Intersection improvements coming to King

By Mark Pavilons

York Region is dedicated to building and monitoring its massive transportation network. And King figures prominently in scheduled upgrades.

King councillors were brought up to speed on current and future work across the region.

Salim Alibhai, director of capital planning and delivery for York Region Transit (YRT), noted traffic delays are plaguing motorists across the GTA. York is addressing the issue by investing a record amount in transit solutions.

This year alone, York will deliver more than 100 road improvement projects and continue to create an integrated road network.

Transportation in York is a large undertaking. There are an estimated 35,000 commuters taking transit daily, translating to 22 million annual trips!

More than 600,000 commuters use regional roads daily and York has to maintain more than 4,200 kilometres of roads.

The region oversees some $4.1 billion in transportation assets and is working on new roads, intersection improvements, rapid transit initiatives, the Yonge Subway extension, and adding cycling lanes.

In King, improvements are coming to the intersection of Weston Road and King Road. Left turn lanes, grading and culverts will all be installed. The work will begin this summer, and be wrapped up by 2020.

In Nobleton, paving is being done in the core and should be completed by the end of June. Streetscaping is almost done as well, resulting in a revamped, pedestrian friendly core area.

Reward offered following Kingscross home invasion

By Mark Pavilons

A Kingscross man is offering a reward for a sentimental item, following a home invasion and robbery over the weekend.

The resident (who wishes to remain anonymous) said both he and his wife were home asleep when the culprits entered and began ransacking the home, in the early morning hours this past Saturday.

The resident was startled awake when he heard the three young men talking. Without hesitating, he sprang from his bed and gave chase. The culprits were similarly surprised to see him and quickly took off, jumping from landing to landing, and running out the door.

The homeowner called 9-1-1 and submitted the details to police, including surveillance video.

He said they made off with cash, shoes and articles of clothing. In their hasty retreat they dropped other items of value. The resident is offering a $500 reward for a special pair of shoes that have sentimental value.

"It was crazy, really terrible," he said. He stressed he wants them caught so they don't try this again, and they escalate their criminal acts.

"I want them caught so they can't do it again," he said.

The incident has shaken the community and Kingscross residents are considering hiring a security firm to patrol the neighbourhood.

The resident noted his home has been under construction for some time, and it's just being finished. The alarm system is due to be installed this week.

There is lengthy surveillance video and while the suspects had their faces covered, there are some distinct characteristics. View the video at <https://vimeo.com/341466903>

A $500 reward is being offered for the return of these shoes.

YRP launches security camera registry

York Regional Police is asking residents and business owners in our community to partner with police in community safety by signing up for the new Security Camera Registry.

The new Security Camera Registry gives members of the community the option to inform York Regional Police they have installed residential or commercial security cameras, which may assist police if a crime later occurs in that area.

When police investigate a crime, officers often canvass neighbourhoods or plazas for security cameras that may have captured images of suspects or criminal activity. This is a lengthy process requiring exorbitant amounts of time and resources.

The new registry expedites these investigations by helping officers identify and locate cameras before they canvass an area on foot. In an investigation where every second counts, this proactive step could be crucial in helping to solve a case, make an arrest, recover property, or even save a life.

Helpful details for police include camera locations, direction, video retention and the capability of sharing footage.

With just a couple of clicks, you can make your neighbourhood a safer place. Participants can visit and complete the brief online registration form to add their cameras to the registry. Upon completing the form, participants will also be asked to verify their email address in order to complete the registration:

yrp.ca/RegisterMyCam

The registry was developed in partnership with members of the Integrated Strategic Community Advisory Council (ISCAC), a civilian advisory group partnering with police to improve community safety and promote partnership between York Regional Police and the region it serves.

"Community members must be active partners alongside their police service to ensure York Region remains the safest place in Canada to live, work and play," said ISCAC Chair Dr. Aubrey Zidenberg.

How do we calculate our own life's impact?

Once we reach middle age, we tend to become a bit more pensive and perhaps reflective.

While it's true that average human lifespans are increasing, given the advancements in medicine, we still ponder and prepare for the inevitable.

I have interviewed many high achievers and those with a long list of accomplishments to be proud of. I sometimes ask them how they would like to be remembered or what they want their legacy to be.

The answers are varied, but all point to leaving something behind, whether it's a physical "thing," movement, way of thinking or concept. They all enjoyed a great deal of success, and in the end, they want to contribute to society and this planet of ours.

Noble, yes. Practical, sure. But why do humans feel the need to affirm their presence or impact?

That's a good question. When one ponders life, just how do we prove that we've been here, and done something of relative importance? Will we be remembered or become lost in the shuffle, in the great paper trail that is the bureaucracy of the afterlife?

I have had the awful chore of cleaning out the abodes of several of my relatives who passed away over the past decade. I will tell you right now, it is a weird necessity that will fill you with all kinds of thoughts and emotions.

For my late uncle, who never had any children, his life came down to a handful of boxes, pieces of furniture, clothes and a collection of knick knacks from his travels. Sadly, nothing remarkable and little of any value.

Sentimental, yes, to him. His apartment was a reflection of who he was to an extent. But a casual observer wouldn't get a real feel for him by just seeing his surroundings.

I knew him well, so when I was charged with packing up his life, I did so with respect, compassion and curiosity. I examined and evaluated each item, wondering about its origin and why he kept it.

The only piece of his I have is a cowboy hat covered in pins, again from his travels. Was he a cowboy? Not even remotely! Right to the end he still had a noticeable German accent, even though he left his homeland at 17. But he wore this hat often as a symbol of sorts, a form of self-expression of his fun-loving nature.

Mark Pavilons

I went through the same exercise for my sister and my parents. Again, the remnants of our lives amount to a handful of mediocre things.

Of course, we are middle class Canadians. I'm sure the estates of affluent, notable sorts would be much different. But, their "things" would just be more ornate, more elaborate, more valuable. But does art, jewellery, cars and boats reflect who they were? Do the mansions, without their presence, feel the same?

When assets are sold, gone too is the evidence of the person's journey here on earth. Someone can spend a lifetime creating businesses and even buildings, but when they pass away, these "things" just change ownership, or even get torn down to make way for something new.

We come into this world cold and naked, and go out pretty much the same way.

Not meaning to find fault with the childless couples out there, but I suppose the main way to measure our existence is through the passing of our genes and DNA. Our offspring carry evidence of our entire lineage and that's pretty cool in itself. We're not at the stage of evaluating DNA just yet, but scientists are fiddling with genetics to improve the human stock. Perhaps one day, in the post-apocalyptic future often depicted by Hollywood, we will trade in genes and DNA instead of cash.

Today, environmentally conscious folks talk about a "carbon footprint," the negative impact we leave upon the earth. As we consume precious, non-renewable resources, we deplete the planet of its goodness and so, leave permanent indents in Mother Earth.

We can't erase all the evidence of humankind's existence to date. But can we lessen our impact?

Sure we can. Does that mean we have to erase all evidence of our own lives? The hope is we are extending the life of our planet, keeping it relatively clean for future generations.

Will those future humans care about our efforts or appreciate our sacrifices? Not sure. Given the state of our current affairs, and society's penchant for technological goodies, I don't get a really good vibe.

Our garbage dumps are still piling up despite decades of recycling. We're still overly dependent on fossil fuels and while electric vehicles will one day dominate the landscape, combustion will never disappear. We still have an inordinate amount of weapons of mass destruction on our planet and wildlife continues to dwindle. The global climate is changing.

I can picture the world coming to an end without anyone noticing because they're busy taking selfies or posting on Instagram! It seems little has changed since Nero fiddled while Rome burned.

Again, as our future generations go about their busy lives, how will we be remembered? I know how much things have changed in the past 20 years, so I can only imagine what the next 20 years will bring.

So my friends, my only "value" is flesh and blood - my children and one day, their children. Perhaps they will continue to tell stories about our humble beginnings.

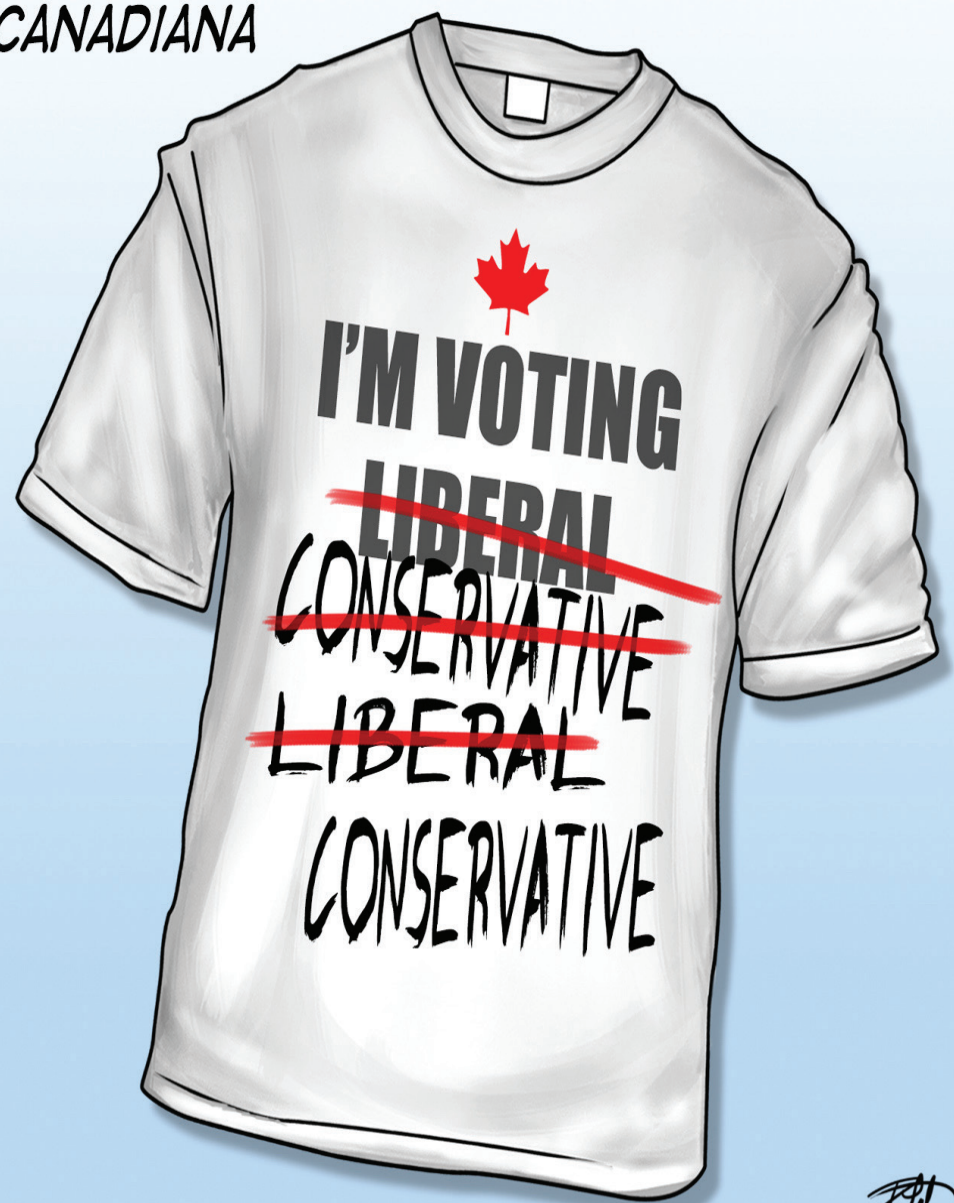

Currently, there is some evidence of our lives on the Internet and those personal collections on the shelves at home. There are a few Facebook records. But when the Internet is one day completely purged, all of that will be lost.

When we move on, as we all must, our possessions will seem trivial, and dispersed accordingly.

Maybe we humans were not meant to leave an indelible imprint behind. Maybe we were intended only to rent some space for a short while, pool our resources, give, share and contribute.

It's not too late to get off the hamster wheel and catch your breath!

Beer in corner stores a 'stupid idea'

Beer and wine in local corner stores ... what a stupid, stupid idea!

Living in Nobleton, I can buy beer in Nobleton, Bolton, King City, Schomberg and I can buy wine all these places too and get a far better selection of both these items!

Gosh darn, I have never bought a six pack. This is just one of many inane projects being initiated by a Doug Ford PC Provincial Government, elected over the inept Liberal governments of Dalton McGuinty and Kathleen Wynne.

We have to live with this terrible government for a few more years ... UGH!

Where do we go next? Maybe elect the Green Party and help the grass and trees to grow and keep 'King green'!

Lavalin issue fraught with 'heated rhetoric'

By Deb Schulte
MP, King-Vaughan

Over the past few months, some residents of King-Vaughan have reached out to me to express their views relating to SNC-Lavalin and the treatment of the former Attorney General, Jody Wilson-Raybould. I greatly appreciated these opportunities to connect, share facts and opinions – it helped to broaden my appreciation of the issue. It also demonstrates a level of engagement which I believe is a positive sign for our democracy.

There has been a lot of heated rhetoric on this issue, especially during Question Period in the House of Commons, full of conflict and allegations, indignation and condemnation, which often paints the situation as black and white. When considering this issue, it is important to consider the facts.

To start, a Deferred Prosecution Agreement (DPA) is not a "Get-Out-of-Jail-Free" card. Rather, it is a negotiated agreement that holds the offending company accountable while helping to protect innocent parties such as employees and pensioners in the case of a criminal conviction. Whether SNC-Lavalin merited a DPA or not, a DPA by itself is far from untoward. Indeed, DPAs are a valuable new tool in our justice system, which brings us in line with other countries including the United States, the United Kingdom, France, and Australia.

Was it wrong for officials to have conversations with the former Attorney General about the possible impact of a criminal prosecution of SNC-Lavalin on Canadian workers? I think it is the government's job to consider all factors on something that could affect Canadians and their families. I understand that this potentially could have been Canada's very first use of a DPA, and that officials naturally would want to ensure that this option was thoroughly considered. However, this was ultimately the AG's decision alone – something that the Prime Minister conveyed directly to the former AG.

On the question of Jody Wilson-Raybould feeling pressure – I've listened to her testimony, and that of the Clerk of the Privy Council's, and others, and it is clear from her testimony that she felt pressured, however, political life is rife with pressure. It is the responsibility of those in public service to receive advice, often under pressure, and then decide what is in the best interests of Canadians.

Why were Ms. Wilson-Raybould and Dr. Philpott removed from the Liberal caucus? While it's natural for members of every political party caucus to have differing opinions on a wide range of issues, trust is essential within any team. Within caucus, we discuss our opinions openly, knowing we can air our disagreements without ramifications and without our views leaving the room. Through their actions, however, both Ms. Wilson-Raybould and Dr. Philpott eroded the necessary trust between caucus colleagues. Caucus colleagues no longer felt they could speak freely in caucus and have their confidence respected.

It is clear that mistakes were made, however, at the root of the issue were legitimate differences of opinion based on wanting the best for Canadians and not to undermine the independence of our institutions. The Prime Minister has asked the Hon. Anne McLellan, a former Justice Minister, to review the role of the AG and Justice Minister to see what improvements can be made. The Prime Minister himself has said that he regrets the erosion of trust that occurred and has learned a lot about how we can do better.

While this situation occupied a substantial amount of time in Question Period, and dominated the press for weeks, our government remained focused on continuing to advance a progressive legislative agenda, addressed important issues confronting the country, and worked to make life better for Canadians. This is what the residents of King-Vaughan would expect, and like the government I continue to focus on delivering results for our community.

Abby Family Day this Saturday

We Believe in Abby Family Day arrives this Saturday, June 15 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Hickstead Memorial Park in Schomberg, 21 Summit Ridge. This is the 4th annual event FREE event that has always had the purpose of providing an opportunity of a fun day with family that all are able to participate in.

This year's event will be focusing fundraising efforts on the building of an accessible playground and pavilion in Abby's name. Abby was born with a congenital heart defect and passed away on Oct. 24, 2018. The playground will be in addition to the playground at Osin Lions Park on Western Ave. in Schomberg with the goal of having it completed by 2022. The family had a fundraising goal of $90,000 Abby's Memorial Park.

Fundraising this weekend will be done through the sales of promotional draw tickets and the charity BBQ.

The community has come together once again through sponsorship, offering entertainment and volunteering to make this event memorial.

YRT expanding bus routes

Transportation also consumes 28% of the regional budget, with the $314 million being shared between YRT and roads.

YRT operates at total of 677 vehicles on bus routes, TTC routes, Viva and more. Adrian Kawum, transit manager for YRT, said local bus routes will be increased and they're also reviewing the on-demand services. A new branch line on Route 88 will connect to Newmarket, and will be in place next year.

Kawum noted the Region is looking at putting electric buses in service and they hope to have six operating by year's end, or early in the new year. It will be on a pilot basis and their performance and dependability will be evaluated.

He noted York is always looking at strengthening their ties and partnerships with member municipalities.

Councillor David Boyd said he's pleased to see improvements coming to the King and Weston Road intersection. He's also happy with a new turn lane at the intersection with Mill Road.

York will continue to focus on maintaining and improving the network in King and balancing the needs of travellers with an eye to the future. York will proactively engage residents and stakeholders on "their" transportation network.

York resolution supports two-tier government

By Mark Pavilons

York Regional council passed a resolution supporting the Region's two-tier government structure as the most effective means to deliver critical infrastructure and services to York Region communities and residents.

The move came in response to the Province's ongoing review of regional government.

"Since 1971, York Regional council has been dedicated to providing responsible, high-quality and cost effective programs and services to the residents of our community," said York Region chairman and CEO Wayne Emmerson. "In passing this resolution, council endorses York Region's two-tiered municipal government structure as the best model to serve residents now and in the future."

King council, too, voiced their support for the current system.

At their last council meeting, councillors passed a resolution supporting the two-tier system, noting King welcomes all opportunities to improve both regional and local service delivery to achieve greater efficiencies and costs savings. All York municipalities "would receive greater benefit from a review of provincial permitting/approvals and municipal government powers and authority under the Municipal Act."

The current system, King argues, provides for regional services throughout all local municipalities, resulting in "cost-effective, quality services that respond to the needs of the local municipalities and citizens."

King has demonstrated its fiscal responsibility by delivering direct and accountable services through shared service agreements and partnerships with members of the N6.

On Jan. 15, the Provincial government announced a review of regional governments to ensure they are working efficiently and effectively to provide vital services. The review specifically looks to improve on governance, decision-making and service delivery at the municipal level.

Over the past 48 years, York Regional council has considered the issue of governance on a number of occasions, mostly with respect to council composition and representation by population. Demonstrating a commitment to responsible government, council currently consists of 21 members, increasing by just four members since 1971.

When York was created in 1971, it consolidated 14 former municipalities into nine new municipalities.

King's resolution will be sent to all York municipalities as well as AMO, local MPPs and the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing.

At the same time, the Region's population has increased by more than one million people to today's 1.2 million residents.

"As York Region's scope of services has expanded, council has demonstrated a relentless commitment to drive efficiencies and remain accountable to residents," added Chairman Emmerson. "By building strong partnerships and working collaboratively with our nine cities and towns and senior levels of government, we are able to deliver our programs and services while finding ways to optimize service delivery and reduce costs."

The Provincial Regional Governance Review included two consultations with elected and appointment council members, municipal and business stakeholders and members of the public who live and work in York Region. The Honourable Steve Clark, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, is expected to report back to the Provincial Government on consultation findings in fall 2019.

The Regional Municipality of York consists of nine local cities and towns and provides a variety of programs and services to 1.2 million residents and 52,000 businesses with 620,000 employees. More information about the Region's key service areas is available at york.ca/regionalservices

By Mark Pavilons

“Mrs. Claus” has decided to retire. No longer able to dedicate the time needed to make the Nobleton Christmas Drive a success, founder Mimi Buchanan/Lyons has decided to retire. The drive will no longer continue in its current form, and the name will go with her. But members of the community are more than welcome to launch a new version, to continue making spirits bright.

Even though 2018 was a difficult year for Mimi, she still kept “one foot in the door” doing what she could to keep the drive running smoothly.

She had a serious car accident and some family issues. She also has to spend more time with her elderly mother. All of these have put a strain on her and she does have physical limitations that make it hard to keep going.

“I’ve worked so hard over the past 20 plus years and I’m concerned about the program’s future,” she said. It’s time for me to retire.

“I hate to walk away, it’s has been a very difficult decision with lots of tears. It’s been hard for me to make this choice.”

Anyone wishing to continue with such a program has to be dedicated and committed, she pointed out.

Mimi stressed she’s more than willing to help anyone who’s interested in the program. She’s happy to guide them through the process.

Cutting ties won’t be easy for Mimi. There have been so many caring people in the community who’ve been with her over the years.

She specifically mentioned The Nobleton Lions Club, King City Fire Department, Len and Rita of Tim Hortons Nobleton, King Chamber of Commerce, Township of King, Mark Pavilons and The Weekly King Sentinel, the Nobleton Public School for allowing Mimi a room to work out of. Special thanks to her daughter Brooke, her husband Kevin and her best friend Peggy Weir for their love support and tireless hours of work.

Mimi extended a very special thanks to King Fire Chief Jim Wall and his staff at the King Fire and Emergency Services for their dedication to helping tirelessly with the toy donations, she doesn’t know how she would have continued without them.

The King Chamber of Commerce and King Fire and Emergency Services as well as the Nobleton Tree Lighting were front and centre of collecting toys.

The drive typically served about 15 or more local families and between 20-40 children annually, with everything including basic necessities, food, clothing and toys. While it may seem like a small number, outfitting everyone in the family with things like snowsuits, boots, clothes and the hottest new toys does add up.

Mimi would also like to thank the community for all their love and continued support over the past 24 years. Without this wonderful community this Nobleton Christmas Drive would have not been possible, there are many families and community businesses who donated money year after year and continue to support the Christmas drive right up to the end. She is so grateful to everyone for all their support and as she always says it takes a village and what a wonderful village she’s been apart of for many, many years.

If you’d like to connect with Mimi, contact her at 905-859-5456.

Horticultural Society's 20th anniversary Garden Tour

By Mark Pavilons

The upcoming 20th anniversary Garden Tour, put on by the Schomberg Horticultural Society, promises to be a cornucopia of colour and inspiration.

Join on this self-guided tour that runs Sunday, June 23, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The tour will give participants a nice selection of art and artistic landscapes, thanks to local property owners and artists.

Organizers are delighted to collaborate with ASK this year and local artists will be displaying their art throughout the gardens and paint "en plein air." On site artists include Janna Kozoub, Mary Morganelli, Lynn Wilson, Hendrika Ono, Janet McLeod Wortel, Inge Dam, George Burt, Ona Kingdon, Chris Kingdon, Muriel Chestnut-Sorokova, Veronica Meloche, Tom Wray and John Panopoulos.

Here's a sneak peek of some of the fabulous gardens participating in this year's Garden Tour.

At stop #8, an elegant country estate awaits and this stunning landscape pays tribute to the rolling hills of King Township and its gorgeous vistas while the hard scaping and plant material is Muskoka inspired. The maple-lined drive way leads to a stunning home surrounded by perennial gardens and entertaining areas. Most notable trees are weeping beech, magnolias, red buds, lilacs, birch trees and red buds. Extensive plantings of perennials like phlox, geraniums, lavender, heuchera, echinacea, black-eyed Susans, just to name a few.

Climb the "Stairway to Heaven" at stop #2. The sign says it all! Magnificent, multi-level gardens hug this elegant country estate. A dry river bed leads to a private lake. A state of the art vegetable garden boasts of seasonal vegetables and herbs. Mature trees, lilacs, mock orange, flowering quince, heuchera & lilies galore are in the perfectly manicured garden beds! Annual flowers add a splash of colour.

A Canadian Wildlife Habitat Accredited Property awaits at stop #3. "In symbiosis with Mother Nature" was the mandate for the landscape designer, when the mainly native plant material was picked by the owner, a master gardener. Mature white pines, beech trees, native birch trees and maple trees are the anchor trees in the multi leveled terraces and gardens. An extensive collection of hostas, peonies, irises, lilies and other carefully selected plant material complements the native assortment of plants. Vegetables and herbs are found among the gardens and planters.

Other properties include three gardens in the exclusive Carrying Place Estate area. One of them is a perennial garden lover's dream, it features ponds, a waterfall and a collection of art work besides a stunning collection of unusual perennial flowers, trees and shrubs.

The Schomberg Community Farm is a must-see. Explore and admire the many vegetable plots and go on a scavenger hunt. Master gardeners hold a workshop on square foot gardening at 10:30 a.m. and again at 2:30 p.m. Native plants and garden related items are for sale.

At Pine Farm Orchard, explore the rustic gardens and this first high-density apple growing farm of 23 different dwarf espaliered apple varieties. Visit with the artists in the Orchard gallery at the back of the property. A special garden tour lunch and home made pies and coffee is waiting for tour visitors.

Organizers recommend that you book lunch ahead of time by calling 905-833-5459.

The Grackle Coffee Shop on Main Street offers special garden tour breakfast and lunches. In a hurry? Take it to go. Weather permitting, the owner might invite you to have the coffee in her enchanted back yard behind the coffee shop. Book ahead by calling 905-590-0069.

Wild Birds Unlimited of Barrie will have a pop-up shop at garden # 2.

Garden tour tickets are available on tour day at the Community Hall at 325 Main Street from 9:45 or at Blackforest Garden Centre and Pine Farm Orchard.

For online ticket purchase visit eventbrite.com/e/anniversary-garden-tour-tickets-55719252785#tickets

Exclusive series on summit coming soon

By Skid Crease

Every once in a while my editor throws me a gem. The email read: "Would you be interested in this, for a series of articles? In Montreal."

It was an invitation for members of the press to attend the Movin' On Summit 2019, formerly known as the Bibendum Challenge initiated by Michelin 20 years ago. I had never heard of it.

Keep in mind, I have been lecturing, writing, and educating about environmental issues since 1970, about sustainable development since 1983, and about climate change since 1988. However, my research sources were always practicing, published, and peer reviewed scientists and my audiences were usually always involved in education. Corporations were the "bad guys."

This conference changed my world view. While most of us are bemoaning the lack of action taken by our political leaders, and we get all riled up by headlines trumpeting the sins of climate deniers like Trump and Ford, there is quiet significant change happening in powerful corporations all around the world.

Part One of this series will look at the concept of Sustainable Mobility, the theme of the Summit. Part Two focuses on the technologies I saw in action - you realize the future is here when you have driven in an all-electric BMW or their hybrid roadster or a Toyota hydrogen fuel cell sedan. Part Three highlights my conversations with the corporate directors of Michelin, probably the most authentic, articulate, and classy people I have ever interviewed.

King Township Food Bank centres open this Saturday

This June 15, the three Distribution Centres are open from 9-11 a.m. to serve Food Bank registrants. If you need help, please call ahead 905-806-1125 or ktfoodbank@gmail.com so food can be shipped to the appropriate centre in the right quantity for you.

Again, the monthly distribution will have donated produce from Hill-side Gardens, along with wonderful Italian breads from Dorio's Bakery.

In addition, the seasonal Pop up Clothing Giveaway is being held from 12-2 p.m. at St. Paul's Nobleton.

Huge thanks to King City Public School and Madeleine Nikmanesh and her mom, Sahar. Throughout the month of May they conducted a drive for size 5 and 6 diapers that resulted in a wonderful inventory for moms with older babies.

Thanks to the customers of John's No Frills. Loblaw issued a cheque for over $500 from their Spring Campaign. This is in addition to the weekly bin collections that happen all year long. KTFB is grateful to John Ciarallo for his support in keeping the Food Bank in the minds of shoppers.

King Township awarded $1,000 to the Food Bank under the Community Grants program. St. Paul's Presbyterian issued a cheque for $1,000 from congregational offerings. In addition, there was a very generous donation from a local family trust. These early year donations are very helpful to cash flow, and KTFB offers grateful thanks.

The Dengler/Pace family is busy again. Remember their sons' birthday parties that raised over $1,000 for the Food Bank? For Canada Day, they are hosting their traditional BBQ but this year, guests are encouraged to donate through the KTFB website rather than bring the usual hostess present.

Remember to mark your calendar to visit Rio de Janeiro with Sip & Savour on October 24.

Visit www.ktfb.ca for the latest news and updates, including distribution dates, that are always the third Saturday of the month. July's distribution will be Saturday, July 20.

King Township Food Bank Board would welcome knowledgeable assistance in the form of a Treasurer. This position includes all the bookkeeping aspects, including accounts payable, accounts receivable, issuing cheques and making deposits, using the QuickBooks system. Email ktfoodbank@gmail.com or call Carol Ann at 416-559-7898 if you'd like to start a conversation.

Improvements at Rutherford GO

Stephen Lecce, MPP for King-Vaughan, joined by Gila Martow, MPP for Thornhill and Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Francophone Affairs, were pleased to announce that the Ontario government is beginning construction on a new 6-storey parking structure that will add 1,200 net-new spaces to Rutherford GO Station, as part of the GO Rail Expansion program

"I made a commitment to help reduce congestion by investing in transit in our community," said MPP Lecce. "Today delivers on this promise by making parking more accessible for commuters in King-Vaughan. These investments will support a clean environment and improve the quality of life for generations to come."

The planned construction at Rutherford GO Station also includes a new station building, a grade separation at Rutherford Road, over 100 new bicycle parking spaces and new connections for pedestrian and cyclists.

"The Ontario government is delivering on its commitment to getting people moving with improvements to subways, trains, buses, and road infrastructure," added MPP Martow. "The upgrades to Rutherford GO Station will help people get to and from work faster, giving them more time with their families. The province is committed to building transit now, and cutting the red tape on projects that will help connect people with jobs and opportunities."

The GO Rail Expansion program is the largest commuter rail project in Canadian history. The Ontario government announced it was moving forward with the next stage of the program through the release of a Request for Proposals to design, build, finance, operate and maintain the infrastructure for the largest capital project in the GO Expansion program, the On-Corridor Works project.

Through the GO Rail Expansion program, Ontario's government is delivering on its commitment to improve the customer experience throughout the GO Transit network. Programs like free travel for children 12 years and under, and historic increases to GO service are putting commuters and people who rely on public transit first.

Local speeders in the community irk councillors

By Mark Pavilons

“Slow down and be respectful to your neighbours.”

That was the message delivered by King Mayor Steve Pellegrini, in response to speeding concerns on local roads.

Councillors recently discussed traffic calming measures and alternatives, in light of continued speeding violations in local communities.

The mayor said he’s “fed up” with drivers’ behaviours, noting the majority of the offenders are, in fact, residents. “I can’t believe people in the community would do this,” he said.

He added he can’t understand why people are in such a rush that they can’t slow down in residential areas.

He wants staff to look at some “in your face” solutions to mitigate the problem.

“I’m open to any ideas,” he said.

The mayor noted some jurisdictions have used, out of service “dummy” or decommissioned police cruisers, parked in strategic locations. Even unmanned and static, they do tend to deter bad driving habits.

One notable example was in neighbouring Caledon, where a Dixie Road resident parked a 1984 Chevrolet Caprice – painted to look like a police car – on his property for roughly 15 years. Even though it was obviously an antique, it proved to be an effective deterrent.

As a deterrent to speeders, one Caledon resident placed an old dummy cruiser on his front lawn. It worked for more than a decade before it was removed.

Road Watch and community safety

Many of us have noticed an increase in traffic violations in King and now we all can help to address this problem.

Whether there are drivers speeding to take the kids to school or soccer or to get home just a few minutes early from work, outside commuters racing through King with no regard for our neighbourhoods, huge trucks barreling right through our villages, city drivers paying no attention to farm vehicles or distracted drivers “flaunting” the law, we now all have a simple method of reporting these threats to our safety. In fact, we all have the responsibility to do so.

Have you witnessed someone breaking the law on the roads? Were they speeding, making unsafe lane changes or running red lights or stop signs?

Road Watch is a community-driven program that gives you the opportunity to report dangerous and aggressive drivers to York Regional Police.

Visit – <https://www.yrp.ca/en/online-reporting/Road-Watch.asp>

You should file a Road Watch complaint online if you can:

- Identify the licence plate of the aggressive driver.
- Identify a specific offence committed by the aggressive driver.

You should not file a Road Watch complaint if:

- You see an impaired driver, street racing or other behaviour that is an immediate danger to public safety. This is an emergency, or a crime in progress, and you should dial 9-1-1 immediately.

If you would like to report an area in which you have seen poor driving behaviour, rather than a specific instance, you should report a Community Concern online. Perhaps some dirt bikers were creating stampedes of livestock by illegally racing up and down a rural road. Perhaps mailboxes are being used for batting practice.

Visit – <https://www.yrp.ca/en/online-reporting/Report-a-Community-Concern.asp>

Let us all make the time to help make it even better. Drive safely!

Nobleton's Bertola medals in national gymnastics

By Jake Courtepatte

A whirlwind start to the 2019 schedule has seen one of King's most agile athletes reaching multiple podiums.

Long-time gymnast Pietro Bertola came home late last month from Carleton University in Ottawa with a silver medal in both pommel horse and rings at the Canadian Championships in Artistic Gymnastics, posting scores of 11.650 and 12.700 respectively.

The pair of podium finishes came shortly after Bertola helped Team Ontario to a group bronze medal, totaling his points for a fourth overall score between pommel horse, rings, floor, vault, parallel bars, and high bars.

It was quite a return to form for the young athlete. Adversity struck in November of 2018 when Bertola fractured two metacarpal bones in his hand during training, putting him out of training for 11 weeks.

Needing to compete in one of three qualifier events for a chance to reach the provincial championship, he was cleared just one week before the second qualifier, where he competed in the vault competition in January to earn his spot.

Yet he says it is pommel and rings, his bread and butter at the national tournament, that he favours most.

"Pietro never seemed to be able to keep his feet on the ground," said his father Ed. "He climbed anything and everything he could."

It was for this reason his parents enrolled him in a gymnastics program at a young age, where he jumped directly into the competitive program, and has flourished since.

Next season will see Bertola make the move into the senior men's division, while he completes his final year of high school, before he entertains the idea of competing in the NCAA.

As for now, Bertola said he is feeling "very good about these events."

"My routines have a good flow to them and they feel smooth. It's a great feeling and I have a lot of fun on these events ... I'm look forward to working on increasing their difficulty."

The 17-year-old from Silverthorne Collegiate in Toronto earned his spot on Team Ontario by way of a massive effort at April's Men's Artistic Gymnastics Ontario Championships, where a first overall score at the Windsor event helped him cruise to the national tournament.

A competitor in artistic gymnastics for nine years, Bertola trains out of Manjak's Gymnastics Club in Mississauga.

King City's Adriana Leon is taking part in her second World Cup tournament at the 2019 FIFA Women's World Cup in France this month.

Leon looking for gold in Women's World Cup

By Jake Courtepatte

Four years after a disappointing finish on home turf in the largest women's tournament in the world, King's Adriana Leon has high hopes for this month's Canadian squad at the FIFA World Cup in France.

One of a handful of returning players from the 2015 tournament that saw Canada fall early in Toronto, Leon sees potential in the team that now ranks fifth in the world.

"We're ranked fifth in the world, we are a good team and we're excited to step on the field on Monday," said Leon over the weekend, shortly before Canada bested Cameroon 1-0 in their opening match. "We feel pretty comfortable when people say this is the best Canadian team there has ever been."

"To have the World Cup in Canada, we had a lot of pressure on our team, so now we feel like we can deal with anything."

Those words certainly ring true: Leon herself was one of the most impactful players in World Cup qualifying, leading the team with six goals, while a pairing with the legendary captain Christine Sinclair should prove to be a lethal combination.

"I think we're probably a little bit both anxious and excited, with a little bit of nerves, but good nerves," Leon said following a training session in Laverune, a suburb of Montpellier in southern France. "We were in Spain training hard for a couple of weeks and we were a little bit isolated away from here."

Growing up in Maple, Ontario, Leon's parents moved the family to King City when she was 16 years old in 2008. She was still attending classes at The Country Day School the first time she was called up to represent her country internationally, playing in the U-20 World Cup a year later.

Since then, her career has taken her to all corners of the globe, from Cyprus, to Japan, to Germany, and Brazil.

It was in 2012 that she joined the senior squad and got the opportunity to play alongside her childhood idol, Sinclair. She scored the only goal in a 1-0 win over China PR, and has now found the back of the net fourteen times since joining the senior team, including a six-goal performance at October's tournament, where Canada finished runners-up to the United States.

Leon was a player on both the rugby and volleyball programs at The Country Day School as well.

Next up for Leon and Team Canada is a meeting with New Zealand on Saturday, before wrapping up the group stage of the tournament on June 20 in a battle with the Netherlands.

Southlake Foundation celebrates the 40th anniversary Polo for Heart event

Southlake Foundation hosted two special four-legged visitors to help gear up for the upcoming 2019 Polo for Heart! Staff had the opportunity to come and visit the polo ponies that will be part of the event later this month.

This year marks the 40th anniversary of Polo for Heart, a community-organized fundraiser supporting the Regional Cardiac Care Program at Southlake Regional Health Centre, as well as the Heart and Stroke Foundation. Serving approximately 10,000 patients every year from across York Region, Simcoe County and even as far north as Muskoka, Southlake's Regional Cardiac Care Program is the third largest in Ontario, renowned for performing a number of national- and world-first procedures.

"We're so grateful for the long-standing support of Polo for Heart over the years, and are absolutely thrilled to be celebrating this special milestone with them," said Susan Mullin, president and CEO of Southlake Foundation. "Many of Southlake's staff also attend the event, from our Cardiac Care Program but also from other departments across the hospital. It's a lot of fun, and we're certainly looking forward to a great day this year!"

Past support from Polo for heart has helped fund the expansion of Southlake's Heart Rhythm Program, including infrastructure and services, vital to patients in our community and beyond. This year, proceeds will support the highest priority needs of the program to ensure thousands of patients every year can continue to have access to leading-edge and life-saving cardiac care closer to home.

While Polo Under the Stars is sold out, tickets are still available for Polo for Heart on Saturday, June 22. For more information or to purchase a ticket, visit www.poloforheart.org.

Schomberg United Church By Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman

As a minister with the United Church I am allotted 3 study weeks per year to provide time for me to keep informed about new approaches to ministry, to keep my skills updated, to attend conferences and sometimes just to read and re-group. Next week I will be taking a week to spend some time reading and reflecting on a book called "The Universal Christ" by Richard Rohr, an author who continually offers me inspiration. If you are looking for some contemplative insights, consider signing up for daily e-mails at <https://cac.org/category/daily-meditations/> to receive broad, thoughtful, inclusive meditations by Rohr.

This Sunday we celebrate Trinity Sunday and welcome Sandra Kirby who will lead us in worship.

The next Seniors' lunch in Schomberg is Tuesday, June 25 at 11:30 a.m. Entertainment will be by the Joyful Spirits and lunch will follow. As always, please contact Sheila Kelly at 905-939-2315 to let her know that company is coming. There is no fee, but donations are welcomed to cover the cost.

Schomberg United will have a short service in July on Wednesdays, at 6 p.m. followed by a pot-luck dinner.

On Sunday July 7, 14, and 21, Nobleton United invites you to a shortened service at 11:15 a.m. followed by discussion. The theme will be Women in the Bible.

On Sunday, July 28, at 11 a.m. there will be a joint Nobleton-Schomberg picnic at the Campbells, with a short service led by the Front Porch Harmony followed by a pot-luck lunch. Please contact the church for directions.

On August 4 at 9:30 a.m., there will be a regular service at the Kitchen-Breedon Manor. On Aug. 11 and 18, Schomberg will join with St. Mary Magdalene for 10:30 a.m. services. There will be an ecumenical service at the Dufferin Marsh in Schomberg on August 25, at 10:30 a.m.

Schomberg United meets at St. Mary Magdalene, 116 Church St., at 9:30 a.m. most Sundays, but at the Kitchen Breedon Manor usually on the first Sunday of the month. ## Nobleton United Church By Rev. Carol-Ann Chapman

As a minister with the United Church I am allotted 3 study weeks per year to provide time for me to keep informed about new approaches to ministry, to keep my skills updated, to attend conferences and sometimes just to read and re-group. Next week I will be taking a week to spend some time reading and reflecting on a book called "The Universal Christ" by Richard Rohr, an author who continually offers me inspiration. If you are looking for some contemplative insights, consider signing up for daily e-mail's at <https://cac.org/category/daily-meditations/> to receive broad, thoughtful, inclusive meditations by Rohr.

This Sunday we celebrate Trinity Sunday and welcome Sandra Kirby who will lead us in worship.

The next Seniors' lunch in Schomberg is Tuesday, June 25 at 11:30 a.m. Entertainment will be by the Joyful Spirits and lunch will follow. As always, please contact Sheila Kelly at 905-939-2315 to let her know that company is coming. There is no fee, but donations are welcomed to cover the cost.

On Sunday July 7, 14, and 21, Nobleton United invites you to a shortened service at 11:15 a.m. followed by discussion. The theme will be Women in the Bible.

Schomberg United will have a short service in July on Wednesdays, at 6 p.m. followed by a pot-luck dinner.

On Sunday, July 28, at 11 a.m. there will be a joint Nobleton-Schomberg picnic at the Campbells, with a short service led by the Front Porch Harmony followed by a pot-luck lunch.

Anglican Parish
By John Arnott

Swiftly while he was attending a military event the assassins struck, killing Romulus, the legendary founder and first king of Rome. At that very moment the bright sunny day was plunged into darkness. When moments later light returned his body had disappeared!

Aristocrats who made up the senate, the governing council, he founded were accused by the common people of masterminding the whole thing as they saw Romulus as a threat to their rising power.

Sometime later Proculus, a nobleman and the king's good friend, having sworn an oath announced, in the Forum in the city centre that as he was travelling on the road he saw coming towards him the murdered king. He asked him why he'd left as he did, making the senators targets of murderous accusations. Romulus replied that it had been the plan of the Olympic gods for him to remain on Earth only a short time to found a power that would eventually rule the world before he would leave to reside in heaven as a god. Then Romulus, enveloped by a whirlwind, was taken up into heaven. This is how Plutarch, the 1st century AD Greek philosopher and contemporary of St. Luke, relates the ancient myth.

Now skeptics and some sympathetic biblical scholars see threads of this story re-emerging and weaving through pre-Christian accounts of Yeshua's resurrection and the time following it, particularly in Luke's well known gospel account of Yeshua meeting up with 2 of his grief stricken followers on the road to Emmaus that first Easter Sunday.

Christians believe Luke, a physician a historian and most likely a Greek, never actually saw Yeshua and only became Christian after his meetings with Paul. As a historian he would be well aware of fact and fiction surrounding Rome's humble beginnings.

The St. Alban's Anglican community in Nobleton notes Luke's gospel tells that later on the day of his resurrection an incognito Yeshua, now fully clothed as his wounds would have been a dead give away, walked with a disciple called Cleopas and another unnamed disciple, possibly his wife, as they were returning home to Emmaus a village about the same distance from Jerusalem as Schomberg is from Nobleton. And only when he broke bread after being invited to eat and stay over with them did they recognize him at which point he vanished.

Then without waiting, they hurried back to Jerusalem to tell the 11 who would soon be called apostles what they'd experienced. But they weren't believed until Yeshua suddenly was standing in their midst. He ate with them and gave them last minute instructions as to what he wanted them to do. Then he went with them as far as Bethany another village about a mile/2.5 km from Jerusalem where after blessing them he was taken up into heaven.

Unanswered questions arise as to whether or not Yeshua, being still in his abused crucified body, would have been able to walk on badly wounded feet on a rough, dirty, dusty road keeping up with two healthy people? Would Cleopas and companion have risked walking back to Jerusalem as it was getting dark? If the 11 were in hiding how could they be found especially at night? Would Yeshua have led his pre-apostles out to Bethany to witness his ascension in the dark? Were the two Emmaus witnesses as well or did they remain at the hideout?

Even Emmaus, long completely destroyed, comes into question as its location is a still matter of dispute although Christian churches stand on the 2 sites some miles apart that claim to hold the ruins of Cleopas's house! And there are possible locations.

Skeptics claim along with some biblical scholars, the whole Emmaus incident never actually happened but was borrowed from the Roman fiction, somewhat changed and added by the now unknown author of or collaborator on St. Luke's gospel for dramatic affect.

St. Andrew's
By Kathy Patterson

St. Andrew's shares the love of Jesus in the community and beyond!

Come and celebrate Father's Day with us! Sunday worship for the family is at 10:30 a.m. The children up to 12 years old leave the sanctuary for Sunday school after the Time for Youth and before the sermon takes place.

Lynn Vissers is taking the service and afterwards we'll celebrate Father's Day with a BBQ. The HanWool Presbyterian Congregation will join us and we hope you can join us too.

Last Sunday, Pentecost, Henna Kim's sermon was "The Spirit of Truth" based on John 14:15-26. Before Jesus was betrayed He told his worried disciples that His Father would send the Holy Spirit - the Spirit of Truth who would be with them forever, counseling, teaching, offering comfort, peace and joy. Is that our reality?

Looking for a Bible Study? Sunday evenings Niyazi Bilgen, a pastor with The Greater Grace Fellowship leads one starting at 5 p.m. in the lounge at St. Andrew's. Refreshments follow. All are welcome. Call 416-878-8499.

Tuesday mornings at 9 to 10 a.m. the Women's Prayer Circle meets at 80 Burns Blvd. What a wonderful way to start your day. Contact Kathy Patterson, 905-833-0391, if you have prayer requests, thanksgivings or need more information. (Philippians 4: 6 & 7)

Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m., Art for the Soul led by Lynn Vissers is at the church. All are welcome. Also on Wednesdays, Soup and Conversation takes place at 6 p.m. in the church office. Contact Lynn for more information.

Looking for summer activities with your school-aged children? Art-in-the-Park will be back, running July 8-11 in the afternoons with a BBQ on the last day, Thursday. Mark your calendars!

For pastoral care contact Lynn Vissers, Director of Congregational Ministries at 905-833-2325 or our Interim Moderator, the Rev. Paul Johnston, 705-341-7738. We are located at 13190 Keele St., 2 blocks north of the King Rd. www.standrews-kingcity.ca

Bring your friends to this community event and enjoy tea and scones and fresh strawberries – all are welcome and invited. Tickets are $10 on arrival.

Celebration and inspiration – Last Sunday, the Day of Pentecost, was an important one in the life of our parish. Our area Bishop Peter Fenty was supposed to preside but fell ill and happily our very own parishioner, retired Bishop George Elliott presided and gave the homily. He baptized two young people Gabby and Dylan from the Leis family, and confirmed Stefan and Annika from the Karunaratne family. As well 4 young people and two adult parishioners renewed their baptismal vows and two younger children, Kristian Karunaratne and Christiano Price were blessed. It was a very happy and blessed occasion for us all, with a large number of family and guests filling the church.

Acts 2 was read, the amazing story of the Holy Spirit descending in tongues of fire on the followers of the risen Christ. Followed by the Gospel, the John 14 story of Christ's final speech to his disciples when he told Philip who asked him "show us the Father." Jesus answered: "Don't you believe that I am in the Father, and that the Father is in me? The words I say to you I do not speak on my own authority. Rather, it is the Father, living in me, who is doing his work."

Bishop George said the Gospel is full of people in search of Jesus, for his love and healing and looking for the Father. He asked candidates about sacraments and he was answered loudly that they are "an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace." The water in Baptism and the laying on of hands in confirmation being the outward signs like the bread and wine in the Eucharist. "You never know," he said. "A dove may yet come down!"

At the first Pentecost the Holy Spirit came down to the disciples and the message of the good news of the risen Lord was heard and God dwelt in their hearts. God is still at work today and will empower all of us to be His people.

"But we still have to look for Jesus Christ," he said. "Mother Teresa, who worked among the sick and dying in the streets of Calcutta, was once asked where she got her strength and answered, "when I look at the dying, I see Jesus."

He told us we too, have to be the light in darkness, give hope and show we care. "We are all called to share love today, with faith. Pray for us all that the Holy Spirit may work in our hearts to go into the world to preach the good news."

Horticulture
By John Arnott

For the past couple of weeks or so drifts of sky blue forget-me-nots have greeted me each day as I walk out through the conservation bush near my home in Tecumseth Pines (Tottenham). These mid-spring wild flowers are native to Eurasia with native cousins found in New Zealand, where they're now endangered, and Australia.

Claims have been made that there are some 500 species of forget-me-nots worldwide but most botanists today credit only 74 species. Forget-me-nots, (a name not used much heard outside North America) being prolific seeders once established in the damp loam in the light shade to full sun they prefer will grow and bloom year after year for a lifetime that makes telling if you have annuals or perennials difficult. The 2 species common to our area are m. sylvatica and m. alpestris. Easy to care for and control forget-me-nots can be quietly and gently invasive!

Mostly each plant produces a number of leaf covered stems rising from ground level to a height of six in./ 15 cm., but where they must compete with other plants for space and light the stems can be a foot/ 30 cm. high and held upright by neighbouring plants. However there are species that will grow 2 ft./ 60 cm. naturally.

Each stem in nearly all species terminates in a cluster of flowers. Each flower making up this cluster holds 5 tiny wide pointed oval shaped petals cupped by 5 tinier sepals around a bright yellow centre that contains the pollen bearing stamens. Bees of all sizes love these flowers and are certainly busy all through the drifts I pass.

Cheery blue is by far the colour of most forget-me-nots, but here and there some clusters bloom white or pink. And I've read there are some forget-me-not species that have yellow flowers. In mid May I found a single clump about 5 in./12.5 cm. high of deep almost sapphire blue ones growing in my garden!

My walk through the drifts of Tecumseth forget-me-nots this year is tinged with sadness as Victory, my little Boston terrier, and constant walking companion of the past 13 years passed away (heart failure) on the trail just after we started out through the woods a year ago, May 25. Now these blue forget-me-nots remind me I'll not forget him.

King firefighters deliver birthday gift

King Fire and Emergency Services personnel went above and beyond recently. On April 19, Chief Jim Wall dispatched two firefighters, complete with outfits, hats, Spark banks and more, to help celebrate Joe Pompili's third birthday. Despite the fact it was Good Friday, that didn't douse the enthusiasm of local firefighters Nick and Connor who joined in the celebrations. Mom Jessica Pompili extended her heartfelt thanks for all of their hard work and "going over and above" to make a little boy's birthday "much more memorable." Joe dreams of one day becoming a firefighter.
