

Drive a big success

The Neighbourhood Network Fall Food Drive, in support of the King Township Food Bank, was held Oct. 28 at No Frills in Nobleton. A total of $437.25 was raised in cash donations, along with three full carts of groceries (value of at least $300). The rain and cold weather did not deter the generosity of John's No Frills wonderful customers. King philanthropist and TV personality Joan Kelly Walker pitched in to support the Food Bank, by filling a cart with groceries. Shown with Joan were young volunteers with the Network, No Frills owner John Ciarallo and Teri Hastings.

Notice of Complete Application and Public Meeting Concerning a Proposed Zoning By-Law Amendment

The public are invited to attend a public meeting to be held by the Council of the Corporation of the Township of King on: Monday, November 27th, 2017 at 6:00 p.m.

at the Township of King Council Chambers at 2075 King Road, King City to receive information and provide comments on a proposed Zoning By-law Amendment under Section 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter P.13.

Subject Property

Location:	13056 - 13062 Highway 27 & 6012-6024 King Road, Nobleton, ON
	Reg. Plan 19, Lots 2, 3, 4 and Part Lot 1
Applicant:	Nobleton Heritage Development Inc.

Z-2017-07 and SPD-17-66 File Number:

What are the Proposed Changes?

A Zoning By-law Amendment application has been submitted to the Township of King to facilitate a redevelopment of the subject lands to include two mixed used buildings measuring 3-storeys each while retaining the Hambly House for office purposes. The application proposes to amend provisions to the by-law relating to amenity space, landscape buffers, loading spaces, parking aisles widths, parking requirements and building height. Also, a Holding symbol (H) is planned for a portion of the property to stage the implementation of the development to coincide with the availability of servicing. A Site Plan Development application has also been submitted identifying the detailed design for the project.

Appeal Procedure

If a person or public body does not make oral submissions at a public meeting or make written submissions to the Township of King before the by-law is passed, the person or public body is not entitled to appeal the decision of the Township of King Council to the Ontario Municipal Board.

If a person or public body does not make oral submissions at a public meeting, or make written submissions to the Township of King before the proposed zoning by-law amendment is passed, the person or public body may not be added as a party to the hearing of an appeal before the Ontario Municipal Board unless, in the opinion of the Board, there are reasonable grounds to do so.

Any person may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed Zoning By-law Amendment.

How to Stay Informed

If you wish to be notified of the passing of the proposed Zoning By-law Amendment, you must make a written request to the Clerk of the Township of King, 2075 King Road, King City, ON L7B 1A1. Written comments will become part of the public record.

Additional Information

The proposed Zoning By-law Amendment, including the proposed Draft Zoning By-law and Draft Site Plan Application for the site, are available for inspection at the Township Office between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., or inquiries may be directed to the attention of Paul Kulyk, Planner II, Planning Department quoting File Number Z-2017-07 & SPD-17-66 at (905) 833-5321.

Report outlines collisions on our regional roads

By Mark Pavilons

Collisions in York, and King Township are at record lows. Yet it seems Bathurst Street continues to be one of the worst roads for local accidents.

York Regional council received the 2017 Annual Collision Statistics Report, capturing road safety and collision trends on Regional roads.

"York Region continues to see a decrease in the total number of collisions, and in 2016 the total number of collisions was at a 10-year low," said York Region chairman and CEO Wayne Emmerson. "As our population continues to grow and there are an increasing number of vehicles on the road, this type of data is vital to ensure we continue to build safe communities."

The 2017 Annual Collision Report uses a variety of statistics collected including collision rates, traffic volumes, weather and population. Using this information, York Region develops and implements strategies that make Regional roads safer for pedestrians, cyclists and motorists. This includes creating AODA compliant intersections, building new cycling infrastructure, continuing yearly educational and enforcement initiatives to enhance awareness, installation of new traffic signals at 36 intersections since 2014 and installing an additional 20 red light cameras by the end of 2017.

• October to February are the months add "Bee City" to our distinguished list of characteristics.

with the highest number of vehicle collisions

• August sees the highest number of cyclist vehicle collisions; pedestrian vehicle collisions occur most in November.

• Fridays have the highest number of vehicle collisions; Wednesdays see the highest number of collisions for cyclists and pedestrians with vehicles.

• Hour with the highest number of collisions is between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m.

• 40 per cent of all vehicle collisions are rear-end collisions.

• Most common actions causing collisions is following a vehicle too closely (25 per cent), followed by failing to yield the right-of-way (16 per cent) and improper turns (12 per cent).

• 73 per cent of all collisions occurred on dry road surface conditions.

According to Nelson Costa, Yorks' manager, Corridor Control and Safety, the top 10 high collision locations in the Township of King include (number of collisions between 2014 and 2016 - from the 2017 Annual Collisions Statistics Report):

· Davis Drive West and Bathurst Street (72).

• King Road and Highway 27 (46).

• Highway 11 and Bathurst Street (42).

• King Road and Bathurst Street (38).

• King Road and Dufferin Street (35). • Highway 11 between Bathurst

Street and Kalvers Street (33). • Bathurst Street and Green Lane

West/Miller's Sideroad (30).

• Bathurst Street and 15th Sideroad/ Bloomington Road (30).

• Keele Street and King Road (28).

• Davis Drive West and Keele Street (27).

Roundabouts are relatively new in the region, and King's first initially caused some opposition.

According to Costa, the roundabout in King has been in operation for about a year and has only experienced one minor collision, compared with five collisions before construction, of which four were serious collisions.

Roundabouts can reduce collisions by up to 75 percent at intersections where stop signs or signals were previously used for traffic control.

Roundabout designs consist of oneway traffic and angled entry points which help avoid angled and head-on vehicle collisions. These are the types of collisions that generally result in serious injury.

The benefits of a roundabout include lower speeds, fewer delays and fewer collisions.

York Region is responsible for more than 4,200 lane kilometres of Regional roads, 2,000 intersections and approximately 875 traffic signals connectingnine municipalities together. Each year, Regional roads carry more than six billion vehicle kilometres of travel and more than 2.7 million trips daily.

designate the township as a Bee City.

The idea was forwarded by the Sustainability Advisory Committee, in an effort to support a healthy pollinator population in the area. As a Bee City, King will be a visible model for "progressive implementation of initiatives designed to protect and encourage native pollinator populations."

The goal of the Bee City Canada certification is to provide and promote healthy habitats for bees and other pollinator species. These creatures have experienced dramatic population declines around the globe due to climate change, habitat loss and the spread of pests and diseases. A loss of pollinators would have a major impact on the future health of our flora and fauna.

Honey bees play an impotant role in farm production and in the ecosystem. They are responsible for an estimated 80% of insect crop pollination. One-third of the human diet is derived directly or indirectly from insect-pollinated plants.

"Becoming designated as a Bee City will demonstrate the Township's commitment towards being a leader in sustainability," according to the staff report.

Bee City Canada is made up by researchers, educators, beekeepers, farmers, ecologists, community leaders and many other committed individuals across Canada. They strive to help all Canadians better understand our close connection with pollinators and their critical link to the health of the planet. Their goals are to give direction and encouragement on the actions we can all take to help all pollinators.

Universe2go viewer boosts amateur astronomy

"Astronomy compels the soul to look upwards and leads us from this world to another." – Plato

"It's been said that astronomy is a humbling and, I might add, a character-building experience." – Carl Sagan

You can't argue with Plato or Sagan.

Our species had long held a fascination in those pinholes in the fabric of the night sky.

In a relatively short amount of time, our race has gone from complete mysticism about the universe to actually understanding a great deal about our planetary origins.

And most of this came about from simple observation – by looking up.

It's only been 474 years since Copernicus proposed the sun was the centre of our solar system, an idea later proven by Galileo with the first telescope. Galileo is considered the father of astronomy.

So, what have we learned in those hundreds of years? Well, pretty much everything.

While we had to take a number of baby steps along way, we developed space flight in the last century. It has only been 48 years since humans have stepped foot on the moon. Our knowledge of the final frontier has grown exponentially in the past five decades.

Scientists and even backyard amateur astronomers are making historic discoveries on a daily basis. Images from the Hubble Space Telescope continues to send us ground-breaking images. It's hard to believe it was sent up 27 years ago.

allowing a deep view into space and time. Many Hubble observations have led to breakthroughs in astrophysics, such as accurately determining the rate of expansion of the universe.

Few of us astronomy buffs have anything of this scale in our backyard. But technology is improving, and has brought us many gizmos and gadgets to help young and old alike explore the stars.

One neat product is Universe2go.

It's an interactive star viewer, which combines a view of the real night sky with the digital world. As a two-piece augmented reality system, the Universe2go brings together a black star viewer with your own smartphone and Hubble has recorded some of the the accompanying app. Through an intemost detailed visible light images ever, grated mirror in the star viewer, a digi-

Sensors in the phone and GPS technology superimpose this digital picture over the real starry sky. Constellations, planets, deep-sky objects and even satellites can be seen and identified. The addition of the audio guide gives you facts about the object in view. The user navigates the menu with head movements, allowing you to change modes without taking the smartphone out of the view-

With Universe2go, you can experience the stars as if you were in a planetarium. Even dimmer stars, which generally remain unseen as a result of large cities and their light pollution, are now visible thanks to the star viewer.

Six different modes make the star viewer an interesting and fun device for beginners and experts alike. While the viewer depicts and explains the many constellations in "Beginner" mode, "Discovery" mode provides in-depth information, such as distance and brightness of each star. "Mythology" mode features the Greek legends and myths faced by humankind. Exploring space connected with stars, while "Deep-Sky" mode depicts star clusters, nebulae and alien galaxies, and "3D" mode gives the user a feeling of floating through space. Experts can choose and apply individual settings as to which information is featured on specific objects. Finally, for anyone who enjoys a challenge can test their knowledge within the new quiz mode.

Letter to the Editor Unfair Liberal Hydro plan

As if the Wynne Liberals' "unfair" Hydro plan couldn't get any worse, another independent expert has weighed in with another damming report.

Ontario's Auditor General revealed that because the Wynne Liberals cooked the books to hide the costs of their hydro scheme, Ontario families will pay up to $4 billion more than necessary. Not only that, the Liberals spent $2 million on consultants to help keep the cost off the government books. While life gets increasingly unaffordable, the Wynne Liberals are covering up their mismanagement at a cost of billions of dollars to Ontarians. That's not the type of hydro relief hard-working families in the township had in mind. When I visited with a farming family in Schomberg recently, they raised serious concern with the rising cost of hydro for their home and small business, and they raised concerns with the proposed hikes in small business taxes. It is clear that the Wynne Liberals have failed to make hydro more affordable for families and businesses. We know this because of a leaked Liberal Cabinet document that shows we'll see hydro rates rise to the highest they've ever been after the next election. We know this because the province's financial watchdog shows future generations could be on the hook for up to $93 billion. And we know that if the Wynne Liberals are re-elected, hydro rates will only continue to soar. The Wynne Liberals' hydro scheme is nothing but a re-election ploy. It has nothing to do with making life more affordable for Ontario families, and has everything to do with helping Kathleen Wynne cling to power. Life is already harder under the Wynne Liberals – your family is paying more, and getting less. In sharp contrast, I will not burden our children with (hydro) debt. I will work day in and day out to make life affordable for our seniors, our families and the next generation.

Coyote's death is a reminder to be cautious

By Mark Pavilons

The death of a coyote in Kingscross is a reminder for motorists to be cautious.

A Kingscross resident discovered a beautiful young coyote lying in her backyard Oct. 22. It apparently died from trauma, likely hit by a car.

"It was devastating and heartbreaking to see this beautiful healthy animal lying in the open on my property like this, though it did find a loving and peaceful place at my home," the resident (who asked for anonymity) said. "This should again be a message and critical reminder to Kingscross users to drive responsibly. This life is precious but it could also have been a person."

The resident initially called the Township, but matters like this are under contract with the Toronto Wildlife Centre. A TWC rescue expert did visit the property to offer assistance. It was a young female, and it was buried in the nearby wetland.

"The contract with TWC must be clarified so that information provided by King Township to residents is accurate. It makes no sense for King Township to exclude animals which have died, as one cannot determine from a safe distance whether an animal is injured or has died. Responsible residents of King Township respect and protect of an oncoming vehicle or cause you to nature and wildlife and our elected representatives must ensure this is addressed."

A study released last week by State Farm revealed about 1 in 3 drivers do not feel confident that they would know how to avoid a collision with a large animal, and over 80 per cent believe that better public education about how to react to wildlife on the road is needed to prevent collisions that could lead to injuries and fatalities.

According to the survey, when seeing a deer in the middle of a two-lane highway, Canadians are most likely to brake (66 per cent) or take their foot off the gas (55 per cent). More than onethird indicated they would honk their horn and one-quarter said they would swerve.

"The unpredictability of these situations, combined with human impulses to try to preserve the lives of these animals makes these situations difficult and dangerous," said John Bordignon, media relations, State Farm Canada. "In fact, according to police and road safety experts, swerving is not the best strategy when approaching wildlife on the road. Instead, they advise drivers to maintain their line, even if it's toward the animal, and firmly apply the brakes. Swerving could send you into the path

Photographer holds 'Photos for Food Fundraiser'

Pottageville baby photographer Lisa Pace Photographer helped stock the King Township Food Bank Oct. 28. With some help from local businesses, the first annual Halloween Photos for Food event was held at the Sugar & Spice Bake Shop in Schomberg. This photo event brought in the most adorable costumed little ones, ranging in age from 8 weeks to 10 years. One entire family even came dressed as characters from The Wizard of Oz. It was a great day and lost of fun for all. The event brought in roughly $300 and many bags of non-perishable food items.

The little pumpkins and superheroes were treated to surprises from The Cookie Duchess, Aquafanity, Sweetle Cakes and Cake Realty. Thanks to all who supported this fundraiser.

lose control of your car."*

The survey indicates that Canadians want and need more education on how to deal with wildlife on our roads. The most likely time to encounter wildlife is at dusk or dawn, in October and November, on two-lane rural highways with speeds of 80 km/h or more. From an insurance perspective the average auto damage claim after hitting an animal is $4.500.

State Farm Canada's long-time partner and road safety experts, The Traffic Injury Research Foundation (TIRF), have developed an online information centre focused on road safety and wildlife. The Wildlife Roadsharing Resource Centre (WRRC) profiles tips on wildlife collision prevention, how to respond to animals on the road; tips for when a collision with wildlife is unavoidable, and advice on what to do after a collision.

The Canada Post Community Foundation exists to improve the lives of Canadian children by supporting organizations devoted to their health and well-being. The funds are raised each year through an annual in-store donation campaign and special stamp release, as well as a year-round, employee payroll donation program and employee-led fundraisers.

The Nobleton Post Office has led the country for several years in fundraising due to the kind hearts and wonderful spirits of the citizens of Nobleton. The support of the business community has consistently been outstanding. The Nobleton team joins hearts and hands with the community for the love of the children.

The Nobleton outlet was bursting with gift baskets and donated items. This year's event raised more than $13,000.

All money raised during the retail campaign stays in the province or territory where it was donated. Since 2012, the Foundation has awarded more than $6 million to more than 550 projects. In 2017, 103 organizations shared $1.1 million in grants.

Draws were held Friday afternoon for more than 53 baskets, as well as the 50/50 draw.

King's Spark Innovations helps design the future

By Mark Pavilons

The power of creation is an awesome thing. But it's not limited to gods.

The creators at King's Spark Innovations do it on a daily basis. There, in the studio in King City, designers and engineers build "better mousetraps" for their wide range of clients.

The calm and quiet studio belies the flurry of the work going on - the hundreds of calculations, 3-D renderings and mouse clicks necessary to produce a multitude of consumer and industrial products. It's literally life from lifelessness.

That's what makes Spark exciting, according to CFO Gary Vilinsky. He relishes in the process - taking an idea or concept through to commercialization and on the shelf of a retail outlet.

The award-winning industrial design company specializes in the development of innovative products and inventions. Since 1989, Spark's professional team of industrial designers and mechanical engineers has taken thousands of products from the early stages of an idea to the mass market.

Take a typical toothbrush for instance. Spark spent more than a decade perfecting some its rechargeable models. It actually is rocket science in many ways – designing everything from the oscillating movements, handle ergonomics and the bristles themselves. The average consumer may not appreciate the amount of work that goes into a product or even its packaging, but the think tank at Spark is meticulous, paying attenting to the smallest of details.

The showroom of the shop is filled with wonders of all sorts - kitchen gadgets, golf training aids, sports products, medical aids, even innovative audio speaker stands. All are a testament to human ingenuity.

Chris Pearen, design director, said given the amount of details in any product, the process can take time. Product development is often learning from mistakes, and improving along the way.

The majority of projects that Spark deals with are the very first of their kind. They begin with a client's idea and some rough sketches, and continue through 3-D modelling, prototypes and testing. Their customers include individuals, start-ups and large multinational corporations. Spark has earned quite the reputation over more than two decades in the design business.

Pearen said while they're experts, to "tease" the design out of a product, to "find the path through the process."

Vilinsky said they're dealing with brand new products - breakthroughs really - every day. Sometimes, their work is buried deep within corporate portfolios, so they remain as unsung heroes.

Make no mistake, Spark Innovations is a small but prolific firm. They likely have a hand in products that you've come to know and love. And they will undoubtedly be involved in many more in the future.

some of the science comes from the clients. Spark staff largely handles physical composition. "That's where we shine," Pearen said. But they do collaborate with the electronic or scientific experts along the way to produce results.

Even something as simple as a potato masher requires a knowledge of ergonomics and the human form. In fact, these are mainstays of the design elements. The staff at Spark draw every ounce of AI from their software. The designers have to have a broad range of skills to wrap up the products and make them sparkle.

While Spark isn't a marketing company, they do offer some assistance in web design, packaging and product photography. Their work doesn't typically end with the final product.

Vilinsky admitted there are always challenges, but every day is exciting. Bringing an idea to fruition is an "incredible feat."

Pearen said they're in it for the long game. Sometimes, clients have an amazing idea, but it takes a while for the consumer or industry to embrace it. There can be many hurdles along the way.

They often have to educate their clients on the process and the minutiae involved, including sourcing, manufacturing, shipping and patents.

Pearen sees it all like a complex puzzle. "We're trying to crack it; make everything work the way you want it to work," he said. Sometimes, they have

Four charged with vehicle break-ins

Investigators with the York Regional Police #1 District Criminal Investigations Bureau have charged four people and are seeking witnesses and public assistance to identify additional suspects following nighttime thefts from vehicles in the Township of King.

During September 2017, York Regional Police received multiple reports from citizens who had their vehicles broken into and items stolen from them in the area of Keele Street, south of King Road. In some of the cases, the suspects entered vehicles through unlocked doors, but in other cases the suspects broke windows to gain entry. In all of the cases, the suspects were targeting valuables that had been left inside parked vehicles. During one of the vehicle entries, three of the suspects stole a bag that contained keys to a vehicle. They returned a few days later and used the keys to take that vehicle out for a joy ride.

Some of the homeowners in the area were able to provide investigators with video surveillance of suspects as they checked all of the cars in the neighbourhood for valuables. These videos have been integral in identifying four suspects that have now been charged. Investigators are releasing additional surveillance footage and appealing to the public to assist with identifying additional suspects.

Police have charged Paige Henri, 25, of no fixed address, with Theft Under $5,000 from Motor Vehicle; Possession of Break-In Instruments; Possession of Property Obtained by Crime Over $5,000; Fail to Comply With Recognizance.

Joshua Pilling, 22, Zackery Pilling, 23 (both of King), and Cody Strong of Innisfil were all charged with Theft of Motor Vehicle Over $5,000; Possession of Property Obtained by Crime Under $5,000, and Mischief Under $5,000.

Citizens are reminded to remove all of valuables from your vehicles when they are left unattended. Thieves are opportunists and are looking to rummage through vehicles that are unlocked. The most simple and effective way to prevent these thefts is to lock your doors. Please also be sure to report any thefts from vehicles to police as soon as possible.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the #1 District Criminal Investigations Bureau at 1-866-876-5423, ext.7141.

Book examines 'rewilding' animals

By Mark Pavilons

Giving nature back to the original inhabitants is the idea behind a new book by two King Township sisters.

"Rewilding," by Ann Love and Jane Drake, centres on a new strategy – even a movement – for restoring wild places and animals. The idea, Love said, is to start by nurturing landscapes rich in native plants. Then, create corridors between those spaces so that plants and animals are not living in isolated pockets but can move safely from one place to another.

These corridors, she explained, don't have to be completely wild, but wild enough that animals will use them. Finally, reintroduce keystone species native predators to control populations of other species as well as animals that act as eco-engineers such as our beaver to change the landscape naturally and keep it vigorous. So that's cores of wild spaces, corridors between them, and keystone species.

Love admitted there is some controversy concerning how to rewild, such as do we reintroduce wolves and cougars near people? How far back do we go to choose a wild population?

The debate provides "lots of cool ideas to love and hate."

Both Love and Drake love exploring ideas in conservation with kids and having them think about how far it is right to go.

The book is written for children 8 and up but "we know a 4-year-old who loves the spreads on eels and condors."

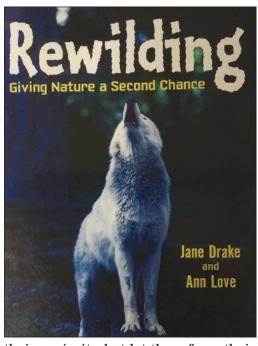

"The subject is important to us because we think today's kids will be making choices in the future about policies for wild spaces. We try to show them the range of discussion, tweak

Township moves ahead on its streetlight retrofit

By Mark Pavilons

King is moving forward on a comprehensive retrofit of its streetlights. While the move to LED lights will pay off in the long run, the discussion around the council table blossomed into a debate on the state of lamp standards across the municipality.

Staff recommended that King enters a fixed-price contract with Ameresco Canada Inc. for replacing streetlights with LEDs. The program will be funded internally, through a loan program. the estimated cost of the project is $1.88 million, and staff anticipate an "economic payback" period of roughly nine years. Ameresco projects payback within 7.8 years.

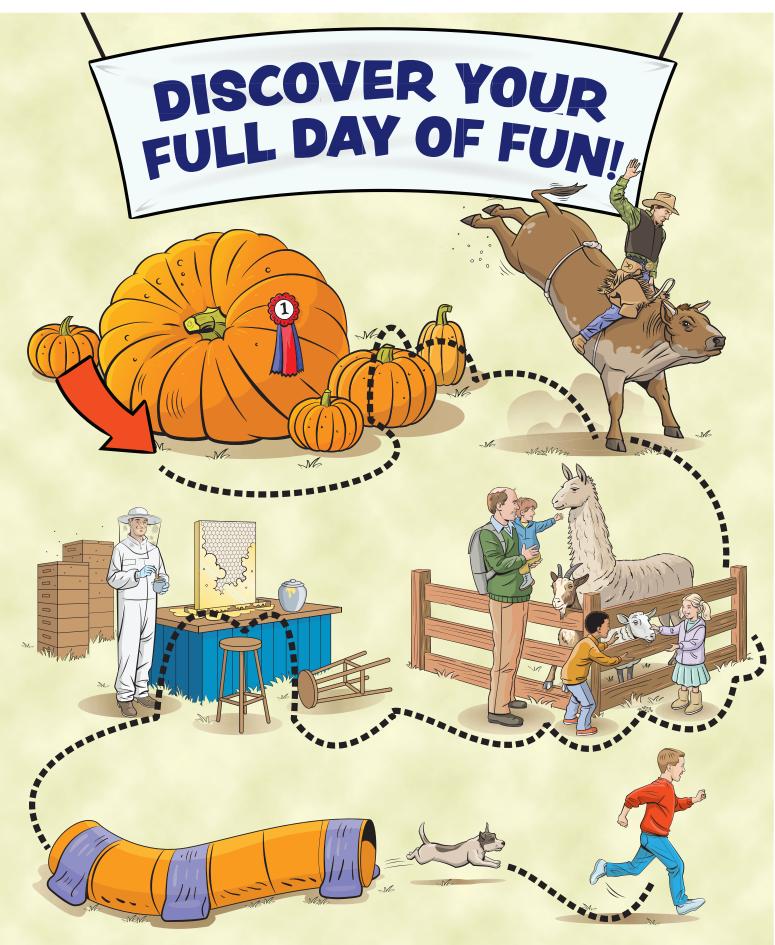

their curiosity, but let them form their own opinions. Some of the ideas in rewilding are really too wild!"

The book is published by Annick Press and is available in all major bookstores and online at Chapters and Amazon. Hardcover sells for $19.95 and soft for $14.95.

BMO King City Branch celebrated their 3rd anniversary and BMO's 200th on Friday, October 27th. Margarida Ramos, Branch Manager expressed how thankful she and her Team are for the wonderful relationships they have built over these last three years. This Team is looking forward to continuing to build on new relationships and continue on serving the wonderful residents of King City.

A review of the inventory revealed King has 2,272 streetlights, and 2,111 are various HPS lights that will be replaced by LEDs. Some 611 already have the LEDs.

These lights will improve visibility, safety and reduce light pollution.

Based on industry estimates, hopes are the Township will see energy savings in the range of 49% to 72%, or upwards of $216,000 annually.

The move to LEDs will result in improved environmental impacts, extended life of the fixtures, lower maintenance cost and reduced hydro demand.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini said he's excited about the program and this unique partnership with Ameresco. He did, however, want staff to make sure that poles get a face lift where necessary. Some require painting and others have to be straightened.

He stressed he doesn't want the Township to do half a job.

Ameresco noted electrical issues and the condition of fuses, pole condition will be inspected when the lights are changed. They will report back if additional improvements are needed.

Councillor David Boyd said he's worried about the deficiencies and the condition of several poles in his ward.

Councillor Cleve Mortelliti said he wants an expanded review of the pole situation across the municipality.

Andrew Drzewiecki, director of engineering, said he will report back on what poles need attention. He did point out that some fall outside of King's jurisdiction and may be owned by York Region.

Uncovering what drives you can drive more in-depth wealth advice.

The critical role emotions and behaviours play in financial decision-making was recently in the spotlight, as a pioneer of behavioural economics, Richard Thaler, was awarded the 2017 Nobel Prize in Economic Science. According to the New York Times, the Nobel committee said it was honouring Professor Thaler for his work in establishing that people are predictably irrational — that they consistently behave in ways that defy economic theory.

Behavioural economics is a broad field of study that explores the effects of psychological, social, cognitive, and emotional factors on economic decisions.

Earlier this year, TD Wealth introduced technology that uses the principles of behavioural finance to enable advisors to better understand a client's financial blind spots and guide them to make more informed financial decisions.

If you suffer from Shoulder Pain (tendonitis/Arthritis) you need to be aware of effective advancements that can eliminate years of pain, suffering, immobility and frustration.

You may have told your doctor you suffer with one or more of the following: sore, stiff, painful shoulder, neck stiffness or pain, hand stiffness, and/ or elbow pain.

You may find that your pain or stiffness affects your work, housekeeping, leisure activities, exercise, sports or other activities. You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your pain. But you find the pain keeps returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of pain pills or anti-inflammatory drugs that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

There is a new, natural, safe and highly effective approach that has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically: Laser therapy uses light to favor and accelerate the body's natural healing process"This new, natural, safe and highly effective approach has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically".

Praise abounds for all who helped make C150 Global Odyssey a success

By Mark Pavilons

Individual achievements are almost always bolstered by a strong support network.

The Canada 150 Global Odyssey involved all hands on deck. In achieving several world firsts, the historic flight involved much more than the commitment and talents of three dedicated pilots.

The trek, which landed King resident Steven Dengler, his father Bob, and ace pilot Rob "Dugal" MacDuff in the history books, was the first Canadian circumnavigation of the world by helicopter, and the first father-son circumnavigation by light aircraft in aviation history.

The team flew the Canadian-made Bell 429 helicopter 36,956 kilometres from July 1 through Aug. 17. The crew visited some 14 countries in all. The Odyssey helped mark Canada's 150th birthday and helped two important charities along the way – Southlake Regional Health Centre Foundation and True Patriot Love Foundation.

Supporters, and even Ontario's Lieutenant Governor Elizabeth Dodeswell, came to offer their praise at a wrap-up reception Sunday at National Helicopters near Bolton.

Dodeswell noted she had a chance to fly with the Denglers over Tobermory prior to the Odyssey, gaining a firsthand glimpse of the Bell 429. She noted the Canada 150 program allowed people to come forward with many projects, dreams and aspirations and the Odyssey was her favourite. "It was a chance to bask in the reflected glory of Canadians who taught us about courage," she said. It provided a real opportunity to showcase Canada to the rest of the world and it even taught us all a lot about our own geography.

She thanked the crew for their storytelling and helping to educate children.

The Odyssey's legacy is "one of open hearts and open minds," she said.

King-Vaughan MP Deb Schulte said the Denglers had a dream and they made King proud. The Odyssey took the story of Canada around the world over 48 days. She said they did it for Canada and helped raise money for the worthwhile charities along the way.

Steven Dengler noted it was their honour to support both Southlake and True Patriot Love. Representatives of both organizations were on hand to offer their thanks to the team.

He stressed this is not the story of three guys, but rather something Canada can be proud of. "Everyone contributed to it," he stressed.

Photographs paint a vivid picture

Steven noted they will be releasing photographs from the Odyssey for educational purposes. Helping the team document the journey was award-winning photographer Peter Bregg.

During a slide show and commentary at the reception, Steven Dengler noted they did their best trying to capture the beauty of the world. But even the dramatic photos don't do Nature justice. He was impressed by the landscape of northern Labrador and the Canadian Arctic, including the Akshayuk Pass on Baffin Island. Other memorable spots included Whitehorse, Yellowknife, and Nome, Alaska.

Dengler has already been invited to publicly speak on the trip. In the near future, he plans to convert the c150go.ca website into a day-by-day retrospective, and also publish a book containing many photos of the historic journey.

A SCHOOL for ROYS

Gender identity is constructed from societal perceptions of what it means to be a boy or girl, and these stereotypes manifest themselves in the daily behaviour of children. To best serve boys, educators must understand their common behaviour as a reflection of the backdrop of societal perceptions of masculinity. It also works to combat these stereotypes so that boys can be the full expression of themselves.

To that end, we are able to tap into a rich, longstanding culture in which boys are able to explore, in safety, the breadth of the human condition, and their unique place within it. In this school culture, artistry and creativity are not labelled as 'feminine;' but rather as human.

Eloquence, both written and spoken, is expected. Self-reflection and the quest for meaning is built into the fabric of the daily routine, whether through Chapel or our Advisory program.

But there is more to it than that. Boys carry a natural wariness for things that are not genuine, and become bored easily when the activity at hand does little to forward their own sense of meaning. To that end, our teachers create an authentic curriculum; help boys find purpose in life; train them to care for themselves and others; and endow them with a sense of personal commitment and integrity. These goals become more realizable in a culture that presupposes one can be much more than what can be offered by the limiting stereotypes of masculinity. «

King Rebellion victorious in inaugural tournament

By Jake Courtepatte

Sometimes one is all you need.

A tense atmosphere filled the Trisan Centre on Sunday afternoon for the final showdown of the inaugural King Classic Tournament, with the hometown Rebellion taking on the rival Stouffville Clippers.

With goaltending as the highlight at both ends, King's goal on a scramble mid-way through the second period was enough to raise the first banner for the budding organization.

The Rebellion's most veteran squad kicked off the tournament on Friday with a 1-1 tie against the TNT Tornados, before a 2-0 shutout of the Barrie

Colts that night.

The A squad then went on a perfect shutout streak for the rest of the tournament, shutting out the Rebellion AE team 5-0 before a 1-0 win over the Clippers in the Sunday morning semis, setting up the afternoon rematch.

The Peewee A and Bantam A Rebellion also reached their division's finals, though they fell to the Markham Waxers and Caledon Hawks respectively.

Orillia was the champion of the tournament's Novice division, while Port Credit took the gold in Atom.

The Rebellion will host their second tournament of the season at the end of November.

Cyclones soccer finish season undefeated

That's a big goose egg in the loss column for the Country Day School Cyclones. The independent school's varsity soccer team finished their CISAA regular season undefeated on Thursday with a 2-2 tie against Holy Trinity School, setting up a cross-division playoff match-up.

They bring their 3-0-2 record into this week's playoff action, hosting 3-2-0 Bay-

King's other independent school, Villanova College, finished atop the division after a 7-0 thumping of Ridley College on Saturday with a record of 4-0-1. They take on the fourth place Greenwood College School of the West division in their respective semifinal.

Express take top spot in Minor Midget AAA rankings

By Jake Courtepatte

Fresh off of a London tournament championship, the York Simcoe Express Minor Midgets took over the number-one spot in the third edition of the bi-weekly OMHA rankings.

A regular season record of 7-0-0 helped the Express pass the 6-0-0 Oakville Rangers, who had held onto the top ranking since the first edition came out in preseason.

Their spotless record is complemented by 63 goals for, with only 6 against, spanning a winning streak total of 19 games.

Flexing their offensive muscle at the Wendy Dufton tournament in London, four of the top six scorers in the high-profile tournament hailed from York Simcoe, with Quinton Byfield leading the way with 17 points in eight games.

He was joined by Ty Collins (five goals, ten assists), Evan Vierling (five goals, eight assists), and Cameron Butler (six goals, seven assists).

"Our focus from day one was to instill a defensive system that would complement the offensive strengths of the group," said head coach Mike De Pellegrin. "This tournament was a chance to match up against the province's best and take our game to the next level."

Winning all eight of their games against both Canadian and American opponents, the Express picked up shutouts in two of their first three games, sweeping their way to a championship matchup with the North York Rangers.

York Simcoe cruised to a 6-1 victory, winning the Wendy Dufton tournament for the second year in a row.

"This championship was a result of our ability to battle adversity, commit to a 'team first' mentality, and focus on the little things away from the puck." The championship ladies team included (back, I to r) Susy Payne- Captain, Stacey Sutherland-Co Captain, Jane Baker, (front) Margot Nimmo, Kim Cormack, Kelly Burt, Carmen Racco and Virginia Coppola.

King City Tennis B2 Ladies Champions

By Stacey Sutherland

It was an early sunny Saturday, Sept. 16, as the King City's B2 team affectionately called the "Pinkies" brought their A game to the Aviva Centre to play for the ICTA Championship Tournament 2017.

The Pinkies finished their summer season with a dominating 52 points, a solid 16 points over the second place team, thus making them the divisional winners. Now the Pinkies had to face the Richmond Hill Country Club team. The matches were very challenging and it was an uncertain finish for the team.

On Line 1 (Captain Susy Payne and Stacey Sutherland) won their match in 2 sets. Line 2 (Kim Cormack and Margot Nimmo) lost in a tough game that was not able to finish due to time constraints. Line 3 (Jane Baker and Virginia Coppola) were also not able to complete the set and they ended with a tie.

It came down to Line 4 (Kelly Burt and Carmen Racco), who won the first set but ran out of time and finished with a 4-4 tie. Two years ago, the Pinkies tied in this tournament but lost by one point when it came down to overall game count.

This time, Richmond Hill Country Club and King City tied in overall game count, but the Pinkies were vindicated to become champions in the end by a one point win when the tie was broken by overall set count.

A great season was had by all. Congratulations to all members of the B2 team (Nancy Fiorillo, Anna Germinario, Helen Solomon, Dorota Tabak and Fran Wardlaw) as everyone contributed to our division win! Thank you to all family and friends that came out to support the team. A special call out to our amazing Captain Susy Payne and tennis pro Jean Landy who brought us to victory. Well done Pinkies!

Sweepers steal the show in curling

By Shellee Morning

Monday night men's league once again is displaying the true grit that it has become known to be. The 2017-18 curling season erupted from the hack like a fire ball reaching speeds that a super hero could never contain. Granite was making contact like the sound of thunder on all 4 sheets last week as these power house teams battled it out end after end.

Sheet two was grabbing the attention of Skips Larry Sheardown and Brad Stronach with some heavy duty hits and superior sweeping. First end Sheardown contained Stronach to a single then he collected a mighty 3 points in the second. Stronach rebounded after Sheardown gave up 3 to bring the score 4-3 for Stronach. Sheardown's squad of Vice Wayne Rhind, Gino DiFebbo and Bryce Clark swept end to end more than once to save the stone in the 4th assisting in a single point for the tie.

In the 5th, Stronach's sweepers Fausto Mussato and Stephen Niepage were also at the mercy of the broom to protect the line but over swept midway allowing Sheardown to set up for a steal of 2 gaining the lead for 6-5. The final 2 ends resulted in Stronach earning one more and Sheardown earning one more for a 7-5 victory for Sheardown.

Team Boynton versus Team Lee turned out to be another close match that had the house full of stones too many numerous times to conquer. Boynton seemingly in control most of the game had a 4-0 lead after 3 ends. Skip Pat Lee and his crew of Vice Trevor Battershell, Jim Earl and John De-Faveri managed to collect 1 in the 4th but Boynton gathered singles in the 5th and 6th for a commanding lead 6-1. It was the sweepers again that stole the show and the Lee Team found themselves with multiple scoring chances in the last 2 ends.

The win went to Boynton but Lee earning 3 more made the score of 6-4 look a lot more presentable and the pain a lot easier to take.

Adult Beginner Program

Friday night curling opened a new platform for beginner curlers this year that allows the beginner to learn the basics of skill and safety of the game.

Stephen Niepage and Fausto Mussato sweep for Dave Chauvin (spare) on Team Stronach during Monday night Men's League.

This Adult Instructional League involves eight consecutive sessions held on Friday evenings alternating between the 7 and 9 p.m. draws.

Each session builds from the previous one progressing through a program designed and approved by the Ontario Curling Association. The club's trained OCA coaches will instruct the proper way to deliver a rock, basic strategy, team play and introduce structured games beginning in the 5th session. Once the program is complete, participants will be encouraged to join the regular Friday night league as they will have graduated to being "game ready" for the second half of the year beginning on Jan. 5, 2018.

In all, 27 participants and 5 coaches filled the 4 sheets all displaying an excited and eager manner to learn. The new approach when working with rookie curlers emphasized stretching beforehand as an injury preventive, and getting used to the gripper and slider immediately.

Participant Bill Barron said that the instructors made our first time being on the ice feel safe by learning the very basics first. "My instructor slightly moved my broom a little closer from where it was (for pushing off in the hack) and that completely changed my balance making the slide a lot easier" said Barron. "I really enjoyed it all."

Bob Belcher, one of the instructors, felt that the first session went really well. "In fact, the enthusiasm from the group was so great they gave a round of applause at the end of the session."

Belcher stated that the gradual start to learning balance on the ice is critical and that once a curler feels safe, the rest of the learning process is made a lot easier. Sweeping, learning which way to curl the rock and determining the weight of the throw are all components of the game that will take the next few weeks to absorb, but when the session is complete these future legends will be one of the hurry hard crew sweeping to victory.

You're invited! - Workshop: November 9th New "Stress Test" an Opportunity for Investors

of Financial Institutions (OSFI) published consult a mortgage broker or a borrow-revised "stress test" guidelines aimed at qualifying requirements for home owners who have uninsured mortgages.

This is expected to have an impact on borrowing and create an opportunity for investors to earn between 8% and 12% annually on private mortgages.

Borrowers with a down payment or equity in their home of under 20% of its value must purchase mortgage insurance, such as CMHC insurance. This insurance protects the lender, not the homeowners.

Uninsured mortgages, where the homeowner has equity in the home of more than 20% of its value, are not required to have this insurance.

The new stress test for uninsured mortgages is meant to ensure that the borrower would be able to service the loan if interest rates become higher than they are today.

The borrower has to qualify for the loan using the greater of:

- the 5 year Bank of Canada benchmark rate (currently 4.89%)
- the rate in the mortgage contract plus 2%

The higher the rate, the more income required or higher equity to be injected.

Here is a case study of the potential impact to a typical borrower: A couple in the Greater Toronto Area wish to purchase a home for $1,000,000 and use a $200,000 down payment. They need an $800,000 first mortgage (uninsured) and are quoted a rate of 3.39%. They currently make $150,000 combined annual income and qualify for this loan.

Under the new rules effective January 1, 2018, the couple would not qualify for this loan. In fact, they would need to prove an extra $25,000 in combined annual income for the same loan. Alternatively, they would have to provide additional equity of $125,000 (total equity of $325,000). They could be required to seek a private mortgage to cover the shortfall.

Each government policy has unintended consequences. The drafter to determine the impact to a typical borrower from an arbitrary stress test.

"We expect significant pain to homeowners in terms of borrowing abilitv and to the real estate market in general. The ability to access credit is critical for the real estate market" says Paolo Abate, CEO of UNION Capital Lending.

> For those wanting to learn more, there will be a free workshop on November 9th in Aurora. Investors will learn how to get involved, and how to examine private mortgage deals in order to maximize returns and reduce risk.

"We anticipate a plethora of private mortgage investment opportunities in 2018 for the average investor with cash or an RRSP," said Victor Camba, a mortgage agent at UNION Capital Lending who specializes in matching borrowers with individual investors. "They will obtain similar benefits that banks enjoy, such as predictable and stable monthly cash flow, and 'bricks and mortar' security."

For those who want to invest in real estate, register online to attend the free workshop. Seating is limited to the first 25 people who register.

The annual Craft & Bake Sale was once again a huge success. The winners of the raffle are: Schomberg's Cathy Tremblay for the Queen-sized quilt (made by our Quilters); Bolton's Cindy Barratt for the Bird House (built by Bill Bible); Nobleton's Harold Restell for the Gift Basket.

Many thanks to Helen Bible for her countless hours spent selling tickets in advance in Nobleton and Schomberg. It was a lot of fun seeing and talking to everyone as they decided on what to buy: baking, dessert pies, meat pies, quilts (large and small), aprons, books, preserves. The BBQ team added to their repertoire of hamburgers and this time also had delicious peameal bacon on a bun. The tea room was nicely decorated and the squash soup and the wedding soups were yummy.

All Nobleton members and adherents are invited to a Community Engagement Meeting on Thursday, Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. Jason Meyers from Five Stones Consulting will be offering a presentation on church branding and looking for input on what it is that makes Nobleton United a unique and distinct church community.

Do you have a relative or friend who served in the military? If so, can you submit their picture (in uniform if possible) along with their name and the dates they served (if available). These will be used for the Remembrance service on Nov. 12. Please send info to minister Carol-Ann Chapman ministernobletonschomberg@gmail.com

The next Messy Church is Tuesday, Nov. 21, from 5 to 7 p.m. The focus is on forgiveness, a "New Start": forgiveness for ourselves and forgiveness towards others. There will be lots of fun activities, as we think about this message. More info next week.

We are looking forward to Holy Humour on Sunday, Nov. 26. There will be a skit, jokes and surprises.

Breakfast with Santa is very popular and will be on Saturday, Dec. 2.

Christmas Eve is a Sunday this year. We are planning to have a family friendly "Christmas Eve Morning" service at 11:15 a.m., with refreshments afterwards. The musically talented Sandra Kirby is back by popular demand.

Our worship services are at 11:15 a.m. Sundays at Nobleton United at 6076 King Rd., Nobleton. Our sister church, Schomberg United, meets at St. Mary's Magdalene at 9:30 am most Sundays, but at the Kitchen Breedon Manor on the first Sunday of the month. For more info, visit nobletonunitedchurch. com, our Facebook page, or call 905-859-3976. The Nobleton United Church office is normally open on Tues., Wed., and Thurs. mornings. Messages are picked up regularly. Nobleton United is on the north side of the King Rd., about 6 buildings west of Hwy 27. We have a big parking lot at the rear of the building, an accessible ramp at the rear of the building, chair lifts and accessible washrooms. We warmly welcome everyone, old and young.

Ladies Volleyball

We play Thursday evenings from 8 to 9:30 p.m. in Nobleton and are looking to add a few players to the roster. If you enjoy playing recreational volleyball and are looking for a social activity on Thursday nights, please call Glenda at 416-561-6016.

Nobleton Lions Club

The Nobleton Lions Club wishes to express its gratitude to the community for the ongoing support it receives. The latest example being the fund raising Cash Draw, which was held at the Library Gazebo on Saturday, Oct. 21. Three prizes were drawn totalling $5,000. The winners are 3rd prize, Hailey Castator ticket number 104; 2nd prize, Walter Long ticket number 784, and 1st prize, Scott Morrison ticket number 463. The funds raised will be a great help in supporting many organizations in and around town.

November 4 is the date for the annual Clothing Drive. Good used clothes and small household articles will be collected. The Lions and the Salvation Army are most encouraged by the strong response in previous years, and send a very big thank you to all who donate. Flyers have been mailed and can be attached to indicate donations.

December features the Annual Skating Party at the arena, with free skating for all, and Santa is planning to come and visit the kids.

The Lions Club is seeking new members at this time. If you are interested in helping your community become a better place to live, while having lots of fun, please call Bob Phillips at 416-522-9675. We will make you more than welcome.

King City United By Earle Laycock

We celebrated Nov. 1 which was All Saints Day. On this day, we remembered those who are named as saints and give thanks for their ministries and witness.

One saint in particular, Martin Luther, nailed his 95 theses on the church door in Wittenberg in 1517. While Martin Luther was a monk, Catholic priest and university theologian, he saw inconsistencies between the scriptures and the church which he hoped could be rectified bringing everyone closer to God. Events spiralled out of Martin's control and the Protestant Reformation was the result. This year is the 500th anniversary of Martin Luther's action.

During worship, Rev. Evelyn also asked that we remember all those who had died during the previous year. Each name was followed by silence and then a bell sounding. She mentioned that many "saints" are still alive even in our church and invited a few people to come forward to acknowledge their contribution in living their faith, often quietly but diligently, in our community. Bible Study group meets on Wednesdays at 10:30 a.m. If you enjoy lively discussion and learning more about the Christian faith, come out and join the group. All that is required is an inquiring mind.

Sunday, Nov. 5 will be Remembrance Sunday. The Sparks, Brownies, Guides, Pathfinders and Rangers will once again be taking part in the worship service. This is also the weekend we set our clocks back an hour. If you forget and arrive early, please put the coffee on!

Mark your calendars for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 24 and 25. "The Dinner and Show" is returning. Lots of good music, laughter and roast beef dinner makes for a great evening. Contact our Office Administrator Kristen (905-833-5181) to book your tickets. Tickets are $30 per adult.

The United Church Women are collecting good used children's coats (sizes 6-16) and boots to send up north. Please put the items in a bag and label them UCW. The bags can be left in the chapel for pickup.

Are your Friday mornings free? Why not join us for breakfast at King City Sunset Grill at 10 a.m. We usually are seated at the table to the right of the en-

We welcome you to join us for Worship service on Oct. 29 as we welcome special speaker, Kevin Van Dyken!

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning "Celebration Zone" provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in JK-Grade 8 will be in the service for the beginning until they are invited to go downstairs.

If you have children aged 0-3 then we invite you to bring them to our beautiful and safe Nursery facilities which are located on the lower level.

Caregivers will meet you there.

We invite everyone to join us each Tuesday at 6:45 for our Legacy Family nights! Everyone – adults and children – will be doing the Transformed series.

The adults will meet upstairs and the children (nursery-Grade 8) will meet downstairs.

New adult Legacy studies begin Nov. 7. Loving God And Others: The Heart Of True Faith (a Precept study).

Jesus's great command is to love God and others. This study will use the study of Bible passages to challenge you to live out these commands. Discover how obeying Jesus's simple commands will transform your life and also the lives of those around you. The 5 Love Languages: The Secrets to Love That Lasts by Gary Chapman is an insightful study that reveals how different people express love in different ways. Join us to discover your Love Language and to learn principles that will help you to meet your spouse's unique needs. Soon you will know the deep satisfaction and joy of being able to express your love and feel truly loved in return.

We have a Poinsettia Fundraiser again this year. The flowers and arrangements are from Terra Nurseries. Orders and payments are due by Nov. 12. Pick up is Saturday, Nov. 25 in the church hall, between 1 and 4 p.m. All monies raised, after the costs, will go to support our Syrian refugee family. Please call the church office 905-833-5432 or Bridget 905-539-0140 for more information.

Horticulture By John Arnott

Taking my cue from Mother Nature, I always waited until early spring to clean up in the garden but I had to be so careful not to stand on plants just poking up through the soil or raking the buds off tiny spring flowers I'd waited all winter long to see bloom.

So I switched to fall clean up. I rake up all the red and gold treasure my trees drop on my lawn – the neighbours think I do it now for them but these leaves make wonderful compost and it's free! I cut and compost all my healthy spent hosta, bleeding heart, and peony leaves as well as annual plants.

The Nobleton-King City Horticultural Society says if you have a vegetable garden rake it free of spent fruit and foliage – any diseased fruit or foliage should be garbaged or burned but never composted. Once cleaned down to bare ground spread composted cattle manure over it and dig it in.

Dig up calla lily bulbs and the tubers/corms of canna lilies, dahlias and begonias wash them off and leave them for a few hours to dry in a sunny non freezing place where they won't get frosted if left over night. Once dry pack them in a medium such as vermiculite, perlite or peat moss and store them in a cool place where they won't freeze Know that if tubers/bulbs/corms or medium is not completely dry mould will set in.

Wait till spring to prune buddleias back to ground level.

Wait until ground freezes before putting down mulch especially on perennials as by then critters such as mice will have made other winter housing arrangements an so won't hunker down in your mulch and use the underlying plant as a salad bar. For the same reason wait until then to hill roses.

Clean off tools including shovels, rakes, hoes, cutters, clippers, garden stakes, tomato cages, urns/containers and wheelbarrows thoroughly to rid them of any harmful bacteria before storing them away till next season.

Tulips can be planted successfully up until the ground hard freezes. Plant bulbs point up 6in. to1 ft./15 to 30 cm deep in a well draining place that gets full sun. It's a wee bit late to plant daffodils hyacinths and snowdrops but members of N-KCHS say go ahead there's a good chance they'll bloom come spring. Several members have done so with success.

Plant daffs as tulips, hyacinths about 6 to 8 in./15 to 20 cm deep and snowdrops about 4 in./10 cm deep – all need full sun

The Nobleton -King City Horticultural Society remembers and asks all to proudly wear that poppy!

Anglican Parish By John Arnott

Simply the best place to be between 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 4 is the hall of Kettleby's historic fieldstone Christ Church (Anglican-circa 1891) on Kettleby Rd. mid way between Jane and Keele Sts. as members of the congregation host their annual Fall Tea and Sale, a Kettleby tradition for over 100 years.

The bake tables will be just overflowing with country style homemade baking. As well there'll be field fresh produce,treasures old and new that will make great gifts or keepsakes and a good selection of books for browsing and buying. Of course make time to relax solo or with friends to enjoy the best cup of tea or coffee you'll ever taste and served in china cups with saucers, along with delicious treats to tempt even the most jaded palate.

Come early for the best selection – the home baking sells fast.

In the Anglican Parish of Lloydtown Holy Communion services are held most Sunday mornings at 9:30 a.m. in Christ Church, Kettleby (with coffee/ tea hour following) and at 11:15 a.m. in St. Mary Magdalene's, 116 Church in Schomberg. These services are open to all.

Sunday past we welcomed Alexandra Spencer as guest organist at St. Mary Magdalene's.

This Sunday, Nov. 5, both churches

This week, the Worship service is at the Kitchen Breedon Manor at 9:30 a.m. Please park in the joint parking lot off Main St., beside the King Township library. There will be refreshments afterwards. There are nice comfortable chairs to sit on for the service!

Do you have children or grandchildren aged 10 to 16? If so, they are welcome to attend the Schomberg Youth Club on Friday evenings, 7-9 p.m., at the Schomberg Public School.

Schomberg United, meets at St. Mary's Magdalene, 116 Church St., at 9:30 a.m. most Sundays, but at the Kitchen Breedon Manor on the first Sunday will hold Remembrance Day observances as part of the regular Holy Communion as Lloydtown Parish pauses and remembers with gratitude. Proudly wear that poppy.

Please remember the Tuesday candlelight early morning Lauds (prayer) services at dawn – 6:30 to 7 a.m. fondly called the yawn services! All are warmly welcome to attend. Feel free to bring coffee/tea from home or Tim's.

Over 140 young people from all over the Anglican Diocese of Toronto attended a retreat in Muskoka this past weekend. There was time for learning and time for fun. Old friendships were renewed and new ones made. Rev Sheilagh Ashworth Regional Dean of the Holland (the area drained by the Holland River) was guest speaker

If you like bowling join Lloydtown parishioners going to Skyview Lanes in Bolton at 3:30 p.m. Cost (shoes included) is adults $9; teens $8.50; seniors $6. Car-pooling can be arranged. Call church office 905-939-2314 if you plan to come and for more information.
