Council, staff dedicate new municipal building

By Mark Pavilons

Bursting with pride, King Township councillors and staff dedicated the new municipal complex Nov. 12.

The spacious, modern building is the epitome of efficiency and a testament to King's pride of ownership.

"It's not every day you get to dedicate a building like this," remarked Mayor Steve Pellegrini. "It's hard to believe that more than two years ago it was nothing more than a set of blueprints and a couple of artist renderings."

"The building itself is a beautiful mix of brick and wood in keeping with the rural nature of King Township."

"Along with the bricks and wood we've also put in many sustainability features, including a geo-thermal loop and electric vehicle charging stations. We've already started to work on landscaping and reforestation of the property to make the environmental footprint even greener than it was."

"The council chambers are breathtaking, with a high ceiling and plenty of seating to accommodate residents at public meetings."

There is a multi-use gymnasium with a fantastic sprung wood floor. It will eventually be used by members of the community. Pellegrini noted that combined with the York Regional Police substation, it makes this a community hub instead of just an office building.

"I'd like to congratulate my council colleagues on having the courage and vision to go forward with such a large project. There were a lot of people responsible for getting us from where we were to where we are today, including our CAO, Susan Plamondon, who was the driving force behind the vision for the new centre."

"I'd like to thank our staff. They had been in that old, very tired location for many years and they spent many hours getting ready for this move. I see many smiles around as I walk through the halls of this building."

"Chris Fasciano, our director of Parks, Recreation and Culture, served as the primary liaison between the administration and the project manager, architect and the contractors who eventually built the building. I don't think even Chris could total up the hours he spent taking care of issues small and large, many at the last moment, to ensure the doors opened on time."

PUBLIC NOTICES

Alternate parking for Dec. 3 council meeting

Due to the large crowd that is expected to attend the Dec. 3 inaugural meeting of council, King is offering alternate parking locations and a free shuttle bus from three locations in King City.

We are asking residents to drop off passengers at the new municipal offices at 2585 King Rd. before parking at one of the following three locations:

A: The King City Arena at 25 Doctors Ln.

B: The old municipal offices at 2075 King Rd.

C: The 'Green P' parking lot at Wellesley Park at the north-west corner of King Rd. and Keele St.

The shuttle will start at the King City Arena (A) at 6:30 p.m. It will proceed to the former municipal office at 2075 King Rd. (B) about five minutes later, followed by the Green P parking lot at King Rd. and Keele St about 5 minutes after that. It will then proceed to the new municipal centre.

The shuttle will then repeat the loop starting at about 6:45 p.m.

The shuttle will return residents to their vehicles following the council meeting.

If you have any questions or if you have accessibility needs, please contact Teresa Barresi at 905-833-5321, ext. 4029

'Community hub' will serve residents for generations

One of the features of the new building is the customer care services located at the front entrance, known as "Service King."

"Jennifer Caietta and her team have been working very hard in the background over these last months to develop a program that we have been able to initiate from day one," the mayor said.

The facilities team has been "unbelievable in making the move happen." The mayor lauded Barbara Harris, manager of Information Technology, and her team who put in some very long hours to make sure the phones and information network were up and running the first day.

"Thank you to the rest of staff for all the work they did in preparing for the move."

The mayor also singled out Councilor Cleve Mortelliti and Brent King, a resident, who sat on the committee that provided oversight of the project.

"We hope that the community gets many, many years of enjoyment out of this fantastic community hub."

Freedoms are being skewed in the public eye

We just marked the 100th anniversary of the end of the First World War.

We read stories, watched documentaries and listened to speeches about the sacrifices made to ensure our freedom.

Freedom. This is one of the most powerful terms in our language, and our western culture. In fact, our fellow human beings have fought for freedom since the beginning of time. Two very high-profile "freedom fighters" were Moses and Jesus.

In recent, modern times, we fought for what we believed in, to preserve our quality of life. Men, women and children died, and continue to perish, in conflicts around the globe. Some people still don't have the right to vote. There is always "a cause."

More often than not, that cause is freedom, plain and simple. It's the freedom just to live without fear; to live a "normal" life, go to school, have families and have some means of sustaining ourselves.

Some are still struggling with this, and Canadian "peacekeepers" are trying desperately to help our fellow men and women in lands suffering from strife and conflict.

While we have relative freedom here at home, we should all take up arms to ensure others - all others - have this one cherished, fundamental human right.

Canadians enjoy our current lifestyle thanks to all those who came before us. We are lucky to have our rights and freedoms enshrined in the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, which came into effect within the Constitution Act in 1982.

We may take these rights for granted, but our way of life is highly sought after by immigrants and refugees from around the world. By and large, we welcome newcomers with open arms.

While there is currently no overt threat to our freedoms, our modern technology, public watchdogs and political correctness may be impacting our fundamental rights.

In Canada, the right to privacy is rooted in the Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The Charter doesn't specifically mention privacy or the protection of personal information. However, it does afford protection under Section 7 (the right to life, liberty and the security of the person), and Section 8 (the right to be secure against unreasonable search or seizure).

There are also a number of laws that protect our privacy rights by setting out rules for the way our personal information is handled by both governments and organizations. Generally speaking, our personal information can only be collected, used and disclosed with our knowledge, and often our consent, for legitimate purposes. It must also be stored, shared and disposed of in a way that keeps it secure and confidential.

Time and again, we are finding there are some very large holes in this safety net. Given our reliance on the Internet, we are prone to breaches, hacks, system failures and massive breakdowns. All of these threaten our rights and freedoms in some way.

When our personal information is leaked and shared, all consumers tend to get is an apology. We're seldom offered any recourse or compensation.

The U.S. Constitution has similar protections.

The right to privacy refers to the concept that one's personal information is protected from public scrutiny. U.S. Justice Louis Brandeis called it "the right to be left alone." Again, while not specifically addressed in the U.S. Constitution, some amendments provide a certain level of protection.

South of the border, the right to privacy often means the right to personal autonomy, to choose whether or not to engage in certain acts or have certain experiences. Several amendments to the U.S. Constitution have been used in varying degrees of success in determining personal autonomy. The Fifth Amendment protects against self-incrimination, which in turn protects the privacy of personal information.

However, it seems this doesn't apply when we bare all on the Internet via social media.

Almost everything we share can be "self-incriminating," and in fact, many posts and images are used against people, to damage their reputation, or worse, charge them with a crime.

I'm no legal expert, but it seems there's nothing protecting us from predatory strangers on the information highway, trolls whose mission it is to embarrass, ridicule, impugn and spread hate.

Just how can we "be left alone?"

I suppose the only alternative is to unplug and avoid using social media altogether.

But this public judgement brings into question another fundamental right - that everyone is innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. In our legal system, the Crown must present evidence to an unbiased judge or jury in an open court to prove the accused's guilt. The accused does not have to prove anything or call any evidence.

Time and again, high-profile actors, politicians and business tycoons have been publicly tried and found guilty of various crimes and indiscretions. And most of these have never found their way to court. Talk about a jury of our peers!

Public scrutiny and political correctness also impact our freedom of expression. The Charter protects freedom of expression, including freedom of the press, and also freedom of religion. To protect against hatred, there are limits that "can be demonstrably justified in a free and democratic society."

I get it. But one of the problems with our free and democratic society are the morons who live in it!

I don't think our veterans and religious icons of the past fought so we could roast our fellow men and women in full public view.

The "benefit of the doubt" has been replaced with "jumping to conclusions."

Enjoy your freedoms!

Have your say on Sustainability Plan

Created in partnership with the community, Sustainable King has acted as the template for a long-term plan to help King reach its environmental, socio-cultural, economic and financial sustainability goals. Sustainable King provides immediate priorities and a framework of tangible goals and actions to strive towards in King.

Six years later, it is now time to reflect and refocus. It is also time to assess our progress and move towards the next phase of Sustainable King's implementation. King is undertaking a refresh of its Sustainability Plan and residents are being asked for input. Sustainable King is always looking for new ideas and ways to meet their sustainability goals.

Praise abounds for retiring Ward 3 councillor Linda Pabst

By Mark Pavilons

The first meeting in King's brand new council chambers was bitter sweet. Councillor Linda Pabst, who spent the last quarter-century serving constituents in King, participated in her last council meeting. She helped dedicate the new building and colleagues shared kind words on her career, as she's poised to retire.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini noted Pabst has served the community as a councillor for 24 years. Over those 24 years a lot has changed but one thing hasn't – "Linda's dedication to making King Township a better place to live."

"She's done that by serving countless hours helping her constituents, sitting at the council table and serving on many committees, such as TRCA, Road Watch, Accessibility and made many fund raising dinners."

The mayor pointed out that King Township was recently named by MoneySense Magazine as the best place to live in York Region and the 18th best place to live in all of Canada.

"I can say without a doubt Linda helped us get those accolades by being a positive force on council over almost a quarter of a century. Many of the decisions made by past councils helped us get to where we are today."

Staff created a video showing photos and a message from Clerk Kathryn Moyle.

"Although you may not be sitting at the council table in the new year, we know you will continue to freely give of your time to make King Township a better place to live," the mayor concluded.

At a public reception, Pabst was presented with portraits of her grandchildren as a parting gift.

"Linda has been an incredible public servant, a tireless champion for King and a dear friend," remarked King-Vaughan MPP Stephen Lecce. "I will always be indebted to Linda for her good counsel, for being a role model to the next generation and for her amazing friendship."

Pabst shared some fond memories and recollections from her career on council.

She recalled her very first experience speaking in front of council, asking for a new ambulance station next to the Nobleton arena.

Permission was granted and funding provided by the Township and Province, and this remains as one of Pabst's proud legacies.

In a heart-felt and tearful message, Pabst thanked her numerous campaign manager and her late husband Burt who "have made this journey a great pleasure and most of all a great honour."

"I have always been fortunate to have great supporters that have had my back and to always give me great advice."

"My first terms where with mayor and good friend Marg Black, who loved and worked hard for her community and the last three terms with Steve Pellegrini who has always had and continues to have the best interest of our King communities."

"King Staff have also always been there for great advice and support with King issues"

"It has been a true honour to be Ward 3 councillor for the past 24 years and I thank all who have been a part of this fantastic journey."

"Ward 3, I believe is now in good hands and I have great confidence in Councillor-elect Jake Schneider."

Food Bank's newest board member leads by example

By Mark Pavilons

The board of King Township Food Bank is pleased to announce that Meline Beach has assumed the position of secretary. A marketing communications and public relations professional, she is ideally suited to meeting the present needs of the Food Bank. In addition, she likes to lead by example, and walks the walk.

Beach really enjoys the "fun" in fundraising, having coordinated the last two Sip & Savour galas, the Food Bank's major annual fundraiser.

With record attendance this year, Sip & Savour has established itself as the cocktail party of the year in King. Beach's expertise in communications and strategic planning is paying dividends for this huge local event.

Recently turned to independent practice, Beach is able to leverage her skills honed over 15 years of corporate experience across different industries, including Fortune 500 companies. The freelance communications professional has definitely found her niche, and the King Township Food Bank is the newest beneficiary of her talents.

"I'm thrilled and honoured to join the board," she said. "Hunger relief and food security are valid concerns in any community, including King Township. A change in circumstances can lead anyone to the Food Bank where its support is a blessing."

Her role in the Food Bank evolved over time. She began by packing donation boxes, to collecting and transporting donations. She engaged her children who accompanied her on her collections so they could see the importance of volunteerism in the community.

Even before being named to the board, for the past two years Beach has been at the helm of Sip & Savour, relying on a dedicated team of volunteers who help with the multi-faceted, themed evening. Her work as an independent consultant gives her the freedom to pitch in when needed.

She puts her strategic planning, public relations and event management skills to benefit the community and "make a meaningful contribution." Her role with the Food Bank is "a good fit for me."

Sip & Savour's momentum hasn't happened by accident. Every year the volunteers strive to deliver more and do better, knowing that the event is heavily relied upon to raise a significant portion of the Food Bank's annual budget to continue to fulfill its mandate of a week of groceries (or grocery cards) and produce every month.

Beach said the response this year speaks volumes about local engagement and support for the Food Bank. In addition to the generous and supportive corporate sponsors who made the event possible with cash and in-kind contributions, more than 100 individuals and businesses made both the live and silent auctions a huge success.

King Township is spread out geographically, but it's a community that's generous and committed.

"The high level of community spirit is evidenced by public support," she said. "People here are highly engaged, caring and compassionate." Even businesses beyond King pitched in to help make the evening a "best ever" event.

Already thinking ahead to Sip & Savour 2019, Beach is contemplating next year's theme and city of choice and encourages anyone interested in volunteering with the event or the Food Bank in general to get in touch with the Food Bank by visiting www.ktffb.ca.

Beach welcomes the opportunity to work with more local businesses in helping them achieve their objectives through effective communications strategies and tactics, including creative content for earned media, speeches, websites and other sales and marketing material, communication audits and meeting and event management. For more information, call Beach at 416-953-5289 or visit mlbcomms.ca.

Turkey shoot

The King City Firefighters will be holding their annual turkey shoot on Nov. 24. This is a charity fundraiser for the charities supported by the firefighters, The Canadian Cancer Society, The Heart and Stroke Foundation, The King Township Food Bank and the King City Firefighters Benevolent Fund. Many local businesses have supported this event and have cards available. In addition, residents may see firefighters canvassing the town seeking support. The support of the community is deeply appreciated.

Your Voice for Business in King

Ultrabrand caters to the world's corporate elite

By Mark Pavilons

Perception is everything. Virgin Group founder Richard Branson said personal brands need texture and character – they have to be real.

For the world's corporate elite, branding is much more than product placement. It's a reflection of their refined tastes. It's who they are.

Two Schomberg-based image builders have found the way to give exclusive clients and luxury brands the attention they deserve. Ultrabrand's Ryan Ward-Williams and Remington Humphreys pair business and design in an impressive, cohesive manner. They are not only masters of their own destiny, they've helped shape the journey ahead for an impressive lineup of clientele, a virtual who's who of today's business world.

"Our mission as a boutique branding agency is to aggressively and unapologetically blow away our customer – and their competitors," said CEO Ward-Williams. "The leading brands of the world choose us to drive calculated branding strategies from vision to reality."

So much so that today, Ultrabrand is so sought after, they connect with clients by invitation only.

A presumptuous prerequisite to be sure, but one that has been duly earned.

Ultrabrand caters to the world's 1% – the top performing and leading brands and people. that includes celebrities, government, Fortune 500 companies and even royalty.

The duo, backed by business acumen and corporate experience, have done business around the Kardashians' kitchen table, and atop the Burj Khalifa Tower in Dubai. They go where they're needed.

They consider themselves as "concierge" designers who provide very personalized service. They strive to be the best and that's why they align themselves with aggressive corporate powerhouses who take risks to stay on top.

Ultrabrand's services were catapulted into the limelight in 2016, thanks to a successful partnership that helped launch Kylie Cosmetics by Kylie Jenner. Ward-Williams designed, built and managed KylieCosmetics.com, one of the largest private e-commerce brands in the world. Ryan's voice appeared on an episode of Keeping Up with the Kardashians, showcasing the uber successful product launch.

The duo has a solid background in business and marketing, and their success has been almost meteoric in recent years. The two executives complement one another, following the edict of Dallas Mavericks owner Mark Cuban, who laments on building the best possible business: "If you are great, people will notice and opportunities will appear."

They've worked with people like DJ Khaled, Rob Kardashian, Kris Jenner, Lindsay and Ali Lohan, to name a few. They recently completed a launch in the UK for soccer greats Mesut Özil and Mathieu Flamini.

Ultrabrand provides brand and web design; SEO services; e-commerce and strategy consulting. Their services go far beyond the back end coding or front-end aesthetics. As Richard Branson pointed out branding requires commitment and striking chords with people to stir their emotions. It requires the epitome in communication skills.

Ward-Williams has a knack for embracing a client's vision and making it a reality. Ultrabrand has a solid partnership with Shopify, one of the world's leading e-commerce platform providers. It empowers users the world over.

Ultrabrand is also in tune with helping service providers rise above the competition. Through mdBrand, they cater to the world's top physicians and medical elite. Their list of clients include some of America's top cosmetic surgeons.

For Ultrabrand it's all about high quality and low volume.

Both Humphreys and Ward-Williams provide keen eyes and value for everything that touches a client's logo, from online content to offline assets.

It's not always about bottom-line success, however.

Ward-Williams noted one of their most enjoyable recent projects involved working with Formula One heiress Petra Ecclestone and her Foundation. It was such a joy working on a project like this, Ward-Williams said. The Petra Ecclestone Foundation helps children with autism and meningitis overcome their challenges. Ultrabrand not only tweaked the organization's online presence, they helped with designing the facade and interior of the first Petra's Place centre for diagnosis and treatment of autism, located in London, England.

Being a brand unto themselves, the Ultrabrand pair knows exactly who they want to serve. Ward-Williams, a graduate of the Ivey Business School, and Humphreys, a graduate of Queen's Smith School of Business, bring a lot to the table. They're both driven, the captains of their own destiny. They're free to create, to shape, mold and push boundaries.

With the amount of work coming their way, Ultrabrand is on the verge of expansion. For now, the duo is comfortable in their quaint carriage house office on Schomberg's Main Street.

Reaching this level of success, the duo has the luxury of time to hone their craft. They're eager, compelled to learn and extremely focused.

But it wasn't always this way. They both recall working out of a coffee shop in Newmarket and holding conference calls in their SUV.

They're drawn to similar personality types – the A-listers with an abundance of confidence. Their own determination trickles over to the clients, who rely on Ultrabrand for their results-oriented knowledge and talents. This dynamic duo knows the tricks of the trade and they're pros at capturing opportunities.

They've been honoured to have worked with some of the world's best. And that trend is likely to continue, given their reputation as effective influencers.

To learn more about them, visit <http://ultrabrand.com/>

Mackenzie Health gala raises more than $1.1 million

Mackenzie Health Foundation's Mid-night Cirque gala raised more than $1.1 million (net) to help build and equip Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital and enhance care at Mackenzie Richmond Hill Hospital. The gala celebrated the generosity of more than 1,100 community, health and business leaders across York Region and Greater Toronto Area and was joined by municipal and provincial governmental leaders, including Premier Doug Ford.

Hosted by Stella Acquisto and Melanie Ng from Breakfast Television and presented by Rogers for the seventh year, the 31st annual gala featured a "cirque" theme and included high-stakes performances from aerialists, stilt walkers, fire blowers, contortionists, live music and much more.

Following an incredible year, "Exceptional Care Belongs Here" campaign co-chairs, Greg Sorbara and the Honourable Maurizio Bevilacqua, Mayor of Vaughan recognized the latest transformational donors who have made gifts of $1 million or more to the campaign in the past year. This includes a $20-million gift from the De Gasperis and Kohn families - the largest gift in Mackenzie Health Foundation's history. It will support building and equipping the Giovanni De Gasperis - Eugene Kohn Learning Centre at Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital which will be the most technologically advanced education facility within a Canadian community hospital, featuring clinical teaching and simulation labs, conference and learning spaces and a state-of-the-art auditorium for transformative and large-scale health care forums, complete with high-tech innovations.

In total, 31 donors have made transformational gifts to the campaign to-date including this distinguished list of supporters also recognized at this year's Gala: Alectra Inc., BMO Financial Group, the Greenbaum Family, the Gucciardi Family; Goffredo and Robert Vitullo Family; Christopher and Franca Zeppa and Family; John A. D'Angelo, Giuseppe Maio and Claudio Memme; Joe Zanchin Family and Zanchin Auto Group; Carlo and Angela Baldassarra Family; Vaughan Health Campus of Care and Michael De Gasperis, Chair and Vaughan Health Care Foundation, Sam Ciccolini, Chair.

The live auction featured an equipment appeal which raised a tremendous $66,000 to help purchase ten mobile telemetry units with central monitoring systems which supports patients who require constant monitoring. At Mackenzie Health, this amounts to approximately 1,000 to 1,200 patients each month, and growing. It also helps ensure front-line emergency staff have the life-saving tools they need to provide the best possible care.

For patients and families in York Region, world-class health care close to home could not be more important. Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital and Mackenzie Richmond Hill Hospital alongside its community-based locations will care for one of the fastest growing communities in Canada, expected to grow by 25 per cent between 2012-2027.

"As we reflect on the past year and all we have achieved together, we're honoured to celebrate the generosity of our community partners, leaders and donors at this prestigious event. Truly, it could not be more inspiring to see a community united in enriching the health and wellness of York Region. The generosity, leadership and kindness of our community will make an impact felt for decades to come," said Ingrid Perry, president and CEO, Mackenzie Health Foundation.

"Building the Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital is about investing in the health and wellbeing of our citizens and ensuring we all have access to the best possible front-line healthcare for generations to come. As co-chair of the $250-million Mackenzie Health Foundation's Exceptional Care Belongs Here Campaign, I am in awe of the generosity that thrives throughout this community. I am proud to announce that we have raised an astonishing $113-million and we remain very confident to reach our goal. The ongoing construction of the Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital is an example of what we can achieve when we work together. As we move closer to completion, I want to congratulate everyone who has helped to bring us this far," said Bevilacqua.

Mackenzie Health is a dynamic regional health care provider which includes the existing Mackenzie Richmond Hill Hospital and the future Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital.

Rina Pillitteri, chair, Mackenzie Health Foundation board of directors; Premier Doug Ford; Karla Ford, and Tony Ianni, chair, Mackenzie Health board of directors.

Results of YRP Business Survey

As part of the 2020-2022 Business Planning process, York Regional Police conducted a survey of businesses across York Region. The response rate was 16 per cent with 94 per cent of survey respondents indicating they were either very or reasonably satisfied with York Regional Police's overall service. Ninety-three per cent strongly agreed or agreed that York Regional Police were fair, respectful, courteous, caring, competent and professional. The top three crime concerns of respondents were break-ins, property damage/graffiti and fraud/cyber fraud. Opportunities for improvement include increasing awareness of initiatives like Crime Stoppers, Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design and Crime Map Programs and encouraging the use of online reporting by business owners.

The feedback from the survey will assist in setting the goals and objectives in the board's 2020-2022 Business Plan for York Regional Police.

Renowned artist Helen Lucas holds solo exhibit

By Mark Pavilons

King artist Helen Lucas will hold a month-long solo show.

Entitled "Helen Lucas - Why Do I Paint Flowers?," the exhibition of her large-scale, captivating acrylic paintings, will run Dec. 1 to 29 at the Aurora Cultural Centre.

Lucas's distinguished career, spanning over five decades, has produced deeply personal art - from the darker earlier works of her formative years, to her glorious floral paintings. The transition of her work was chronicled in an award-winning film by Donna Davey, Helen Lucas: Her Journey - Our Journey. The film included an interview with her friend Margaret Laurence, who made this observation: "The affirmation of life, in the midst of pain is the story of your art, my beloved friend."

In addition to delivering lectures on women in the arts, and co-founding one of the first Women's Studies programs in Canada, the King City artist frequently appeared on radio and TV from the 1970s to the 1990s. Throughout her career she has been awarded numerous awards, including the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal as well as an Honorary Doctor of Letters from York University.

This is a unique opportunity to see Helen's work. There are also a few surprises in store for art-lovers.

The exhibition features 20 large-scale acrylic paintings in all four gallery spaces at the Cultural Centre. They have been specifically chosen by guest curator, another renowned King artist, Ernestine Tahedl. The exhibit will focus on the larger-than-life florals from the 1980s to 2000s. Paintings and a selection of signed high quality prints are available for purchase. The galleries will be open between Christmas and New Year's; please check the website for hours.

"I will always be drawn to the beauty and the courage of the flower. I am captivated by it. Flowers, more than anything else, are so life-enforcing," Lucas said.

Visitors can meet Lucas at an opening reception Saturday, Dec. 1, from 1 to 4 p.m.

But the events don't stop there. On Wednesday, Dec. 5 from 6 to 8 p.m., join both Lucas and Tahedl in a casual, open discussion.

On Thursday, Dec. 13 from 6 to 8 p.m., you can meet Helen in the gallery before the Georgian Bay holiday concert.

The Aurora Cultural Centre is located at 22 Church Street, Aurora. Free parking is available in a lot on the east side of the building, as well on the streets surrounding the centre. For more, visit auroraculturalcentre.ca

Adam Saunders performs jazz concert

Those music lovers who have heard jazz great Adam Saunders and the Hammered Brass Band perform in the past, won't want to miss an occasion to hear him again on Friday, Nov. 30. The concert starts at 7 p.m. in the newly reopened Laskay Hall, adjacent to the King Heritage and Cultural Centre, 2920 King Road.

A gifted jazz pianist, band leader, and performer, Saunders has shared the stage with some of the world's leading jazz musicians. His home in King Township is a regular retreat for musicians traveling through Canada.

In addition to many performances with his own band - known as "The Hammered Brass" in earlier days - Adam performs with a number of local bands and in a variety of venues. As a solo pianist, he is in demand for private functions, often adding an endless variety of comedic songs to keep a party alive for hours. He has combined his love of flying with music and just might be seen landing his float plane in the Muskokas, Georgian Bay or Temagami for a gig.

While Adam entertains with a variety of music, his love is Dixieland traditional Jazz. He enjoys music of many of the jazz greats such as Louis Armstrong, Eddie Condon and Jack Teagarden, he is quite at home adapting audience requests of various types of music to his Jazz style.

The Adam Saunders' Band includes some of Adam's most respected colleagues and friends - great jazz musicians. This dynamic team promises a lively event. Adam is joined by Al Cox (trumpet), Scott Poll (clarinet), Peter Turner (trombone), "Doc" Mike Walmsley (guitar/banjo), Ron Johnson (bass) and Jamie Aug on drums and, for tonight's concert, the band will be joined by stride pianist, Reide Kaiser.

Tickets to the Nov. 30 King Township Historical Society Holiday Concert are $25 for members, $30 for non-members and can be purchased at the King Heritage and Cultural Centre in advance at 2920 King Road or reserved by calling Richard at 647-987-7955.

King continues to support N6 collaboration

By Mark Pavilons

There's a lot to be gained from a collaborative approach of York's Northern 6 municipalities.

King council reaffirmed its continued participation in N6 initiatives.

The N6 includes King, Georgina, East Gwillimbury, Newmarket, Aurora and Whitchurch-Stouffville. They've teamed up over the past decade to share efficiencies, savings and improve service levels as a cohesive group.

One of the most recent achievements was a new enhanced waste contract with GFL.

"The excellent working relationships between municipalities created an effective team where all directors, CAOs and councils came to an agreement on the final contract and selection of service provider," staff noted. "This eight-year contract with two, one-year optional extensions, should provide the residents of the Northern Six municipalities of York Region with better customer service levels, enhanced solid waste collection and still have flexibility to respond to possible legislative changes in the coming years."

Staff pointed out that the N6 shares training, learning and development opportunities for municipal staff.

The N6 fire departments recently partnered on the preparation of their respective Fire Master Plans. The resulting Collaboration and Innovation Report (CIR) identifies many shared strategies.

"There are many benefits to the CIR, including expanded opportunities for fire serves expertise given that the N6 is supporting each other's efforts and providing input on practices that are common to all departments to develop the content of the FMPs and ultimately the CIR recommendations," staff said.

With regards to animal control, King and Whitchurch-Stouffville have contracts with Vaughan, which operates an animal shelter.

Future issues that the N6 will tackle include software procurement, emergency management planning, animal control, and climate change planning.

"The CAOs continue to believe that we have developed a positive brand that recognizes the benefit of collaboration and partnership without compromising our individual identities," staff reported. "Collectively we represent a population of 350,000 people. We believe that speaking together on issues of common concern strengthens our individual messages."

One woman's journey after hearing the answer to her prayers

By Ryan Rogers

It was 2001 when Carol-Ann Chapman wept at her kitchen sink, dealing with the complications and uncertainties in her life. She was motivated to make a difference in the world, and languished at the thought of wasting her potential.

She'd just enrolled at the University of Waterloo, but her family was shocked by the news that her young daughter was diagnosed with juvenile diabetes.

For Chapman, putting her family first meant putting her academic pursuits on the backburner. She was searching for a sign.

"I was feeling very lost and like there was something more but I didn't know what it was," said Chapman, the minister at the Nobleton United Church. "I always knew there was something more, that I wasn't reaching my potential."

She prayed, "God, what is it you want me to do?"

In a flash, she saw a vision of all the clergy she'd had relationships with, all the ministers in her life.

Growing up an Anglican in Orangeville, with her adoptive parents, the church has always been a part of her life. Even at age 8, Chapman told her mom she'd like to be a nun.

"My mom looked at me and said, you know, they're ordaining women in the Anglican Church," she recalls. "That was the first seed planted that said it was possible."

As a teenager she taught Sunday school, or led youth groups, and provided pastoral care, which inspired her to earn a diploma from Sheridan College in early childhood education.

But when she prayed for an answer, she was unprepared for the response. She knew what the visions of those ministers meant – "I knew what the message was, but I was terrified," she said.

"I didn't think I was good enough, or had what it takes (to become a minister)," said Chapman. "I sobbed and sobbed and said, 'No, God, you can't mean me! You must have the wrong person.'"

She wasn't ready to accept what was being asked of her. She needed to feel personal affirmation and overcome her doubts.

After her epiphany, her friends and family began unknowingly presenting subtle pushes, guiding her closer to the church, each like a bread crumb, leading her toward realizing her potential.

Friends and family made passing comments about her becoming an ordained minister, but she'd never said a word about it.

She felt God was trying to tell her something, and she realized God works through other people, and often those you'd never expect.

Chapman discovered that her proficiency as a jack of all trades gave her the ideal tool kit for speaking with, and relating to many different types of people.

In 2010 Chapman returned to school, resuming the degree she began nine years earlier, earning a social development studies degree from Waterloo and social work and child abuse studies diploma from Renison University College.

Her degree was a necessary precursor to achieving a Master in Divinity if she was to pursue the call she felt to ministry, but there was still something missing. As a member of the Anglican Church, she felt some strong differences between the Anglican practice and her core beliefs.

One of those issues was gay marriage.

"At the time, the Anglican Church was not marrying lesbian and gay couples. I witnessed one couple hurt badly when they were turned away and I never want to turn anyone away," she said.

It was a failed interview for a job in Youth Ministry in a United Church that led her to change church denominations.

"I didn't get the job, but I got something better, I found a denomination that is at the forefront of the inclusion of LGBT people in the church, that is rooted in a belief in God, the life and teachings of Jesus, the work of the Spirit and our calling to 'love, serve others and to seek justice.'"

Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman began ministering at Nobleton United in February 2017, where they consider themselves the little church with a big heart, and pride themselves on practising with "inclusive faith."

"This is the kind of church I'm supposed to be in," noted Chapman. "It's a small, family-orientated church."

"I think Nobleton has a lot to offer, and a lot of potential, and the church has changed a lot," she says. "When this church chose to put inclusive on their logo, I think that said a lot."

But above all, Chapman's ministry at Nobleton United embraces inclusion, and reinforces that everyone is loved. "There are a lot of people out there who don't know that, but if I have one goal, that's it."

Rev. Chapman began serving the Schomberg United Church in February 2017, as well.

King for Refugees is now registered charity

King for Refugees (KfR) has received Registered Charity status from the Canada Revenue Agency, which means that financial donations are now tax deductible.

Donations may be made by cheque addressed to P.O. Box 135, King City, ON, L7B 1A4 or on-line through the Canada Helps Web site (<https://www.canadahelps.org>) by entering King for Refugees in the search box, or without the search at <https://www.canadahelps.org/en/charities/king-for-refugees/>.

King for Refugees is a grass roots organization founded in 2015 to support, both financially and socially, individuals and families who have been forced to flee their homeland, have chosen to settle in Canada, have been vetted by the government of Canada, and who agree to accept the hospitality of King Township for their initial settlement location.

The third family will be arriving before the end of November.

King's Clark inks first contract with NHL's Capitals

By Jake Courtepatte

The Clark family will have to trade in the Maple Leaf blue for the Capital red: or at the very least, make some room on the basement walls.

Nineteen-year-old Kody Clark inked his first NHL contract with the Washington Capitals, a three-year, entry level deal worth $870,000 annually.

The right winger said he was "extremely honoured" to have reached the career goal.

"I want to thank my coaches, teammates, friends, billets, and most importantly my family for helping me achieve this milestone."

Thirty-three years after his father Wendel was drafted first overall by the Toronto Maple Leafs, Clark was taken in the second round, 47th overall by the Washington Capitals in June's NHL Entry Draft.

The native of King City, where the Clarks settled following Wendel's illustrious career, spent his minor hockey career with the AAA Toronto Marlboros program. It was there he caught the eye of the Ottawa 67s scouts, who drafted him in the sixth round of the 2015 OHL Draft.

After one year playing for the St. Andrew's College Saints, his alma mater's varsity team and playing at almost a point-per-game pace, he made the 67s full-time for the 2016-17 season.

A roller coaster of a season in 2017-18 for Clark had scouts projecting him to go all across the board in the NHL Draft, anywhere from as high as 55th to as low as 138th, before the Capitals saw something special in the younger Clark.

Yet despite now skating in front of close to 3,000 fans nightly at Ottawa's TD Place Arena, and soon to be in front of close to 19,000 at Washington's Capital One Arena, Clark credits his time on his home rink in King City with his dad in helping him develop into an elite athlete.

"Until I was 14 years old we had a house with a rink right there, and that definitely helped a lot because every day after school I'd come home, go on the rink, a lot of times we'd have guys from around Aurora and King City come over, we'd have shinny games," said Clark. "That's pretty much where he taught me everything I know about hockey. He taught me how to shoot. He taught me how to skate, so it was nice having that and it definitely helped a lot."

The NobleKing Atom LL3 Knights brought home the gold from the Dave Taylor Memorial Atom Tournament over the weekend.

Atom Knights capture tourney gold

By Jake Courtepatte

The NobleKing Atom Local League 3 team took part in the Dave Taylor Memorial Atom tournament last weekend in Arran-Elderslie, coming home with the top prize.

Coached by Dave Boyd and assistant coach Claudio D'Ulisse, the team's first tournament was a huge success, after facing a double header on the first day of play. The Knights secured a spot in the A final with victories over two teams from Saugeen Shores, 4-1 and 5-2.

In the tournament final, the Knights met the hometown Arran-Elderslie team, where the roaring hometown cheers couldn't stop the NobleKing Knights in a 3-2 win to clinch the gold.

The Atom LL3 Knights are off to a roaring start this season and home to keep the momentum going in their upcoming tournaments, travelling to Niagara in December for the Al Boone Memorial Classic. They'll face off on hometown ice in the Red and White Atom Tournament in Schomberg in January.

Students earn medals at event

Nobleton Taekwon-Do took part in the ICTF 2018 Integrity Taekwon-do championship Oct. 27 held at Grey Highlands S.S. in Flesherton, hosted by Vie Taekwon-Do.

Once again this little club showed its big talent by earning 31 medals in both sparring and pattern competition. Nobleton Taekwon-Do was also awarded a plaque for Most Supportive Club due to the number of participants involved. Head instructors Mr. Adriano and Mr. Gallo were so proud of the collective accomplishments. Adriano said: "It's not about medal count. It's about having the courage to compete and test yourself against others." Gallo added: "It was so gratifying seeing our competitors represent Nobleton as one happy Taekwon-Do family."

Club sponsor Tom Marchese of TrueMilestone Inc Brokerage was also on hand to support their endeavors.

Classes are held Mondays and Wednesdays 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Nobleton Arena, 15 Old King Rd. New members are always welcome, please contact Mr. Adriano at 416-937-7910 for more information.

Villanova Terry Fox Run was in memory of teacher

The Terry Fox School Run Day is always a special day in the calendar for Villanova College. In the 14 years since it began participating in the annual event, the independent school, located in King City, has consistently placed among the top 20 high schools in the province for its impressive fundraising efforts.

This year's run was another resounding success while taking on a whole new depth of significance.

In August, the Villanova community suffered a great loss when Elizabeth (Beth) Will, a well-loved teacher and coach, lost a brief battle with Non-Hodgkins lymphoma. Needless to say, this was devastating to Ms Will's students, colleagues and family who knew her as a compassionate teacher, inspirational coach and empathetic friend. Ms Will was a strong supporter of the Terry Fox Foundation and one of the leading organizers of the school's annual Terry Fox Run so it was a natural fit to honour her in a special way this year.

The faculty, staff, parent and alumni community did so wholeheartedly and in two significant ways. Over 500 "We WILL" t-shirts were sold prior to the run to support the Beth Will Sophomore Scholarship. Established by her family and Villanova College, this award honours the memory of Beth Will, who, over her years at the school, was a dedicated teacher, coach and role model for young, female student-athletes.

The award recognizes and celebrates a female student-athlete, who, during her freshman year, demonstrated leadership through her commitment to her studies, teammates, athletic pursuits and the values of Villanova College.

The recipient must have successfully completed her freshman studies with a minimum grade average of 80%, competed in at least two team or individual sports, and be enrolled in the Health and Physical Education course in her sophomore year. This two-thousand-dollar scholarship will be awarded at the school's annual Terry Fox Run.

Stuart Stanbury, Ms. Will's colleague and co-organizer of the Terry Fox Run in past years, challenged the VC community to raise more money for this year's run than it had ever before, making it clear that he wanted to break the school's previous fundraising record of $36,000. With a new determination to make cancer history and fulfill Terry's dream, the Villanova community obliterated its goal of $36,500 by 155% raising a whopping $58,000+ for the Terry Fox Foundation and bringing the school's lifetime donation to over $407,000.

However, the success of this year's run is not just measured in dollars and cents but in the sea of blue that ran the course around the school's 33-acre campus and Our Lady of Grace Shrine at Marylake. With students, teachers, parents and alumni attending in record numbers, the community demonstrated its commitment to not only honouring one of their own, but honouring all those who continue to face the battle with cancer, remembering Terry Fox's words, "It's got to keep going without me."

Cougars on a roll with back-to-back wins

By Jake Courtepatte

It's never too late to salvage a season, and the Schomberg Cougars are out to prove it.

The Junior C club strung together back-to-back wins last week to pull within sight of their rivals in the Provincial Junior Hockey League, riding some hot hands in notching eleven total goals.

Facing off against the Penetang Kings in Thursday's home game at Trisan Centre, both sides were looking for crucial points to get out of the Carruthers division basement.

A new name found the scoresheet just over four minutes into the first period in defenceman Harris Goan, who earned the night's first star in a 6-3 Schomberg win.

Alexander Cordeiro continued his scoring touch at over a point-per-game pace with a pair of goals and an assist, while Owen Heilemann scored on the power play early in the third period. Quinn Godfrey had his first multi-goal night by notching one at five-on-five midway through the third, before adding an empty-netter.

Saturday's interdivisional visit with the Walkerton Hawks gave the Cougars plenty of chances with 12 power plays, though it was four even strength goals that carried Schomberg to a 5-2 win.

Defenceman Mitchell Robinson led the way with his second and third goals of the year, while Cordeiro, Lucas Brockie, and Connor Dobrowolski also found the back of the net.

Sunday's meeting with the Caledon Golden Hawks was met with its usual animosity, though it was the rink itself that stole the show. Problems with the ice in the goal crease caused officials to have to postpone the game.

NHL celebrity Gary Leeman (centre) joined Mayor Steve Pellegrini, Councillor Bill Cober and local Rebellion reps for the annual Hockey Day in King.

Hockey Day in King event

By Jake Courtepatte

Game on.

Old rivalries were renewed and new ones were kindled at the annual Hockey Day in King, pitting the two branches of the King Minor Hockey Association against one another as well as out-of-town opponents.

All-day action with more than a dozen teams between the Schomberg Red Wings and NobleKing Knights hitting the ice, an introduction from Mayor Steve Pellegrini opened the floodgates for a fun-filled afternoon.

Ex-NHLer Gary Leeman, a veteran of nine seasons skating with the Toronto Maple Leafs, was on hand to sign autographs, while players and fans also had a run-in with Calder Cup Toronto Marlies' mascot, Duke the Dog.

The Midget Rebellion, the organization's highest level, wrapped up the day with a 4-4 tie against the Georgina Blaze.

Community Tree Lighting

Our annual Tree Lighting Ceremony for our Community Christmas Tree will be on Sunday, Nov. 25, from 5-6 p.m. in front of 232 Main Street.

Harry Hoare and his family generously share their gorgeous tree with us every year so we can light up our hearts and community for the festive season. The surrounding neighbours all have their hands poised on their power bars to synchronize the lighting of their homes with the Community Christmas Tree! Come out for some hot chocolate, cookies, enjoy the beautiful voices of St. Patrick's choir, get yourself in the festive mode and know that A Main Street Christmas is just around the corner!

Schomberg United Church By Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman

Tuesday, Nov. 20 was the annual Trans Day of Remembrance. For the past 19 years, this day has been set aside to honor those who have lost their lives due to anti-transgender violence. As I lit a candle and sat in prayer, I also remembered others; the young people who have chosen to take their lives because the bullying and lack of acceptance was too much to bear, as well as those who have struggled and offered their lives to ensure that people of all gender identities have acceptance and equal rights. I continue to pray that all people experience and come to know the radical and inclusive love of Jesus.

This Sunday a pulpit exchange will bring Rev. Jean Leckie to Nobleton and Schomberg who will be sharing her sermon titled "Hearts and Minds," while

Rev. Carol-Ann will be leading the service at Heart Lake United in Brampton.

On Saturday, Nov. 24, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. we will hold our annual Bake and Craft Sale, with Tea Room at St. Mary Magdalene. Funds raised will go to support our Senior's outreach program.

The Advent Season is upon us and all are welcome to join in an Advent Study on Tuesday mornings in Schomberg and St. Mary Magdalene's at 10 a.m. beginning Nov. 27.

On Thursday, Nov. 29, from 2 to 3 p.m. Coffee with Carol-Ann is in the "Living Room" at Kitchen-Breedon Manor.

'A Main Street Christmas'

Our 23rd annual "A Main St Christmas" event is just around the corner so mark it on your calendar now. It is Saturday, Dec. 1 from 3 p.m. through to 9 p.m.

The Main Street of Schomberg closes down to traffic from Church to Western at 3 p.m. in anticipation of the Santa Claus Parade and the entire event.

The very special, spectacular Santa Claus Parade is at 4 p.m. and the sensational Parade of Lights closes the night out at 8 p.m. If you are interested in participating in the Santa Claus Parade either as a float, walking participant or volunteer, please call myself at 905-590-0054 or email at wsue52@hotmail.com

Schomberg Presbyterian Church

Our annual Bake Sale, Christmas Cafe and Bazaar is on Dec. 1.

There is a terrific selection of gift baskets, baked goods, and crafts to suit everyone's budget and Christmas list, but most of all your taste buds.

Make sure you join your friends at the Christmas Cafe for lunch or dinner where tea, coffee, hot chocolate, scones, muffins, tea biscuits, soup, cookies and pie are on our menu. Several kinds of home made soup will be available. The cafe will be open from 11 a.m. to 7:45 p.m. A great place to stop before and after the afternoon parade.

Breakthrough Treatment For Low Back Pain/Sciatica

Do you experience lower back pain, pain in the buttocks or leg that is worse when sitting, hip pain, burning or tingling down the leg, weakness, numbness, or difficulty moving the leg or foot, a constant pain on one side of the buttocks and/or a shooting pain that makes it difficult to stand up? You may be suffering with a condition known as sciatica or low back pain due to degeneration/spinal nerve compression.

Low back pain with or without pain that refers down the leg and foot, most commonly occurs when a herniated disc, bone spur on the spine or narrowing of the spinal canal (spinal stenosis) compresses part of a spinal nerve. This causes inflammation, pain and can also cause some numbness/pain referring down the leg or even into the foot.

You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your symptoms. But you find the symptoms keep returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of medications that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

There is a new, natural, safe and highly effective approach that has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically: Laser therapy uses light to favor and accelerate the body's natural healing processes. The innovative Multiwave Locked System (MLS) Laser produces a safe, efficient and simultaneous effect on pain, inflammation and nerve conduction, exceeding the limits of traditional LLLT (Low power) and concerns of HP (High power) laser therapy.

According to multiple studies MLS laser therapy appears to be uniquely capable of decreasing the inflammation around the spinal cord and shows great promise in the battle against the devastating sequelae of this condition.

What does this mean for you?

Many of our patients have reported a 90-95% relief of their symptoms, more mobility, increased sensation and vastly improved function!

It is the very latest in medical technology, with years of clinical studies supporting its safety and efficacy and we are very proud to offer our patients effective solutions to their recent or chronic conditions.

St. Paul's Church

Looking for a family event to help celebrate the meaning of Christmas this year? A Night in Bethlehem is Coming Soon. "Starry Night" will run from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 9. You will want to mark this on your calendar, and feel free to invite friends along as well.

The Community Youth Group meets most Thursdays at the church from 7-9 p.m. Come join in the fun. Follow our Instagram account to stay up to date on current events, "4.12.youth.group." Check this space for details, or contact our church office at 905-859-0843. A2J, our program for kids in Grades 3 to 6, meets the second and fourth Fridays of the month at 7 p.m.

LifeConnect Groups are small gatherings for friendship, study and prayer. Our newest LifeConnect Group gathers on Thursdays at 7 p.m. at the church to learn the faith and grow together. We have several other LifeConnect Groups that meet throughout the week. If you are interested, please contact the church office and we can give you further details on these.

We are blessed at St. Paul's to have diligent librarians that have worked for years on creating an amazing library with new books being added weekly. This is a true goldmine if you are a reader. You're welcome to borrow from it anytime!

The first and third Tuesday of the month we have a group of people who get together at 1 p.m. to do Quilting. The second and fourth Tuesday of the month, the focus is on knitting. All handcrafted items are donated to various mission projects. You are welcome to join us.

This Sunday, Edward Yoo, our Pastoral Intern will delve into one of the Psalms - Psalm 34.9-14 - entitling his message, "Does God Want Us To Fear Him?" Ministry for children of all ages takes place at the same time. Following the service all are invited to spend time together over refreshments.

Jeff's messages are posted at www.passionatelyhis.com each week. They are also on Facebook Live and are available on the church's Facebook page (@stpaulsnobleton) and YouTube page (search St. Paul's Church, Nobleton) for viewing.

For more information about ANY of our activities or events, please contact the church office or visit our new and improved website at www.stpaulsnobleton.ca.

Nobleton United By Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman

Last Sunday we celebrated a non-traditional Holy Humor Sunday. Nobleton and Schomberg began this last year as a way of hosting a yearly service that shares the gift of laughter with one another and gives gratitude to God for humor that can be found in so many places. We chose this time of year because it allows us to relax just for a moment before we begin the season of Advent. For many Advent is the time before Christmas when we shop and plan ahead for the holiday season. In the church, Advent is a time of anticipation.

This Sunday a pulpit exchange will bring Rev. Jean Leckie to Nobleton and Schomberg who will be sharing her sermon titled "Hearts and Minds," while Rev. Carol-Ann will be leading the service at Heart Lake United in Brampton.

The Advent Season is upon us and all are welcome to join in an Advent Study on Tuesday mornings in Schomberg and St. Mary Magdalene's at 10 a.m. beginning Tuesday, Nov. 27.

Nobleton United will once again host Breakfast with Santa on Saturday Dec. 1, 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. Come enjoy a pancake breakfast where children will have a visit with Santa and receive a free quality gift, and photo. Free will offerings will be collected for Christmas in King. No reservation required.

Drop by our tent this year at Nobleton Christmas Tree Lighting on Sunday, Dec. 2 from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Gazebo, near the library. We will be featuring a bean bag game and offering a small prize and colouring sheet.

Messy Church in Church is happening again on Sunday, Dec. 9 at 11:15 a.m. The theme this time will be Christmas. There will be a short service upstairs with story and songs, followed by activities and a meal.

For more info, visit nobletonunit-edchurch.com, our Facebook page, or call 905-859-3976. The Church office is normally open on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Messages are picked up regularly. Nobleton United, 6076 King Rd., is north of the King Rd., about 6 buildings west of Hwy 27.

The internationally renowned artist painted this as part of a small series in 2008, after a trip to Greenland. Measures 56 x 51 cm. Valued at $2,300. One of a kind by a sought-after artist. Proceeds from the sale help support University of Western student Alexandria Hesketh-Pavilons, who will be doing volunteer mission work in Kigali, Rwanda through the university's interdisciplinary experiential learning course offered at Western. She will engage in 5 weeks of active and interactive community service. She will be an "ambassador" of not only Western University, but of Canada. Contact me at mpavilons@rogers.com if interested in the painting.

Armistice

And French Marshall Ferdinand

Foch, the supreme commander of the Allies during World War I, died in 1929, 11 years after he signed the peace agreement with defeated Germans in the Compiègne Forest in a former dining rail coach turned into an office and attached to his private train. Two years before his passing he'd seen this coach, after having briefly returned to a dining car once again. moved from Paris where refurbished and holding its original November 1918 furniture it had been on public display in the courtyard of the Hotel des Invalides now taken back deep into the historic beech and oak Compiègne Forest in north eastern France to the place it been at the time of the signing. This site chosen to keep the media of the day at a distance and also prevent local citizens from causing any harm to the German delegation.

A happy ending for this iconic rail coach! Not so as 13 years later on June 22, 1940 Adolf Hitler, leader of Nazi Germany, would humiliate the defeated French by forcing their leaders to come to him in this very place and sign documents in this very coach surrendering France to Nazi control.

A short time later Hitler had the coach shipped to Germany and put on public display on the grounds of the Berlin cathedral. When World War II began to turn against the Nazis and the cathedral was damaged in Allied bombing raids the coach was moved to Crawinkel a 11th AD century a town in Thuringia, a heavily forested state, in central Germany. From there it's said to have been moved to nearby Ohrdruf, an 8th century AD Thuringian town, site of a concentration camp in both world wars and associated with composer Johann Sebastian Bach. Here, according to some veterans of the notorious Protection Squadron (Schutzstaffel commonly called the SS) and some locals, it was destroyed in an Allied bombing raid. But more recent findings have proved it was actually destroyed by dynamite and fire, then remains buried by the SS outside Crawinkel possibly to prevent it from being used again as a peace signing venue with the defeat of the Nazis in 1945. A few fragments of this iconic coach have been discovered and returned to France. These are now on display in a detailed replica coach standing in the Compiègne Forest near the original site of the peace signing on that grey dreary wet dawn of Nov. 11, 1918, 100 years ago.

King's Corners

King City United By Sheryl Sinka

On Sunday we were reminded that when the tidal wave of life hits and our walls can no longer protect us do not despair for we can always rely on God to be there and we can rely on each other to help us shoulder our burdens. Try new things, offer a helping hand, ask for help if you need it, for when one opportunity ends, another is already beginning. May this be so in your life this week.

Lunch with Santa is back. Saturday, Dec. 8 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. come on out for a fun lunch with lots of baked goods for sale, white elephant table and cookie walk. There will be soup for the adults and pizza for the kids. Attendance is through free will offering.

If you have tickets to The "Dinner and Show" on Friday, Nov. 23 or Saturday, Nov. 24, dinner will begin at 7 p.m. Please join us for Worship on Sunday at 10 am (Sunday school runs at the same time).

A women's prayer group has begun in our community. They gather on Tuesday morning from 9-10 at the Residences of Springhill, The Condo community at 80 Burns Blvd. on the south side of King Sideroad in the small dining room on the main floor. Departure time is optional but please try to arrive just before 9. Prayer is powerful and whether it is illness, anxiety or life situations for yourself or someone else, consider adding your voice to this ministry. For more information contact Deana at 905-833-5375 or Kathy at 905-833-0391.

For those looking for some conversation and company, Tea and talk takes place on Friday mornings at the Sunset Grill (1700 King Rd.) at 10 a.m.

If you have any questions please contact the church office, 905-833-5181. Check out our new website at kcuc.net

King Bible Church

Please join us on Sunday, Nov. 25 as Pastor Mark, will be continuing our journey on "The Guaranteed Places to Encounter God" with "The Power Gifts-Part 2."

"Every day is full of various encounters, encounters with our families, encounters with our neighbours, encounters with those we work with or go to school with. Each one of those encounters in varying degrees has had a part in shaping who we are and who we will become. This coming year we as a church are going to focus on another encounter; the encounter to meet with God. We are going to walk through 8 different places that God has said through his Word he will meet us and transform us. We would like to invite you to join us on this life changing journey."

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning "Celebration Zone" provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in Grades 1-8 will join their parents for the beginning of the service until they are invited to go downstairs. The children in kindergarten can go directly to their class at the start of the service.

If you have children aged 0-3 then we invite you to bring them to our beautiful and safe nursery facilities which are located on the lower level. Caregivers will meet you there.

Our "Legacy" nights are our family Bible Study nights. We chose the theme of "Legacy" because we believe that's what families are looking for; both to be a part of as well as leave a lasting "Legacy."

Our program runs from 6:45 to 8 p.m. every Tuesday.

We are excited to welcome back to KBC comedian Leland Klassen for his "More True" comedy tour, Saturday, Nov. 24 at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $15 per person in advance or $20 at the door. Family rate $50 total.

This is a fun family event, as well as a great opportunity to invite your friends and neighbours for a night out!

Tickets can be purchased by emailing Lisa in the Office (lisa@kingbiblechurch.com) to reserve tickets. You can pay by e-transfer at payments@kingbiblechurch.com. Please email Lisa with the security question and answer.

Join us on Saturday, Dec. 8 to make homemade gifts for everyone on your Christmas list! We will provide details soon about what gift options there will be; and how you can sign up for them!

Please contact the Office with any questions.

You can find us at King Bible Church, 1555 King Rd. King City (at King Rd. & Dufferin), 905-833-5104, www.kingbiblechurch.com, info@kingbiblechurch.com

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

St. Andrew's shares the love of Jesus in the community and beyond!

This Sunday at 10:30 a.m., Nov. 25, we welcome back Alvin Kim. We look forward to his ministry and invite you to join us. Sunday School for school-aged children up to 12 years runs concurrently and a nursery is available. Following the service, join us for coffee.

Last Sunday, Nov. 18, Henna Kim, a graduate student from Knox College, U of T. led us in worship and shared with us how she has known and is experiencing that "Jesus is the Good Shepherd."

King City Senior's Centre activities

By Carol Kanitz

Have you reserved your place for the Floral Workshop on Monday, Dec. 3 at 1:30 p.m. If not, call Carolyn at 905-833-0792 as soon as possible. We will be making Christmas centre pieces to brighten up your holiday table. The workshop will take place in the Lions' Room at the arena. The cost is $30 per person.

Our annual Open House will be held at the Centre on Sunday, Dec. 9 from 2 to 4 p.m.. This is a great start to the holiday season each year. Please come out, join in the fun and meet our special guests.

Book your tickets for the New Year's Eve Gala ($50 per person) by contacting Susan at 905-859-4583 or Sheila at 905-833-5579. You will enjoy a full course sit down dinner followed by dancing and then champagne at midnight. Doors open at 7 p.m. at the Centre.

Psalm 23: 1-4 was the prominent scripture along with John 10:11-15. The Lord, the Good Shepherd cares and provides for us, rescues and protects us, and knows us each by name. Do we know our Shepherd's voice when He calls us? Are we able to distinguish it from others?

"Messy Church" is this Sunday from 5-7 p.m. We hope you can come and bring your friends and neighbours to this fun, intergenerational, creative time where we get to know more about God's love for us. Our evening ends with a wonderful communal supper at 6 p.m.!

The following week, Dec. 2, is The First Sunday in Advent leading up to the birth of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. The Rev. Dr. John Vissers will lead us in worship and preside over the Communion Service.

Soup and Conversation for "the after work gals" continues Wednesday evenings at 6:30 p.m. at the church office.

A women's Prayer Circle is has started Tuesday mornings from 9-10 a.m. at 80 Burns Blvd. Perhaps you too believe in the power of prayer and would like to pray with other ladies, but can't join us at this time. Please call Kathy Patterson, (905) 833-0391 for more information and for other possible venues and times.

All the Christmas in King donations need to be in to the church by the end of November in order to be ready for distribution Saturday, December 15. Thank you! Contact Kathy Patterson if you want to know more or wish to help out with a Food Hamper or purchase gift cards for registered families or individuals with the Township's Food Bank.

For pastoral care needs contact Lynn Vissers, Director of Congregational Ministries at the office, 905-833-2325 or contact our Interim Moderator, the Rev. Paul Johnston, 705-341-7738.

We are located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. www.standrews-kingcity.ca

All Saints Anglican Church
By Patrick Gossage

Our annual craft sale – one of a kind answers to your Christmas shopping challenges – Mark the date Saturday, Dec. 1, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at All Saints when we welcome 16 vendors of unique arts, crafts, homemade preserves, small furniture pieces, and custom made wool clothing – treasures for that special person on your list. In addition amazing baking by our own parishioners to take home after you have settled down for a homemade soup and sandwich lunch. Come early and enjoy unique shopping and good eats. Take a shopping break and enjoy coffee and sweets.

New Refugee Family for King – donations needed – the family All Saints sponsored with other King Churches is now settled in nicely. Some members attend All Saints regularly where they are warmly welcomed. We have agreed to be the parish of record for another family of six who are arriving on Nov. 27. The administration, funding and sponsorship is being handled by King for Refugees and by AURA (Anglican United refugees Association). The following items are needed: - sheets and pillows, warm bedding, bath towels - set of pots including large soup pot, frying pans. For pickup king4refugees@gmail.com. The parish will be involved in making them feel at home in our community.

Words to live by – Rev. Dr. Elizabeth took her sermon from the Mark's Gospel which makes dire warning of the destruction of the temple and warns: "When you hear of wars and rumors of wars, do not be alarmed. These things must happen, but the end is still to come. Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places, as well as famines ..."

She reminded us that Mark wrote this after the actual destruction of the temple in the Jewish wars in 70AD – so it was written in grieving for the loss of the epicenter of the Jewish faith. Jesus said this was "just the beginning" of the end times, the apocalypse which some still believe predict. "There is suffering. War and tragedy are normal." she said. "But we must not be complacent. We cannot write it off. There will always be catastrophes. But we are never off the hook to care for the needs of others."

Kingcrafts Studio Sale 2018

Horticulture
By John Arnott

Tenacious, drought and cold tolerant and by no means timid these "weeds" are, if anything survivors, Most stay green all year 'round, yes even under snow and ice of our King Township winters!

Plantains may seem plain but they have, one might claim, a fancy history. Origins of these perennials long familiar to prehistorics are lost in the mists of time. Most likely they are native to the grasslands of central Asia where the harsh climate bred hardiness into them. From here they spread through much of Europe and were probably the first Old World plants to arrive in the Americas brought by European colonists on purpose for medicinal and culinary reasons or accidentally as stowaways in sacks of grain seed. Plantains reached Australia-New Zealand and South Africa similarly. First Nations people called the most common plantain "white man's footprint" because of how well these foreign plants survived being constantly trampled under foot around early European settlements. This led 18th century botanists to award them the botanical name plantago.

There are some 200 species of plantain but broadleaf or greater plantain is the most common in our area. From its whorl/circle of ground level large (compared to the plant's size) spoon shaped ribbed glossy green leaves grow smooth stems that are generally under 6 in./15 cm tall but can reach 16 in./45 cm in height where it must compete with taller plants. The top half of each stem is covered in inconspicuous more tiny green than yellow wind pollinated flowers with barely visible purple stamens. Each flower will produce tiny seeds, a multiple stemmed large plant may have as many as 20,000 seeds. These seeds may be pounded into flour for baking, a long tedious process to produce enough flour to be of any use.
