Country Run continues to help community

The 8th annual Schomberg Country Run, held Sept. 29, drew participants from Barrie, Newmarket, Tottenham and Toronto.

Participants joined together in this 5-kilometre run/walk that took place on the rolling hills west of Schomberg. A family event, the 1-K walk included stroller-size participants, children, parents, grandparents, and family pets. The 5-K had parents and children participating alongside dedicated runners.

Reverend Sheilagh Ashworth's opening remarks included the news that the Boil Water advisory has been lifted for Pikangikum, and they now have qualified personnel to monitor the central water supply. Work continues to pipe the water to the homes of the families living in the community.

There is ongoing construction/installation of indoor bathrooms and running water in kitchens, which is where thousands of dollars raised by the Run have been going over the years.

The race was chip-timed, and this year Jeffrey Lam and Connie Warnock received prizes for the fastest in the male and female categories.

More than 30 additional prizes were awarded to participants by random draw. The weather was perfect, and the air was filled with the fragrance of fried onions and back bacon as a late morning menu along with tea and coffee for all. There was also a table of drinks, fruit, and energy bars for runners before and after the race.

Donations are still coming in and word on the final proceeds will appear in an upcoming issue.

Candidates square off at first debate hosted by Chamber

By Mark Pavilons

Job creation and easing local traffic woes were top of the list at the first municipal all-candidates debate last week.

The King Chamber of Commerce brought together all 14 council candidates Oct. 3 at Nobleton Lakes. Candidates in Ward 5 received the most attention from residents, who put the would-be councillors in the hot seat with their questions.

MC and Chamber board member Jay Rider asked the candidates how best to address the jobs deficit in King, and foster economic development.

Ward 6 candidate Roman Dyriw said he's a big proponent of the small stores and shops that are common in villages.

Incumbent Avia Eek said King's Economic Development Strategy has set out tasks and goals and council is proceeding with them. She is also keeping her eye on a business corridor in her ward, that runs up Highway 11 to Bradford.

Ward 5 candidate Sasha Mozaffari said when Magna International builds its headquarters on the parcel at the corner of King Road and Jane, it will bring jobs to the community. She's in favour of asking residents what they would like to see in terms of job creation.

Rob Payne said the bulk of King's industrial/commercial development is limited to Schomberg and it's not enough. Some 87% of the tax burden falls on residential homeowners and we have to consider enlarging commercial areas in all the hamlets. As well, council should be cognizant of the 1,000-plus home-based businesses as well as the agricultural operations.

Incumbent Debbie Schaefer said our towns need to be attractive to investors and we have to leverage King's unique qualities. Improving broadband is just one area that will make King more suited to businesses.

Ward 4 candidate Mary Asselstine said the revitalization of Schomberg's Main Street is under way and hopes are it will become more attractive to retailers and fill up. The industrial area near the Trisan Centre is still largely vacant and King needs to really look at light industrial uses that bring jobs.

Incumbent Bill Cober said over the past 10 years, there have been significant gains in job creation. Council has worked with Showa, a major company in Schomberg, to help them improve their efficiencies. He stressed the Township has to make sure we have the amenities in place to attract investment.

Ward 3 candidate Jakob Schneider said his ward is largely rural, so it's quite different than King's other urban centres. The Township, he said, needs to more fully promote agricultural and equestrian operations and cut some of the red tape to foster growth in those areas.

Geoff Simpson said he's on deck to do whatever is necessary to support King's farmers and equestrian operators. The ED study does have measures laid out, so King will have to concentrate on moving them along.

Ward 2 candidate Sherry Draisey said increasing transit connectivity in all areas of King will draw businesses.

Incumbent David Boyd said King's infrastructure improvements, transportation master plan and improved Internet services all make King investment-ready. New and existing businesses need these in place. He also said the Township's CIP program make our core areas more attractive to new businesses. It's working well in Nobleton and he's excited to embark on new measures, especially promoting eco-tourism.

Ward 1 candidate Kelly Colasanti said King has to increase its industrial/commercial inventory and expand boutique retail. Infrastructure and enhanced GO service will also help.

Jordan Cescolini, as a small business owner, said we have to take a step forward to attract industry. Tough decisions may have to be made and it's time to talk realistically about merging the old and new villages. Increasing the industrial/commercial ratio will help lower taxes.

Incumbent Cleve Mortelliti said King has helped foster the repurposing of older buildings for new businesses. As well, the municipality does have plenty of serviced industrial land, but it seems to be in areas no one wants. There's no consensus among residents as to the preferred solutions. He knows residents want tax relief and it's a constant balancing act.

The topic of a bypass for King City led to a lively debate, but saw little in the way of concrete solutions.

Mortelliti said an Environmental Assessment was done on several options, pointing to the 15th Sideroad as the only viable option. But York halted studies and the 15th has been pulled off the table. He said we won't see any real solution or bypass options in the next three terms of council.

Cescolini said traffic is a major concern in King City, and for residents along the 15th. King has to "get the ball rolling" to study traffic relief options.

RE-ELECT Debbie Schaefer FOR WARD 5

*I listen
I analyse
I get the best results*

I'm proud of what I've helped accomplish since my first election in 2010. My collaboration with Council colleagues and the expertise from Staff has achieved so much for King. Most importantly, the influence and support from you, the engaged citizens and business owners of King, helped me reflect and build on your needs.

- Here are some of the most noteworthy accomplishments for King this last term:
- Anticipated new facilities are being built without burdening today's taxpayers.
 - Meaningful contributions to our long-term infrastructure reserve were made.
 - Innovative designs for new facilities as community hubs: Town Hall includes gymnasium and York Region Police substation; King City Seniors' Centre combines with King City Library.
 - Approved developments continue to respect the environmental buffers.
 - Unique cultural heritage artefacts are being protected and yet integrated into our contemporary community.
 - Enhanced village cores with new sidewalks and streetscaping.
 - Businesses in the village cores are taking advantage of the Community Improvement Program which benefits all.
 - Commencement of broadband internet to rural areas.

I'm excited to focus on the following issues and opportunities during the 2018-2022 term:

- Elevate our already high standard of environmental stewardship by better protecting our mature trees.
- Increase the mix of housing options in a manner respectful of neighbours.
- Improve the protection of mature neighbourhoods.
- Deliver greater access to broadband internet.
- Monitor our capital projects with objective of meeting time and budget.
- Update our important planning policies including our new Official Plan.
- Advocate for distribution of natural gas to rural areas.
- Expand the Community Improvement Program beyond the village cores.
- Reconstruct our rural roads with attention to what is appropriate for the area.
- Continue to be sensitive to cost pressures on current taxpayers without forsaking the need to build for the future.

My commitment to you to maintain and regularly update my blog at DebbieSchaefer.ca has been highly effective: it has kept you in touch with my activities; and it delivers me your valuable feedback on Council's issues and plans. I'll renew this commitment to you!

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"A newspaper is the center of a community, it's one of the tent poles of the community, and that's not going to be replaced by websites and blogs."

- Michael Connelly

We all need to immerse ourselves in nature

"In every walk with nature one receives far more than he seeks."
- John Muir

Some of us walk in the rain and marvel at Mother Nature. Others just get wet!

But it seems most of us "get it" when it comes to the beauty of nature and the outdoors.

Bill Shakespeare once said that just a single touch of nature "makes the whole world kin."

In a way, we're intruders, not unlike the noxious invasive weeds in our gardens. Mother Nature spent billions of years perfecting her creation and much of it remains untouched and unspoiled, as when the Earth was new.

Patience, she has it in spades!

I'm sure if we all closed our eyes and tuned in, we could hear Nature laughing in the sunshine at the dawn of each new day.

There's no question that our planet is a beautiful green-blue ball flying through space. All of the right ingredients came together in a cosmic stew to create one heck of a concoction.

Every mountain stream and every blade of grass is seemingly perfect. Nature is all powerful in its subtlety and design.

Humans have been enjoying the great outdoors long before we "moved indoors." Maybe that's when we lost touch.

But our connection with nature is buried deep within our ancestral DNA.

A recent survey by the Nature Conservancy of Canada found that 9 out of 10 Canadians are happier when they spend time in nature. That may not sound earth-shattering, but it lends credence to all of our efforts in terms of conservation and preservation.

The NCC has launched its "Landmark Campaign," intended to inspire Canadians to explore their own relationships with nature.

"The Nature and Me survey," released by NCC, reveals a growing disconnect between Canadians and nature. Canadians feel happier, healthier and more productive when they are connected to nature and yet, 74 per cent say that it is simply easier to spend time indoors and 66 per cent say they spend less time in nature today than in their youth.

The Landmark Campaign is the largest charitable campaign for conservation in Canadian history. This $750-million campaign will double the land and water conserved by NCC to more than 6 million acres, including 500 new conservation projects. To inspire Canadians, NCC has also curated a pop-up art exhibit called Nature and Me. The exhibit features nature photography and reflections from notable Canadians.

"We are at a turning point," said John Lounds, NCC's president and CEO. "It's time to talk boldly about the tangible benefits nature provides, and the urgency and importance of protecting it. Nature is Canada's gift to the world and we have an opportunity, perhaps more than any other country, to make conservation count. It will take young and old alike, working together, to protect the land, water and wildlife so unique to Canada. That's what the Landmark Campaign is about."

NCC also takes care of King's Happy Valley Forest, one of the largest remaining intact forests on the Oak Ridges Moraine. It's a refuge for more than 110 breeding bird species, and critical to the survival of nationally significant species such as Acadian flycatcher and cerulean warbler.

NCC helps protect some 780 acres (315 hectares) of the forest, ensuring the survival of future old-growth forests and species that rely on this habitat on the Oak Ridges Moraine in the midst of surrounding development. It is the largest remaining intact forest of its kind on the moraine.

The Happy Valley Forest also protects the headwaters of streams that flow north to Lake Simcoe and south to Lake Ontario.

This gem, in the heart of King, beckons. It's a must-see and this time of year is perfect for a hike in this wonderland.

You can really get lost in the forest, surrounded by towering trees and animals of all descriptions. It's really like stepping back in time, thousands of years in fact. One of the most significant landforms in southern Ontario, the Oak Ridge Moraine was formed 12,000 years ago by advancing and retreating glaciers.

Word has it that native artifacts, dating back 10,000 years, have been found in the area.

If you're looking to connect, or reconnect with Nature, this is the place.

The "Nature and Me" survey also revealed that more than 80 per cent worry that accessible natural areas will not be there for future generations to enjoy. And 94 per cent of Canadians are aware of the benefits that spending time in nature can bring to their physical and mental health.

It's no coincidence that we're soothed and healed by nature. We are part of it, inseparable at times, from the world that created us. The fact we share elements and fragments of DNA with our planet is no accident.

We don't really have to explain it in scientific terms. It just feels good, and right.

Some may like the city skyline, but to me, there's nothing like listening to the leaves chatter among themselves, kissed by the wind. Seeing a woodpecker search for food is simply amazing. Those babbling brooks are actually quite wise in their choice of words.

What Mother Nature created, dedicated men and women have preserved.

Lose yourself in nature today! Your body and mind with thank you for it!

Letters to the Editor

Ministry wants public feedback

As a trustee candidate in Aurora and King Township for the York Region District School Board, I would like to let the readers know that the Ministry of Education has recently put out a call for input from the public. Parents, students, educators and interested individuals or organizations are being asked to provide feedback on the education system in Ontario. To help the Ministry in its decision-making, it is looking for feedback on the following 7 topics:

1. Improving student performance in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM).
2. Preparing students with needed job skills, such as skilled trades and coding.
3. Improving provincial standardized testing.
4. Ensuring students graduate with important life skills, including financial literacy.
5. Managing the use of technology in classrooms, such as cell phones.
6. Building a new age-appropriate Health and Physical Education curriculum that includes subjects like mental health, sexual health education and the legalization of cannabis.
7. Developing the first-ever Parents' Bill of Rights.

Details can be found at www.ontario.ca/page/for-the-parents. The deadline to participate is Dec. 15.

Candidates vow to boost economic development

Colasanti said he supports the 15th as a bypass route, noting it's the most logical. He added we have to get trucks off of King Road, too.

Payne said he was surprised to hear that support for the 15th, stressing it's not a viable option. He wouldn't waste taxpayers' dollars to reopen this debate.

Mozaffari said a new study is the best bet to look at traffic, especially as King City grows.

Schaefer said a bypass through Kingscross would carry an "astronomical cost," and it's not even clear it would solve the problem. The King-Vaughan Road is likely more of an alternative.

Ward 5 candidates were asked about the parking situation at the King City GO station, and what can be done to provide more spaces.

Schaefer said Metrolinx has said it will expand the parking, but hasn't committed to a time frame. More YRT service to the station would help. There is ample parking in the village, and people need to know about the availability and just walk a couple of blocks.

Mozaffari said expanding the parking lots and extra bus service is needed in the village.

Payne noted the GO lot is at 100% capacity and will reach 160% over the next couple of years. King has to push Metrolinx to expand the parking. The Green P lot is underutilized so perhaps a shuttle bus from there would be a good idea.

Opening remarks

The candidates were given the opportunity to introduce themselves and their platforms in their opening remarks. For some, this was their very first public debate.

Chamber President Tom Allen said this debate is "democracy in action," and he said it's so very important that voters have options in every ward. He praised the candidates for "putting yourself in the public eye."

Mayor Steve Pellegrini, acclaimed for the second time in a row, thanked the Chamber for hosting the debate.

"I humbled by my acclamation," he said. "I'd like to say thanks to the amazing people of King who have shown confidence in my leadership over the last eight years.

"I promise to continue working hard for the next four years to encourage economic growth, increase broadband, improve our roads and improve the quality of life for our residents and businesses.

"We've accomplished a lot over the last four years. With all the positive changes that have been happening recently, it's nice to know King is starting to be recognized as one of the best places in Canada to live. MoneySense magazine recently released its annual survey of the best places to live in Canada and King ranked first in York Region, eighth in Ontario and 18th in Canada. The survey ranked cities based on criteria like wealth and economy, population growth and taxes."

Cescolini, 22, said the changes he's seen in the past few years make him want to build a better future. He's pushing for a lower tax rate, growing the tax base and improving infrastructure. He said he's big on listening to the people, and making sure their voices are heard.

Colasanti, a five-year King City resident, wants to give back to his community. He'd like to see King City become a destination to shop and he's supporting improving the maintenance of vacant lands in the area. He's also pushing for lower taxes and dealing with traffic congestion in the village.

Mortelliti said he has 12 years of experience at the council table, which is both valuable and useful to residents.

The self-professed problem-solver is well versed in municipal politics as well as civil engineering, giving him a thorough understanding of issues and the process.

Draisey said her focus is on pedestrian protection in Ward 2. She'd like to see improvements to pedestrian walkability in Laskay. She'd also like to see better scheduled road construction to avoid drawn-out periods. Reducing traffic is key to maintaining King's property values.

Boyd noted he has long roots in the community and he's in office because he cares. He wants all King residents to feel "at home" in their own community. He's compelled to serve as councillor, ensuring the community remains the place to be for future generations.

Schneider, a 4th generation farmer, said he's attended 65% of the council meetings over the past term to acquaint himself with the process and issues. In listening to residents, he found road safety, cell phone service and infrastructure improvements are top of the list. We need to make King more business friendly, he said, noting we must promote our agri-businesses. He's also a big supporter of accessible and affordable housing.

Simpson, a 12-year Schomberg resident, said he brings his business and some 50 years of cumulative volunteering to the table. He thrives on finding solutions. In his many leadership roles and committee involvement, he's developed great listening skills. The role of councillor would be his top priority.

Asselstine, a Schomberg resident and volunteer since 1985, has learned the importance of "looking after each other." She's invested her time in her community, making many partnerships. Realizing the pressures on King, she said it's important we establish a collaborative approach to what's needed for the community. Her skills, energy and passion will be ideal as a full-time councillor.

Cober has enjoyed serving his constituents and as a "home-town product," he's happy to continue in this role. Fostering relationships with residents, groups and Township staff will help meet the challenges ahead. He supports promoting and cultivating King for future investment through economic development measures, and working with other levels of government.

Tackling gridlock, improving infrastructure are top of the list for Mozaffari.

Sip & Savour; come for the food, stay for the fun, auction

Come to Rome for an evening of classic sights, sounds and tastes at Sip & Savour – Ciao Roma, on Thursday, Oct. 25 from 6-9 p.m. at Nobleton Lakes Golf Club.

Characterized by its simplicity, Italian cuisine featured at this year's "cocktail party of the year" will offer an abundance of taste – from sweet and savoury to something fritte, al dente and al forno thanks to the culinary magic of executive chef Roger Wakileh.

In addition to food and drinks, guests can enjoy a hint of European atmosphere with inspiring landscapes, entertaining street performers and a fun shopping experience at the "grandioso mercato," featuring a stellar assortment of auction items ranging from fine art to fine experiences, including golf, hockey and exotic cars. Marion Hogg and her silent auction committee have tirelessly sourced something for everyone at Sip & Savour – Ciao Roma.

It's all for fun and fundraising for the King Township Food Bank, as Sip & Savour is heavily relied upon to raise a significant portion of the $80,000 annual budget it takes to sustain its volunteer operations and support over 200 people with a week's worth of non-perishable groceries, fruit, vegetables and kibble for pets. As another option, food cards are provided to those who prefer to select food items directly.

Tickets to Sip & Savour-Ciao Roma are $50 each and can be purchased online at www.ktfba.ca or at a number of

Scarecrows competition in Schomberg

By Susan Heslop

After a trip to the UK in 2004 where she visited the Wrenbury Scarecrow Trial, Cheryl Fisher thought it would be fun to bring something similar to Schomberg. In 2005, she introduced her idea to the community and it was an instant success.

This year the Schomberg Village Association and the Schomberg Scarecrow committee are pleased to present our competition for 2018. Last year we had over 40 entrants, a new record and the competition was fierce.

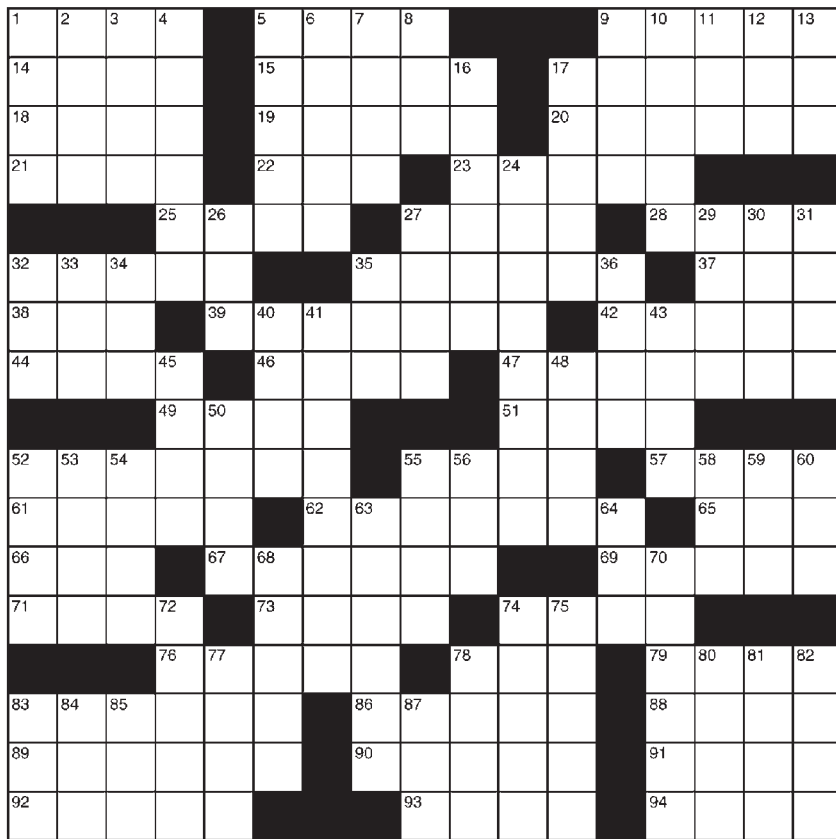

We know we can get even more entries for 2018, so come on Schomberg, get your creative juices flowing and show us your scarecrows. There are prizes for the best and most creative in several categories, again please check the website for details.

Not sure how to enter? It's easy – just build a scarecrow, put it up on your lawn or in front of your local business by Oct. 15 and register your entry online at schombergscarecrows.com.

Need help? Visit our Facebook page Schomberg Scarecrows or email us at screcrowsinschomberg@gmail.com for ideas, rules, categories and instructions.

Your Voice for Business in King

Laskay Hall remains a historic King landmark

By Mark Pavilons

The recent opening of the relocated Laskay Hall swings open the doors to future generations.

Community members, Township staff and local politicians gathered recently to re-dedicate the hall in his new home on the grounds of the King Heritage and Cultural Centre.

“We stand here in a building Senator David Reesor donated 158 years ago and we all have ensured its existence for another 158 years here at the Heritage and Culture Centre,” said Mayor Steve Pellegrini at the celebration. “I can’t begin to thank the Laskay Hall Board members for their vision and fortitude to make this day possible.

“Difficult decisions usually end with incredible results. And this is a perfect example of the right decision.

“The ladies of Laskay worked hard to maintain this building through fundraising concerts, dances, and socials. Now the hall will allow those community social events to continue but with better services such as an energy efficient furnace, and safer and more expansive parking for guests.”

Lifetime member of the hall board Mary Scott shared some cherished memories of the hall.

“I am honoured to be part of to-day’s Ribbon Cutting Ceremony and thrilled to witness the next chapter in Laskay Hall’s preservation journey.

“These four walls have helped mark many occasions in my personal life, including first meeting my husband Lorne and the open house celebration of our 50th wedding anniversary in 1996. “It could be that 75 years of treasured memories make me a little biased, but Laskay Hall will always be the most precious jewel in King Township’s Cultural Centre.”

Senator David Reesor of Markham, a man with strong Reform leanings and member of the Methodist Church, donated land for a Temperance Hall in 1858 to support what to him was undoubtedly a worthy cause.

The Hall was built on Weston Road in Laskay by the Sons of Temperance No. 220 and opened in early 1859.

The Temperance Movement is a social movement against the over consumption of alcohol. Participants in the movement typically criticize intoxication or promote complete abstinence (teetotalism).

Temperance members used the hall for meetings and events but when the distribution of alcohol became regulated by the municipality the Laskay group disbanded.

The building was turned over to the Women’s Institute. The Laskay Women’s Institute branch was organized by Mrs. Miller in roughly 1908.

Laskay and Nobleton Women’s Institute had organized as one group in 1908. While this proved a successful partnership the winter weather that year made travel difficult with bad roads and long distance by horse and sleigh limited attendance.

During the years of the Women’s Institute there were many fundraising concerts, dances, and socials. The ladies of Laskay worked hard to maintain the community and the building through the efforts of their membership.

In 1930, electricity was brought to the building. In 1939, some 40 chairs were purchased, costing just over $100. In 1941 school was held in the building for three months.

Senator Reesor might never have imagined that 158 years later the building would be moved two kilometres to King Road to begin a new life at the Heritage and Culture Centre.

Saturday Night Bash raises $175K for research

By Mark Pavilons

A recent gala evening hosted by a King resident raised close to $200,000 for medical research.

The Saturday Night Bash, hosted by Chris Kenalty Sept. 15 supports ground-breaking research conducted through The University Health Network in Toronto. King resident Chris Kenalty, has been part of a study/research group that's looking into the treatment of neurodegenerative diseases, including issues that can arise from a stroke.

The event raised $175,000 and Kenalty was thrilled by the response. Calling it a "huge success," Kenalty said the music "was to die for" and guests danced the night away.

All proceeds from Saturday Night Bash will go towards Dr. Leanne Casaubon's Stroke research program at the Toronto Western Hospital, UHN. The Ontario Neurodegenerative Disease Research Initiative (ONDRI) is a provincial collaboration studying dementia and how to improve the diagnosis and treatment of neurodegenerative diseases, including issues that can arise from a stroke. Stroke is the third leading cause of death in Canada and the leading cause of adult neurological disability. Dr. Casaubon is a neurologist and director of the TAMS unit at TWH/University Health Network, which is also the regional stroke centre for the Toronto West Region.

Get 'agricultured' at annual Royal Agricultural Winter Fair

The Royal is coming to town, Nov. 2 to 11, and it's coming with a promise to help you "Get Agricultured." Along with the launch of ticket sales, organizers announced today a new campaign, "Get Agriculture" as well as a wide list of features and activities that help bring the best of the country to the city.

"Get Agricultured hits at the core of our original mandate established almost 100 years ago," said Charlie Johnstone, CEO of The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair since 2015. "Everybody has an interest in gaining knowledge on food, agriculture and the richness of our environment, as well as the role these play in our lives. In many ways, The Royal is more relevant today than it's ever been. Most importantly, it continues to offer education in one of the most memorable and enjoyable ways – through experience."

Get Agricultured was created in partnership with Toronto-based agency Fuse Marketing and will be featured across all media platforms, including online and throughout the event site. The campaign includes catchy slogans such as "Stirrup some fun," "Our kids can't wait to meet your kids" and "Less rat race and more rabbit jumping."

The Royal will give life to the new campaign with its traditional line-up of activities and features including 5,000 animals, 120 agricultural competitions, artisan cheese, giant vegetables, Ontario wines and beers, live performances, spectacular art, food sampling, various restaurants and pubs and North America's number one indoor equestrian event, The Royal Horse Show. The Royal even features an elusive nightclub, The Tanbark Club where the fashion-forward can be seen after an evening at the Royal Horse Show. As always there is much to do for families such as Ag-Tivity Central and the renowned President's Choice Animal theatre which offers exhibits such as birds of prey, rabbit jumping, sheep-herding, Medieval Times performances, Australian Horseman Guy McLean, the Toronto Mounted Police, Beginner Horsecraft and everyone's favourite, The President's Choice SuperDogs.

There is also no shortage of dining options. Every year, The Royal builds-out a variety of unique temporary restaurants that feature local chefs, regional ingredients and food specialties including The Royal Court Restaurant, Bullpen Saloon and Heritage Court Cafe. One of the most popular hospitality venues is The Royal Terrace, which overlooks the Royal Horse Show and features a carefully curated menu by the master chefs at Oliver & Bonacini.

"There are enough entertainment and restaurant options to plan something different each day and night of The Royal," said Tim Lilleyman, Director of Hospitality at The Royal since 2013. "Like any successful Fair, we've always offered a strong base of activities. But now, with new and recent additions, the best advice I have for visitors is to plan to visit over multiple days or to book a room in a nearby hotel and visit daily."

Other recent or new additions to The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair include:

The Burnbrae Farms Culinary Academy which will offer interactive cooking classes everyday with some of Canada's most prominent chefs including Jamie Kennedy (Kennedy Kitchens), Rob Gentile (Buca), Michael Hunter (Antler) and Alida Solomon (Tutti Matti). Available on a first-come-first-served basis, the classes will focus on seasonal, local and sustainable gastronomy, and will include very specific details on where our food comes from. Each session holds seating for just 36 participants so this is an exciting and exclusive opportunity to learn from and break bread with some of the best of the best. Some sessions will have the added feature of wine pairings and will only be available to guests 19 years and older.

Tickets to The Burnbrae Farms Culinary Academy are an additional $20 per session and can be purchased at RoyalFair.org. Classes run roughly one hour. Patrons are encouraged to sign up early to avoid disappointment as these sessions will sell out.

In partnership with Canada's largest country music festival, Boots and Hearts, The Royal will kick off with the first stop on Tim Hicks' "Get Loud" tour, Thursday, Nov. 1. Fresh off his performance at the Canadian Country Music Awards, Canadian music icon Hicks will be joined by The Washboard Union, Tebey and Madeline Merlo. Available at Ticketmaster.ca, tickets start at $65.

"Whether it's farm animals, equestrian sports, unique dining experiences or music performances in truly unique settings, everyone who visits The Royal ends up loving The Royal," said Johnstone. "Our aim is to get everyone excited about agriculture and food, whether for a day, ten days or an entire lifetime."

Rain or shine, The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair runs Friday, Nov. 2, to Sunday, Nov. 11.

Candidates focus on important issues

Helping residents with their day-to-day problems is important, and she believes these can be best resolved with "fresh thinking."

Payne cited three main issues in the coming term – speeding and traffic calming; controlled sustainable development; economic development, all of which will help residents in the end.

Schaefer said she's delivered value to her constituents since she was first elected in 2010. We're at a very exciting time in King's evolution and we're just now seeing the benefits of growth. Several projects on tap – King's new municipal building, the new library and seniors' centre, and new recreation centre – all increase the value to the community. Council needs to be respectful to its taxpayers and be frugal with spending. At the same time, we need to encourage a mix of housing options and deal with growth.

Dyriw said he's concerned with past mismanagement of road and canal projects in the Marsh. He questions whether residents are getting value for their tax dollars. He vows to improve work-related performance and accountability.

Eek has helped increase the profile of agriculture since being elected in 2010. She's become engaged in countless committees and organizations over the years. She's proud that York has its first agri-food strategy and of the trust she has built with her constituents. Working together as a team "your priorities are my priorities."

Community bids farewell to the Shackelfords

By Bruce Craig

King Township friends gathered to bid a fond farewell to Mike and Beth Shackelford, as they move from their home in Lloydtown to a new home in Wellington County near Belwood Lake.

The Shackelfords moved to King Township 23 years ago seeking a rural village setting in the historic hamlet of Lloydtown. Both Mike and Beth share a passion for wise stewardship and conservation of the rich natural features in King on the Oak Ridges Moraine and adjacent rural areas, plus smart, sustainable planning which values heritage and enhances a sense of community.

Mike, who has been a long-time member of Concerned Citizens of King Township and has served on the CCKT board for several years, is well known for his thoughtful letters to the editor where he highlights issues and challenges much of current thinking. Behind the scenes Beth has acted as a well-skilled editor and proofreader for Mike's letters.

Over the past year Mike has contributed actively in the Trees Focus Working Group, a collaborative group of citizens and Township staff who have been exploring effective ways to better conserve healthy, mature trees in King and seek to craft a suitable tree by-law for the three main settlement areas of King.

We will miss the regular letters and articles along with the sense of humour and warm friendship which characterize Mike and Beth. We send them off with our very best wishes, and we invite them to come back often for a visit.

- ✓ A vision for the future – A progressive and strategic thought leader, Rob will preserve our unique agriculture & rural heritage and quality of life, recognizing the needs of our hamlets, villages and our rural community. Business leaders donate $2M to Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital

John A. D'Angelo, Giuseppe Maio and Claudio Memme of leading Canadian real estate investment company HBNG Holborn Group (HBNG) donated $2 million gift towards the new Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital. This gift will help build the main courtyard with cascading gardens, designed for patients and families as an essential therapeutic space for recreation, socialization and respite.

"As we gain more knowledge around the delivery of health care, there is an understanding that a holistic approach, one that also recognizes mental and social factors in addition to the physical symptoms of a disease, leads to better outcomes," shared John A. D'Angelo, Giuseppe Maio and Claudio Memme. "It is our hope that with this gift we can help contribute to the well-being of not only patients but also their families."

Designed to support patients' overall health and wellness, the main courtyard with cascading gardens helps bring to life Mackenzie Health's vision of a world-class patient experience. Lush greenery and open spaces create calming and restful areas for patients and families who are awaiting or undergoing care and treatment, or who need relief during stressful times.

"The generosity and leadership of John, Giuseppe and Claudio will help create new possibilities for patients and families to thrive during their health care journey," said Ingrid Perry, president and CEO, Mackenzie Health Foundation. "Building a hospital is about more than bricks and mortar. It's about building the best patient experience – from the minute our patients enter, to the moment they leave. This exceptional gift will help us create the hospital our community deserves."

Mackenzie Health Foundation's $250-million Exceptional Care Belongs Here campaign is spearheaded by a dedicated 33-member cabinet co-chaired by Greg Sorbara and the Honourable Maurizio Bevilacqua, Mayor of the City of Vaughan.

"Today's celebration recognizes the spirit of generosity that is evident throughout our city. Our compassionate citizens and businesses are committed to safeguarding, improving and elevating the quality of life for our community and beyond," Bevilacqua said. "I would like to express my sincerest gratitude to John, Giuseppe and Claudio for their selfless, thoughtful and generous contribution to Mackenzie Health Foundation. This donation marks another historic milestone for the residents of Vaughan, front-line health care professionals and the ongoing construction of the Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital. Building this hospital is about investing in the health and well-being of our citizens and ensuring we all have access to the best possible medical care for generations to come."

"We're grateful for this gift and the leadership of John, Giuseppe and Claudio," added Greg Sorbara, co-chair of the Exceptional Care Belongs Here campaign. "This gift will support the continued growth of Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital and have a comforting impact in the lives of both patients and families."

Scheduled to open in late 2020, the 1.2-million-square-foot, state-of-the-art hospital will feature fully integrated "smart" technology systems and medical devices – marking a national first for any community hospital. Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital will be the first hospital to be built in York Region in more than 30 years and the first-ever hospital in the City of Vaughan.

The Foundation has committed to raising $250 million in community contributions toward the total $1.6-billion project cost. Thanks to many generous donations already received, including this most recent gift, the Foundation has raised $113 million to date.

My name is David Boyd. As your Ward Two Councillor since 2014, I have been committed to providing reliable, conscientious leadership that has helped bring our community together.

I have worked collaboratively with members of Council, Staff, Advisory Boards, Service Clubs and Community Stakeholders to enhance and improve our villages. Together, we have celebrated the opening of new parks, infrastructure improvements and upgrades to our buildings.

I chose to run for Council because I care about our community and for everyone who calls Ward Two, Nobleton – Laskay home. Four years later, my commitment to you is stronger than ever.

With your support, we can continue the momentum to create an even better Ward Two.

My priorities for another term of Council include:

- Infrastructure investments to ease traffic congestion and improve pedestrian safety.
- Township-wide traffic calming strategy and updated Transportation Master Plan.
- Ward-wide access to high speed internet.
- Village revitalization and economic development.
- Transparent communication and passionate leadership.

A SCHOOL for BOYS

Gender identity is constructed from societal perceptions of what it means to be a boy or girl, and these stereotypes manifest themselves in the daily behaviour of children. To best serve boys, educators must understand their common behaviour as a reflection of the backdrop of societal perceptions of masculinity. It also works to combat these stereotypes so that boys can be the full expression of themselves.

To that end, we are able to tap into a rich, longstanding culture in which boys are able to explore, in safety, the breadth of the human condition, and their unique place within it. In this school culture, artistry and creativity are not labelled as 'feminine,' but rather as human.

Eloquence, both written and spoken, is expected. Self-reflection and the quest for meaning is built into the fabric of the daily routine, whether through Chapel or our Advisory program.

But there is more to it than that. Boys carry a natural wariness for things that are not genuine, and become bored easily when the activity at hand does little to forward their own sense of meaning. To that end, our teachers create an authentic curriculum; help boys find purpose in life; train them to care for themselves and others; and endow them with a sense of personal commitment and integrity. These goals become more realizable in a culture that presupposes one can be much more than what can be offered by the limiting stereotypes of masculinity. «

Cougars ground Golden Hawks in blowout win

By Jake Courtepatte

It was a one-sided affair in the first meeting of the year between the rival Schomberg Cougars and Caledon Golden Hawks.

The start of a whirlwind, three-game weekend for Schomberg's Junior C club, the Cougars jumped out of the gate Thursday night at the Trisan Centre with forward Brandon Scholten's seventh of the year, keeping a four-game scoring streak alive.

Caledon managed to tie it up just over a minute into the second period, though Schomberg returned with six unanswered goals before Caledon stopped the bleeding in the frame's final minute.

By the final buzzer, Schomberg had thrown a whopping 37 shots on the Caledon net, though the third was left scoreless in a 7-2 final.

Alexander Cordeiro led the way with a four-point night, while Brandon Cohen posted a three-point effort.

Parker Lantz continued his strong play between the pipes in his first PJHL season, remaining undefeated by stopping 20 of the 22 shots he faced.

Draw with Hornets

Yet another rivalry was renewed the following night in Alliston, stemming from a season-opening overtime heart-breaker at the Cougars Den.

With redemption on their minds, Cordeiro continued to have the hot hand in opening the scoring just over a minute into the game, though the Hornets tied it up in a flash on a quick break off the ensuing face-off.

Cordeiro buried his fourth in two games to regain the lead in the second, followed by Lucas Brockie's third of the year, though Alliston buried twice before the end of regulation to send the teams to overtime for the second time this season.

Neither side capitalized in the extra frame to take a point each in a 3-3 tie.

Loss to Patriots

Fatigue seemed to settle in Saturday for the Cougars in their third game in three days, falling to the Mount Forest Patriots in an interdivisional match-up.

Up 3-1 heading into the third period, Schomberg gave up four goals in the final frame to drop the game 5-3.

With both the Golden Hawks and Penetang Kings winning over the weekend, Schomberg remains two points back of each in the eight-team Carruthers division, though the entirety of the race is still very much up for grabs.

The Hornets as well as Orillia Terriers are keeping pace as the early leaders just one month into the schedule, albeit just four points up on the Cougars.

Schomberg will be looking to close the gap, and renew the rivalry, with the Hornets when they face each other for already the third time this season when the Cougars play host on Thursday night at Trisan.

Puck drop is set for 7:30 p.m.

Schomberg closes out the week with a visit to the Huntsville Otters on Saturday for their first meeting of the year.

Rosie MacLennan (right) brought home the gold in synchro with partner Sarah Milette at the Trampoline World Cup in Loule, Portugal on Saturday.

MacLennan wins two world medals

By Jake Courtepatte

Rosie MacLennan is still proving she is the queen of the trampoline.

The 30-year-old took home both a gold and a silver medal from last weekend's Trampoline World Cup in Loule, Portugal, in the synchronized and individual events respectively.

"I'm really happy with how today went," said the King City native and two-time Olympic gold medalist. "Today, I did the planned routine and I'm really happy with how it went. After many months of building, I feel like I have great momentum for what's next."

She joined partner Sarah Milette, a 21-year-old from Quebec and fairly new to the senior national squad, to post a final score of 46.950 points in the synchro competition: just one-fifth of a point ahead of their closest American competitor.

"Sarah is a strong trampolinist and a strong competitor," said MacLennan. "So I'm excited about what's to come."

Milette, speaking to the Canadian Press, said she was "excited" heading into her first big competition alongside the Canadian bouncing royalty.

"I'm really happy with how the final went today, it was the first competition together for Rosie and I in synchro so I'm really pleased with the results. It gives me confidence going into the World Championship, we're going to continue practicing our routines to be ready."

In the individual event, MacLennan posted a score of 57.105 points, less than half a point behind Xueying Zhu of China.

"I'm also really happy with my routine in the individual final," said MacLennan. "I had a few mistakes in prelims that forced me to substitute a couple of skills."

Over in the men's competition, Nobleton's Jason Burnett finished the synchro event along with partner Jacob Cranham with a total of 50.50 points, just half a point off of the podium.

The final stop of the World Cup Series circuit, next up for the reigning Olympic champion as well as Burnett is the Trampoline World Championships in Saint Petersburg, Russia in early November.

Curlers soar to the rings in club's season opener

By Shellee Morning

The hurry hard crew was back at it this week with brooms in hand and the curling bug at heart. The rings of blue and red were bright with anticipation as were the curlers themselves with each league playing host to the King Curling Club's 2018-19 league opening games.

Curling Canada and the World Federation of Curling have implemented the new 5-rock rule in play this season, and the members of King Curling will also be applying the new rule. The new rule means that another rock is added as a protected stone that can't be removed from the free-guard zone; the area between the hog line and the house. As always, any rock that is placed in the house (rings) can be removed at any time. The new rule will allow greater advantages to score and make the ever popular game more challenging and strategic.

Monday night men's league has a full roster of 18 teams and each one of them will be playing for the ultimate prize at the end of the season; the men's championship title. The first teams to enter the winner circle were Boynton, Belchar, Sheardown, Brown, Barber, Muller and Smith. Teams Duffy and Gerrits resolved in a tie.

The Divas of King have also returned to the house with 10 teams that create the Ladies Team Entry League. Returning champion Skip and league convenor Kelly Stronach anticipates another great year of pristine shot making and timely draws to the button. Winners from the opening game were Abbotts, Morning, Stronach, and Sinclair while Teams Jessop and Brown settled for a tie.

Kim Broad delivers her stone during the Tuesday night Ladies league season opener.

Thursday Mixed is where both genders participate in the club's somewhat competitive league. Some would say that it's the league where the boys become men and the ladies rule the house. The sound of granite hammering granite in the house is a welcome sound to all curlers and there was plenty of hammering this past week along with the calls of hurry hard. Teams to claim victory after one were Boynton, Pelland, Brown, Steenhoek, Gerrits, Campbell, Morning and Smith. The scoreboard surely displayed that some teams enjoyed the summer break more than others and haven't got the throw motion switched from the swing motion just yet. Over the next few weeks the scores will get tighter and the challenges grander. All teams in this league present themselves as viable contenders and no team should never underestimate their opponent.

Charity Spiel

Members of the Wednesday night Social League are organizing a bonspiel Oct. 27 and all proceeds will be directed to the Mike O'Hara Van Fund.

Mike contracted the very rare and crippling disease called Transverse Myelitis, which has left him confined to a wheelchair. This life-altering disease requires daily nursing and personal care that has left Mike, his wife Bonnie, their family and friends in a devastating change of lifestyle and simplicity.

Mike is an organic farmer who has lived and maintained his livelihood within the community where locals have enjoyed his products at the Schomberg farmers market. He puts a special kind of love into everything he does and you can truly see it in his ever-present smile. The former president of the Schomberg Agricultural Society and member of the curling club, Mike is not only a well respected figure but is a man that becomes a friend to everyone he meets.

Proceeds from the curling spiel will be directed towards a wheelchair accessible van to assist Mike and Bonnie with their transportation needs. Mike is determined to overcome his challenges and members from the Wednesday social league, which is where Mike has also been a member of for many years, want to help.

The spiel consists of 2 draws of 2 6-end games that include lunch, prizes and snacks. The cost is $50 per player and if you would like to contribute towards this great cause but cannot curl, donations are accepted for the event as well. Anyone considering joining this fun day of curling for Mike, can contact Ann Gerrits as 416-616-4158 or register directly at gerrits6@sympatico.ca.

Colasanti challenges for Ward 1 council seat

By Mark Pavilons

A fresh perspective is needed on King council, according to Ward 1 candidate Kelly Colasanti.

"I realize that now more than ever, our town needs a fresh perspective in office. King, Ward 1 is in the process of the greatest planned and proposed development in the township. Imminent changes make it imperative that we decide as a community what we want to become, where we want to go, and how we want to get there."

He stressed it has never been more important than now to elect a full-time councillor, who will act in the best interest of King, and its bright future.

Colasanti is a retired executive, who ran engineering and operations for a large Canadian broadcasting organization. In his professional experience, he was responsible for managing multi-million dollar budgets that were utilized for technical, as well as construction building.

"My leadership experience coupled with my penchant for getting things done on time and on budget has prepared me with enthusiasm, vigor and commitment to serve the citizens of King, Ward 1."

He said he felt a desire and obligation to give back to the community that has given so much to him.

"My time spent working within King has given me first-hand perspective to some of the issues of great concern to our residents. For example, following the construction of Holy Name Catholic School and the resultant horrific traffic congestion, I fought and succeeded in getting a four-way stop installed at the street corner adjacent to the school. I also rallied residents and spoke with them against the proposed building of Starbucks drive-thru at the corner of King Road and Springhill Drive. I'm prepared to work full time, energy and enthusiasm to concentrate on residents needs and ensure that best standards and practices are being fulfilled within or community."

Colasanti said he supports well planned, controlled development that is compatible with the existing environment of our community and does not produce dramatic change. However, escalating taxes, poorly maintained vacant land, a lack of affordable housing, and alarming increase in traffic are issues that have resulted in Ward 1 "losing its coveted charm and heritage."

"It is with open, honest dialogue that I plan to bring genuine transparency back to residents as we strive to restore our town's luster," he said.

"We need to make progressive change happen together."

For more, contact him at colasanti@rogers.com, or call 416-464-1762.

King Public Library

October is "Canadian Public Library Month" where librarians and library partners raise awareness of the valuable role the library plays in Canadians' lives.

KTPL has a very busy month of events planned and invites and welcomes everyone to come out and help us celebrate!

Thursday, Oct. 18, Schomberg Library will be hosting a "Butterfly Talk" with Grazyna Tonkiel. Grazyna, a local artist and international expert on the lives and habits of the butterfly, will tell us what happens to butterflies in the winter.

Nobleton Library is also hosting "The Repair Café" on Saturday, Oct. 20 from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Volunteer fixers will be on hand to fix anything from toys, tools, to furniture and small appliances.

Never fear moms, Monday, Oct. 22 is a PA Day and we are offering a free program at Nobleton Library, where kids 6 and up can make their own "Horrific Origami!" from 1-1:45 p.m.

From Tuesday, Oct. 23 through to Wednesday, Oct. 31, Nobleton Library will be offering a boo-rific good time to kids of all ages, especially 0-6. Our Pre-School Haunted House will have thrills and chills, music and crafts. Come in costume and experience the fun of Halloween!

LEARN ABOUT THE NOBLETON TRACT CONTROLLED BURN (FALL/WINTER 2018)

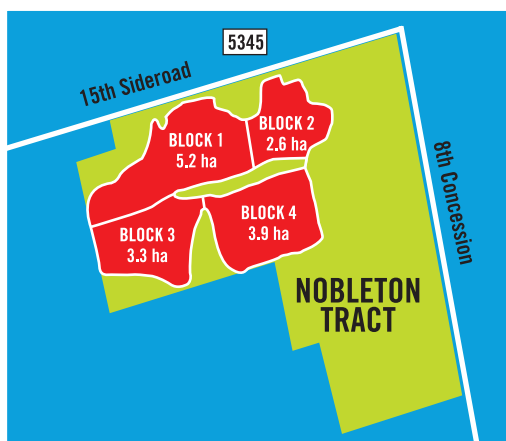

Date: Tuesday October 23, 2018
Time: 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.
Location: Nobleton Arena & Community Centre
 Nobleton Arena Hall
 15 Old King Road
 Township of King, ON, LOG 1N0

The Regional Municipality of York is planning a controlled burn of a tallgrass prairie located in the Nobleton Tract of the York Regional Forest.

Controlled burns are carefully set and managed fires that are an important restoration tool to help maintain and protect tallgrass prairie habitat. Fire-dependent ecosystems like tallgrass prairies contain plant species that respond positively to fire and gives them an advantage over weedy less-desirable plant species.

The red shaded area on the map indicates the area to be burned in fall/winter 2018. During the burn, access may be temporarily restricted in areas surrounding the burn site.

Please let us know if you require accommodations to participate in this meeting. An accessible version of this notice is available upon request.

Community complaints lead to charges against cannabis growers

Complaints from concerned citizens led investigators with the York Regional Police Organized Crime Bureau – Guns, Gangs and Drug Enforcement Unit to cannabis grow operations in the Township of King operating in excess of their licenced amounts.

In early September 2018, an investigation began into suspected grow operations on two properties in the area of Woodchopper Lane and Dufferin Street after complaints from citizens. On Sept. 26, investigators executed search warrants on the properties and found there were licences issued by Health Canada for cannabis to be growing on the properties. On one of the properties there were four licences that allowed for 1,140 plants to be grown. On the second property there were three licences that allowed for 1,121 plants to be grown.

Investigators found more than 400 plants were being grown over the licenced limits, which represents nearly $400,000 worth of excess cannabis.

As the investigation continued, officers arrested the people working at the grow operation. Two of those people were the same growers who had previously been arrested for the same offence on July 27, at a grow operation on Strawberry Lane.

“These investigations are raising significant concerns, as there is once again a blatant disregard for licenced grow limits,” said Chief Eric Jolliffe.

“We are concerned the legalization of marihuana on Oct. 17 will increase overall demand and organized crime is poised and ready to supply that demand. York Regional Police is committed to keeping our community safe and we need our citizens to continue to come forward to report suspected grow operations.”

Investigators believe that organized crime is exploiting the Access to Cannabis for Medical Purposes Regulation (ACMPR). The regulation allows for designated growers to pool up to four grow licenses per address and turn a single production site into a cannabis farm.

However, because these growers are not appointed as licenced producers, they are avoiding Health Canada regulations for growing, security and quality control. The end result is lower cost cannabis that is sold into the black market for high profits.

Individuals from King, Quebec, Toronto, Bradford and Markham were charged with Possession of Marihuana for the Purpose of Trafficking and Produce Marihuana.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the York Regional Police Guns, Gangs and Drug Enforcement Unit at 1-866-876-5423, ext. 7817, or call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-tips, leave an anonymous tip online at www.1800222tips.com

Schomberg Should Know

The culmination of our month of October is on Thursday, Oct. 25 where Schomberg Library hosts an event we call “One Book; OneAuthor; Three-BookClubs.” Plum Johnson, the celebrated author of the memoir “They Left Us Everything” will be telling her story and all three of our book clubs in the KTPL will be on hand to appreciate her stories and memories. Everyone is welcome. This starts at 7 p.m.

Schomberg United Church
 By Nancy Hopkinson

Schomberg United is invited by their sister church, Nobleton United, this Sunday Oct. 14 at 11:15 a.m. to celebrate their 122nd anniversary in Nobleton. Erika DaCunha is the talented young guest soloist who will sing 3 songs. The Joyful Spirits will also sing. Light lunch afterwards.

Tuesday, Oct. 16 is the very popular Senior’s lunch at noon at St. Mary’s Magdalene Church, lower level. Chicken, mushroom rice, salad, rolls, apple cake with ice cream, tea & coffee will be served. Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman will give a short guided tour of Europe in photos. Call Sheila Kelly at 905-939-2315 if you would like to join the fun. Rides can be arranged. Please enter from the rear for easy access. There is no fixed charge for the lunch but donations to defray the costs are gratefully accepted. Do you like to sing?

Come and join the joint Nobleton-Schomberg choir, called The Joyful Spirits, on Wednesdays on 7 to 8:15 p.m. at Nobleton United.

Sunday, Nov. 18 is Holy Humour Sunday. The Joyful Spirits will sing "Everyone Has a Place in the Choir." This piece is guaranteed to have you laughing. There will be hilarious jokes told as well. It will be a fun service.

On Tuesday, Nov. 20 for the Senior's Lunch, the entertainment will be Sentimental Journey, with singing, guitar, drums, and piano.

Lions Club

On Sunday, Oct. 21, the Schomberg Lions are celebrating a very special milestone as the Kitchen-Breedon Manor marks its 25th anniversary. Everyone is welcome to share in this celebration with special presentations happening at 2 p.m., followed by light refreshments.

A long time ago, I remember a very special community meeting in the Schomberg Community Hall and our beloved Dr. Jones got up to speak and he asked "Do you have roots? Do you want to have roots? Do you want to have to leave your community because you can no longer stay in your home?" With only 3 people in opposition, the rest of the town supported Dr Jones's ideology and a dream was born.

The Lions went to work, driven by Jim Kitchen and Bill Breedon. Doors were knocked on, petitions signed and the project was a go. Too many of our seniors had to leave their town – they could no longer stay in their home and so had to leave their roots, their family, their comfort zone.

With the Kitchen-Breedon Manor, they have an option, where they could stay close to family, close to roots and still be independent.

Unfortunately, Mr. Kitchen and Mr. Breedon both passed before the doors were opened and so it was appropriate that this building carry their names.

On Oct. 21 come celebrate with the Lions and the current residents of the 32 Unit KB Manor at 40 Roselena Drive as we look forward to the next quarter century of this beautiful, well-needed and appreciated Kitchen-Breedon Manor.

Rich Hill United sale

The Rich Hill United Church Women (UCW) are at again with their Big Bake & Small Craft Sale happening on Saturday, Oct. 27 from 9 a.m. to noon.

This quaint, historic, well-maintained and well-loved little country church is located at the corner 2nd Line and 10th Sideroad in Tecumseth Township.

Their doors are always welcome to newcomers and old-timers alike.

Horticultural Society

For the last general meeting of the year, the Schomberg Horticultural Society is delighted to welcome our special guest speaker who will bring live specimens to supplement his presentation on "Emerging Trends." Dan Short comes to us with a wealth of experience and a passion for making people happy through plants. Originally from Kent, UK, he is now a manager with Sheridan Nurseries and is keen to share his experiences in horticulture. Please join us on Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Schomberg Community Hall on Main Street. You will have a chance to speak with Dan afterwards while enjoying some light refreshments. New members are enthusiastically welcomed. Meetings are held on the fourth Tues. of the month from March to June and September to October. Individual membership is $20 per year and family membership is $25. We also welcome those who wish to attend for $3 at the door.

Couture For The Cause

This year marks the 100th anniversary of our Remembrance Day and the end of World War 1.

A good way for us all to mark this momentous date is to come out to "Couture For The Cause" at the York Pines United Church on Oct. 26 and 27, from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

This is a vintage fashion show, lining the runway with visual remembrances of the past century along with commentary that shares the history of the same times of both Canada and our own King Township.

Those who have and will continue to put their lives on the line for their country every day will all be honoured. All proceeds go to Wounded Warriors.

To order tickets please call 905-939-7158 or 647-239-0442 or visit the website www.maisonintemporelle.ca

Breakthrough Treatment For Spinal Stenosis

(Cervical/Lumbar Stenosis)

Do you experience numbness, weakness or tingling in a leg, foot, arm or hand? Do you have neck or back pain that has lasted more than one month or experience frequent headaches? You may be suffering from a condition known as spinal stenosis.

Spinal Stenosis is defined as narrowing of the bone channel occupied by the spinal nerves or the spinal cord.

Some people are born with a congenital form, but most develop spinal stenosis as part of the degenerative process. A few do not feel any effects of the narrowing, but as part of the aging process, most people will eventually notice radiating pain, weakness, and/or numbness secondary to the compression of the nerves or spinal cord.

In lumbar stenosis, the spinal nerve roots in the lower back become compressed and this can produce symptoms of sciatica—tingling, weakness or numbness that radiates from the low back and into the buttocks and legs—especially with activity.

You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your symptoms. But you find the symptoms keep returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of medications that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

There is a new, natural, safe and highly effective approach that has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically: Laser therapy uses light to favor and accelerate the body's natural healing processes. The innovative Multiwave Locked System (MLS) Laser produces a safe, efficient and simultaneous effect on pain, inflammation and nerve conduction, exceeding the limits of traditional LLLT (Low power) and concerns of HP (High power) laser therapy.

According to multiple studies MLS laser therapy appears to be uniquely capable of decreasing the inflammation around the spinal cord and shows great promise in the battle against the devastating sequelae of this condition.

What does this mean for you?

Many of our patients have reported a 90-95% relief of their symptoms, more mobility, increased sensation and vastly improved function!

It is the very latest in medical technology, with years of clinical studies supporting its safety and efficacy and we are very proud to offer our patients effective solutions to their recent or chronic conditions.

"This new, natural, safe and highly effective approach has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically".

Come in and allow us to help you achieve the results you deserve! Call (905) 773-2225 to book your FREE consultation and examination at King West Wellness Centre 141 King Rd., Unit 10, Richmond Hill (In the Home Hardware Plaza)

St. Paul's Church

On Thursday, Oct. 18 at 7 p.m., we are honoured to have representatives from Rescue Cambodia visit us for a special evening of traditional dances and stories of how God continues to work through this amazing ministry. You are invited to join us for what will be a memorable evening.

The Community Youth Group meets every Thursday at the church from 7-9 p.m. Come join in the fun. Follow our Instagram account to stay up to date on current events, "4.12.youth.group." Check this space for details, or contact our church office at 905-859-0843. A2J, our program for kids in Grades 3 to 6, meets the second and Four Fridays of the month at 7 p.m.

LifeConnect Groups are small gatherings for friendship, study and prayer. We have a new group meeting Thursday evenings - call the church office at 905-859-0843 for more information. There are several other LifeConnect Groups that meet throughout the week. If you are interested, please contact the church office and we can give you further details on these.

We are blessed at St. Paul's to have diligent librarians that have worked for years on creating an amazing library with new books being added weekly. You're welcome to borrow from it anytime!

The first and third Tuesday of the month we have a group of people that get together at 1 p.m. to do Quilting. The second and fourth Tuesday of the month, the focus is on knitting. You are welcome to join us.

This Sunday Jeff continues his series on the Gospel of John. Jeff's message this week, "Never Early, Never Late" will focus on John 7.1-9. Ministry for children of all ages takes place at the same time. Following the service all are invited to spend time together over refreshments.

Jeff's messages are posted at www.passionatelyhis.com each week. They are also on Facebook Live and are available on the church's Facebook page (@stpaulsnobleton) and YouTube page (search St. Paul's Church, Nobleton) for viewing.

For more information about ANY of our activities or events, please contact the church office or visit our new and improved website at www.stpaulsnobleton.ca.

Nobleton United By Nancy Hopkinson

Nobleton's 122nd anniversary is this Sunday, Oct. 14 at 11:15 a.m. We are inviting the community and our sister church, Schomberg United, to come and celebrate with us. The talented young singer Erika DaCunha is our special guest and will sing three pieces. The Joyful Spirits will perform an interesting syncopated piece called "Rise, Shine, Little Light," accompanied by pianist Dennis Kowal and guitarist Barry Simpson. There will be a light lunch afterwards.

Usually in the United Church of Canada, we follow a 3-year cycle of readings, some from the Old Testament and some from the New Testament, as listed as A, B and C at the back of our Voices United song book. Our minister Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman recently decided to follow the Narrative Lectionary, which has a 4-year cycle. She ties the lesson to be learned to the Bible story. The story for our Anniversary Sunday is based on Joshua 24:1-15.

On Oct. 21 and 28, we are having baptisms. On Oct. 28, the Joyful Spirits will sing a beautiful piece called "Child of Mine." It is a peaceful song, almost like a lullaby. Children are always welcome in our church. Rev. Carol-Ann provides some activities for children to do during the more adult sections of our service, but she involves them as much as possible in the service.

The next Messy Church is on Tuesday Oct. 16, from 5 to 7 p.m. and dinner is included. There is no charge for this fun time with young families. There are various crafts related to the theme each month. The theme this time is "Who is God?" The story time at 6 p.m. is interactive and we eat at 6:15. Make sure that clothes are washable, because some of the activities are messy! For more info, call Nancy @ 905-859-0761. Also mark your calendar for Messy Church on Tuesday Nov. 20, 5-7 p.m. (includes dinner) and Sunday, Dec. 9, 11:15 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. (includes lunch).

The Church Ladies have delicious chicken, beef and turkey pies now for sale at $5 each. Call Fran at 905-859-3819 or Linda at 905-859-0442.

King's Corners

King City United
By Sheryl Sinka

This past Thanksgiving Sunday we gathered to share in the sacrament of communion, to remember the blessings we have received and to give thanks. Challenge yourself to pass the good news of your gifts on to others and to find ways of sharing God's blessings with those around us for God's generosity knows no limitations and is made possible through our willing hands.

Rehearsals have begun for the annual Men's Dinner and Show. The dates for this wonderful performance and roast beef dinner are Nov. 23 and 24 at 7 p.m. For tickets (at $30) you can call the church office.

Please join us for worship on Sunday at 10 a.m. (Sunday school runs at the same time).

For those looking for some conversation and company, Tea and talk takes place on Friday mornings at the Sunset Grill (1700 King Rd) at 10 a.m. All are welcome to come out and join in a cup of coffee or tea and some conversation.

If you have any questions please contact the church office at 905-833-5181.

King Bible Church

Please join us on Sunday, Oct. 14 as Pastor Mark will be continuing our journey on "The Guaranteed Places to Encounter God" with "What is a Spiritual Gift?"

"Every day is full of various encounters, encounters with our families, encounters with our neighbours, encounters with those we work with or go to school with. Each one of those encounters in varying degrees has had a part in shaping who we are and who we will become. This coming year we as a church are going to focus on another encounter, the encounter to meet with God. We are going to walk through 8 different places that God has said through his Word he will meet us and transform us. We would like to invite you to join us on this life changing journey."

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning "Celebration Zone" provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in Grade 1-8 will join their parents for the beginning of the service until they are invited to go downstairs. The children in Kindergarten can go directly to their class at the start of the service.

Our "Legacy" nights are our family Bible Study nights.

We chose the theme of "Legacy" because we believe that's what families are looking for; both to be a part of as well as leave a lasting "Legacy."

We will provide Nursery care for children 0-3. Our children (JK-Grade 5) and junior high (Grade 6-8) classes will meet downstairs. Our adults will meet upstairs.

Our program runs from 6:45 to 8 p.m. Our adults will be studying "Everybody Always" by Bob Goff.

It's a five-session study about Becoming Love in a World Full of Setbacks and Difficult People.

The children are doing the study "The Travel Guide to the Beatitudes."

And our junior highs (Grade 6-8) are doing the study "Freedom Ride."

Kids clothes, books, toy and equipment swap will be Saturday, Oct. 20 from 10 a.m to 2 p.m. We are looking for kids clothes, toys, books and equipment in god, clean condition only please. If you have something to donate, please contact the office (number & email below) Tuesday-Thursday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

You can find us at King Bible Church, 1555 King Rd. King City (at King Rd. & Dufferin), 905-833-5104 www.kingbiblechurch.com or info@kingbiblechurch.com

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

St. Andrew's invites you to join us this Sunday as Lynn Vissers continues her sermon series on Ruth. On Thanksgiving Sunday, looking at chapter two of the book of Ruth, we clearly saw how God had not abandoned Naomi and was actively providing for her and her daughter-in-law, Ruth through Boaz, a distant kinsman of her late husband.

King City Senior's Centre activities

By Carol Kanitz

An historical walk on the Seneca College King Campus with guide Kelly Matthews is scheduled for this coming Sunday, (October 14). Walk begins at 10am. Cost is $5 per person. To sign up, contact Lori at 905-833-0194.

The Travel Club invites you to join the Niagara Tour on Thursday, Dec. 6. Among the day's activities are: Konzelmann Estate Winery; Upper Canada Cheese Factory; Chocolate FX; Fallsview Casino; dinner at the Skylon Tower; home via the Festival of Lights. The coach leaves the arena at 10 a.m. The cost is $104 per person. PLEASE NOTE that full payment for this trip must be received by November 1. For more information contact Agnes at 905-841-7390 or Jayne at 905-853-1436.

The next pot luck lunch will take place at the Centre on Friday, Oct. 19 from 12:30 p.m. Attendees are asked to bring either a main course item or a dessert.

Boaz acknowledged God's rich blessings on him and wanted to honour God and bless others. We were challenged to bless others in word and deed, with thankful hearts for all our gifts from God. Sunday morning worship is at 10:30 a.m. Sunday School for school-aged children up to 12 years runs concurrently and a nursery is also available. After the service, join us for refreshments in the lounge.

St. Andrew's 60th anniversary is almost here! This special occasion is on Sunday, Oct. 21 at 10:30 a.m. Our guest speaker, Alison Agnew, grew up in King City, was very active in the life and work of St. Andrew's as Sunday school teacher and superintendent, and was one of our young Elders. Alison is a gifted teacher and it is always such a blessing when she comes to share God's message with us. The Rev. Dr. John Vissers will minister the sacrament of Holy Communion. All are welcome to stay for a light lunch following the service.

The next "Messy Church" for families is Sunday, Oct. 28 from 5-7 p.m. We hope to see you there. Tell your friends about this fun, creative time where we get to know about God's love for us. A communal supper is shared at 6 p.m.

Soup and Conversation for "the after work gals" is starting up Wednesday evenings at 6:30 p.m. Call Lynn at the office for more information.

Warmer winter clothing for men, women and children is now being collected to be taken to Evangel Hall. Contact Bonnie Mooney at 905-833-5256.

How wonderful to be able to talk with God anytime and anyplace. God is there with us! Call Kathy Patterson if you would like to go on a prayer walk or meet for prayer over coffee, at 905-833-0391.

For pastoral care needs contact Lynn Vissers, Director of Congregational Ministries at the office, 905-833-2325 or contact our Interim Moderator, the Rev. Paul Johnston, 705-341-7738.

We are located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. www.standrews-kingcity.ca

All Saints Anglican Church
By Patrick Gossage

Blessing of our pets – This Saturday outside at 3 p.m. on the lawn at All Saints all are invited to bring their pets for a special blessing service. And we mean any and all pets. Hamsters, cats, rabbits, ponies – we love them all and they deserve their own special service. We will also welcome Dr. Gail Lenters from Shades of Hope Wildlife Hospital and Refuge and her special animal guests. This charity, based in Georgina, takes in injured and orphaned animals from south central Ontario, treats and rehabilitates them and releases them back in their natural habitat. Bring a lawn share. Offerings will be taken to support the wonderful work of Shades of Hope. Come and bring your friends – this is a community event and all are welcome.

Words to live by at Thanksgiving – Last Sunday with our church decorated with autumn flowers and fruits of the harvest, Rev. Dr. Elizabeth Green spoke on Matthew 6 where Jesus told the crowd in the Sermon on the Mount: "Do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear." Worries keep us from feeling gratitude. She recommended that we be thankful for big things, yes, but that it is good to dwell on smaller things too. Things that work for us in the present moment. Like a simple onion with all its flavour. "God's way to remind us of all that is, that he gives us ... The message from the wonderfully colourful trees in autumn is how lovely it is to let things go. Jesus tells us to let worries go. Let them go about difficulties that get in the way of gratitude. She emphasized that there is one prayer that is the only one you say that is enough, "Father, thank you."

Turkey supper

The annual Temperanceville Turkey Supper is coming up on Saturday, Oct. 13. Enjoy a turkey dinner with all the traditional trimmings including turkey, mashed potatoes, veggies, cranberry sauce, stuffing, gravy and home baked pies and cakes. Temperanceville United Church is located at the corner of Bathurst Street and King Road.

Tickets are available for 5:30, or 6:45 p.m. Takeout dinners are also available
