York lauds subway extension plan

The Regional Municipality of York, together with York Region Rapid Transit Corporation, are thrilled to see a commitment from the Ontario government today of $5.6 billion over the next 10 years for the Yonge North Subway Extension. The Yonge North Subway Extension can now move forward into construction. This investment is part of the province's $28.5 billion expansion to Ontario's transit network.

"Today's announcement of a significant investment from the Province jumpstarts the construction of the Yonge North Subway Extension - Regional Council's number one transportation priority," said York Region chairman and CEO Wayne Emmerson. "Subways unlock new travel choices for all commuters. With 52,000 businesses already within York Region, this transit investment will help drive national, provincial and regional prosperity."

The Yonge North Subway Extension is a cross-jurisdictional project spanning the City of Toronto, City of Markham, City of Vaughan and the City of Richmond Hill. It extends 7.4 kilometres north on Yonge Street from Finch Station to the Richmond Hill/Langstaff Gateway Urban Growth Centre at Highway 7.

"The Yonge North Subway Extension is the most justified rapid transit investment in the GTA," said Markham Mayor Frank Scarpitti. "As chair of the York Region Rapid Transit Corporation, I have dedicated my time to advancing this project, to securing funding and to starting construction during this term of office. I applaud the provincial government for its bold initiative to connect the 905 and 416."

This critical rapid transit link will include up to six stations at Cummer/Drewry, Steeles, Clark, Royal Orchard, Langstaff/Longbridge and Richmond Hill Centre. It will also include two intermodal terminals and 2,000 commuter parking spaces near Yonge Street and Highway 407.

"This project supports vital transportation networks that connect cities, and it will help continue our economic growth," said Richmond Hill Mayor Dave Barrow. "We appreciate this investment."

"The Yonge North Subway Extension is very important to those who live, work and commute in Vaughan," said Vaughan Mayor Maurizio Bevilacqua. "This investment shows the importance the Province places on a connected network across the GTA."

"After decades of delay, Premier Doug Ford and the provincial government are delivering results for commuters across York Region. The historic investment in transit will see the creation and expansion of four lines in the GTA, cutting commute times and creating jobs," added King-Vaughan MPP Stephen Lecce.

The Ontario Line will cost $10.9 billion and will be delivered by 2027.

The Yonge North Subway Extension will cost $5.6 billion and should be open soon after the Ontario Line.

Local politicians pleased with provincial budget

By Mark Pavilons

The Ford government's first budget comes as good news to politicians in York and King.

The "comprehensive and sustainable plan" sets out a five-year path to a balanced budget to protect critical public services such as health care and education.

"We are restoring sustainability to government finances in order to protect what matters most," said Minister of Finance Vic Fedeli. "The previous government was spending about $40 million a day more than it was collecting in revenue. Our plan will make every dollar count so we can continue to invest in the critical programs like health care, education, and other services that the people of Ontario rely upon each and every day while protecting front-line workers."

The government is making the single largest capital contribution to new subway builds and extensions in Ontario's history. It is committing $11.2 billion of the total estimated $28.5 billion cost to support four rapid transit projects in the Greater Toronto Area (GTA), significantly over-delivering on the government's initial commitment to inject an additional $5 billion in capital funds into subway extensions. The four projects include the Yonge North Subway Extension, the Scarborough Subway Extension, the Eglinton Crosstown West Extension, and a new subway, the Ontario Line.

King Mayor Steve Pellegrini is "ecstatic," noting the Province has actually increased spending in key areas. The emphasis on the transit plan is "outstanding for York Region." Pellegrini pointed out they've been lobbying the City of Toronto for years to extend service through York and York officials have always "been at the plate." With this latest commitment, commuters will get a true GTHA transportation network.

Stephen Lecce, MPP for King-Vaughan, and Parliamentary Assistant to the Premier and Minister of Infrastructure, is pleased the budget protects what matters most, and contains absolutely no new tax increases, while providing $26 billion over six years in relief for individuals, families, and businesses.

"With a focus on protecting the front line services that matter most - our world-class health care and education systems - Budget 2019 is putting families, small businesses, and our next generation first," said Lecce. "Vaughan and King Township families will benefit from a budget that will allow business to grow and create good jobs,

King reviewing streetscaping projects

By Mark Pavilons

Spring is in the air, and King Township staff are looking at ways to spiffy up local towns and villages.

At a public meeting recently, Chris Fasciano, director of parks, recreation and culture, delivered a presentation on various improvements and streetscaping work across King.

A swatch of King Road, from Nobleton to King City, is being revamped, as part of municipal streetscaping, pedestrian and cycling partnership programs, with York Region.

It's a coordinated approach, one that includes teaming up with regional projects, applying for funding and getting approval, all in a timely fashion. It's part of King's long-term vision and brings together plans such as King's master transportation plan, recreation plan, CIP, beautification plans and village design guidelines.

Beautification began in King City, with the public space and gateway at the northwest corner of King and Keele.

Major improvements to Nobleton's core area, from the four corners, east along King Road, will come to fruition this season. These included sidewalk replacement, a multi-use path, tree plantings, flower poles, street furniture and lighting.

Staff are also looking for more improvements along King Road, from King City Secondary to Dufferin. These include a multi-use path, tree plantings, banners, street furniture and flower poles.

Projects such as these require funding and they're not always top of the list in terms of council priorities. Some also require coordinated scheduling with Regional projects. It's an investment in the core areas of our villages and staff are looking at shared funding opportunities.

THE BEST MOVE YOU COULD MAKE

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"A newspaper is the center of a community, it's one of the tent poles of the community, and that's not going to be replaced by websites and blogs."

- Michael Connelly

Just what questions would you ask God?

"Where can we go to find God if we cannot see Him in our own hearts and in every living being."

- Swami Vivekananda

Not all of us have faith or strongly believe in the Almighty.

But for many, God is as real as the raindrops on the tulips that welcome us every spring.

The legendary Bob Marley wrote that his hand was made strong by the hand of the Almighty. He also spent a lot of time "jammin in the name of the Lord."

A movie on Netflix raised some really interesting questions for yours truly, since the theme is right up my alley.

"An Interview With God," by director Perry Lang, is presented as a rather simple Q & A with the big guy. A troubled journalist has many issues to work out, but he's always had "faith," and that's brought to bear when the interview of a lifetime presents itself. Yes, an interview with God himself.

David Strathairn plays God in this entertaining film. It's purposely vague yet compelling at the same time. No concrete answers are provided, but there are still many hints at what's important in God's eyes. But yes, there are answers to inquiries such as "does Satan exist?" and "why do bad things happen to good people?"

Being a journalist, I've often wondered what historic figure I'd love to meet and interview. Of course, Jesus springs to mind as first and foremost. But there would be a heck of a language barrier. Just where would I learn ancient Aramaic? I don't think there's an app for that, yet!

There are so many famous and infamous characters throughout our jaded history who would be so very interesting to speak with. From joining Ernest

Mark Pavilons

Hemingway for a drink in Key West, to discussing politics with JFK, the subjects are endless.

Back to the Most High.

For me, there's little interest in past events, and obvious questions of God's power, existence and handiwork. It's all around us.

For me, humankind's beginnings, while fascinating from a historic perspective, are well documented. There's more than enough reading material to keep one busy for months.

What I would want to know is something no religious text can definitely guarantee. What waits for us in the great beyond? What memories will I retain and what senses will I experience? Just what will I do for all eternity?

It's possible that none of these things would be relevant. Who needs a sense of smell if you are one with the universe?

What's there to touch when you are in all places, at all times, across all galaxies?

I would have to think long and hard about the questions I posed to the All Knowing. Then again, he would anticipate them, right?

Some of us have formal and informal conversations with the Creator on a regular basis. Praying is a very personal thing.

In his book, "Conversations With God: An Uncommon Dialogue," Neal Walsh addresses some really pertinent questions.

God created perfection in us and the world around us, he noted. And he didn't simply walk away from us after Jesus came for a brief visit.

The author also contends there's no such thing as "coincidence," since we are in control of our actions and the results. "For you are the creator of your own reality, and life can show up in no other way for you than the way in which you think it will."

In loving relationships, our better halves don't "complete us," but rather we share our "completeness" with one another.

"The laws are very simple: 1. Thought is creative. 2. Fear attracts like energy. 3. Love is all there is."

Heaven, according to Walsh, is here, now, all around us.

We all know that life is filled with challenges and hurdles. That's part of the learning experience. I'm not sure why we shelter and protect our children from experiencing these road blocks - they're necessary for personal growth.

Walsh said knowing there will be tough times is part of life. We shouldn't avoid them, but rather welcome them, and cultivate a method of finding the silver linings, or the opportunities in the problems that await. These opportunities, he says, will help us determine who we really are.

There are no guarantees in life, and it has been designed that way, Walsh attests. We can't "rehearse" for a script that's already been written. "Life by its nature cannot have guarantees, or its whole purpose is thwarted."

Here's a key to life, in my opinion. Walsh suggests we live our lives without expectations and the need for specific results. This is freedom; the God-given freedom of choice.

The singer Prince said every day is a blessing from God "and I consider it a new beginning."

In a way, he was right. For those who've seen sunrises or sunsets in majestic places around the globe, you can see the beauty and power of it all. The universe is not a collection of coincidences, but a finely tuned mechanism.

Very few of us get the chance to look back at our home world from space. Astronauts who've experienced it note it goes beyond science and nature; it's almost spiritual.

RCAF pilot John Magee once wrote that when he flew and reached incredible heights, he put out his hand "and touched the face of God."

Wonder and curiosity are two of our most interesting qualities as human beings. And so is faith.

Always keep a notebook by the bedside, I say. You never know when you'll need it!

Letter to the Editor

Student comments on walkout

On April 4 at 1:15 p.m., thousands of students across Ontario walked out of school to protest some of the changes that Premier Doug Ford is planning to make in our education system. Some of these changes include banning cell phones in class, introducing mandatory online courses, cutting funding. One of the most contentious is his intention to increase class sizes.

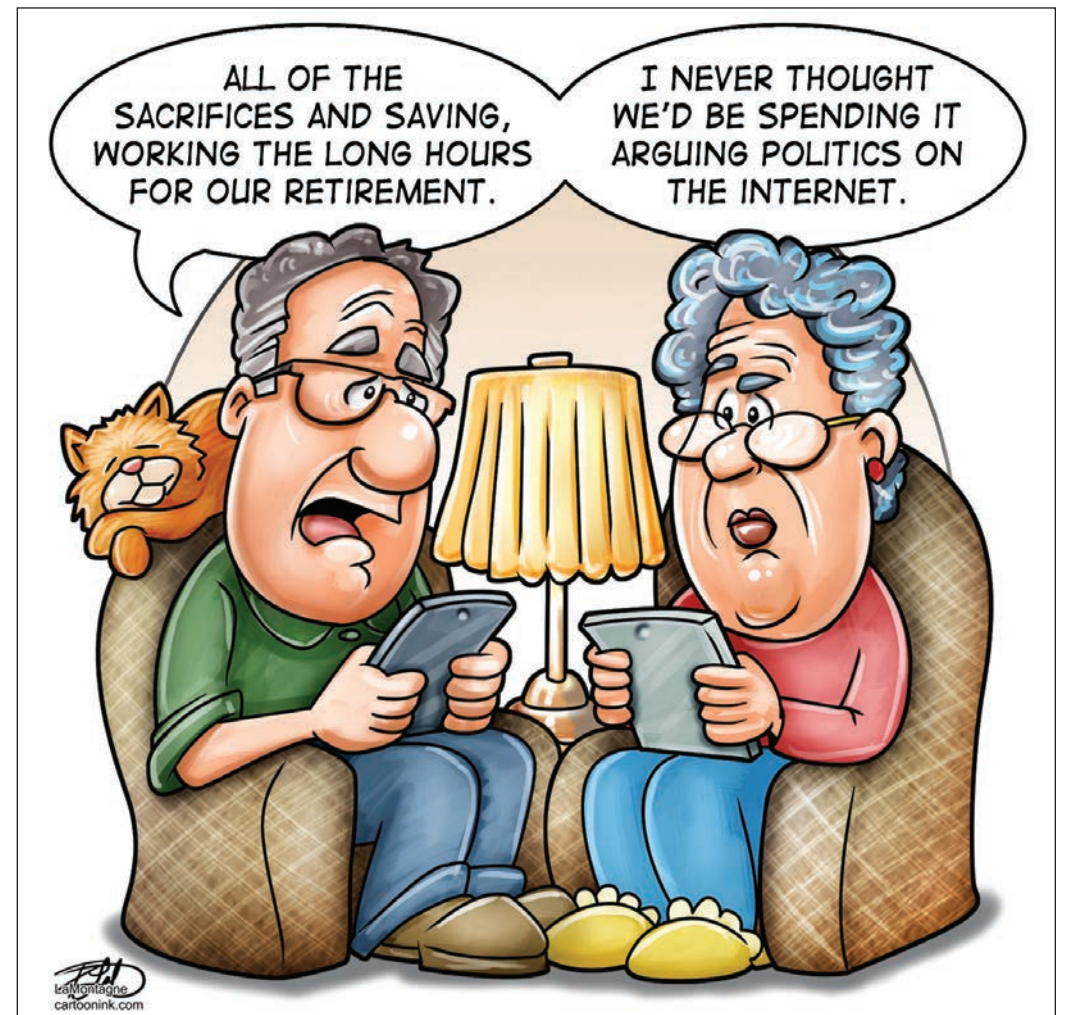

Many of the Grade 7 and 8 students of Nobleton Public School were ready to support their peers and take action by walking out of school too. We are a small school and I knew that we wouldn't be able to draw the attention of the media or those in power. I also didn't want to miss class, because we had already missed a number of days this year because of the winter weather.

I asked myself whether walking out of school was the best way to demonstrate and express our dissatisfaction with the proposed changes. Students want and need to make our voice heard, but not at the detriment to our education. Instead, I proposed to our principal, Mr. Breadner, that we show the impact that the changes to class sizes would actually look like.

We photographed a regular class with 24 students, our current situation. What would the impact be if we increased the class size to 30 students, as proposed under Premier Ford's changes? With the support of our teachers, we demonstrated what these changes will look like in an actual classroom, with 24 students, 30 students, 35 students and then 40 students.

I understand the need to make education more efficient. After all, we'll spend over $25 billion on funding education this year alone. Increasing the size of classes is only one way to save money, but we have to ask if it is the BEST way. There must be many more ways to provide a better service to students in the same amount of money. It'll take work but we can get there.

Letter to the Editor

Upset by wasteful practices at coffee shop

I recently went to a Starbucks location in downtown Toronto. The store was clean and the staff were very pleasant. I didn't know what to order, so the barista suggested a black sesame seed latte. Based on his recommendation, I ordered a grande. Now, here's where the story gets interesting.

The barista made the latte, and after filling my cup, spilled out the remainder into the sink - this was about 1/2 to 1 cup of latte. I watched carefully, and he did the same thing with the next customer as well. Why throw it out? Why not just make less?

I asked this question to the barista and was told that there is only one recipe and it cannot be modified by the size of the cup. I was blown away by the explanation, especially since, by the time my drink was cool enough to drink, the foam had diminished and I was left with only about 1/2 of a cup of latte! The latte that had been thrown down the drain could have been mine!

We are fortunate to live in a country where food is plentiful, and sometimes we forget that food is scarce in other parts of the world. Does that mean we spill perfectly good drinks down the drain?

I recently read that more than half of the food produced in Canada is thrown away.

Starbucks, with all of its resources and profits, could surely come up with a recipe for each size of cup, and not be a contributor to this shocking statistic.

I had high regard for Starbucks (I have gold status) and its corporate citizenship but this is the epitome of elitist arrogance. Don't get me wrong, I'm an elitist that fits the demographic that Starbucks markets to, but I am not arrogant about social responsibility.

I don't know everything since I'm only 13 years old, but despite my naivety, I am certain that the leaders in their corporate office are highly educated and probably have MBAs. But it seems to me that someone slept through their classes on this one! It doesn't take a genius to figure out that if you tailor the recipe to each cup size to avoid waste, our profits go up! Instead, someone decided that it would be better to pour the profits down the drain - literally!

The wasteful practice doesn't really hurt me, it hurts them, their profits and their shareholders. What does hurt me, however, is that by buying from Starbucks, I am supporting a company that is using limited global resources recklessly and with arrogance. Just because I can afford your high prices doesn't mean that I don't care about the planet.

Really, is this the legacy that Starbucks wants to be known for? Somehow I think not. My generation may seem to be an entitled bunch, but we also realize that we can't keep polluting the planet and wasting our resources.

I love Starbucks as a brand - their marketing, products, staffing and training are excellent. However, this is something that I am having a tough time overlooking.

I sincerely apologize if my letter offends anyone in the organization, as this is not my intention. We should all find positivity in criticism, so that we can improve and leave the world a better place than we found it.

I hope that Starbucks will listen to my feedback, and try to develop recipes for each cup size to decrease such blatant waste.

KING FIRE & EMERGENCY SERVICES

Spring cleaning your yard?

Check local By-law before starting an Open Air Fire/Burn

Township of King - April 2019

King Fire & Emergency Services is advising local residents to contact them regarding the restrictions that govern open air burning before having any open air fires or burning brush.

"With spring outdoor cleanup starting, we know some residents choose to burn brush and yard debris on their property," explained Fire Chief Jim Wall. "Cleaning up debris and limiting the level of flammable vegetation surrounding your home is understandable. However, please make sure that the way you do it is safe - for you, your home, your neighbours, and the surrounding area."

A permit is required with specific conditions for burning in the Township of King.

Open air burning can include the use of outdoor fireplaces and cooking fires not involving the use of a barbeque (for recreational purposes). Some outdoor appliances may not be recommended because there is potential for personal injury, property damage and increased risk of a grass fire. Please do your homework and go on-line and research these appliances before you make any purchases.

"Whether in the backyard of your home, the cottage or at a campground please make fire safety a priority," said Fire Chief Wall. "Open air burning, especially if left unattended can become difficult to control and can result in a serious injury or widespread fire." Always keep fire safety in mind.

Please contact King Fire & Emergency Services for more information if you have any questions about open air burning requirements.

For more information contact: King Fire & Emergency Services @ 905-833-2800

King Township Food Bank centres open this Saturday

This Saturday, April 20, the three distribution centres are open from 9-11 am to serve Food Bank registrants. If you need help, please call ahead 905-806-1125 or ktfoodbank@gmail.com so food can be shipped to the appropriate centre in the right quantity for you.

Again, the monthly distribution will have donated produce from Hillside Gardens, along with extra treats from Tim Hortons Schomberg and Dorio's Bakery.

Last month recipients enjoyed a wonderful trove of foods, including bread, from Alloro Fine Foods in Nobleton, helpfully delivered by King Fire. It takes a community, and King is certainly a community.

Bruce Wilson Landscaping kicked off the official start to the 2019 Sponsorship Campaign with a Diamond Level cheque for $2,500. Charlie Wilson is instrumental in raising half of the annual sponsorship dollars; this is of huge assistance to the Food Bank. These sponsorships are the "bread and butter" year after year.

Rona Schomberg sent a cheque for $1,000; it was the proceeds plus a corporate donation from the Rona Heroes event last fall. It was a great success!

During Volunteer Week, the Food Bank held a pot luck for all the volunteers (that means everyone, as it is a totally volunteer organization). The food was amazing, and it was a fun evening. Thanks to Mayor Pellegrini for bringing greetings from the Township.

Visit www.ktfb.ca for the latest news and updates, including distribution dates, that are always the third Saturday of the month. In May it will be the Saturday of the May long weekend. Such is the way third Saturdays fall.

King Township Food Bank Board would welcome knowledgeable assistance in the form of a treasurer. This position includes all the bookkeeping aspects, including accounts payable, accounts receivable, issuing cheques and making deposits, using the QuickBooks system. Email ktfoodbank@gmail.com or call Carol Ann at 416-559-7898 if you'd like to start a conversation.

Firefighters hold car wash, garage sale

On Saturday, May 4 the Schomberg Firefighters Association will be hosting a community Car Wash and Garage sale at King Fire Station 36, located at 91 Proctor Road. The event coincides with the King Township Community Yard Sale being held at the Trisan Centre next door.

The Schomberg Firefighters Association invites residents to the fire station from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. to purchase donated second hand goods and have their vehicle hand washed by our members. Residents are encouraged to bring their families, as the trucks will be made available for children to explore. Refreshments and light snacks will be available, as well as live music and prizes.

All donations from the carwash and garage sale will go towards the association in support of its members and the many community initiatives that the association supports.

The Schomberg Firefighters Association looks forward to meeting the residents of King Township. We hope to see you there!

Budget boosts transportation

while preserving our services and making investments in areas like all three local GO stations and the Mackenzie Vaughan Hospital.”

It's a plan that balances the budget in five years, stimulates job creation, and protects critical public services that people rely on every day. With this plan, the Province is ensuring value for money and targeting spending to frontline services, while eliminating the deficit.

The signature initiative of the budget, according to Lecce, is the proposed Childcare Access and Relief from Expenses (CARE) tax credit. The CARE tax credit would be one of the most flexible child care initiatives ever introduced in Ontario, putting parents at the centre of the decision-making process. CARE would help low- and middle-income families with up to 75% of their eligible child care costs per year, including those for daycares, home-based care, and camps.

Another key item in the budget focuses on seniors, including the introduction of dental care support for low-income seniors. At least two-thirds of low-income seniors do not have access to dental care – and many end up in our emergency rooms as a result. The government is investing $90 million starting at the end of summer 2019 to establish this new program to help Ontario's low-income seniors. Additionally, the government is creating 15,000 new long-term care beds over the next five years and upgrading 15,000 older long-term care beds to provide more appropriate care to patients with complex health conditions.

Budget 2019 is also providing tax relief for families when they need it most.

The death of a loved one is a difficult time for families. Effective January 1, 2020, the Estate Administration Tax would be eliminated for taxable estates with assets of $50,000 or less, and would be reduced by $250 for larger taxable estates.

“After decades of delay, Premier Doug Ford and the provincial government are delivering results for commuters across York Region. The historic investment in transit will see the creation and expansion of four lines in the GTA, cutting commute times and creating jobs,” Lecce added.

Other key initiatives in Budget 2019 include a new Ontario Job Creation Investment Incentive to help businesses grow and create jobs, a “Digital First” strategy to modernize Service Ontario's top 10 transactions and other government services, and a new auto insurance plan that puts drivers first.

“The Budget marks a new beginning for the Province that respects tax dollars, makes life more affordable, and ensures the government works for the people, and not the other way around,” noted Fedeli.

The 2019 Ontario Budget introduces no new taxes and, along with measures announced to date, will allow the government to provide a projected $26 billion in much-needed relief to individuals, families and businesses over six years, and eliminate the deficit.

In the nine short months since taking office, the government has already reduced the deficit by $3.3 billion, going from $15 billion to a projected $11.7 billion for the 2018-19 fiscal year. The government is planning to further reduce the deficit by $1.4 billion in the 2019-20 fiscal year, lowering it to $10.3 billion. The government is projecting a modest surplus in 2023-24.

Santorelli is the new King Chamber president

By Mark Pavilons

The King Chamber of Commerce has a new president.

Well known King business owner and community supporter Angelo Santorelli, of Trisan Construction, takes over the lead of the local business association.

The 40-year King resident is proud to call King his home. Trisan employs many local residents from the surrounding areas and also presents multiple opportunities for work and growth in the construction industry. Trisan Construction was also honoured to receive the Excellence in Large Business award by the King Chamber of Commerce in the fall of 2017. In 2011, Angelo and his family had the unique opportunity to be a part in supporting and naming of Schomberg's community recreation centre, the Trisan Centre.

Angelo has been a member of the King Chamber of Commerce for over 10 years, as well as participating in the Township's Sustainability Advisory Committee and serving on the board of the Toronto Area Road Builders Association for 3 years.

Moving forward as president of the King Chamber of Commerce, Angelo hopes to encourage businesses, both small and large, to plant, grow and flourish in King. He would like to bring businesses together and get involved in creating a stronger and even better community. In doing this, Angelo's goal is to promote both the Chamber, as well as the municipality, for the benefit of local business and all who live and seek to thrive in our Township.

Santorelli thanked Tom Allen for all his hard work and accomplishments in serving as president of the King Chamber of Commerce for the past number of years. It is Angelo's aim to continue the important task of serving our great community and to carry on Tom's legacy of leadership for the Chamber.

Allen will still serve as past-president. Tom is a 20-year resident of Schomberg. With Sun Life Financial, Tom operates a financial planning business that helps business owners achieve tax efficient money for life, manage business continuity risks and supports businesses with group benefits. Tom has been a member for 13 years and he has been on the board for seven years.

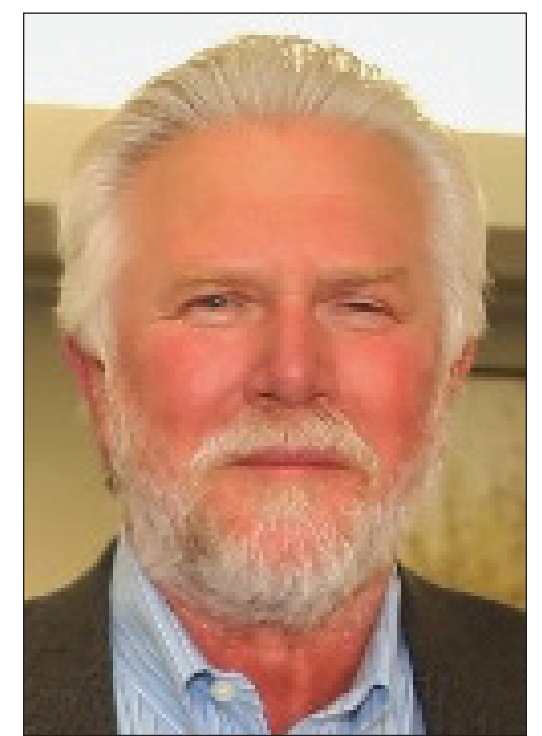

Jay Rider serves as vice-president. Rider practicing management side labour lawyer and long-term Nobleton resident. This is Jay's fourth year as a member of the Chamber Board and he is pleased to be this year's incoming vice-president. As a board member Jay has led a number of Chamber governmental relations and policy initiatives, including obtaining a township-wide Retail Business Holidays Act exemption from Regional Council and the modernization of King's sign bylaw. In addition to his service on the Chamber board, Jay volunteers as the Director of Risk Management and Head Trainer for the King Township, NobleKing and Schomberg Minor Hockey Associations and was a member of the bench staff for this year's York-Simcoe championship winning King Rebellion Minor Midget As.

David Cross is the secretary. He joined the board in February 2017, and this is his second year as secretary. David is President of W.B. Cross Co., an installer and integrator of security and home automation products. The company moved to King Township in the mid-1980s and serves clients in the GTA, York Region and Barrie areas. David has lived in King Township since 1958, where he and his wife Marti have enjoyed living and raising their 6 children, first living in Nobleton and then making the big trek north to Schomberg. An active member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, David co-chaired the building committee and was also part of the building committee of the then "new" arena in Nobleton. A committed Christian, he has served as Chairman of the Scott Mission in Toronto and on the boards of the Scott Mission, Tynedale College, and St. Andrew's College as well as the Toronto and North York Hunt.

David has always felt that the best way to make a business successful was to listen to your customer and then provide them with what they want at a fair price; always following up to build a relationship so that the customer feels supported every step of the way.

Kelly Foley, is the board treasurer. Kelly is a proud King Township citizen from a long term King Township family.

Kelly has been a Chamber member for 17 years, and she's been on the board for five years and treasurer for two. Her contribution to the development of the King community and King Economy over the last 20 years brings a unique perspective to the 2017 Chamber board. She is excited to be able to network and bring new life into the business community of King. Being a small business owner she will have understanding and compassion for up and coming businesses in the community.

The King Chamber's mission is to promote a healthy, sustainable, and environmentally responsible business climate in King Township. For more, visit kingchamber.ca

Farmland Forever presented by the citizen's group CCKT

By J. Bruce Craig

"Farmland Forever" was the title of a very timely and informative presentation given by Heather Reid of Ontario Farmland Trust at the Schomberg Community Hall this past week.

Concerned Citizens of King Township (CCKT) in partnership with Ontario Farmland Trust and FarmLINK, organized the public meeting in King Township to highlight the prime importance of protecting and preserving farmland in King and throughout southern Ontario. In many ways southern Ontario's farmland, made up mainly of Class 1 and 2 soils, is the "bread basket" of Canada, providing a great variety of foods. In addition, the agri-food industry is a very significant economic driver in Ontario generating $36.4 billion GDP and sustaining over 790,000 jobs.

As urban areas expand and suburban sprawl continues, prime farmland in Ontario is being lost at an average of 147 acres every day. In the past 40 years 20% of the agricultural land base in Ontario has been lost. The urgency of reversing this trend and ensuring the sustainability of farmland and farming was highlighted by Heather Reid and two other speakers, Anahita Belanger of FarmLINK, and Susan Walmer of the Oak Ridges Moraine Land Trust.

FarmLINK is a nation-wide organization that matches "seekers" with "opportunities" in farming and the agricultural sector. Seekers include those interested in pursuing a career in farming and the opportunity to be mentored on an active farm, those who may simply like to rent a small portion of a farm for growing organic vegetables and those looking for employment in a specific sector of farming. Farmers with available land for rent or looking for assistance on a farm operation or someone to mentor may list online with FarmLINK. More information can be found at www.farmlink.org

The Ontario Farmland Trust and the Oak Ridges Moraine Land Trust both seek to secure agricultural land and natural heritage lands for long term protection through conservation easements, land donations and land purchases, plus provide guidance in stewardship. Both organizations have been active over the past 14 years in securing and protecting land in southern Ontario, and have partnered on land securement on the Oak Ridges Moraine.

Heather Reid highlighted that the Greenbelt Plan has been effective in protecting large areas of farmland near Toronto, however, the Greenbelt needs to be expanded into other regions such as Simcoe, Waterloo and Wellington to better preserve prime farmland in these areas. She also stressed that while provincial planning policy is helpful, policies can change over time, and that conservation easements provide greater certainty in the long term protection of farmland.

Conservation easements can be done on a portion of a rural property or on the entire property. In conservation easements and eco-gifts of land, the land owner may qualify for a significant charitable tax receipt. More information can be found at: www.ontariofarmlandtrust.ca and www.oakridgesmoraine.org

Councillors Avia Eek and Jakob Schneider attended the meeting and introduced two of the speakers. Both active farmers, Eek and Schneider welcomed and supported this informative event focused on protecting farmland and sustaining a vibrant agricultural industry. Mayor Steve Pellegrini and Councillor Debbie Schaefer were also in attendance and joined in lively conversation regarding the presentations and the important issues about farming that were raised.

King Township has a rich heritage in agriculture, and there are substantial benefits from agriculture in the local economy, providing significant employment opportunities and supporting a variety of farm-related businesses. In addition, King's significant agricultural roots and present farming activity enriches King's social and cultural fabric touching everyone in King.

Susan Walmer, Executive Director, Oak Ridges Moraine Land Trust, Anahita Belanger, Marketing Lead, FarmLINK and Heather Reid, Policy & Land Program Assistant, Ontario Farmland Trust.

CDS presents James and the Giant Peach JR.

The Country Day School presents James and the Giant Peach JR., based on Roald Dahl's classic story.

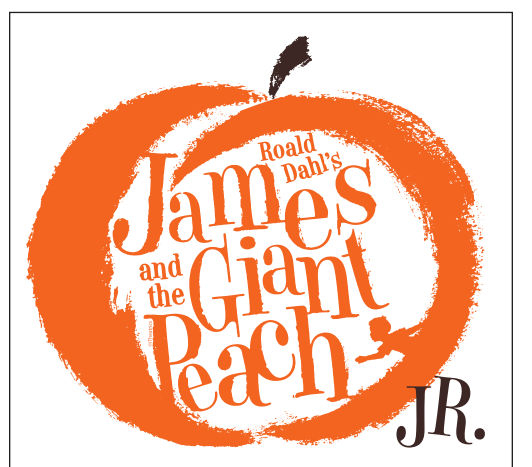

The performances will take place Thursday, April 25 and Friday, April 26 at 7 p.m. There will also be a Saturday matinee, April 27 at 1 p.m.

Tickets are $15 and available at www.cds.on.ca/tickets

Based on one of Roald Dahl's most poignantly quirky stories, Roald Dahl's James and the Giant Peach JR. is a brand new take on this "masterpeach" of a tale. Featuring a wickedly tuneful score and a witty and charming book, this adventurous musical about courage and self-discovery will surely be a favourite for our CDS community.

When James is sent by his conniving aunts to chop down their old fruit tree, he discovers a magic potion that grows a tremendous peach, rolls into the ocean and launches a journey of enormous proportions. James befriends a collection of singing insects that ride the giant piece of fruit across the ocean, facing hunger, sharks and plenty of disagreements along the way. During this journey, James learns the true definition of family and finds his place in the world.

With music by Oscar, Grammy, Tony, and Golden Globe Award-winning songwriters Benj Pasek & Justin Paul, this show will delight audiences of all ages!

Fossil fuel conservation would fight climate change

The Ontario government is increasing energy bills, air pollution, health impacts and greenhouse gas emissions by creating conditions that push up fossil fuel use, according to the latest report from Dianne Saxe, the Environmental Commissioner of Ontario.

"A Healthy, Happy, Prosperous Ontario: Why we need more energy conservation," Saxe's 2019 Energy Conservation Progress Report, shows the many benefits to people, to the climate and to our economy from energy conservation that reduces fossil fuel use.

Ontario's economy relies on fossil fuels for 75 per cent of its energy, mostly natural gas for heating, and gasoline and diesel for transportation. That reliance comes with a hefty health, economic and environmental price tag. From 2010 to 2015, Ontario spent about $16.8 to $24 billion every year to import fossil fuels like oil, petroleum products and natural gas. Burning those fuels pollutes our air, harms human health and worsens climate change. Much of the fuel is wasted.

"If we were even 10 per cent more efficient, Ontarians could save from $1.6 to $2 billion every year," said Saxe. Cost-effective energy conservation using existing technology would cut consumers' and businesses' energy by up to 30 per cent.

"Together, electricity and natural gas conservation could keep costs down and meet the government's target of cutting climate pollution by 3.2 megatonnes of greenhouse gases. Ontario has surplus electricity only part of the time, and that surplus will largely disappear when the Pickering nuclear plant closes by 2024. "On our largest energy source, transportation fuels, poor land-use planning is driving up gasoline and diesel use and trapping families in distant suburbs with no real alternative to long, congested commutes. The Greater Golden Horseshoe expects to welcome 4 million more people by 2040, but proposed changes to its Growth Plan would push growth into exactly the wrong places - new low-density, high-tax suburbs far from jobs, retail, schools and transit. This would funnel many more people onto already congested roads, driving up costs and fossil fuel use.

"A government that followed best practices would focus growth in existing communities with good access to jobs, transit and other amenities. Many have room to add reasonably priced housing that is neither tall nor sprawl. People who live in complete communities don't need to spend hours every day driving. They can instead save energy, money, and time in traffic, while reducing climate and air pollution.

"Individuals and municipalities can do a lot, but provincial rules drive energy use. Today's poor decisions and missed opportunities will have a huge impact on Ontarians now and well into the future. Long-term thinking could put us on a path to a cleaner environment, a survivable climate and the health and prosperity that come with it," said Saxe. "Right now, we're heading in the wrong direction."

Residents protest 'secret' aggregate summit in Bolton

By Joshua Santos

A number of residents roared outside the Hampton Inn and Suites in Bolton recently, protesting a "secret" meeting between the Province, Town and aggregate industry leaders.

"We're very concerned, that they're going to give them everything that they want, which will put harm us, our water, our air, our quality of life and especially our environment," said Cheryl Connors, a resident of Caledon. "It's really, really frightening, especially as they will not talk to residents and the municipalities that care about the environment and protecting the environment, those mayors were not invited to this summit. Only the aggregate-friendly mayors were invited to the summit. That's all very frightening."

The Palgrave Residents Association claims the provincial government went to great lengths to keep the location secret, and refused requests from concerned residents, environmental and other stakeholder groups, to participate, according to a news release.

"The Ontario Stone, Sand and Gravel Association (OSSGA) has released a couple of very alarming, white papers that indicate that the aggregate industry wants to be exempt from virtually every single piece of environmental legislation, to be allowed to extract anywhere, not have to abide by Oak Ridges Moraine and Niagara Escarpment legislation.

"For example, there's current prohibitions going below-the-water table not being able to extract in those environmental sensitive places," said Connors. "They don't want to abide by that anymore; they don't also want to not have to abide by the endangered species act or prohibitions from extracting significant wetlands or tree lots; really every piece of environmental legislation, they want to be exempt from."

The Citizen was able to obtain a copy of the OSSGA white papers "Untangling Red Tape" and "Securing Access."

The OGSSGA has a long list of concerns. They would like access to aggregates within municipal road allowances, according to the Untangling Red Tape report.

"We are leaving thousands of tonnes of quality aggregate in the ground because of the red tape involved in coming to an agreement as to how to access this material," states the document.

They claim one of the most visible examples of "inappropriate aggregate resource management" is in the Morsport Area. They said it is a concentrated area of pits within the Oak Ridges Moraine, and there are significant depths of high-quality sand and gravel reserves.

"Many of the licences have the ability to extract between 30 and 80 metres in depth. Access to material within (and abutting within the setbacks) the road allowance would provide income for the municipality, reduce operating costs and fuel expenditure, provide additional reserves without going further from market and needing to disturb new resources, and provide a viable comprehensive rehabilitation landform that ties in with surrounding lands," states the document.

Further, they said the Ministry of Natural Resources and Forestry has set a precedent for policy interpretation to allow both a major site plan amendment and a licence amendment to access material under road allowances.

"This policy needs to be streamlined to find a common-sense approach that is consistently implemented across all MNR districts; and, establish a process where the province has the ability to step in (e.g. expropriate) to allow extraction and road re-instatement to access the provincially significant aggregate resource," states the document.

"The Ontario Sand, Stone and Gravel Association has released a couple of very alarming, white papers that indicate that the aggregate industry wants to be exempt from virtually every single piece of environmental legislation, to be allowed to extract anywhere, not have to abide by Oak Ridges Moraine and Niagara Escarpment legislation that will say; for example, there's current prohibitions going below the water table not being able to extract in those environmental sensitive places," said Connors. "They don't want to abide by that anymore, they don't also want to have to abide by the endangered species act or prohibitions from extracting significant wetlands or tree lots; really every piece of environmental legislation, they want to be exempt from."

The OGSSGA, in their Securing Access report, would also like to permit extraction in "significant woodlands" that can be replaced and enhanced on the landscape subject to demonstration of "no negative impact."

"Woodlands are a renewable resource and aggregate resources are a non-renewable resource. Currently, woodlands can be deemed significant based on size alone without any consideration to quality or function of the woodland. The no negative impact test is a difficult test to achieve and will ensure high quality woodlands with important ecological functions are not extracted. The aggregate industry has demonstrated its ability to rehabilitate to woodland conditions and to expand and enhance significant woodlands," the report states.

"One of the other things they want to do is they want to be allowed to bring commercial fill into all of their pits, and they don't want to have to abide by Table 1 of Soil Requirements, where it's safe for drinking waters," said Connors. "They want fill up all these pits with contaminated soil, when most of us in rural areas rely on private wells for drinking water. Even if not, places like the moraine, where it should be protected, is supplying water to hundreds of thousands of people."

John Yakabuski, minister of natural resources and forestry, Steve Clarke, minister of municipal affairs and housing, Mayor Allan Thompson and representatives from Indigenous communities were expected to be at the meeting.

Connors said this is the Ford government trying to attack the Greenbelt through the aggregate industry.

"So, 35,000 people in Ontario wrote letters against Schedule 10 of Bill 66," said Connors. "The government backed off, but they're going to keep backdoor-ing it in through other pieces of legislation."

"If those white papers are any indication, it's going to be as detrimental to the environment as Schedule 10 was. We're all, obviously, very concerned."

Nomination appeal cites voting irregularities

By Mike Baker

A former Caledon councillor, appealing the recent Dufferin-Caledon PC nomination, said she has documentation proving out-of-riding residents voted in the process.

Harzadan Singh Khattrra emerged as the somewhat surprising winner of the nomination, which local Conservative members voted in on March 19. He beat out Kevin Weatherbee in the final round of voting, after Barb Shaughnessy and former Orangeville Mayor Jeremy Williams had been previously eliminated in the ranked ballot voting system.

Shaughnessy filed an initial appeal on March 21, two days after the nomination. In that appeal, she stressed it does not specifically contest the vote tally, but rather calls into question the eligibility of some members who may, or may not have voted. That appeal was quickly denied.

A second appeal was then lodged with the Conservative National Council. A decision was expected to come down late last week, but as of press time on Wednesday evening (April 10), a final determination had yet to be made.

Shaughnessy confirmed her team had submitted additional documentation to the National Council that, in her words, shows ineligible members voting during the local process.

"Mr. Khattrra, he led an aggressive campaign that did, according to my affidavits, violate membership rules. He alone is responsible, in my opinion, for putting the Conservative Party in this difficult position," Shaughnessy said. "I firmly believe this was about self-interest rather than what was best for Dufferin-Caledon. I believe if he had acted more ethically and followed the party rules, like the other candidates did, then we would not be in this position."

"The extra information we sent through to the National Council ... It was about inconsistencies in the database. It was what I had identified previously, it was that we definitely had people from Brampton who considered their (primary) address to be in Brampton voting in Dufferin-Caledon."

When asked if she was claiming that out-of-riding residents had been allowed to vote in this nomination process, Shaughnessy replied with a simple "yes".

Khattrra categorically denied the allegations, labelling them as false.

"There is nothing further that needs to be said beyond that," Khattrra stated.

When asked if he was surprised to hear of multiple appeals being launched, essentially contesting his nomination, Khattrra simply maintained his belief that neither he, nor his team, had done anything wrong.

Reiterating why she felt it necessary to submit an appeal in the first place, Shaughnessy said she was simply following up on requests from "many, many people in the riding."

"There was only one way for this process to be reviewed, and that was for one of the candidates to submit an official appeal. Originally, I had no plans to submit an appeal. It was only after two days of relentless emails and calls, and realizing that the other candidates (Mr. Weatherbee and Mr. Williams) wouldn't be filing, that I decided to do it," Barb explained. "I couldn't ignore what I was hearing."

"For me, it really all comes down to democracy. I firmly believe in our democracy and I think our democracy was challenged by the actions of one of the candidates."

On top of allegations that out-of-riding residents voted in the Dufferin-Caledon nomination, Shaughnessy said that ineligible international students "may, or may not, have voted" too during the process. During the nomination, only permanent residents and citizens of Canada are eligible to vote.

In other, more concerning, claims, Shaughnessy says she has spoken to individuals who have refused to divulge information "out of fear."

"I want people to understand that individuals are now afraid to come forward. They are afraid of their position in their community and they are also afraid for their livelihood. Trying to garner more information has become increasingly difficult," Shaughnessy said. "When I talk to members of the South Asian community, it's clear they're very divided on (Khattrra). I have to say, some members have really stepped up to the plate because they do believe in our Canadian democracy and they have been willing to help."

Khattrra stated he was simply moving forward in his role as Dufferin-Caledon Conservative nominee ahead of October's federal election.

"I have been meeting with residents and party members in the riding to discuss Justin Trudeau's carbon tax, housing affordability and the challenges facing seniors. The Liberals are making life very unaffordable for middle class families in this riding," Khattrra said.

'Oldsleepers' mark anniversary

By Chuck Frost

The Schomberg Oldsleepers Hockey Club hosted its 39th annual old-timers hockey tournament, on the 40th anniversary of the club's founding in 1979.

And after rgeww days, 18 teams and 31 games, crowned champions in four different divisions with very strong community ties and support across all divisions.

Another anniversary of note was the Schomberg Juvenile Reunion team, playing for the first time ever in the Rick Archibald division. This was the 1988/1989 CC OMHA Juvenile Championship team who sealed the deal on Schomberg ice, 30 years ago to the day and who haven't played together since.

While their blazing speed has suffered a touch over the years, their camaraderie and competitiveness has not. During their time together that weekend, they remembered a friend and teammate Greg Matusick, who recently left us. What a great group of guys!

And in a final comment, the Oldsleepers renamed their A Division trophy to the Gerald Sweeney Memorial. Gerald was a founding father and longtime playing captain of the SOHC.

Donna Sweeney graced the tournament by presenting the trophy to the winning A Division team, the Tuesday Night Boys, captained by Steven Read, one of Nobleton's own.

Additional funding to sustain horse racing industry

Ontario's government is putting people first by supporting rural communities through new investments to help the province's horse racing industry create and protect good jobs.

The government will provide $10 million per year to support programs for breeders and horse people through the Horse Improvement Program (HIP). This will support breeding and industry development for Ontario-bred horses and will be administered by Ontario Racing, replacing the Enhanced Horse Improvement Program previously administered by the Ministry of Agriculture, Food and Rural Affairs.

"Our horse racing sector plays a vital role in our rural communities and is an important part of Ontario's heritage. This investment will help support Ontario's breeders and horse people, and ensure the province's horse racing community is open for business, and can create and protect jobs," said Vic Fedeli, Minister of Finance.

The government has also worked with its industry partners to reach agreements on packages through the Optional Slots at Racetracks Program (OSARP) that includes operational funding for eligible racetracks. These packages are designed to directly support the horse racing industry and rural communities.

In addition to this funding through OSARP, the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation (OLG) will provide financial support to the sector through the long-term funding agreement, beginning April 1. The agreement includes funding for racetrack operations and purse support of up to $105 million per year for up to 19 years.

"Our government is committed to providing stable long-term support to help the horse racing industry build a more sustainable future for the rural businesses, jobs and communities that depend on it. This is a vital part of Ontario's heritage and our government is proud to stand behind our rural communities that rely on this industry," concluded Fedeli.

The agreement will ensure greater accountability and transparency for how the funds are used.

OSARP builds on the existing long-term funding agreement and is part of the government's commitment to support racetracks facing hardships.

Ontario is home to 15 racetracks, more than any other North American jurisdiction.

"The amended long-term funding agreement demonstrates how committed this government is to the citizens of rural communities across Ontario and respects the economic development horse racing generates in the province. The added support will provide racetrack operators, breeders, owners, trainers, caretakers, grooms and others who dedicate their lives to the sport a level of confidence in the long-term sustainability of the industry," said John Hayes, independent chair, Ontario Racing.

"This announcement gives breeders the confidence they need to make business decisions that will ensure the health of our industry for years to come," added Walter Parkinson, president, Standardbred Breeders of Ontario Association.

'Budweth Park' gets go-ahead in Nobleton

By Mark Pavilons

Budweth Park in Nobleton is becoming a reality. Councillors approved the contract to Latitude 67 Ltd. to build the park, at a cost of $463,669.

Township staff noted the park was scheduled to be built by Tribute Communities as part of the subdivision agreement. Due to a number of design process circumstances, Township staff took on the challenge themselves in order to get the job done in a timely fashion.

As such, the 2019 capital budget includes funding for the park. Features of this new park include typical elements such as junior and senior play structures, a shade structure, paths and furniture. The design also includes a half-court basketball court.

Staff recommended expediting the process, and has worked with Latitude 67 on other projects in King. Moving ahead quickly will get the park ready for use this summer, as opposed to the fall.

The project will be funded through a combination of development charges, tax capital reserves and tax supported capital.

YRP lays 24 impaired driving related charges

Over the past week, 24 drivers were charged with impaired-related criminal driving offences and their vehicles removed from York Region roads.

On Friday, April 12, a concerned citizen called 9-1-1 to report a suspected impaired driver on Mount Albert Road, east of Leslie Street, in the Town of East Gwillimbury. Officers stopped the vehicle in the area of Mount Albert Road and Colonel Wayling Boulevard. As officers spoke with the driver there was a strong smell of alcohol coming from her and police noticed that there was a one-year-old child in a car seat in the back of the vehicle.

The driver was placed under arrest for impaired driving and as the investigation continued, it was determined that her driver's licence was under suspension from an impaired driving incident that occurred on January 23. The child was turned over to a family member, the Children's Aid Society was notified and the driver was taken to #1 District Headquarters where she blew four times the legal limit for alcohol.

A list of all the drivers charged with impaired-related criminal driving offences from April 8 to April 15, 2019, is available for viewing at the following link: <https://bit.ly/2GpQJhm>

York Regional Police thanks members of the community for helping us stop and arrest impaired drivers by calling 9-1-1. They consider these incidents a life-threatening crime in progress and will continue to respond to these calls.

So far in 2019, more than 800 calls to 9-1-1 have helped to safely remove impaired drivers from our roads, which has led to more than 490 impaired-related criminal charges being laid.

The legal consequences of an impaired driving charge can include roadside vehicle impoundment and automatic driver's licence suspension, as well as further consequences imposed by the courts, including longer licence suspensions, large fines and in some cases, jail time.

York Regional Police conducts RIDE spot checks year round and officers are always watching for suspected impaired drivers. They also continue to encourage citizens to call 9-1-1 if you spot a suspected impaired driver.

Schomberg Lions

At our recent dinner meeting, the Schomberg Lions had a lot to celebrate. Long time Lion member, Bill Hanlon, who has actively served the club since 1984, turned a young age of 90!

We also thanked local donor Gord Sloan for his generous contribution to the club. This money will be used well to help us support our upcoming projects and help those in need, such as Blue Door Shelters, King City S.S. bursary, the Rumball Camp for the Deaf, the CNIB camp for the blind, and the Lions Foundation of Dog Guides of Canada. We also presented a cheque to the boys' curling team from King City Secondary School, who travelled to North Bay, to compete in OFSSA. It was a pleasure to meet the team and hear about their journey to qualify to compete at the provincial level. The Lions will be out in full force on April 27 for the Schomberg community clean up day. Come out and join us at 9 a.m. at the Trisan Centre to help pitch in and make this community beautiful again. Check us out on Facebook or at www.schomberglions.ca.

The HanWool Presbyterian Church, King City will hold their service at 11:30 a.m. We have enjoyed being able to share our sanctuary with this congregation and will continue doing so for two more weeks when there will be a special time of fellowship between our two services on May 5 between 11 and 12.

The Maundy Thursday service April 18 is at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. Paul Johnston presiding and the joint Good Friday Service with the King City United Church and York Pines is at St. Andrew's this year at 10 a.m. All are invited to join us.

Last Sunday, Palm Sunday, Lynn Vissers led us in worship showing her photos of the Mount of Olives Road where Jesus rode into Jerusalem. He was rebuked by the Pharisees claiming that the procession was too noisy, joyous and disruptive when people were shouting Hosanna! They feared that their "peace" with the Romans would be threatened. "I tell you," He replied, "if they keep quiet, the stones will cry out." (Luke 19:28-44). He wept over Jerusalem before proceeding, knowing that they did not understand whom they were talking to and what true peace was all about.

The Women's Prayer Circle meets at 80 Burns Blvd., Tuesday mornings from 9-10 a.m. We'd love to have you join us. Contact Kathy Patterson, 905-833-0391 if you have prayer requests, thanksgivings or for more information.

Looking for a Bible Study? Niyazi Bilgen, a pastor with The Greater Grace Fellowship leads one Sunday evenings from 5-7 p.m. in the lounge at St. Andrew's. Refreshments following. All are welcome. Call 416-878-8499.

For pastoral care contact Lynn Vissers, Director of Congregational Ministries at 905-833-2325 or our Interim Moderator, the Rev. Paul Johnston, (705) 341-7738. We are located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. www.standrews-kingcity.ca

Easter at All Saints – even if you haven't been to church for a while, consider celebrating the wonderful real message of Easter rebirth and the resurrection of Christ with the welcoming parishioners of All Saints. We offer the full Easter menu of wonderful hymns, the Eucharist, an inspiring message of good news from Rev. Dr. Elizabeth and for the children an Easter egg hunt following the service. And wonderful snacks. All Saints is the place to find God this Easter. All are welcome. We are kid friendly.

The moving story of the passion of Christ in Luke was read in full by Rev. Dr. Elizabeth last Sunday. All the dramatic and revealing detail of the Pass-over supper, the breaking of bread and sharing of wine, Jesus's prediction that he would be betrayed by one of the disciples, the scheming of the scribes and pharisees and Judas plotting with them to betray Jesus. The scene on the Mount of Olives, the betrayal and arrest, and the back and forth between Pilate and Herod.

Rev. Dr. Elizabeth emphasized in her introduction that Luke focuses of the innocence of Jesus. Then Peter denying Jesus three times, the insistence of the crowd that he be crucified and Pilate giving in to them. Golgotha, the crucifixion, our Lord's saying to one of the criminals crucified beside him that he would see him in paradise. Jesus takes his last breath, and his body is taken to the tomb. All our central beliefs as Christians are wrapped up in Christ's passion and in the story of his resurrection that we honour this Sunday.

A date to remember – May 25 is our memorable lady's dinner served by the men of All Saints. This year we are calling this annual affair "Girl's Night Out." Women of the community are invited to be pampered by men for a change. For $40 you will be served a gourmet meal, desert and wine. There will be a raffle a raffle, and the kind of fun only women getting together for a night out can enjoy. Tickets can be reserved at the church office by calling 905-833-5432.

St. Paul's Church

Our Good Friday gathering will be at 10 a.m., April 19. Jeff's message title is, "Father, I Entrust ..." We warmly invite everyone to join us on Friday and Sunday when we celebrate what Easter is all about.

This Sunday, April 21, our Easter celebrations will begin with a pancake breakfast at 8:30 a.m. followed by worship and communion gathering at 10 a.m. at which time Jeff will lead us in worship. His message, "Death Defeated" is exploring the Bible passage of John 11:1-44.

We offer ministry to children aged 0 to 11 during worship. Following the service we always enjoy some delicious refreshments. Come and join us. You will be glad you did!

The Community Youth Group meets every second Thursday at 7 p.m. with extra events organized throughout the year. Come join in the fun. Follow our Instagram account, "4.12.youth.group," to stay up to date on current events. Check this space for details, or contact our church office at 905-859-0843. A2J, our program for kids in Grades 3 to 6, will continue to meet the second and fourth Friday of the month at 7 p.m.

We have several LifeConnect Groups that meet throughout the week. Life-Connect Groups are small gatherings for friendship, study and prayer. Please feel free to contact the church office and we can give you further details.

It is said that what goes into a mind comes out in a life. What you read, watch and listen to really matters! You are welcome to borrow from our church library, which contains many Christian DVDs, books and CDs to help stretch and grow and encourage you.

The first and third Tuesday of the month we have a group of people that get together at 1 p.m. to do quilting. The second and fourth Tuesday of the month, the focus is on knitting. Last year alone we were able to donate 28 quilts for refugees, plus many knitted items. All handcrafted items are donated to various mission projects. Consider joining us.

Jeff's messages are posted at www.passionatelyhis.com each week. They are also on Facebook Live and are available on the church's Facebook page (@stpaulsnobleton) and YouTube page (search St. Paul's Church, Nobleton), or stpaulsnobleton.ca for viewing. For more information about ANY of our activities or events, please contact the church office or visit our new and improved website at www.stpaulsnobleton.ca.

Nobleton Lions Club

The Nobleton Lions have a busy spring season planned, starting with the Annual Lions Easter Egg Hunt on Saturday, April 20 at the Pottageville pavilion.

This event is put on by the 3 Lions Clubs in King Township. Plan to arrive early, say 9:30 a.m. The Hunt starts at 10 a.m. sharp and is usually over in very short order!

Hot chocolate and coffee is supplied, and this event is free to all. If you need more info, contact Bob at 416-522-9675.

Following that will be a new venture. The Club is hosting a night of Texas Hold'em Poker on April 26, right here in town at St. Mary's Church, and the club gratefully acknowledges the support of the Church and the Knights of Columbus. A maximum of 100 tickets will be sold at $100 each, which covers a multi-course Italian style dinner with open bar, and the buy-in for the game. Dinner will be served at 7 and the game starts at 8. For tickets call Steve at 416-803-6310 or visit Jim at KARS automotive on King Road west of Hwy. 27, or at 905-859-5277.

May 26 is the date for the Pet Valu Walk for Dog Guides, supporting the seven different specialty streams of support dogs. More details are available at www.walkfordogguides.com, and on the Nobleton Lions website, or please contact Jim at 905-859-5216.

If you are interested in helping your community become a better place please call Bob Phillips at 416-522-9675.

Easter has been a joyous yet perplexing time for Christians as far back as this religion's early days with questions about this holy time still unanswered.

According to Christian belief, after the traditional Thursday Seder dinner, marking the start of Passover where Yeshua had instituted the bread and wine sacrament of Holy Communion and given his 12 closest followers his new commandment "Love one another as I have loved you," he went with 11 of them to the Garden of Gethsemane. There, he prayed for strength to face bravely his crucifixion the next day. He asked 9 to stay by the park entrance then taking Peter, James and John part way up the slope of the hill where he asked them to remain and stay watchful. He climbed farther up the gentle slope alone to begin his prayers.

The biblical account says his prayers so intense that sweat began to fall from his brow like great drops of blood even if these prayers were spoken aloud who would have heard them? He came back 3 times, each time speaking to the sleepers and saying at one point "Had you not the strength to keep awake one hour?" And later the now famous quote "The spirit is willing but the flesh is weak."

If this be the case who recorded for the bible his words and actions? It's most unlikely Yeshua himself after awaking the "watchers" told them about his words and actions as the temple guards were closing in to arrest him and there was much confusion.

This then leaves us with "A young man who followed him had nothing on but a linen cloth They caught hold of him, but he left the cloth in their hands and ran away naked." (Mark 14-52). Could Mark's mysterious young man overheard Yeshua's words and reported them later?

What about the two men crucified alongside Yeshua? Who were they and what had they done to deserve such a horrific death? The New Testaments of several Christian bibles, including the much respected King James version, call them thieves, robbers or brigands while others refer to them as criminals with a couple of bibles stating they were insurgents or rebels.

It seems that thieves and common criminals including murderers were hanged or stoned to death but never crucified. Crucifixions were expensive, time consuming and tied up manpower to carry out, thus this brutal execution was reserved for insurgents as warning of the cruel fate that awaited any who rebelled against Rome.

Were these two rebels then being held in the Antonia fortress, the centre of Roman power in Jerusalem, at the same time Yeshua was and probably Barabbas who could have well been a rebel leader definitely facing crucifixion?

It seems likely crucifixions were already slated for that day Christians now call Good Friday and not specifically for Yeshua's. He was simply added to the already existing list conveniently taking Barabbas's place after the unruly crowd demanded and got this rebel's release. It is unlikely, however, that Barabbas ever left the Antonia alive. And about that the temple leaders couldn't have cared less having gotten what they wanted!

What followed for these two unfortunate wretches? Only John's gospel tells that their legs were broken to hasten death. Did the temple authorities ask that their bodies be taken down so as not to desecrate the Sabbath observance or were they, as is more likely, left hanging as a warning to all, coming from or going to Jerusalem, not to challenge the might of Rome?

Some bible skeptics claim the whole story of the 2 thieves/criminals is entirely fictitious and was added many years later, like the Gethsemane story, by some now unknown gospel contributor, who was neither an eye witness to the crucifixion nor knew anyone who was.
