being.

Nut allergies are more commonplace these days, but Brown pointed out that many people who are allergic to peanuts are not allergic to almonds and are able to indulge in her butter.

Julia's Best Ever Nut Butter is available at several locations including the Roost Café, King City; Vince's, Tottenham, Newmarket and Uxbridge; Jubilee Market, Oakville; The Village Grocer, Markham; Rockcliff Farm, Orangeville; Innermedica Centre, Oakville; The Apple Factory, Mississauga; Organic Garage, The Junction Toronto, Oakville, Thornhill.

Schomberg makes grade as 'hot neighbourhood'

By Mark Pavilons

Schomberg is the fourth hottest neighbourhood in the GTA, according to a Toronto publication.

Toronto Life published a piece by Steve Kupferman, entitled "The Next Hot Neighbourhoods."

There's hope for non-millionaires who just want a half-decent house in a nice area with good schools.

Kupferman said in the past five years, it has become almost impossible for aspiring homeowners to achieve the dream – a good-sized house in a safe neighbourhood, with decent schools and leafy green space and a commute that isn't soul-crushing.

"But in the interest of keeping the white-picket dream alive, we did some digging.

"We pored over real estate data to determine where you can find the best value, grilled brokers and residents to collect intel on the best parks and schools and shopping strips, clocked various routes across the 401 and TTC to determine how long it takes to get downtown. When the dust settled, we found ourselves with a list of 20 incredible spots where it's possible to buy in (and live well) for less than a million – an absurd number, perhaps, but a relative bargain in Toronto in 2017.

"What they all have in common is that precious alchemy of affordability and livability, of good schools and great amenities, of established tradition and buzzy new momentum. They're the last best hope for the desperate house hunter – and the neighbourhoods everyone will be jockeying to buy into 10 years from now."

Schomberg placed fourth, behind the Junction Triangle, Mimico and West Rouge.

According to Kupferman's research, the average selling price in Schomberg is $750,958.

"Schomberg looks like something out of Gilmore Girls: the total population is just 2,691, and the main street is peppered with gingerbread storefronts like Sugar and Spice (a bakery and café), the Scruffy Duck (a pub) and Grackle Coffee (self-explanatory). Schombergs have an active town calendar: events include the agricultural spring fair (held this year for the 167th time) and the Christmas Farmers' Parade of Lights, when local growers deck their tractors out with rainbow lights and roll down the main drag. The living is a steal compared to other York Region locales, with homes in newer subdivisions selling for well under a million. For upsizers, there's also a healthy stock of regal century-old farmhouses on huge lots."

Zoning change for 4 units causes rift among councillors

By Mark Pavilons

Two of King's councillors are adamant about protecting the natural wetland in Schomberg – at all costs.

Despite their attempts to impress environmental concerns upon their colleagues, council voted to approve changes that will allow a very small-scale development at the Brownsville Junction Plaza. Plans are to build four townhomes on a parcel behind (east) the plaza, fronting onto Cooper Drive.

The applicant asked for Official Plan and zoning amendments to change the site's designation from Environmental Constraint Area to Medium Density Residential. Staff recommended approval, adding a long list of conditions.

The proximity of the parcel to the sensitive Dufferin Marsh, as well as the fact it's in the floodplain, drew fierce opposition from Councillors Debbie Schaefer and Avia Eek.

Schaefer said she was "shocked" when she read the staff report and recommendations. While she admitted many stringent conditions have to be met, she can't support anything proposed in the floodplain.

The council decision, she stressed, should "reflect whether we think the Marsh is important or not. We need to treasure it not risk it further."

Eek said she opposes any development on the floodplain, something she sees as causing a liability issue in the future. Wetlands like the Marsh perform a necessary function and need to be maintained.

She pointed to recent weather events this year alone that have caused substantial flooding across York and the GTA.

There was some debate on comments made by the Lake Simcoe Region Conservation Authority, who relegates decision-making based on provincial mandate and municipal planning policies. Some councillors were surprised that LSRCA recommended the project be approved, subject to conditions relating to drainage, flood-proofing and pedestrian access. But Eek later pointed out LSRCA is a commenting agency, and doesn't have the jurisdiction to "approve" zoning applications of this nature.

The project involves a .3-acre parcel at the southeast corner of Dr. Kay Drive and Cooper Drive. The piece is currently vacant.

King staff noted should the project proceed to the site plan stage, it will require site servicing, enhanced planting and a buffer within the wetland, a sidewalk extension, grading and drainage, noise mitigation as well as meeting LSRCA concerns.

The owner's consulted reported back in 2000 that Cooper Drive provides a physical barrier between the site and the Marsh. The property drains into the nearby stormwater retention pond, which outlets to the Marsh. Township staff agree that this pond will provide adequate control, along with soak-away pits on each of the townhouse lots.

Staff did admit that there's always a concern about salt entering the pond and Marsh. They're asking the applicant to address this by looking at other salt storage options and best practices.

Councillor Bill Cober said he's satisfied with the staff-imposed conditions on the project. He pointed out that almost all of Schomberg is in a floodplain, but that hasn't stopped all development. The landowner, he said, has the right to explore his options. These conditions may in fact be cost-prohibitive for the property owner to proceed. Cober also stressed that councillors have to have confidence in staff to cover all the bases.

Schaefer countered that they shouldn't rationalize development based on past decisions. We're living in a different, more environmentally conscious world today, she said.

Councillor Cleve Mortelliti said demand for housing is high, not only in King but across the GTA. People will buy these homes, he pointed out.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini's support was based on the bottom line, and fear of a costly Ontario Municipal Board hearing. He believes an OMB hearing is a no-win situation and "I'm not going to throw tax dollars on this one." He did say if there was an opportunity to win for the environment, he's for it.

This debate is not about who's for or against the environment or sustainability of the Marsh, he said.

Resident Mary Asselstine, who's a member of the Dufferin Marsh Nature Connection, said this is a bad idea and it won't be an ideal place to live.

The Marsh, she said, has been shrinking over the years, due to increased development in the area. They've been monitoring the Marsh since 2004 and studies over the years pointed to decreased frog populations, a change in both vegetation and water quality. They've even shown salt levels rise to levels that are now harmful to life.

She added development, even one on this scale, spells the death of the Marsh by "a thousand tiny cuts."

'Out-of-the-box' collection at library

Do you like to star gaze and wish you had a telescope? Do you find yourself wanting to paint while on a trip? Are you looking to get healthy and join a fitness centre?

The King Township Public Library (KTPL) can help you out with its special "Out-of-the-box" collection. The collection offers materials beyond books and media, providing patrons the chance to take their interests off the page. In addition, these non-traditional library items can be helpful in cultivating special community partnerships and programming opportunities.

The collection includes telescopes, portable art easels, drafting kits, a blood pressure monitor, a parachute (outdoor fun for kids), Blue Bots (small robots), Makey Makey Kits (circuitry for children), and a week-long temporary membership pass granting access to the Trisan Fitness Centre. All you need to access these cool items is a KTPL library card.

"The inclusion of non-traditional items in public libraries is not a new phenomenon," noted Rona O'Banion, KTPL CEO. "Over the last number of decades, libraries have kept pace with societal trends by incorporating computers, DVDs, e-books, streaming and other digital media into our core service model. The introduction of these non-traditional physical items is merely the next step in our service evolution."

Broadband Internet project is a coordinated effort

Member of Parliament for King-Vaughan, Deb Schulte, said the money will be well spent to assist rural areas for many reasons.

"It's transformational for residents

York Region's public sector fibre network is growing to meet the needs

York Regional Council announced the appointment of the board of directors and general manager for YTN Telecom Network.

"Improved broadband is a key priority for York Regional Council," said York Region Chairman and CEO Wayne Emmerson. "It is essential to attracting and maintaining our competitive business edge and can help enhance the live/work/play needs of our communities."

As part of the mandate to improve broadband access and quality across York Region, earlier this year, Council approved the incorporation of a York Region owned entity to operate the York Telecom Network (YTN). The entity will increase connectivity by working with public and private sector partners.

King Mayor Steve Pellegrini joins the board of directors, which includes Emmerson and fellow municipal colleagues.

Additionally, York council also endorsed the recent appointment of Laura Bradley as GM for YTN. She has more than 25 years experience in the Canadian telecom industry as an engineer, business manager and consultant. For the past 15 years, a strong focus of her career has been spent working with municipalities and in rural broadband across Canada.

"Access to high-speed Internet is one of the grounding principles of York Region's Economic Development Action Plan," said Markham Regional Councillor Joe Li, chair of Planning and Economic Development. "As York Region continues to grow, so do our opportunities to improve service for businesses, institutions and residents."

LSRCA celebrates its environmental champions with awards

By Mark Pavilons

At its 36th annual Conservation Awards ceremony held Nov. 2, Lake Simcoe Region Conservation Authority (LSRCA) paid tribute to 20 individuals, businesses and groups who are working selflessly to better our environment.

During his remarks, Aurora Mayor and LSRCA Board Chair Geoffrey Dawe spoke to the outstanding achievements of the award winners.

"Each and every one of our recipients has made a positive impact on the health of our watershed," said Chair Dawe. "We thank them, we honour them and we hope they inspire many more to take action for a healthier natural environment."

Each award recipient is committed to positive environmental actions that contribute to a more sustainable and healthier watershed. They do it for no other reason than they care about the world they live in. They are champions in the true sense of the word.

King Township's Jason Chang won the Healthy Lands Conservation Award.

Chang contacted LSRCA in June 2016 with interest in planting a new forest on the farm fields that he had formerly rented to a tenant for the last decade. As a result of his interest in supporting our environment, in May of this year LSRCA machine planted 5,000 tree seedlings over six acres of his property.

Chang's enthusiasm and desire to improve the natural function of his property is exceptional. He's now responsible for creating a small forest on his property; property that he could have continued to personally profit from in the years to come. Instead he's contributing to the ecological assets we all benefit from.

and the community. When I was knocking on doors campaigning in the area I heard it from lots of people. King is under-served when it comes to broadband so it was one of my big pushes when I moved to federal government to say we need to push for broadband in rural communities and then we came up with that massive $500 million in funding. The program is in the business and economic development side of the federal government. We know how important it is - it's good for education and it's good so people can do business - it's good for the economy. We funded $825,000 just for this area and Vianet put in $1.65 million to bring the service to these people," Schulte explained.

The new service will have a huge impact on local business.

"It's very important from a business perspective," said Councillor, Debbie Schaefer. "We've got business that can't connect easily to do their invoicing or receiving information. And for children for education purposes and adults who want to do on-line training - all of those things will now be possible when living remotely."

The project has been in the planning stage for a couple of years.

"We started this project in the planning and submission stage to the government back in 2015," explained Brian McCullagh, Vianet's director of business. "It was approved in 2016. We started planning and getting the permits to put the fibre in the ground in early 2017. We've been working diligently over the past four or five months. We've done around 30 kilometres already and we're just starting to hook up customers now. It was funded 50 per cent by the two levels of government - 25 percent from the provincial and 25 from the federal and Vianet contributed the other 50 per cent of the project."

"This is a great example of the provincial and federal levels of government working with the private sector to connect more residents and businesses to high-speed internet," said King Township Mayor Steve Pellegrini. "It means students can finish their homework assignments at home and home-based businesses will be able to better serve their customers. It's a tremendous benefit for King Township."

"All of us at Vianet are proud to be an integral part of this milestone event. This initial end user fibre optic connection is a product of the efforts of many parties - the visionary support of the mayor and council of King Township, the financial support of the Ontario and Canadian governments and the hard work of Vianet staff and contractors. A special thank you to King Township municipal staff who have helped us throughout the startup process. This may be the first connection, but many others will follow. The project is on time and on budget - Vianet looks forward to bringing the ultimate in fibre optic connectivity to as many rural King Township residents as possible over the two years of this project," said Vianet's Will Gasteiger.

Vianet is based out of Sudbury with satellite offices around Ontario. Locally they have an office on Highway 9, in Schomberg.

Once the project is completed local residents can finally receive the high-speed internet service that so far has been available in more densely populated areas.

Research by King Township Library staff

Dieppe remembered

By John Arnott

It was early August 2009 when I stood there on that pebbled beach under the towering cliffs and looked out at the waves rolling gently ashore as a group of kids laughed and splashed in the surf. On that warm, slightly overcast day, who would have thought that this was the site of Canada's bloodiest day in all of World War II? I was standing on the beach that 67 years earlier was soaked in Canadian blood and littered with dead and dying Canadian soldiers, most in their late teens to early 20s. I was standing at Dieppe.

My first memory of the Dieppe Raid is the window of a dress store, Georgina Frocks on Eglinton Ave. at Dufferin St., the area where I grew up. A large black draped picture of a young soldier rested against the Canadian Red Ensign, our flag of the day, to honour a son killed during that ill-fated raid.

The purpose of this raid was to test enemy resistance, hold briefly an enemy occupied channel port, gather intelligence information, photograph defences then destroy as many of them as possible along with strategic buildings and return to England with minimum casualties.

Since early 1942 the Canadian government had been pressing the senior Allied military authorities in Britain to get Canadian troops stationed in England involved in some kind of action. Canadian generals Roberts, Crerar and McNaughton, sensing a restlessness among the troops, many having been there since 1939, saw this as an opportunity to finally get their men involved in some action. And the Canadians were spoiling for a fight!

But the planning for Dieppe was faulty and part way through it General Bernard Montgomery (Monty) wanted the whole operation cancelled. That wasn't to be. Thus in the early hours of Aug. 19, 1942 some 6,000 men – mostly Canadian – moved out from the port of Newhaven on the British side of the Channel headed for their target Dieppe, chosen because it was thought to be only lightly defended-that soon proved to be disastrously wrong!

And from the get-go things started to go wrong. Near the French coast part of the invasion force ran into an unexpected small enemy convoy. The ensuing firefight alerted the enemy on shore.

The main invasion force, meant to land in darkness, was delayed and the sun was rising as they stormed the beaches, only to be met by murderous machine gun fire from gun emplacements dug into the cliffs high above. This, together with mortar fire, decimated the landing soldiers.

The raid had begun just before 5 a.m. and the commanders, realizing that it was a complete and bloody failure, gave the retreat orders just before 11 a.m. Of the 5,000 Canadians who took part, 916 were killed, 2,451 were wounded (some dying later) or taken prisoner. The British contingent of 1,000 men suffered 300 casualties.

Two Canadians were awarded the Victoria Cross for their bravery at Dieppe. Captain John Weir Foote, chaplain with the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, who under fire helped take care of the wounded and Lieutenant Colonel Charles Merritt of the South Saskatchewan Regiment. He led his men across the Pourville Bridge and when advance became impossible commanded rear guard action to allow some of them to escape. Both had opportunity to escape themselves but chose to remain with their men and were taken prisoner.

Government and military officials later assured themselves and the public that lessons learned at this horrific disaster which took so many young lives contributed to the success of the of the D-Day landings two years later. And it was Canadians who in 1944 liberated Dieppe. Plaques, monuments, park, squares and streets throughout the town and surrounding area honour Canadians. The name Canada is sacred in Dieppe.

When I walked the length of those beaches three times, each time with tears in my eyes, gazing up at those cruel chalk cliffs and the gun emplacements still there.

I visited the beautifully kept Canadian war cemetery just outside the town. More tears.

On my last day in Dieppe I again walked the Dieppe beaches from Pourville in the west to Puy in the east and part way along met up with a couple about my age. As it turned out they were a German couple. The man, after much agonizing, had finally come with his wife's support to see where 67 years before, his father had been killed on a beaches at Dieppe. We chatted briefly, shook hands and almost without thinking hugged. I began to feel ever so better!

High electricity prices costing jobs in Ontario

By Mark Pavilons

Ontario's record-high electricity costs are hindering business competitiveness. Business owners are not impressed by this current unlevel playing field.

The province's electricity prices, the highest in Canada, have cost the province an estimated 74,881 manufacturing jobs since the 2008 recession, according to a study by the Fraser Institute, an independent, non-partisan Canadian policy think-tank.

"Electricity is a major cost for the manufacturing sector, so it's not surprising that Ontario's skyrocketing electricity prices have led to tens of thousands of job losses in the province," said Ross McKittrick, economics professor at the University of Guelph, Fraser Institute senior fellow and co-author of "Rising Electricity Costs and Declining Employment in Ontario's Manufacturing Sector."

In the wake of the 2008/09 recession, Ontario experienced the most substantial decline in both manufacturing output and employment, compared to other provinces and U.S. states. From 2008 to 2015, Ontario's manufacturing jobs fell from 805,170 to 688,735.

Crucially, the study estimates that about 64 per cent of the decline – 74,881 jobs – are attributable to the province's higher electricity prices.

And even if the province's estimates of job creation in renewable energy are taken at face value, this implies a loss of about 1.8 manufacturing jobs for every new job created in the green energy sector, many of which are temporary positions.

As for the rising cost of electricity, the study finds that hydro prices in Ontario for small industrial users (those with a power demand of one megawatt and monthly consumption of up to 400 megawatt hours) increased 48 per cent in the Toronto area and 50 per cent in Ottawa between 2010 and 2016 – more than three times the average rate of increase in the rest of Canada.

"Tens of thousands of good paying jobs have been lost because of electricity cost increases attributable to poor policy decisions at Queens Park," McKittrick said.

Tom Allen, president of the King Chamber of Commerce, said the real challenge small businesses faces is the cumulative effect of government actions. Electricity is expensive here as the Fraser study documents. Opposition politicians have long decried the management of Ontario Hydro; the split into Ontario Power Generation; paying $0.80 per kilowatt for green energy when the retail price was one-tenth; the rapid increase in cost over the past several years, and then a magical cut in hydro rate just before an election, and so on.

"If we want our businesses to be competitive then costs need effective management. Higher electricity costs reduce the competitiveness of Ontario business," he said.

Electricity is only one cost factor for business. The bigger issue for business is the cumulative effect of multiple policies that all hit the same taxpayer.

"Today we are talking about the power story, but we also have labour costs that are being significantly increased by the province; the federal government is changing the tax system basically telling small business that their corporate structures mean they do not pay enough tax. For small business, it feels like success is under siege."

Marylake in spotlight of new history book

By Mark Pavilons

The iconic Marylake Shrine served as the ideal backdrop for a historic event recently.

"The Road to Marylake," by author Kelly Mathews, was officially launched at an event attended by many supporters and dignitaries.

The book provides the only comprehensive story about the creation and continued use of the former country estate of one of Canada's richest men. The history of Marylake and Sir Henry Pellatt is as much a story about Canadian heritage as it is about King Township and one of our founding fathers.

Scotiabank, King City is a big supporter of Mathews's work and branch manager Denise Yeomans said this book is truly a reminder to us about the very rich and vibrant history in King Township. "We need storytellers like Kelly to continue her craft."

Mathews admitted the "Road to Marylake" was not without its bumps, but she was delighted to share the launch and celebrate the stewardship of this property.

On hand for the occasion were representatives of Seneca College, Mayor Steve Pellegrini, and Councillors David Boyd, Avia Eek, Cleve Mortelliti and Debbie Schaefer.

Mathews finds local history fascinating in that it connects us to broader issues.

"The Road to Marylake," she said, is best enjoyed with a cup of tea as the reader engages in a self-guided tour of history.

"I've fallen in love with Marylake, past and present," Mathews said.

It's available from the Marylake Gift Shop, Amazon online and Arcadia The History Press online.

King's fire department simulated large evacuation

A large fire has just destroyed portions of Schomberg and 50 residents have been displaced and need shelter.

This is the scenario King's Fire and Emergency Services Department trained for on Oct. 27 at the Trisan Centre in Schomberg.

"Although we hope to never have to enact an evacuation like the one we're simulating, it's critical that we prepare for one," said King Township's Fire Chief Jim Wall.

Several agencies took part in the simulation, including representatives from King Township, York Regional Police, the Regional Municipality of York, the Canadian Red Cross and Emergency Social Services. The exercise included setting up a reception centre to register and provide accommodation for evacuees.

"The intent is to practice for a real event. This will demonstrate what it really takes to run such an emergency," said Chief Wall.

He added that there's also a tremendous amount of learning that takes place in these types of exercises and participants are able to iron out any issues in a practice environment.

"Tackling these things in advance means we'll be better prepared in the event of an actual emergency," said Wall.

Remembrance at Kettleby

Residents and dignitaries gathered at the Kettleby Cenotaph for the annual Remembrance services. The rainy weather didn't deter people from coming out and paying their respects.

Cougars in the hunt, after back-to-back wins

By Jake Courtepatte

The Schomberg Cougars are in the hunt for what many may call the “top” of the PJHL’s Carruthers division standings.

While the Stayner Siskins and Alliston Hornets remain light years ahead of the competition, Schomberg has snuck their way to one point back of the Caledon Golden Hawks for third in the division, thanks to a pair of road wins with the Midland Flyers last week.

The first of two offensive-heavy clashes saw Schomberg take a 2-0 lead early in the first period, a lead that was squandered early in the second.

Three unanswered goals then gave Schomberg a sizeable lead, one they held until the final buzzer with a score of 7-4.

Linden Sturrock led the way with a goal and two assists, while Brandon Cohen, Daniel Perry, and James Floyd also had a multi-point night.

Friday’s rematch saw the Cougars throw an astonishing 48 shots at the Midland net, capitalizing on five in a 5-4 overtime victory.

Sturrock, Josh Morrison, Mitchell Robinson, and Owen Heilemann all found the back of the net in regulation, while Connor Kearney was the overtime hero.

First-year Cougars Hunter Mabee also capped off his weekend with a trip to the PJHL Inaugural Prospects Day in Hamburg on Saturday, an opportunity for the top 16- and 17-year olds in the league to showcase their talents to scouts and university recruiters.

The 17-year-old has put up two goals and four assists through twelve games with the Cougars so far this season.

Schomberg brings their record of 8-8-0 into their match-up Thursday with the lowly Orillia Terriers, who are fresh off their first home win of the season, before a quick turnaround to face the Hornets at New Tecumseth Rec Centre on Friday evening.

They cap off the weekend on Saturday in hosting the Siskins.

Previous week’s action

The Cougars squad made short work of their lowly PJHL opponents in the previous week’s action.

Back-to-back wins over the seventh-place Huntsville Otters and eighth-place Orillia Terriers meant a return to form after four straight losses, cementing their position among the middle of the pack in the PJHL’s Carruthers division.

The Cougars threw an astonishing 42 shots on net in their 5-3 win over the Otters, with Connor Kearney opening the scoring on the power play late in the first period.

Though Huntsville tied the game just under two minutes into the second period, Schomberg veteran Vince DeCastro was able to pot four goals in a row between the second and third frames, quintupling his goal scoring output for the season in a matter of 23 minutes.

Huntsville potted two goals late in the third to bring it within two, though it was as close as they came, with Albert Parente’s solid performance between the pipe netting him his third win of the season.

Matthew Lolli was between the pipes when the Cougars visited the Terriers, giving up the game’s opening goal just under seven minutes in before holding off the Terriers for the remainder of the period.

Once again Schomberg poured on four goals uncontested, with Thomas Foulds scoring twice as well as singles from Connor Whiteside and Curtis Dubeau.

Lucas Brockie and Mitchell Robinson also found the back of the net in an eventual 6-4 win.

The Minor Bantam York Simcoe Express fell 3-1 to the Mississauga Reps in the quarter-finals of the prestigious Shanahan Tournament in Toronto on Sunday.

Minor bantam Express fall short at Shanahan Tournament

By Jake Courtepatte

Over 100 teams from across North America converged on Toronto last weekend for the prestigious Shanahan Tournament, among them the Minor Bantam York Simcoe Express.

Entering as one of the hottest teams in AAA hockey, undefeated in five games dating back to mid-October, the Express made an impact early in taking down the Halton Hurricanes 4-2 on Friday morning at Chesswood Arena.

William Poot was the only goal scorer of the first period before a scoreless second, while a pair of quick goals from Owen Sculthorp and one from Ronnie Wiersema in the third gave the Express a four goal cushion.

Halton notched two with time running out.

Taking on the Lambton Jr. Sting later that afternoon, Kyle Leggo earned a shutout between the pipes, while Poot and Wiersema found the back of the net in a 2-0 win.

They maintained their perfect streak with a 5-1 thumping of Victory Honda on Saturday morning, thanks to goals from Poot, Sculthorp, Murray Boland, and a pair from Shane Bondy.

The real challenge came for the Express on Saturday afternoon, when they met the powerhouse Mississauga Reps, playing to a 2-2 tie that set up a Sunday morning showdown between the two in the tournament quarter-finals.

Mississauga took a 2-0 lead into the first intermission, a score that held until the 12-minute mark of the third period before the Reps grew their lead to three.

Boland scored late to give the Express a sense of hope, but they bowed out of the tournament with a 3-1 loss.

Mississauga was knocked out of the tournament in the semifinals by the Buffalo Jr. Sabres, who went on to win the championship.

Poot finished tied for ninth in tournament scoring, finishing with an impressive five goals and two assists through five games played.

The Express hold a record of 7-3-3 in the Eastern AAA division standings, and next host the Central Ontario Wolves at LaBrier Arena in Aurora on Sunday.

The Villanova Knights junior football team wrapped up a perfect season, with a win over the Bill Crothers Colts.

Knights cap off perfect season with win

By Jake Courtepatte

It looks like the Villanova Knights are here to stay.

After struggling to find proper competition for the budding program in the independent school system, the Knights fielded a junior squad in the York Region Athletic Association this season to much success.

They capped off a perfect 4-0 season on Friday, toppling the Bill Crothers Colts by a score of 41-0.

The Knights allowed only 22 points all year, while averaging 49 points on offence.

Facing stiff competition against the likes of all-boy schools such as the St. Andrew’s Saints and Upper Canada College in the CISAA division, the Knights joined the public school conference last year after competing in a seven-game independent schedule.

Villanova will face off against Bill Crothers in the junior championship with the date yet to be set.

Curlers trick or treat for the win in curling

By Shellee Morning

Halloween is celebrated by millions around the world, and members of the Friday Night League are among some of the best in dressing up for a thrilling and supernatural evening of disguise and screams. The dark October evening left a chill in the air down at rink-side with witches, pirates and The Joker, all which tantalized their opponents during the league's regular season match-ups.

Blood-curdling "hurry hard" screams created an eerie echo throughout the 4 sheets as players carved away at the scoreboard in their attempts to trick and terrify their way towards a win.

Team Wasykiw haunted Team McKenzie in a tight end-for-end battle with great shot-making and timely draws that left Skip Andrew McKenzie aka "The Joker" in an evil state of despair. The Cat in the Hat played by Karel Span on team Wasykiw had a few tricks of his own to entertain the opposition that eventually helped assist for a team win and vaulting into a first place tie within the league.

Team Smith met up with Team Pirate Doug Brown, and although the Pirate was fierce and mighty, Smith executed spine-chilling take-outs and mysterious draws to the button for the win and forcing the pirates to walk the plank and falling overboard.

Skip Gerald Duffy had a little witchcraft magic on his team. Along with Mike Murphy and Sheila McKenzie the Duffy team had all their broomsticks in action casting a spell of hocus pocus for the win and to remain tied for first on top of the league standings.

Team Roberston also defeated Team Lus after some chilling hit and rolls to remain in 3rd position overall in the league standings.

Costume winners included:
Best Couple: Andrew McKenzie, The Joker and Sheila McKenzie, a Kangaroo.

Fiorenzo Gagliardi as "Beetlejuice" for Best Male costume.

Karen Letwinka as "June Cleaver" for Best Female costume.

New kids on the rink

The sport of curling is sweeping the nation, and with every Olympic year, there are more new curlers joining to be part of a fun and energetic sport for anyone of the ages 6-86. King Curling is proud to announce a new up and coming junior team this season.

Skip Ethan Mumford, Kayla Emmerton as Vice, Rachel Fenning as Second and Cameron Sheardown as Lead. Five years ago these kids began their curling career in the club's Little Rocks program and find themselves as part of a team representing King Curling in this year's Toronto Curling Association (TCA) East Division. The interest in youth curling has grown so much that last year's 24 team roster has grown to 36 teams expanding into 2 divisions creating an East and West field. King competes with clubs coming from Oshawa, Whitby and Scarborough who met for their first game this past Sunday.

First time jitters were obviously a part of the game, but Mumford and his squad got on the scoreboard right in the first end that seemed to settle the nerves, enough to eventually win their opener with an outstanding 8-1 victory. Coach Julie Oakley is quite excited for this young team as the potential for greatness that oozes among them all, along with a lot of confidence and endless amounts of agility.

The TCA created the inter-club league and plays a key role in the development of youth curling allowing kids the chance to play against other clubs gaining experience and make new friends along the way. King will host their division games on Jan. 14, 2018.

The event goes from 3 to 9 p.m. At 4 p.m. there is a Santa Claus Parade that comes south down Main Street from Western Avenue and Main Street down to Church and Main.

I am the parade marshal for this parade and I am encouraging all of you, whether you are family, a business or a society to put a float or walking entry into the parade.

Please call myself, Wendy-Sue, at 905-590-0054 or email me at wsue52@hotmail.com

Knee Pain: New Approach Delivers Remarkable Results

If you suffer from Knee Pain (Injury/strain/tendonitis/Arthritis) you need to be aware of effective advancements that can eliminate years of pain, suffering, immobility and frustration.

You may have told your doctor you suffer with one or more of the following: sore, stiff, painful knee, "clicking" sound with movement, difficulty bending at the knee.

You may find that your pain or stiffness affects your work, housekeeping, leisure activities, exercise, sports or other activities. You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your pain. But you find the pain keeps returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of pain pills or anti-inflammatory drugs that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

There is a new, natural, safe and highly effective approach that has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically: Laser therapy uses light to favor and accelerate the body's natural healing processes. The innovative Multiwave Locked System (MLS) Laser produces a safe,

This new, natural, safe and highly effective approach has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically efficient and simultaneous effect on pain, inflammation, swelling and water retention, exceeding the limits of traditional LLLT (Low power) and eliminates concerns of HP (High power) laser therapy.

What does this mean for you?

Our patients have reported a 90-95% relief of their symptoms, more mobility, increased flexibility and vastly improved function!

It is the very latest in medical technology, with years of clinical studies supporting its safety and efficacy and we are very proud to offer our patients effective solutions to their recent or chronic conditions.

"This new, natural, safe and highly effective approach has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically".

Come in and allow us to help you achieve the results you deserve! Call (905) 773-2225 to book your FREE consultation and examination at King West Wellness Centre 141 King Rd., Unit 10, Richmond Hill (In the Home Hardware Plaza).

Nobleton United Church By Nancy Hopkinson

All Nobleton members and adherents are invited to a Community Engagement Meeting today, Thursday, Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. Jason Meyers from Five Stones Consulting will be offering a presentation on Church Branding and looking for input on what it is that makes Nobleton United a unique and distinct church community.

Our service this Sunday, Nov. 12 at 11:15 a.m. will be a Remembrance Service, honouring our friends and relatives who have served or are serving right now in the military.

Rachel Clark is speaking on Sunday, Nov. 19 at our service on the topic "All are welcome. Some terms and conditions may apply." Rachel is a notable LGBTQ activist and has been invited to speak at numerous events within and beyond the United Church. She is currently working on her Masters of Theological Studies at Emmanuel College and recently began a bi-monthly column which can be found in the Caledon Enterprise and the Orangeville Banner.

Are you a senior in the Nobleton area? You are welcome to the Seniors' Luncheon sponsored by Schomberg United Church on Nov. 21 at noon. There is also entertainment. For the details, see Schomberg United Church under "Schomberg Should Know."

Do you have a child or grandchild aged 2 to 14 years? Bring him or her to the next Messy Church on Tuesday, Nov. 21, 5 to 7 p.m.

Forgiveness is the theme this month, based on the story from Luke 5: 17-26. This is the story of a man who could not walk, and his friends brought him to Jesus on a mat. Jesus forgave his sins and then the man was able to walk. There will be carving on a bar of soap; making a heart with air-drying clay and decorating with sequins and beads; mat weaving with strips of paper; making a model flat roofed house, decorating a shortbread cookie which is in the shape of a mat. There is story time at 6 pm to explain how the activities relate to the story and then we eat at 6:15 p.m. After dinner the adults and children socialize or do more activities.

Do you love craft and bake sales? Schomberg United is hosting one on Saturday, Nov. 25, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Look under "Schomberg Should Know" for the details.

For youth aged 10 to 16, the Schomberg Youth Club meets on Friday evenings, 7-9 p.m. at Schomberg Public School. There are various sports, and guitar playing. Look under "Schomberg Should Know" for more info.

We are looking forward to Holy Humour Sunday on Nov. 26. There will be a skit, jokes and surprises.

Breakfast with Santa is very popular and will be on Saturday, Dec. 2. More details next week.

Our very popular Breakfast with Santa is on Saturday, Dec. 2, 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. The breakfast is pancakes, syrup, sausages and a beverage. For the children, these are arranged to look like a snowman with sausage arms, and chocolate chip eyes, and covered with icing sugar. Santa always drops in and provides a lovely stuffed animal for each child.

Pictures are taken of each child on Santa's knee and the pictures are given to the parent or adult with them. This event is fun for everyone, so even if you are not a parent, you can enjoy the breakfast and see the children having fun with Santa. A "good will" offering will be donated to the "Nobleton Christmas Drive" (Mimi Buchanan works in cooperation with "Christmas in King"). Nobleton United will be matching the funds collected up to a maximum of $500.

Christmas Eve is a Sunday this year. We are planning to have a family friendly "Christmas Eve Morning" service at 11:15 a.m., with refreshments afterwards. The musically talented Sandra Kirby is back by popular demand. Last Sunday, member Paul Olsen took our service as our minister Carol-Ann Chapman just lost her Dad, Stanley (Bud) Chapman on Thursday. Bud's Celebration of Life was last Monday. Please keep Carol-Ann and her family in your prayers this week or come to Nobleton's Tim Hortons on Wednesday morning at about 9 a.m. to see Carol-Ann and express your condolences directly.

Our worship services are at 11:15 a.m. Sundays at Nobleton United at 6076 King Rd., Nobleton. Our sister church, Schomberg United, meets at St. Mary's Magdalene at 9:30 am most Sundays, but at the Kitchen Breedon Manor on the first Sunday of the month. For more info, visit nobletonunitedchurch.com, our Facebook page, or call 905-859-3976. The Nobleton United Church office is normally open on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Messages are picked up regularly. Nobleton United is on the north side of the King Rd., about 6 buildings west of Hwy. 27. We have a big parking lot at the rear of the building, an accessible ramp at the rear of the building, chair lifts and accessible washrooms. We warmly welcome everyone, old and young.

Nobleton Lions Club

November 4 is the date for the annual Clothing Drive. Good used clothes and small household articles will be collected. The Lions and the Salvation Army are most encouraged by the strong response in previous years, and send a very big thank you to all who donate. Flyers have been mailed and can be attached to indicate donations.

December features the Annual Skating Party at the arena, with free skating for all, and Santa is planning to come and visit the kids.

The Lions Club is seeking new members at this time. If you are interested in helping your community become a better place to live, while having lots of fun, please call Bob Phillips at 416-522-9675. We will make you more than welcome.

For more information on these and other events why not check out our website www.nobletonlions.com.

King City United
By Earle Laycock

Rev. Evelyn McLachlan welcomed the Sparks, Brownies, Guides, Pathfinders and Rangers as they participated in a special Remembrance Sunday worship at King City United Church on Sunday. The groups led a Colour Parade, bringing the Canadian Flag and flags of the various groups into the Sanctuary. LCol (ret'd) Susan Beharriell placed a wreath in honour of the brave men and women of the Canadian armed forces.

Thanks to the Bell Choir under the direction of Sandra Kirby for their beautiful music during this worship. They played "Allegro," a celebration of the war's end, and "Early One Morning." The Vocal Choir also sang a "Song of Peace," which embodied the theme of Remembrance Sunday. Thank you Rosemary Karunaratne for leading the Vocal Choir in this piece and also providing the accompanying music.

Bible Study group meets on Wednesdays at 10:30 a.m. If you enjoy lively discussion and learning more about the Christian faith, come out and join the Hebrews 11:1 says "Now faith is confidence in what we hope for and assurance about what we do not see." It is God's Spirit giving us "the assurance of things not seen," causing our faith to grow. Thank you to the youth who participated in the Remembrance Service at the beginning of the service last week.

Prayer is key in a Christian's life. Let us know if you would like to pray with someone or if you need any resources on prayer. If you have prayer requests or thanksgivings, we'll be happy to pray with and for you. God wants to have conversations with us and has promised to be present, hearing and answering our prayers.

Mark your calendars! "Messy Church" is happening Sunday, Nov. 19 from 5 to 6 p.m. Call Lynn at the church for more information, 905-833-2325. The community is invited to find out what our Messy Church events are all about. We're having lots of fun together being creative, learning about the Bible and God's love for us and enjoying a wonderful supper at the end. We hope you can come!

With Christmas coming and the cooler weather, there are many opportunities to assist where able. The Tree of Warmth for Evangel Hall is up in the Narthex ready to collect warm hats, mittens, scarves, and socks. The Christmas in King Food Hampers will be available mid week for filling with Festive Items. Contact person is Kathy Patterson.

Should you have pastoral care needs please contact Lynn Vissers, our Director of Congregational Ministries at the office or at 905-833-5762 or contact our Interim Moderator, the Rev. Paul Johnston, 705-341-7738.

Our church office number is 905-833-2325. We are located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. A ramp is available for accessibility. <http://www.standrews-kingcity.ca/>

All Saints Anglican Church By Diana Armitage

Last Sunday, All Saints celebrated our 160th year in King. We thank the Primate of the Anglican Church of Canada, The Most Reverend Fred Hiltz, for joining us and for his sermon on the Beatitudes. He asked us to bring these eight blessings into our lives in the church and beyond. Thank you to everyone who decorated, cooked, served and cleaned up. It was a great day for our parish!

Poinsettia fundraiser orders and payments are due this Sunday, Nov. 12. The flowers and arrangements are from Terra Nurseries. Pick up is Saturday, Nov. 25 in the church hall, between 1 and 4 p.m. All monies raised, after the costs, will go to support our Syrian refugee family. Please call the church office at 905-833-5432 or Bridget 905-539-0140 for more information.

On Sunday, Nov. 19, we welcome Fr. Randal Johnston who will speak to us about the ministry of Loft Community Services. After the 10:30 a.m. service there will be a potluck lunch and Parish Council Meeting in the hall.

Our Country Christmas Market and

Home Cooked Luncheon with baking, artisans and amazing raffle of Mirvish Tickets will be held on Saturday, Dec. 2, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. There are two sittings, 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., for our lunch of delicious chicken pot pie (vegetarian/gluten free options) salad and dessert. Tickets are $15. Please call 905-833-5432 or email allsaints3@bellnet.ca.

Anglican Parish By John Arnott

Our annual Fall Tea and Bazaar at Christ Church, Kettleby was a big success. All our visitors went away pleased with their purchases and delighted with the great cup of tea they enjoyed served in real china cups on saucers accompanied by delicious homemade treats. Thanks to all who helped make our long standing event so successful.

This past Sunday, Nov. 5 St. Mary Magdalene's Anglican Church in Schomberg marked Remembrance Day and celebrated All Saints Day during the Holy Communion service. The service began with the singing of "O Canada," then "God Save the Queen," followed by a reading of Lt. Colonel John McCrae's poem "In Flanders Fields" and the roll call of members of St. Alban's and St. Mary Magdalene's who served during World War II. A painting of Clare Wall much decorated officer in the Canadian army during the last war and past member of St. Alban's Nobleton was on prominent view. During the offertory the traditional Remembrance hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" was sung. In her homily parish priest Rev. Sheilagh Ashworth at both the service at Christ, Church, Kettleby and St. Mary Magdalene's reminded us of the sacrifice made by men and women on the front lines and on the home front during the war years and still being made today.

She continued saying they were like the saints. And she also reminded us of the saints known and unknown down through the ages saying that they were not always holy and perfect - they did make mistakes and had faults, some big time but they acknowledged their short comings, atoning for them as they tried their best to serve God.

Following the Communion, John Arnott spoke about Passchendaele (Belgium) one of the most horrific battles of World War I where Canadians in spite of 4,000 killed and 12,000 wounded, won the day. And reminded us that as we sat there safe and secure in our warm comfortable church on Nov. 5, 100 years earlier, in the mud and rain of Passchendaele, many Canadians who would never see home and loved ones again were making the ultimate sacrifice.

Holy Communion services this Sunday morning Nov. 12 will be at 9:30 a.m. in Christ Church, Kettleby, and at 11:15 a.m. in St Mary Magdalene's 116 Church Schomberg.
