Crosswalk art comes to life in Schomberg

Dream it. Design it. Do it.
Just weeks after the 50th anniversary of the release of the famous Abbey Road album, Schomberg Main Street is getting its own iconic crosswalks.

Three crosswalk art installations were completed this week, featuring images reflecting the unique nature of Schomberg.

At the corner of Church and Main Street, under the eye of the Schomberg Market Day mural, Schomberg's agricultural heritage was celebrated with 2 crosswalks featuring local crops that would have been sold on Market Day. The first crosswalk features spring crops of strawberries and salad, and the second features the fall harvest of pumpkins and carrots.

These crops were carefully chosen to represent both the Holland Marsh and the highlands of Schomberg's agricultural area.

At the corner of Dr. Kay Drive and Main, a crosswalk featuring cat tails, turtles and lily pads was installed, in honour of the Dufferin Marsh, as well as the prominent use of Dr. Kay Drive by turtles as a crossing point.

It is the intent that in addition to adding visual art to the intersection, this crosswalks will serve as a reminder to drivers to keep an eye out for turtles, especially in the Spring.

The design of the crosswalks were an outcome of a competition amongst Schomberg residents and businesses that took place in the spring. The winner of the competition was Lisa Grealish, a Main Street resident.

"I like inspiring creativity in my community," she said. "Moving from a large city to a small town, I really appreciate being a part of such an engaged community. I'm delighted to see my designs brought to life."

Ms. Grealish is also known as "The Paint Lady," and is active in the community, including spearheading the 2019 Scarecrow Competition and offering painting workshops in both her studio and local businesses.

Grealish's designs were converted to graphic files by Main Street business Speers Creative. The graphic files were then used to make stencils, which were laid out and painted over according to Cole's design. The Color-Safe® durable pavement marking material used to paint the crosswalks is also used by Toronto Pearson Airport, and is anticipated to remain vibrant for at least 5 years. Because the stencils are reusable, the crosswalks can be refreshed at any time.

at the Township of King Council Chambers at 2585 King Road, King City to receive information and provide comments on a proposed Zoning By-law Amendment under Section 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter P.13.

Subject Property

Location: 983 – 19th Sideroad, King City, ON L7B 1K5
Owner: David Dunlap
Agent: Dan Stone, Thorstone Consulting Services Inc.
File Number: Z-2019-07

What Are The Proposed Changes?

The proposed Zoning By-law Amendment submitted by Thorstone Consulting Services Inc. on behalf of owner, David Dunlap, under Planning File Z-2019-07, concerns a site located on the south side of 19th Sideroad, west of Bathurst Street. The property currently houses a single detached dwelling and accessory structure (barn) and measures approximately 12.9 hectares with approximately 300 metres of frontage on 19th Sideroad. The owner is proposing the Zoning By-law Amendment to facilitate a Consent application to sever a 7.09 hectare parcel from the subject property and convey it to the neighbouring property at 1011 19th Sideroad. No changes to the lot frontage are proposed. The retained property is proposed to have an area of 5.10 hectares.

The subject property is designated Oak Ridges Moraine Natural Linkage Area by the Township of King Rural Official Plan (OPA1970). The subject property is zoned Rural General (RU1) as per By-law #74-53, and is zoned Oak Ridges Moraine Feature Protection (ORMFP) and Oak Ridges Moraine Natural Core and Linkage (ORMNCL) as per By-law #2005-23. The purpose of the Zoning By-law Amendment is to establish site specific zoning provisions that would facilitate the proposed severance.

Appeal Procedure

If a person or public body would otherwise have an ability to appeal the decision of the Council of the Township of King to the Local Planning Appeal Tribunal but the person or public body does not make oral submissions at a public meeting or make written submissions to the Township of King before the proposed by-law is passed, the person or public body is not entitled to appeal the decision.

If a person or public body does not make oral submissions at a public meeting, or make written submissions to the Township of King before the proposed by-law amendment is passed, the person or public body may not be added as a party to the hearing of an appeal before the Local Planning Appeal Tribunal (LPAT) unless, in the opinion of the Tribunal, there are reasonable grounds to add the person or public body as a party.

Any person may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed Zoning By-law Amendment.

The public are invited to attend a public meeting to be held by the Council of the Corporation of the Township of King on:

Monday, November 4th, 2019 at 6:00 P.M.

at the Township of King Council Chambers at 2585 King Road, King City to receive information and provide comments on a proposed Zoning By-law Amendment under Section 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter P.13.

Subject Property

Location: 13415 and 13425 Dufferin Street, King City, ON Owner: The Country Day School
Applicant: IPM Architecture Inc.
File Number: Z-2019-10 and SPD-19-56

What Are The Proposed Changes?

The proposed Zoning By-law Amendment and Site Plan Control applications submitted by IPM Architecture Inc. on behalf of the owner, the Country Day School under Planning Files, Z-2019-10 and SPD-19-56, concerns the private school, which is located on the east side of Dufferin Street and north of King Road. The owner is proposing to rezone 13425 Dufferin Street from Rural General (RU1) to Institutional (I) to accommodate the expansion of the existing private school located at 13415 Dufferin Street. The rezoning is also proposed to further add site specific zoning provisions relating to parking and building setbacks and maximum lot coverage for the lands at 13415 Dufferin Street.

The property known as 13425 Dufferin Street currently contains a single detached dwelling that is vacant. The dwelling is proposed to be demolished to facilitate the proposed development. An addition to the existing private school has been proposed at 13415 Dufferin Street with an expansion to the existing parking area to be located at 13425 Dufferin Street. The sports field located at 13415 Dufferin Street is also to be relocated adjacent to the proposed parking area. The lands are zoned Oak Ridges Moraine Feature Protection (ORMFP) and Oak Ridges Moraine Natural Core and Linkage Area (ORMNCL) as per By-law 2005-23. The portion of 13415 Dufferin Street west of the rail corridor is zoned Institutional (I) by Zoning By-law 74-53, as amended by By-laws 85-10, 96-139, and 98-57. # Federal candidates square off at Chamber event

By Mark Pavilons

Candidates vying to be King-Vaughan's next MP all have different party policies. Yet they all agree on several important issues.

Helping taxpayers get ahead; providing support for small business and the environment are on every party's agenda.

That was made clear at the all-candidates meeting held last Thursday at King's municipal centre, sponsored by the King Chamber of Commerce.

The four candidates representing the major parties addressed a packed house of residents and answered questions prepared by Chamber members.

Incumbent Liberal MP Deb Schulte said she's spent the past four years "building relationships" and she lauded residents for making their voices heard. She said she's been able to deliver results for the riding and fight on constituents' behalf. She thanked residents for being a "strong partner."

Conservative candidate Anna Roberts, an active community member, wants to be the voice in Ottawa. She said she's seen, first-hand the hardships facing residents and small businesses, due, in large part, to Liberal policies. She stressed we're all working hard, yet not getting ahead and "we need a change." The federal government, she said, has to listen to our community and the needs of the people.

Green Party candidate Ann Raney said all parties are recognizing that we're facing a climate emergency. She said one of the impediments to progress is that we're still too partisan and influenced too much by corporations. She said the quality of government today isn't what it used to be and we're suffering from shortsightedness. Our "patchwork" system needs to be revamped and the Greens have many forward-thinking policies.

NDP candidate Emilio Bernardo-Ciddio, who's been active in the arts and politics, stressed people need to get more involved and he represents the youth voice. He vows to be there for them and he plans to help youth become engaged and informed.

Chamber members crafted five questions, with input from members. Each candidate was asked to respond.

The Chamber wanted to know that policies and support systems each party would implement to help small businesses thrive.

Schulte noted that small business in the economic engine in this county. The government has cut the business tax rate, which is now the lowest of any G7 nation. They also cut red tape and changes to the process to help expedite small business requests. They are helping businesses crack many overseas markets. The Liberals are also removing the swipe fee on credit card transactions, which will save small firms money.

Roberts pointed out the federal carbon tax is killing small business and this alone has hurt job creation. The Conservatives vow to remove the carbon tax and other small business taxes. "We shouldn't penalize small businesses for taking risks," she said.

Raney said the Greens would also eliminate red tape and remove duplication and redundancies in the government. Providing a skilled workforce; encouraging innovation; improving transit options and providing students with post-secondary debt forgiveness all spark the economy and benefit small business.

Empowering workers and consumers and freeing up disposable income all help the economy, according to Bernardo-Ciddio.

The Chamber wanted to know how the parties plan to address the crushing debt and deficit, and how they plan to bring in a balanced budget and control government spending.

Roberts pointed out that Justin Trudeau promised to balance the budget when he was elected, but instead his government has added $71 billion to the debt, which works out to a burden of $50,000 per household in Canada. This burdens future generations. The Conservatives will live within their means by finding efficiencies and their planned changes won't adversely affect seniors or health care.

"We'll rein in spending," she said.

Raney said spending needs to be directed to where it's needed - our safety net and health care. Politicians, she said, have lacked courage to make hard decisions. There are times when spending is necessary and the new government will have to implement the costly pharmacare system. The Greens have a plan to balance the budget in their fourth year, by 2024.

Bernardo-Ciddio agreed that spending should be going in the right places and current practices need to be changed.

Schulte said Harper added $100 billion to the debt in his term and the economy was stalled. The Liberals changed the formula and invested more money in infrastructure and got the economy going again. Today, Canada's economy is one of the best in the G7 and we're transitioning to a greener and healthier future.

Smart tech taking over from dumb humans?

We're becoming a society of smart-tech operators.

Our young people have grown up with the tech, but what about those of us who remember dial-up, fax machines and film cameras?

Apparently today's mature adults are catching on very quickly.

A recent study conducted by Environics noted that 58% of Canadians aged 65+ and almost 8 in 10 (78%) aged 50-64 own smart phones.

"The findings show that Canadians over the age of 65, just like those aged 50 to 64, are feeling confident about using technology and many feel the impact on society is positive," says Bridgette Murphy, managing director and COO of AGE-WELL. "We also found strong interest among respondents in using technologies to stay healthy, engaged and living independently for as long as possible."

The poll found that more than 8 in 10 Canadians over the age of 65 believe technological advances can help older adults stay safe, in their own homes longer and stay independent. And, 7 in 10 agree that technological advancements can help older adults stay active and manage health better as they age and can reduce social isolation. When they have difficulties with technology, 53% of respondents turn to their children and 18% to their grandchildren.

Been there. We all have our unique talents and specialties.

In our household, my wife is the iPhone expert and I'm a bit of a slow learner in phone tech. In my opinion, a phone is a phone, but I do love the services that provide maps and directions. I use my iPad for games and shopping and my computer at work for, well, work.

I don't want to respond to emails on my phone, but I have sent a photo or two to my desktop at work.

The majority (74 to 80%), according to the study feel confident using current technology;

Only 15% of Canadians over the age of 65 and 50-64 believe the impact of technology on society is negative; 6 in 10 (61%) over the age of 65 believe the impact of technology on society is positive.

Almost all (93%) of smart phone owners aged 65+ find them easy to use and 98% of those owning smart phones aged 50-64 find them easy to use.

The majority of Canadians have at least one social media account.

Most of us are familiar with the computing power in our hands, on our wrists and on our desks.

But one of the most common "computer" we operate daily is our vehicle.

Today's automobiles are almost like smart computers on wheels. Almost every system today is monitored, tweaked and adjusted by the on-board computers. Cars today can have as many as 50 different computer systems in them. These control a huge number of things in your car including engine controls for emissions; safety features and comfort and convenience features.

We like to think we're in total control of our vehicle, but are we?

My wife's mini-van has an "econ" button that adjusts the shift timings making it shift harder at low speeds and easier at high speeds. So it increases fuel economy when driving longer distances in the 2 mile-per-gallon range. Perfect when we visit our daughter at university in London.

My wife had a very weird incident with her mini-van recently. After hitting the remote to unlock the car during her lunch hour, the locks went crazy, locking, unlocking in quick repetition for more than 30 minutes. Like an Olympic gymnast, she sprinted, in between locks, and made it inside. Try as she may, she couldn't tame the beast. Again, she timed her exit perfectly, making it out alive!

I've read Stephen King's Christine, but come on!

A search on Google revealed this is more common than you'd think, yet our mechanic had yet to encounter, or reproduce, such a thing.

In my experience over decades of car ownership, electrical woes are the worst to locate, diagnose and fix. While trouble-shooting with scanners, and even remote scans via iPads are easier, fixing all those codes caused by bad sensors remains troublesome. One loose wire in our car and we're toast!

We're putting our lives into the buttons of tiny, smart gizmos.

If our TV remotes give in to the tech gods, they can really ruin our lives. I've had a few occasions, where I just couldn't change channels or adjust the volume. It was as if the remote simply refused my commands! How ungrateful!

The smarter our gadgets get the dumber we get. We're just putting ourselves at the mercy of circuits and flashes of light. We've even forgotten how to get up out of our chair and adjust something manually.

It is deja vu all over again? Common sense would tell us that smoking and vaping isn't good for us. It would also suggest that handing over the keys to your home and car to a machine is just plain dangerous.

The skepticism over technology has always been with us. Ever since the industrial revolution, we've been fearful of just how far technology can take us.

Technology will continue to improve, and I'm looking forward to advances in medicine to help people who die young and needlessly from illnesses that plague us. Of course, living longer will have ramifications for our planet, but that's a topic for another discussion.

There's no doubt in my mind that science and technology will help further humankind. But we must be cautious, for one frayed wire, one loose connection and we'll go from the top of the food chain to the bottom!

But at least we can watch armageddon live on our smart phone!

Letter to the Editor

Take the time to cast your vote!

It is very important that all eligible voters in King actually make the time and effort to participate in our democracy by voting in the upcoming election. We all know this, it is not rocket science. But the voter turnout was 58% for the last provincial election, 32% in the municipal election and 68% federally in 2015! What happened to everyone else?

Yes, we are all busy and stressed. We are all frustrated and baffled by one politician or another. Promises have been broken, skeletons have been brought out of closets and the negative ads have started in earnest. But none of us should lose hope. As Winston Churchill famously said, "No one pretends that democracy is perfect or all-wise. Indeed it has been said that democracy is the worst form of government except for all those other forms that have been tried from time to time ..."

If you don't vote, then Canada will never know what you want and value. The results of everyone else's votes will have profound impacts on your life and those of your family ... taxes, climate change, health care, immigration, jobs, affordable housing, the economy and foreign policy to name a few.

One of the pillars of sustainability features the socio-cultural aspects of our lives. This includes the right and the responsibility of every citizen to vote. Let's keep King a healthy and sustainable community.

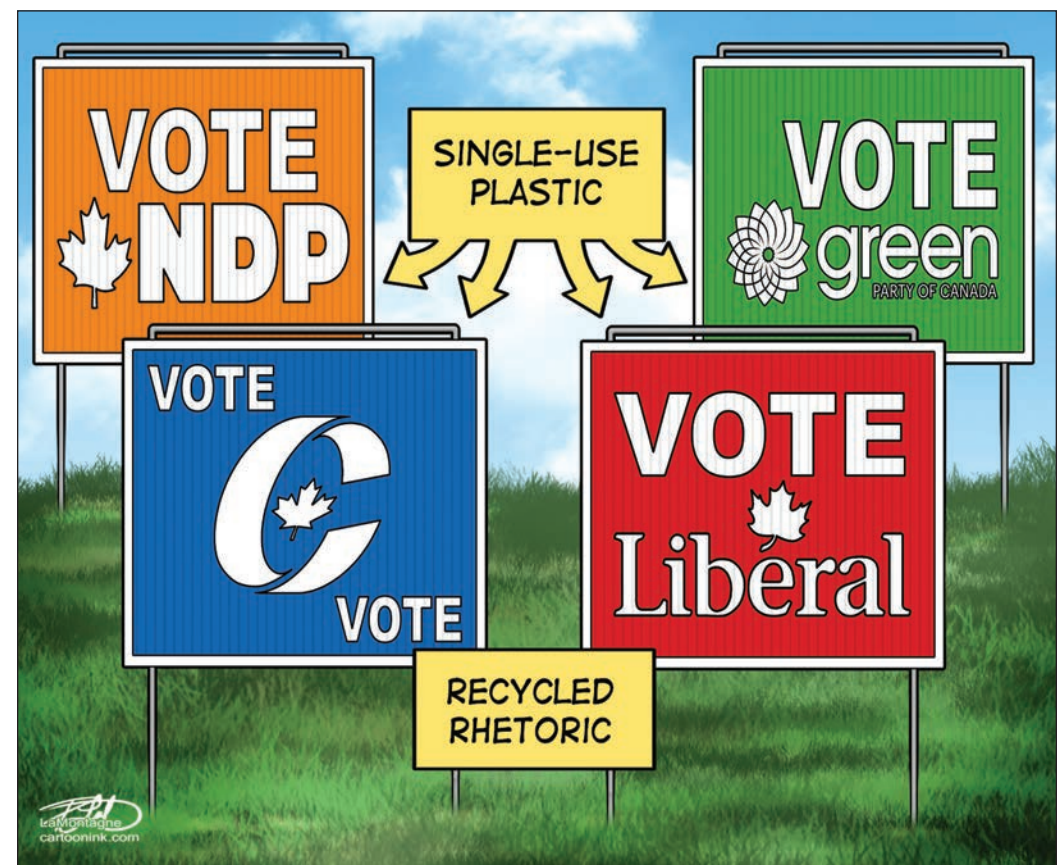

You know that people fought, went to prison and died so that Canadian women and men could select their governments. Think of the millions of people in Hong Kong who continue to demonstrate for the rights you have and take for granted. If you choose not to vote, then how would you explain this choice to them? Or to your children?

Did you know that, for the first time ever, there will be more Millennials eligible to vote than Boomers? That could certainly bring about change! Save your voter's card, locate your poll, consider your options and VOTE! It only takes a few minutes and you could even turn it into a learning opportunity for your children. No need for a babysitter!

Thank you to those who regularly vote. Thank you to those for whom this will be their very first time. Thank you to the dedicated citizens who offer themselves to serve us all in Parliament.

I am thankful that I live in this Canadian democracy, warts and all.

Susan Beharriell

I come in different shapes and sizes. You can put me anywhere, but there is only one right place for me. What am I?

EV on the campaign trail

By Keith Beckley

While I closely follow and engage in politics at all levels, I have never really been involved in the nitty gritty of a campaign except for knocking on a few doors in King Township for municipal elections.

So I was surprised when I was contacted to see if I would be willing to be Green Party leader Elizabeth May's driver in a fully electric car (walking the talk as they say). Since I am fortunate to own a Tesla Model X (an SUV) my name came up. Sounded like a fun opportunity. I had no idea what to expect.

Tighten your seat belt because this is how the day went.

Elizabeth and 2 of her main campaign staff started at 6 a.m. with a CBC interview in Guelph. This was followed by a policy announcement at the University of Waterloo. It was then back to Guelph to boost the local candidate at a street-corner rally. Back in the car (which had now been transformed into an office) we headed to Gravenhurst to have in-person interviews with CTV and a reporter from the New York Times who is doing a profile on Ms. May. A visit to the local candidate's offices to meet the volunteers then a 2-hour rally at the packed Muskoka Discovery Center, concluding with a standing ovation, ended the public-facing day.

A long drive back to Pearson airport to drop Elizabeth and the staff off at 10:30 p.m. to be ready for their early morning flights to Winnipeg concluded my long day (although they all indicated they would be working in their hotel rooms until past midnight). Frankly it was amazing to see. I am in awe of how hard the staff and candidate worked. There was no down time. Meals were brief to non-existent.

During the drives between events they were planning future events, phoning reporters to correct the record (Elizabeth is adamant that what she says is right and what others say about her and the party is fair), phoning radio hosts to do live on-air interviews, and calling print reporters to do interviews. More often than not all three were on one of their 2 phones. Elizabeth seems to know everyone in politics or the media. A couple of times Elizabeth or staff were alerted to some bad press and they would scramble to understand what was written and why.

The Greens have been at all-time highs in the polls and that has garnered the ire of the other parties.

I do not think many of us have any idea how hard this job is and how much fortitude it takes to put one's name forward as a candidate. Well thought-out responses to, frankly, any issue that might be asked, is the lowest bar. Health care, public debt, climate change, foreign relations - you name it - they need to know it. But that is the easy stuff - how about lack of train service in the riding of Muskoka, local mining initiatives in Sudbury, or support for the tech industry in Waterloo? Better have answers to the local problems, too.

Everyone I met from Elizabeth on down to the man whose job it was to put up signs in Gravenhurst, were passionate about Canada and the importance of public participation. I cannot of course speak directly for all the leaders, but I can say that if they are even half as hardworking as Elizabeth, they are harder working than I am. This passion and energy is of course found in all parties but the 65-year-old Ms. May was a stark reminder of the dedication of many that represent us.

In cynical times it is easy to gripe about politicians (although what other year in the history of humanity would you rather be alive?) and our public discourse. This day left me feeling elated.

If people are this willing to be engaged and passionate about Canada and the world, I can only feel good about that. These are not normal lives of eating, working, playing and watching Netflix that the majority of us do day to day. If you ever see them, disagree or not with what they stand for, thank your local politician for their service.

I feel I am now ready to fly the plane or drive the for bus for the other parties!

Proposal for cluster townhomes needs revision

By Mark Pavilons

A proposal for a cluster of townhouses in King City needs more work, according to King councillors and staff.

P. Rotundo Enterprises an Official Plan and zoning amendments to permit 12 freehold townhomes, at the corner of King Road and King Boulevard.

The plan is to build two blocks of townhouses with six units each, measuring three storeys high. They also plan to create a private road off of King Blvd, ideally to stretch into a neighbouring project.

The .84 acre property borders the King City Public School and a residential site at 1986 King Road. Just east is the new King City Library, currently being built. The site is across the road from King City Secondary School.

The main concern, from Township planners and residents, is whether this project and its increase in density, is appropriate.

While word has it that the adjacent property at 1986 King Road will host a similar development, nothing concrete has been received by the Township.

Joanna Fast, of Evans Planning, representing the applicant, noted King City's village core will transform significantly in the next few years and this proposal is in keeping with the changes taking place.

The concept drawing presented shows a modern, flat-roof complex with driveway access to the internal private road.

Councillor Jordan Cescolini said this design doesn't seem to fit in with the traditional look of King City. He wanted the proponents to consider another design.

Councillor Debbie Schaefer, too, would like a more "heritage" look to the design. Because it's facing King Road, "it has to be done well," Schaefer pointed out.

She said that collaboration with the adjacent property owner is a good way to proceed. She's also worried that too much is being squeeze into this lot.

"I think we can do better," Cescolin observed, urging the applicant to come back to council with something more appropriate.

A King Boulevard resident was concerned with traffic in the area, especially that coming from the public school. This project will compound the already busy area.

An Alex Campbell Crescent resident agreed, noting they can't handle the existing traffic.

Staff noted a transportation study was prepared to evaluate the potential impacts of the proposed project on the local road network. The report noted there shouldn't be any queuing concerns with regards to vehicles traveling too and from the elementary school.

A noise feasibility study was also submitted, noting mitigation measures will be needed to reduce the noise from King Road traffic and the nearby rail line.

One more commented that King City is going through an "identity crisis" and wanted to know the end vision the Township has in mind for the village.

Another resident said the Township should limit growth and restrict projects, keeping them within established guidelines.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini stressed King isn't growing out of a control. The Official Plan clearly states that King's population will hit just under 35,000 through 2031. Councillors have long supported a mix of housing types, especially more affordable units for those who wish to stay in the community.

Bruce Craig, on behalf of Concerned Citizens of King Township (CCKT) said they, too, have supported a variety of housing options.

Each of the 12 units will have two parking spaces, one in the garage, and one in the driveway.

Some residents note this isn't enough and the mayor agreed that parking is always a concern throughout King.

Staff believe this site is well suited for a "more intense" form of development. Many local amenities are within walking distance of the complex.

Staff is encouraging the applicant to coordinate efforts with the owners of 1986 King Road, to provide for a better internal road network and perhaps explore more options considering the larger site.

Annual Sip & Savour fundraiser offers a taste of Rio

This year's Sip & Savour fundraiser, in support of the King Township Food Bank, welcomes you to Rio de Janeiro.

Experience Brazil at Nobleton Lakes on Thursday, Oct. from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Come to Rio and enjoy a Noite Carioca of bright sights, lively sounds and both sweet and savoury bites, including traditional feijoada, bolinhas de queijo and a variety of pastéis. Beverages of many kinds are available; a cash bar only for alcoholic drinks.

In addition to food and drinks, guests can enjoy a hint of South American atmosphere with live performers, beautiful décor and a stellar Mercado featuring something for everyone – from fine art to fine experiences. You can also have a complimentary photo taken by professional photographer Lisa Pace in front of a scenic backdrop of Christ the Redeemer statue. Meet friends in front of the breathtaking view of Copacabana Beach or the Escolas de Samba and experience a street party in the spirit of Carnaval.

The evening's festivities include Mayor Pellegrini as Honorary Chair, Mark Pavilons as Master of Ceremonies and David Beasley as auctioneer, who is once again volunteering his considerable talents for the live auction. Upon arrival, you will be greeted by King firefighters as they open the doors, literally, to "King's Cocktail Party of the Year."

Sip & Savour, the King Food Bank's iconic annual fundraiser, is important to the annual raising of $80,000 needed to support about 200 people every month with a week's worth of non-perishable groceries, cards to help purchase perishables, fresh produce and kibble for pets. Perhaps unique in Canada, the King Township Food Bank offers food cards as an option to those who prefer to select food items directly.

Tickets are $50 each, available online at www.ktfb.ca or at the following outlets: The Grackle Coffee Company in Schomberg, Humber Valet Cleaners in King City, Dorio's Kettleby Bakery in Kettleby Village, and Pharmasave in Nobleton.

This year, the Food Bank is happy to announce Owen and Lynda Rogers as the Presenting Sponsor, the highest level of support for Sip & Savour. The Food Bank also acknowledges York Energy Centre, again a Diamond Sponsor, and notes that all signs point to an unprecedented number of Platinum Sponsors.

Some sponsorships are still available and donations of auction prizes are most welcome. Call KTFB president Carol Ann Trabert at 416-559-7898 if you want to talk about Sip & Savour.

Honorary Sip & Savour chair Mayor Pellegrini, is one of the first to buy tickets to this year's Sip & Savour, is showing his support for the spirit of the Brazilian theme.

ASK holds AGM

King resident lends support to campaign

By Mark Pavilons

A King philanthropist and designer joined a star-studded cast to launch a unique awareness campaign.

Joan Kelly Walker was among 16 top Canadian designers paying tribute to the Legends of Fashion, and their influence on the world of design. All designs, worn by runway models, were crafted in luxuriously soft Cashmere Bathroom Tissue.

Curated by Canadian-born, L.A.-based fashion authority, and TV personality, Joe Zee, the exclusive, invite only event was hosted by CTV News anchor Marcia MacMillan and featured a moving performance by award-winning Canadian singer and breast cancer survivor Bif Naked, in addition to the spectacular runway show.

The annual kick-off to October Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the Cashmere Collection has showcased close to 200 Canadian designers to date and has raised millions of dollars for the breast cancer cause throughout its 16 years.

This year's collection honours The Legends of Fashion — the elegant, bold and forward-thinking designers who pushed boundaries and forever changed the way we wear clothes. Dior, Valentino, Yamamoto are just three of the big names who inspired this year's designers.

Joan Kelley Walker's creation was inspired by Stephan Caras.

The annual Cashmere Collection heralds the return of limited-edition Cashmere Bathroom Tissue in support of breast cancer efforts. Twenty-five cents from the sale of every specially-marked package (up to a maximum of $35,000) goes directly towards breast cancer efforts at the Canadian Cancer Society, throughout the month of October.

Canadians are also invited to help Cashmere make a difference, by taking part in Vote Couture for the Cure® at Facebook.com/Cashmere throughout October. Cashmere will donate $1 for every vote (to a maximum of $10,000), to the CCS's breast cancer efforts in the winning designer's name. Voters can return daily through Oct. 26 to be entered into a draw for the chance to win a shopping spree valued at $1,500.

"The Cashmere Collection encourages Canadian fashion design while providing much-needed support to a worthy cause that we are proud to put our mark behind," said Nancy Marcus, chief marketing officer at Kruger Products. "Raising awareness and funds for breast cancer research is integral to this initiative and we are delighted to be among the top five partners supporting the breast cancer cause at the Canadian Cancer Society."

Lodge invites public to open house, child ID program

By Mark Pavilons

The historic Masonic Lodge in Schomberg is welcoming the public to a special event.

The Lodge will hold an open house and MASONiChIP program Saturday, Oct. 19 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Lodge is located at 107 Main Street Schomberg.

The program, free to parents and guardians, is a way to collect pertinent information about children. The packages and kits given to parents contain a host of useful information, but hopes are you will never need it.

The ID program takes roughly 15 minutes and includes digital finger prints, photos, video, DNA swab and basic info. All of the data is burned onto a CD and given to parents, the Masons do not keep any of the data or information. The kit is for parents' peace of mind and could prove valuable in case of an emergency.

A missing child is every parent's worst nightmare. It's estimated that more than 40,000 children go missing each year in Canada. The majority are found or returned safe.

For the MASONiChIP program, the suggested age range is 3 to 16 and also includes seniors with dementia. For the elderly, the Masons ask that appointments be made.

For more, drop in during the open house, or email Mason George Burt at cdnoble@rogers.com

Local candidates talk taxation, debt and deficit

Raney pointed out the Greens are concerned about the future and jobs, not just the environment. Global economies are shifting towards renewable and sustainable systems. It's "late in the game," so the government has to "do everything" to address the climate emergency.

Bernardo-Ciddio said there's no one policy to fix the environment. Improving public transit, education and supporting green energy all improve the economy and the environment.

Schulte defended the carbon tax, noting we have to put a "price on pollution" to reduce emissions. The Liberals have introduced climate action incentives and they're phasing out coal.

Roberts countered that the carbon tax is making life more expensive for average Canadians, without punishing the big polluters. The Conservatives will push for green technology, green tax credits and green innovations.

The Chamber asked candidates to comment on infrastructure spending and what their parties plan to do.

Bernardo-Ciddio said the NDP fully support increasing access to broadband Internet across the country, especially in rural areas.

Schulte said the feds have made historic investments in infrastructure, including transit, water, waste water systems and, at the same time, strengthening ties with municipalities.

Raney noted infrastructure is critical, but the Liberals "failed us" and delayed major projects. Gridlock is a major problem today and we have to make transit more affordable and accessible, she said. The Greens vow to contribute 1% of HST revenue to municipalities to help offset infrastructure costs.

The Chamber wanted to know whether the parties plan to change taxation in this country.

Schulte reiterated that the Liberals have lowered the small business taxes and have made measures to simplify the tax system. They want the tax system to be fair across the board, and they will also close loopholes.

Roberts pointed out that small business simply can't afford current tax levels and government imposed regulations that saw increases to CPP and EI. The carbon tax, too, has added another burden.

Raney said the Greens favour removing taxes on everyday essentials and added them to other areas. The party has a fully costed platform and they also favour closing capital gains tax loopholes.

Bernardo-Ciddio said we're already paying too much and we shouldn't be punished by more taxes. Taxing the wealthy and large corporations, he said, isn't punishment.

The organizers opened the floor to questions from the public, which generated a productive discussion.

One man pointed out he moved here from Hamilton and now pays twice as much in rent. He wanted to know what the parties will do to improve affordable housing.

Roberts said she has a financial background and the Conservatives will revamp the stress test for homebuyers, as well as stretch the amortization period to 30 years.

The Greens want more affordable housing and Raney said they encourage converting existing housing to rental units. They also vow to give students a break on their debt payments, which will help them afford apartments.

Bernardo-Ciddio said he feels for young people and the NDP will increase the stock of affordable housing. The key, he said, is also in providing well paid jobs to allow people to afford the cost of living.

The Liberals, Schulte said, are putting measures in place to increase affordable housing. She acknowledged that people are stretched.

A balanced budget is on the minds of residents and one man wanted to know how the parties will address our debt.

Bernardo-Ciddio said we're a wealthy nation and fair taxation will strengthen the economy.

Schulte said the Liberals have put more money in the pockets of middle income earners and that stimulates the economy. They're making key investments and always keeping an eye on reducing the deficit.

Roberts said taxing corporations will only reduce jobs and politicians have to be accountable and live within our means. The Conservatives will find efficiencies to reduce the debt.

Raney said the Green platform will see a surplus by 2022-23.

One resident wanted to know what happened to electoral reform, a promise broken by the Trudeau Liberals.

Schulte said they held consultation sessions across the country and the consensus from the public was to keep the status quo.

Roberts pointed out in private corporations if you make promises to the shareholders, you have to keep them. Politicians have to be accountable.

Raney said the Greens have long felt there's too much power in the Prime Minister's Office and they would allow MPs to vote without toeing the party line. The Greens "won't whip the vote," she said, adding they will change what they see as undemocratic processes.

Bernardo-Ciddio said you can't have electoral reform when there's a 39% voter turnout for elections. The key is better education and an emphasis on encouraging the public to participate much more. We can't focus on democracy when "we're focussed on paying bills and fighting to survive."

A question of ethics and conduct had the candidates agree that politicians have to be held to higher standards.

Roberts said some of the prime minister's conduct has been unacceptable. The Conservatives vow to implement the No More Cover Up Act, which brings back accountability and transparency.

The Greens place a great deal of importance on the integrity of their MPs and leader.

Arthritis:
New Approach
Delivers
Remarkable Results

If you suffer from Arthritis you need to be aware of effective advancements that can eliminate years of pain, suffering, immobility and frustration.

You may have told your doctor you suffer with one or more of the following: sore, stiff knees, painful achy hips, low back pain, mid back pain, neck stiffness or pain, hand stiffness, shoulder pain or elbow pain.

You may find that your pain or stiffness affects your work, housekeeping, leisure activities, exercise, sports or other activities. You go to the drug store or to your doctor and get pills to help relieve your pain. But you find the pain keeps returning. Alternatively, the doctor may refer you to a specialist who may tell you that surgery is needed or is an option for you.

However, many people are hesitant to have surgery given its invasive nature. It is important to know that although surgery is sometimes necessary, it is considered a last resort in most cases.

Also, you may have heard that there are serious health risks associated with chronic use (or overuse) of pain pills or anti-inflammatory drugs that include damage to the liver, kidneys and gut.

There is a new, natural, safe and highly effective approach that has helped many sufferers improve their lives dramatically: Laser therapy uses light to favor and accelerate the body's natural healing processes. The innovative Multiwave Locked System (MLS) Laser produces a safe, efficient and simultaneous effect on pain, inflammation, swelling and water retention, exceeding the limits of traditional LLLT (Low power) and concerns of HP (High power) laser therapy.

What does this mean for you?

Our patients have reported a 90-95% relief of their symptoms, more mobility, increased flexibility and vastly improved function!

It is the very latest in medical technology, with years of clinical studies supporting its safety and efficacy and we are very proud to offer our patients effective solutions to their recent or chronic conditions.

York students outperform peers

By Mark Pavilons

Students in York Region schools are taking their homework seriously. Results released by the Education Quality and Accountability Office (EQAO) show that York students continue to outperform provincial averages in the province-wide testing.

At the high school level of the York Region District School, of the 8,783 Grade 10 students who wrote the 2019 Ontario Secondary School Literacy Test (OSSLT) for the first time, 89% were successful, compared with an average success rate of 80% among all school districts across Ontario.

For the Grade 9 mathematics assessment, 90% of York Region public secondary students in the "Academic" stream and 45% of students in the "Applied" stream achieved the provincial standard. This compares with a provincial average of 84% of "Academic" stream students and 44% of "Applied" stream students who achieved the standard.

"We are pleased to see our students continue to perform above the provincial average. Through our new Multi-Year Strategic Plan, our board of trustees demonstrate our commitment to student success," said Corrie McBain, chair of the York Region District School Board. "YRDSB continues to focus on student achievement and well-being."

"Along with other classroom assessment and student demographic data collected from our Every Student Counts Survey, we will use EQAO data to help us better meet the needs of our underserved and underperforming students," said Louise Sirisko, director of education, York Region District School Board.

The OSSLT has been administered each year since 2002 by the EQAO. Passing the test or alternatively, the Ontario Secondary School Literacy Course, is a requirement for high school graduation.

The trend is also evident among York Catholic school students.

The OSSLT showed these students outpace their provincial peers in all areas of testing.

"We are very proud of our students and staff for the high level of achievement they consistently demonstrate throughout the school year," said Ab

Falconi, YCDSB director of education. "We also recognize the role that EQAO scores play in the overall assessment of our students; providing additional data to assist York Catholic in achieving its commitment to continuous improvement of student achievement, as outlined in our Multi-Year Strategic Plan."

Writing continues to be a strong area of achievement at YCDSB, especially in Grade 6, with 91 per cent of Grade 6 students meeting or exceeding the provincial standard, compared to 82 per cent provincially. Grade 9 applied math increased 6 per cent over the previous year and Grade 9 academic math made a modest gain to end up 4 per cent ahead of the provincial average.

"EQAO assessments provide a snapshot of all of the wonderful work that takes place in our schools every day," noted Dominic Mazzotta, board chair. "Thank you to our educators, students and parents for taking a faith-filled and values-driven approach to their ongoing commitment to improving student achievement."

Grade 3, 6 and 9 EQAO results reflect the average of all students who met or exceeded provincial expectations, including those students who provided no data due to absence, medical reasons, etc.

In 2019, 97 per cent of 3,490 Grade 3 students, and 98 per cent of 3,898 Grade 6 students participated in the EQAO assessment.

At the secondary level, 99 per cent of the 3,571 students enrolled in academic math courses who were eligible to take the Grade 9 EQAO Math Test participated, and 98 per cent of the 739 students enrolled in applied math courses who were eligible to take the test participated.

For the Grade 10 Literacy Test, 98 per cent of the 4,083 students who were eligible to take the test for the first time fully participated in the assessment. Successful completion of the OSSLT (or the Ontario Secondary School Literacy Course) is one of the 32 requirements students must meet to graduate and obtain a high school diploma.

Additional information about the 2019 EQAO and OSSLT results, including individual school results, are available on the York Catholic District School Board website, www.ycdsb.ca

green
PARTY OF CANADA

DID YOU KNOW?

- 1 The Green Party plans to bring the budget to balance by 2023.
- 2 The Green Party's fully costed and reviewed budget by the PBO. They sent details of 23 items that were then costed by the Parliamentary Budget Office more than any other party. The NDP had the PBO cost only 3 of their budget items.
- 3 The Greens were the only party in 2015 that had a plan and discussed the costs and problems that a universal single-payer pharmacare would solve.
- 4 Currently, the Canadian electrical grid has 64.5% of it produced by renewable energy and 80.5% is generated emissions-free. At this time then, only 19.5% of it has to switch to renewable energy and as the Greens plan, should we build an east-west energy grid, hydro-rich provinces like Manitoba and Quebec can then easily share their excess energy with neighbouring Canadian provinces. Over time, 100% of the energy grid in Canada would become renewable energy. Because the source of renewable energy is free (sun, wind, tide, earth's crust temperature, etc), electricity produced this way is much cheaper.
- 5 Changing our society to a low then a no emissions economy will not be difficult or even noticeable for most Canadians. There must be great care taken to ensure job security for those in the fossil fuel industry but most everyone in King-Vaughan will feel the benefits of cleaner air, faster, safer, more efficient public transit, plugging in a car instead of filling the tank, cheaper electricity, and more efficiently heated homes, food that is locally grown will be more available, where possible, there will be walking and cycling infrastructure to get to local markets and transit or just to town, there will be quiet and clean electric buses in rural areas.....and the economy will be in step with the fossil fuel free global economy, with Canada's innovation and businesses taking full advantage of the fast growing markets and demands.
- 6 The Greens carbon pricing plan is called Carbon Fee and Dividend and it is revenue neutral to the government. A carbon fee is levied at the source (well head, mine, or port of entry) and the money collected is then divided evenly to all Canadians and returned to them by a cheque. This plan may be revenue neutral to the government but it will disproportionately benefit lower income Canadians and compensate any increase in costs passed on to individual Canadians as consumers. This is a market driven system to encourage a cleaner economy and has been touted by leading economists as the most efficient and effective way to move industry and businesses away from fossil fuels. It would have been better of course to have implemented such a system decades ago and move slowly and gently, however we are up against a tight timeline which has been determined by global science and thus other methods such as regulation and public spending will have to be implemented to meet the window of opportunity to save a liveable future for our children...It bears repeating that the Greens plan for a balanced budget in 2023.
- 7 The Green Party and its candidates like Ann Raney here in King-Vaughan, are totally committed to protecting the environment, Canadians, our economy, and working together to do so. Greens also recognize Canada's commitments on the world stage. Some years ago, Canada committed to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals of which there are 17. The Green Party Platform identifies those goals throughout their platform. Eliminating poverty is just one of them. Poverty is costly both economically and in human cost. Canada is a rich first world nation and our governments have committed to eliminating poverty in Canada several times. It is difficult to summarise all the details of the Greens' plan that address the environment, affordability, fair taxes, indigenous peoples, jobs and training, etc PLEASE GO TO kvgreens.ca or greenparty.ca AND READ ABOUT OUR DETAILED PLATFORM IDEAS and OUR BUDGET VOTE FOR ANN RANEY PEng CANDIDATE FOR KING-VAUGHAN

Annual Holland Marsh Soupfest draws a huge crowd

The annual Holland Marsh Soupfest welcomed fall, and roughly 3,000 visitors to the annual harvest festival. For soup-lovers, it was an amazing opportunity to sample home-made soups from locally grown, locally harvested fresh produce. The event was sponsored by the Holland Marsh Growers Association, Township of King, Town of Bradford. Mayor Steve Pellegrini was tops, winning the honours for his carrot soup. "The Strange Potatoes" once again provided the musical entertainment. Soupfest also included almost two dozen vendors, from local service clubs to dance groups.

Crucifix restored at church

St. Patrick's Parish, Schomberg, under the thoughtful direction of their Pastor, Fr. Ignacio Pinedo, continue to slowly restore their century old church as a place of gathering for worship and community. Most recently local artist and parishioner, Dorothy H. Tomaszewski embarked on the restoration of the crucifix located above the main altar.

The process involved some repair work, priming the plaster and then painting the corpus in a realistic style. The research and slow and meticulous work brought the cross back to its original appearance.

With great anticipation and excitement, the pastor and church community celebrated the unveiling on Sunday Sept. 21, during all the masses.

Cougars beat up on Siskins for second straight win

By Jake Courtepatte

The roller coaster rolls on for the Schomberg Cougars, who broke a four-game losing streak over the weekend with a pair of lopsided victories.

The Junior C club picked up four points over the Orillia Terriers and the Stayner Siskins to move to a .500 record, early on in the Provincial Junior Hockey League season.

Six different Schomberg players got on the board on Thursday at the Trisan Centre, in a 6-3 win over Orillia. Brandon Cohen put Schomberg up early on the power play in the second minute, before Harris Goan and Matthew Wadge put the game fairly out of reach before the end of the first period.

Quinn Godfrey added a marker with the extra man of his own, while Spencer Ripley and Connor Childerhose also found the back of the net.

Nico Fekete was the goaltender between the pipes for the Cougars, picking up his second win of the season in stopping 33 of the 36 shots he faced.

Nicolas Porretta earned his second victory of the year as well in Sunday's match-up, a 7-3 blowout on the road of the powerhouse Stayner Siskins. The win moved both goalies to a 2-2 record, giving Porretta his first win since mid-September.

Owen Heilleman was given first star of the game honours, picking up a hat trick by the early goings of the second period. Ripley, Cameron Kokelj, and Anthony Roberts also beat Stayner goaltender Jacob Augimeri, before Vito Sica buried a late empty netter.

An up and down season for the Cougars has Schomberg sitting at a 4-4-0-0 record through the early goings, tied for third place in the eight-team Carruthers division with eight points. They sit two back of both the Siskins and the Penetang Kings, who lead the way with five wins so far.

One home game and one road game await the Cougars on this week's schedule, set to host the Caledon Golden Hawks on Thursday, who sit a game back of Schomberg in the standings. Puck drop is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Trisan Centre.

The Cougars will then head to the New Tecumseth Rec Centre on Friday evening to visit the Alliston Hornets, winners of three of their six games so far this season.

For stats, schedules, and more information, visit www.jrccougars.pointstreaksites.com.

Schomberg's Jonathan Calleja (white) watches Stayner goalie Jacob Augimeri cover the puck in the Cougars' 7-3 win over the Siskins on Sunday.

York9's Kyle Porter (right) looks to take the ball from Forge FC's Kyle Bekker in York9's 1-0 loss to Forge on Sunday.

York9 FC fail to solve Forge in match

By Jake Courtepatte

Bragging rights will remain with Hamilton as kings of the 905.

The most recent iteration of the bitter rivalry between the York9 FC and Hamilton's Forge FC squads, come to be known as "the 905 Derby," saw Forge walk away with a 1-0 clean sheet in front of a home crowd at Tim Hortons Field on Sunday.

It was enough to secure Forge's spot at the top of the Canadian Premier League rankings in their third straight win, while York picked up their first loss since mid-September.

"I thought my guys did a good job today," said York9 head coach Jim Brennan after the match. "Every day we've got to keep building. Getting stronger and better. And I think we're on the right track. We've been playing some good football, the guys are working harder, but obviously we're disappointed today."

It wasn't until the 70th minute when the game's only goal found the back of the net, following a controversial penalty call on York's Diyaeddine Abzi. Abzi's forearm made contact with the ball on a blocked shot in the box, prompting Forge's Tristan Borges to take the penalty kick, where he beat keeper Nathan Ingham on an incorrect guess.

Brennan said his team "definitely had (their) chances."

Perhaps the best came in injury time in the second half, when York9 was given a penalty chance of their own after Rodrigo Gattas was hauled down in the box on a free kick. Gattas stepped up to the line for his team's last chance, though he sent the ball wide before the final whistle was blown.

While Forge has been able to make a name for themselves in the CPL's inaugural season, keeping their spot at the top of the table while moving to a 3-0-1 record against the York squad, York9's debut has been nothing short of a roller coaster: stints at both the top and bottom of the standings ladder have averaged out to a record of 5-8-2, good enough for fourth spot in the seven team fall competition.

Heading into the final week of the CPL schedule, York will have three more chances to send their record to the .500 level, beginning with a hosting of Forge at York Lions Stadium this Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

King football players lead North squad over top Americans

On a wing and a prayer: it took a final play Hail Mary pass for Football North of Mississauga to earn a 41-40 victory over the no. 4 ranked St. Ignatius of Ohio, an upset that went down in Cleveland in a battle of Canada versus the United States.

With just six seconds remaining on the game clock and lined up on the 50-yard line, Football North quarterback Quincy Vaughn dropped back into the pocket and waited for his receivers to hit the end zone, where he heaved up a pass to Nate Demontagnac to tie the game at 40 points apiece.

It was King native Zach Frustaglio, with ice in his veins yet not fazed by the home crowd trying to ice him themselves, who kicked the extra point to finish off the biggest win in the history of any high school football program in Canada.

"Going into this game, we expected a battle, considering we lost the last two contests to them," said Frustaglio, adding that St. Ignatius has developed their fair share of NCAA Division I players throughout the years.

"We had nothing to lose, and it happened so fast you really don't have much time to think, and the football gods were on our side and we tied it up. For me, kicking the game-winning point was just like kicking any other point, you put your head down, keep your eye on the ball, hope that the snapper and the ball holder do their job, and just kick...even though I could hear the crowd of the home team."

Knocking off the fourth-ranked team in the state, winners of 11 state championships, and 28th-ranked team in the entire nation, Frustaglio said was "the greatest feeling ever."

On the other side of the ball for Football North was fellow King native Adrian Facciponte, who posted eight tackles in a stellar performance on defense. Both Frustaglio and Facciponte spent three years with the Vaughan Rebels, before joining the Football North program two years ago.

"Adrian is a fierce competitor, a true leader, and captain of our defensive line," said Frustaglio. "(He) motivates you and pushed you every day to be the best you can be."

Curlers sweep into new season

By Shellee Morning

Curling in King got well under way this past week as the 2019-20 season regular league play began. Once again the echoes of hurry hard took over the sheets beginning with the Monday night Men's league.

The roster includes 19 teams, a few new ones and some that decided to conceal their true identity in giving themselves a team name. Under an assumed name this year are The Barbarians, skipped by Dave Barber along with Dan Steenhoek, Greg Switzer and Peter Kamstra who managed to collect a win in their opening game. The Rock Stars, led by veteran Ian Broadhurst and his team of Enzo Gianfrancesco, Mathew Turniff and Val Koncan found the win column, as well as The Sweep Dogs of Fraser MacDonald, Sean Bush, Jordan Dunlap, and David Chauvin. Master George Gerrits, Chris Welch, Al Courneya and Rick Ahle are now known as the Quick Draws as they drew to the button for win number one in their season opener.

Other winners included teams Boynton, Davis, Inglis, Livingstone and Scott.

The Diva league started their ladies night with excitement and a true energy that quickly spread rink wide. Ten teams complete this year's roster as they welcomed new comers Amy Smith, Sarah Parker-Sheehan, Beth Pugliese, Alexandra Von Drasek, Debbie Holmes, Michelle Switzer and Kathryn Markle. Tuesday Ladies also welcome Kimberly Battershell and Cindy Phillips back to the league. All four sheets went back and forth exchanging points making opening night competitive and fun.

Team winners in game one were Oakley, Fraser, and Sinclair while Groen and Davis swept to a tie.

Seventeen teams filled the Thursday Mixed Team Entry League as they welcome new and returning members for what is anticipated to be another thrilling season of hits, draws and rolls.

The early draw began with close games on all 4 sheets with a turning point mid-way for teams Morning, Lee, Gerrits, and Broad who pulled ahead for victory. The late draw was just as exciting with some very big score-boards. New to the league is Team Inglis who easily won their opener, as well as a strong finish for teams Quick, and Steenhoek.

Team Sheardown played to a tie with last year's league champion Team Barber.

Remembering Mike O'Hara

The King Curling Club is with heavy hearts this week with the passing of one of its long-time members Mike O'Hara.

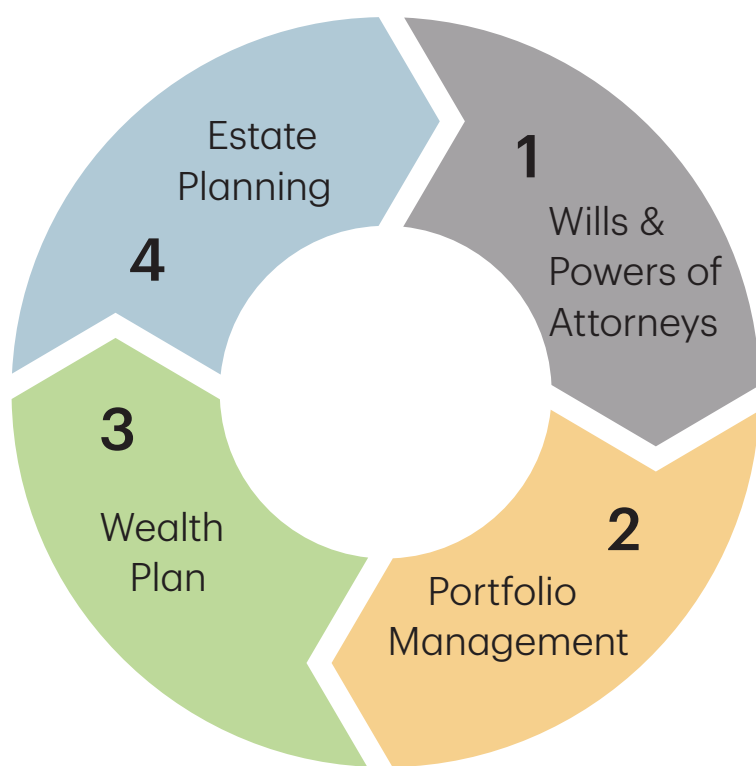

Mike was a member of the original Schomberg Curling Club for many years, and then as a member of the now King Curling Club. A legend in his own way, Mike was a Wednesday night social league curler who always had a story and brought smiles to all those that knew him. One night during the Schomberg curling club days, Mike remarked about a blister on his hand, and duly noted that it was from his spectacular sweeping skills. The comment from that day forward earned him the nickname "Blister."

A farmer at heart and a very special person to all in the community, Mike will be truly missed. The King Curling Club executive and members offer their deepest sympathy to his wife Bonnie and his entire family. We tip our brooms in memory of a great friend and colleague. Hurry hard my friend.

Question:

How do I know that Hospice is right for me?

Answer:

“When I meet patients for the first time I will often have to explain what palliative care is.

It is not about death or dying, it is about life or living. It is a philosophy in care for someone who is at the most vulnerable part of his or her life. The goal is to ensure that his or her quality of life is maintained or even improved, free of pain or discomfort as much as possible, be it physical, emotional or spiritual, through impeccable assessment, management of symptoms given by an interdisciplinary team.

“I ask my patients to [imagine the future]: What kind of care they would like when their own time would come? Most would tell me they would like to be kept as comfortable as can be and die peacefully in their homes, if possible. However, they also tell me although they do not fear death, what they fear the most is what happens before they do?”

‘Will there be pain? Will I become a burden to my family? Will I be remembered? How will I be remembered?’

Patients do not want to leave a lasting memory of hardship to their spouses or children. They would not want their loved ones to go through enormous stress and burnout about caring for them at home.”

And that is where the Margaret Bahen Hospice comes in.

The story of Jokers Hill presented at talk

By Mark Pavilons

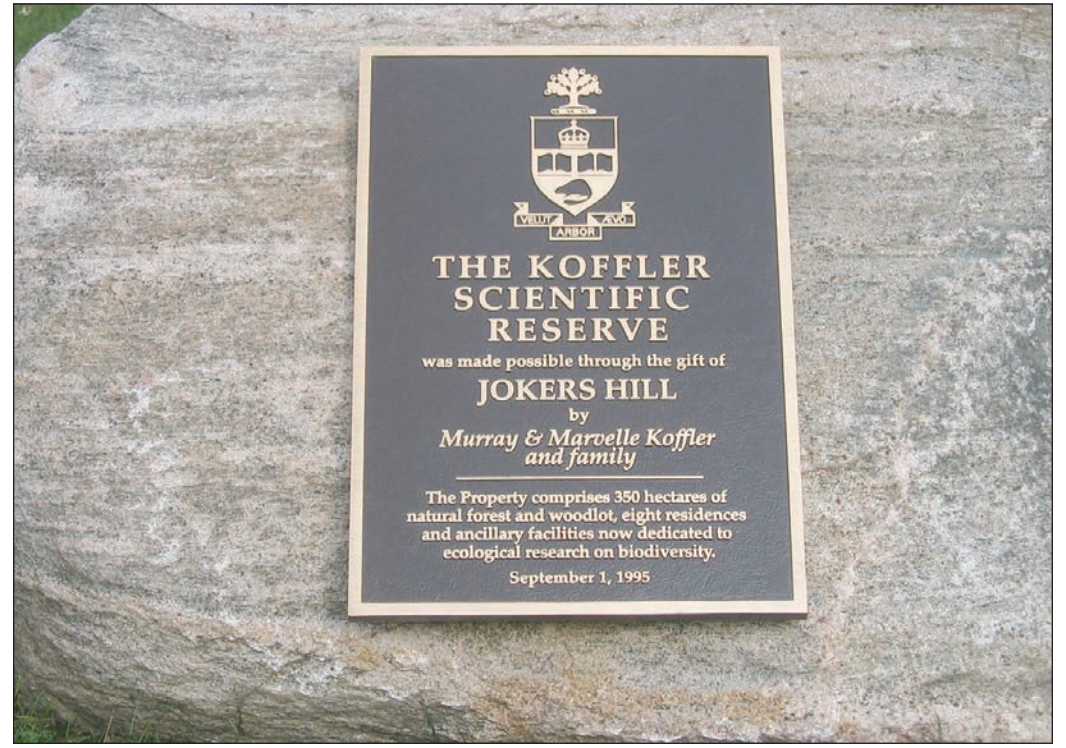

King's rich history stretches back almost 150 years.

Part of that richness comes from Jokers Hill, a former equestrian estate and now part of the University of Toronto's Koffler Scientific Reserve.

This former estate once welcomed the likes of Prince Philip, Princess Margaret, Pierre and Margaret Trudeau.

Dr. Art Weis, former director of the reserve, will present a talk on this site's unique history. The event will be held Saturday, Oct. 19 from 2 to 4 p.m. at Hogan's Inn on Keele Street in King City. Presented by the King Township Historical Society, tickets are $20 for members, $22 for non-members. They are available at the King Heritage and Cultural Centre. Or you can call Richard at 647-987-7955.

In 1995, Drs. Murray and Marvella Koffler donated their 350-hectare equestrian estate, Jokers Hill, to U of T. The gift made the university one of the largest landowners on the Oak Ridges Moraine – and steward of a site of regional, provincial and national significance.

al significance.

The value of King's Koffler Scientific Reserve is apparent, and the facility is quickly becoming one of the leading research centres in North America.

The Koffler Scientific Reserve at Jokers Hill hosts research in ecology, evolution, genetics, environmental science and cognate areas of study. Principal investigators are normally affiliated with an accredited university in Canada or abroad, or with a governmental ministry. Applications for use from private corporations and community organizations are also considered.

The site is poised for a much-needed expansion and they're in the planning stages for the coming 10 years of progress. Dr. Weis stressed they need to build the proper infrastructure – buildings, residences, kitchen facilities – to house the influx of researchers. They also require apartments for families, who call the reserve their home for months at a time. When complete, Dr. Weis said the planned buildings will actually occupy a smaller footprint than the current structures.

Local man charged in illegal grow-op

By Mark Pavilons

A local man is among several charged in an illegal cannabis grow-op in King Township.

Investigators with the York Regional Police Organized Crime Bureau – Guns, Gangs and Drug Enforcement Unit, have charged three people and seized more than $4.7 million dollars in illegal cannabis in connection with a grow operation operated by organized crime.

In July 2019, officers began an investigation into a suspected illegal outdoor marijuana grow operation located on Highway 11, in King. Through the investigation, officers learned that there was a licence through Health Canada, which allowed 475 outdoor plants and 124 indoor plants at one time. Officers discovered that there were well over 2,000 plants being grown at the location.

On Sept. 27, a Cannabis Act Warrant was executed and three people who were located at the location were arrested and have been charged.

Officers seized a total of 2,360 plants and approximately 10 pounds of dried ready-for-packaging marijuana. The total street value of the drugs seized is more than $4.7 million. A 31-year-old King man, along with a 56-year-old Oshawa man and a 44-year-old Markham were all charged with Producing Cannabis, Possession of Cannabis for the Purpose of Distribution.

King City United
By Sheryl Sinka

Last Sunday we shared in the sacrament of communion and were offered “personal healing, wholeness and strengthening at the table.” In our brokenness as people of God we were reminded of the wonderful resource that we always have at our disposal that is never ending, the resource of Christ.

We were commissioned to be generous and kind and look out for others. The King Township Food Bank needs donations for their Thanksgiving drive, The Food Bank website is ktfb.ca and is glad to accept monetary and food donations. There is a donation box in the narthex of King City United Church for collection on Thanksgiving Sunday.

To all in King City have a wonderful Thanksgiving weekend.

The women’s prayer group meets at the Residences of Springhill at 80 Burns Blvd. on Tuesday mornings. The condo community is on the south side of King Road and meetings are in the small dining room on the main floor. Departure time is optional but please try to arrive just before 9 so as to be let in. Prayer is powerful and whether it is illness, anxiety or life situations for yourself or someone else, consider adding your voice to this ministry. For more information contact Deana 905-833-5375.

Tea and talk meets on Friday mornings at the Sunset Grill (1700 King Rd.) at 10 a.m. All are welcome to come out and join in a cup of coffee or tea and some conversation. If you have any questions please contact the church office at 905-833-5181.

Check out our new website at kcuc.net. Sunday worship is at 10 a.m.

King Bible Church

We invite you to join us on Sunday, Oct. 13 at 10:30 a.m. as Pastor Mark will be continuing our series “Follow Me” with “God’s Love on Display.”

Please take advantage of our excellent children’s ministry. Our Sunday morning Celebration Zone provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children’s program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in Grades 1-8 will join their parents for the beginning of the service until they are invited to go downstairs. The children in kindergarten can go directly to their class at the start of the service.

If you have children aged 0-3 then we invite you to bring them to our beautiful and safe nursery facilities which are located on the lower level.

Caregivers will meet you there.

Our “Legacy” nights are our family Bible study nights. We will provide Nursery care for children 0-3.

Our children (JK-Grade 5), Junior High (Grades 6-8) & Senior High (Grades 9-12) classes will meet downstairs.

Our adults will meet upstairs. Our program runs from 6:45 to 8 p.m.

“Shared Blessings” kids toys and clothing, Saturday, Oct. 19 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. We’d like to make it easier to provide clothes, toys and books for your children! We invite you to come and shop at “Shared Blessings” where everything is free!

You can find us at 1555 King Rd. King City (at King Rd. & Dufferin), 905-833-5104, visit www.kingbiblechurch.com or email info@kingbiblechurch.com

St. Andrew's
By Kathy Patterson

St. Andrew’s shares the love of Jesus in the community and beyond!

Join us this Thanksgiving Sunday at 10:30 a.m. with Sunday school for school-aged children up to age 12 running concurrently. We are thrilled to have the young people from HanWool’s Vision Group join us during the opening of our service before attending their class, adding to our Worship and Praise. We hope you too can join us.

Last Sunday the Rev. Konnie Vissers continued to preach from the book of Acts (Acts 2:42-47) on “Radical Christian Living – radical community.” Konnie then presided over our Communion Service, where we experienced more of this “radical community” that’s possible because of Christ. We look forward to having her back with us this Sunday!

Anniversary Sunday is October 20 at St. Andrew’s and we’re pleased that the Rev. Chris Carter will be with us again. A light lunch will be served following the service.

Youth Group had its second exciting event last Friday. “Fun, food, friends and following Jesus” is the theme for this group comprised of both the Junior and Senior Youth Groups. It meets at 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., the second and fourth Fridays of the month. Contact Lynn at the office for more information.

Nobleton Notes

St. Paul's Church

This Sunday, Oct. 13, we welcome Adelle Lauchlan, who will be leading us in worship for the months of October and November while Jeff is on a long-planned sabbatical.

Adelle's series will be sure to encourage and challenge you. This week, her message is entitled, "Be Good. Do Good," taken from Galatians 6:1-10. Don't hesitate to bring your kids; we're geared for younger ones, with opportunities for children aged 0 to 11 during worship (everybody else can enjoy the service!). Come and join us. You will be glad you did!

The Community Youth Group meets Friday evenings at 7 p.m. at the church for youth in Grades 7 to 12. This program is aimed at providing a safe and caring environment where teens can have fun and know God. Our focus is on fun and developing a sense of camaraderie and care for each member of the group, while at the same time devoting some time each week to a Bible lesson or Bible life application.

We like to switch up our content! Some weeks we will participate in sports nights and others will be focused on volunteering in the community. Regardless of the activity you are sure to find a welcoming community focused on living out our relationship with Jesus. Bring your friends along. Follow our Instagram account, "4:12.youth.group," to stay up to date on current events.

A2J (All to Jesus), our program for kids in Grades 3 to 6, meet the second and fourth Friday of the month at 7 to 9 p.m. If you have a child in this age group, come on and bring them out to hear the Bible stories, join in with songs, games, crafts and have lots of fun! Our 4:12 (from 2 Timothy 4:12) community youth group (for Grades 7-12 youth) begins meeting the same night and time. New participants are always welcome!

We have LifeConnect Groups, which are smaller groups meeting to encourage and deepen our faith in each one's life journey. A Men's LifeConnect Group meets on Thursday morning at 10 a.m. at the church in Room 3. If you are available on a Thursday morning, why not consider joining our study? We will be covering a wide variety of topics. Keep an eye on this page for more information on LifeConnect Groups that will be starting.

The first and third Tuesday of the month we have a group of men and women that get together at 1 p.m. to do quilting. The second and fourth Tuesday of the month, the focus is on knitting. All handcrafted items are donated to various mission projects. Please join in if you enjoy handcrafts, or even would like to learn how!

We are blessed at St. Paul's to have diligent librarians that have worked for years on creating an amazing library, one that keeps expanding with new books, both fiction and non-fiction, as well as DVDs based on true life stories, and more. It is said that what goes into a mind comes out in a life. What you read, watch and listen to really matters! Please feel free to borrow from our church library which will certainly help stretch, grow and encourage you.

Jeff's messages are posted at www.passionatelyhis.com each week. They are also available for viewing on Facebook Live, on the church's Facebook page (@stpaulsnobleton) and its YouTube page (search St. Paul's Church, Nobleton), and our website, stpaulsnobleton.ca. For more information about ANY of our activities or events, please contact the church office (905-859-0843) or visit stpaulsnobleton.ca.

Our Thanksgiving Service is this Sunday at 11:15 a.m. Come and enjoy the beautiful fall harvest display. Communion will be offered.

Have you seen the new railings on our new front steps? The side garden has had its dahlias, canna lilies, echinacea, and hostas removed, as next week there will be an excavation to waterproof the east wall.

The Joint Affirm Committee (Chair Andrew Winter, Nobleton; Secretary Wendy Tushingham, Schomberg) will be meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 15 at 7 p.m. at St. Mary Magdalene Church.

We are looking at a variety of areas that may be barriers to those coming to our churches. Our meetings are open to the public, so you are welcome to join us to voice your opinion or to listen to our discussion. Bolton United and Knox Caledon United are also at the beginning of an Affirm journey and they have been invited to our meeting.

The Joyful Spirits are practicing regularly on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. for Nobleton United Church's anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 3. The two songs planned are: "I'll Stand by You" by the Pretenders and "You are Mine" by David Haas. We practice with Dennis Kowal on keyboard and Barry Simpson on guitar. If you play an instrument or if you like to sing, you are welcome to join us. We are a special occasion group. Kara Winter, a member of the Joyful Spirits, will also be doing a solo.

The next Messy Church is on Tuesday, Oct. 22, 5-7 p.m. Children must be accompanied by a responsible adult. The theme this time is "I am the True Vine." What did Jesus mean when he said those words? There will be 5 different choices of activities. Some people do all of the activities, some choose to do less. One of the activities this time involves apple bobbing. Another involves taking your shoes off and squishing sponges covered in paint (washable, of course), and then walking along a piece of wallpaper.

In ancient times, grapes were squished by people's feet in order to get the juice to make wine. The wallpaper walk will be along a curvy line to represent the grapevine and toes will be the grapes! Story time is at 6 to 6:15 p.m. Dinner is at 6:15 p.m. This free event is sponsored by Nobleton United Church.

Donations are welcome.

The Craft and Bake Sale is on Saturday, Oct. 26, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. There is a tea room for a soup lunch or for tea and cookies. In the main downstairs hall, there are beef, chicken and turkey pies (already frozen), baking tables, preserves, quilts and craft items. There are also beautiful hand-sewn baby quilts and knitted items. The Quilting group meets on Wednesday mornings to create pre-made and custom order quilts. One queen-sized quilt is donated to the raffle. The other prizes are a wood craft or a gift basket. You can purchase your ticket ($2 or 3 for $5) for the draw at the Craft and Bake Sale, if you missed the ladies selling outside Pharmasave. The ticket is drawn at the close of the sale at 1 p.m. All proceeds support the Nobleton Church and our outreach programs.

For more info, visit nobletonunitedchurch.com, our Facebook page, or call 905-859-3976. The church office is normally open on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Messages are picked up regularly. Nobleton United, 6076 King Rd., is north of the King Rd., about 6 buildings west of Hwy 27. We have a big parking lot at the rear, an accessible ramp, chair lifts and accessible (gender neutral) washrooms. We warmly welcome everyone, old and young, tattooed or not, dressed up or not.

Guiding registration

We are planning another exciting year of Guiding in Nobleton and all girls and women are welcome. Guiding is a dynamic organization for girls and women that teaches and promotes leadership and respect of self, others, community and the environment through games, crafts, songs, excursions and camping. Guiding is a uniformed organization where Sparks (ages 5, 6) Brownies (ages 7, 8) Guides (ages 9 to 11) Pathfinders (ages 12 to 14) meet weekly. All meetings take place locally in Nobleton on Tuesday nights from September to June.

The energetic leadership teams look forward to an exciting year with your daughter! We are looking forward to seeing old friends and making new ones. We are actively recruiting adult women volunteers so please share this opportunity if you know someone who might be interested. You do not need to have a daughter to be involved. For more information and to register visit online at www.guidesontario.org

The Senior's Luncheon will be taking place on Tuesday, Oct. 22 at 11:30 a.m. sharp. The entertainment will be first, George Burt, who makes unique handcrafted wood art is the speaker. He will be talking about his work, as well as a new art gallery venture, with some other local artists at the Old Schomberg Feed Mill. Lunch to follow will be homemade meatloaf, mashed potatoes, fall vegetables and pumpkin dessert. This will take place at St. Mary Magdalene Anglican Church and is made possible by the Schomberg United Church and local volunteers. Donations toward the cost of supplies for the meals are gratefully received. Call Sheila at 905-939-2315 if you would like to come.

The Joyful Spirits are practicing regularly on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. at Nobleton United. They are preparing for Nobleton United Church's Anniversary on Sun. Nov. 3. The two songs planned are: "I'll Stand by You" by the Pretenders and "You are Mine" by David Haas. The Joyful Spirits practice with Dennis Kowal on keyboard and Barry Simpson on guitar. If you play an instrument or if you like to sing, you are welcome to join them. This is a special occasion group.

Schomberg United Church's annual Bake and Craft Sale with Tea Room is Saturday, Nov. 23, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., in the basement of St. Mary Magdalene Anglican Church.
