King looking into lights at entrance

By Mark Pavilons

King Township wants traffic lights in front of the new municipal centre on King Road. Councillors approved staff recommendations to look at the feasibility, and prepare for the eventuality. Since King is a regional road, York has jurisdiction and indicated this location does not meet the criteria for lights at this time. King can, however, ask York for the lights at our expense. Plans are in the works for improvements to King Road, including a left-turn lane in the vicinity of the municipal hall entrance. As part of the work, King can look into installing the underground conduits for future wiring of signals. During morning and afternoon rush hours, it's difficult to access the road to the municipal building. Both staff and members of the public brought this to the Township's attention. Township and regional staff met March 18 to discuss the potential of lights. The location does not meet York's criteria, but should King wish to proceed, it would cost the municipality roughly $200,000. Getting regional approval at this time would save the Township time down the road, if and when they decide to go ahead with the lights. It doesn't obligate the Township to install the signals.

Municipal water flushing

In the spring and fall the Engineering and Public Works Department flushes all water mains and hydrants. As a result, residents over the course of the next few weeks may experience low pressure and/or discoloration. This process contributes to the safe, effective delivery of municipal water and does not affect the quality of your water in any way. Should you require further information please contact the Engineering and Public Works Department at 905-833-5321.

KING FIRE & EMERGENCY SERVICES

Spring cleaning your yard?
Check local By-law before starting an Open Air Fire/Burn

Township of King – April 2019

King Fire & Emergency Services is advising local residents to contact them regarding the restrictions that govern open air burning before having any open air fires or burning brush.

"With spring outdoor cleanup starting, we know some residents choose to burn brush and yard debris on their property," explained Fire Chief Jim Wall. "Cleaning up debris and limiting the level of flammable vegetation surrounding your home is understandable. However, please make sure that the way you do it is safe – for you, your home, your neighbours, and the surrounding area."

A permit is required with specific conditions for burning in the Township of King.

Open air burning can include the use of outdoor fireplaces and cooking fires not involving the use of a barbecue (for recreational purposes). Some outdoor appliances may not be recommended because there is potential for personal injury, property damage and increased risk of a grass fire. Please do your homework and go on-line and research these appliances before you make any purchases.

"Whether in the backyard of your home, the cottage or at a campground please make fire safety a priority," said Fire Chief Wall. "Open air burning, especially if left unattended can become difficult to control and can result in a serious injury or widespread fire." Always keep fire safety in mind.

Please contact King Fire & Emergency Services for more information if you have any questions about open air burning requirements.

Township takes over archives

By Mark Pavilons

King's archives are a rich source of documents for residents who want to find out more about this historic municipality.

King council voted recently to take over the Archives from the volunteers at the King Township Historical Society. The archives will be operated out of the King Heritage and Cultural Centre on King Road.

The historical society (KTHS) established the archives as a subcommittee of their board in 2000. A friend of the Historical Society, Bernice Bell, gave a sizeable donation to the Society for its development in 2006.

It has been managed by volunteers since it began and has developed into a "valuable and recognized community historical resource."

The physical collection was transferred to the cultural centre site in 2015, with the understanding a transfer of ownership would be considered in the future.

Under the steady and thoughtful leadership of Elsa-Ann Pickard, the Archives grew. In February, Elsa Ann won a Lieutenant Governor of Ontario's Heritage Award for Lifetime Achievement, nominated by Kathleen Fry of the King Township Museum, for her work on the King Archives.

The overall management of the collection and operations has become more than the volunteer committee is prepared to commit to. The KTHS not only supports the idea, but initiated the transfer as the best possible solution for the longevity of the archives.

Under the auspices of the Township, the role and goals of the cultural centre can be expanded to provide additional services to the public. The archives will assist people doing family genealogy or local research.

Staff noted the cultural centre has operated in a "versatile manner" over the past decade. Along with heritage programs and historical displays, the KHCC has been used as a venue to exhibit local art work and it's been a key stop on the annual studio tour.

Programming, exhibits and operating hours continue to grow and develop as the Township creates key partnerships with community stakeholders and groups. The archives bolstered their services.

"Adding the archives to the KHCC has proven over time to be a valuable addition that has enhanced the site's heritage initiatives." By enacting the new ownership agreement, the collection will be available long into the future.

Staff noted they may look for a dedicated archivist and create a website for online access.

"Acquisition of the archives represents an opportunity to not only preserve a part of King's cultural identity, but also the ability to celebrate and promote it as identified in the ICSP. This addition, in combination with the multiple other offerings at the KHCCC site will work together to enhance the profile of arts, culture and heritage, thereby contributing to the socio-cultural vibrancy, while adding another element that contributes to the site's goal of becoming a destination for both residents and visitors."

Currently, there's no cost associated with the change of ownership. Council approval would be needed to fund program or staff additions. Staff pointed out there may be some opportunities to generate revenue for archival services.

Councillor Debbie Schaefer said King is very fortunate to have the quality of archives that we enjoy. They are due to the dedicated and passionate volunteers. She said she's confident that the new ownership will not only maintain but improve the quality of the archives.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini singled out Elsa-Ann Pickard, Louise di Iorio and Ann Love for the amazing work they've done with the archives.

Elsa-Ann Pickard, one of the lead volunteers of the King Archives, received the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario's Heritage Award for Lifetime Achievement. She received the award from Lieutenant Governor Elizabeth Dowdeswell. Also shown is Harvey McCue, Ontario Heritage Trust Chair.

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"A newspaper is the center of a community, it's one of the tent poles of the community, and that's not going to be replaced by websites and blogs."

- Michael Connelly

Life decisions often come with a hefty price

"There is no decision that we can make that doesn't come with some sort of balance or sacrifice."

- Simon Sinek

We're all familiar with the phrase "the lesser of two evils." I'm not sure why life presents many of its challenges in this way. Why can't it ever be the better of two fortunes?

Free will can be a bummer sometimes!

We all make hundreds of decisions each day, the majority of which centre around mundane things like lunch, weekend plans and what to watch on Netflix.

We're not really aware about all the ebbs and flows of time currents and the importance of these decisions in the reality that becomes our future. Would our errand to the grocery store on the way home be a life-or-death decision? Would a detour to the gas station forever impact our life? Sure, these aren't monumental choices and most of the time our lives just carry on as intended.

But life is also filled with second guesses, hesitation and procrastination. We also make mistakes, sometimes fatal errors.

Maybe we all have stories or anecdotes about near misses, close calls and things that ended badly.

A relative of mine was in a head-on collision many years ago on his way to work. The kicker was he forgot his wallet and returned home to fetch it. Had he not done so, would this awful incident have been avoided? No one knows for sure. "Fate," if it's a factor, is a very strange concept.

We also meet people every day, most often just strangers or those proverbial "passing ships." But, every so often we meet special people who become more than acquaintances, clients, customers or colleagues. In my lengthy career, I have met thousands upon thousands of people. I'd like to think I remember many of them. I have encountered so many interesting souls that they're impossible to forget. I have lost track of many, and some have left this earth, but

Mark Pavilons

I still recall, and smile inwardly, when I remember a face, expression or sentiment from those special encounters.

I often ask myself whether these were random interactions, or mathematical probabilities, because my job brought us together. Again, this is one of those daily decisions, routine in my line of work. But what happens during, and after those interviews and articles is often unexpected.

There have been untold pleasant surprises during my tenure so far here in King Township. Many of these routine moments have led to lasting relationships and friendships. It's a real bonus.

Maybe it is all part of the grand scheme - God's plan if you will. Are we meant to bump into certain people in our life's journey?

Some people, especially politicians and business types - those A-type personalities - have to be cautious, guarded even. I am even reminded that I must remain objective, impartial and emotionless. However, fostering those relationships is often key to my work. If I happen to like and even respect those I deal with, all the better. I hope they feel the same about me and I have earned their respect as well.

When Jesus roamed the land and our species transitioned to Christianity, we developed beliefs, morals and ethics to another level. We began to bond and maybe love one another a little bit more.

Sure, those were harsh times and our kind has always had to struggle to survive. Our decisions were much simpler back then.

Today, while life is definitely more comfortable and we have access to almost everything we need, our decisions have become more complex, more difficult and even more painful. In this market economy of ours, almost everything comes down to money. We work to make an honest living, attaining enough to provide for our families. We take risks, or decide not to make waves. We choose job A over job B for many reasons, and hope we made the right choice. Today's statistics aren't as positive, indicating most people would leave their jobs if a better one came along. Loyalty today is becoming rare. Looking out for number one has never been more true and that approach changes everything.

It's no longer about running into people with excitement, awe and passion. It's about leveraging contacts and networks, who can help us the most. In my line of work, I realize that I offer something valuable - good publicity. Some of my interview subjects take advantage of this and I get it. I have learned a lot over the years and have a pretty good handle on human behaviour and human nature.

But I enjoy what I do and approach every assignment, every encounter, with joy and optimism. "Today, I get to meet someone new and learn something new," I say to myself as I head out to meet someone over coffee.

I am really dumfounded by people who have the Midas touch. I know several who, even when they step in the poop, find hundred-dollar-bills stuck to their shoe!

Most of us toil and struggle, trying to make the best decisions possible, with our heads and our hearts. Most often, the results are mediocre at best.

I told my son the other day, when something went horribly wrong with our car in the shop, that I failed him. I must protect my family, and prevent bad things from happening. It's my fault, and I will fix it, because that's what I'm supposed to do. Luckily, a happy ending, thanks to Nick at Master Mechanic.

He didn't like seeing me so deeply troubled by this and unfortunately he felt my sadness.

Decision, Paul Tillic once said, "is a risk rooted in the courage of being free."

It's been said that life is a risk, all by itself, and there are no guarantees. Still, it would nice to rely on being treated well by others.

I stand by my word and my decisions. It would be nice if everyone did the same.

Letter to the Editor

Bikers causing nuisance

On April 15 I was bringing in the horses from the paddocks. The winds were high and so were the equines. As I was unlatching the first gate I heard engine roars coming from the 8th Concession. These noises added to the horses' excitement, creating an unsafe situation.

After getting 10 horses into the barns I could still hear the loud engine noises. I checked out the traffic on the 8th Concession and saw three dirt bikes travelling extremely fast going north, then south, then north on the 8th. For a few seconds I couldn't see them zooming by, but I could still hear them. I finally spotted the bikers on the 100 acre farm to the west. No one's living there and I'm guessing the three bikers were trespassing.

Two people who have horses at our farm arrived and told me that the bikers had been "terrorizing" the horses late in the afternoon for several days. On one occasion the irritating/startling noises caused a horse being ridden to rear. Again, not safe. Another rider was on our trails out back and had to return to the barn because dirt bikers were on adjacent properties travelling at high speed creating an excited, dangerous horse.

Letter to the Editor

OSSGA concerned with article

I write to express my concerns and disappointment with the April 18 article "Residents protest 'secret' aggregate summit in Bolton." Simply put, the article is misleading and factually incorrect.

The article provided a platform for one community group, the Palgrave Residents Association, to deliver a highly prejudicial position to your readers.

Caledon resident Cheryl Connors is quoted as claiming, "the aggregate industry wants to be exempt from virtually every single piece of environmental legislation, to be allowed to extract anywhere, not have to abide by Oak Ridges Moraine and Niagara Escarpment legislation." Ms. Connors' allegations are untrue.

In reality, Ontario's aggregate industry is one of the province's most heavily governed industries. Twenty-five different pieces of legislation and literally dozens of regulations determine where, when and how stone, sand and gravel (aggregate) is extracted. And that's a good thing. Our industry wants to work in partnership with communities, to bring the aggregate that we all use (including Ms. Connors) every single day of our lives, to where it's needed in the most environmentally and economically way possible.

In fact, working in conjunction with mayors from the Top Aggregate Producing Municipalities of Ontario (TAPMO), the industry has been lobbying for years for a higher aggregate levy to increase the government's spending on enforcement officers across the province and provide more money for municipal infrastructure. We are not seeking to be exempt from legislation, but we are seeking a regulatory framework that is responsible, that protects the environment, and allows the industry to produce the aggregate that will be needed for future growth.

How much are we growing? The Greater Golden Horseshoe area is expected to grow by nearly 4 million people by the year 2041. To build the roads, schools, transit, sewage, hockey arenas and housing to support that growth will require approximately 4 billion tonnes of aggregate. It has to come from somewhere. And the reality is that the closer it can be sourced to where it's needed, the better it is for society and for the environment. Closer means cleaner. Fewer truck trips, lower greenhouse gas emissions, and less cost.

This might not be a message that everyone likes to hear. In fact, community groups engage in strong environmental lobbying and have been successful over the past two decades in influencing public policy decisions so that it has become more difficult for aggregate producers to operate close to where the product is needed. The irony is, that's a bad thing for the environment and all Ontarians.

In the article, Ms. Connors claims that she was "able to obtain a copy of an OSSGA white paper" from which she is quoted as highlighting a number of recommendations. First, this sounds as if obtaining a copy of the document submitted to the Ontario government is problematic. It is not. It appears on the OSSGA website for all interested Ontarians to read and was made widely available to ministry officials, other stakeholders and disseminated through social media when it was released. Secondly, her attacks on the recommendations are completely without merit and leave readers with a distorted view. The industry's recommendations regarding access to aggregates within municipal road allowances for example, is all about maximizing the extraction of aggregate in an area that is already disturbed - so that it is not wasted. The environmentally smart thing to do.

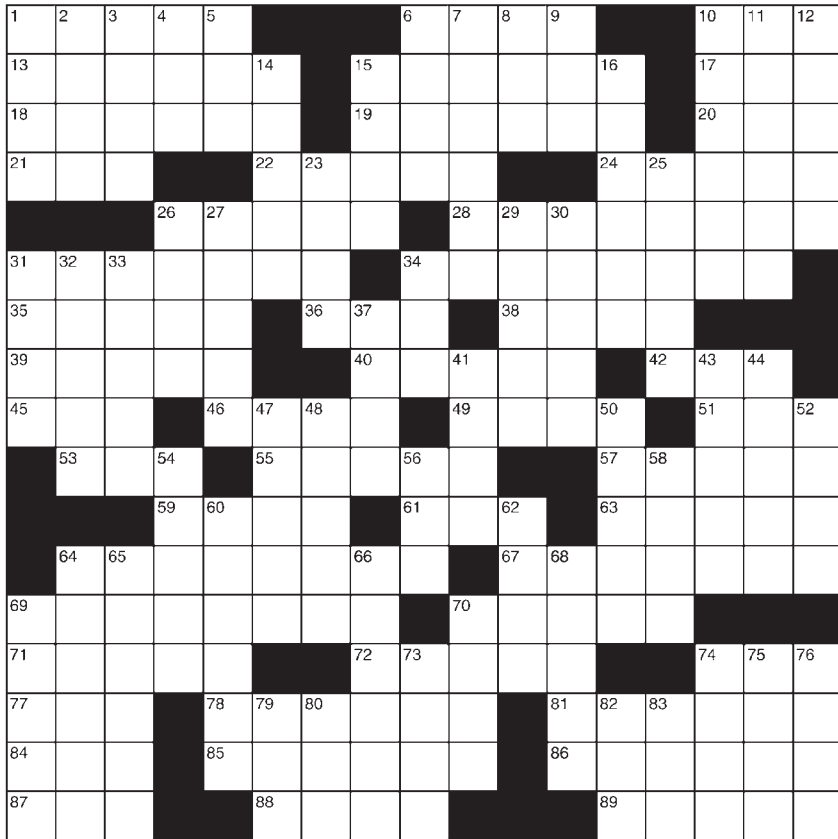

The industry stands behind the recommendations we have made to government. We believe they strongly and accurately reflect the responsible environmental and economic choices required to deliver a product to market (that we all need) in the safest and most environmentally-conscious way possible.

Finally, although I do not speak on behalf of the Ontario government, it is true the new government did organize a day to have detailed discussions with aggregate producers, hydrogeologists, air and noise specialists, ecologists, First Nations, conservation authorities and the mayors of some of Ontario's top aggregate producing municipalities to better understand these concerns and to work together to find a balance to these complex issues.

Seneca and RVC sign MOU to expand opportunities

Seneca signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to officially partner with the Royal Veterinary College (RVC), UK's largest and longest established independent veterinary school and a college of the University of London. The signing took place at Seneca's King Campus between David Agnew, Seneca president and Stuart Reid, principal of the RVC.

The MOU marks the start of a new partnership that will provide Veterinary Technician (VTE) students at Seneca with enhanced pathways to enable them to study on the RVC's Bachelor of Veterinary Medicine course. It will also involve annual visits by RVC staff to Seneca's King Campus in order to give talks to VTE students on the opportunities the pathways offer. Looking ahead, the two universities will also explore the possibility of a bridging program to further support Seneca students continuing their studies at the RVC.

"This is an excellent opportunity for students in our veterinary tech program to further explore their passion at a world-class leader in veterinary science and research," said Agnew.

The partnership came about after administration noticed that several Seneca alumni had continued their studies at the RVC over the last several years.

"We have been developing this partnership with Seneca since 2017 and it is great to see it come together so successfully. We look forward to continued collaboration between our organizations to the benefit of our students and animal health," said Reid.

The RVC produces world-class research and provides support for the veterinary profession through its referral hospitals, including Europe's largest small animal referral hospital. The RVC's programs have an international appeal and attract students who go on to become veterinarians, research scientists, veterinary nurses, and leaders in industry and government.

Seneca's VTE program aligns well with the RVC as it also offers affiliations with industry associations, as well as career opportunities in hospitals, government, wildlife services and more.

Combining career and professional skills training with theoretical knowledge, Seneca's expert faculty provide a polytechnic education to 30,000 full-time and 60,000 part-time students. With campuses in Toronto, York Region and Peterborough and education partners around the world, Seneca offers degrees, graduate certificates, diplomas and certificates in more than 300 full-time, part-time and online programs. Seneca's credentials are renowned for their quality and respected by employers.

The Royal Veterinary College (RVC) is the UK's largest and longest established independent veterinary school and is a constituent College of the University of London.

The RVC offers undergraduate, post-graduate and CPD programs in veterinary medicine, veterinary nursing and biological sciences.

It is currently the only veterinary school in the world to hold full accreditation from AVMA, EAEVE, RCVS and AVBC.

The College also provides animal owners and the veterinary profession with access to expert veterinary care and advice through its teaching hospitals; the Beaumont Sainsbury Animal Hospital in central London, the Queen

Mother Hospital for Animals (Europe's largest small animal referral centre), the Equine Referral Hospital, and the Farm Animal Clinical Centre located at the Hertfordshire campus.

Seneca President David Agnew and the Royal Veterinary College Principal Stuart Reid sign MOU at King Campus.

Working together to craft policies

Contrary to the impression given in your article, this meeting was far from "secret." In fact, it was well communicated, which is how Ms. Connors became aware of the event.

Stone, sand and gravel are scarce natural resources that we all use every day to live our lives. We need to work together to craft public policy decisions that build Ontario. We look forward to working with our stakeholders and the communities in which we do business to make that happen.

York Region helping to promote agriculture here and beyond

By Mark Pavilons

The importance of agriculture in King cannot be overstated.

King councillors and staff received an update on York Region's Agriculture and Agri-Food Strategy, providing some very impressive statistics.

Jonathan Wheatle, manger of strategic economic initiatives for York, noted the agricultural sector involves more than 700 farms and 57,000 direct jobs. More than 200,000 acres of farmland in York contribute $2.7 billion in the sector's GDP.

King Township shares in this agricultural nugget, just as it's home to a portion of the Holland Marsh. In this municipality, gross farm receipts per acre are $2,841, second in York. King has the highest acreage of crop land and is a notable force in horse, equine, vegetable, hay, nursery and tree production. King's 242 farms employ roughly 500 people.

Wheatle noted York and its council has long recognized the importance of agriculture in this rea and it's committed to maintain a vibrant and sustainable agri-food sector. The York Region Agricultural Advisory Liaison Group (YRAALG) and the 2017 Agriculture and Agri-food Strategy are testaments to this commitment. Councillor Avia Eek, a Holland Marsh farmer herself, has been an outstanding representative for King on the YRAALG.

The strategy not only outlines the economic impact of agriculture, but identifies key areas and provides recommended actions for the Region and its municipalities.

The strategy has five strategic goals and 45 action items. Among the priorities are supporting the agri-food sector through land use planning and economic development; strengthening communication among York's producers; leveraging York's location within the GTA and providing support for business retention and expansion in agricultural production.

Meena Hassanali, York's rural and agri-business specialist, pointed out some 31 of the 45 action items have been planned or implemented since the strategy's adoption. Many of the short-term items have been completed and York is moving full steam ahead in terms of engaging stakeholders and spreading awareness. Workshops and forums help bring together York's producers.

York has developed a strategic communications plan; participated in consultations with the Province, and collaborated on the annual Farm Fresh Guide Map.

Networking events across the Region and even the Golden Horseshoe are paying dividends.

Moving ahead, York plans to continue its education and outreach efforts; showcase agricultural success stories; launch a local food awareness campaign and begin a Holland Marsh economic impact study.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini singled out Eek for her dedication to the industry and acting as King's representative.

Council approves 2020-22 capital budget

By Mark Pavilons

After receiving comments from King councillors, staff tweaked its capital budget, which was approved by council recently.

The draft 2020-2022 budgets were presented to council in March and politicians directed staff to hold a working session with councillors. Concerns with specific projects were brought up at the April 1 session.

From that, the total budgets for that time frame were not adjusted. However, several revisions were made to re-allocate funds, with the lion's share going to bolstering King's roads and infrastructure.

The King Heritage & Cultural Centre will received $60,000 in 2020, to support on-site accessibility related improvements. In 2021, the $100,000 earmarked for the site was split, with $60,000 being re-allocated to roads and infrastructure. The final $540,000 pegged for the centre in 2022, is all going to support roads and infrastructure projects.

King's vehicle and fleet equipment for Parks, Recreation and Culture, saw some changes. A new tractor for 2020 has been deferred and the allotted $35,000 will also be directed to roads. More vehicle replacements in 2022 were also deferred and the money re-allocated to roads.

A planed driveway and gate improvements at Cold Creek, estimated at $425,000 in 2022, has also been diverted.

The King City Arena was pegged to receive $1.2 million in 2022 for repairs to the roof, floor and parking lot. That money has been redefined as building retrofit/decommissioning based on anticipated future use of the facility.

"The amended 2020-2022 capital budgets support the Township's commitment to maintaining service level standards over the course of the current term of council. Population growth and service level demands are expected to accelerate in the latter part of the current term of council and the 2020-2022 capital budgets have incorporated resource (human financial and physical) requirements to support growth in population/service demands, while remaining committed to existing infrastructure and tax supported capital reserve contributions," Treasurer Allan Evelyn explained.

The draft 2019-2022 capital budgets include 138 projects worth $125.7 million. Over the term of council, the proposed capital program will support new construction and rehabilitation of buildings, new fleet requirements, roads, bridges, parks and recreation and the new library. Of that total, only 14%, or a little over $18 million, is coming from taxes.

Anniversary of the Humber River's designation marked

Celebrations are under way for the 20th anniversary of the Humber River's Canadian Heritage River System designation. Her Honour, the Honourable Elizabeth Dowdeswell, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, Jennifer Innis, Chair of Toronto and Region Conservation Authority's (TRCA) board of directors and others marked the occasion at a kick-off event earlier this month.

John MacKenzie, CEO of the TRCA acted as master of ceremonies. Also in attendance was Elder Garry Sault, Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation, Deb Schulte, MP for King-Vaughan, and Stephen Lecce, MPP for King-Vaughan, were also at the event.

The Humber River was designated to the Canadian Heritage Rivers System in 1999. It was recognized for its significant cultural and recreational values, thanks to the collaborative efforts of Toronto and Region Conservation Authority (TRCA), the Humber Heritage Community, and dedicated community members.

The Humber is the only Canadian Heritage River in the GTA, and one of only 40 designated rivers across Canada.

The Humber River has rich human history as a home for Indigenous peoples along its banks, as an ancient transportation route known as the Carrying Place Trail, and as a site for many of Toronto's post-European settlement homes and industries. The Carrying Place Trail is one of the oldest established transportation routes in Canada and is the highlight of the Humber's CHRS designation.

In celebrating, TRCA will reflect upon the many accomplishments in protecting, restoring and enhancing the Humber River over the past two decades, and look to future opportunities for heritage preservation, collaboration, engagement and enjoyment of the Humber River.

Follow their website and social media accounts, and subscribe to their newsletter to stay up to date on events, projects and celebrations across the watershed in 2019!

The table is set for a Mother's Day tea and concert

By Mark Pavilons

The strength of motherhood, according to Barbara Kingsolver, "is greater than natural laws."

The real heroes in our society are invited to share in "To Mom with love, High Tea & Concert" featuring King's own Diva in the Rough, Catherine Hughes. The special event will take place Saturday, May 11 at 1 p.m. at Laskay Hall on the site of the King Heritage and Cultural Centre.

It's the perfect venue to celebrate mothers with a traditional high tea and entertaining show featuring live music, readings, skits and more. It all starts at 1 p.m.

Guests can expect to dine on delicate sandwiches and desserts while sipping tea. Hughes will bring you a tailor made show of approximately 45 minutes to an hour. She will be accompanied by long-time partner Donald Guinn on piano.

If you've never seen them perform, you're in for a treat. The duo have a musical chemistry and great off-the-cuff banter that is always a treat to watch.

The content of the show promises beautiful songs as well as parodies about new moms. Hughes will also pay homage to mothers we no longer have with us.

"I'm trying to touch briefly on all aspects of motherhood, even the sad parts. My hope is that everyone will laugh, cry and laugh some more. You don't have to be a Mother to enjoy this event but you do have to appreciate them, and tea!"

Hughes will be joined by actors Shelagh Carlini and Jessica DuCharme to bring you some readings and live confessions and apologies to their mothers. As always, expect the unexpected. The show promises to be fun, entertaining and interactive.

Hughes is thrilled to play once more in King Township and excited to be playing at the wonderfully revitalized Laskay Hall, located next to The King Heritage and Cultural Centre at 2920 King Road.

Tickets are $25 in advance and include the High Tea. Seating is limited and reservations are highly recommended. You can email King Township at events@king.ca or call 905-833-6552. For those who insist on spontaneity and living dangerously, unsold tickets will be available at the door for $30.

"Gas station flowers are not suitable this year. Tea and a concert are the way to go," Hughes said.

James and the Giant Peach JR.

The Country Day School presents James and the Giant Peach JR., based on Roald Dahl's classic story.

The performances will take place Thursday, April 25 and Friday, April 26 at 7 p.m. There will also be a Saturday matinee, April 27 at 1 p.m.

Tickets are $15 and available at www.cds.on.ca/tickets

Based on one of Roald Dahl's most poignantly quirky stories, Roald Dahl's James and the Giant Peach JR. is a brand new take on this "masterpeach" of a tale. Featuring a wickedly tuneful score and a witty and charming book, this adventurous musical about courage and self-discovery will surely be a favourite for our CDS community.

When James is sent by his conniving aunts to chop down their old fruit tree, he discovers a magic potion that grows a tremendous peach, rolls into the ocean and launches a journey of enormous proportions. James befriends a collection of singing insects that ride the giant piece of fruit across the ocean, facing hunger, sharks and plenty of disagreements along the way. During this journey, James learns the true definition of family and finds his place in the world.

With music by Oscar, Grammy, Tony, and Golden Globe Award-winning songwriters Benj Pasek & Justin Paul, this show will delight audiences of all ages!

Broome ready for Studio Tour

Award-winning King artist Marianne Broome will have some gorgeous new paintings on display for Studio Tour King this weekend. With over 50 paintings, there is something for every taste and budget, and for any wall that needs some added colour.

The selection includes landscapes, flowers and abstracts in different sizes, from small studies to huge panoramas. Marianne also has fine art Giclée reproductions on canvas. These have all the detail of the original painting but the economical prices make them a popular option.

Marianne's studio in Schomberg is well worth a visit, whether you are looking for that special piece for your home or office, or would just like to browse.

Admission is free and the doors are open from 10 to 5 on both Saturday and Sunday, April 27 and 28.

Marianne's website may be viewed at mariannebroome.com. There you will find the brochure and map or you may contact Marianne at m@naturestedgestudio.ca. The brochure can be picked up from The King Heritage and Cultural Centre or your local King library. Come on out and enjoy the tour!

McMichael welcomes minister of Heritage and Multiculturalism

The McMichael Canadian Art Collection was delighted to welcome the Honourable Pablo Rodriguez, Minister of Canadian Heritage and Multiculturalism, for a tour of the McMichael collection and special exhibitions earlier this month, accompanied by Deb Schulte, MP for King-Vaughan and Majid Jowhari, MP for Richmond Hill.

The minister toured the galleries and enjoyed coffee in the Founders' Lounge, the heart of the McMichael's original home. The group also had the opportunity to stop briefly in the vault to view treasures from the collection not currently on display.

"Many thanks for the incredible tour! The McMichael Canadian Art Collection stands alone as the only museum in the country that exclusively showcases Canadian and Indigenous art," said Rodriguez.

"I very much enjoyed sharing the wonders of the McMichael Art Collection, our Canadian art gem in Kleinburg, with Minister Rodriguez and my colleague Majid Jowhari, MP Richmond Hill. We need to encourage more people to come out and discover what this beautiful Gallery has to offer, nestled in the trees and adjacent to the East Humber River," added Schulte.

"As home to the art of Canada, we were honoured to host Minister Rodriguez and MPs Deb Schulte and Majid Jowhari on a tour of three exhibitions of outstanding women artists from Quebec – Françoise Sullivan, Rita Lendre and Marie-Claire Blais – along with our Director's Cut exhibition which highlights an incredible range of paintings and sculptures from our permanent collection. Today's visit to the gallery, alive with so many visitors enjoying March break, perfectly encapsulates our broad mandate to showcase both historical and contemporary art from all parts of Canada," said Andrew W. Dunne, chair of the McMichael board of trustees.

The McMichael Canadian Art Collection is an agency of the Government of Ontario and acknowledges the support of the Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Sport, and the McMichael Canadian Art Foundation. It is the foremost venue in the country showcasing the Group of Seven and their contemporaries. In addition to touring exhibitions, its permanent collection consists of over 6,500 artworks by Canadian artists, including paintings by the Group of Seven and their contemporaries, as well as First Nations, Métis and Inuit artists. The gallery is located on 100 acres of northern landscape and hiking trails at 10365 Islington Avenue, Kleinburg, north of Major Mackenzie Drive in the City of Vaughan. For more information, please visit mcmichael.com.

Egg hunt excitement

An open letter to Canadians on climate crisis

We, past and present Canada's Clean50 Award winners, represent a wide cross section of Canadians from business, science, government and academia. We are very concerned that some Canadians and politicians alike have failed to recognize both the tremendous economic opportunity in decisively addressing the increasingly urgent climate crisis, and the looming threat to our shared future, should we continue to ignore it. We are asking all Canadians to make climate their very top priority in upcoming elections.

Taking immediate action to limit climate change, and mitigate its impacts on Canada, needs to be considered an emergency at every level of government.

A recent study shows that Canada's climate is warming twice as fast as expected. The best time to act is now. We simply cannot afford to postpone a response any longer.

Some individuals will try to claim that Canada is not the problem, that the problem is China or India or the USA. Unfortunately, that is simply not true.

Countries don't cause carbon pollution, people do! Canadians may be surprised to learn that on a per-person basis, we Canadians are the worst offenders in the G7. Canadians, on average, produce 2.5 times more carbon pollution per person than do the Chinese, 9 times more than do Indians, and 5% more than Americans.

We are two to three times worse than the Japanese, the English, the French, and the Germans. We simply cannot reasonably expect other countries to take meaningful action to reduce their country's emissions, when our emissions are actually rising.

Others will claim that present warming trends are part of a "natural cycle." Science clearly tells us that is not true, that in fact temperatures should actually have been decreasing each century over the past 6,000 years. Instead, temperatures have risen steadily, and the 5 hottest years ever recorded have been the last 5 years. Climate change is real – and by both burning too many carbon based fuels – and cutting down the trees needed to absorb that carbon, humans are responsible.

Some politicians claim that "Carbon Taxes Kill Jobs" or that they don't work. Neither claim is true. Leading economists around the world agree: Charging polluters is the very best way to cut emissions. Overwhelming evidence shows that taxing GHGs leads to reductions in GHGs and spurs investment in infrastructure, new technologies and building renovations by companies and individuals. Growth that creates companies, and more jobs – not fewer – while improving the environment.

Leading the fight against carbon pollution offers Canadians the chance to share in a massive $30 trillion market opportunity by 2030. That's 18 times Canada's entire present GDP.

As current leaders in the clean tech industry, Canada is well positioned to continue growing with this market. Over 280,000 Canadian workers are already employed in "green economy" jobs, and Canada ranked third on a recent list, with 12 of the top 100 clean tech companies in the world.

Charging pollution taxes will only increase the number of Canadian companies creating clean tech solutions and jobs. And while we know many of our industries are declining, jobs in the "green economy" continue to grow, and at $94,000, pay 48% better than the average Canadian job.

When deciding who will earn your votes, now and in years to come, we urge you to vote only for candidates who have a credible plan to cut carbon emissions.

We ask you to demand that our leaders seize this opportunity to ensure we both slow down climate change, and build the most prosperous, lowest carbon future we can give to ourselves and our children: An economy that will offer Canadians a healthy environment, and growth and prosperity for years to come.

Firefighters hold car wash, garage sale

On Saturday, May 4 the Schomberg Firefighters Association will be hosting a community Car Wash and Garage sale at King Fire Station 36, located at 91 Proctor Road. The event coincides with the King Township Community Yard Sale being held at the Trisan Centre next door.

The Schomberg Firefighters Association invites residents to the fire station from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. to purchase donated second hand goods and have their vehicle hand washed by our members. Residents are encouraged to bring their families, as the trucks will be made available for children to explore. Refreshments and light snacks will be available, as well as live music and prizes.

All donations from the carwash and garage sale will go towards the association in support of its members and the many community initiatives that the association supports.

In the near future, SFA members will be launching a new program targeting mature citizens who have helped build our local community into what it is today. Once launched, seniors will be invited to contact the Schomberg Firefighters Association when in need of assistance with household tasks, provided that the chore does not require a licensed trades person. Firefighters will attend the home of the person requesting help on an appointment basis – this service will of course be offered free of charge. Stay tuned for more information!

York 9 FC kicks off inaugural season this weekend

By Jake Courtepatte

For fans of the green and black, the day is finally here.

York 9 FC is scheduled to face Hamilton's Forge FC this Saturday, kicking off the inaugural season for both the club and the Canadian Premier League.

Temperatures are expected to hang around the 10-degree Celsius range at Hamilton's Tim Hortons Field on opening day, an unwelcome change of conditions for the fully-rostered York 9 club, who returned from a conditioning stint in Punta Cana, Dominican Republic last weekend.

"It's nice to get some sun on the face for the players," said York 9 coach Jimmy Brennan. "It does kind of rejuvenate you a bit after being indoors for so long."

It's been a whirlwind April for the club, who unveiled their official kits on April 5, sporting the nine bright green stripes across the abdominals, representing the nine municipalities of York Region.

Last week also saw the league strike a deal with CBC Sports to live broadcast ten of the CPL regular season games, including Saturday's opener.

CBC Sports' Scott Russell and Andi Petrillo will host CBC's coverage of the broadcast games. Commentary will be provided by longtime soccer broadcaster Gareth Wheeler, and former Canadian international player Terry Dunfield.

Yet for the York club, they return to Canada focused solely on what is happening on the field.

"You're in an intimate setting where every day you're working with your teammates," said Brennan. "You start creating bonds where you really get to understand one another."

Midfielder Joseph Di Chiara added that the goal was "to maximize as much field time as we can," after spending time earlier in the preseason at Vaughan's Ontario Soccer Centre.

"When you're training at home, it's not the same as spending 24 hours for ten days straight where you're eating together ... you do everything together."

The Forge FC squad followed suit in heading to the Dominican to get in some exhibition games against local clubs, where Di Chiara said he got a chance to check out his upcoming competition.

"You try to improve every day. Then eventually, when that day comes, you're in full flight. If you look at the big picture and think, 'wow,' you maybe get a little overwhelmed."

Brennan said he now has his club focused solely on Saturday's match since returning home.

As for the rest of the roster, Brennan and his team have finally put to paper the twenty names that will represent this Nine Stripes this season, including 18 Canadians. Those who have been following League 1 Ontario play since its inaugural year a few years back will recognize some friendly faces, including former Aurora FC players Morey Doner and Simon Adjei, as well as former Vaughan Azzurri teammates Austin Ricci and Colm Vance.

Over 23,000 are expected at Tim Hortons Field when the green and black take to the pitch on Saturday, a sell-out collaboration between the stadium and the league for the historic day.

The York club will see its first home action on May 22, when they take on AS Blainville at York Lions Stadium.

Eric Lamaze and Fine Lady, pictured at a cup event in Calgary in July 2018, made a return from health issues to capture the Winter Equestrian Festival in Florida.

Lamaze returns to the saddle after health issues with win

By Jake Courtepatte

One of the most decorated equestrians of all time was back on the horse for the first time last week, both physically and figuratively.

Schomberg's Eric Lamaze returned from a long leave of absence for health issues recently, to his first International Federation for Equestrian Sports (FEI) event since September of 2018, making the most of his awaited debut on his prized steeds.

Competing at the Winter Equestrian Festival in Florida, the 50-year-old Lamaze was back in fine form in finishing in the top ten of the $8,000 race with three horses, taking home a total of just over $3,000.

Riding Chacco Kid, who joined Lamaze at the top of the podium at the 2018 Masters in Calgary, Lamaze earned the top spot at the winter competition in the 1.45-metre Open Jumper, finishing with a time of 28.746 without any faults.

Aboard Bonnie M Z, Lamaze finished in the sixth spot as well for the $450 prize, earning a time of 31.641.

His final trip was on the back of Firkov Du Rouet, with the pair taking the tenth spot.

He was also reunited with his 2016 Olympic bronze medal winner, Fine Lady, in the 1.45m one day prior, but failed to reach the podium after leaving two bars on the ground.

Lamaze, who holds close ties with the Caledon Equestrian Park, announced his withdrawal from competition in December and only returned to classes at the start of February.

Winning gold at the 2008 Beijing Olympics in individual jumping, as well as a silver finish in the team category, Lamaze returned to the worldwide podium in the 2016 Rio Games with a bronze medal in individual: along with Fine Lady, who he called Saturday "a fantastic little mare."

He also earned a gold medal in team jumping at the 2015 PanAm Games held in Toronto.

Originally from Montreal, Lamaze now makes his home in Schomberg at Torrey Pines Stables, with connections to stables in both Florida and Belgium.

Friends of We Care golf tournament returns for 6th year

By Jake Courtepatte

Golf and charity, what better pair?

The Friends of We Care Charity Golf Challenge will return for its sixth year this June, hosted by Kettle Creek, Cardinal Golf Club in King's executive course.

"I've spent a lot of years working with and being involved in We Care, and it's good to see it continue to grow," said Brent Morning, chair of the tournament.

Funds raised go towards allowing kids with disabilities to experience summer camp through the Easter Seals program, an organization Morning has been involved with since he himself used the program as a child in Collingwood.

According to Morning, it costs approximately $250 per day to provide special facilities to each child at the Easter Seals camps, and since 1983, Friends of We Care has provided enough for over 78,000 days of camp for kids with disabilities across Canada.

Fifteen Easter Seals camps are run each year nationwide, with many of the much-needed funds coming from Friends of We Care to "ensure that everyone with a disability can attend camp and has access to the equipment and services they need to make the most of their abilities," according to the organization's website.

Besides the exceptionally well-manicured course at Kettle Creek to entice golfers, this year's incarnation of the tournament will feature a buffet lunch on the patio, as well as a small silent auction. For the ski fans out there, Canadian Olympian skier Brian Stemmler will feature as a special guest.

Since its inception, the tournament has grown immensely. From a base of 35 golfers in the inaugural year, the event has sold out three consecutive years with over 70 golfers, a milestone Morning hopes to hit again.

Last year's tournament shattered its own previous record of approx. $11,000, bringing in over $13,000, for a total of more than $32,000 since year one.

You can register online to play or to sponsor at www.charitygolfchallenge.ca. Cost is $95 per golfer, while tee and green sponsor go for $100.

Keeping memories alive through annual Run for Southlake

For Zach Ferry and his family, the Nature's Emporium Run for Southlake is so much more than a 5K race. It's a way to honour and remember his mother, who passed away after two weeks in the Intensive Care Unit at Southlake Regional Health Centre a little more than one year ago. Although the experience was a difficult one, Zach remembers the nurses and staff who went above and beyond to provide compassionate care not only for his mother, but for him and his family as well.

"It's the worst time your family is going through, and they're there for you," he said. "We were there for two weeks, and the nurses formed bonds with me and the family, and mum, too. When she passed, you could see the emotion on their faces. And so you have the support of your family and friends in the room, but there's also that extra layer of support, and they're sad too. That's what sticks with me about Southlake."

It was because of that compassionate and high-quality critical care that Zach and his family decided to participate in the Run for Southlake, just a few short weeks after the passing of their mother. Together with friends, they formed Team Kimmy, and their fundraising efforts quickly soared. Team Kimmy was named the top fundraising team in the "Community Friends and Family" team challenge category. Thinking back, Zach remembers the strong feeling of support participating with two thousand people from Newmarket and the surrounding communities united in a shared cause.

"It was a great way of bringing people together when what you need in that situation most is support. There's so many people there for the same reason, it's a really powerful thing."

The 2018 event was an emotional one for Team Kimmy, falling so soon after her passing. This year, they look forward to a more celebratory day. They have already reached their fundraising goal of $2,000, having received great support this year from Oakridge Fashion in Aurora, where Kimmy worked for 14 years. They have been dedicated in their efforts to support the team, raising more than $1,000 at a "Team Kimmy Day" held March 2.

"We miss her every day, but if it wasn't for Southlake we wouldn't have been able to be with her by her side during her last seconds on this earth," reads the Team Kimmy fundraising page.

"For that, we want to give back to Southlake to ensure that any family that faces a similar situation will be able to do what my family got to do, which was to be there when she needed us most and to say goodbye."

The Nature's Emporium Run for Southlake is on Sunday, April 28 from 8-11 a.m. Join us for a family-friendly 5K premier road race along Davis Drive in Newmarket, the perfect route for all ages and skill levels. With entertainment including live music, a group warm up, face painting and a bouncy castle, it's a fun event for the whole family! Funds raised support the most urgently-needed tools and equipment at Southlake, to ensure leading-edge care is close to home for you and your family, friends and neighbours when you need it. King's Corners

King City United By Sheryl Sinka

Jesus is risen! He is risen indeed! These words echoed throughout the Christian world on Sunday as the celebration of resurrection and new life marked the start of the Easter season and the promise of salvation through Christ's sacrifice.

Sadly, the news Sunday morning began with devastating reports of death and destruction in Sri Lanka at the hands of terrorists, claiming the lives of over 300 people and injuring hundreds more. Please continue to hold the people of Sri Lanka in prayer as well as those Canadians with family and friends affected by this act of evil as they try to recover from this tragedy.

Please Join us for worship on Sundays at 10 a.m. where we explore the word of God and connect with others in a welcoming environment. There is a fellowship time following worship for those who wish to stay. Sermons are now up on the website at kcuc.net if you are unable to attend.

Tickets are now available for the spring concert performed by accomplished vocal soloist Sandra Kirby to the accompaniment of the exceptional music of concert pianist Oleg Samokhin. If you haven't seen a performance before you are in for a treat this year with a light jazz mix of love songs from the '60s and '70s. The date is May 18 and will be paired with a spaghetti dinner for those who wish to make an evening of it. Tickets are $25 for dinner and concert, $20 for concert only.

The women's prayer group which meets at the Residences of Springhill at 80 Burns Blvd. meets on Tuesday mornings. The condo community is on the south side of King Road and meetings are in the small dining room on the main floor. Departure time is optional but please try to arrive just before 9 so as to be let in. Prayer is powerful and whether it is illness, anxiety or life situations for yourself or someone else, consider adding your voice to this ministry.

For more information contact Deana at 905-833-5375 or Kathy at 905-833-0391.

Tea and talk meets on Friday mornings at the Sunset Grill (1700 King Rd) at 10 a.m. All are welcome to come out and join in a cup of coffee or tea and some conversation. If you have any questions please contact the church of-face: 905-833-5181.

St. Andrew's
By Kathy Patterson

The Easter services were a wonderful time of reflection, worship and praise! Thanks to all who participated and attended. "He is Risen Indeed!" and His light will continue to pierce the darkness, give strength to the weary and hope and joy throughout our individual journeys.

We invite you to our church. Sunday worship is at 10 a.m. and Sunday School for school-aged children up to 12 years old runs concurrently.

The HanWool Presbyterian Church, King City holds their service at 11:30 a.m. We have enjoyed being able to share our sanctuary with this congregation throughout Lent and Easter. In order to accommodate an ending celebration and time of fellowship, we are extending our sharing of space until May 5 when we will meet between our services from 11 and noon.

Spring Yard Clean-up is this Saturday, April 27 from 9 a.m. to noon. Refreshments provided. Need volunteer hours? Call the office. Rain date is May 4.

Messy Church is this Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m. concluding with a communal supper. Hope you can come for a fun, intergenerational time with family and friends as we learn more about God's love through music, Bible stories, art and sharing a meal.

Art for the Soul led by Lynn Vissers begins Wednesday, May 1 from 1 to 3 p.m. Mark your Calendars and join this creative group.

The Women's Prayer Circle meets at 80 Burns Blvd., Tuesday mornings from 9 to 10. We'd love to have you join us. Contact Kathy Patterson, 905-833-0391 if you have prayer requests, thanksgivings or for more information.

Looking for a Bible Study? Niyazi Bilgen, a pastor with The Greater Grace Fellowship leads a study Sunday evenings from 5 to 7 p.m. in the lounge at St. Andrew's. Refreshments following. All are welcome. Call 416-878-8499.

All Saints Anglican Church
By Patrick Gossage

This Saturday – King's Biggest and Best Rummage and bargain sale opens at 9 a.m. at the church on Keele St. and smart shoppers come early before the really good stuff is sold. All kinds of household goods, books, quality jewelry and fashions, men's women's and children's clothing, art and so much more. Admission is only $1 and children under 12 are free. Everyone is welcome. Parishioners have been collecting and sorting for months so only the best gets displayed. This is our church's major community event.

Easter message from All Saints – Greeting a large congregation in a church decked with flowers, Rev. Dr. Elizabeth said that the celebration of Christ's resurrection is "the day on which our whole life as Christians is based." The Gospel from John 20 is the story of Mary Magdalene finding the tomb empty, telling the disciples and then meeting the risen Christ, mistaking him for the gardener.

She asked us how the story, the mystery of Christ's reappearing after his death, spoke to us. Even the disciples later saw before they understood. Perhaps we recognize ourselves in the story when we attend a funeral for a loved one. The crucifixion shows us a leap of faith into a new life. A death means an earthly life does not die but is transformed from a physical to a spiritual and eternal relationship.

"The world is bombing," she said.

"We must practice being open to new life and love which opens doors. We are God's door to make his love known. Easter is a way of life, an action not a word." She listed several ways in which we could practice resurrection in our own lives, from leaving the problems of the past to forgiving, fighting for justice, and accepting our identity as a child of God. "New life is always made known through love," she concluded.

Anglican Parish By John Arnott

Looking for a rare treat? Then turn up Saturday, May 4 between 1 and 4 p.m. at the hall of Christ Church, Kettleby's historic fieldstone Anglican church on Kettleby Rd., mid way between Keele and Jane Sts.

The treat that awaits is the church's popular Spring Cream Tea, where for $7 you'll be treated to fresh homemade scones served with Devonshire/Cornwall style clotted cream or jam if you prefer with the best cup of tea ever and in real china cups with saucers. Coffee and juice also available. You will find a book table, a "treasure" table and a plant table to browse while there!

The first mention of scones goes back to Scottish poet Gavin Douglas in 1513. The scone originated from a large flat round plate sized flour pastry known as a quickbread as had no leavening agent. Sometimes it was egg glazed and after baking was cut into triangular sections with each section being called a scone. Later the scone became a single serving pastry. Still called a quickbread this small scone was made using wheat, oat or barley flour with baking powder as a leavening agent and sometimes lightly sweetened. It differs from teacakes and other sweet buns as yeast isn't used. But raisins can be mixed in or cranberries for a Canadian touch.

The word scone is thought to have come from "Scot" or some say schoon (brot) Dutch for fine (bread) and is most often pronounced to rhyme with gone in Canada, Britain, and Australia-New Zealand but in the States it rhymes with bone.

Clotted cream originated in pre-Roman southwest England (modern Devonshire and Cornwall). It's made by straining fresh cows milk, letting it stand in a cool place for a few hours then heating it and then letting it cool again till colts form on the top ready to be skimmed off. And voila ready to serve clotted cream!

Cream Tea in the British Isles is a light meal often with scones and clotted cream or jam.

Now be sure to come out to Christ Church, Kettleby this coming Saturday and indulge in a real treat!

This coming Sunday, April 28 called Easter 2 there will be a combined parish (St. Alban's Anglican community
