Ministers Sarkaria, Lecce launch Small Business Week

Small Business Week got a high-profile boost last week. Prabmeet Sarkaria, Associate Minister of Small Business and Red Tape Reduction was joined by Education Minister and King-Vaughan MPP, Stephen Lecce, to launch the start of Small Business Week across Ontario. The duo was joined by citizens and business owners at King's Pine Farms Orchard.

Small Business Week is an annual recognition of the vital role these job-creators play in Ontario. There are approximately 418,000 small businesses in Ontario, representing nearly 98 per cent of all businesses in the province.

"There's nothing small about small business. It's about big hope, big dreams, and big opportunities," said Associate Minister Sarkaria. "Ontario's small businesses create jobs for hardworking Ontarians and help to support and sustain our growing economy. That's why we're standing with them during Small Business Week, and all throughout the year, by easing their regulatory burden, cutting their costs, and saving them money so they can reinvest, grow their operations, and put more families to work."

"Small business is the backbone of our economy – that's true here in King Township, Vaughan and in every community across the province," said Education Minister Stephen Lecce. "We will never waiver from our support for Canadian job creators and workers, as we work to restore the opportunity society and the values it represents – hard work, generosity, and discipline – that my immigrant family chose over half a century ago."

The government is committed to making Ontario work smarter for business by cutting red tape and modernizing rules to improve the province's investment climate, foster growth among business, and restore Ontario's competitive advantage. All together, in the past 16 months, more than 100 actions have been taken to modernize and streamline regulations, end overlap with the federal government and municipalities, update or revoke old or out-of-date requirements, and simplify complicated rules.

PUBLIC NOTICES

Notice of a Public Meeting Concerning a Proposed Zoning By-Law and Official Plan Amendment

The public are invited to attend a public meeting to be held by the Council of the Corporation of the Township of King on:

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18th, 2019 at 6:00 P.M.

at the Township of King Council Chambers at 2585 King Road, King City to receive information and provide comments on a proposed Zoning By-law Amendment and Official Plan Amendment, under Section 22 and 34 of the Planning Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter P.13.

Subject Property

Location: 2075 King Road, King City, ON South east corner of King Road and Banner Lane

Applicant: Malone Given Parsons Ltd.

File Numbers: Z-2019-08, OP-2019-03

The proposed Official Plan Amendment and Zoning By-law Amendment submitted by Malone Given Parsons Ltd., on behalf of Zancor Homes (King Cort), File Numbers OP-2019-03 and Z-2019-08 concerns a 1.02 hectare site located at the south east corner of King Road and Banner Lane/William Street in the Village area of King City. The subject site currently supports a commercial plaza containing a restaurant, hair salon, a pharmacy and walk-in clinic and was the previous location for the municipal offices.

What are the Proposed Changes

The subject lands are designated 'Core Area' by the King City Community Plan (OPA #540) and are zoned 'Core Area – King City' ((CAK-3 (H)) by Zoning By-law #2017-66, as amended. The purpose of the Official Plan Amendment application is to increase the permitted density and height to provide for a 5 to 6 storey residential building containing approximately 252 units. The purpose of the Zoning By-law Amendment application is to establish a site specific (CAK-X(H)) zone to permit the height and density together with some site specific exceptions to facilitate the development. The proposed development will require the removal of the plaza building.

Appeal Procedure

If a person or public body would otherwise have an ability to appeal the decision of the Council of the Township of King to the Local Planning Appeal Tribunal (LPAT) but the person or public body does not make oral submissions at a public meeting or make written submissions to the Township of King before the proposed official plan amendment is adopted or zoning by-law is passed, the person or public body is not entitled to appeal the decision.

If a person or public body does not make oral submissions at a public meeting or make written submissions to the Township of King before the proposed official plan amendment is adopted or before the zoning by-law is passed, the person or public body may not be added as a party to the hearing of an appeal before the Local Planning Appeal Tribunal (LPAT) unless, in the opinion of the Tribunal, there are reasonable grounds to add the person or public body as a party.

Any person may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed Official Plan or Zoning By-law Amendment. Written comments will become part of the public record.

How to Stay Informed

If you wish to be notified of the passing of the proposed Official Plan and Zoning By-law Amendments, you must make a written request to the Clerk of the Township of King, 2585 King Road, King City, ON L7B 1A1.

Additional Information

A copy of the proposed Official Plan Amendment and Zoning By-law Amendment, and additional information about the proposed applications are available for review at the Planning Department located at the Municipal Offices. Office hours are Monday to Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Contact: Paul Kulyk, Planner II, 905-833-5321 or pkulyk@king.ca.

Bid for sales office causes concerns among residents

By Mark Pavilons

The idea of a new home sales office in an upscale King community has caused some concern among residents.

King council held a public meeting into bylaw amendment requests from Westview Star Equity Inc., to allow the model home as a sales and presentation office in King City.

Residents voiced their objections to the plan, noting it could set a precedence and allowing a commercial use in their residential neighbourhood is not appropriate.

Scouli Developments wants to use the property, at 198 Carmichael Crescent, to promote their new subdivision, located roughly 500 metres to the southeast. The property currently includes a two-storey home with a driveway off of Carmichael. The new subdivision is in the early stages and has no access. The developer owns the lot at 198 Carmichael and the sales office is temporary.

The subdivision has received draft approval from the Township.

The owners plan to run the sales office Tuesday to Thursday, 1-8 p.m. and weekends 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. While there will be minimal staff on site, the plan is for an 18-spot parking lot.

Staff did point out the issue here is whether introducing a sales and presentation centre within a developed residential area is appropriate and whether it will negatively impact residents.

Nick Pileggi, on behalf of the owner, said they've done various studies, including a noise study, and plan to mitigate any impacts. They did receive letters from residents regarding noise and privacy concerns and they will address those.

The proponent contends the site won't generate a lot of traffic, but residents aren't convinced.

More than a dozen residents appeared before council, asking that this site be denied and the builder move it somewhere else. They're worried about street parking in their prestigious subdivision, something they're familiar with. Residents stressed they were inundated with traffic and visitors to their neighbourhood, when two show-homes were offered in recent Princess Margaret lottery draws. The resulting chaos upset local residents.

"Who wants a parking lot in your back yard?" one resident asked. He noted there are no traffic control measures in the area and this move only benefits the developer and no one else.

Another Carmichael resident presented a petition signed by 31 homeowners against the application. They don't want to see even a temporary commercial use in this established subdivision.

Some are worried the "temporary" use will continue until the new subdivision is built, which could take as long as three years or more.

A Di Nardo Court resident said the lottery showhome created mayhem on local streets and he wanted the developer to find another spot for their sales office.

Homeowners on Carmichael felt this project would adversely affect the sale of their home.

Another resident noted the sales office, and neighbouring homes are not indicative of what prospective buyers are getting in the new subdivision.

A Carmichael resident pointed out there was never a sales office when the homes on that street were offered for sale. Most buyers purchased the homes from drawings and blueprints. He also questioned that in this age, sales pavilions aren't really needed.

Another homeowner said this proposal is "ridiculous" and council shouldn't even consider it.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini pointed out they're obligated to go through the process with any application presented to the Township.

Councillor Jordan Cescolini asked residents to stay informed and return to council when the staff report comes back to councillors for a decision.

Lecce offers to reduce class sizes

By Mark Pavilons

Education Minister and King-Vaughan MPP Stephen Lecce has offered to reduce classes sizes, in order to avoid strike action by teachers. The offer, however, seems to have fallen on deaf ears.

"I remain mission-focused on ensuring students stay in class, receiving a world-class education.

"Last week I said that all options were on the table when it came reaching a deal, and keeping kids in class. To that end, and to ensure we keep kids in class, I have instructed my negotiating team to give a proposal to OSSTF that includes reducing the funded average high school class size from 28 students to 25 students.

"This is a reasonable offer, and I am disappointed OSSTF has decided to ignore it and move closer to job action. My team is ready to continue meeting to negotiate a deal that is focused on our students, ensures our children remain in class, and provides the predictability our parents deserve.

"We continue to call on all parties to reach a deal in good faith, as soon as possible, to provide confidence and predictability to parents, students, and educators alike."

Editorial, Letters & Opinion

"A newspaper is the center of a community, it's one of the tent poles of the community, and that's not going to be replaced by websites and blogs."

- Michael Connelly

Job action, union pressure are nothing new

Like clockwork, at the end of almost every union contract in this province, mayhem ensues.

It's mostly sabre rattling and it's mostly a show of strength.

Neither side wants to appear weak or a pushover. Both sides want to get their point across.

So it was during the recent threats by CUPE members – education workers, janitorial staff and administration. In the settlement, it was a victory for everyone and mostly for the students and parents.

While the majority of contracts tend to get worked out (strikes are actually few and far between in Ontario), the rhetoric, misinformation and "fake news" is always frustrating and unnerving.

Contracts for these workers, and those of teachers and TAs, which will be next up at the bargaining tables, expire every three years or so. That means there are intense negotiations during every term of every provincial government.

It's nothing new.

Education Minister and King-Vaughan MPP Stephen Lecce, tried to nip things in the bud, getting an early start with negotiations this past summer. While it went to the 11th hour, agreements were reached.

Lecce, and the union reps, all said they wanted kids in the classrooms and wanted our school year to continue unhindered.

The recent contract talks, and those coming up for TAs, are different in that these group tend to be underpaid and under valued. They deserve any and all progress. They're not like teachers; they aren't paid in the summer and they're not in the same club. TAs, especially those who work with challenged children, are a godsend to parents and children alike.

The same can't be said for all of our teachers, who are among the highest paid in the world. In my opinion, and I will be labelled as a bit of a socialist, all civil servants should have a salary cap.

It's a well known fact that the majority of the annual budget of any government – municipal, regional, provincial or federal – consists of salaries.

People wonder why money is scarce to fund programs, infrastructure and the like. The fingers you should be pointing may just be in the wrong direction.

Again, I have to wonder how the highest paid civil servants on the planet have the gaul to continually ask for more.

A current rash of TV and radio ads claim the Province is slashing funding for health care, education, etc. That simply isn't true. It's recycled rhetoric and it's misleading. It's all a ploy to create sympathy for the civil servants, the unions and their bargaining units.

Let me cloud with issue with some facts.

Around this time of year in 2013, elementary and junior high school teachers in Ontario staged a one-day walkout in response to collective agreements imposed by the McGuinty government.

In December 2012, Toronto, Peel and Durham public elementary board employees walked off the job and shut down schools, joined by teachers at five other boards across Ontario: Greater Essex in the Windsor area, Lambton-Kent in Sarnia and Chatham, Waterloo, Grand Erie in Brantford and Near North in North Bay.

In April 2014, the former Liberal government passed Bill 122, the School Boards Collective Bargaining Act. This implemented a new two-tier negotiation system which involves provincial negotiations, between the government and the OSSTF, along with local negotiations, between local OSSTF and their employer, the school board.

Mayhem ensued through 2015 as more boards joined strike action across the province.

On May 25, 2015, the Ontario government passed back to work legislation to put an end to the strike in Durham, Rainbow and Peel District School Boards. The following day on May 26, the Ontario Labour Relations Board ruled the teachers strike was unlawful. Classes resumed in Durham, Rainbow and Peel May 27.

The Province then passed the Protecting the School Year Act, 2015, prohibiting another strike during the 2014-2015 school year.

This is just one tiny snippet of the methods behind the madness that is our collective bargaining system. Threats, intimidation and strikes, all to get the government's attention.

And, in the end, as it always is, teachers head back to the classroom, in a better position.

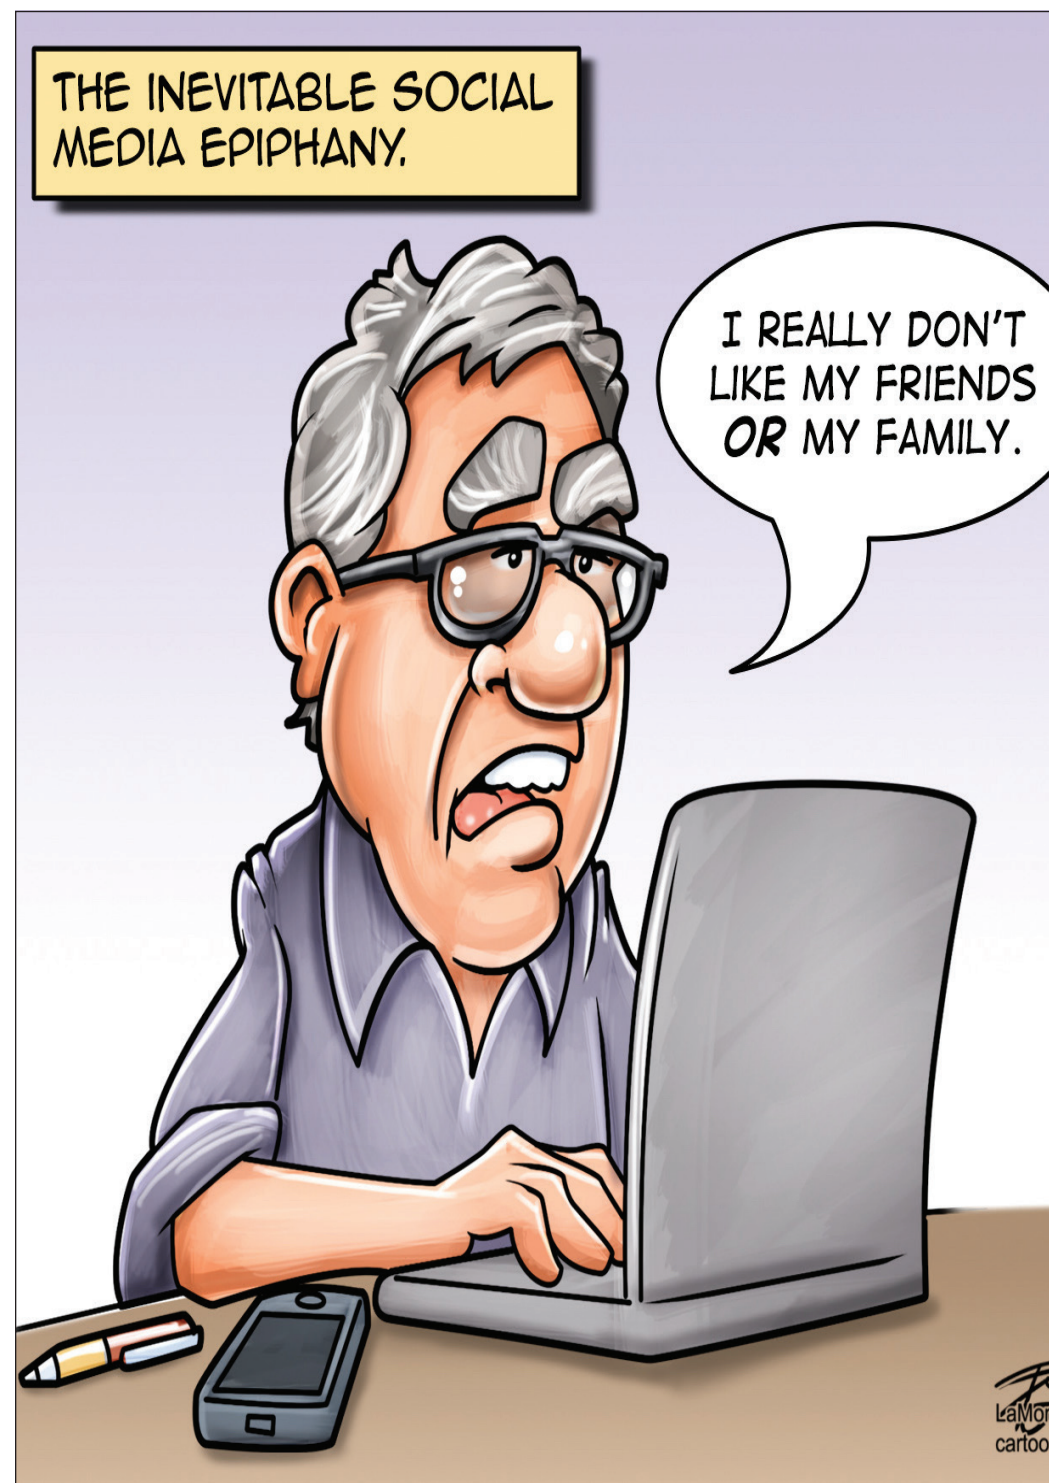

I don't know about you, but I don't have the benefit of salary and benefit negotiations every three years. I can't threaten to walk off the job. If I don't work, I don't get paid.

When many of these contracts are settled, the teachers often enjoy retroactive pay, some going back years.

So when the unions and teachers' federations point those nasty, crooked fingers at the Province, maybe they should look in the mirror. Collectively, they drain our system of more than half of its relative wealth.

They may be getting a good bang for their buck, but are we?

We shouldn't have to legislate proper behaviour. And we shouldn't have to bribe our civil servants to go to work and do their jobs.

Letter to the Editor

Reader wanted a new PM

Okay, I have decided to make lemonade out of lemons today. I am going to go out and get us a yacht and a brand new Ferrari. After all, it is my birthday and I did not get the only present I asked for – a new prime minister.

I know what you are thinking; we don't have enough money saved up or earn enough to afford a yacht and a new Ferrari. Not to worry. It's easy. All we have to do is follow two of Justin Trudeau's best formulated Liberal policies – wealth redistribution and deficit spending.

For the yacht, I will just take it from the guy down the street who worked hard all his life to be able to afford to buy it. I know that sounds a lot like stealing but it is really just wealth redistribution.

For the new Ferrari, it is even simpler. I will just go out and buy it totally on credit with no money down. Sorry kids, I will be long gone but you will have to pay off the loan someday down the road when the debt collector comes calling. Deficit spending. Isn't it great (for me)?

Sunny ways!

PUBLIC NOTICES

TRAFFIC CALMING PROJECT

Give us your feedback and help us create a SLOWER, SAFER KING

- The Township of King is commencing a traffic calming project.
- Our goal is a slower, safer King.
- King is seeking community input on traffic calming throughout the township
- The focus of this program is on school zones and residential streets at locations where excessive speeding is prevalent, particularly in neighbourhoods with high numbers of cyclists and/or pedestrians share the road. It is not about reducing congestion, reducing trucks or eliminating cut-through traffic.
- Traffic calming is creating a safer roadside environment by reducing speeds and encouraging responsible driver behavior.
- Council has prioritized traffic calming and we need your help to identify hotspots and to provide tangible solutions and feedback.
- The information you provide will help shape and guide a new traffic calming policy for King Township.
- We have created several opportunities for feedback and we welcome your input to help shape our community vision of a slower, safer KING.
- Visit speaking.king.ca to learn more about traffic calming, take a survey and use a map feature to place pins where you think traffic calming measures would be most effective. You also get to choose which type of traffic calming measures you would like to see installed.

Record amount raised at Nobleton Post Office's children's fundraiser

The staff at the Nobleton Canada Post office would like to thank the many local businesses, friends, neighbours and customers for their outstanding support of our Canada Post Community Foundation for Children fundraiser. "Staff at the Post Office did a magnificent job raising not only funds but community spirit. I'm proud of our community's support and contributions," said Councillor David Boyd.

Funds raised are to keep every child in Canada happy, healthy and an integral part of the community that supports and cares for them. Its mission is to have a positive effect in the lives of children by supporting registered charities, school programs or local initiatives that benefit them.

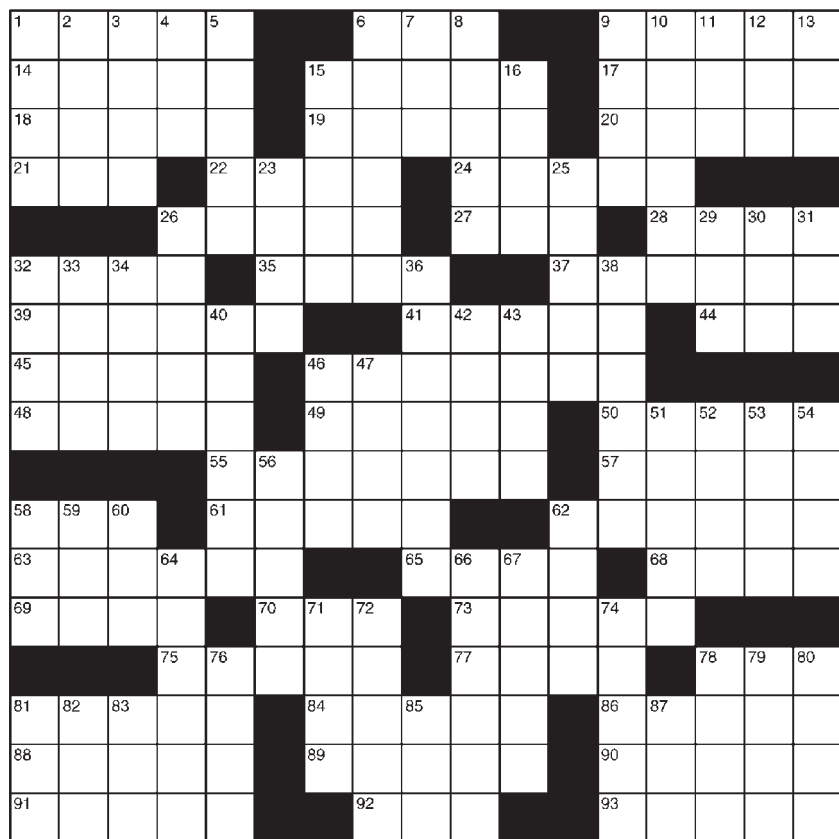

Since 2012, the Foundation has granted more than $8 million to more than 780 organizations. To learn more about the Foundation, visit canadapost.ca/community.

York Region accommodates future population of 1.8 million

York Regional Council has endorsed the principle that new infrastructure investment be tied to the achievement of population thresholds, as outlined in the recent infrastructure and alignment report.

“Over the last decade York Regional Council made significant investment in transit, water and wastewater infrastructure, taking on growth-related debt to serve our growing population,” said York Region chairman and CEO Wayne Emmerson. “However, population growth has slowed in recent years. Optimizing existing investments in infrastructure before triggering new investment is key to meeting provincial growth targets in a fiscally responsible manner.”

In 2014, council adopted a fiscal strategy which provides tools to manage debt and better align capital spending with growth. This strategy has allowed the Region to maintain a state of sustainable financial ‘equilibrium’ by limiting capital expenditures and reducing debt.

While the Region remains committed to delivering the infrastructure required to support growth to 2041, the existing infrastructure investments in approved urban communities can accommodate a significant amount of population growth without taking on additional debt.

As part of the provincial growth plan, York Region is undergoing a Municipal Comprehensive Review (MCR) to help us plan well-designed communities that attract residents, jobs and investments and support the population to 2041 and beyond.

Bylaw Enforcement Officers Whitney Hall and Christian Milani, along with Deputy Clerk and Bylaw Enforcement Nancy Cronsberry and Clerks Assistant Jacqueline Brown can barely contain their excitement prior to the launch of a new Toys for Tickets program.

King launches ‘Toys for Tickets’

King Township is taking the sting out of parking tickets with a new Toys for Tickets program.

King invites everyone who receives a parking ticket between Nov. 1 and Nov. 15 to pay the fine amount with a donation of a toy. Accessible parking and fire route violations are not eligible for the program. The program is being launched on Nov. 1 to coincide with King’s annual winter parking restrictions.

King Township Mayor Steve Pellegrini said he hopes the program will put smiles on the faces of local children.

“No one likes receiving a parking ticket,” Pellegrini said. “By allowing residents to pay their fine by purchasing a toy, they’ll help make the holiday season a little brighter for local underprivileged children.”

The toy donation must be:

- New and in its original packaging with proof of purchase (receipt).
- Of equal or greater value than that of the ticket.
- Dropped off in person at King Township’s municipal centre no later than Nov. 30.

For the 2019 season, all donations collected will be going to “Christmas in King,” a sister organization of the King Township Food Bank.

King Township’s municipal centre is located at 2585 King Rd., King City. For more information on the program, please visit or call King’s Bylaw Enforcement Services at 905-833-4002 or email parking@king.ca.

Cottage and Crown epitomizes Main Street charm

By Mark Pavilons

Quaint is the word that springs to mind when you enter Schomberg's Cottage and Crown. And that's just what the owners were looking for.

The Main Street shop opened its doors Sept. 15, celebrating the annual Schomberg Street Festival.

Owners Yvonne Rosseau and Barbara Smith said they had a very successful first day.

Smith stressed they wanted to open their store on a quaint main street and when they visited downtown Schomberg they knew it was exactly what they were looking for.

"We loved the small town charm of the street. Everyone we came across was so friendly."

Cottage and Crown offers farmhouse and cottage style decor, and giftware. They also have some unique vintage pieces, as well as items that are re-purposed. They also sell personalized items like birth announcements, wedding announcements, and signs.

"My friend Yvonne and I have always dreamed of opening a little cute store selling things we love. Yvonne was really the catapult that propelled us into this adventure. She has an energy and enthusiasm that is contagious," Smith said.

The duo believes the attraction of nostalgia and vintage items is multi-faceted.

"I personally love the connection to the past, and perhaps, simpler times. A lot of people appreciate having something unique and unusual in a time where mass produced items are the norm. Re-purposing and re-using items is also better for the environment, and that appeals to a lot of people," Smith observed.

The response from the public so far has been amazing.

"We feel really welcomed by the town and get a sense that people who live in Schomberg are extremely proud of their community. We decided to make some custom 'Schomberg Proud' signs because we knew people would love them.

"Yvonne and I are so happy we chose Schomberg to open our little shop, and feel like honorary Schomberg residents. It's so nice to be a part of such a proud community."

Rosseau has worked both in retail environments and the service industry for years. She knows how to provide great customer service and has a real flair for display. She now works full time in the shop and is loving it. Smith works full time as a realtor selling new homes. While she doesn't work at the store very often, she manages the website, as well as the Instagram and Facebook accounts. She also looks after the personalized posters and a lot of the re-purposed items.

"We have always loved thrifting and the thrill of a great find. The only way we could justify buying all the cool stuff we find is to open a store," Smith said.

Check them out at 203C Main Street, Schomberg (across from the post office). They're open Tuesday to Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The phone number is 905-939-9599. You can also visit their website at cottageandcrown.ca or Instagram: instagram.com/cottageandcrown/

King artists combine for 'Petals & Wings' exhibit

By Mark Pavilons

The beauty and fragility of the natural world is something many take for granted. Two renowned King artists are showcasing the glory and colour of our flora and fauna, through a new exhibit.

Iconic floral painter Helen Lucas and unique butterfly artist Grazyna Tonkiel are presenting a symbiotic show at the Georgina Arts Centre and Gallery. The "Petals and Wings" exhibit runs through December 8.

The bond between the two artists is much like the connection between their art itself. The butterflies chosen for the show actually enjoy and feed from the flowers depicted in Lucas's giant canvasses. It's an ingenious pairing that's sure to excite visitors and art lovers. You may be in for something quite unexpected.

After Lucas's daughter passed away, she received a butterfly piece from Tonkiel and she was overwhelmed by the gesture. Their friendship, and connection began.

Tonkiel admitted she's been a fan of Lucas for more than 20 years and loved the idea of working together. Lucas said she's been taken by Tonkiel's buzz and energy that often lights up the room.

"I'm flattered to be in the same room with her butterflies and the iconic Helen Lucas," Tonkiel said.

Tonkiel is so passionate about butterflies that she's studied everything about them. She pointed out they date back millions of years and fossil remains have been dated to 50 million years ago. She said the species has remained virtually unchanged to this day.

The life-giving flowering plants that Lucas creates complement the butterflies so well and really press the point. The art, and their personalities, feed off of one another.

The show is also a celebration that different media can be married quite effectively. Tonkiel's talent is unique in that she creates in art pencil, then overlays in gold leaf. Lucas paints in acrylic on massive canvasses.

Tonkiel likened the excitement for the exhibit to the excitement she felt preparing for an operatic performance. The exhibit has been meticulously choreographed to show just how connected the two subject matters are.

Visitors can expect "an enchanted meadow in the middle of November."

Lucas has been interested in art since she was nine years old. She began as a figurative artist in charcoal and switched her to large florals in the early 1980s.

Tonkiel has always been surrounded by classical music, the performing arts, and visual arts.

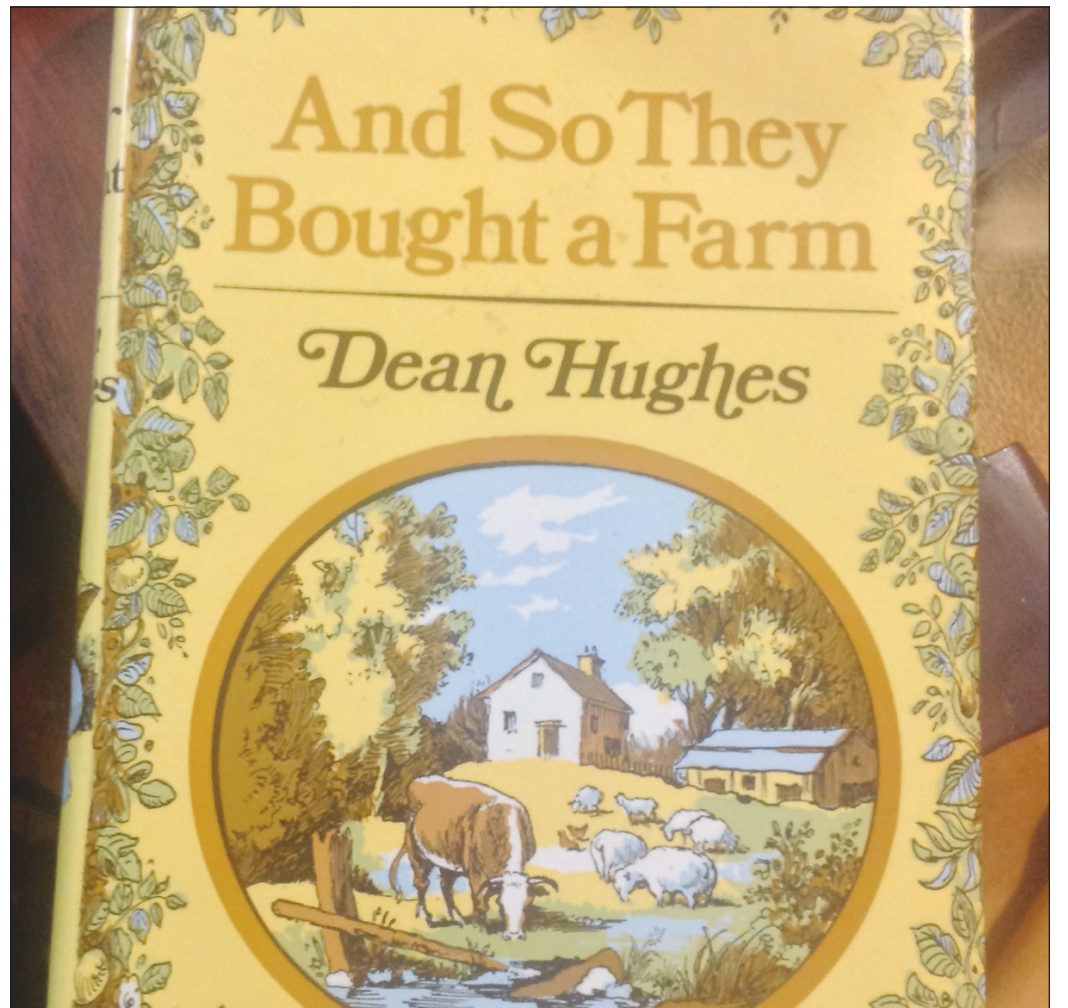

The exhibit is a must-see event. The opening reception will be held Sunday, Nov. 3 from 2 to 4 p.m. This will be your chance to meet the artists.

The gallery is located at 149 High Street, Sutton. For more, visit gacag.com

Burt's book of the week

Tucked inside the historic and charming Olde Mill on Schomberg's Main Street, George Burt operates his antique bookstore. He offers some 2,500 books from his vast collection.

This week's gem of a book is "And so They Bought a Farm" by Dean Hughes (1972).

George has books on virtually every subject matter imaginable.

The bookstore, in the Olde Mill, is open Thursday through Sunday, noon to 6 p.m.

Burt also welcomes inquiries from the public and he will evaluate your old, rare books to give you an idea of their value.

Foleys honoured at the annual Portraits of Giving

The 10th anniversary Portraits of Giving tour has arrived at the King Township Municipal Centre. The display will be on hand through Nov. 6 to celebrate King honourees Mike and Kelly Foley from Foley Restoration.

A special reception was held Oct. 22 to share the Foleys story of giving back along with their family and staff. Mayor Pellegrini and council were also in attendance to present a certificate of thanks and congratulations to Mike and Kelly for all they do for their community. Merk Photography/Portraits of Giving also donated a cheque for $200 to the MasoniCHIP Child Identification Program www.masonichip.ca – one of the many initiatives that the Foleys support.

Mike and Kelly Foley own Foley Restoration, a family-operated business which they began in 1991. Since then, Foley Restoration has grown from a staff of three to fifteen. It originally provided service to King and most of York Region. Over the years, the area they serve has expanded to include Mississauga, Brampton, and the GTA.

The Foleys see people at one of the most traumatic times in their lives. Kelly says: "We get to help rebuild what they have lost. That is why we do this."

The Foleys were recognized for their company's adaptability and sustainability, incremental growth, and inspiring commitment as valued corporate citizens, and presented a plaque by King Mayor Steve Pellegrini. Mike and Kelly believe in giving back locally, and they encourage others to do the same.

Portraits of Giving has been creating awareness and inspiring community through photography, stories, education and thought leadership about the importance of corporate and social responsibility in York Region for the past ten years. This year, 16 more outstanding honourees are introduced and we are also celebrating all 87 past honourees from across York Region for the 10th anniversary, during our nine-month tour across York Region.

Report on public and private child care

Stephen Lecce, Minister of Education, announced that the province's public and private sectors created over 19,000 licensed child care spaces in 2018-19, according to a new report from the Ministry of Education.

Research shows a clear link between a solid foundation in children's early years and their long-term development and success. That is why Ontario is committed to improving access to child care, giving parents more choice and making high quality programs affordable.

"Our government is committed to making life easier for families and that means improving access to child care options," said Minister Lecce. "... (the) announcement of over 19,000 new child care spaces means that more families will be able to choose the kind of care that is best for their children so they can go to work, run a business or study to acquire new skills."

"The creation of new child care spaces – by both the public and private sectors – is great news for the families of this province," said Jill Dunlop, Associate Minister of Children and Women's Issues. "Our government is taking an inclusive approach to helping them succeed and remains committed to providing child care options to meet the diversity of needs across Ontario."

"As a childcare and preschool centre, we understand the demands placed on modern working parents and the challenges of balancing home, work and what's best for our children. We applaud Minister Lecce for making it easier for child care providers to thrive, grow and succeed. That means more child care spaces for families," said Areti Gagaoudakis, co-founder and Chief Kids Officer of Kids Childcare + Preschool.

In 2019, Ontario announced new steps to improve access to child care options for parents. The government will commit up to $1 billion over five years to create up to 30,000 new child care spaces in schools across the province. As well, the government introduced the new Ontario Childcare Access and Relief from Expenses (CARE) tax credit, which will provide approximately 300,000 families with up to 75% of their eligible child care expenses.

Cougars tied atop busy PJHL Carruthers division

By Jake Courtepatte

There is a traffic jam in the Provincial Junior Hockey League.

A whirlwind of a schedule hit the ice across the Junior C league last week, and when the dust settled, the Schomberg Cougars are one of four teams tied atop the Carruthers division ladder.

Winners of four of their last six games heading into a three-game week, the Cougars were handed a dose of reality in Thursday's hosting of the Orillia Terriers at the Trisan Centre in a 10-5 loss, in which neither goaltender Nico Fekete nor Nicolas Porretta could solve the Orillia offence.

Yet Porretta returned to the ice the next evening stronger than ever, stringing together a 30-save effort to pick up his first shutout of the season over the Midland Flyers.

Neither side could muster much offence through the opening period, before Harris Goan broke the goose egg early in the second, his first of two on the night. Matthew Wadge added a shorthanded marker in the third period for a final score of 3-0.

A crucial match-up followed on Sunday in visiting the Caledon Golden Hawks, who continue to claw at the Cougars' backs in the division ladder.

The scoring came fast and early, with Cameron Clewes putting Schomberg on the board first just before the six-minute mark in what was a four-goal period. Cameron Kokelj notched Schomberg's other tally of the period, a late man advantage marker to tie the game at two.

Down 4-3 after two periods after a power play goal from Brandon Cohen, it was once again Kokelj who secured at least one point for the Cougars, taking a pass from Rees Cameron in the final 10 minutes to send the game to overtime.

Marc Bottero blasted home his second of the night just over three minutes into the extra frame to give Caledon the crucial extra point.

Yet in picking up the single point, the game left Schomberg tied atop the division standings with 16 points on the year, along with the Terriers, the Stayner Siskins, and the Alliston Hornets: a whopping 50 per cent of the Carruthers division.

Back to the ice on Thursday, a crucial week on the road has the Cougars visiting the Siskins on Thursday evening, who sit in the number-one spot with the least games played, three less than that of the Cougars.

Schomberg then pays a visit to the Terriers on Saturday, not returning to the ice at the Trisan Centre until Nov. 7 when they play host to the Midland Flyers.

New Olympic prospect is purchased for Eric Lamaze

Canadian Olympic Champion Eric Lamaze has welcomed a new show jumping prospect for the 2020 Tokyo Olympic Games to his barn. Idalville d'Esprit, an 11-year-old bay Belgian Warmblood gelding (Carabas v/d Wateringhoeve x Nabab de Reve), was purchased for Lamaze by Chris and Thea Stinnett of Heathman Farm and will be owned in partnership with Lamaze's Torrey Pines Stable.

Idalville d'Esprit was campaigned for three seasons by Swiss amateur Aurélie Rytz, now 20, including at the 2018 European Young Rider Championship. Professional rider Alain Jufer, also of Switzerland, took over the reins this spring and the pair recently jumped double clear to place seventh in the €275,000 1.60m Grand Prix at CSI5* Ascona, Switzerland. The horse was purchased for Lamaze through well-known Swiss horse dealer Gian-Battista Lutta.

After meeting through associates of global real estate giant, Engel & Völkers, Chris and Thea Stinnett stepped forward to support Lamaze. The purchase of Idalville d'Esprit further strengthens Lamaze's string of international contenders, with the horse being aimed towards next summer's Tokyo Olympics.

"I can't thank Chris and his wife, Thea, enough for purchasing this horse for me as a prospect for the Olympic Games in Tokyo," said Lamaze, 51. "Tokyo could very well be my final competitive appearance and I have every intention of going out on top," continued Lamaze. "My focus would then turn to our Torrey Pines horse sales operation, and I would also like to have time to focus on teaching others so that they can achieve their dreams the same way I have."

Lamaze claimed the individual gold medal as well as team silver at the 2008 Beijing Olympics riding the legendary Hickstead. In 2016, he won an individual bronze medal at the 2016 Rio Olympics riding Fine Lady 5 and led the Canadian team to a fourth-place finish following a jump-off with Germany for the bronze medal.

Toronto Maple Leaf alumni Tomas Kaberle goes through the handshake line in the 2018 Hockey Helps the Homeless tournament in Markham.

Pro-Am event taking to the ice for charity

By Jake Courtepatte

Have you ever wanted to celebrate a goal with an ex-NHLer?

Well, now is your chance, and for charity to boot.

The annual Hockey Helps the Homeless tournament returns to Markham's Angus Glen and Centennial Community Centres on Friday, Nov. 15 for a fun and friendly competition mixing both professional and amateur athletes alike, all for a good cause.

A staple in hockey communities across Canada since 1996, the tournament is hosted throughout more than a dozen cities nationwide.

"The organization invests in solutions that ensure fewer individuals will end up on the streets with a focus on housing solutions, education, employment, sports and recreation programming and youth support services," reads the organization's website.

Money raised for this year's tournament in York Region will go to supporting 360 Kids, an organization that has been supporting at risk and homeless youth in York Region between the ages of 16 and 26 for the past 29 years.

They provide a full range of support services to youth including emergency and transitional housing, basic needs like food and clothing, personal support, outreach to schools, gang prevention and intervention, counselling, and education upgrading all designed to help youth get back on their feet.

"We can't only build our way out of homelessness," said 360 Kids CEO Clovis Grant. "Innovative partnerships like ours with Hockey Helps the Homeless gives kids a supportive housing option that's effective and less costly."

The initiative is part of 360 Kids' Transitions program, which aims to provide affordable, furnished subsidized rental opportunities to give youth the ability to continue to go to school or work.

According to the event's website, close to $10,000 has been raised so far for the cause, with plenty of time remaining before the tournament to reach the lofty goal of $175,000.

York Region is at a crucial cross point in youth homelessness: though there are nearly 300 homeless youth looking for a safe space to spend the night in the region, according to Grant, there are just 41 emergency shelter beds available among all of York Region.

Some notable pro names have already committed to the event: get ready to take to the ice with the likes of former NHLers Georges Laraque, Nik Antropov, Raffi Torres, Rick Vaive, Natalie Spooner, and more.

Those looking to join in the competition, or get involved as either a sponsor or a volunteer, can visit www.hockeyhelpsthehomeless.com.

Double the curling action, double the fun

By Shellee Morning

The Doubles League got under way this past week at the King Curling Club, as one of the club's newest leagues.

Last season, the club offered a trial participation league as the sport of curling continues to grow with this latest craze to hit curling. Doubles is played traditionally similar as "regular" curling with the exception of each team only having 2 players rather than 4. Two rocks are placed in specific positions in the house to start each end. The team who doesn't have the hammer (last rock) has their rock on the back 4 ft. ring. The second rock, belonging to the opposition sits on the center line as a guard, half way between the hog line and the top of the rings. The first player on each team will throw the first and last stone while the partner throws the 2nd, 3rd and 4th rocks.

The strategy remains the same, but the sweeping is a far cry different from the conventional game; you do more of it. Sometimes the thrower may have to get up rather quickly and chase after their-own rock to help with the sweeping. The physical aspect of the Doubles game is much more demanding than with the regular 4-player format. In Doubles, players throw more frequently, chase their rock for sweeping, and throw their rock without having the skip hold a broom for the target. The game itself is faster and requires the curler to pick up on the speed and curl of the ice faster.

Canadian curling has done very well in the last couple years with its Doubles' program notably with the Olympic gold medal win by Canadians Kaitlyn Law and John Morris. Now with clubs across the nation grabbing hold of the Doubles concept, players have another way to "double the fun" within their game.

Mark Inglis of Team Inglis/Morning delivered a timely double take-out during the club's Doubles League. The take-out set the game precedent as Inglis/Morning went on to win the season opener.

Team Shellee Morning and Mark Inglis met up against the team of Doug and Cindy Brown in their season opener with an eagerness of excitement that quickly spread rink wide. Morning/Inglis collected 2 in the first end and stole 1 more in the second. Team Brown earned a solid 2 in the 3rd to bring the game within 1. Morning zeroed in on her draw weight early and was able to perform repeated draws to the button. Mid-way through and sitting with 2 in the steal position, Brown thought they had the steal wrapped up leaving a tough double for Inglis. With nuclear weight to reduce the curl, Inglis delivered a game saver connecting a nose-hit on the target splitting the 2 Brown counters out of the house to collect a big 2 points for the 5-2 lead. This being the "TSN shot of the game" seemingly kept the momentum for Morning/Inglis earning them their first win.

Sheet 2 featured the husband and wife teams Geoff and Debbie Holmes versus Craig and Nancy Honey. Holmes got off to a solid start and an early lead after the first 2 ends. Honey collected a point in the 4th and more importantly never gave up with the strategy.

During the 6th, Debbie Holmes surgically drew around a tight guard then around 2 rocks in the house to count 4. In the 8th, Team Holmes with a substantial lead of 8-3 was eagerly looking forward to the social beverage part of the evening. Nancy Honey on her last rock delivered an exceptional line drive double knocking out the Holmes counters to collect an outstanding 4 pointer to close the game 8-7 for Holmes. A definite shot for the highlight reel signalled Congratulations (and a sigh of relief) by Geoff Holmes to Nancy on a fine shot that would have even made Glenn Howard proud.

Sheet 3 had a bit of a late start by Team Swackhammer/Curtis against husband and wife Karen and Matt Turiff, but the scoreboard quickly sprang into action in the first end. Turiff took the lead, but Swackhammer/Curtis replied with a count of their-own. The entire game exchanged scores end after end displaying a well-matched contest by both. Precision draws by both was the main ingredient in this challenge that came down to the last rock with Turiff earning their first win by a 4-3 final.

Schomberg Should Know

By Wendy-Sue Bishop
905-590-0054
wsue52@hotmail.com

Schomberg Lions Club

At the October dinner meeting, the Schomberg Lions hosted Derek Rumball from the Bob Rumball Organization along with the Nobleton and King City Lions.

The Bob Rumball Organization provides housing and support for people who are deaf. In particular, our District A-12, has been instrumental over the past 25 years, by helping to build facilities and subsidizing campers attending the Bob Rumball Camp of the Deaf. The camp now serves about 700 campers each year. If you know of a camper who would benefit from this, please contact the Bob Rumball Organization or Schomberg Lions Club.

The tree and plaque commemorating Lion Bill Hanlon's 35 years of service, was recently planted at the Trisan Centre.

Please join us on Nov. 11 at the Trisan for our Remembrance Day Ceremony. It will begin at 10:30 a.m. followed by light refreshments.

Our 50/50 raffle draw tickets are on sale for $5 each from any Lion. Watch for us at Foodland. The draw will take place Dec. 10, and should have a winning pot of over $2,000. That's a nice way to pay off some Christmas bills and help your community at the same time.

Craft, Bake Sale

Schomberg United Church invites everyone to their annual Craft and Bake Sale and Tea Room on Saturday, Nov. 23 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., in the basement of St. Mary Magdalene's Anglican Church, at 116 Church St in Schomberg.

There will be a multitude of crafters there, ranging from jewellery, hand-made soaps, cards, candles, decorations, sewn, knit and preserved items to Avon reps, Norwex reps and estate jewellery.

You can pick up some tasty home-made baked items, a wonderful lunch and maybe start knocking some items off that growing Christmas list.

Schomberg United Church By Nancy Hopkinson

Schomberg United will be celebrating at Nobleton United's anniversary this Sunday, Nov. 3 at 11:15 a.m. Nobleton's musical service includes the Joyful Spirits, with Dennis Kowal on keyboard and Barry Simpson on guitar, who will sing "I'll Stand by You" by the Pretenders and "You are Mine" by David Haas. Stefani Harris and Kara Winter, both moms with young families, will both sing solos. Davina and Aubrey Winter, two young girls, will also sing. Teenager Andrea Bridges will play a selection on the guitar. Barry Simpson will play some pieces on his guitar before the service begins. We hope that the community will join us. There will be a light lunch afterwards.

The next Seniors' Lunch is Wednesday, Nov. 13, at 11:30 a.m. at Kitchen Breedon Manor with a guest speaker from Quilts of Valour, followed by a roast beef lunch, with peas, carrots, potatoes, and dessert. The Quilts of Valour group has existed for 10 years. It is a non-profit, and the group donates hand-made quilts to war veterans. Schomberg United will be presenting a quilt to a local war veteran. Donations toward the cost of supplies for the meals are gratefully received. Call Sheila at 905-939-2315 if you would like to come.

Messy Church is held at Nobleton United once a month. Schomberg's Sheila Darnowski always provides the shortbread cookies in the shape of the theme of the month. There are various activities, a story and dinner. Messy Church at Nobleton started 4 years ago. It is for families. Children must be accompanied by an adult. The parents enjoy the evening as much as the kids.

The next one is Tuesday, Nov. 19 from 5-7 p.m., with the theme of "I am the Light for the World." Schomberg families are warmly welcome to join us.

Nobleton United invites all to participate in their annual Pot Luck Christmas Social. Bring your food contribution at 6 p.m. and then we eat at 6:30 p.m.

Schomberg United meets at St. Mary Magdalene, 116 Church St., at 9:30 a.m. most Sundays, but at the Kitchen Breedon Manor usually on the first Sunday of the month. For more info, visit nobletonunitedchurch.com and click on the Schomberg United link, or call 905-859-3976. Messages are picked up regularly.

King Bible Church

We invite you to join us on Sunday, Nov. 3 at 10:30 a.m. as Pastor Mark will be continuing our series "Follow Me" with "Do You Want to Be Healed? (John 5:1-17)"

Please take advantage of our excellent children's ministry. Our Sunday morning Celebration Zone provides age-appropriate programs for children aged 4 to Grade 8. Our children's program is staffed by screened volunteers who care about your kids! The children in Grades 1-8 will join their parents for the beginning of the service until they are invited to go downstairs. The children in kindergarten can go directly to their class at the start of the service.

If you have children aged 0-3 then we invite you to bring them to our beautiful and safe nursery facilities which are located on the lower level.

Caregivers will meet you there. Our "Legacy" nights are our family Bible study nights. We will provide Nursery care for children 0-3.

Our children (JK-Grade 5), Junior High (Grades 6-8) & Senior High (Grades 9-12) classes will meet downstairs.

Our adults will meet upstairs. Our program runs from 6:45 to 8 p.m.

We encourage you to join us; and bring friends and family to our morning service on Sunday, Nov 10 as Rev. Allan Gallant of "Agora Network Ministries" will be speaking to us about "The Beautiful Strokes of God."

AGORA Network Ministries wants to bring hope and healing to the church about the mental health stigma by educating, equipping and engaging it with resources and network ministries.

You can find us at 1555 King Rd. King City (at King Rd. & Dufferin), 905-833-5104, visit www.kingbiblechurch.com or email info@kingbiblechurch.com

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

St. Andrew's shares the love of Jesus in the Community and beyond.

Our Sunday worship service is at 10:30 a.m. with Sunday school for school-aged children up to age 12.

The Rev. Connie Vissers will be preaching this Sunday, Nov. 3, looking at the Acts of the Apostles. Want to explore this part of God's Word more and find out how does the Bible relate to us? Join us Thursday, Nov. 7 from 10 to 11:15 a.m. at the Pattersons. Contact Kathy.

Last Sunday Alison Agnew was back with us. We looked at 2 Samuel 6, "Desiring God's Presence" and saw how King David got it right eventually with obedience and a change in attitude.

Alison will lead us on a "40 days of prayer program - Create, Renew, Restore" based on Psalm 51:10-12. We will meet together for soup and prayer each Tuesday at the church, but throughout the week we'll individually follow a guide, leading up to Advent!

Messy Church was last Sunday, Oct. 27 from 5-7 p.m. This intergenerational, family time, led by Lynn Vissers is creative, fun, informative and ends with a communal meal at 6 p.m. We'd love you to join us next time, Nov. 24!

Tuesday mornings at 9 to 10 a.m. the Women's Prayer Circle continues to meet at 80 Burns Blvd. What a wonderful way to start your day! (Philippians 4: 6 & 7) Need more information? Contact Kathy Patterson at 905-833-0391.

Sunday evenings Niyazi Bilgen, a pastor with The Greater Grace Fellowship leads a Bible Study starting at 5 p.m. in the lounge. Refreshments follow and all are welcome. Call 416-878-8499.

For pastoral care contact Lynn Vissers (office, 905-833-2325) or Rev. Paul Johnston, 705-341-7738.

All Saints Anglican Church
By Patrick Gossage

Narrative budget presented – a story of free giving of time and talent – At our annual vestry last Sunday this important reckoning of 6 months (adjusted to reflect a full year) of volunteer hours by parishioners which are the engine of all our activities was presented by Rev. Dr. Elisabeth. A giving tree was put up at the back of the church and parishioners hung leaves on it weekly writing down the hours they gave to the church for various activities – these were then sorted by categories – worship, Christian education, outreach and evangelism, and fellowship.

The building blocks of an active and engaged parish. Worship support involves many many volunteer hours setting up services, greeters, readers, chalice bearers, prayer leaders, choir and music, and more. It accounted for 1,712 volunteer hours. Christian education includes bible study. Sunday school and youth events, healing prayers and anointing, and a variety of training sessions and workshops and communication of our activities and faith messages through King's newspaper and our website. Over 1,000 hours of our time was offered in this category.

In Outreach and evangelism we were very active last year with refugee settlement, and Pikangicam campaigns for winter wear for kids in this isolated native reserve, as well as ongoing support for the King City Food Bank and community gifts for our local halfway house Crosslinks. 1380 hours were offered to this ministry. Fellowship involves all parish social and fundraising and other events, coffee hour, sides people and greeters, and all the setup, tear down and cooking and food preparation that goes with these activities. 1421 hours were offered to this ministry.

"We are so proud of the dedication of so many parishioners who give freely of so much time to make All Saints the loving and caring community that it is," Rev. Dr. Elisabeth said.

Words to live by – The Gospel last week was the challenging parable of the Pharisee and the and the tax collector in Luke 14 in which Jesus totally upturns our expectations of who will be justified before God.

We along, with the Jews of the time, would be impressed hearing the self-satisfied prayer of the pharisee: "God, I thank you that I am not like other people – robbers, evildoers, adulterers – or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week and give a tenth of all I get."

A confidant prayer of thanksgiving from a man who exceeds in his duty to God. The tax collector would be hated, exacting taxes for Rome and keeping some for himself. He would be rich and despised. Yet he beat his breast and prayed: "God, have mercy on me, a sinner."

Jesus turns our assumptions upside down with his conclusion: "I tell you that this man, rather than the other, went home justified before God. For all those who exalt themselves will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted."

Jesus shocks us, and forces us to assess our own claims to righteousness with a lot of humility.

Anglican Parish
By John Arnott

If you can only manage to get to one fall bazaar this year make sure it's Christ Church Kettleby's Fall Bazaar. This well known "must get there" event happens this Saturday afternoon November 2 from 1:30 -3:30 p.m. in the church hall adjacent to Kettleby's beautiful historic fieldstone Anglican Christ Church on Kettleby Rd. mid way between Jane and Keele Sts.

Expect fresh homemade baking, fresh farm/garden produce, a good selection of books, some old some new, a treasure table sure to hold delightful surprises and that elusive piece of pottery you've searched the world for! Now sit back with your one of a kind buys and for a modest sum enjoy the best cup of tea/coffee and treats this side of the Pearly Gates.

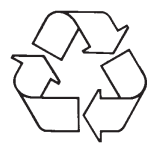

This coming Sunday morning Nov. 3 there will be 2 separate Holy Communion services in the Anglican Parish of Lloydtown, with the first starting at 9:30 a.m. in Christ Church, Kettleby followed by a tea/coffee hour for those wishing to remain and the second starting at 11:15 a.m. in St. Mary Magdalene's, 116 Church St. in Schomberg. This Christian festival actually falls on Nov. 1 following All Hallow's Eve but when that date doesn't fall on a Sunday it is observed on the Sunday closest.

712 LEGAL/PUBLIC NOTICES

Were you a resident of an Ontario Training School?

If YES, A Class Action May Affect Your Rights. Read This Notice Carefully.

- Were you a resident of an Ontario Training School during the years 1953-1984? If so, you may be a class member in the class action which has now been certified by the court. The lawsuit seeks money for class members.
- Class Members are automatically included in the class action, unless they take steps to exclude themselves (opt out) by June 4, 2020. If you want to stay in the class action, you don't need to do anything.
- If you opt out, you will not be part of the lawsuit and you will not be able to share in any money or any other benefit obtained for the class if the lawsuit is successful. But you will retain your right to sue the Province of Ontario as an individual regarding the issues in this case.
- Arrangements can be made for you to get free independent legal advice if you want it from Pro Bono Ontario: 1-855-255-7256.
- Please visit <http://kmlaw.ca/cases/ontario-training-schools/> to get more information about this class action and your rights, or contact us at trainingschoolsclassaction@kmlaw.ca or 1-866-860-9364. If you wish to provide it, it is useful for class counsel to have further information about your experiences in advancing the class action, and to be able to provide you with further updates about the case.

St. Paul's Church

This Sunday, Nov. 3 we welcome Adelle Lauchlan, who continues to lead us in worship for the months of October and November while Jeff is on a long-planned sabbatical. Adelle's series will be sure to encourage and challenge you. This week, her 5th message in the series, is entitled, "Be Patient," based on James 5.7-12. Don't hesitate to bring your kids; we're geared for younger ones, with opportunities for children aged 0 to 11 during worship (everybody else can enjoy the service!). Come and join us. You will be glad you did!

The Community Youth Group will be hosting a Trick or Treat event tonight, Thursday, Oct. 31 at 7 p.m. at the church for youth in Grades 7 to 12. This is sure to be a fun evening. If you are in any grade between 7 and 12, please come out and join the fun. After this week, we will go back to meeting regularly on Friday evenings at 7 p.m.

This program aims to provide a safe and caring environment where teens can have fun and know God. Our focus is on fun and developing a sense of camaraderie and care for each member of the group, while at the same time devoting some time each week to a Bible lesson or Bible life application. We like to switch up our content! Some weeks we will participate in sports nights and others will be focused on volunteering in the community. Regardless of the activity you are sure to find a welcoming community focused on living out our relationship with Jesus. Bring your friends along. Follow our Instagram account, "4:12.youth.group," to stay up to date on current events.

A2J (All to Jesus), our program for kids in Grades 3 to 6, meets the second and fourth Friday of the month at 7 to 9 p.m. If you have a child in this age group, come on and bring them out to hear the Bible stories, join in with songs, games, crafts and have lots of fun! Our 4:12 (from 2 Timothy 4:12) community youth group (for Grades 7-12 youth) begins meeting the same night and time. New participants are always welcome!

Operation Christmas Child. We at St. Paul's will be once again collecting shoeboxes for Samaritan's purse. If you would like to participate and fill some shoeboxes, please contact the office and we will be more than happy to supply you with boxes. This can be a fun activity to do with your children as well. Operation Christmas Child is a hands-on way for Canadians to bless struggling children in the developing world by filling shoeboxes with toys, hygiene items, school supplies, and other items. We collect the boxes and distribute them in the name of Jesus Christ to children living in desperate situations. Stay tune for more information on the deadline that the packed boxes will be delivered. Check out www.samaritanspurse.ca/pack-a-shoebox to find out more.

We have LifeConnect Groups, which are smaller groups meeting to encourage and deepen our faith in each one's life journey. A Men's LifeConnect Group meets on Thursday morning at 10 a.m. at the church in Room 3. If you are available on a Thursday morning, why not consider joining our study? We will be covering a wide variety of topics. Keep an eye on this page for more information on LifeConnect Groups that will be starting.

The first and third Tuesday of the month we have a group of men and women that get together at 1 p.m. to do quilting. The second and fourth Tuesday of the month, the focus is on knitting. All handcrafted items are donated to various mission projects. Please join in if you enjoy handcrafts, or even would like to learn how!

We are blessed at St. Paul's to have diligent librarians that have worked for years on creating an amazing library, one that keeps expanding with new books, both fiction and non-fiction, as well as DVDs based on true life stories, and more. It is said that what goes into a mind comes out in a life. What you read, watch and listen to really matters! Please feel free to borrow from our church library which will certainly help stretch, grow and encourage you.

Jeff's messages are posted at www.passionatelyhis.com each week. They are also available for viewing on Facebook Live, on the church's Facebook page (@stpaulsnobleton) and its YouTube page (search St. Paul's Church, Nobleton), and our website, stpaulsnobleton.ca. For more information about ANY of our activities or events, please contact the church office (905-859-0843) or visit stpaulsnobleton.ca.

Stefani Harris and Kara Winter, two talented moms with young families, have each agreed to do a solo. Davina and Aubrey Winter, two young girls, will sing "Open our Hearts." Teenager Andrea Bridges will play a selection on the guitar. Barry Simpson will play some pieces on his guitar before the service begins. We hope that the community will join us. There will be a light lunch afterwards.

The next Messy Church is on Tuesday, Nov. 19, 5-7 p.m., with the theme of "I am the Light for the World." There will be a choice of activities from 5-6 p.m., with story time at 6 pm, then dinner at 6:15 p.m.

Last week at Messy Church, some of the adults and children managed to turn some vegetables into people with toothpicks and skewers. One of the girls "bobbed" successfully for an apple. To view the various creations and the video of the apple bobbing, go to our Facebook page and look at our posts (google Nobleton United Church Facebook). You do not need to belong to Facebook to view these pages. Just check "not now" when Facebook asks you to sign in.

The following week on Monday, Nov. 25, we gather at 6 p.m. and eat at 6:30 p.m. and enjoy a Pot Luck Christmas Social. This is open to the whole Nobleton and area community and our sister church in Schomberg.

Saturday was the day of our Craft and Bake Sale. Congratulations to the lucky winners of the raffle: first prize, Queen-sized quilt, Maureen Walsh, Schomberg; second prize, lazy susan, Lindsay Bebbington, Terra Cotta; and third prize, gift basket donated by Nobleton Feed Mill, Lisa McGuire, 10th Concession, King. Lots of people came and enjoyed selecting the various items from the bake table, the pie table, the quilts, the crafts, and the raffle.

The soup lunch was delicious and lovely in a cosy room off the kitchen. The weather was perfect and it was fun to see our friends and neighbours. Thanks to all the bakers, quilters, sewers, raffle ticket sellers and our special guests selling Girl Guide cookies, Andrea DiCarlo's beautifully handcrafted cards, and Maureen Kowal's decorative baby blocks and birds with snowflakes for the Christmas tree.

For more info, visit nobletonunitedchurch.com, our Facebook page, or call 905-859-3976. The church office is normally open on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings. Messages are picked up regularly. Nobleton United, 6076 King Rd., is north of the King Rd., about 6 buildings west of Hwy. 27. We have a big parking lot at the rear, an accessible ramp, chair lifts and accessible (gender neutral) washrooms. We warmly welcome everyone, old and young, tattooed or not, dressed up or not.

Anglican Parish
By John Arnott

Are you up for a challenge? Well then instead of carving a jack o'lantern from a pumpkin use a turnip. Original jacks were carved from this vegetable!

St. Alban's Anglican community in Nobleton notes that Hallowe'en and many of its customs date back to pre-Christian Europe when much of that continent was inhabited by the Celts. At this time of year, especially in Celtic Britain, farmers and herders began to gather in the harvest and bring their herds down from out lying pastures. Then it was time to elect or re-elect village headmen, review old laws and make new ones.

Once these tasks were done a celebration called Samhain (SAH win) was held to mark the end of the old year with its long daylight hours and warily welcome the new year which began with longer hours of unfriendly darkness. Now villagers gathered together to feast and make merry. Great bonfires were lit to hold darkness and its associated evil spirits at bay for Celts believed this was the time when "the veil" separating the world of the living from the world of the dead was extremely thin thus allowing the souls of the dead to pass through easily and in the dark visit their former homes and so food was left out for them there. But witches and evil spirits along with an assortment of demons were also free to pass through unchallenged briefly roaming the countryside wreaking havoc as they went. Turnips carved to resemble skulls with lit candles in them were placed in windows or outside doors to discourage entry by these dreaded creatures.

Now came the Romans introducing orchards of sweet edible poma (apples) into Britannia (England) their newest conquest, now a provincia or province. These new masters also brought along the worship of Pomona the goddess of orchards and fruit who was honoured during the autumn apple harvest. To celebrate this harvest there was a feast, much eating of apples, drinking of sweet as well as hard (alcoholic) cider and apple games - most popular with the children was bobbing for apples in a bucket of water and trying to bite an apple suspended on a cord without using hands. With over the 300 or more years of Roman presence the Celts began slowly to include this in their Samhain festivities.

In many parts of rural Britain and Ireland this late October festival called Snap Apple Day is still celebrated. In Newfoundland-Labrador Halloween is often called Snap Apple Night.

Once Christianity was firmly established across Europe try as they might early church leaders found it impossible to persuade people to give up the customs and celebrations of their ancestors so reluctantly but wisely they began to Christianize these events. Samhain and the Pomona festival became All Hallows' Eve the last day in October, a time to celebrate all the holy (hallowed) people especially family members who had died.

In early Christian central Europe on this day children went to the houses of families who had suffered a bereavement previously that year and recited a prayer following which they received treats. In the mediaeval times anyone venturing out on All Hallows' Eve even to attend church wore a costume or scary mask to frighten away evil spirits. In 15th century Europe, people often wearing costumes, would on All Hallows' Eve visit friends or relatives and bring "soul cakes" to be eaten in memory of departed loved ones.

European colonists brought All Hallows' Eve customs to the Americas. In eastern North America the First Nations may well have shown those "know it all" white guys how much easier it was to carve a jack o'lantern from a native orange squash called a pumpkin than a turnip.

It was here in North America that All Hallows' Eve got slurred into Halloween and lost its religious connection becoming a fun filled secular celebration. Back in Europe the event faded away completely but in the past few years it is making a comeback in Britain.
