Minimum wage bill has far-reaching impacts

By Mark Pavilons

The provincial Bill 148 not only sets a new minimum wage standard, but its impacts will hit taxpayers where it hurts. Provisions of the bill extend to include wage parity and even impact volunteer firefighters.

All of this could add a significant financial burden to municipalities like King Township.

As King councillors and staff prepare the 2018 budget, this matter is causing some concern.

Councillor Bill Cober, at the last council meeting, asked staff about the potential impacts of Bill 148, Fair Workplaces, Better Jobs Act, 2017.

Treasurer Allan Evelyn said everyone needs to be mindful about the changes this act brings. He said it will result in changes to salary grids and will affect King's volunteer firefighters. The implications, he said, are "enormous.

"The financial burden is real," he stressed.

REGULAR

Cober stressed it's important for everyone – especially the public – to be aware of these sweeping impacts and significant costs associated with Bil 148.

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF OFFICIAL PLAN AMENDMENT #91 TOWNSHIP OF KING OFFICIAL PLAN UNDER FILE NUMBER OP-2011-06

The Council of the Corporation of the Township of King passed By-law Number 2017-98 on the 13th day of November, 2017 under Section 17 of the Planning Act, R.S.O, 1990, as amended, to adopt Official Plan Amendment #91 to the Official Plan for the Township of King (Schomberg Community Plan OPA47).

This notice is sent pursuant to Chapter P.13, Section 17(23) of the Planning Act, R.S.O., 1990. The lands affected by this Amendment are municipally known as 17250 Highway 27, Schomberg, ON, and legally described as Part Lot 34, Concession 9, Township of King, Regional Municipality of York (Refer to the Key Map below). PURPOSE AND EFFECT

The purpose and effect of this Amendment is to amend the King Township Official Plan as follows:

• To adopt Official Plan Amendment #91 for the Township of King Planning Area. Specifically, the amendment concerns those lands located on the east side of Cooper Drive south of Dr. Kay Drive in the Village of Schomberg. It is municipally known as 17250 Highway 27 and legally described as Part Lot 34, Concession 9. The surrounding land uses consist of a commercial plaza development to the east, medium density residential to the south, Dufferin Marsh wetland complex to the west and Stormwater Management Pond for the commercial plaza to the south. The development area is currently vacant and designated as Environmental Constraint Area in the Schomberg Community Plan (OPA 47), which would limit uses to conservation and environmental preservation.

• Amendment #91 amends the development area as identified on the property from "Environmental Constraint Area" to a "Medium Density Residential Area" to allow for the development of four (4) townhouses fronting onto Cooper Drive. The proposed new lots are to be serviced by municipal water supply and the municipal sanitary service.

Comments received and considered during the public meeting of March 28th, 2012 and March 9th, 2015 were summarized and included in the Planning Department Recommendation Report (P-2017-39). The report is available on the Township's website www.king.ca. Comments identified concerns of potential development and drainage impacts to the adjacent wetland and wildlife of the Dufferin Marsh and concerns over high salt content in the pond. Further concerns raised included the need for greater setback and vegetative buffers to be applied between the development and environmental features and potential noise pollution and traffic concerns. Comments also stressed the importance of the need to provide ongoing maintenance of the stormwater pond and concerns that development was taking place in a flood plain area. All comments have been taken into consideration during the review of the application and have been responded to both generally and specifically throughout the reports. Based on these comments, Council adopted a final version of the Amendment, which is available on the Township's website at www.king.ca.

The land to which the Official Plan Amendment applies is also subject to an amendment to the Zoning By-laws (File No. Z-2014-10), and was also approved by the Township. The site specific Zoning By-laws (2017-91 and 2017-92) rezones a portion of the above noted subject lands to a site specific Residential – Townhouse zone and Environmental Protection (EP) zone to allow for the development of four (4) townhouses and to recognize the existing stormwater management pond in the Dufferin Wetland Complex. The site specific by-law seeks relief to the amenity area, height and front yard and side yard setbacks to permit the development of the townhouses.

Any person or public body will be entitled to receive notice of the decision of the approval authority if a written request to be notified of the decision (including the person's or public body's address) is made to the approval authority. The approval authority is the Regional Municipality of York, 17250 Yonge Street, Newmarket, ON L3Y 6Z1.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Copies of this Amendment are available for inspection at the Township of King Planning Department under File No. OP-2011-06 at 2075 King Road, King City, Monday to Friday 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m., Telephone 905-833-5321.

NOTICE OF PASSING OF ZONING BY-LAWS (2) BY THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF KING

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of King passed By-law Numbers 2017-91 and 2017-92 on the 30th day of October, 2017 under Section 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O, 1990.

AND TAKE NOTICE that any person or agency may appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board in respect of the by-laws by filing with the Clerk of the Corporation of the Township of King not later than the 4th day of December, 2017 a notice of appeal setting out the objection to the by-law (s) and the reasons in support of the objection, together with 1 cheque in the amount of $300.00 (certified cheque or money order only) payable to the Minister of Finance to cover the Ontario Municipal Board fee, and a cheque for $210.00 representing the Clerk's Department Administrative processing fee, payable to the Township of King. Should this date fall on a holiday or weekend, you will have until 4:30 p.m. of the next business day to file your appeal. If you wish to appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board, a copy of an appeal form is available from the Ontario Municipal Board website at www.omb.gov.on.ca or from the Township of King Clerk's Department. Please note the Board will only accept filing fee payments by certified cheque or money order.

Only individuals, corporations and public bodies may appeal a by-law to the Ontario Municipal Board. A notice of appeal may not be filed by an unincorporated association or group. However, a notice of appeal may be filed in the name of an individual who is a member of the association or the group on its behalf.

No person or public body shall be added as a party to the hearing of the appeal unless, before the by-law was passed, the person or public body made oral submissions at a public meeting or written submissions to the council or, in the opinion of the Ontario Municipal Board, there are reasonable grounds to add the person or public body as a party.

Comments received and considered during the public meeting of March 28th, 2012 and March 9th, 2015 were summarized and included in the Planning Department Recommendation Report (P-2017-39). King Fire continues to be an innovative leader

By Mark Pavilons

As the final touches are being put on King's Fire Master Plan, the municipality is poised to become the first in Canthe implementation of the joint Collaboration and Innovation Report, King Fire and Emergency Services hopes to attain accreditation with the ada to receive international excellence. Commission on Fire Accreditation In-

Legislation costly for all employers

King CAO Susan Plamondon said they've had discussions with staff at Queen's Park, who said the intention of the bill was not to impact emergency services. Municipalities have been assured, but so far, no word has come from the Province. What's needed, she said, are amendments to the Act.

The proposed changes address rates of pay, dates and times employees are scheduled to work and/or be on call, as well as working on public holidays.

All of these things, Plamondon said, will impact how the Township schedules its staff.

The Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO) shares local concerns.

AMO President Lynn Dollin was at Queen's Park, advocating for changes that would ensure effective and affordable public safety/emergency response.

"We depend on on-call and stand-by workers to step in during major storms, disasters and other emergencies," said Dollin. "Collective agreements are negotiated to reflect these unique roles, and ensure fair compensation and treatment for these important workers."

Dollin is seeking amendments to fix the unintended consequences of Bill 148. For example, the bill would require matching pay for full-time and stand-by workers, and additional payments for on-call work, even volunteer firefighters.

"The Province agrees that municipal governments weren't the intended target of this bill. In fact municipal governments are employers of choice within their communities," Dollin said.

"Across Ontario municipal costs are already rising at about $1 billion per year, often driven by provincial laws and this is a text book example," Dollin added. "If they don't amend the bill, municipalities will be forced to either greatly increase property taxes, reduce local services - or both."

Tom Allen, president of the King Chamber of Commerce, said the legislation is far more costly for all employers.

"What do we think employers will do? Cut jobs, reduce service, increase prices," he said. "Look for municipalities to increase taxes to pay for the Province's new rules. I do not understand why governments think the economy is static and impacts are clear. The economy is dynamic, for every action there are several reactions."

With the master plan in place and ternational (CFAI). Accreditation is a was a joint venture among King, Georcomprehensive assessment and quality improvement model that leads to a more efficient and effective emergency service organization. The CFAI accreditation process provides a well-defined, internationally-recognized benchmark system to measure the quality of fire and emergency services.

> Through this accreditation, KFES will continually improve and build on its already stellar reputation.

> According to Lyle Quan, CFO, Emergency Management & Training Inc., if successful, King will be the first in Canada, and second in North America, to reach this "milestone of excellence." It will make King a cutting-edge service.

> Mayor Steve Pellegrini said he's "super proud" of this. "This is proof that we are one of the finest services. We should sing it loud and proud."

> Quan noted the approval of the FMP and Collaboration and Innovation report will form the guiding documents and give Fire Chief Jim Wall a clear direction.

gina, East Gwillimbury, Whitchurch-Stouffville services. They've combined efforts to find innovative efficiencies over the past 10 to 15 years. The CAOs of the Northern 6 municipalities continue to work together to streamline these efficiencies even further. On th horizon will be ground-breaking service delivery options.

A high level assessment was done to examine areas of improvement among the N6 in 2016. A number of strategic and operational areas were identified and have become part of the Collaboration and Innovation initiative.

"The Collaboration and Innovation Report will be an effective tool to proactively address King Township's ever-changing needs for service and to work jointly with the surrounding fire services for service improvement, increased economic stability and cost-effective hazard management strategies that considers our existing conditions and anticipates overall community growth," said Chief Wall.

Facing the challenges in health care delivery

Our home and native land is pretty impressive when it comes to health care.

In many ways, we're the envy of the world for our universal health care system. Southlake Regional Health Centre in Newmarket is on the leading edge.

The hospital boasts some pretty impressive stats. Southlake is known as a leading cardiac and cancer facility, but also offers six other regional programs. Its cancer program was named number one in the province for the past three years in a row. The cardiac care is also very impressive. These put Southlake in the same league as Princess Margaret and Sunnybrook.

Leveraging technology, improving health transformation and expanding home and community care are three areas that need to be addressed.

Southlake is part of an innovative, patient record-sharing technology, along with Markham-Stouffville and Stevenson Memorial hospitals.

The hospital has but 408 beds and had 23,480 in-patient admissions as well as 372,457 out-patient visits in 2015/16. The emergency department saw 106,945 visits. Its 2,984 staff and 548 doctors conducted 323,096 diagnostic exams; 27,496 CT scans and 18,923 MRI scans in that period.

The cardiac program performed 6,288 catheterizations; 1,077 heart surgeries; 2,362 angioplasties; implanted 1,226 pacemakers and defibrillators.

Its regional cancer program saw 57,624 outpatients; supported 10,078 chemotherapy and other treatments and conducted 26,015 radiation fractions.

I can't even fathom some of these impressive stats. Thousands upon thousands of people are helped each and every day.

There's no question that attain such care, our system performs poorly on a levels requires expertise, efficiency, staff and yes, plenty of money.

Delivery health care is a real challenge, and it will only get more difficult in the years to come.

Canada is one of highest spenders among universal health-care countries, but ranks near bottom on number of doctors and wait times.

Despite spending more on health care than almost every other comparable country with universal health care, Canada ranks near the bottom in the number of physicians and acute care beds, and suffers from the longest wait times, finds a new study released by the Fraser Institute, an independent, non-partisan Canadian public policy think-tank.

"Canadians pay a lot for their universal health-care system, but compared to other countries with universal health

Barua, associate director of health policy studies at the Fraser Institute and dicators, with no patients reporting havco-author of Comparing Performance ing had to wait more than four months of Universal Health Care Countries, for elective surgery. Germany has twice 2017.

The study compares 29 universal health-care systems in developed countries, spotlighting several key areas including cost, availability and use of resources, access to care and treatment, clinical performance and quality, and system, policymakers should learn the health status of patients.

In 2015, the most recent year of comparable data, Canada's health-care spending as a share of GDP (10.6 per cent) ranked third highest, after adjusting for age, behind only Switzerland and France.

But despite the high cost, Canada ranks poorly on a number of important indicators.

For example, Canada ranks 25 out of 29 countries for number of physicians (2.7 per 1,000 people). And last for the number of acute care beds - 2.1 per 1.000 people.

And when it comes to critical technologies, Canada ranks 20 out of 27 for the number of Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) machines with 9.8 MRI scanners per million people.

As for wait times, among the 10 comparable countries with universal health care for which data is available, Canada performed the worst with the highest percentage of patients (30 per cent) percentage of patients (18 per cent) who it's there when we need it. waited four months or longer for elec-

Germany performed best on both inthe population of Canada.

"Despite Canada's high health-care spending, we continue to struggle with long wait times, which remain a defining characteristic," Barua said.

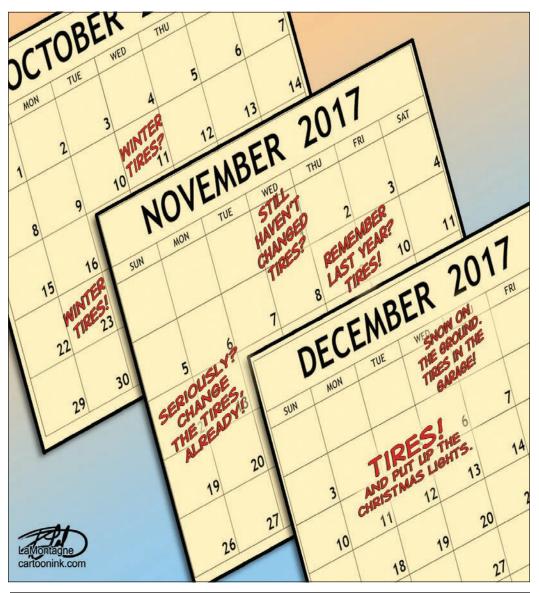

"To improve Canada's health-care from other successful universal healthcare countries, for the benefit of Canadians and their families."

Just recently, I read an article about patients being left in the hallways at Brampton Civic Hospital. My mother spent almost six months there several years ago. I remember being quite impressed with the spaciousness and cleanliness of this hospital. Staffing did seem a little sparse for the size of this place, though.

I'm no expert in the field of health care. We've all had friends and family members treated by physicians, specialists, even surgeons and oncologists. Some have some great stories to tell, others, well ...

I believe that those who are knee-deep in the field are trying their best. They're working with some tight budgets and yet they're still engaging in some very progressive and impressive expansions and innovations.

Like everything in our ever-changwho waited two months or longer for a ing society, health care will go through specialist appointment, and the highest more evolutions. As a taxpayer, I hope

Ontario makes it easier for businesses to buy green vehicles

Ontario is helping businesses buy low-carbon vehicles and technologies that reduce emissions and foster sustainable development.

The new program will provide rebates towards the purchase of alternative-fuel vehicles and fuel-saving technologies, making it more affordable for local businesses to own and operate greener vehicles. Eligible vehicles and devices being considered under the program include electric and natural gas-powered trucks, aerodynamic devices, anti-idling devices and trailer refrigeration units.

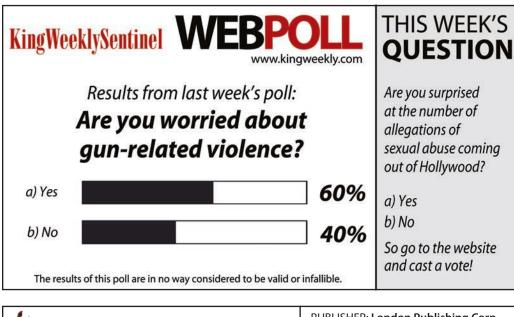

The program will encourage more businesses to make the switch to low-carbon vehicles to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from transportation, a sector that generates about a third of Ontario's total greenhouse gas emissions.

In 2015, the transportation sector accounted for 33 per cent of Ontario's greenhouse gas emissions. In that same year, 31 per cent of Ontario's total transportation sector greenhouse gas emissions came from the road-based movement of freight.

Greenhouse gas emissions from road-based movement of freight in Ontario have doubled from 1990 to 2014.

The Climate Change Action Plan and carbon market form the backbone of Ontario's strategy to cut greenhouse gas pollution to 15 per cent below 1990 levels by 2020, 37 per cent by 2030 and 80 per cent by 2050. The government will report on the plan's implementation annually and review the plan at least every five years.

"Creating a low-carbon economy is vital to the province's continued economic success. The Green Commercial Vehicle Program will help businesses invest in fuel-saving technologies that will reduce greenhouse gas emissions. We're committed to working with our partners and local businesses to modernize the way we do business and keep Ontario an attractive and sustainable place to work," said Daiene Vernile, parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Transportation.

Coppa's Fresh Market donates $100,000 to the Princess Margaret Cancer Centre

Through various fundraising efforts, Coppa's Fresh Market has donated $100,000 to The D'Elia GU Robotic Surgery & Research Fund benefiting the Princess Margaret Cancer Centre.

Actions are louder than words - this is one of the core values upon which the Louie Coppa family operates. This is why for the month of July, the Louie Coppa family introduced a reusable bag campaign, ultimately raising over $40,000 towards the fund.

Coppa's Fresh Market also held a highly successful wine tasting event over the summer that raised an additional $20,000.

On Nov. 1, Coppa's hosted a celebratory wine and cheese event at which John Coppa presented a cheque to The D'Elia GU Robotic Surgery & Research Fund and Princess Margaret Cancer Centre totaling $100,000 - a number achieved thanks to additional funds provided by Coppa's Fresh Market to round up the cheque amount.

The Louie Coppa family wishes to thank everyone for their overwhelming support in attaining this incredible $100,000 milestone.

The D'Elia Fund supports robotic surgery for genitourinary (prostate, kidney, testicular, bladder) cancer patients and advances research looking into biomarkers for the disease. Donations can be made online at www.deliafund.com.

Coppa's Fresh Market is a family-owned and operated grocery store chain in the GTA, with its flagship store in King City.

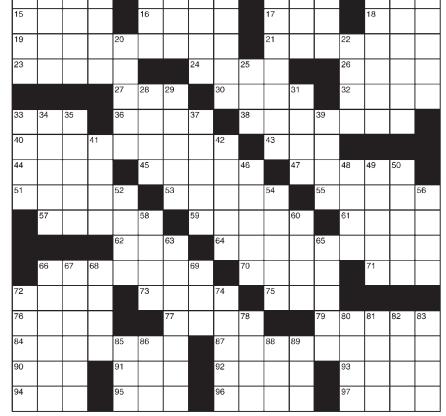

King for Refugees settlement workshop

King for Refugees invites all interested community members to join us for a Sponsorship and Settlement Workshop on Saturday, Nov. 18 from 10 a.m. to noon at the Lions' Den, King City Arena. Speaker Ian McBride, from AURA, will lead the workshop. Ian has over 40 years of experience with refugee sponsorship. He is one of the pioneers who designed the Canadian Private Sponsorship Program. Ian is an entertaining speaker who explains the principles and good practices of sponsorship using anecdotes from his years of experience.

Please RSVP to king4refugees@gmail.com.

Schomberg's Ken Hodgson remembers Cold Creek days

By Bill Wilson

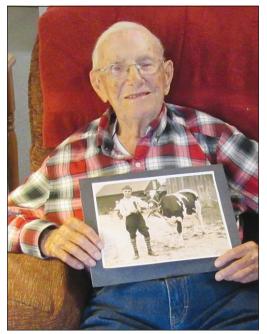

Ken Hodgson is a 94-year-old resident of Schomberg. He has lived in King Township area all his life. He remembers the Cold Creek area with evident pleasure.

I first heard of Ken Oct. 21 when I attended the celebration of the completion of the external renovations of the Cold Creek English Wheat Barn in Cold Creek Conservation Area. This barn has been renovated over the last few years with the assistance of King Township and the non-profit Cold Creek Stewardship.

We Stewardship members had considered this Wheat Barn as an outstanding example of King Township's agricultural past. The Cold Creek Conservation Area is becoming an increasingly popular destination for day-trippers to enjoy nature. We knew about Cold Creek almost entirely from rather dry history, photos and maps.

We were glad to have Ken give us a much livelier picture of life in the Cold Creek area. Ken's friend Louis Theriault and I met Ken at his home Oct. 23.

Ken was born in 1922 at his 200-acre family farm on 10th Line King Township. Ken's parents Christopher and Annie bought the farm from Joseph Hunter. Ken recalls his address as RR#3 Lloyd Town P.O. He attended school nearby at SS # 7. He and his family attended the "Scotch" St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on the 10th Line which included a protected cemetery plot full of local pioneers.

Ken was an enthusiastic member of the Calf Club (a predecessor of the 4H club for young farmers) in the 1930s. He won first prize for his calf presentation at the Oct. 13, 1935 Schomberg Fair. The calf was a purebred registered Holstein dairy cow. Ken recalls that he later gave the calf to his older brother William as a wedding present.

Dairy cattle were a big part of Ken's early life. In the late 1930s and early 1940s Ken helped out the pioneer Cairns family descendents and owners of the Wheat Barn. The Cairns farm was just south of Ken's home. Ken would walk less than a kilometre over to the Cairns farm house every day to milk the cows in the Wheat Barn. The barn usually held about 20 cows and four horses for other farm work. Ken described trying to finish the milking before dark as the barn had no hydro yet. But sometimes he recalled working later by lamp light. The milk was picked up by truck driver Rov Roundtree from Silverwoods Dairy. The milk containers were stout steel cans about 3 feet high which could hold about 80 pounds of milk. These steel cans are rarely seen now except at antique shops were people buy them for potted plants or umbrellas on their porches. The Cairns cows would daily pasture after May the first on fields nearby the Wheat Barn but did not go down to the wetland as they were supplied with well water at the barn trough.

The Cairns sisters Ann and Margaret (then in their 60s) were kindly with Ken and would serve Ken his lunch and dinner each day. Ken well remembers the Cairn's 2-storey grey cinder block home that was located a couple hundred feet west of the Wheat Barn. This home was demolished in the 1960s (after the Conservation Authority purchased the farm) and is remembered by a sign at the home site. Ken recalled the Cairns sisters were assisted by a farm manager Jack Golder who came from Coventry in nearby Caledon area but usually lived at the Cairns house. During those years Ken was impressed by the huge flocks of Canada geese migrating northwards in the spring. He remarked that many geese now seemed to stay in the King Township area rather than migrate.

out the Second World War having a Nobleton where he lived for several farm employment deferral. Ken married Margaret Johnston in 1947 and they had four daughters – Judy, Jane, Cathy, and Lori.

Ken sold his dairy herd in 1964 and ons Club.

Ken continued farm work through- his family farm in 1967 and moved to vears. He worked at Malton Airport for 20 years. He currently resides at Kitchen Breedon Manor.

Ken is a member of the Nobleton Li-

Ken Hodgson and his 1st prize winning dairy calf, taken Oct. 13, 1935 at the Schomberg Fair.

Pamper yourself with the ultimate in luxury air travel

By Mark Pavilons

"Don't be afraid to give up the good to go for the great."

John D. Rockefeller

Former U.S. Vice-President Al Gore once said that commercial airplane travel has a habit of making you look like your passport photo.

On the flip-side, private jet travel is a way to make you look and feel like a million bucks. And given today's fastpaced competitive world, it makes perfect business sense.

Business aviation is becoming more popular and meets the needs for today's entrepreneurs and corporate executives. Hiring a private jet, when you need it, fits the bill.

King Township is home to some of the GTA's corporate elite. For some, making a lunch meeting in New York City and then being home in Toronto for a Raptors' game is commonplace. And the only way to accomplish this is to fly, and fast.

That's where companies like Exe-caire come in. Execaire, a division of the IMP Group Limited, is Canada's longest-serving prestigious corporate aircraft company. Execaire provides a comprehensive range of professional services on a local, regional, and international scale.

Peter McCarthy, owner of Hard at Work Inc., King's niche luxury home builder, raves about Execaire's services. Some of McCarthy's customers are those very same high-profile business owners who simply need to make a meeting or seal a deal, often at short notice. They don't have time to wait in line at the airport for a commercial flight.

McCarthy said the benefits of private jet travel is the sheer convenience. There's no waiting, no delays and no need to arrive two hours ahead of time. You simply drive up to the aircraft, get on board and you're whisked away. When you arrive, you're processed through private customs quickly and then off to that meeting or event.

With the smaller, faster corporate jets, you fly direct and can land at smaller, sometimes more remote airports.

Commercial air travel today, given the current security measures, has many limitations regarding smart devices. On a private charter, you're free to bring your laptop and tablet and even conduct confidential business meetings in the quiet luxury of the cabin.

Execaire recently debuted its newest aircraft, the prestigious Legacy 450, made by Embraer.

McCarthy noted during his career, he's travelled the world over in corporate jets, and the Legacy 450 is by far the nicest in its class. Quite frankly, it raises the bar in luxury and comfort.

The Legacy 450 is the first jet in its class to replace conventional controls with full fly-by-wire technology. An innovative side-stick control and synthetic vision system also ensures pilots and passengers won't find a smoother flight. It has a range of 4,260 kilometres and a top speed of 1,017 km/h.

With a high speed cruise of Mach 0.82, the Legacy 450 is the fastest midlight jet in the air. It's also capable of taking off and landing on shorter runways, giving clients access to more airports around the world.

Embraer was awarded certificates by the National Aeronautic Association (NAA) for speed records set by three of its jets, including the Legacy 450. It set new speed records on three flights in the United States, and between Australia and Indonesia.

It has the largest cabin in its class and is the first to market with a 6-foot-trip, contact Execaire at 1-866-821-1117 tall cabin and flat floor, as well as two or visit http://www.execaire.com fully berthable club seat options that recline flat to create beds. It's the ultimate in luxury, McCarthy noted, adding it actually elevates the travelling experience and becomes a joy, not a pain. The spacious cabin promotes a comfortable, stress-free environment, conducive to doing business or just relaxing. When he travels, he orders take-out from King City restaurants Locale and Roost Cafe and brings it on board. For those whose work and lifestyle allow it, it's the only way to travel. McCarthy pointed out that on a more practical level, if eight of your friends share the ride to watch the Blackhawks or Rangers, it would cost them roughly the same as a last-minute commercial flight. The wealthy today have an appetite for high-end luxury automobiles and even multi-million-dollar super cars. Just drive through any of King's exclusive neighbourhoods and you'll see multi-bay, even multi-level garages for their prized automobiles.

For them, traveling on a Legacy is something they've come to rely on.

Execaire also boasts an industry leading safety record.

The Legacy's success and the increasing demand for executive aircraft in virtually all market segments, led Brazil-based Embraer to fully commit to executive aviation in 2005 with the formation of Embraer Executive Jets. Today, nearly 800 Embraer executive jets are operating in over 50 countries and among business aircraft manufacturers, Embraer Executive Jets offers the broadest executive jets portfolio.

Vince's Market continues expansion

By Brock Weir

Just two months after expanding their operations into Tottenham, Vince's Market is ready to experience another growth spurt.

The supermarket announced it is making further inroads into the community both from a retail and charitable perspective with a key expansion into Upper Canada Mall and the launch of their "The Community Product" program.

Vince's announced both initiatives Nov. 8 at their annual Partner Vendor Meeting at King's Cardinal Golf Club.

The new small footprint store at Newmarket's Upper Canada Mall will take pride of place in the mall's ongoing 40,000- square-foot redevelopment project which will result in the Oxford Food Market.

Strategically positioned near the entrance, it will be an expansive retail space incorporating vendors with products ranging from farm fresh produce, soups and salads, snacking options and dairy.

"We are looking forward to the opportunity to serve new customers in this new format market, with many other operators of excellence," said Brian Johns, partner and Vince's director of operations. "Our commitment to quality, freshness and convenience will be a great match for Oxford Market. This project will create a unique vibe, a different experience for shoppers."

Coupled with their fresh and prepared options, the new space will also allow for a pick-up location for Vince's "Entertaining Made Easy" program where customers can enjoy fresh platters, custom baskets and cakes ordered online or in-store.

Closer to home, Vince's is also poised to launch a new program enabling the business to give back to the communities in which they operate.

Firefighters turkey shoot

The King City firefighters will be holding their annual turkey shoot to raise funds for the charities that they support. The turkey shoot will be held on Nov. 25. The public may meet firefighters this month offering a chance to win a turkey and support this worthy charities.

Giancarlo Trimarchi and Brian Jones, partners of Vince's Market, presenting at Vince's Markets Annual Vendor Meeting, held Nov. 8 at Cardinal Golf Course, in King Township.

Earlier this year, Vince's owners Carmen Trimarchi, Giancarlo Trimarchi and Brian Johns were honoured by York Region photographer Karen Merk in her annual touring exhibition Portraits of Giving, which salutes individuals in all nine York Region Municipalities, along with area first responders and youth, who give back to the community in various ways.

Not content to rest on their laurels, Vince's is set to launch "The Community Product" in 2018, a program which will identify a key product within stores each advertising period and 15 per cent of all sales of that particular product will benefit a community project selected by each location in Tottenham, Newmarket, Sharon, and Uxbridge.

"Our commitment to the community runs deep," says the company. "In 2018, Vince's Market is doubling down on their commitment to the community through The Community Project. The team members at Vince's Market will have the opportunity to select the charity/organization in December of this year for their locations. Funds will be accumulated throughout 2018 and at the end of the year we look forward to making a significant contribution to four very important causes."

The beginning of his obituary says it all: "KOFFLER, Murray Bernard On Sunday, November 5, 2017 passed on at his home. Murray Koffler – A man who lived his vision to leave this world in a better place than when he entered it. A man who loved and was loved by his family, his friends and all those he touched globally regardless of race, religion, or status."

One of those better places is at the Koffler Scientific Reserve right here in King. Most of us who love living or walking or just visiting in King know what a jewel it is, like a breathing, purifying oasis above the city of Toronto. And most of us want to protect it from the surging growth spreading north.

It was to that end originally that Murray and Marvelle Koffler decided to protect their Jokers Hill equestrian centre from development. The Kofflers first bought Jokers Hill in King in 1969, using it as their country home and the site of a variety of equestrian and charitable events.

The original patchwork of small 1880s farms were consolidated in a purchase made by Major General Clarence Mann in the 1950s. He and his wife, Billie McLaughlin, developed their new estate as a horse farm, putting in a race track, horse barns and opening up pastures.

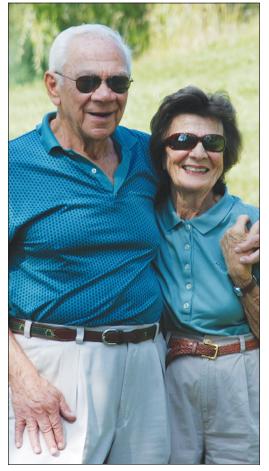

Today those barns are being remodeled as research pods for University of Toronto students and Professors. When I was there on the very cold morning of Nov. 10, workers were just installing a new set of modern energy efficient windows on the old stables, much to the joy of the research staff. Beyond the building renovations, the race track and pasture lands have been turned into ecological science research sites to study the effects of accelerating climate change on evolving ecosystems.

As well as the Koffler Scientific Reserve that takes up most of the 350 hectares on the Oak Ridges Moraine, there are 50 hectares on the eastern portion off Bathurst Street that have a variety of public hiking trails. The main Reserve, however, is closed to the public for very good reason. It contains one of the largest stand of old-growth maple beech forests in Ontario, and an equally sized portion of second-growth forest that now serve as living scientific laboratories for the University of Toronto. Sacred spaces.

I had the privilege of touring the property with KSR director Professor Arthur Weis and Steph Schneider, the property manager who jokingly refers to himself as the onsite "gentleman scientist."

Professor Weis took over from founding Director, Professor Ann Zimmerman in 2007, when he left the sundrenched University of California and his role as Professor of Evolutionary Biology. Under his guidance, the former "racing barn" was turned into a state-of-the-art Laboratory for Biodiversity and Global Change Biology. The morning we watched the windows going in on the former stables to block out the -20°C winds, I wondered if he was doing some California dreaming. But not at all.

Weis showed me his current project, in layman's terms what I will call a thermal acceleration experiment in the natural environment. Picture two identical growing plots side by side, with exactly the same species of plants growing in exactly the same pattern.

Murray and Marvelle Koffler

While one plot is subject to the regular vagaries of weather; the other plat has infrared heaters that come on via a computing sensing system to adjust the temperature over their plots by exactly $+2^{\circ}$ C. This gives Weis an experimental, controlled window on the effects of accelerating climate change on plant growth and the variety of predators they attract.

Similarly, on the old pasture lands, the research team has set up cages of plants in fenced protected pods to study the growth patterns of different species as they respond to climate change variations. "We couldn't do any of this on campus in Toronto," said Weis. The inference being that without Koffler's donation, this kind of research could not have taken place.

So unique is this site, that every year 100 to 150 professors, post-doctoral scholars, and students at both the graduate and undergraduate level, trek to the reserve to study the ecology and evolution of species ranging from slugs, to prairie grasses, to hummingbirds.

TD Wealth

Uncovering what drives you can drive more in-depth wealth advice.

The critical role emotions and behaviours play in financial decision-making was recently in the spotlight, as a pioneer of behavioural economics, Richard Thaler, was awarded the 2017 Nobel Prize in Economic Science. According to the New York Times, the Nobel committee said it was honouring Professor Thaler for his work in establishing that people are predictably irrational — that they consistently behave in ways that defy economic theory.

Behavioural economics is a broad field of study that explores the effects of psychological, social, cognitive, and emotional factors on economic decisions.

Earlier this year, TD Wealth introduced technology that uses the principles of behavioural finance to enable advisors to better understand a client's financial blind spots and guide them to make more informed financial decisions.

Reserve carries on Koffler's vision

Not to be outdone, Steph Schneider was equally enthusiastic about the 36 identical mini-ponds that had been dug adjacent to a main pond. Here they study the variants in aquatic life and vegetation as they respond to changes in their ecosystem. Remembering the enthusiasm of my students for pond studies, it was refreshing to see this same sense of wonder in two adults marveling at the complexities of the greatest show on Earth – the evolution of natural systems in response to accelerating climate change.

Weis is not only completely immersed in the site and its potential, he feels deeply honoured to be carrying on the vision of Murray Koffler. He confided to me that when Murray and his wife Marvelle made the $18 million land gift to the University of Toronto in 1995, it was totally spontaneous. Originally, he had offered it to the Province of Ontario as a Provincial Park, but funding was tight and the Province was unable to provide the infrastructure to protect and conserve the area. During an event at Jokers Hill one day, the U of T chancellor at the time suggested Koffler could always give the lands to the University. "Done," replied the philanthropist, and the most valuable land gift ever given to a Canadian university was completed over a handshake.

Murray Koffler will be remembered for many things. Most of us knew him as the CEO of Shoppers Drug Mart, and an Order of Canada recipient. Many of us were aware of his philanthropy through innovations like the U of T's Koffler Institute of Pharmacy and the Koffler Student Centre, the Marvelle Koffler Breast Centre and the Koffler Centre of the Arts in Toronto. Fewer still knew of his generosity towards the Toronto Outdoor Art Show and the Canadian Council for Aboriginal Business.

But for me, as an environmental educator and science journalist, his greatest legacy will be the gift of Jokers Hill. The mission of the Koffler Scientific Reserve at Jokers Hill is very clear:

"Toward a sustainable future through research and education on the environment, in the environment."

Yes, Mr. Koffler, I believe that you have indeed left this world in a better place than when he entered it. Your passion, humility and philanthropy are an inspiration to your family, friends and community. And, in the current darkness of deniers. the Koffler Scientific Reserve at Jokers Hill will be a beacon of scientific literacy for generations to come.

Remarkable Results

If you suffer from Shoulder Pain (tendonitis/Arthritis) you need to be aware of effective advancements that can eliminate years of pain, suffering, immobility and frustration.

You may have told your doctor you suffer with one or more of the following: sore, stiff, painful shoulder, neck stiffness or pain, hand stiffness, and/ or elbow pain.

You may find that your pain or stiffness affects your work, housekeeping, leisure activities, exercise, sports or other activities. You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your pain. But you find the pain keeps returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of pain pills or anti-inflammatory drugs that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

There is a new, natural, safe and highly effective approach that has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically: Laser therapy uses light to favor and accelerate the body's natural healing processes. The innovative Multiwave Locked System (MLS) Laser produces a safe, efficient and simultneous effect on pain, inflammation, swelling and water retention, exceeding the limits of traditional LLLT (Low power) and concerns of HP (High power) laser therapy.

"This new, natural, safe and highly effective approach has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically".

What does this mean for you?

Our patients have reported a 90-95% relief of their symptoms, more mobility, increased flexibility and vastly improved function!

It is the very latest in medical technology, with years of clinical studies supporting its safety and efficacy and we are very proud to offer our patients effective solutions to their recent or chronic conditions.

Cougars take Hornets to the brink in overtime

By Jake Courtepatte

One of the toughest weekends on the Schomberg Cougars' schedule proved they have what it takes to run with the big dogs.

With three games over three days, the Junior C club opened their week on Thursday with a home game against the lowly Orillia Terriers at the Trisan Centre on Thursday. A 10-1 drubbing, thanks to multi-goal efforts from Curtis Dubeau, Owen Heilemann, and Brandon Scholton set the stage for a Friday-Saturday tandem of games that would require only their best efforts.

Visiting the Alliston Hornets at New Tec Rec, the Cougars continued where they left off offensively by quieting the home crowd with three quick goals, taking a 3-0 lead mid-way through the first frame, thanks to a pair from Josh Morrison and a single from Brandon Cohen.

Alliston managed to break the goose egg just over a minute later on the power play, though Adriano Mamone remained solid between the pipes for the remainder of the period, coming up big with a flashy glove save on a breakaway in the dying minutes.

An unfortunate bounce late in the second to beat Mamone was the only goal of the middle frame, with the Cougars holding on to a 3-2 lead heading into the third.

With the Hornets buzzing, Mamone remained a wall in net for the Cougars, though another untimely bounce and a chance on a rebound both found the back of the net for Alliston to take their first lead of the game.

The Schomberg fans in attendance were out of their seats when Heilemann made it 4-4 with just over six minutes to go, a score that would hold until the end of regulation to pick up a precious point against the powerhouse Hornets.

A back-and-forth overtime period turned out to be a thriller, though Alliston earned the extra point when a puck sitting in the crease was banged home for the winner.

The Cougars closed out the weekend on Saturday with a valiant effort against the undefeated Stayner Siskins, a 3-1 loss with the lone goal going to Linden Sturrock.

Picking up three of a possible six points over a difficult week has the Cougars deadlocked with the Caledon Golden Hawks at a 9-9-0-1 record, good for third in the PJHL's Carruther's division.

A monstrous week lies ahead for the Cougars, who play a home-and-home with the Huntsville Otters beginning on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Trisan.

They finish the weekend in Caledon East on Sunday to take on the Golden Hawks.

The Cougars would also like to remind their fans that their annual toy and gift drive in support of Sick Kid's Hospital is now on, and runs until Dec. 7. Collections will be at all home games, with the team looking for donations appropriate for those ages 0-17 years.

With the season of giving upon us, this Thursday's match-up has also been dubbed Ronald Mcdonald night at the Trisan Centre, when all proceeds from the game will be going to Ronald McDonald House charity.

Lions to clash with Warriors in the YRAA football final Schomberg's Ryan Young carries the puck over the blue line in the Cougars' 5-4 overtime loss to the Alliston Hornets on Friday.

Program for high performer athletes at Woodbridge school in 2018

The York Catholic District School Board voted to implement the High Performer Athlete Program at Holy Cross Catholic Academy at a recent board meeting.

The program will kick-off in September 2018, and students and their parents who are interested in enrolling in the program are invited to attend an open house being held at the school on Wednesday, Nov. 22. The open house will provide visitors with essential program details and allow time for questions.

By Jake Courtepatte

The Warriors battle cry is heard year after year in the YRAA football championship, but the Lions are nipping at their heels.

For the first time since re-entering the YRAA's competitive Tier I bracket two seasons ago, the King City Lions will get their chance at the title when they face off against the Huron Heights Warriors on Saturday.

In a classic tale of David and Goliath, the Warriors have dominated the York Region circuit for over a decade, hoping to capture their fourth straight title. The Lions, who advanced to the Tier I circuit after capturing the now defunct Tier II title a few years prior, will be looking to hand the Newmarket-based school their first loss in over two seasons of YRAA football.

Saturday's clash will be almost five years to the date that the Warriors reclaimed the YRAA title from the Lions, who were the champs for both the 2009-10 and 2010-11 seasons.

Resurging to the top of the YRAA ranks in their sophomore return season, the Lions finished this year with a record of 4-1, their only loss coming at the hands of the Warriors in their first game of the season.

Since then, the Lions have outscored their opponents 95-15, racking up win after win to climb to second in the five-team division.

Opening kickoff is set for 2 p.m. at St. Max Kolbe field in Aurora.

Bill Crothers and St. Max Kolbe will battle it out on Friday in the thirdplace game. The High Performer Athlete (HPA) Program is an academic-based program for elite student-athletes who already participate in regional, provincial, national, or international competition, and who have aspirations to obtain their high school diploma and continue on to study at a post-secondary institution either in Canada or the United States.

Student's in Holy Cross's HPA Program will benefit from a flexible timetable to help them balance both their academic and athletic commitments, while also earning high school credits for the work they put into their training. Programming in the High Performer Athlete Program is specifically designed to meet each student-athlete's individual needs. HPA students will also have a dedicated school HPA coordinator to help monitor their academic progress and advise on elective courses that will work with their unique student timetables.

The program is open to all high school students in York Region and surrounding municipalities who compete in regional, provincial, national, or international athletic competitions. Admission to the program is based on the submission of a completed HPA application package, which includes a letter of reference from the student's coach.

The HPA application package will be shared at the Nov. 2 open house, and will also be available via the HPA Program website, www.HolyCross-HPA.ca after the open house. The deadline to register in the HPA Program for September 2018 is Jan. 31, 2018. Space is limited.

"Holy Cross Catholic Academy is pleased to offer the High Performer Athlete Program for student athletes," said Principal Ed Lavor. "Our school has a rich history of helping student athletes meet both their academic and athletic goals. We have long recognized that there is a strong need for a flexible academic program for athletes in York Region and we are excited that our new HPA Program will provide more support for these elite athletes. I invite all interested students, parents, and coaches to our upcoming Open House to learn more about this fantastic program."

Eric Lamaze to defend Rolex Top Ten Final title

Canada's Eric Lamaze will defend Lady 5, beating out Germany's Chrishis title in the Rolex Top Ten Final on Friday night, Dec. 8, in Geneva, Switzerland.

Lamaze will be among the top 10 athletes in the world rankings going headto-head in the two-round Rolex IJRC Top Ten Final, which offers 475,000 Swiss francs in prize money. Last year, Lamaze claimed victory riding his 2016 Rio Olympic bronze medal mount, Fine tian Ahlmann and Switzerland's Steve Guerdat.

"The Rolex Top Ten Final is one of the most prestigious competitions that we have throughout the year, showcasing the best riders in the world riding their best horses at this moment in time," said Lamaze, 49, who is currently ranked number eight in the world. "A grand prix is a grand prix, but the meetings and retreat groups of various kinds.

Rolex Top Ten Final is something special. Winning last year really meant a lot to me, and we'll do our best to do it again!'

Prior to winning in 2016, Lamaze had contested the Rolex IJRC Top Ten Final on four previous occasions, including in 2011 when he was the runner-up riding Coriana van Klapscheut. His other three appearances, in 2008, 2009 and 2010, were all aboard the legendary stallion Hickstead, the horse that carried him to individual gold and team silver medals at the 2008 Beijing Olympics. As the event prepares for its 17th edition, Lamaze remains the only Canadian to ever contest the Rolex IJRC Top Ten Final.

"I am incredibly proud to represent Canada in the Rolex Top Ten Final," said Lamaze, the only Canadian equestrian athlete to have won three Olympic medals. "Thank you to Rolex and the International Jumping Riders Club for developing this innovative competition that truly showcases the best of the best in our sport."

Lamaze will compete at the CSI5* Paris Masters in France from November 30 to December 3 before making his final competitive appearance of the vear in Geneva.

Citizens asked to contribute to science

MilkweedWatch, an online platform to track the presence of milkweed throughout Canada, launched Oct. 9 by a team of researchers at Wilfrid Laurier University and the University of Ottawa. The citizen science program will help Canadian scientists track milkweed, a plant that provides critical habitat for the endangered monarch butterfly.

Laurier researchers are asking Canadians to enter their observations of milkweed plants using the mobile friendly website milkweedwatch.ca. Milkweed plants are easily spotted in fall by looking for their distinctive seedpods that burst open to release hundreds of black seeds on silky parachutes.

Monarch butterflies, which migrate annually between Canada, the southern United States and Mexico, are an endangered species. One of the key reasons is a decline in the availability of milkweed along their migration routes, on which the butterflies lay eggs and monarch caterpillars feed. The aim of Milkweed-Watch is to raise awareness about how critical milkweed plants are as a habitat for monarchs and other pollinator species, and to help gather data for Canadian scientists studying the relationship between milkweed and monarch population health.

"Milkweed plants are key to the future survival of the monarch butterfly," said Robert McLeman, associate professor in the Department of Geography and Environmental Studies at Laurier. "Milkweed is becoming increasingly scarce in many parts of North America due to the growing use of herbicides and land use change. We need the public's help in tracking and preserving milkweed wherever it is found, and MilkweedWatch provides a simple way of doing so."

"MilkweedWatch is a powerful tool for raising awareness about the ecological importance of the milkweed plant, and will encourage the general public to help conserve monarchs in a fun, easy way," said Smera Sukumar, a conservation scientist with Ontario Nature. "Farmers and rural landowners can use it to track the health of pollinator patches on their land throughout the summer.'

MilkweedWatch is the fifth citizen science program launched under the NatureWatch project, operated by Laurier and the University of Ottawa in association with the David Suzuki Foundation and Nature Canada.

Main Street Christmas

A Main Street Christmas is a huge annual event in Schomberg and it always happens on the first Saturday of December. This year that date is Saturday, Dec. 2.

The event goes from 3 to 9 p.m. At 4 p.m. there is a Santa Clause Parade that comes south down Main Street from Western Avenue and Main Street down to Church and Main.

I am the parade marshall for this parade and I am encouraging all of you,whether you are family, a Business or a Society to put a float or walking entry into the Parade.

This year, being our Canada's 150th celebration, I want to incorporate that celebration into our parade. I would love to see all the floats and walking entries incorporate Canadiana and/ or our Flag into their entry. I have also had hundreds of little Canadian flags donated from our two MPs – Deb Schulte and Peter Van Loan and I would like to see them lined all down our parade route saluting our parade as we pass through. So get your spot early along the parade route,get your flag and let's show how patriotic we are in the great little town of Schomberg!

Please call myself, Wendy-Sue, at 905-590-0054 or email me at wsue52@ hotmail.com if you are interested in participating or helping with the Santa Clause Parade.

We are looking forward to Holy Humour Sunday on Nov. 26. There will be a skit, jokes and surprises.

Our very popular Breakfast with Santa is on Saturday, Dec. 2, 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. The breakfast is pancakes, syrup, sausages and a beverage. For the children, these are arranged to look like a snowman with sausage arms, and chocolate chip eyes, and covered with icing sugar. Santa always drops in and provides a lovely stuffed animal for each child. Pictures are taken of each child on Santa's knee and the pictures are given to the parent or adult with them. This event is fun for everyone, so even if you are not a parent, you can enjoy the breakfast and see the children having fun with Santa.

A "Good Will" offering will be donated to the "Nobleton Christmas Drive" (Mimi Buchanan works in cooperation with "Christmas in King"). Nobleton United will be matching the funds collected up to a maximum of $500.

Christmas Eve is a Sunday this year.

We are having a family friendly "Christmas Eve Morning" service at 11:15 a.m., with refreshments afterwards. The musically talented Sandra Kirby will be singing three pieces and leading the singing of familiar carols. The ABC's of Christmas will be told using a box full of presents. For those wanting an evening service, Schomberg United will be offering a Communion Service at 7 p.m. at 116 Church St.

Last Sunday was our Remembrance Service. We honoured members from Schomberg and Nobleton United who enlisted in one of the great wars. We also honoured friends and family who had served or are serving in our military. Andy MacPherson read a letter written by his Dad to his Aunt Flossy detailing his experiences in the Second World War. Andy also related his remembrances as a very young child in England during the war. The service ended with the Last Post, played by trumpeter Dr. Cameron Lindsay.

Our worship services are at 11:15 a.m. Sundays at Nobleton United at 6076 King Rd., Nobleton. Our sister church, Schomberg United, meets at St. Mary's Magdalene at 9:30 am most Sundays, but at the Kitchen Breedon Manor on the first Sunday of the month. For more info, visit nobletonunitedchurch.com, our Facebook page, or call 905-859-3976. The Nobleton United Church office is normally open on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Messages are picked up regularly. Nobleton United is on the north side of the King Rd., about 6 buildings west of Hwy. 27. We have a big parking lot at the rear of the building, an accessible ramp at the rear of the building, chair lifts and accessible washrooms. We warmly welcome everyone, old and young.

Nobleton Skating Club

The Nobleton Skating Club is running a poinsettia fundraiser! Please order your poinsettias through the club, and show your support. All orders can be placed on-line, through our club website, www.nobletonskatingclub. com. We have 6-, 8- and 10-inch poinsettias in red, white and pink. Proceeds from every poinsettia ordered go back into the club. Orders are due in by Nov. 18, and pick up will be Wednesday, Dec. 6, between 6 and 8 p.m., at the Nobleton Arena.

This is the 60th anniversary of the Nobleton Skating Club, and it is small fundraisers like this that have helped the club to make it to 60 years. We would really appreciate your support.

As well, don't ever think it's too late to skate!! Though our current session of Canskate is underway, we are happy to prorate any new memberships joining part way through the session. If you can't join now, please skate with us in January when we have a new session beginning.

Canskate, our learn to skate program, is offered on Mondays at 5:30 p.m., Wednesdays at 5:30 p.m. and Saturday mornings at 9 a.m. Registration is open and is available through our website, www.nobletonskatingclub.com. Should you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us either via email, or at our office at 905-859-4943.

Nobleton Lions Club

December features the Annual Skating Party at the arena, with free skating for all, and Santa is planning to come and visit the kids.

The Lions Club is seeking new members at this time. If you are interested in helping your community become a better place to live, while having lots of fun, please call Bob Phillips at 416-522-9675.

Sunday's worship centred on the old scripture reading of Amos 1: 1-2; 5: 14, 15, 21-24. Rev. Evelyn McLachlan said that while it is good to have a beautiful church to worship in, new musical instruments to sing praises to God, or other items like that, what God desires most is that we live our lives with continued justice for our fellow human beings. As Amos said, "... let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream."

Rev. Evelyn reminded us that "Amos says to seek good, not evil for then you will live. You will live only when you are in pursuit of good. What is good? For God, it is more than gathering on the Sabbath. Good is how we live our lives. Good is how we seek to enable others to have a good life. Good is when we seek to lift people up, not put them down. Good is when we do not believe we are better than another. Good is when we have an open relationship with the one who gave us not just this life, but the one who gives us life everlasting." During worship, Rev. Evelyn took time to remember those gunned down, killed and injured while they were worshipping at the First Baptist Church in Sutherland Springs, Texas. Can you imagine the loss felt by those gathering again in that tiny church? What will be the reaction of the community as they gather? How could such hatred by the shooter develop? May all find the peace and justice they require.

Bible Study group meets on Wednesdays at 10:30 a.m. If you enjoy lively discussion and learning more about the Christian faith, come out and join the group. All that is required is an inquiring mind.

Looking for something different in entertainment with a good meal on the side? Well, mark your calendars for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 24 and 25. "The Dinner and Show" is returning. Lots of good music, laughter and roast beef dinner makes for a great evening. Contact our Office Administrator Kristen (905-833-5181) or Alan Henderson 905-833-5047 to book your tickets. CDS presents The Outsiders

Tickets are available for The Country Day School's fall drama production of S.E. Hinton's The Outsiders. Based on the a coming-of-age-novel first published in 1967, the story revolves around two rival gangs in the 1960s Midwest. Performances will take place on Nov. 16 and 17 at 7 p.m. in the CDS Performing Arts Centre at 13415 Dufferin Street in King. Tickets are $15 and available at www.cds.on.ca/tickets or at the door.

King Bible Church

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning "Celebration Zone" provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in JK-Grade 8 will be in the service for the beginning until they are invited to go downstairs.

If you have children aged 0-3 then we invite you to bring them to our beautiful and safe Nursery facilities which are located on the lower level.

Caregivers will meet you there.

We invite everyone to join us each Tuesday at 6:45 for our Legacy Family nights! Everyone – adults and children – will be doing the Transformed series.

The adults will meet upstairs and the children (nursery-Grade 8) will meet downstairs.

New adult Legacy studies begin Nov. 7. Loving God And Others: The Heart Of True Faith (a Precept study).

Jesus's great command is to love God and others. This study will use the study of Bible passages to challenge you to live out these commands. Discover how obeying Jesus's simple commands will transform your life and also the lives of those around you.

The 5 Love Languages: The Secrets to Love That Lasts by Gary Chapman is an insightful study that reveals how different people express love in different ways. Join us to discover your Love Language and to learn principles that will help you to meet your spouse's unique needs. Soon you will know the deep satisfaction and joy of being able to express your love and feel truly loved in return.

Temperanceville Bazaar

Temperanceville United Church (corner of King Rd. and Bathurst St, Richmond Hill) will present its Christmas Bazaar, Saturday, Nov. 18, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Fill your Christmas baking needs or your freezer and pantry for the winter! Choose from our harvest tables of goodies – cookies, squares, tarts, fruit/meat pies, pickles, relishes/chili sauce, jams/cranberries, individual meals/casseroles, soups, homemade crafts, our fresh hot luncheon and much more.

Lynn Vissers continued leading us in worship last Sunday and is also scheduled for Nov. 26. She elaborated on "To the Glory of God," from the Reformation Sunday's service celebrating the 500th anniversary of Reformation in which we talked about the Five Solas including "To the Glory of God Alone." The Scripture text was John 15:5 and Ephesians 2:1-9. This Sunday we're pleased to have the Rev. Dr. Frank Kovacs back with us again.

Prayer is key in a Christian's life. Would you like to pray with someone or would you like any resources on prayer? God wants to have conversations with us and has promised to be present, hearing and answering our prayers.

With Christmas coming and the cooler weather, there are many opportunities to assist where able. Food Bank distribution is Saturday

By Carol Ann Trabert

This Saturday, Nov. 18, marks the regular monthly distribution at three centres across King. The centres are open from 9-11 a.m. to distribute to registered users.

If you need assistance and are not registered, it's important to call the Food Bank at 905-806-1125 so that food for you can be shipped to the right location. Visit www.kingtownshipfoodbank.ca.

Hillside Gardens, Tim Hortons Schomberg and Dorio's Kettleby Bakery continually support the monthly distribution with produce and bakery treats for all.

Schomberg Foodland's Thanksgiving Drive was an amazing success. They take the trouble to put exactly what the Food Bank needs into those brown bags and people purchase all they have. Combined with the purchase of food cards, nearly $2,000 was collected from Schomberg Foodland. The Food Bank salutes Rocco Macri, Dave Cornet the general manager and all the happy helpful staff, to say nothing of the generous customers!

London Calling was a stunning success, in case you missed all the newspaper coverage. The target of $40,000 was raised; a narrow squeak, so every single dollar and donation really counted! See the list of all who helped on our website www. ktfb.ca and click on Sip and Savour. The silent auction and live auction set new records for bids as well as the value of merchandise and services offered.

About 250 people enjoyed an evening on the streets of London with live music and a strolling magician in addition to a classic red telephone booth that provided a great photo background for complimentary pictures. Chef Roger did an amazing job of the food, again. And many enjoyed the classic Collins and a tasting of English Beer in addition to the wine and beer that were donated. It was such fun! A tip of the hat to Jim Lang of 105.9 The Region who was the MC, and thanks to Mayor Pellegrini who was this year's honourary chair. Thanks also Joan Kelley Walker for her support.

Be sure to visit Trees of Giving at the King Heritage and Cultural Centre. A loonie lets you vote for your favourite tree and all proceeds go to the Food Bank.

Christmas in King, the seasonal program that strives to provide a Merry Christmas to everyone in King is in full swing. The white hampers are pretty much fully adopted, but there are families and individuals needing gifts.
