Crews battle rural structure fire

All three of King's fire houses battled a significant rural structure fire on Dufferin Street south of Davis Drive recently. Firefighters were on-site with water that had to be relayed 1,000 feet to Ladder 366. Heavy excavation equipment was also on-site assisting with getting the fire out.

Residents mixed on proposed cell tower

By Mark Pavilons Editor

Residents seem to be at odds regarding a proposed cell tower near Pottageville.

Residents looking for better cell service in the area

But many other residents have been asking for improved cell service in the area for some time.

Barbara Raaflaub wrote to the Township, noting some 47 Pottageville residents in favour of better service.

"Over the last few years, we have made several attempts to contact the major telecommunication providers, namely Bell Canada and Rogers Communications, with requests to improve cell service in our neighbourhood. To date, our requests have gone unanswered," she said.

The topology of our residential hamlet limits access from the nearest local cell tower, which is located in three cell phones per household. Schomberg. With the Ontario Government's recently tabled budget and commitment to investing in broadband and cellular access, the residents asked for King council endorsement to the cell phone providers, in hopes of getting "a swift and effective result to our problem."

"This investment by the province and your help could represent an example to promote early success as a win/ win/win," she wrote.

Raaflaub noted a local survey revealed that the majority of residents (65%), have some service, but the service is very poor and about 18% have no service at all. She said there are about

She pointed out that many residents work from home and being able to use cell phones is essential.

Township planner Felix Chau noted the application was formally submitted to the Township on May 30, 2022. The review of the application commenced shortly thereafter and since then, the review process has proceeded, in accordance with the Township's Cell Tower Protocol, which begins with scheduling a Public Information Session to inform the public of the application, and to offer a forum for public feedback.

Staff try to avoid holding public open houses in the July and August due to varying availability. As it stands there is a public session slated for Sept. 14, pending formal circulation of the notices. He said this is the earliest opportunity for such a session.

Chau did say he's working with the applicant on moving this application forward expeditiously. If there are no major issues with this proposed cell tower, staff are looking at the Sept. 26 or Nov. 7 council meeting to bring forth a report to council

Schomberg man's dreams come true with Lotto Max win

Christopher (Chris) Leggatt of Schomberg has $70,828.60 to put toward his dreams after winning a LOTTO MAX second prize in the Aug. 2 draw.

Chris, who works in the automotive industry, says he has been a regular lottery player for about two decades.

"My favourite games are LOTTO MAX, LOTTO 6/49 and PROLINE," he shared while at the OLG Prize Centre in Toronto to pick up his winnings. The 46-year-old father discovered his big win after noticing his ticket sitting in the cup holder of his car and checked it on the OLG App. "My colleague heard the Big Winner sound and said, 'Are we rich?' I showed him the screen and said, 'I don't know about you, but I am!" Chris laughed. When Chris got back to work, he shared the news with his manager and then treated everyone at work to coffee the next day. He plans to put his win toward some work around the house and enjoy a luxurious beach getaway in the winter. "I felt disbelief at first, but it feels official now that I'm receiving the cheque,"

Chris concluded.

OLG is booking in-person prize claim appointments at the OLG Prize Centre in Toronto. They strongly encourage those with claims between $1,000 and $49,999.90 to submit them online or mail them in. Submitting claims online is fast and secure. Customers with prizes over $50,000 are asked to call 1-800-387-0098 to discuss available prize claim options.

LOTTO MAX players in Ontario have won over $7.2 billion since 2009, including 93 jackpot wins and 776 MAXMILLIONS prizes, right across the province. LOTTO MAX is $5 per play and draws take place on Tuesdays and Fridays.

The winning ticket was purchased at Petro Canada on Holland Street in Bradford.

Government

Government accounts for more than 86% of new jobs

The government sector accounted for 86.7 per cent of all new jobs in Canada since the pandemic began in early 2020, finds a study released by the Fraser Institute, an independent, non-partisan Canadian public policy think-tank.

"The government sector, not the private sector, is driving job creation in Canada since the onset of the COVID pandemic and recession," said Ben Eisen, senior fellow at the Fraser Institute and co-author of Comparing Government and Private Sector Job Growth in the COVID-19 Era.

The study examines labour market statistics between February 2020 when the pandemic started and July 2022, the most recent available monthly information. It finds that jobs in the government sector have increased by 9.4 per cent (net) versus just 0.4 per cent in the private sector, including self-employment.

The government sector added 366,800 jobs (net) during this period while the private sector (including self-employment) added 56,100.

Consequently, the share of adults (15 years or older) employed in the private sector (including self-employment) has actually fallen from 49.3 per cent to 48.2 Another statistic in the study is the decimation of self-employment, a key measure of entrepreneurship. The study found that 214,400 jobs (net) have been lost since the pandemic began.

"Many of the headline statistics surrounding the Canadian labour market appear encouraging at a glance, but the reality is more complicated," said Eisen.

"Canada's job creation in recent years has not been driven by private sector-growth, but rather has primarily been the result of government hiring."

Survey finds dangerous driving in school zones

urges road users to be extra vigilant while travelling through school zones.

A recent school zone safety survey conducted on behalf of CAA South Central Ontario (CAA SCO) indicates that 78 per cent of Ontario parents report having seen unsafe driving behaviours and only 37 per cent consider the roads around their child's school to be safe. Some of the most common unsafe driving behaviours parents have witnessed include speeding, double parking and stopping at undesignated areas.

"We all have a role to play in keeping our school zones safe," says Tracy Marshall, manager of community relations at CAA SCO. "These dangerous driving behaviours can lead to serious consequences and CAA is urging motorists to slow down and follow the rules of the road when driving through school zones."

The survey also identified that more than half of parents in the province (66 per cent) support the use of Automated Speed Enforcement (ASE) in school zones, with 79 per cent believing its presence would deter speeding around

As students go back to school, CAA schools. According to the survey, two in arm extended. Fines for a first offense low your school's rules and avoid douthree parents consider that ASE should remain permanent in school zones.

"When you're behind the wheel, you have the responsibility to look out for everyone else around you, including parents, guardians and children," says Marshall. "It's important to always watch out for Community Safety Zone signs as they indicate areas where public safety is of special concern and drive with caution through school zones, residential areas and any other areas where children may be walking or playing."

Motorists should also keep an eye out for school buses that are now equipped with amber and red upper flashing lights. Under the new system, upper flashing amber lights will turn on as the bus slows down, indicating that drivers need to be cautious and slow down too. The amber-red system will hopefully provide more clarity when to stop, preventing illegal passings and dangerous sudden stops.

CAA reminds motorists that it is an offence to pass a stopped school bus with its red lights flashing and stop range up to $2,000. It can also result in a significant number of demerit points.

Motorists can also use the following CAA tips to ensure they are staying safe in school zones:

Help reduce traffic with active school travel: Encourage your kids to walk or ride to school to ease traffic congestion. If your school is a further distance, CAA encourages parents and guardians to park a block away and walk to school, if possible, to reduce traffic and make school zones safer.

Slow down: Know the speed limit in your neighbourhood's school zones and respect them. Ensure you give yourself plenty of time to drop off your kids at school to avoid rushing.

Follow the rules of the road near school buses: Always stop for a stopped school bus with its upper flashing red light and/ stop arm activated and wait for children to get safely on or off. Stay alert and watch for children or parents/ guardians crossing the road when the bus moves on.

Choose a safe spot to drop off and pick up your children from school: Folble parking or stopping on crosswalks, dropping off or picking up your kids on the opposite side of the street, and stopping in moving traffic as kids rush out. Instead, use the designated drop off areas or consider a spot a bit farther away from school that is easily accessible and safe.

Make eye contact with passing pedestrians and cyclists: With the excitement of going back to school, anticipate that children may not easily see or hear your moving vehicle. Use eye contact to ensure pedestrians are aware of you driving your vehicle.

Watch for CAA School Safety Patrollers: As one of the largest youth volunteer programs in Canada, they play an important role by keeping their peers safe on school buses and in school zones. Keep a lookout for their bright safety vests.

CAA's Ontario Road Safety Resource is a toolkit with valuable lesson plans for teachers to help educate students about road safety.

Canada has a robust history of freedom

By Mark Milke

Earlier this year, I stumbled across a framed copy of the Canadian Bill of Rights, the liberty-expanding law promulgated by then-Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and passed by Parliament

I read the document years ago but seeing it up close reminded me of Canada's long tradition of freedom, ranging from anti-slavery efforts in the late 18th century to Pierre Trudeau's defence of individual rights. These realities of Canadian history are too often forgotten

One reason Diefenbaker pushed for the Bill of Rights, even though it was only an act of Parliament and lacked constitutional grounding, is that although ideals of liberty had existed for centuries in both English- and French-speaking countries, their application had been narrow. Many individuals, if they belonged to the 'wrong' group - women, for instance, or Chinese immigrants – were mostly denied equality or even standing before the law.

My find was timely. I bought the framed copy shortly before the Freedom Convoy arrived in Ottawa to protest restrictions on their freedoms. While I sympathized with their general preference for a free Canada, two points about freedom should always be kept in mind.

The first is that no freedom is absolute though infringement should be rare. John Stuart Mill made this point in On Liberty over 150 years ago in his famous harm principle: that the state should only use force to prevent harm to others.

Comment

Thus, people have the right to associate and protest but not deprive others of their freedom by interfering with trade at the border, pipeline construction or commuting in Vancouver, to cite a few contemporary examples. I also believe in property rights, but my neighbour has no right to poison her land lest she poison mine. This reminder of the limits on freedom annoyed some readers who liked the rhetoric of freedom but may have forgotten its necessary twin – responsibility.

My second point – that Canada has a long history of freedom – provoked just as strong a reaction among those who dismiss all 'freedom talk' as un-Canadian, or 'extreme.' In fact, this country has a long history of both rhetoric about and commitment to freedom, including a clear grasp of where rights originate - with individuals, not governments.

Inspired by the British parliamentarian and abolitionist William Wilberforce, John Graves Simcoe, governor of Upper Canada between 1791 and 1796, pledged from the start of his governorship that any laws or policies that provided a framework for or supported slavery would henceforth be under attack. His first action was to make the importation of more slaves illegal, a common first step by abolitionists in their crusade against the trade in human flesh.

As for the rhetoric of freedom, consider what one parliamentarian told a crowd in Winnipeg in 1894: "The good Saxon word, freedom; freedom in every sense of the term, freedom of speech, life and civil life and last but not least, freedom in commercial life."

Today, those words sound almost American, only because many Canadians have lost the language of liberty. But the speaker was Liberal Leader Wilfrid Laurier, who would become prime minister in 1896. The spur for Laurier's freedom speech was the Conservative government's protectionism, which he relentlessly attacked. Laurier emphasized freedom precisely because it resonated with Canadians, and he used it to counter the unjust repression of "commercial life," i.e. free trade.

Another proponent and rhetorical publicist for freedom?

Pierre Elliott Trudeau, the prime architect of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms. Though a default collectivist on economic matters, Trudeau well understood that individuals must have their civil rights protected vis-à-vis those who pushed what he called the "theory of collective rights." That's why Trudeau consistently opposed Quebec nationalists who discriminated against English speakers, an attack on individual rights that continues today.

Why does individual freedom matter, and where does it originate? In a 1992 speech to a Cité Libre dinner in Montreal, Trudeau explained that "Larger and smaller collectives confront each other in the heart of one and the same freedom of action, freedom in religious country, and that can eventually lead to civil war. And that's why the French Revolution established liberty as a fundamental right."

He then made clear that although collectives – nation-states – obviously exist, it was critical to grasp that citizens and their rights precede the state and that the state must always justify infringements of liberty. "(C)itizens, you are all first of all equal among yourselves, and ... your rights take priority over those of the state. ... The collectivity is not the bearer of rights: it receives the rights it exercises from the citizens."

This brings us to Trudeau's son, Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, and his government's invocation of the Emergencies Act, which allowed for the arbitrary shutdown of bank accounts among other severe and unnecessary injuries to freedom. That was a stark reminder of why our default principle should always be that governments must justify infringements on citizens' freedom – it's not for citizens to justify their preference for a free society.

Freedom is as Canadian as maple syrup and the Canadian Rockies. Don't let collectivists tell you otherwise.

Minister of Education welcomes students to normal, stable school year

King-Vaughan MPP and Minister of Education Stephen Lecce welcomed students as they began the 2022-23 school year:

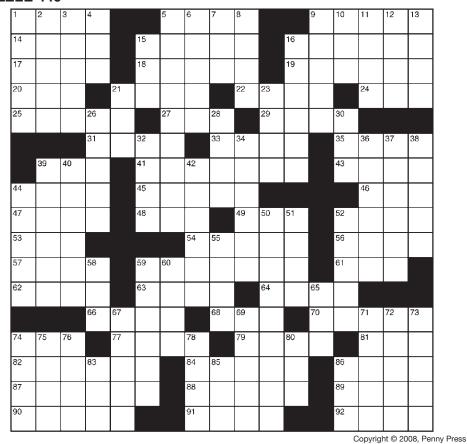

"This new school year marks the beginning of a return to a normal school experience with students in classrooms, for the full school year, with the full school experience. That means that after two years of pandemic disruptions, students are back in normal, enjoyable school settings, including extracurriculars like sports and field trips that we know are so important to student success.

"As part of our Plan to Catch Up, we are providing students with expanded tutoring and mental health supports and preparing them with the skills for the jobs of tomorrow. We are emphasizing STEM learning and the skilled trades, teaching students our brand new math and science curriculum that includes concepts of budgeting, credit and other real world applications.

"I am fully committed to a stable return to class without disruption through to the end of June. By working together, we can help Ontario students continue to learn in-person for the entire school year, catch up on their studies, and enjoy the normal school experience that students deserve.

"To all students, families and staff – welcome back and thank you for your continued hard work!"

Schaefer is 'inspired' to seek re-election

Debbie Schaefer is "inspired" to seek a fourth term on King council.

Serving since 2010, she's motivated to continue because of what has been accomplished and how it was accom-

"More importantly, I am inspired by the opportunities ahead to make King an even better place to live and

"It is possible for two reasons. First, the power of collaboration between council and staff has been well demonstrated this term as we worked and lived through the pandemic and delivered many improvements. Second, King residents and business owners are caring, and they too want King to be better and have shown that they are ready to engage."

Schaefer says she's been a champion of initiatives to improve the quality of life in King including the new Township Wide Recreation Centre, the King City Library and Seniors Centre, and upgrades and enhancements to two neighbourhood parks in King City.

"I am proud that we are delivering these enhancements in a fiscally sustainable way. For example, 90% of the Recreation Centre is funded by federal and provincial grants and developer contributions. Our strategy to be fiscally responsible has necessitated priority setting; I look forward to working with the Kettleby residents for the reconstruction of their road and pedestrian pathways next term."

She pointed out council has been very sensitive to the cost pressures being felt by everyone.

Property tax only covers a small portion of the capital costs of the new amenities. On average, the Township portion of municipal taxes increased annually by only 1.11% between 2018-2022. In 2022 we increased the Township's portion only .75% to add service amenities. From 2016 to 2020 King's average increase was 2.3 %, the lowest of 13 ranked municipalities including Markham, Vaughan, Aurora.

"There have been difficult development applications this term and there will be more as we grow. Change is always difficult, but I think it is particularly so in King City given that so much is happening in areas well established. Accordingly, it is critical that Council rigorously review applications and understand the perspective of constituents," she said.

She considers this an important part of the councillor position.

Her passion for the Greenbelt and the Oak Ridges Moraine has only been deepened by becoming more aware of climate change and the necessity for climate action.

"We must grow within our built boundaries to not only protect the green space but to enable fiscally responsible public transit. We need the woodlots, urban trees and the wetlands to absorb the greenhouse gases we are producing. My involvement with Climate Action King (a citizens group of which I am a founding member) has exposed me to what climate action can mean. In this new term I look forward to working with residents and business owners on climate change mitigation and adaptation."

Schaefer admits there's still work to be done.

"I have the experience, skills and desire to work hard for residents of Ward 5. You can count on me to work collaboratively with the other members of council to always seek decisions and solutions that are in the best interest of the residents of King. I am respectfully seeking your support. Please vote for Debbie Schaefer on October 24 or at one of the advanced polls."

Get students ready for school

As students, teachers and parents prepare for an exciting new school year, York Region Public Health remains committed to supporting health and well-being in schools.

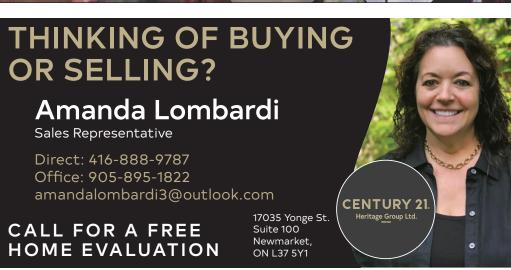

Help protect your school community from severe illness from COVID-19 and other respiratory illnesses this fall by getting vaccinated and staying home when sick (whether you test positive for COVID-19 or not). With most children in the classroom and their entire families vaccinated, our school communities will be better protected and can stay in the classroom where they belong.

Over the summer, a COVID-19 vaccine was approved and is now available for children six months to five years of age. In light of high rates of the BA.5 variant, it is a good idea to get your child vaccinated – especially for kids in this age group who go to daycare, have any medical condition, live with anyone at risk or have school-age siblings.

Make an appointment to get your family vaccinated at york.ca/covid-19vaccine and set yourself up for a safer school year.

Schomberg Street Gallery showcases over 40 artists

Schomberg is open and buzzing for the Street Gallery this year. Eclectic owner-operated shops, cafes, restaurants and other proudly rural delights offering the tastes, smells and architectural beauty of vintage small-town Ontario make Schomberg a King Township gem.

On Sunday, Sept. 18 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Main Street Schomberg will be closed to vehicular traffic allowing pedestrians to leisurely browse the creations of over 40 artists and artisans lining the street. Bring the kids or grandkids so they may create their own masterpieces in the Children's Tent. Here are a few of the featured artists:

Mona Berga's trompe-l'oeil illusions, hand-painted murals, original art paintings, and restorations transform drab or difficult spaces into artistic sanctuaries. She works on scales from miniature to massive, in indoor and outdoor settings. using high-end materials such as ecological paints and glazes.

Yoshiaki Tanaka is discovering the hidden spirit in the Universe, the mysterious power which everyone feels and no philosopher can explain and bringing it into fascinating paintings. The artist studied at the Emily Carr College in Vancouver, the Centre Saidye Bronfman in Montreal and the Ontario College of Art & Design.

Anne Reimer immigrated to Canada from Paraguay and paints award-winning oils with a palette knife, as well as watercolour and mixed media. Her inspiration comes from nature's beauty which she sees in her garden, wild-flowers along the pathway where she walks, and from her travels. She still enjoys teaching and getting ready for art shows.

Andrea Elmhirst creates unique personal and home products made from wool with fine quality accents with a Canadiana theme. From felted soaps to messenger bags, coasters to holiday stockings, all are made one at a time, by hand. Wet felting, needle felting and crocheting are the different techniques used. www.heritagefelt.com Alimatu Koney (Atswei) aims to inspire with her unique and unpredictable paintings, jewelry, wall rug art, wreaths, etc. She is a firm believer in upcycling, reducing and reusing.

Janna Kozoub explores nature and loves to capture her experiences of different textures, colours, contrasts and patterns in oil, acrylic and water-colour paints, and sculpted jewelry and home décor. Her bas-reliefs explore an ancient classic technique she finds inspiring. The artist aims for visual and emotional experiences with nature to convey its true, raw, untouched and fragile essence. www.jannasart.art

Vienna Sbergio In this madness I create, says the artist. Fun fact: Somehow, I never end up using a paintbrush regardless of whether I have one or not.

Yingyue (Kitty) Wang is a passionate artist inspired by the various aspects of life, whether it is physical or psychological. Acrylic paint and clay convey her message, opinions, concerns and interests. New pieces at different stages of her life express her current self and her hope to create an environment and atmosphere inspiring to her visitors.

Gabrielle Tasse chooses acrylic abstracts to communicate ambitious concepts words alone cannot convey. Her art invites viewers to contemplate their deepest thoughts, intuitions and desires, perhaps to formulate opinions and reactions to each painting. The instinctual renderings and spontaneous colour choices invoke joyful adventures in fantasy.

King Township Mayor's Cultural Gala Returns for 2022

By Erika Baird Heritage & Cultural Supervisor Township of King

The Township of King is thrilled to announce that the Mayor's Cultural Gala is back and stronger than ever in 2022.

Join us on Thursday, Sept. 29, at The Manor, 16750 Weston Road for "An Evening in Tuscany," filled with dinner, dancing, drinks and a celebration of arts, heritage, and culture in King Township. Support three amazing organizations: Arts Society King, the King Township Historical Society, and the King Heritage & Cultural Centre, all at one unforgettable event.

It seems like a lifetime ago that we gathered on a snowy February evening in 2020. As guests arrived for the soldout inaugural event, we had no notion of the years that lay ahead and the impact it would make to our sector.

That first King Township Mayor's Cultural Gala raised over $32,000 for the participating organizations. It was a memorable evening featuring performances by Aria School of Music, actor Hugh Barnett and a rousing game of Heads & Tails while guests sipped on French 75s.

Little did we know the importance of that event and the impact those funds would make on our organizations over the next two years.

Funds raised from the 2020 event were well used by each organization. The King Heritage & Cultural Centre focused on an increased digital presence, made vital throughout lockdown, including a brand-new website, kingheritageandculture.ca and improvements to collection digitization which will help to bring the collection and archives online.

The King Township Historical Society was able to offer a slate of free public programs, including their 50th anniversary celebrations, the planting of memorial trees on the KHCC grounds in honour of past members, and the maintenance of their web-

Five Strategies for Aging in Place

Sue Lantz BA, MPA Managing Director Collaborative Aging

Timm is new Township clerk

Denny Timm, Manager of Legislative Services and Deputy Clerk for the Township of King, is the new Township Clerk.

In June, King council appointed Timm as the next Township Clerk effective Sept. 1. Kathryn Moyle, Township Clerk and Director of Corporate Services, in June announced her retirement effective Nov. 30, after 15 years with the Township.

Serving as Manager of Legislative Services with King for the past six years, Timm's previous municipal experience includes roles with the Town of Ajax and the City of Thunder Bay.

As Township Clerk, Timm will be responsible for maintaining the administrative, as well as the legislative, requirements necessary for Township Council and the municipal corporation to function in addition to managing corporate information and the issuance of various permits and licences.

Timm holds a Master's degree in Public Administration from Western University's Local Government Program, a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) degree in Political Science and Labour Studies from the University of Windsor and is a Certified Municipal Officer with the Association of Municipal Clerks and Treasurers of Ontario.

"The role of the Clerk is an important one, providing advice and oversight to help achieve an efficient and effective Council. We have witnessed Denny in action in the past years in his role as Deputy Clerk, working closely with King's current Clerk, Kathryn Moyle," said Mayor Steve Pellegrini.

"On behalf of my colleagues on Township council, I want to officially welcome Denny to the Clerk's role and wish him continued success in King."

"Working on Township teams, Denny has contributed many positive ideas and enhanced efficiencies here in King. His diverse experience and positive outlook are beneficial to the Clerk's position. Congratulations, Denny," added Daniel Kostopoulos, King CAO.

Mayor Steve Pellegrini thanked Ed Sikkema for hosting a community BBQ.

BBQ brings residents together

A community BBQ in Ansnorveldt, organized by Ed Sikkema, brought neighbours and new residents together recently. The Sikkemas thought it would be a great way for the neighbourhood to reconnect after the pandemic.

Sikkema said he thought it would be a good way to meet the new people and families in our neighbourhood,

"In the past three years we have had so many new families move into the Ansnorveldt hamlet all during COVID-19, with many people being told to isolate themselves from others to help prevent the spread of COVID or just being afraid to get together and mingle with their neighbours, I thought it would be awesome to invite the community over for some food, a fire and just mingle."

He said he originally planned to have the BBQ last year, but due to time commitments couldn't plan or host the event.

"This year I wanted to make it happen and planned my summer around this Community BBQ. We hand delivered 80-100 flyers throughout the hamlet with many thank-yous for doing this."

The event was a success. More than 70 people turned out, ranging from seniors to 4-month-old baby, expecting parents, Pastor Ben of Holland Marsh Christian Reformed Church, and Mayor Steve Pellegrini.

A big thanks goes to Holland Marsh Christian Reformed Church for donating the food for the event.

"It was so good to see so many new families with lots of young children show up and all were glad they attended and are looking forward to next year,s BBQ," Sikkema said.

Feds set to create nearly 17,000 homes for Canadians

Making life more affordable for Canadian families starts with making housing more affordable. Everyone deserves a safe and affordable place to live and raise their families, but Canadians are finding it challenging to find one. That's why we are making historic investments to put Canada on the path to double housing construction and meet our housing needs over the next decade.

Prime Minister, Justin Trudeau, announced a major investment of over $2 billion to support three key initiatives that, together, will help create nearly 17,000 homes for families across the country, including thousands of affordable housing units.

This investment, which includes funding from Budget 2021 and Budget 2022, will go toward:

Creating 4,500 additional affordable housing units by extending the Rapid Housing Initiative for a third round. This will include women-focused housing projects and projects supporting those experiencing or at risk of homelessness;

Creating at least 10,800 housing units, including 6,000 affordable units, through the Affordable Housing Innovation Fund, which encourages new funding models and innovative building techniques in the affordable housing sector.

Creating a new, five-year rent-to-own stream under the Affordable Housing Innovation Fund to help housing providers develop and test rent-to-own models and projects, with the goal to help Canadian families across the country transition from renting to owning a Applications are being accepted as of today for both the Affordable Housing Innovation Fund and its new rentto-own stream. As part of their application, candidates will be required to demonstrate their commitment to innovation, affordability, and financial sustainability.

More information on the extended Rapid Housing Initiative will be available soon, followed by the opening of the application and proposal process. These initiatives build on the signifada has already made to increase housing supply and build more affordable housing for people from coast to coast to coast. To date, the government has helped more than 1.2 million Canadians find a place to call home, including through the Rapid Housing Initiative. These investments are also growing our economy and creating good middle-class jobs in the housing and construction sectors.

"When people have a home of their own, whether they rent or they own, they are better able to invest in themselves, and invest in their communities. Our government understands that it is only by investing in people, that we can grow our economy. Tackling housing affordability is a complex problem and there is no one silver bullet, but announcements like today's give more people a place to call home, and a real and fair chance at success," Trudeau said.

"Housing affordability is key to strengthening the middle class and those working hard to join it. Our government is investing in proven and innovative programs to alleviate housing gaps today and into the future. This will help promote inclusive growth and lift more Canadians out of poverty," added Ahmed Hussen, Minister of Housing and Diversity and Inclusion.

Canada's National Housing Strategy (NHS) is an ambitious, 10-year plan to invest over $72 billion to give more Canadians a place to call home. Since its launch in 2017, the government has committed over $26.5 billion to support the creation of over 106,100 units and the repair of over 254,600 units.

Launched in 2020, the Rapid Housing Initiative (RHI) is delivered by the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC), under the NHS. It provides funding to facilitate the rapid construction of new housing and the acquisition of existing buildings for the purpose of rehabilitation or conversion to permanent affordable housing units. The first two rounds of the RHI exceeded expectations, and are expected to create 10,000 units instead of the icant progress the Government of Can- 7,500 initially planned. This includes over 3,300 units to support women and over 4,200 units to support Indigenous Peoples.

The RHI takes a human rights-based approach to housing, serving people experiencing or at risk of homelessness and other vulnerable people under the NHS, including women and children fleeing domestic violence, seniors, young adults, Indigenous Peoples, people with disabilities, people experiencing mental health and addiction issues, veterans, 2SLGBTQI+ individuals, racialized groups, and recent immigrants or refugees.

The Affordable Housing Innovation Fund was launched in 2016. Delivered by the CMHC under the NHS, it is designed to help generate innovation and rent-to-own stream.

growth in the affordable housing sector by encouraging the development of new funding models and building techniques. It supports innovative solutions by providing opportunities where conventional financing is not easily available.

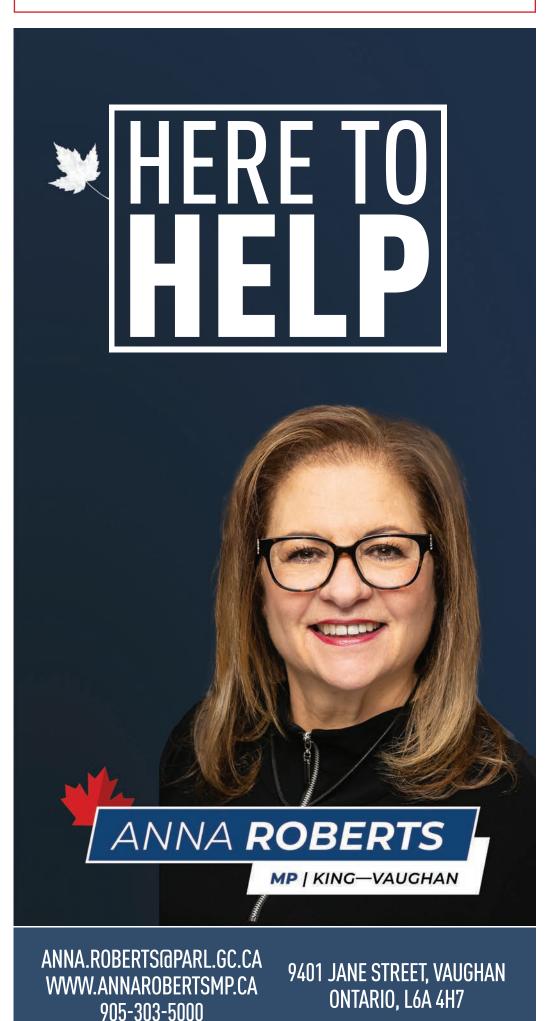

Budget 2022 proposed targeted investments to build more homes and make housing more affordable across the country. This included:

• $1.5 billion to extend the RHI, with $500 million allocated through the Cities Stream and $1 billion through the Projects Stream. City-by-city allocations and exact timelines for applications will be announced soon.

• $200 million to create the new Affordable Housing Innovation Fund's

Health Canada authorizes first bivalent COVID-19 booster for adults

Health Canada authorized an adapted version of the Moderna Spikevax COVID-19 vaccine.

This vaccine (known as a "bivalent" vaccine) targets the original SARS-CoV-2 virus from 2019 and the Omicron (BA.1) variant, and is authorized for use as a booster dose in individuals 18 years of age or older.

This is the first bivalent COVID-19 vaccine authorized in Canada and marks a milestone in Canada's response to COVID-19.

After a thorough and independent scientific review of the evidence, Health Canada has determined that the bivalent Moderna Spikevax booster is safe and effective. Clinical trial results showed that a booster dose of the bivalent Moderna Spikevax vaccine triggers a strong immune response against both Omicron (BA.1) and the original SARS-CoV-2 virus strain. It was also found to generate a good immune response against the Omicron BA.4 and BA.5 subvariants, and is expected to extend the durability of protection.

This adapted vaccine has a similar safety profile to the previously approved Moderna Spikevax booster, with the same mild adverse reactions that resolved quickly.

Vaccination continues to be one of the most effective ways to protect families, communities and ourselves against COVID-19. Evidence indicates that the vaccines used in Canada are very effective at preventing severe illness, hospitalization and death from COVID-19. Keeping COVID-19 vaccinations up-to-date, including getting booster doses as recommended, will help protect an individual against serious illness and other complications of COVID-19 infection.

Health Canada has placed terms and conditions on the authorization requiring Moderna to continue providing information to Health Canada on the safety and efficacy of the bivalent vaccine. This will provide the Department with more data from ongoing studies and real-world use to ensure that the benefits of the vaccine continue to outweigh any risks, as well as to detect any potential new safety signals.

Health Canada and the Public Health Agency of Canada will continue to closely monitor the safety of this vaccine in Canada and internationally, and will take action if any safety concerns are identified.

Unique sites await during King's historical tour

As the King Township Historical Society approaches the mid-way point of their 50th year celebration, you are invited to come out on Saturday, Sept. 17, for the King Township Historical Countryside Tour.

KTHS members have arranged access to a series of unique, and in some cases, rarely accessible historical sites across King Township to visit between 12:30 and 4 p.m.

This is a free event, but does require pre-registration for those wishing to be entered in the draw and receive a loot bag. The tour will begin and end at the King Heritage & Cultural Centre (KHCC) at 2920 King Road, where registrants will receive a loot bag and map of the 12 unique tour destinations and suggested route. The final destination is a return to KHCC where refreshments will be served and a draw held for some great prizes.

Reserve your spot today by emailing kinghistoricalsociety@gmail.com!

Stop #6 is the Blair Burrows Mud House, 80 Burrows Road off Weston Road, King City. The unusual "Mud House" house was designed by Blair Burrows (1884-1985), a remarkable woman architect from Toronto, using the pisé de terre (rammed earth) method. Under her supervision, the structure was built in 1937 by a carpenter and two boys, none of whom had any previous experience with the technique. Original features include the two-foot thick, rot-free walls and a monumental hearth.

Miss Burrows is said to have remarked, "The result far and away surpassed all expectations."

Stop #10 is the Lloydtown Pioneer Cemetery, a Heritage Site where the Lloyds are buried, 6600 19th Sideroad, Lloydtown. The Lloydtown Pioneer Cemetery is named after the Lloyd family who first arrived in Upper Canada from Ohio, Pennsylvania in 1788. Jesse Lloyd played a major role in the settlement of the Lloydtown community and also started the first grist mill in 1826. He was known for organizing and leading others in the 1837 Upper Canada Rebellion in York Toronto.

In 1834, Jennie, a servant girl in the Lloyd family passed away suddenly and Jesse planned for her burying ground. The church was destroyed by fire in 1908 and was not rebuilt. The last burial in the cemetery occurred in 1944. There remains evidence of at least 275 names on 138 stones in the cemetery including Lloyd's wife Phoebe Crossley and many other Lloyd descendants, along with well-known local pioneer families. This site was designated as a heritage property in 1999.

More unique historic locales await,

Newmarket senior loses $100k in scam

York Regional Police is releasing a video interview of an elderly victim who fell prey to the "grandparent" or "emergency" scam to help raise awareness of these types of frauds in the community and prevent others from becoming targets.

Using the pseudonym "Nicky," the 81-year-old Newmarket resident shares how he and his wife lost close to $100,000 in a scheme that took place between March and May 2022.

In March 2022, Nicky's wife received a phone call from a person she believed to be her grandson. He claimed that he had been arrested while he was a passenger in his friend's car, which unbeknownst to him, contained illegal drugs and a gun. A second person, claiming to be an RCMP officer, soon gained the trust of the couple and over the course of two months, persuaded them to make four separate payments to assist their grandson.

Nicky is one of many York Region residents who have been the target of fraudsters in 2022. More than 50 reports of grandparent scams have been received by York Regional Police in 2022 alone, a 100 per cent increase so far from 2021. Since 2019, victims have suffered collective losses nearing $1 million and this worsening trend is of great concern to the police and the community.

In the video, Nicky is interviewed by Detective Sergeant Glenn Wright, the officer-in-charge of the York Regional Police Financial Crimes Unit, as well as Detective Constable Leanne Guthrie, an investigator assigned to the case who has believed to support the victime and their family while the investigation is engained.

Girls hockey celebrating fifth year anniversary

By Robert Belardi

There are many wonderful things happening in a town, that might just fly under the radar. Or maybe even in some cases, completely forgotten about. Until that one reminder. Or that one little story, that brings it back into the limelight, where it should have been all this time.

The King Royals U18AA Girls Hockey Club is made up of an amazing group of 17 enthusiastic female student athletes. They play in the Ontario Women's Hockey Association.

The Royals' mission is to provide opportunities and development for female hockey players to achieve their academic, athletic and personal goals.

Having been in King since the early 2000s and formally known as the King Cavalry, in 2018 the program was on the brink of collapse. Its former coach, was willing to let it all go. Until current head coach, Matt Weir, stepped in to keep it all together.

"I took on the club with the vision and goal of rebranding the team and positioning it to make sure we were going to play at the highest level. The team was originally a BB team. We played at the A level and now we have achieved our goal to play at the AA level, which is the highest level in girl's hockey," Weir said, in an interview with the King Weekly Sentinel.

Weir, who was an All-American at Elmira College, played professionally in Europe and in the Colonial Hockey League. He transitioned to coaching in 1994 and began coaching the female game in 2009. Both of his daughters, played hockey since then and he has been an advocate for the development of the female game.

"I met with Matt in 2019 the first year he was putting the team together and there was a good synergy there. I recognized what his talents were right away and he recognized what my With the development and support of com/.

the program my daughter achieved her goal of attaining a US scholarship. We kind of put it together and she was our first big signing south of the border," said Royals assistant coach, John Elvidge, who joined the club shortly after his daughter.

The female game continues to grow every year. The skill level, is excellent and opportunities to play at higher levels is increasing. There is the Provincial Women's Junior Hockey League, U-Sports, the NCAA as well as our provincial and national teams. With a seven-team women's professional league – The Premier Hockey Federation - our goal is to help our players fulfill their ambitions to play at any one of those

The Royals assistant coach and Schomberg native Theresa Ella, is a prime example of the program the Royals are striving to offer. Coach Ella attained a D1 scholarship to Northeastern University in Boston, Mass., and has gone on to a highly successful corporate career. She now gives back to the game as an amazing mentor to our players.

This year, the Royals are celebrating their fifth anniversary and have a vision, to expand the club to offer other levels. With the excitement of the new recreational facility, the club is hopeful they can have more local players join.

In preparation for the beginning of the year and in celebration of the club's fifth-year anniversary, the girls are preparing for the North Halton Showcase Tournament this weekend from September 9-11. In their first game, they will take on the Amherst Lady Knights to kick-off their 2022/2023 campaign.

The team will be led by coach Weir, assistant coach Elvidge, assistant coaches Theresa Ella, Scott Jones, onice coach Jim Emmett and video coach Jamie Graham.

Vaughan welcomes Stanley Cup

Vaughan Mayor Maurizio Bevilacqua recently welcomed Andrew Cogliano back to Vaughan and the people he loves. Vaughan's very own Stanley Cup Champion grew up in Woodbridge and started his hockey career with the City of Vaughan Hockey Association and the Vaughan Rangers of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association, then to the AAA Vaughan Kings. "Andrew, thank you for being you and congratulations once again on your success," the mayor said.

York United fall to Cavalry in a gruelling 1-0 game

By Robert Belardi

It never seemed like a game York United was entirely comfortable with.

When you watch it over, you might find yourself asking a lot of questions. Why did he pass it there? What was he thinking? Not asking these questions in a wryly manner, but in such a way as to understand, the thought-process in each and every possession.

Despite amassing 10 shots towards target, The Nine Stripes challenged Cavalry FC keeper Marco Carducci twice.

With 74 per cent pass accuracy on the day, that statistic doesn't exactly look horrible, but York did succumb to only having 45 per cent possession of the ball.

From the get-go, Cavalry began knocking on the door early. There was great movement from left-attacking midfielder Jose Escalante and fullback Bradley Vliet. Cavalry, seemed to of challenged Chrisnovic N'Sa's side of the pitch, and looked dangerous as the first half progressed.

York's best chance, came from N'Sa himself, as he struck the ball from about 25-yards out with his left boot, forcing Carducci to punch the ball over the bar on the stroke of half-time. Into the intermission, York began to garner some momentum, so it could have shaped up for an entertaining second half.

Skipping over to the 55-minute, a ball in from right-attacking midfielder Mikaël Cantave, found Escalante alone at the top of the area, and the midfielder tucked it in short post to open the scoring.

It was almost 2-0 instantly, if it wasn't for the crossbar saving the day. Ali Adem Musse, venomously struck the ball from around 30-yards out and much to the delight of goalkeeper Eleias Himaras, it hit off the crossbar and on the outer side of the goal line.

Cavalry, who only accumulated seven shots towards goal, saw three of their attempts hit the net. The opposing club, came up with a few other chances that could have easily made it 2-0.

And York United's Lisandro Cabrera, could have tied it up in the 85-minute instead the forward missed the net entirely.

Horticulture By John Arnott

Much as I'd like to hang on to summer the time to plant spring bulbs - tulips, daffodils, hyacinths and crocuses will soon be here. Daffodils are best planted mid-September to mid-October but tulips can be planted right until the ground freezes. I remember planting tulips one mild Christmas Eve day and they bloomed the following spring! Most garden tulips are descendants of the wild ones which still grow across Turkey and get their name from the Turco-Persian word for turban which the petals when closed resemble.

Tulips, daffodils, hyacinths, onions and many lilies grow from bulbs. Bulb, meaning onion is nature's complete plant package containing root, leaves, stem, flower and seed.

Crocuses and winter aconites (tough but lovely little early spring plants with showy yellow buttercuplike flowers pushing up through the semi frozen ground while ice and snow are still around) grow from another of nature's complete plant packages called a corm. Gladioli bulbs are actually corms. The outer corm is wrapped in protective fibres. Some corms like those of aconites and crocuses are winter hardy and stay in the ground year round others like gladioli corms must be lifted in the fall, cleaned of any remaining foliage and stored in a cool but non freezing dry place over winter to be replanted mid spring.

Tubers are thick roots that grow vertically down into the ground and store water and nutrients for the above ground plant. Orchids, potatoes, sweet potatoes, dahlias, some begonias, hemerocallis (daylily) monarda/bee balm and penstemon all have tuberous roots. Dahlias, tropical orchids, tuberous begonias must be treated like gladioli as they won't winter over in our area. Daylilies, however, are winter hardy here in Southern Ontario.

Rhizome is much like a tuber except it grows horizontally often just under the soil. Irises grow from rhizome roots. A section or piece of an iris rhizome can be cut or broken off a large rhizome, preferably where older growth joins the new growth and planted to start a new plant. When planting of Abraham and Sarah and having as an iris rhizome be sure a little of it many descendants as there are stars in shows above the soil. If the rhizome is completely covered in soil it will grow foliage but no flowers!

> Stolons can grow underground or on the surface of the ground. Either way a stolon will send roots down at points along its length and from these new plants will grow all clones of the original mother plant. Stolons are sometimes called runners. Beautiful goldenrod much in evidence at this time of year does have seeds but reproduces mainly by underground stolons. Now strawberries also reproduce mainly by stolons but their runners grow at ground level.

> By the by goldenrod does not cause hay fever as its pollen is too heavy to be airborne. Ragweed is the culprit but ragweed seeds contain an oil that helps keep winter birds alive through our cold winter season!

St. Andrew's By Kathy Patterson

Welcome to St. Andrew's, Presbyterian Church, King City! Our Sunday worship service is at 10:30 a.m. For in-person services, we are encouraging the use of masks for everyone's safety.

Alison Agnew was with us last Sunday and now will be going to St. Paul's, Nobleton where she will be under the mentorship of the Rev. Dr. Jeff Loach. We have certainly been blessed to have her with us over the summer and wish her God's faithful blessings as she continues her studies at Knox College and time at St. Paul's.

This Sunday we look forward to Lynn Vissers being back and to her ministry with us as we all get into the "September groove." The Greater Grace Fellowship Bible Study Service held Sunday afternoons in the lounge at 2 p.m. is resuming in September. For more information, please call Pastor Niyazi and/or Irada Bilgen at 416-878-8499.

The Women's Prayer Circle will not be meeting on Friday mornings. However, please let us know if you have prayer requests or thanksgivings and we'll be happy to pray with you or for you in confidence. Lynn Vissers (416-998-4652) or Kathy (905-833-0391).

In these uncertain, anxious times, Philippians 4:6,7 is a favourite passage of the Bible where we are told: "Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus."

Prayers and Support for Ukraine are found online at: https://presbyterian. ca/2022/03/04/praying-for-ukraine/.

For pastoral care, please call Lynn Vissers (416-998-4652) or our Interim Moderator, the Rev. Jonathan Dennis (905-724-1979).

All Saints Anglican Church By Patrick Gossage

Please check out the 12th annual Schomberg Country Run by our sister Anglican parish of Lloydtown Sept 14-24. All proceeds going to Water First in indigenous communities. Google Schomberg Country Run.

"Jesus was very challenging in Sunday's Gospel. He said, "Whoever comes to me and does not hate father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters, yes, and even life itself, cannot hearts."

experiences her ministry preparation be my disciple. Whoever does not carry the cross and follow me cannot be my disciple ... None of you can become my disciple if you do not give up all your possessions.

"That sounds like is a whole lot of sacrifice. Let's explore this. Looking at the original language of this text, we find that the Aramaic word for 'hate' is actually a comparative verb. And it means to, 'love much less than.' It tells us, if God and God's kingdom are given the kind of love that Jesus expects; then the highest and best of all our other loves will be in a distant second place. Jesus is simply telling us to put God first. It still means that there is a commitment and cost involved in following Jesus.

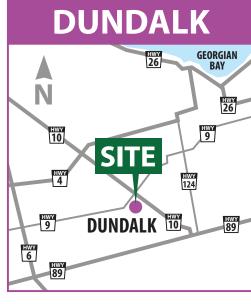

"To sacrifice is part of our every day lives; parents sacrifice to give their kids a good life. People sacrifice for their schooling or to excel in their career. We sacrifice to put the needs of someone else above our own. We sacrifice financially for all kinds of things like down payments for a home and other goals we set for ourselves. We find that we can even do so with a sense of joy.

"Jesus isn't inviting us to cheap or meaningless sacrifice. Jesus invites us to a full-bodied faith and the kind of abundant life that's discovered only as we give ourselves away. Sacrifices aren't easy – such as to make sure that indigenous communities have clean water, to make sure that the underhoused have access to safe and affordable housing, to give to the church so that we can create communities of love and service.

"We have a choice, and Jesus is telling us that to follow him we must choose God, we must choose life and love and the good of this world and all the people in it. And yes, sacrifice – giving our money, our time, our gifts, our emotions, our comfort, our security -Jesus asks us to be willing to surrender them so that God's love can be shared and known.

"I believe that living the Gospel mandates of love, compassion, mercy and sacrifice are good ways to have meaningful and purposeful lives. We know that Jesus wasn't telling us to hate anything, he was asking us to love God MORE, and calling us to a life of purposeful sacrifice. We must know that any sacrifice made for life and love will be part of God's work to redeem this world. May God grant us the courage and the conviction to choose this life and to put God first and foremost in our

Alton bicentennial celebrations coming soon

By Zachary Roman

The Village of Alton will be celebrating its bicentennial this September.

The 200th anniversary celebration will be taking place on Saturday, Sept. 17 and will begin in the morning. From 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. at the TPC Toronto at Osprey Valley golf facilities, residents can stop by for a free coffee and muffin. Osprey Valley will be hosting an open house at that time, to showcase what they have planned for the future. Alton's Osprev Vallev is soon to become the home of Canadian golf as Golf Canada and related organizations are moving their headquarters there.

Events in the Village of Alton will kick off around 10:30 when Steve Turner, also known as The Wedding Piper, will play the bagpipes before a grand opening with Caledon's Town Crier, Andrew Welch. A well-known musician from Alton, Ryan Masters, will be leading those in attendance in the singing of Canada's national anthem. After speeches from attending dignitaries, businesses in the Village of Alton will be open for all to enjoy.

The Alton Grange Association is planning a guided hike, "One Step at a Time," as well as a "Critters in the Creek" event. The Paul Moran Gallery in Alton will be showcasing Alton's history, and the Alton Mill Arts Centre will be open as well.

Lunch will be available at Rays 3rd Generation Bistro Bakery, Gather Cafe, and the Alton Legion. Those looking for a cold beverage can make the short journey to GoodLot Farmstead Brewing Co. for a pint.

There's going to be three "help desks" set up in Alton for the bicentennial at the Old School/New School, the 4 Corners, and at the Alton Village Square. The help desks will help guide people through the day's celebrations, and souvenir postcards will be handed Heritage Caledon has three different heritage walking tours people can enjoy, and maps of these walks can be found online at visitcaledon.ca/pages/ walking-tours. While the Village of Alton is celebrating its 200th anniversary, the Alton Legion will be hosting events to celebrate its 75th as well.

for the bicentennial, explained Alton has a varied history and is much more than just four corners. Alton is located on the Treaty Lands and Territory of the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation, and the Traditional Territory of the Haudenosaunee and Huron-Wendat. Plans for settling Alton began in 1816, when Martin Middaugh Jr., a United Empire Loyalist, received 200 acres of land there from the crown. A settlement grew on the banks of Shaw's Creek and Alton became an industrial centre. However, the Village was not yet named Alton.

In 1852, it was decided the settlement needed a post office and an official name. A town hall meeting was held to come up with one, and a resident, John Meek, suggested Alton as he held in hand a newspaper from Alton, Illinois. Wood explained everyone agreed that the name would be easy to spell and be a great choice for the community.

The Alton post office opened two vears later in 1854, and soon after that. Meek opened the first hotel in Alton. The Village was very prosperous due to Eric Wood, who is the event director the mills that powered industry, and Alton was largely built up from the 1850s to early 1900s. Wood said Alton has a remarkable number of its historic homes and landmarks still intact, and that it provides people the opportunity to step back in time and see what it was like to live in a small Ontario hamlet in the 1800s.

> Wood said he and other Alton residents value the Village's unique history and numerous historical buildings. The landscape of Alton is beautiful, too: Shaw's Creek runs through the Village and to Alton's north is a hill known to locals as "The Pinnacle." Wood said numerous generations of Alton residents have enjoyed hiking, biking, skiing and tobogganing on the hill.

> "We are fortunate to be able to walk through the past, enjoy the present and look forward to the future," wrote Wood. "In the past, Alton villagers have banded together to witness and fight a number of fires, two major floods, and the closing and opening of numerous businesses.

Province making it easier to renew Ontario photo cards

The Ontario government is making it more convenient for people to keep their government-issued identification and permits up to date. Holders of Ontario Photo Cards can now sign up for free reminders by email, text, or phone call 60 and 30 days before it is time to renew, providing a convenient way to get notified when the photo cards are set to expire. All Ontarians are also encouraged to sign up for free digital renewal reminders for health cards, driver's licences and licence plates.

"The Government of Ontario is making it more convenient for residents of King-Vaughan, and all Ontarians to keep their government-issued identification and permits up to date," said Stephen Lecce, MPP for King-Vaughan. "If you have an Ontario Photo Card, you can sign up today to make it easier and faster to renew."

It is important for Ontarians to keep their licence plate, driver's licence, health card, or Ontario Photo Card up to date to ensure seamless access to critical services and avoid fines or penalties. It's easier, faster, and more convenient to renew now than ever before. Customers can renew online at Ontario.ca/Renew in minutes. Those who need to visit a ServiceOntario centre in person can book an appointment at Ontario.ca/Appointment to make the visit quicker and hassle-free.

"We're constantly improving government services to make life easier for people and businesses," said Kaleed Rasheed, Minister of Public and Business Service Delivery. "Digital renewal reminders are a great way to help people remember to keep their ID, documents, and licence plates up to date and to take and an option for people who do not advantage of our easy and fast online services to renew them in minutes."

Signing up for digital reminders is quick and easy online at Ontario.ca/Reminders or by calling ServiceOntario at 1-800-387-3445 (TTY: 1-800-268-7095).

"Signing up for renewal reminders via email, text or automated phone calls is an easy and fast way for people to keep their Ontario Photo Cards up to date. This initiative will provide Ontarians with more time to focus on what matters most, while ensuring these critical documents like driver's licences, licence plates, and Ontario Photo Cards, are always current," said Caroline Mulroney, Minister of Transportation.

"Providing digital reminders is a great way to offer Ontarians choice about how they engage with important services," said Raymond Cho, Minister for Seniors and Accessibility. "These free reminders help ensure everyone can receive communications in an accessible manner."

An Ontario Photo Card is a government-issued identification document hold a driver's licence. The card makes it easier for people to do things such as open a bank account or receive a voting ballot and can be used for online renewal of health cards. There are approximately 770,000 Ontario Photo Card holders.

Since the launch of the service in 2021, there are now more than 2.6 million digital reminder subscriptions for licence plates, driver's licences, and health cards.

More than 40 services provided by ServiceOntario are available online, anytime and anywhere for Ontarians.

In March 2022, the government eliminated licence plate renewal fees and the requirement to have a licence plate sticker, saving vehicle owners $120 a year in southern Ontario and $60 a year in Northern Ontario. While the renewal fee and sticker have been eliminated, it is still a legal requirement for vehicle owners to renew their plates every one or two years at no cost to confirm their automobile insurance is valid and pay any outstanding Highway 407 tolls and other municipal fines.

708 OBITUARIES

Mozes: Garry

Suddenly at his home in Beeton on July 25, 2022. Garry Mozes, at the age of 76 years, beloved husband of Edna Mozes (née: Riddell). Loving father of Joyce (Jody Carleton), June (Terry), and George (Joanne). Dearly loved grandfather of Krystal, Andrew, Steven, Riley, Emma, and James, and Paka of Kash, Kaiden, and Kamryn. Fondly remembered, sadly missed by his sisters Marguerite Boonstra (the late Henry), Marie Miedema (the late Ken), Ann Bowdery (the late Eric), and predeceased by his brother Jim Mozes (the late Terri). Forever in the hearts of the many children he helped to foster over 30 years. And to all those who met him, he was a friend. Family was everything to Dad and he always looked forward to get togethers. He loved playing his guitars and was often the centre of the crowd with his charisma. Respected advisor, and mentor to many.

Cremation has taken place. A Memorial Visitation will be held at Rod Abrams Funeral Home, 1666 Tottenham Rd., Tottenham 905-936-3477 on Saturday, September 17, 2022 from 12:00 pm until time of Memorial Service in the Chapel at 1:00 pm. For those who wish donations to the Foster Parents Society of Ontario https://www.fosterparentssociety.org/donations/, would be appreciated by the family. Online condolences and memories may be left for the family at www.RodAbramsFuneralHome.com.
