Accolades abound for Lecce as King office opens

By Mark Pavilons

The accolades flowed like pure spring water at the official opening of the King City office for King-Vaughan MPP Stephen Lecce.

Constituents and municipal politicians from across York showed their support for their representative at Queen's Park.

King Mayor Steve Pellegrini told the crowd Lecce chose well when he picked the King City locale, noting it's roughly the geographic centre of the riding.

Vaughan Mayor Maurizio Bevilacqua said he's known Lecce for many years, working with him in Ottawa when Bevilacqua was MP (1988 through 2010). He said he has nothing but admiration for Lecce, noting in just a short time, he's risen in the ranks very quickly, earning several portfolios.

Lecce, he said, is "talented, dedicated and brings something to the table." Voter confidence in Lecce was well placed and "one of our own" has great potential, the mayor said.

Peter Van Loan, retiring MP for York-Simcoe, noted this is one of the nicest constituency offices he's ever seen. He, too, worked with Lecce in Ottawa when Van Loan was House Leader under Stephen Harper.

Calling Lecce "level headed" and "sensible," Van Loan said constituents in King-Vaughan are "extremely fortunate" to have him as their MPP.

Lecce welcomed the crowd, noting the full house is a sign that people from all sides can come together for a common goal. In just a short time, Lecce has already helped constituents with their problems, and set precedents at Queen's Park.

"It's very rewarding when you can move the yard stick forward," he said. "My goal is to have the best customer service office in the GTA."

The office is located at 2220 King Road, just east of Keele. You can call them at 646-560-9700 or email lecceco@pc.ola.org

Council opposes marijuana retail outlets, opts out of plan

By Mark Pavilons

While the rest of the country is saying “yes” to marijuana, King council is saying “no” to future retail outlets in the municipality.

Council approved a resolution Monday night, telling the Province that King “strongly opposes” private retail sale of cannabis in King, and that the municipality is opting out of permitting retail sale in the township.

“I don’t want this in King,” said Mayor Steve Pellegrini at the previous council meeting Sept. 10. “I want the province to know, not in King!”

When recreational cannabis use becomes legal Oct. 17, it will be made available through the Ontario Cannabis Store (OCS).

The provincial government is looking at a public retail model for the sale of recreational cannabis, which will be overseen by the Liquor Control Board. Queen’s Park recently announced it will introduce new legislation that will allow a regulated private retail model, arriving in April 2019. The OCS will no longer be opening any stores, and will only be conducting online sales and distributing product to provincially licensed private retailers.

The province said municipalities will have a one-time window when they can choose to opt-out of permitting physical cannabis retail stores in their boundaries. But municipalities can always opt back in at a later date.

Staff reported there are still many uncertainties in all of this. They did offer councillors three options on how to deal with zoning issues.

The mayor said the whole issue brings with it huge costs in enforcement. He pointed out that retail stores will become prime locations for illegal drug trafficking, where dealers can simply approach customers and offer a better price.

Resident Judith Tenenbaum supported the mayor’s call, noting it’s “totally inappropriate” to have retail outlets in King. “We don’t need it,” she said.

Candidates address issues at back-to-back events

By Mark Pavilons

Municipal candidates will present their platforms at back-to-back all-candidates’ meetings, presented by Concerned Citizens of King Township.

The first meeting, specifically for candidates in Wards 1 and 5, will take place Wednesday, Oct. 10, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Villanova College. The school is located on the 15th Sideroad and doors open at 6:30 p.m.

Candidates in Ward 1 include Jordan Cescolini, Kelly Colosanti and incumbent Cleve Mortelliti.

In Ward 5, Sasha Mozaffari, Rob Payne and incumbent Debbie Schaefer will discuss the issues.

The second meeting will be held the following night, Oct. 11, at the Kettleby-Pottageville Lions Community Hall on the 7th Concession.

Candidates for Wards 2, 3, 4 and 6 will hit the stage for this meeting.

In Ward 2, incumbent David Boyd is challenged by Sherry Draisey. In Ward 3, Jacob Schneider and Geoff Simpson square off.

In Ward 4, Mary Asselstine and incumbent Bill Cober will speak. And finally in Ward 6, incumbent Avia Eek will discuss the issues with Roman Dyriw.

All the candidates will have equal opportunity to give an introduction, answer two prepared questions and each of the questions from the floor, and then make a closing comment

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"A newspaper is the center of a community, it's one of the tent poles of the community, and that's not going to be replaced by websites and blogs."

- Michael Connelly

Our everyday problems are really quite trivial

"Be grateful for what you have and stop complaining - it bores everybody else, does you no good, and doesn't solve any problems."

- Zig Ziglar

Our country is a great place to live. Canada's economy is growing slowly and steadily and ranks among the top dozen in the world with regards to GDP. In other words, we're living the dream, in a fairly wealthy country. It may not feel like that for some of us most days as we put in our hours at our day jobs, then continue working at home with our spouses and children long into the night.

A visit to my family physician revealed something interesting. He firmly believes that our "first world" problems are largely made up, or exist in our own heads, largely because we're bored and have it way too good.

He said to determine if we have real challenges, compare our problems with those of developing nations. In "third world" countries do they worry about the size of government, sex education in our schools, carbon taxes, gun control, and marijuana laws? Is it important, for instance, to the people of Haiti, that government facilities have charging stations for electric cars? Do residents of mountain villages in Guatemala care about NAFTA? Are the rural Kenyans on blood pressure pills and antidepressants?

Corruption, poverty, war, hunger, health care, education, physical safety. These are top worries in many countries.

What then, are our problems these days?

Well, as an average Joe, I watch the prices at the pump on a regular basis.

Mark Pavilons

While I know that one cent per litre will only translate to a couple of bucks on a fill, I like to think I'm getting a deal. One extra litre will get me only 12 added kilometres. Doesn't seem like a lot, does it?

I scan the grocery ads and flyers each week because feeding a family is not only important but costly. If I can save $30 a week by shopping at No Frills, that's what I do.

I worry about my daughter at Western, who's renting a place with other students in London. We keep track of her on social media and the odd text.

None of these are life-and-death dilemmas. The same can't be said of our fellow humans around the globe.

Some 821 million people are now hungry and over 150 million children are stunted, according to The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2018 study. Limited progress is also being made in addressing the multiple forms of malnutrition, ranging from child stunting to adult obesity, putting the health of hundreds of millions of people at risk.

What do you mean, there's no Wi-Fi? Have you uttered this phrase recently?

We no longer rely on maps or hand-written directions. We simply punch in an address, or speak to our smart phones, and voila, we're given detailed, up-to-the-minute directions to our destination. What did we ever do without this?

These are everyday realities for many of us, and yes, some are shared by our counterparts all over the world. Millions of others do have cell phones and take selfies. When we were in rural Dominican Republic, I noticed an unusually high number of people with cell phones. Apparently, in some countries the phones and services are very cheap, making it affordable for almost everyone.

When my daughter Lexie volunteered in Kenya, their hut was a 6-hour truck ride from the airport, over paths that can hardly be called roads.

We also complain daily about the traffic and congestion. Imagine that, we're sitting in our $40,000, air-conditioned vehicle, listening to our favourite music, idling in traffic for maybe 15 minutes. It's a tough life!

We also get irate when idling too long at traffic lights or waiting for a train to pass. Recently, I timed some of these irritants and while it seems like an eternity, we're talking two minutes, tops. Will a two-minute delay really ruin our day?

We also get our knickers in a knot over parking.

A recent study commissioned by King Township revealed there's more than plenty of parking in all of our urban centres. We have so much in fact, that it won't be an issue for another decade or so.

We have become a bit lazy in this regard. We want, and need, to find a parking spot right in front of our destination. Councillor Bill Cober wanted to know whatever happened to the concept of "walking a block" to one's location?

I find it so petty when people tear a strip off restaurant wait staff for forgetting their fresh-ground pepper, or the fact their hotel room didn't come with the latest potpourri. Really, folks? Some of these rants make me sick to my stomach.

One of the major "first world" complaints is being left on hold when calling a company for service. Typically, you'll find this when calling government offices, Internet providers, banks, etc. It's estimated the average person spends 43 days of our life on hold. Just something to consider when you're in a hospital bed, taking your last breaths.

Our species has honed our need to complain into an art. We whine about our common, everyday woes, from our sports teams and politicians to the weather and latest movie releases.

There are reasons, not excuses, for this behaviour. Today, we have more free time than ever before. Our jobs and technological advances have made our lives pretty simple, and struggle-free. Our ancestors, on the other hand, toiled night and day to make a living, put food on the table.

We have more free time, and more freedom of expression than ever before in our history.

We should be using this to further the human condition in really vital matters like poverty, homelessness and clean drinking water for all.

Instead, we kowtow to the smart phone gods and worship political correctness. The abyss of "first world problems."

Give me a treehouse in remote Belize any day!

Letter to the Editor

Traffic needs to be addressed!

Recently we had a fatal collision on Mill Road, where two men were killed! Mill Road was closed for many hours.

Last Tuesday, I came up from Etobicoke via Hwy. 27, which I survived until 4 kilometers out of Nobleton it also came to a standstill! I crept up and finally drove up the gravel on to the King Vaughan Road and came east over to Mill Road. King Vaughan Road is a winding section of road with a one lane Bailey bridge and there were numerous cars coming west.

At King Vaughan Road and Kipling there was a "Road Closed" sign. I drove through to Mill Road and home, although I was almost forced off the road by a tow truck in King Creek, speeding at least 80 km/h and throwing up gravel! Fortunately, I got into my driveway alive at 4.15 p.m.

At 4:30 p.m. sirens, two fire trucks and an ambulance from Nobleton. Already, there was a build up of traffic on Mill Road and minutes later YRP blocked King Road eastbound, so all traffic going northbound had to go towards Nobleton and all traffic going east bound had to go down Mill Road, and that included many, many transport trucks which continually travel King Road.

Many semi trucks had extreme difficulty turning off King Road on to Mill Road, in fact, at 8 p.m. one created a traffic problem for about 20 minutes trying to manoeuvre the corner!

During the rush hour there were probably well in excess of 400 cars going northbound and southbound many cars but also a lot of commercial vehicles.

Mill Road is a gravel road not warranted to this type of traffic!

These are serious traffic situations that have to be addressed by York Region and King Township. King Road, from Dufferin Street west to the Caledon Townline is a busy arterial road. Mill Road is being used as an access route for commuter traffic, which generally exceeds the established speed limit.

When are we going to address these issues?

King Township Trivia

The little village of New Scotland, at the corner of Weston Road and the 16th Sideroad, was given its name because of the Scottish families that came too the rolling hills of that part of the township.

Schomberg Street Gallery marks 10th in fine fashion

It was a hot, sunny Sunday for the 10th annual Schomberg Street Gallery. A perfect day to celebrate the last weekend of the summer.

Main Street radiated with even more charm than usual. Colourful artists banners decorated the hydro poles along the street, artists greeted visitors from their booths and showed off original works of art. A busker positioned himself next to the Community Hall to play hits from the '60s, '70s and '80s. The Schomberg Lions flipped hamburgers and hot dogs for hungry visitors, who found themselves in the country, and lost themselves in the art.

On behalf of Arts Society King, I'd like to thank everyone who came out and supported the event.

Letter to the Editor

We greatly appreciate the generous donations from The Schomberg Village Association and SPK Rentals who sponsored our brochure; Harry Hoare Realty, Grackle Coffee Company, the law office of Michelle Hubert, and Miles Santo & Associates who sponsored our Curbox road signs.

Thanks also go to King Township for hanging the banners for us, sweeping the street, providing picnic tables and garbage cans and allowing us to close the street to traffic for the day.

Thanks to the Schomberg Agricultural Society for allowing us to park our vehicles in their Fairgrounds and access Main Street from the bridge.

Thanks to the volunteers who helped make the event run smoothly.

And a special thanks to the Main Street residents and businesses who accommodated us by not parking on the street overnight.

I look forward to seeing you all next year!

Boyd seeks second term as the Ward 2 councillor

By Mark Pavilons

Building on many accomplishments over the past term, David Boyd wants to continue as Ward 2 councillor.

Since 2014, Boyd said he's been committed to providing "consistent, conscientious leadership, along with clear communication that has helped bring our community together."

"I have worked collaboratively with members of council, staff, advisory boards, service clubs and community stakeholders to enhance and improve our villages."

"Together, we have celebrated the opening of Tasca Park and the rededication and revitalization of the Nobleton Lions Community Sports Park. We have been investing in roads, improving infrastructure and upgrading our buildings."

Boyd stressed that King Township will always be a defining part "of who I am" He pointed out his great-grandparents farmed in Laskay and his grandparents established roots in Nobleton in 1963. He grew up on Goodfellow Crescent and attended Nobleton Public and King City Secondary School.

His commitment to serve Ward 2 residents began when he joined the Nobleton Volunteer Ambulance Service at 18 years old.

"This opportunity significantly influenced my career path and core values. I graduated with a diploma in Paramedicine, which has translated to over 20 years of municipal experience in emergency services and community safety. I also proudly serve as a captain with King Fire and Emergency Services."

Boyd said he initially decided to run in 2014 because he cares about the community and everyone who calls Ward 2 home.

"Four years later, my commitment to you is stronger than ever."

Looking ahead, Boyd pointed to several priorities for council, including:

- Infrastructure investments to ease traffic congestion and improve pedestrian safety.
- Township-wide traffic calming strategy and updated Transportation Master Plan.

- Ward-wide access to high speed internet.
- Village revitalization and economic development.
- Transparent communication and passionate leadership.
- Effective and efficient management of your tax dollars.

Boyd extends an invitation to everyone to reach out and contact him, on social media: @DavidBoydWard2, via email at d.boyd@rogers.com or by calling 647-529-8597.

Please visit daveboyd.ca for a detailed list of accomplishments and initiatives during his first term of council.

Sale of Laskay property finalized

King council finalized the sale of the former home of the Laskay Hall.

Councillors passed the bylaw to seal the deal with Crisdan Holdings Inc. for the property at 12840 Weston Road.

The bylaw also tied up some loose ends regarding lands in the area.

KING CITY
RE-ELECT CLEVE MORTELLITI
Serving 12 Years as Your Experienced Voice in King

In my 12 years on Council, I have worked to protect and enhance our community while we face inevitable growth and change. Together with my Council colleagues and with the support of staff, residents, business owners, and local volunteers, I am pleased to say that we have accomplished many of our goals. For example, we have:

- rebuilt infrastructure reserves and paid down crippling debt
- installed and revitalized parks
- enhanced our village core with new sidewalks and streetscaping
- incorporated a York Regional Police substation and public recreational facility into the new municipal centre
- negotiated non-tax supported funding sources for the new combined King City Public Library and Seniors' Centre
- reconstructed rural roads
- installed traffic signals and cross-walks in school safety zones
- installed traffic calming measures in residential neighbourhoods
- enforced strict architectural controls on new development

KING CITY, SNOWBALL, & RURAL OBJECTIVES

For the 2018-2022 term I will work with my Council colleagues to:

- attract more industry like Magna International
- control greenfield & village core development
- continue efforts to calm traffic in our neighbourhoods
- stabilize property taxes
- support appropriate, complementary development
- maintain and upgrade our rural roads
- advance the new developer-funded recreation complex
- advocate for the distribution of natural gas to rural areas
- advocate for distribution of broadband internet to service our rural homes and businesses

ON OCTOBER 22nd, RE-ELECT CLEVE MORTELLITI, WARD 1

Your Voice for Business in King

Walker's clothing line boosts Breakfast Club of Canada

By Mark Pavilons

A King philanthropist has launched a clothing line that will not only provide women with contemporary choices, but help a major charity in the process.

Walmart Canada has launched the Joan Kelley Walker fashion apparel collection and new products are coming in October. The line includes dresses and knit tops, followed by outerwear and swim cover-ups in October. Size options will range from XS to XXL.

The line embodies elegance, playing with today's trends but focusing on timeless beautiful fashion, that caters to women seeking high quality at affordable prices.

"I was elated that the dream I have always had was coming to life," Walker said. "Creating an affordable, authentic, stylish collection with the purpose of giving back is exciting – and partnering with Benchmark Licensing, an incredible company that I know really understands my philanthropic drive, mission and commitment is something I've worked hard towards."

Benchmark has secured licensing partnerships with two of Canada's leading manufacturers, Lori Michaels and Northpeak International. Joan Kelley Walker has taken an active role in the design of each item to ensure that each collection is a true representation of her style and brand.

"We are super excited to launch the Joan Kelley Walker collection on Walmart.ca! The collection will launch this fall with an assortment of dresses and knit tops in September, expanding into outerwear and swim cover ups in October. The team and I were thrilled to work with Joan, a Canadian fashion influencer and humanitarian, who is passionate about giving back to the community. For every Joan Kelley Walker item purchased, a donation will be made by Joan Kelley Walker to the Breakfast Club of Canada. We guarantee that you too will be thrilled with the collection as it exudes elegance and style while delivering incredible value to our customers," said Sandra Krsek, vice president of merchandising, home and apparel, Walmart Canada.

Walker understands how the right look can be inspiring and transformative. She has always felt empowered in the clothes she wears and now she wants to instill that same level of self-confidence in Canadian women from working mothers on a budget to women who find it challenging to be stylish all the time. Walmart Canada is one of the largest retailers in the country with a robust online presence making it accessible to Canadian women everywhere.

"I wanted to develop a collection that's both elegant and fun that will empower women, as I believe everyone should feel good and confident from within, and why not dress it up!" added Joan.

The Joan Walker collection is a vibrant ready-to-wear line that's been designed with real women in mind. Comfortable fabrics in stylish silhouettes, and designs that can easily mix, match and accessorize without too much effort and hassle.

Having graced the covers of magazines, runways, and numerous red-carpet affairs, Joan's personal style has evolved through various stages of her career. Joan was on the top 5 Best Dressed list at the 2017 CAFA Awards and awarded the Contribution to Canadian Fashion Award 2018 by the International Fashion Encounter.

She has also received the Queen's Diamond Jubilee Medal and World Vision's Power of Generosity Award for her philanthropic work as a World Vision ambassador through the international charity. The Joan Kelley Walker collection was created to engage consumers with memorable collections that bring together Joan's true commitment to giving back.

Biersteker wins 2018 Hoedown Showdown

By Anna Cianni

Schomberg native Vicki Biersteker emerged as the winner of the 2018 Magna Hoedown Showdown.

The finals took place on Sept. 14 at the Magna Tent in Aurora.

Biersteker, 22, competed onstage against nine other up-and-coming country artists and came in first place. The runners up were talented musicians Dustin Bird from Stirling, who came in second place, and Dayna Reid from Elmvale, who came in third.

This year, $538,105 was raised for 20 charities. Great job to finalists Mary Paige St. Onge from Seaforth, Katie Sacco from Toronto, Derek Reilly from Queensville, Molly McNulty from Barrie, Zoe Jayne from Schomberg, Patrick James Clark from London, and Amir Brandon from Toronto.

For winning the province-wide competition, Biersteker received a prize valued at over $25,000, which includes a $2,500 cash prize, Yamaha guitar and amp package, $2,500 styling and gift card package from Upper Canada, two full days of recording at Metalworks Studios, "The Ultimate Artist Package" with professional management, coaching, styling, and songwriting by industry professionals. She also got to perform again on the second night of the hoedown, before Blue Rodeo.

"It was wild! Friday night was my first time performing on stage with a band, so the second night was actually a little easier," she said.

Biersteker is new to performing and has only been the star on stage three times in her life, all of which were during this competition.

"I was very shocked to win! I was really just going into the contest for the experience."

Besides singing, Biersteker also plays piano and guitar, but she said she used to hide her music ability when she was younger. In fact, she first sang in front of a live audience for a school play when she was around age 12. "I'm just excited to not be only playing in my room anymore," she laughed.

Biersteker auditioned on Aug. 7 in front of judges Steve Hinder, Beverley Mahood, and Tom Cross at Theatre Aurora. She sang Space Cowboy by Kacey Musgraves and qualified for the semi-finals on Aug. 25.

The semis took place in Machell Park at this year's annual Aurora Ribfest. It was on that stage where Biersteker first got a taste of what it's like to perform for a crowd.

"I was so nervous for that performance. It was the first time on stage with just me and a guitar," she observed.

Biersteker sang Keeper of the Flame by Miranda Lambert and the judges told her: "That was a great song choice for you. You made Schomberg proud!"

When she found out she had made it to the top 10 and was going to perform at the annual Magna Hoedown for the 30th anniversary, she was floored.

"I was especially excited for mentorship week. To work with such successful people like Tom and Beverley, that's really why I was excited to be in the top 10."

At the finals, the judges were Steve Hinder, manager at Magna Inc.; Joan Kelley Walker, star of The Real Housewives of Toronto, and Ted Ellis, chair of the CCMA Board of directors. Walker said they struggled to pick a winner since the finalists were all very strong.

"We were looking for someone who was comfortable on stage, looked great, and was natural and sincere. Vicki was all those things, so that's why we picked her," Walked said.

Biersteker revealed that before the finalists performed "Tom and Beverley said they were not concerned about who wins, they just wanted a good show. So I kinda forgot we were in the competition and I just went up and had fun."

Her family and friends were also there to support her.

"They have been pushing me to do something with music, especially my dad. It just put a smile on all their faces."

Now, Biersteker plans to get better at guitar with her new equipment and also start performing more. Maybe we will see her on a country stage in the near future.

"This year is definitely going to be my biggest year yet doing music!"

Wi-Fi hotspots available for loan at the King library

In celebration of Canadian Library month, King Township residents can now check out one of 12 Rogers Wi-Fi hotspots from their local KTPL branch, giving them unlimited Internet access for the one-week loan period.

A Wi-Fi hotspot is a piece of equipment you can use to connect a mobile-enabled device, such as a laptop, smart phone or tablet, to the Internet. The hotspot is portable, so you can connect from almost anywhere, be it at home, on the bus or in the park.

Among other things, local library facilities serve as community hubs, where patrons have the choice of using the library's in-house computers or their personal devices to access the Internet to look for jobs, check email, study, fill out government forms, stream video or play games. The need for reliable and affordable Internet connectivity across the Township of King has been identified as a priority by council and the library is pleased to support this effort.

"A key tenant of public libraries is to provide access to information. In a 21st century context, that includes the Internet, making connectivity an essential service. So in keeping with our broader mandate, the Library now circulates Wi-Fi hotspots to ensure our residents have more options when trying to get online," said Rona O'Banion KTPL's chief executive officer.

Residents are now able to borrow or place requests for the hotspots using the library's online catalogue at king-library.ca. As with other material any late returns will be subject to overdue fines.

The wireless devices are available to anyone 18 years or older with a King Township Public Library card.

CDS runs again for Terry Fox

The Country Day School held its 27th run for Terry Fox recently, in which the entire school participated.

In his remarks to both Junior and Middle/Senior School students, 16-year-old cancer survivor Riley Edwards, a Grade 11 student at Bill Crothers Secondary School and volunteer for the Terry Fox Foundation as a member of Terry's Team (survivors who tell their inspirational and motivational stories on behalf of the Terry Fox Foundation), shared his personal story of fighting cancer.

Riley told the students and faculty to, "value life, don't take it for granted. My story is very successful, but unfortunately not everyone's is. That's why what you're doing today is so important."

He went on to share how Terry once said: "Even if I don't finish, we need others to continue. It has to keep going without me."

"Thanks to schools like CDS, the Marathon of Hope continues and Terry's dream is alive," said Riley.

With these inspirational words in mind, students and faculty/staff ran and walked throughout the School's extensive trail system with the Junior School run/walking a shorter loop for 30 minutes and the Middle/Senior School students run/walking a longer loop that included a colour run component and fun House competition events.

Over the past 26 years, CDS has raised $514,323 for the Terry Fox Foundation.

Geoff Simpson eyes Ward 3 council seat

By Mark Pavilons

A self-confessed “problem solver” is looking to serve in his first foray into municipal politics.

Geoff Simpson is running for Ward 3 councillor, a post that will left vacant by out-going veteran Linda Pabst.

Simpson said his skills, experience, and personality have prepared him well for this position.

“I thrive on helping others solve their problems. I remain calm under pressure, work well with others and independently, and am energetic and creative. I display sound judgement and decision-making skills and excel in co-operative working environments.”

Simpson is a “huge proponent of life-long learning” and he’s been an entrepreneur in York Region for 16 years. He currently provides IT services to small businesses.

The 12-year Schomberg resident believes in strong communities, and pitching in whenever he can.

And he’s done that in spades. Simpson has more than 50 years of cumulative board experience since moving to York Region, including:

- Concerned Citizens of King Township, 5 years.
- Arts Society King, 7 years.
- Cold Creek Conservation Stewardship, 10 years.
- Humber Valley Heritage Trail Association, 15 years.
- McMichael Canadian Art Collection volunteer, 15 years. For his work at the McMichael, he was awarded the Governor General’s Sovereign Medal for Volunteers in 2017.

“I have extensive experience in working with others in a variety of situations. I have been in leadership roles as president of the McMichael Volunteer Committee for 4 years; vice-president/resident of Arts Society King for 4 years). For 11 years, I chaired/organized the McMichael Volunteer fundraiser – the Autumn Art Sale – increasing sales from $30,000 to a high of $145,000.”

Simpson said he believes effective leadership starts with listening because there’s no way to solve problems if you don’t understand all sides. While that statement may sound trite, it’s also true, and “if you spoke with the many ward residents I’ve worked with on multiple initiatives, they would tell you that this is more than a campaign slogan for me – it’s simply the way I approach things.”

Committee work is a continual process of attempting to address and work through both routine and challenging issues as we strive to fulfill our mandate. Having worked with so many volunteer boards, Simpson said he’s developed excellent communication, listening, and negotiation skills.

“I do my homework so I can make informed decisions. I treat people with respect, knowing that you can be most effective when working as a team.”

Simpson would give his councillor position top priority.

“I have a vision of King that embraces and celebrates its rural, agricultural, and equestrian character while reacting positively to intensification challenges, and increasing the quality of life of our residents.”

If elected, Simpson will work to :

- Improve access to high-speed Internet.
- Maintain and improve the quality and safety of our roads.
- Monitor that responsible development is in keeping with the rural nature of King Township.
- Ensure that our tax dollars are being used efficiently and effectively.
- Sustain and improve our quality of life.

Life-long resident Schneider seeks the Ward 3 council seat

By Mark Pavilons

A life-long resident of Ward 3 with a family history dating back more than 60 years has his sights set on the Ward 3 council seat.

Jakob Schneider, a fourth generation farmer in King, hopes to become the new representative in Ward 3, left vacant by the outgoing veteran Linda Pabst.

Schneider has always been interested in politics and has a passion for serving his community.

I have always been interested in politics, and have a passion for serving my community. During the last four years, Schneider has attended more than 65% of council meetings to gain the knowledge and experience that will enable him to have a strong voice on council to serve constituents.

Schneider has become well versed on local issues. As councillor, he vows to improve road safety; upgrade infrastructure; ensure there is reliable and affordable Internet and cellular service; focus on preserving agricultural land, and be fiscally responsible in the use of taxpayer money.

"I am eager to work with council and the community to make a positive difference in Ward 3 and the Township of King," he said.

Schneider is also very engaged in his community. He has a solid track record of volunteering. He was vice-president of the York Region Federation of Agriculture and is a volunteer firefighter with King Fire and Emergency Services, where he assists with public education in schools and at public education events teaching fire safety.

He was also involved in the Accessibility Advisory Committee, the Schomberg Fair Demolition Derby, Schomberg Farmers' Market and King Township Baseball Association.

Karate school given exclusive use of hall

By Mark Pavilons

A Nobleton karate school will continue to be an exclusive tenant of the Nobleton Community Hall.

King council granted the KaiShin Karate School (aka Glitz International Corporation) exclusive use of the upper level of the hall.

The school was first given exclusive use in 2015 and asked for a three-year extension.

Glitz, staff noted, has proven itself to be "a fine tenant and is providing a service to the residents of Nobleton."

The hall is primarily used by two organizations – the Nobleton Lions Club and the Nobleton and King City Garden Club. Additionally, the hall is rented for miscellaneous events, a dozen or so times per year.

Summer camps also use the facility during operating months and contribute a large portion of the revenue to the facility.

Under the pact, Glitz has exclusive access to the 2,300-square-foot upper level for their karate classes. In return, Glitz pays the Township $9.83 per square foot, or roughly $22,659 in 2018, plus 50% of the utility costs.

They will also be allowed to place signage on the building for their school.

Sip & Savour tickets are available in person and online

While you're out and about you can purchase your tickets for this year's Sip & Savour – Ciao Roma at a number of retail locations throughout King Township.

For King City residents, tickets can be purchased at Humber Valet Cleaners on King Road when you drop off your dry cleaning; at King City Guardian Pharmacy in the Township offices plaza when you stop in to fill a prescription or pick up Band-Aids for the kids. Grab yours when you visit The Roost Cafe on the west side of Keele Street, south of King Road, where you will find a lovely natural light filled coffee shop tucked in the back of a heritage building.

Nobleton shoppers can purchase tickets at the ever popular Pharmasave, next to Alloro on Highway 27, where you can always find a lovely hostess present and smiling cashiers.

In Schomberg, tickets are available at Sugar & Spice Bakeshop and Cafe, where you can enjoy their coffee and excellent sweet treats. Dorio's Kettleby Italian Bakery is the final location. Located on Kettleby Road just east of the park, Dorio's not only offers a hot table with home cooked style foods and their famous artisanal breads but also caters for groups small and large.

"We're thankful to these wonderful retailers who are selling tickets on our behalf," said Meline Beach, Sip & Savour coordinator. "Our annual Sip & Savour fundraiser will deliver an entertaining evening for all in the spirit of fun and fundraising."

Sip & Savour – Ciao Roma, in support of the King Township Food Bank, takes place on Thursday, Oct. 25 from 6 to 9 p.m. Themed this year to the sights, sounds and tastes of Rome, Sip & Savour is the cocktail party of the year you won't want to miss.

Tickets are also available online at www.ktfb.ca. Don't delay. The early bird rate of $40 per ticket expires Oct. 1, after which, the price is set at $50.

Every year, Sip & Savour raises a significant portion of the $80,000 needed by the Food Bank to provide a week of groceries and/or food cards, along with fresh produce and kibble every month to about 200 people and their family pets.

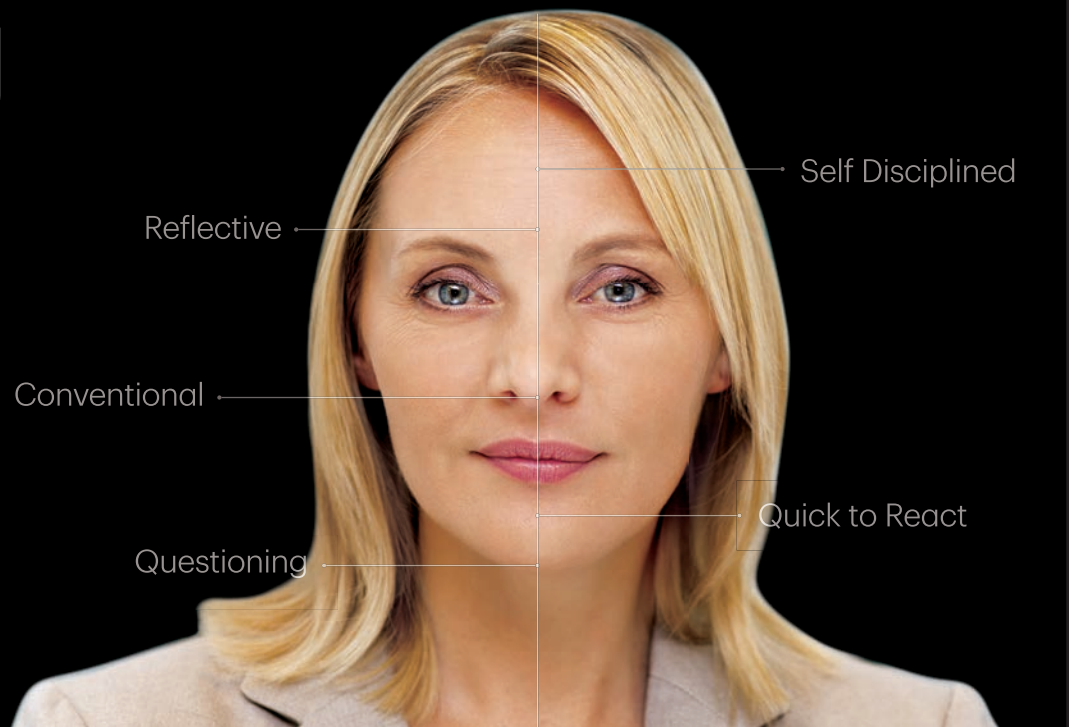

The committee is accepting auction items and sponsorships at all levels. Call Carol Ann Trabert at 416-559-7898 if you want to talk about supporting Ciao Roma.

Business owner and volunteer Turriff eyes trustee post

By Mark Pavilons

An engaged parent and dedicated volunteer is seeking the trustee post representing Aurora and King at the York Region District School Board.

Ken Turriff says he knows first-hand the importance of parents, students, teachers, principals, and staff all coming together to foster student success across both elementary and secondary schools.

“As the trustee, I will actively listen to everyone’s concerns and work tirelessly to make education better for all students. This means being accessible as well as promising to ensure greater oversight, accountability, and leadership at the board and throughout our school system,” he said.

Moreover, Turriff noted he wants to restore public confidence in the YRDSB following numerous controversies. He won’t shy away from pressing issues facing the education system, such as the sex education curriculum or caps on classroom sizes.

At the heart of his pledge to achieve student success are the following areas of focus:

STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Math) with a special emphasis to help female students excel and succeed; physical literacy; financial literacy; First Nations and social justice programs; inclusivity for students facing physical or cognitive barriers and mental health and suicide prevention awareness.

Turriff is confident his education and experience in the region give him the skills needed to do the job.

He’s currently a small business owner in Aurora and King, and he’s a seasoned senior public affairs and government relations professional and educator with nearly 20 years of experience in the municipal government, post-secondary education and not-for-profit sectors. Turriff also has a Master of Education degree from the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE) at the University of Toronto.

“I pride myself on being an effective networker, strategic thinker, communicator and consensus builder,” he said.

Turriff is also a passionate community leader and volunteer. He’s been involved in the Character Community Foundation of York Region; Town of Aurora, Heritage Advisory Committee; Town of Aurora, Canada 150 Committee; Town of Aurora, Mayor’s Taskforce on Physical Fitness; United Way York Region; Scouts Canada and the Yellow Brick House Women’s Shelter.

VILLANOVA COLLEGE

GRADES 4-12 CO-ED • KING CITY, ON

WE ARE VC

Villanova College is an independent Catholic Augustinian school committed to excellence and dedicated to the education of young people engaging them in their spiritual, intellectual, physical and social development.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

The Middle School program guides students to refine their learning skills and work habits to prepare them for success in the Upper School. Middle School students enjoy daily recess as well as a full complement of extracurricular, after-school programs including supervised homework room and tutorials.

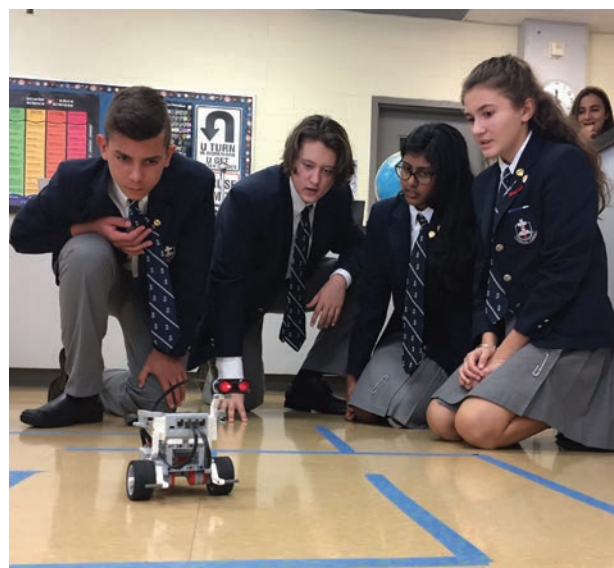

UPPER SCHOOL

Learning at Villanova is exciting, engaging and enduring. Small class sizes, the Teacher-Advisor Program, the Guided Learning Centre and daily tutorials are just some of the ways that our caring faculty give students the individual attention they require to reach their full potential. Villanova's educational program prepares students for university and for life by providing outstanding educational experiences and a breadth of extracurricular activities.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT PROGRAM

Advanced Placement (AP) courses allow motivated students to study at a higher level and intensity in academic areas in which they have interests and strengths, preparing them for the most competitive academic programs at the top universities in Canada and worldwide.

STEM PROGRAM

The Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) Program at Villanova College is an exclusive, four-year academic enrichment program.

Students will take an enriched math and science program in grades 9 and 10 to prepare them for the Advanced Placement (AP) program in grades 11 and 12.

ATHLETICS

The VC athletics program is based on a philosophy of personal growth nurtured by skilled and caring coaches. Developing a spirit of teamwork, sportsmanship and fair play is essential at all levels. Our student athletes enjoy state of the art facilities including a new turf field, indoor running track and 17,000 sq. foot triple gymnasium.

ARTS

Our comprehensive arts program includes Instrumental and Vocal Music, Drama, Fine Arts and Media Arts and is integral to our commitment to develop the whole person. Students have the opportunity to imagine, create, perform and develop self-worth. Participation in the arts serves to broaden the lens through which our students see the world.

SOCIAL OUTREACH & LEADERSHIP

One of the most important aspects of the Villanova experience is the opportunity to transform compassion into action through service activities. VC students share their own talents and resources with those in need through overseas mission trips, weekly sandwich patrols, Habitat for Humanity builds and countless other social outreach projects.

CPL All-Stars clash with ASC prior to Ontario trials

By Jake Courtepatte

Jim Brennan may be on the sidelines when York 9 FC makes its Canadian Premier League debut in 2019, but on Saturday, he took to the field one more time in support of a good cause.

The former Canadian national team member, and current head coach of York 9 FC was joined by past teammates and CPL executives in a friendly against the Aurora Soccer Club on Saturday, in support of Southlake Foundation and the Aurora Food Pantry.

Supporters young and old waved their banners as Brennan and his squad showed off some new white and green kits, in a match they won 4-1.

Some well-known names from across the Canadian soccer landscape joined Brennan for the cause, including former Toronto FCers Marco Reda and Terry Dunfield, as well as CPL Director Kurt Larson.

The excitement in the air wafted farther than just the pitch. Those in the stands were heavily decked out in fresh York 9 FC gear, many in anticipation of the CPL trials coming to Ontario in less than a week's time.

Scouts and head coaches from across the league will be in Hamilton on Oct. 1-2, before visiting Toronto on Oct. 11-12, where Brennan is hoping to scoop up some homegrown talent.

With hundreds of attendees expected from across York Region, is there any certain aspects that will give one player an advantage over another? No, according to Brennan, who said he and his staff will be looking for "a good balance of players."

York 9 FC Head Coach Jim Brennan joined some of his past teammates in a friendly all-star game against the Aurora Soccer Club on Saturday.

"We need some experienced players, we need some youth, we need some guys that can lead by example, that can take control in the dressing room," said Brennan.

Even positionally, the gates are wide open for any hopeful to pull on the green and black.

"You need utility players as well, guys that can play all over the park in different positions."

For Brennan, he brings experience to the position in filling in a roster from scratch. He did so in 2016 in building the AYSC's branch of the semi-pro League1 Ontario squad, the Aurora FC, as the executive director.

Yet on a larger scale, and representing not just Aurora but the nine municipalities of York Region, the grandiose task allows a much larger and more widespread pool of players to choose from: something he thinks will benefit the program.

"I think a lot of times, when a coach inherits a team and he wants to play a certain formation, he can't because the players can't adjust to it and he's got to take a little bit of time in order to move players on and get the players he wants," Brennan said. "We're in a good situation here where we can really build our squad to suit our style of play and our system."

The hundreds in the stands on Saturday may have caught a glimpse of the type of play Brennan hopes to bring to the team's inaugural season, opting to prefer to fill his roster down the middle of the field when they take to the pitch in 2019.

Though you can guarantee he and his staff are doing their research daily to find their best fit, regardless of position.

"The key to success is a difficult one, and everybody has to find the right ingredients that are going to make them successful. And it's not an easy task in world football."

"It's hard to win and it's hard to get your systems right, your formations right, and get the right players in place, so we've got a hard task ahead of us but we're going to make sure we're very thorough in what we do and make sure we get the right players in."

Schomberg's Matthew Lolli stopped 18 of the 20 shots he faced in a relief appearance in the Cougars' 7-1 loss to the Stayner Siskins last week.

Cougars looking to keep nostalgia ball rolling through 50th anniversary

By Jake Courtepatte

The Schomberg Cougars are appealing to the public's help to invoke memories of junior seasons past.

The Junior C club has put out a call to all former captains in the team's 50 years as a franchise, looking for those interested in dropping the puck in ceremonial face offs throughout home games this season.

Any interested candidates can contact Nicki at schombergcougars@post.com.

Alumni Game

Those looking to get out on the ice in their skates rather than their boots will get the opportunity, also: alumni young and old are invited to take part in an alumni game on Nov. 10 at the Trisan Centre in Schomberg.

If you want to pull on a Cougars sweater one more time, you can send an email along with your name, phone number, position you played, and number of years spent with the team.

Cougars still winless

As for the current den of Cougars, next up is a Thursday evening match-up with the Stayner Siskins at the Trisan Centre, the last of a three-game home stand to open the regular season. It also opens up a busy three-in-three schedule, visiting the Penetang Kings and Midland Flyers on Friday and Saturday respectively.

Schomberg will be looking to earn some revenge against the Siskins, who dropped the Cougars' record to 0-2 on the season in Schomberg's only game last week.

After falling behind 5-0 less than a minute into the second period, veteran Matthew Lolli entered the game in relief, putting in a stellar performance the rest of the way in stopping 18 of the 20 shots he faced.

Brandon Cohen notched his second goal in as many games midway through the third period to break the shutout.

Puck drop Thursday is set for 7:30 p.m. For stats, schedules, and more information, visit www.schombergcougars.com.

Coyle tops at show jumping tournament

Daniel Coyle of Ireland won all three phases of Caledon Cup competition at the CSI2* Canadian Show Jumping Tournament running Sept. 19 to 23 at the Caledon Equestrian Park in Caledon.

With wins in the first two events partnered with Farrel, Coyle stole the show on Sunday by riding Legacy to victory in Sunday's $50,000 Caledon Cup – Phase Three, presented by HEP, Aviva Insurance, and Edge Mutual Insurance. A total of 11 horse and rider combinations qualified for the jump-off after successfully negotiating the first-round track set by Portuguese course designer, Bernardo Cabral.

As the second rider to return for the jump-off, Coyle laid down a clear round in a time of 38.60 seconds that would prove unbeatable. Veronica Bot of Burlington, came the closest to dethroning Coyle, but was still off the pace with a time 39.19 seconds to finish second riding Cool Down 3, an 11-year-old Hanoverian gelding (Chacco-Blue x Ly-sander).

Canadian Olympian Beth Underhill of Schomberg, gave it her best shot with Sandy Lupton's 11-year-old Dutch Warmblood gelding, Count Me In, with a jump-off time of 39.44 seconds placing the pair third in the final standings. Underhill was also awarded a $1,000 bonus by HEP as the highest-placed rider sporting a HEP-branded saddle pad.

Mac Cone of King City, riding Zaia di san Giovanni, finished 9th.

"I was second to go in the jump-off, which isn't the best place to be when there are 11 in it," said Coyle, 23 of his performance with Legacy, an eight-year-old Zangersheide mare (Chippendale Z x Bon Ami) owned by Ariel Grange. "I hadn't really gone that fast with her all week and today I went a bit faster. She's an amazing horse. Ariel just bought her after Florida this year. We know she's incredibly talented and to see her showing it in the ring today makes it even more real."

As for winning all three phases of the Caledon Cup on two different horses, Coyle noted: "My horses are incredible and I know them well. I have two good horses and if one doesn't win, the other one usually does."

At the conclusion of all three phases, there was a tie in the points standings for the Caledon Cup. Using a format that rewards consistency of both horse and rider, Coyle riding Farrel, Bot with Cool Down 3, and Underhill with Count Me In had all accumulated a total of 40 points. When the tie was broken using class placings, 22-year-old Bot and Cool Down 3 were crowned the overall winners of the 2018 Caledon Cup.

"The Canadian Show Jumping Tournament is our grand finale for the outdoor season, and we were blessed with clear skies, great crowds, and an exciting jump-off," said Craig Collins of Equestrian Management Group (EMG), the organizing committee for equestrian events held at Caledon Equestrian Park. "Congratulations to Veronica Bot on her consistency in claiming the Caledon Cup, and also to Sam Pegg for winning our newly-introduced $5,000 bonus awarded to the top rider in open classes at the 1.35m-1.40m level throughout the season."

"We started off the season with a wind storm that caused a lot of damage which was tough, but we had great support from our customers the entire year," continued Collins. "That people made it a point to come to all of our events with a lot of horses was really special. Thanks to the support we received, we've been able to carry on and enjoy great sport throughout the season."

Collins also spoke to the legacy of hosting the equestrian events for the 2015 Pan American Games, which allows the Caledon Equestrian Park to stage top-level show jumping and other events in a spacious indoor arena. After jumping outside in the grand prix ring for the opening phase of the Caledon Cup on Thursday, competition moved inside on Friday night for the second phase.

"The indoor arena is a wonderful part of the Pan Am legacy," said Collins. "Friday night was a riot! We had a tonne of people here and food trucks outside, all creating a great atmosphere. It makes for a great venue to be able to host that type of special evening."

Coyle noted that being based at Lothlorien Farm in nearby Cheltenham adds to the allure of competing at the Caledon Equestrian Park, saying, "There is a lot of comfort being here; you don't have to drive ten hours to get to the show and sleep in a hotel. The staff can go home at night and everyone is a little more relaxed. It's incredible to have a show facility this good on your back door."

With the passing of Lothlorien's founder, Susan Grange, almost a year ago, her daughter, Ariel, has continued the farm's operation.

"It was terrible to lose Sue, and it's incredible to have Ariel step into her shoes," said Coyle. "She obviously has a great love for the sport. I never feel any pressure from her as an owner. If we have a bad round, we figure out how we are going to go forward; we don't think about what happened before."

The CSI2* Canadian Show Jumping Tournament was the fourth and final FEI-sanctioned competition hosted by Equestrian Management Group (EMG) at the Caledon Equestrian Park this season. For more information, including full results and competition schedule, visit www.caledonequestrianpark.com.

Schomberg Community Run helps bring clean water for all

We run for sport. We run for fun. We run for exercise. We run for a cure and we run for a cause.

This Saturday, Sept. 29, residents from Schomberg and neighbouring communities will run (or walk) for clean water in indigenous communities in Ontario – specifically Pikangikum, as part of the Schomberg Country Run. Why Pikangikum?

Pikangikum is a First Nations community in northwestern Ontario. It came to national attention after a wave of youth suicides prompted a group of Toronto-based professionals to work with the Pikangikum elders and the school system as the Pikangikum Working Group (PWG). Together, they identified 12 priorities for the community. The first priority was to get a new school, which opened in the fall of 2016. The second is clean water.

Local minister for the Anglican Parish of Lloydtown, Rev. Sheilagh Ashworth, founded the Schomberg Country Run after learning of the youth crisis in Pikangikum.

“At that time, I remember thinking that community was about the same size in population as Schomberg, and I couldn’t fathom the stark contrast. I wanted to understand the primary issue behind this sense of hopelessness,” she said. “While the situation with the Canadian government and indigenous communities is very complex – from the Indian Act being administered by the federal and water being a provincial jurisdiction – as citizens, we can take a stand and make a difference for those in need. Pikangikum is an opportunity where we can make a difference.”

Habitat for Humanity Manitoba has agreed to work with the Pikangikum community, as has the Anglican Church of Canada’s Primate’s World Relief and Development Fund (PWRDF), the Menonite Central Committee Ontario and Atlas Copco Mining Rock Excavation Technique Canada, according to a June 2018 Habitat News article.

Proceeds from the Schomberg Country Run are directed to the Pikangikum Clean Water Project through the Primate’s World Relief and Development Fund and KAIROS, an ecumenical movement for ecological justice and human rights.

“We know for certain our effort with the Schomberg Country Run has been well received,” added Rev. Ashworth. “So far, we have been able to accommodate the necessary plumbing and hardware for clean water and bathroom facilities for a number of homes in the Pikangikum community. While there is more to be done, it has been incredibly encouraging.”

For a complete update on the status of the Pikangikum Working Group and their progress, you can read the minutes of their last meeting online at: http://anglicanparishoflloydtown.com/wp-content/uploads/2017/11/PWG_Visit_6Nov2017.pdf

If you enjoy running, walking or are looking for something fun to do outside in support of a worthy cause, the Schomberg Country Run is your match. It features a 1-km. walk or timed 5-km. run from Schomberg’s countryside to the rolling hills of the hamlet of Lloydtown. Free race t-shirts for paid entrants, along with refreshments and prizes are all part of the fun. Interested participants are encouraged to collect pledges and register online. Links to the registration page and attachments to sponsorship forms are available at <http://anglicanparishoflloydtown.com>.

Community support has been growing, and the past seven Runs have collectively raised over $30,000 for clean water and other Parish outreach activities. This year, for the eighth annual Schomberg Country Run, the target is 60 participants and proceeds of $8,000.

The 1-km. walk will begin at 9 a.m. and the 5-km. run will begin at 9:30 a.m. Strollers, dogs, runners, walkers, wheelchairs are all welcome!

Olympic champ to hold master class in Caledon

By Scott Taylor

Just over a month remains until three-time Olympic gold medallist and world record holder Charlotte Dujardin returns to Canada. Caledon Equestrian Park will host the two-day dressage master class Oct. 20-21, offering the rare opportunity for 1,200 spectators to meet the champion in person and learn from her first hand.

Dujardin will showcase her successful training and teaching methods from the basic levels all the way to Grand Prix as she puts a selected group of top Canadian dressage riders and their horses through their paces each day. Spectators will have the chance to meet the British superstar in person at daily autograph sessions, and may even be treated to a demonstration ride.

All spectators will have access to daily autograph sessions with Charlotte Dujardin and a vendor village featuring a selection of tack, apparel and equipment retailers. Tickets and tables may be purchased online at www.CaledonEquestrianPark.com/CharlotteDujardin.

Experts Share How To Retire At Home and Not Outlive Your Savings

Sharon King-Todd is a Certified Professional Consultant on Aging and Lifestyle Coach. Founder and Senior Advisor Consultant of The Elder's Advocate

"Aging in home may be the best choice for our current senior population and their families, and for good reasons," says Sharon King-Todd, founder of The Elder's Advocate and Certified Professional Consultant on Aging. In a recent article Ipsos found that 93 per cent of homeowners aged 65+ felt it was important to stay in their present home throughout retirement.

Unless planned correctly, retirement living can put a significant strain on cash flow and can pose a risk of outliving retirement savings.

When the average life expectancy was around 75 years of age, private retirement residences were once an achievable option. With the advances of modern medicine and education, the average life expectancy is estimated to increase to 84 by 2030. In Ontario, depending on level of care, the cost for private retirement residences can range between $4,000 and $8,000 per month. Living another 9 years may require up to an additional $864,000 of savings. This has prompted many residents to re-evaluate the feasibility of their original financial plan.

Reliance on the public healthcare system may not be a viable option. Sharon states, "The Senior Tsunami is fast approaching and is expected to double from 5 to 10 million in the next twenty years. The healthcare system is already in crisis with the current aging population. It lacks the needed budget, number of qualified physicians and nurses to meet today's senior demands." Ontario has the lowest number of acute care beds in Canada, with more than 4,500 people on waiting lists for publicly funded in-home personal support services.

There is great news ahead for this dilemma and local senior residents of King Township are turning the health care deficit into an opportunity for a whole new lifestyle approach. They are freeing up cash in their home to help achieve a comfortable retirement, providing a steady income stream and the ability to stay in home when they retire. Sharon, who is a dedicated activist for Aging-at-Home and a specialist in creating living plans, also states that planning ahead can minimize the emotional trauma and cost of crisis care.

The world has changed, and residents are recognizing the need to adapt now to ensure the options initially intended are still realistic and secure.

JOIN US for an educational evening and find out what you can do to safeguard a happy, healthy and financially bright retirement.

King Rebellion rumble out of the gate for the 2018-19 season

By Jake Courtepatte

The rally cry of the King Rebellion can be heard far and wide across the OMHA landscape.

The sophomore slump seems to not apply for King's rep squads, who played to a record of 14-5-1 through the program's opening week.

In his second year as King Rebellion president, Kelly Harbridge is looking to continue building a strong relationship between the former Schomberg and Nobleton programs, while still remembering their roots.

"We continue to build a new association, and the culture we establish for this new hockey club is important," said Harbridge in an open letter to the organization. "That culture should be part of every team and should positively influence every Rebellion player who wears one of our jerseys."

In its second season, Harbridge and his staff have stayed true to its words in continuing the Red Wings and Knights programs at the Local League level, keeping up the longstanding history of both organizations.

"Even though King Township Minor Hockey runs the combined King rep teams for NobleKing and Schomberg, we can never forget about the importance of our local league programs," said Harbridge. "Our local league teams are the grassroots of our program, and the future rep players at the competitive hockey level. We must continue to balance the needs of our rep and local league programs, in terms of ice time needs, fundraising, and skill development."

Harbridge added the program has made some "significant advances" in continuing to work on the developmental aspects of the local league teams, allowing many of their players to move on to the Rep ranks if they wish.

"All of our rep teams and rep coaches have an important leadership role to play in making those local league players feel like they are part of the Rebellion Club, with the rep teams and rep coaches helping to support local league player development, provide meaningful AP and practice opportunities to help us build local league talent, as well as help support fundraising and community social events," said Harbridge. "The rep and local League programs will only 'win' if we all 'win' together."

Running until the end of December, King Minor Hockey is running an IP Player Development program through Young Guns Elite Hockey Instructors at both the King City and Trisan Centres for ages up to six years old on Saturdays and Sundays. No sign up is required, and more info can be found at www.kingminorhockey.com.

York Region diverts 93% from landfill

The Regional Municipality of York is once again at the forefront when it comes to sustainable ways to manage waste, achieving 93 per cent diversion from landfill.

This includes all tonnes from local city and town curbside collection programs, waste depot diversion programs and tonnes managed through energy-from-waste.

"York Region continues to work with our local cities and towns to deliver innovative waste reduction and diversion programs," said York Region chairman and CEO Wayne Emmerson. "The strong participation in these community-focused programs by our residents shows an unyielding effort to reduce the amount of waste going to landfill while respecting the environment."

"York Region remains committed to delivering high quality services to our communities," said City of Vaughan Regional Councillor Mario Ferri, Chair of Environmental Services. "The success of York Region's waste reduction programs is due to the everyday actions by residents and a continued commitment to building sustainable communities."

Since 2012, York Region and our local cities and towns has ranked first in urban municipal diversion. York Region is committed to the four Rs of recycling, reducing, reusing and recovering energy from waste. Energy-from-waste captures the energy produced from waste after recycling efforts have taken place.

Tuesday, Oct. 9, join us at Nobleton Library for a screening of "The Force Of Nature," a documentary portrait of famed environmentalist, David Suzuki, and talk led by Doranne Busche. This starts at 7 p.m.

Nobleton Library is also hosting "The Repair Café" on Saturday, Oct. 20 from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Volunteer fixers will be on hand to fix anything from toys, tools, to furniture and small appliances.

Thursday, Oct. 18, Schomberg Library will be hosting a "Butterfly Talk" with Grazyna Tonkiel. Grazyna, a local artist and international expert on the lives and habits of the butterfly, will tell us what happens to butterflies in the winter.

From Tuesday, Oct. 23 through to Wednesday, Oct. 31, Nobleton Library will be offering a boo-rific good time to kids of all ages, especially 0-6. Our Pre-School Haunted House will have thrills and chills, music and crafts. Come in costume and experience the fun of Halloween!

Schomberg United Church By Nancy Hopkinson

Schomberg United's worship service is at St. Mary's Magdalene Church, 116 Church St. at 9:30 a.m.

This Sunday, Sept. 30, the service will be based on some stories from Exodus 14:5-7, 10-14, 21-29 about Moses leading his people to freedom from the Pharaoh of Egypt and their escape through the Red Sea. The message by Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman relates the biblical story to everyday life today.

Do you like to sing? Come and join the joint Nobleton-Schomberg choir, called The Joyful Spirits, on Wednesdays on 7 to 8:15 p.m. at Nobleton United.

Sunday, Oct. 7, Baptism at Kitchen Breedon Manor at 9:30 a.m. This is also World Communion Sunday.

Sunday Oct. 14, at 11:15 a.m. is the joint service with Nobleton United to celebrate their 122nd anniversary at Nobleton. Erika DaCunha is the special guest soloist with 3 songs. The Joyful Spirits will also sing. Light lunch afterwards.

Tuesday, Oct. 16, the very popular Senior's lunch at noon at St. Mary's Magdalene Church, lower level. Chicken main course followed by dessert. The entertainment will be Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman's travelogue on her August trip to Europe. Call Sheila Kelly at 905-939-2315, as they have limited space. Please enter from the rear for easy access. There is no fixed charge for the lunch but donations to defray the costs are gratefully accepted.

Sunday, Nov. 18, Holy Humour Sunday.

Tuesday Nov. 20, Senior's Lunch. The entertainment will be Sentimental Journey, with singing and guitar, drums, piano.

Schomberg United meets at St. Mary Magdalene, 116 Church St., at 9:30 a.m. most Sundays, but at the Kitchen Breedon Manor usually on the first Sunday of the month. For more info, visit nobletonunitedchurch.com and click on the Schomberg United link, or call 905-859-3976. Messages are picked up regularly.

Scarecrow Competition

The Schomberg Scarecrow competition is well under way and it all starts on Oct. 15.

This year there is a new category for you to make your mark - "Selfie Competition." Since selfies seem to be the current fad, whoever takes the most selfies with the astounding scarecrows, around town could win $50. #schombergscarecrowselfie

This competition is literally open to everyone whether you are a business, team, organization or just you!

The categories are business, team, organization, family and First Timers!

Jennifer Caruk is the Scarecrow "CEO" this year and her email is thecaruks@sympatico.ca

Breakthrough Treatment For Sciatica

Do you experience lower back pain, pain in the buttocks or leg that is worse when sitting, hip pain, burning or tingling down the leg, weakness, numbness, or difficulty moving the leg or foot, a constant pain on one side of the buttocks and/or a shooting pain that makes it difficult to stand up? You may be suffering with a condition known as sciatica.

Sciatica is defined as compression of a spinal nerve root in the lower back, often owing to degeneration of an intervertebral disc.

Sciatica most commonly occurs when a herniated disc, bone spur on the spine or narrowing of the spine (spinal stenosis) compresses part of the nerve. This causes inflammation, pain and often some numbness in the affected leg.

You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your symptoms. But you find the symptoms keep returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of medications that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

There is a new, natural, safe and highly effective approach that has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically: Laser therapy uses light to favor and accelerate the body's natural healing processes. The innovative Multiwave Locked System (MLS) Laser produces a safe, efficient and simultaneous effect on pain, inflammation and nerve conduction, exceeding the limits of traditional LLLT (Low power) and concerns of HP (High power) laser therapy.

According to multiple studies MLS laser therapy appears to be uniquely capable of decreasing the inflammation around the spinal cord and shows great promise in the battle against the devastating sequelae of this condition.

What does this mean for you?

Many of our patients have reported a 90-95% relief of their symptoms, more mobility, increased sensation and vastly improved function!

It is the very latest in medical technology, with years of clinical studies supporting its safety and efficacy and we are very proud to offer our patients effective solutions to their recent or chronic conditions.

"This new, natural, safe and highly effective approach has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically".

Come in and allow us to help you achieve the results you deserve! Call (905) 773-2225 to book your FREE consultation and examination at King West Wellness Centre 141 King Rd., Unit 10, Richmond Hill (In the Home Hardware Plaza)

St. Paul's Church

The Community Youth Group meets regularly; contact our church office at 905-859-0843 for details.

LifeConnect Groups are small gatherings for friendship, study and prayer. We have a LifeConnect Group for men that meets every Thursday morning at 9:30 a.m. They are doing a study on the Apostles. A2J, our program for kids in Grades 3 to 6, will be starting up again in the next few weeks. Keep watch here for further information.

This Sunday, Sept. 23, is "Bring A Friend" day - so please feel free to be our friend and come! Jeff will bring a message called "The Missing Peace," focusing on peace with God. Ministry for children of all ages takes place at the same time. There will be a pot luck lunch after worship, and you are invited to attend.

We are blessed at St. Paul's to have diligent librarians that have worked for years on creating an amazing library with new books being added weekly. You're welcome to borrow from it anytime! We also have a group of people that do quilting and knitting alternatively on Tuesday afternoons. If you would like to know more information on this ministry, please contact us.

Jeff's messages are posted at www.passionatelyhis.com each week. They are also on Facebook Live and are available on the church's Facebook page (@stpaulsnobleton) and YouTube page (search St. Paul's Church, Nobleton) for viewing.

For more information about ANY of our activities or events, please contact the church office or visit our new and improved website at www.stpaulsnobleton.ca.

St. Mary's Church

Deacon Milan Popik has a new parish appointment. Please join us in bidding farewell to our deacon of 13 years. Deacon Milan Popik, who will be assigned to St. Clement's Parish in Etobicoke, as of Oct. 1. In gratitude for his service to St. Mary's and St. Patrick's Parish community, the CWL will be serving refreshments on Sept. 30 at 12 p.m. in St. Mary's Parish Hall.

St. Mary's CWL will be hosting a yard sale fundraiser on Sept. 29, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. They are selling the table at $50 and tables are limited. They are also having a bake sale and jar goods sale. If you have extra jam, pickled veggies or tomato sauce or any baked goods it would be greatly appreciated. The Knights also generously volunteered their time in doing hot dogs, hamburgers and corn.

For more, contact Linda at 905-859-4958.

Apple pies will be on sale Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 6, 7 after 5 p.m. and 9.45 a.m. mass. People can pre-order by calling Linda at 905-859-4958. Cost of the apple pies this year is $15 or 2 for $25.

Nobleton United By Nancy Hopkinson

This Sunday, Sept. 30, the service will be based on some stories from Exodus 14:5-7, 10-14, 21-29 about Moses leading his people to freedom from the Pharaoh of Egypt and their escape through the Red Sea. The message by Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman relates the biblical story to everyday life today. Services typically involve music supplied by piano and/or supplied by video on our overhead screen. Sometimes I see/hear a video from Kelowna's First United Church with my son John in the choir with his wife Tessa. It's a small world!

Do you like to sing? Come and join the Joyful Spirits on Wednesdays from 7 to 8:15 p.m. at Nobleton United. We are currently learning an interesting syncopated piece called "Rise, Shine, Little Light" for Nobleton's Anniversary on Sunday Oct. 14, "Child of Mine" for a baptism Oct. 21 and a funny piece called "A Place in the Choir" for Holy Humour Sunday on Nov. 18.

The next Messy Church dates are Tuesday, Oct. 16, Tuesday, Nov. 20, and Sunday, Dec. 9. The Tuesday times are 5 to 7 p.m. and dinner is included. The Sunday time is 11:15 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and includes lunch. There is no charge for this fun time with children.

The church ladies have delicious chicken, beef and turkey pies now for sale at $5 each. Call Fran at 905-859-3819 or Linda at 905-859-0442.

Our Harvest Dinner is this Friday, Sept. 28. We are sold out. Call Helen at 905-859-3924 to see if there have been any cancellations.

Art sale aids volunteer mission to Rwanda

For sale is "Greenland Memories," an original acrylic on canvas painting by Austrian-Canadian artist Ernestine Tahedl. The internationally renowned artist painted this as part of a small series in 2008, after a trip to Greenland. Measures 56 x 51 cm. Valued at $2,300. One of a kind by a sought-after artist. Proceeds from the sale help support University of Western student Alexandria Hesketh-Pavilion, who will be doing volunteer mission work in Kigali, Rwanda through the university's interdisciplinary experiential learning course offered at Western. She will engage in 5 weeks of active and interactive community service. She will be an "ambassador" of not only Western University, but of Canada. Contact me at mpavilion@rogers.com if interested in the painting.

Anglican Parish
By John Arnott

And he said to her "Hagar, Sarai's maid, whence camest thou? and whither wilt thou go?"

This is the first recorded encounter we have of humans and those biblical beings known as angels.

Then what exactly are angels? Well, the St. Alban's Anglican community in Nobleton notes that most Christians believe these spiritual beings that can take on human form are special servants of God who, among their many duties can on occasions interact with humans on his behalf.

These other world spirituals are not limited to the Abrahamic religion (Judaism, Christianity and Islam) but also are present in Buddhism, Hinduism and Zoroastrianism (from which the idea of a guardian angel for each person originates).

Many believe angels walk among us unnoticed today!

Greek philosopher Aristotle talked about a prime mover, a force or God-like creator who unmoving moved/controlled everything in the universe and believed secondary movers, angel like forces, worked under this primary force.

Some ancient history scholars see the ancient Egyptian god Aten as equivalent to the Archangel Michael, while the god Aah is the Archangel Gabriel.

And Mercury the Roman messenger god could be identified with Gabriel as well.

The author of St. Matthew's Gospel, one of four accredited Gospels in the New Testament, writes that angels have much greater knowledge than humans but are certainly not omniscient. St. Augustine of Hippo says that angel is the name of the office these spirituals hold not of them personally!

The word "angel" meaning messenger comes from the Mycenaean Greek akero through the Persian angaros back to the classical Greek aggelos into the Latin angelus.

In today's world almost all angels are shown as young women with wings but women as angels is a Hollywood invention. And late medieval and Renaissance artists gave angels wings as an explanation of how they could get from heaven to Earth. Biblical angels all appear as wingless young men. Although there is no description of the angel who appeared to Hagar twice, this spiritual is referred to as two angels who came to Abraham's camp with an incognito God and later warned Abraham's nephew Lot to leave Sodom before its destruction. They are described as young men ordinarily dressed and ordinary looking. The angel who wrestled with Jacob, along with Azrael who passed over the Hebrew homes in Egypt but brought death to Egyptian homes were male. As were the wingless angels in shining white who appeared at Yeshua's empty tomb at Easter.

Heavenly angels are said to have 7 leaders or archangels with Michael, who defeated the rebellious angels led by Lucifer/Satan banishing them from heaven, in charge of all. Gabriel is the messenger angel sent to tell Mary she was chosen to be mother of God's son and brought the Qur'an, the Muslim holy book, to Mohammad some 600 years later. These are the only 2 given a name in the Bible.

But tradition tells us others include archangel Raphael who will sound the trumpet from the rock/Temple Mount in Jerusalem on Judgement Day and Uriel, who guards the garden of Eden with his fiery sword.

This coming Saturday, Sept. 29 is St. Michael and All Angels Day. On the following Sunday morning Sept. 30 the Anglican Parish of Lloydtown will mark this occasion in words and song during Holy Communion at 9:30 a.m. in Christ Church, Kettleby Rd. mid way between Keele and Jane Streets.

King's Corners

King City United
By Sheryl Sinka

Last Sunday, Sept. 23 we pondered the question "Who am I?" In life we often struggle with knowing the answers but we were encouraged to follow our calling and be ourselves.

We remembered individuals like Mother Teresa and Princess Diana who each made significant contributions in helping some of the marginalized of society as they found and lived their paths. We can also make great differences in the lives of others and achieve great things if we open ourselves to it.

Please join us for Worship on Sunday at 10 a.m. (Sunday school runs at the same time).

For those looking for some conversation and company, Tea and talk takes place on Friday mornings at the Sunset Grill (1700 King Rd.) at 10 a.m. All are welcome to come out and join in a cup of coffee or tea and some conversation.

If you have any questions please contact the church office at 905-833-5181

King Bible Church

Please join us on Sunday, Sept. 23

as Pastor Mark will be continuing our journey on "The Guaranteed Places to Encounter God" with "Gospel-Centred Churches."

"Every day is full of various encounters, encounters with our families, encounters with our neighbours, encounters with those we work with or go to school with. Each one of those encounters in varying degrees has had a part in shaping who we are and who we will become. This coming year we as a church are going to focus on another encounter, the encounter to meet with God. We are going to walk through 8 different places that God has said through his Word he will meet us and transform us. We would like to invite you to join us on this life changing journey."

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning "Celebration Zone" provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in Grade 1-8 will join their parents for the beginning of the service until they are invited to go downstairs. The children in Kindergarten can go directly to their class at the start of the service.

Our "Legacy" nights are our family Bible Study nights.

We chose the theme of "Legacy" because we believe that's what families are looking for; both to be a part of as well as leave a lasting "Legacy."

We will provide Nursery care for children 0-3. Our children (JK-Grade 5) and junior high (Grade 6-8) classes will meet downstairs. Our adults will meet upstairs.

Our program runs from 6:45 to 8 p.m. Our adults will be studying "Everybody Always" by Bob Goff.

It's a five-session study about Becoming Love in a World Full of Setbacks and Difficult People.

The children are doing the study "The Travel Guide to the Beatitudes."

And our junior highs (Grade 6-8) are doing the study "Freedom Ride."

You can find us at King Bible Church, 1555 King Rd. King City (at King Rd. & Dufferin), 905-833-5104 www.kingbiblechurch.com or info@kingbiblechurch.com

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

Welcome to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, King City! Our Sunday morning worship is at 10:30 a.m. our with Sunday School for school-aged children up to 12 years, running concurrently. A nursery is also available. After the service, join us for refreshments in the lounge.

We welcomed Angelica Atkins, a student in her final year at Knox College last Sunday whose sermon was entitled "When Grace came to Town!" She focused on the last part of the Sermon on the Mount, Matthew 7 and had much to share with the congregation.

Our kick-off to our fall "Messy Church" program was certainly enjoyed by everyone. Thank you to the two wonderful local firefighters, Alex and Jesse, who talked to our community families about Fire Safety around the home, including the importance of having a fire escape plan for their individual homes. Our communal supper was chilli and corn on the cob and of course roasting marshmallows over the fire outside! Hope you can join us next month, Sunday, Oct. 28 from 5-7 p.m.

This Thursday St. Andrew's has the privilege of taking the worship service at the King City Lodge at 2 p.m.

St. Andrew's King City will be celebrating its 60th anniversary Sunday, Oct. 21 at 10:30 a.m. Join us on this special occasion! Alison Agnew will be our guest preacher and all are invited for lunch following the service.

How wonderful to be able to talk with God anytime and anyplace. God is there with us! Call Kathy Patterson if you would like to go on a prayer walk or meet for prayer over coffee.

For pastoral care needs contact Lynn Vissers, Director of Congregational Ministries at the office, 905-833-2325 or contact our Interim Moderator, the Rev. Paul Johnston, 705-341-7738.

All Saints Anglican Church
By Patrick Gossage

Healing Ministry at All Saints – All of us hurt in some way in mind body or spirit. All Saints takes its healing Ministry as mandated by Christ himself very seriously and our licensed lay anointers will be offering private prayer and anointing to all who come forward as part of our 10:30 service next Sunday, Sept. 30. In this way we can all experience God's eternal and life giving love. Come as you are and invite a friend.

Words to live by – Rev. Dr. Elizabeth Green used last week's Gospel story in Mark 9 of Christ foretelling his passion and telling his disciples arguing who was greatest that "Anyone who wants to be first must be the very last," to talk about conflict Jesus teaches us that conflict and disagreement can be a blessing in disguise, she said. "Because we are invited to work together for a solution."

Conflict situations arise when we don't know whether to speak or be silent. In the story the disciples were silent because they were embarrassed about arguing who was greatest. Rev. Dr. Elizabeth told us to ask ourselves what we would say if Christ were to ask us what an argument was about. She then reminded us we were not perfect and church was not a place to pretend we were, but rather where we do "field training" for service to God, to which everyone has proximity, and where we have a spiritual connection to one another. When we find ourselves in conflict we should stop and recognize ourselves as spiritual beings.

A day for the community to celebrate pets and help save animal lives – Pets are such a blessing in our lives and Saturday, Oct. 13 at 3 p.m. is their time to be blessed right back! That day on the lawn at the church, All Saints will not only offer a service blessing any and all pets that come, but will welcome Dr. Gail Lenters from Shades of Hope Wildlife Hospital and Refuge and her special animal guests. This charity, based in Georgina, takes in injured and orphaned animals from south central Ontario, treats and rehabilitates them and releases them back in their natural habitat. Bring your pets and a lawn share. Offerings will be taken to support the wonderful work of Shades of Hope. Come and bring your friends – this is a community event and all are welcome.

Teen Challenge Barn Dedication

Teen Challenge Barn Dedication and Open House event will be held Saturday, Sept. 29 at 10 a.m. This is to honour the completion of the renovations of our "barn" into a chapel and classroom for the women at the centre. They are opening this up to the public who also can attend the open house which includes tours, a jewelry sale, and treats along with testimonies of women overcoming their addictions.

Teen Challenge is committed to helping women 18+ years overcome their drug/alcohol addictions by offering a 12-month residential rehabilitation centre. For more information about the centre visit www.tcgt.ca

King's historic tidbit

A small but vibrant Catholic community was established on Jane Street and the 16th Sideroad during the Great Depression, to provide homes and livelihoods for families on relief in Toronto.

Enough money was raised to provide each family a temporary home on a two-acre lot, and they were given seed for planting and fifty chickens. Two cows were provided for the community, the men worked together, and by the end of three months, the newcomers were self sufficient. Co-operation, barter, and community spirit were the cornerstones of happy, prosperous community and other Catholic families soon arrived.

Very few of the original families now remain, but the beautiful church built in 1960 continues to support its local Catholic community.
