Nobleton.

But it will be some time before adequate services are in place to accommodate such a proposal.

Crisdan Holdings and Kingvit Estates have applied to combine five properties just south of the core to house a 6-storey building with 169 units, along with commercial space and parking. There is also a plan for ground-floor commercial uses.

The properties front onto Highway 27, just south of the four corners. Access to the site would be from both Highway 27 and Wellington Street.

A total of 212 residential parking spaces will be provided, both at grade and under ground.

The properties are in Nobleton's settlement area and permitted for residential and commercial development. Both provincial mandates and York's Official Plan call for intensification in built-up areas. King is expected to reach a population of almost 35,000 buy 2031.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO REPEAL DESIGNATION BYLAW UNDER SECTION 32 OF THE ONTARIO HERITAGE ACT

The Ontario Heritage Act, R.S.O.1990, c. O.18 as amended, provides that an owner of property designated under the Ontario Heritage Act may apply to Municipal Council to repeal the by-law or part thereof designating the property.

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of King has received a request at the initiation of the owner to repeal Bylaw 2013-141 which designates the following property under section 29 of the Ontario Heritage Act:

5010 18th Sideroad, Part Lot 26, Concession 7, Registered Plan 65M-3808, in the Township of King, Regional Municipality of York

STATEMENT OF CULTURAL HERITAGE VALUE AND ATTRIBUTES

The one-storey, rectangular frame, board and batten clad dwelling is the oldest standing Baptist Church in the Township of King and was once a place of worship for King's early settlers. The dwelling features a gable roof with cornice returns and displays a very simple style of architecture that would have been typical of many early places of worship. The front facade displays the original doorway with its decorative dentil detailing and colonettes. Above the front entrance is where the name of the church "Second King Baptist Church" and its date of construction "1848" were originally displayed; the sign block remains. The building originally had three window openings on both the west and east elevations. Five of the six period appropriate windows remain; one window entrance has been converted into a main entrance on the west elevation. Attributes also include the symmetrical side elevations, white picket fence and the prominent placement of the building and picket fence on the subject property (and municipal right-of-way).

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION is available by contacting Colin Pang, Planner II/Heritage Planner by email at cpang@king.ca or by phone at 905-833-4067.

The repeal of the designation by-law is to be considered by the Township of King Council as its regular meeting to be held at 6 p.m. on Monday, February 6, 2023.

Any person may, within 30 days after the date of this Notice, serve on the Municipal Clerk, a Notice of Objection in writing, setting out the reasons for the objection and all relevant facts. A Notice of Objection is then considered by Council in its deliberation on the matter. A decision of Council may be appealed by submitting a Notice of Appeal with the Ontario Land Tribunal (OLT) and the Municipal Clerk. More details on the appeal process can be found at https://olt.gov.on.ca/tribunals/crb/crb-process

Notice of Objections must be filed with the Municipal Clerk by Monday, January 16, 2023.

Dated at the Township of King this 15th day of December 2022.

They will work closely with Township staff, taking all comments into consideration as they move forward in the process.

Councillor Jennifer Anstey wanted to know whether these units will be affordable. She also pointed out this intersection is quite busy already, noting Wellington will also be impacted by increased traffic.

Humphries said the project does conform to parking policies and "we take traffic very seriously." Consultants will go into more detail as the project moves foward.

Richard Pernickey of Humphries said they recommend a second northbound true lane be accommodated in the area, alleviating congestion at the intersection. They have estimated peak period traffic.

Councillor Boyd noted there was another northbound lane in the past, but it didn't address the matter, and actually caused more problems that it solved.

Residents appeared before council to voice their concerns.

A 43-year Wellington resident saic the 6-storey building will severely impact the area. There are no sidewalks on Wellington, he pointed out, noting this will make the road unsafe for pedestrians.

A 30-year King Road resident said the plan does provide some needed housing in the community.

An Ellis Avenue resident said they moved here for the small town atmosphere. She said growth should align to the community and a 6-storey building simply doesn't fit. She also commented it looks industrial, almost like a hospital. She also concerned about the amount of traffic and parking on local streets that will result from the development.

Another resident wanted the building to be better incorporated into the village appearance. He had concerns with the overlook of the building.

Some wanted assurances the units won't end up being used as air B&Bs and purchased by speculators.

Councillor Boyd said staff are looking at ways to manage such things across King.

He also praised residents for their diligence and informed presentations. He reiterated the concerns of the public to staff to follow up.

Bid for condos on commercial lots in King City

By Mark Pavilons Editor

There are plans to turn two, long-time business properties into housing in King City.

A public planning meeting was held to hear details on the plan, from Alpa Properties Inc. and Robert B. Sommerville Co.

The two properties, located on the west side of Dufferin north of King Road, consist of 7.53 hectares with some 200 metres of frontage. The Metrolinx rail corridor runs immediately north of the site, while the southern boundary is adjacent to townhomes fronting onto Tatton Court. The rear of the site borders Salamander Park.

The applicant wants to develop the lands into 22 blocks of two, five-storey condo buildings, 81 townhouses and 46 back-to-back townhomes. Three new streets will be created with access from Dufferin and a connection to Tatton. The street townhomes will be three-storey dwellings with a garage, roof top amenity and below grade basement.

Concerns such as traffic, parking, height of the units, grades, connections and more were raised at a virtual public meeting Nov. 17.

Township staff note these properties fall outside the King City boundary, and are considered greenfield development. The Province does, however, promote intensification and sets targets for residential growth.

York's Official Plan forecasts a maximum population of 50,300 for King by 2051. King's Official Plan designates these lands as mixed use, permitting townhous-

Staff are working with the applicant to address all of the feedback and concerns related to the proposal.

There are no specific timelines for the project.

Becoming skilled at juggling our to-do lists

When did I ever need so many hands? I'm constantly asking myself that every time I pick up after the kids, clear out the dishwasher or take out the recycling.

It's at those times that I long for an extra hand, or the ability to balance something on my nose like a seal.

My to-do list seems to grow exponentially and wanting to make quick work of things, I overload myself. Hence the need for more digits, limbs and joints.

When I head out to the trash or recycling bin, I've got stuff in both hands, under my arms and a couple tucked under my chin for good measure. I seldom make it through the front door without dropping something.

In my role as "server" and "housekeeper," I find goodies lying around the top floor, outside the kids' doors. I know they "intended" to take them to the kitchen and they somehow got sidetracked.

I often feel more like a pack mule people living in my home, all using a than a dad.

It's funny, you know, because I had "old school" parents who passed on so many good lines and zingers. And yet, the humour, and seriousness, is lost on my young ones.

Okay, the snow was only calf deep when I went to school. And they never sent me to bed without dinner.

But I did receive couple of well placed shots or ear pulls – my just desserts for saying something disrespectful.

What has happened that our lives have become so busy, so over-extended that we exhaust ourselves time and again? Why are objects towering out of my careworn hands?

Being a Virgo, I dislike having dishes in the sink. Almost every evening when I come home I have to deal with dishes and tidy up a bit.

While the majority end up in the dishwasher, I still do a few things by hand. Inevitably, just when I finish up and turn around, more dishes appear. My children are to blame. I guess when they hear me banging cups and cutlery, it's a signal for cus, she's a machine! them to bring down their stuff.

Are we to blame for this crazy, hectic lifestyle we're in? Partially. Those of us who are in our 50s have "been there, done that." We're likely mostly settled, raising families, well into our careers. Our kids are driving, working, dating. Oh, the humanity (sorry, couldn't resist that historic outcry).

Even though I'm criticized for melting into my couch in the evening, I still find there's always something to do. I thought that once we reached a certain age and level of "royal" status in our households, other people would do the menial tasks. Not so. I'm reduced to court jester and the person responsible for cleaning out the latrines.

With our never-ending to-do lists, when is there time to concentrate on ourselves, our relationships, our mental and physical well being?

My wife is a go-getter, and she's quite organized, but she often finds it hard to focus and seldom knows where to start. That's a red flag. Once she gets her fo-

Mask mandates reduced children's immunity to viruses

By Michael Zwaagstra

Hospitals are experiencing an influx of young children with serious respiratory illnesses. Out of concern for their well-being, some health professionals are pushing to bring back mask mandates for schools. In other words, students would be required, once again, to wear masks while in school buildings.

While their motives might be admirable, their remedy is anything but because wearing masks in schools at this stage of the COVID-19 pandemic would be useless and downright harmful.

It's important to note that most children admitted to hospital are not ill because of COVID-19. Rather, they are sick with other respiratory illnesses such as respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) or influenza. These illnesses are not new, and there is nothing unusual about children contracting them. In fact, they are common childhood illnesses, and many children contract them every year.

The problem is that mask mandates and public health restrictions over the last two years have dramatically reduced children's exposure to these common viruses. As a result, young children have less immunity to RSV and influenza, and some are now getting sicker than children did in the past.

Even if we assume that masks would reduce the transmission of viruses, all the mandates do is delay the inevitable. The wave of infections happening this fall would simply be postponed until restrictions are dropped again – except it would be even worse next time because children would have even less immunity than they do today.

Of course, the other option is to keep mask mandates in place indefinitely. Few people seriously think this is a realistic option: the notion that students should wear masks all day in school from K-12 is not a viable strategy. Thus, unless we are prepared to keep masks in place forever, we must acknowledge that it's time to move away from mask mandates in schools.

As for COVID-19, the virus has clearly entered its endemic stage. No one, other than China's Communist government, thinks that a zero-COVID strategy will work. Virtually everyone acknowledges that COVID-19 will be with us for many years to come, just like influenza and RSV. This means there is no point in wearing masks until COVID-19 goes away because the virus is not going away soon. Instead, it will continue to mutate and circulate in our population.

Parents who are worried about their children's health can take comfort in the fact that children continue to be the demographic group least likely to experience serious outcomes from COVID-19. In addition, parents have the option of vaccinating their children against COVID-19 if they wish.

Obviously, these vaccines should remain optional for both children and adults. Parents must be free to decide the medical interventions they want for their children. Vaccination is a personal medical decision that should be made by parents when they consult with their doctor.

Let's not forget that children have suffered greatly over the past two years. Not only have they missed months of school, but much of their time back in school was marred with mask mandates and strict social distancing regulations.

Finally, this school year is back to normal, and the last thing students, especially young students, need is to be forced to wear masks while they are attending school.

In addition, wearing a mask interferes with normal interpersonal communication and is particularly hard Learning.

on students with hearing disabilities. Since masks cover the face, it becomes almost impossible to read lips and interpret facial cues. In addition, masks make it harder to have a normal conversation since they tend to muffle voices.

In the end, we need to decide what type of society we want to have. Do we want to be a society of hypochondriacs obsessed with personal health to the point of making it almost impossible to contract a respiratory virus? Or do we want to be a free and open society that thrives on normal communication and interpersonal contact?

Judging by the fact that masks are becoming increasingly rare in public places, it is clear what most people have chosen. Anyone who wants to wear a mask in public places, including schools, is free to do so. But school trustees should not impose this choice on students.

The COVID-19 pandemic has been hard enough on our kids. Let's not make it even harder by bringing back unnecessary mask mandates.

Ontarians can now visit local pharmacies for Paxlovid

The Ontario government is giving people more convenient access to care by allowing pharmacists to prescribe Paxlovid, an antiviral treatment option used to reduce severe outcomes from COVID-19. All Ontarians are strongly encouraged to keep up to date with vaccinations, which remains the best way for people to stay healthy this flu and respiratory illness season and prevent unnecessary visits to the hospital.

Pharmacists are able to prescribe Paxlovid to eligible individuals in-person or virtually (such as by telephone) at no cost. Eligible individuals should contact their local pharmacy to confirm if they prescribe Paxlovid and how to get a prescription for Paxlovid.

Eligibility for Paxlovid includes:

Symptoms that are consistent with COVID-19.

A positive lab-based PCR, rapid molecular, or rapid antigen test (including rapid tests done at home).

The prescribing occurs within five days of symptom onset.

The individual receiving the prescription is:

60 years of age or older; 18 years of age or older and is immunocompromised; 18 to 59 years old and at a higher risk of severe COVID-19 outcomes including having chronic medical conditions (such as diabetes, heart or lung disease) or inadequate immunity against COVID-19 (i.e., not up-to-date on vaccines).

"In addition to getting your COVID-19 booster and flu shot, Ontarians are now able to also talk to their local pharmacist about a prescription for Paxlovid," said Sylvia Jones, Deputy Premier and Minister of Health. "This expansion of pharmacists' scope of practice is just one more way our government is making it easier for Ontarians to access health care right in their own communities."

Paxlovid prescriptions also remain available through any physician or nurse practitioner in Ontario as well as clinical assessment centres across the province. Individuals with complex health conditions may need to see their primary care provider or go to a clinical assessment centre for Paxlovid, based on the clinical judgement of the pharmacist.

"Authorizing pharmacists to prescribe Paxlovid will expand access and offer increased protection to the most vulnerable and mitigate pressures on the province's hospital capacity," said

www.king.ca

Dr. Kieran Moore, Chief Medical Officer of Health. "I continue to strongly recommend that everyone across the province stays up to date on their vaccinations as it is the most effective way we can protect ourselves and our loved ones from the most serious effects of COVID-19."

With COVID-19 vaccines and free flu shots available to everyone six months and older and bivalent booster doses also available to those 12 and over, Ontarians are strongly encouraged to get both their flu and COVID-19 shots as soon as possible this respiratory illness season to help restore protection that may have decreased since their last dose.

Individuals who are part of higher risk groups and who have COVID-19 symptoms should immediately seek testing and care by contacting their health care provider, visiting a clinical assessment centre, calling Health Connect Ontario at 811 or 1-866-797-0007 (toll-free TTY), or contacting a local pharmacist.

Individuals can access Ontario's antiviral screener tool to help determine if they are at higher risk and should be assessed for treatment. A positive rapid antigen test, PCR or rapid molecular test is required as part of the assessment for antiviral treatment. Rapid antigen tests will remain available for pick up at no charge until June 30, 2023, from over 3,000 retail locations in the province. PCR tests are available at any provincial testing location to eligible groups.

Clinical assessment centres continue to be available to assess patients with cough, cold, flu and COVID-19 symptoms as well as to test, prescribe and dispense antivirals for COVID-19.

"Pharmacy professionals have played a critical role supporting patients and the health system throughout the pandemic. By enabling pharmacists to prescribe Paxlovid, we will improve access to treatment for Ontarians with the goal of reducing COVID-related hospitalizations," said Justin Bates, CEO of the Ontario Pharmacists Association.

"Pfizer congratulates the Province of Ontario on expanding the scope of practice for pharmacists to prescribe medicines for COVID-19, which will help patients have more timely access to treatments," added Fabien Paquette, mRNA and Antiviral Portfolio Lead, Pfizer Canada.

6 - THE WEEKLY SENTINEL - Thursday, December 15, 2022 CKT comments on amendments to the Greenbelt Act

The Greenbelt Plan is a visionary plan that has become world-renowned. It provides protection for valuable farmland systems and natural heritage systems. It provides predictability and a secure future for agricultural lands and stability for real estate prices in agricultural areas and natural heritage areas within the Greenbelt.

Valuable Farmland

Local farmland in Ontario and Canada is very limited and provides necessary food security for each province and the nation as a whole, a nation that is mainly characterized by rocky landscapes (Canadian Shield) and harsh climates unsuitable for agriculture. Long term food security is essential for a healthy and secure Canada. Sprawling subdivisions will not feed us. !

A quote from ERO 019-6216 description states the purpose of the Greenbelt Plan succinctly:

covered by the policies of the Greenbelt Plan, as well as the Oak Ridges Moraine Conservation Plan and the Niagara Escarpment Plan. Collectively, these plans identify where major urbanization should not occur. The plans provide permanent protection to the agricultural land base and the ecological and hydrological features, areas and functions within the Greater Golden Horseshoe and beyond."

The proposed removal of 7,400 acres in fifteen locations within the existing Greenbelt Plan area is shortsighted and will undermine the integrity and future of the entire Greenbelt and take 1000s of acres of active farmland out of production. Among the primary needs of a growing population in South Central Ontario (Great Golden Horseshoe) is for local food production that is secure.

Affordable Housing

It is recognized that there is a pressing need for additional affordable housing in Ontario with a wide variety of forms of housing. Opening the Greenbelt to additional urban sprawl is not necessary and financially is an expensive way to provide new housing in Ontario. Costly water and wastewater systems, road networks and transit would all need to be extended into these Greenbelt lands outside of established urban boundaries.

As has been well-documented within regions and municipalities across Ontario, there is more than ample land already designated for more than enough housing to meet the goal of building 1.5 million new residential units, in locations where necessary infrastructure already exists.

Appropriate densification and making efficient use of existing infrastructure is far less costly and can effectively move towards the goal of providing visionary plan.

"The Greenbelt Area includes lands abundant attainable and affordable housing. If the government is serious about providing the housing needed today, it will maintain the current Greenbelt Plan with lands designated as Natural Heritage and Protected Countryside, and focus on and support the building of a variety of new housing units within established urban boundaries.

The Housing Affordability Task Force set up by the provincial government early in 2022 released a report which makes it clear that there is more than enough land already designated to meet the goal of building 1.5 million new residential units by 2030 within today's urban boundaries, and to protect existing agricultural and natural heritage lands.

Question of Trust

Also well-documented is the government's public statements emphasizing that the Greenbelt will not be opened up for development. The Premier, himself has stated clearly that "we will not touch the Greenbelt." Given that there is no need to open up the Greenbelt to achieve stated new housing goals, it is an important matter of public trust that the government will stand by its word. The government is urged to retain the public trust.

To conclude, each government leaves a legacy for future generations. It is clear from expert planners, farmers, scientists and countless citizens across Ontario that continuing to build expensive sprawling subdivisions on precious agricultural land and wetlands represents poor planning and compromises a healthy climate resilient future for this and future generations. May this government build a legacy that champions the entire Greenbelt as identified in today's Greenbelt Plan and with fulsome public consultation expand this Councillor Debbie Schaefer wanted to know why there is no commercial/retail component of the project.

Councillor Avia Eek found the plan "exciting," noting it provides a variety of much-need housing types in King.

Councillor Jordan Cescolini said he's happy that the design lines up neatly with Tatton and he, too, is excited to see something different for the area. He would like to see the inclusion of an off-leash park. He also wants to ensure sufficient buffers between the new and existing homes in the area.

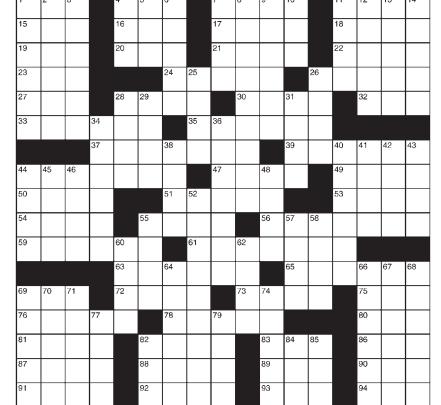

Staff did point out the proposal is split into two parts, one for the townhouses, the other for the condo building. The townhouses are the first to be presented. They further pointed out the existing business on the properties have no immediate plans to relocate.

Unifor lauds court decision on Bill 124

Unifor celebrates the recent decision by the Ontario Superior Court of Justice, which ruled that Premier Ford's Bill 124 unduly infringes on workers' rights.

"(The) decision is a victory for not only public sector workers and unions across Ontario, but also for every Ontarian who relies on our public services," said Lana Payne, Unifor National President. "For the past four years, workers fought back against this wage suppression bill through direct action, lobbying, and sharing personal experiences. When workers organize for justice, we can win."

"This decisive ruling needs to be a learning lesson for the Ford government. Even majority governments need to respect workers' rights and listen to people,' said Naureen Rizvi, Unifor Ontario Regional Director. "Public sector workers risked their lives for us during the pandemic and this wage suppression law made their lives harder and drove many from the sector. With this ruling I want to assure workers that we are shifting of focus on seeking remedies from the Ontario government."

Unifor, alongside 40+ other unions and associations (including the OFL, OSSTF, ETFO, OECTA, ONA, OPSEU, the Society and PWU) filed a Notice of Application on Aug. 28, 2020 with the Ontario Superior Court of Justice. The unions argued that Bill 124 breaches the right to free collective bargaining under the freedom of association guarantee in s. 2(d) and the right to strike under the freedom of expression guarantee in s. 2(b) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The court held hearings from Sept. 12-21, 2022.

Residents gather in King to protest Bill 23

Concerned citizens and environmental activists are worried about impacts of recent provincial moves, especially Bill 23.

They warn of harmful impacts of the Bradford Bypass and Highway 413, harm to Lake Simcoe; paving wetlands, and more.

Residents gathered in King City recently near the constituency office of King-Vaughan MPP Stephen Lecce.

The "rally for the Greenbelt" attracted roughly 100 people.

Local farmer, Dean Orr, showed up with his huge tractor and his personalized signs was fantastic!

The sing-along led by Ann Raney with lyrics "Hands Off the Greenbelt" written by Ann was spot on and a lot of fun.

King-Vaughan MP Deb Former Schulte joined and offered some comments.

Some visitors sported great costumes and hand-made signs.

They protested Bill 23, noting it "spells disaster for farmland, wetlands, conservation areas, and wildlife. It undermines municipal governments and guts conservation authorities. It's an attack on democracy."

ing $629,961 this year to support critical upgrades and repairs at Mackenzie Health. This funding is part of the government's investment of over $182 million provided through the Health Infrastructure Renewal Fund and the Community Infrastructure Renewal Fund to 131 hospitals and 65 community health service providers across the province.

"As an MPP and resident of Richmond Hill, I am proud that our government ensures our Richmond Hill and York Region patients can continue to access the care they need in safe, and comfortable environments. I would also like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to every worker at Mackenzie Health for their efforts in taking care of the patients," said Daisy Wai, MPP for Richmond Hill.

"We are proud to invest and improve the hospitals that serve families in Vaughan, King and across York Region. This investment in Mackenzie Health, along with the hiring of hundreds of front-line staff and increased funding will ensure patients get the quality care they deserve," added King-Vaughan MPP and Education Minister Stephen Lecce.

"We appreciate the government's continued support and investment in our hospitals. Continued funding to support infrastructure upgrades and maintenance at Mackenzie Richmond Hill Hospital is essential. Our two hospitals work together to support residents across western York Region and beyond and continued investments like the Health Infrastructure Renewal Fund will help us to deliver safe, quality care to our community across both hospitals for many years to come," noted Altaf Stationwala, President and CEO, Mackenzie Health.

Ontario is providing $175 million to hospitals through the Health Infrastructure Renewal Fund and over $7.6 million to community health service providers through the Community Infrastructure Renewal Fund. This funding from the province allows its health care system partners to address urgent infrastructure renewal needs such as

Agreement reached with council of education workers

The Province reached an agreement with the Ontario Council of Education Workers (OCEW).

"We are proud to announce that another tentative central agreement has been reached with the education workers represented by the Ontario Council of Educational Workers (OCEW). This further demonstrates that our government can deliver agreements with education unions that ensure children remain in class, where they belong," said Education Minister Stephen Lecce.

"Keeping kids in class has always been our number one priority, following years of disruption that have left profound impacts on children across the country

"Students across Ontario are benefitting from our government's $650 million increase in funding for this school year, along with the 7,000 additional education workers funded by our government since taking office, to help get kids back on track. "To ensure kids catch up, they need stability right to June, along with clubs, sports, and extra curriculars. It is my sincere hope that all remaining education unions and school board trustees' associations will continue to come together with the government to keep children where they belong: in class, learning without disruption."

Enjoy the magic of the season through the Holiday Light Tour

By Patti Skrypek

Looking for something to do as a family outing this holiday season? Continue or create a special holiday tradition by taking them on a tour of the festive lights in King Township while supporting a great cause at the same time.

Once again, the Holiday Light Tour is glowing brightly and Christmas in King, a sister organization of the King Township Food Bank, is able to offer holiday cheer to nearly 400 people of different faiths and nationalities in our community. Some are long-time residents and others are having their first Christmas in Canada.

Purchase a map for just $10 through christmasinking.ca and spend an evening or two driving around King Township, enjoying a wonderful array of outdoor light displays. This year, we are excited to announce new features to the map. We've included a recommended route for each of the communities to help simplify your drive and we've included a "NEW" notation for the eight locations that have joined the tour this year. Santa Claus Parade

I just wanted to send out a sincere and profound thanks to everyone who played any part in our most successful Santa Claus Parade, A Main St Christmas, ever!

The many volunteers who helped with crowd control, my "curb-bumpers." I could not possibly run that parade without your help. I know it can be a thankless job at times but absolutely necessary – safety first!

I hesitate to mention any names because I would be afraid of forgetting someone but I definitely have to send out a big thanks to Karl and Barb Davis of Nobleton Green Tractors for providing me with a Gater for the event-without which I would never have been able to run the parade and to Maureen Richardson, who put up with me and drove me around all night – thank-you so much!

A very special thanks to JC Landscaping, who donated 3,000 candy canes for the parade and between all the kids in the Parade and many volunteers, we managed to disburse them all to the community!

Thank-you to all who participated in the parade – from the bands, the Shriners, all the many terrific and imaginative floats, both schools, all the businesses, organizations, clubs, the entertainers, and all the animals and of course our pooper-scoopers!

Congratulations to our winning entry – Schomberg Public School – who gets back the beautiful Lisa Cole painting, a 2021 Main St Christmas plaque and a beautiful wreath from Seasons Floral Shop.

A very special thanks go out to Gord Dobson who took control of our gates and between the Schomberg and Nobleton Lions and the Oldtimer Hockey Players and Hockey dads. The gates were well looked after and without that, there would be no Main Street Christmas event, so thank-you all.

If I have forgotten anyone I apologize, but everything is appreciated and only with the whole mechanism working cohesively,can A Main St Christmas be a success.

One last thing, as I drove down the street behind Santa, and I saw the huge crowds and the many faces of all those kids, my heart melted and I can only say thank-you to you all for supporting our mega efforts to bring Christmas to Schomberg! gating the challenges of the pandemic, Anna and her team established resiliency and set a high standard for leadership through early participation in mass vaccinations and rapid testings.

After embracing opportunities and rising above predicaments, these 27 magnificent women are all doing extraordinary work trailblazing for the next generation of leaders.

Congratulations Anna, one more amazing, outstanding citizen in our beloved Schomberg!

Coats for Kids

Dr. Carla from the Schomberg Chiropractic Wellness Centre, in the courtyard of the Brownsville Junction Mall, is doing it again. She and her crew are holding "Coats For Kids."

They collect gently used children's coats, snowsuits, boots, hats, mittens and scarves. All of these items can be dropped off at her Schomberg Chiropractic Clinic until Dec. 15. These items will all be disbursed to families in need throughout our York Region!

Mixed curling teams in close battle for top spot

By Shellee Morning KING CURLING CLUB

As the first half of King Curling's regular season play is in its final stages before the Christmas break, the gap between teams amongst the leagues has never been as tight.

Any team is beatable with the top teams switching it up after each week's games.

Last week in the Mixed league the late draw showcased the top 3 teams all vving for the top spot or to at least keep their current position.

Teams Inglis, Morning and Steenhoek shared the top spots with Campbell and Clark breathing down their necks. A win for any team was guaranteed a shuffle in the standings. The games all began with simple scoring after the first ends but as with any contest, things can go sideways after a multiple score is attained.

Team Clark jumped ahead of Steenhoek but after a slow climb back Steenhoek brought the score within reach only to have Clark collect enough in the last ends to secure the win. Team Campbell was on a bye so Skip Jack Campbell spared for Team Inglis (as the Lead) playing a near perfect game. Second Christine Warner had the game of her career placing her stones in better than perfect positions. Greg Switzer moved up to the Vice position where he executed take-outs, hit and rolls and guards when needed. Veronica Wilson having to step up into the Skip position filled the part like a pro; Reading the ice for broom placement as well as line calling and of course completing the big hits.

Team Morning, who struggled with

Cougars defeat Terriers, take on Siskins and Otters

By Robert Belardi

The Schomberg Cougars took down the Orillia Terriers 6-4 on home ice last Thursday in their only game of the week, for a second week in a row.

The week prior the Cougars went out on the road and shut-out the Innisfil Spartans 7-0.

In this game, the match didn't quite begin on the front foot for the Cougars. Josh Brown and Devon Edmonds immediately gave the Terriers a quick 2-0 lead inside the first five minutes.

But - much like what the Cougars do best - the boys settled into the game and close to the end of the period, captain Cameron Kokelj scored his 14th goal of the season on the power play to bring the boys within one.

Since that goal, the Cougars scored twice in the second period to take the lead. Jacob Futas scored his first goal of the season and Kokelj added his 15th goal of the year to take the lead.

In the third period, despite coughing up a power play goal to Lucas Wessinger, the Cougars never backed down. Luke Miehm scored his 13th goal of the season, Kokelj added his hat-trick goal and with Colton Dumond bringing the game back within one, Anthony Roberts sealed the deal shortly after that.

In total, the Cougars went three-for-five on the power play and outshot the Cougars 36-27.

The Cougars still remain in third place in the North Carruthers Division with 28 points on the year. It will be a tough week this week taking on the Stayner Siskins on the road tonight and the fourth-place Huntsville Otters tomorrow.

The Cougars will look to snap their losing skid against the Siskins. With some weight and unlucky roll-outs, did manage to set up a few ends in their favour, only to watch the sharpshooters of Switzer and Wilson find a way to steal it away and win the game.

On the early draw Team Flannigan up against Team Battershell was in a great back and forth battle where both teams were effective in their deliveries and earning their scores. Flannigan on his last rock in the last end delivered a precision run-back hit for the point and the win. Team Sheardown played Team Musato in a game of singles.

Sheardown, finding the win streak with 3 wins and 1 tie in their last 4 games, played a simple game of protecting the steal earning single points in every end to claim another win. Team Brown, with consistent draws to the button, also found the win to share a 5th place standing.

The battle for top spot is now held by Team Inglis with Campbell, Morning and Steenhoek all tied for 2nd overall, while Team Clark sits in the lone 3rd position.

The total point spread is a mere 5 points between the top 6 teams in an 11-team roster. With only 2 games before the holiday break, every team needs to bring their A-game as every point counts to earn that win and hold their spot in the standings.

players out due to exam week, we'll see what the boys can muster up. Stay tuned.

Purdy students at Guelph event

The Purdy Centre for the Arts participated at the Guelph Open Shiai in Guelph Nov. 26.

It was a competitive day with more than 175 martial artists in attendance from varying styles to test their skills at the tournament. Sensei Blair Purdy, who is the head instructor at the PCFA, prepared 7 of his students who brought back 3 gold standings, 4 silver standings, and 1 bronze standing, for a combined 8 honors for the day.

There were many divisions offered for the different ranks and ages including Kata (forms) Kumite (sparring), and Kobudo (weapons).

"I want my students to experience the energy of the moment with spectators and participants," said Purdy, "That alone is worth the cost to participate in the tournament. The preparation that is put into an event like this helps my students to deal with the stress - and it is a very high stress level – but dealing with it can only be useful in better preparing these kids for their adult life."

The Purdy Centre for the Arts is approaching its 20th anniversary since opening its doors and being part of the King/Schomberg Community. Although Sensei Blair holds a 4th Degree Black Belt in Goju Ryu Karate, he pushes his curriculum at the PCFA with the influences of Kung Fu, Boxing, and Mixed Martial Arts. KCSS ties St. Theresa, tied for first in tier one hockey

By Robert Belardi

The King City Lions tied the St. Theresa of Lisieux Lions 3-3 last Thursday, now tied with Stouffville for first place in tier one hockey.

In the battle of the Lions, the first goal of the game didn't come until close to the end of the first period.

Keaton Walsh intercepted the puck from a Lions defenceman and ripped a slap shot from the right hashmarks top shelf to give the Lions the 1-0 lead.

In the beginning of the second period, St. Theresa came out of the gates flying. On a two-on-one, Chase Dawson's shot forced Lions goaltender Andrew De Melis to make a nice save.

Forcing more chances, Arthur Sushko's point shot was tipped in by #10 on St. Theresa and the game was tied up.

Eventually, #10 scored another goal for St. Theresa to make it 2-1 and now the Lions were on the back foot.

But like good teams that are out there, the Lions didn't fold under pressure and hemmed St. Theresa in their zone after a power play for over a minute. Unfortunately, the Lions could not find the solution and went into the second intermission down 2-1.

Early in the third period, Daniel

Cotroneo intercepted a pass from St. Theresa's defenceman and similarly to the first goal, Cotroneo flew into the zone and ripped a shot top corner to tie the game.

Shortly after, Nathan Watt made it 3-2 for the Lions. St. Theresa #19's point shot found the back of the net to tie it up.

With just over five minutes left to play, the Lions found themselves with a five-on-three power play and called a timeout. With a two-man advantage, the boys failed to capitalize on that chance and eventually tied the game.

It was an up and down game and one with many opportunities. But coming into the third period and getting a quick goal was a point of emphasis for Lions captain Nick Volpe.

"That's a good team we're playing. It's a tight race in the standings. I thought we played pretty good though," Volpe said after the game.

"We just said we need to get a quick one when we come out. First shift is most important. And we did exactly what we said we got the first goal and then we got the lead. But it's alright. We just got to hold that lead next game."

We invite you to join us in person for worship this Sunday at 10 a.m.

Our Pastor, Jeff Loach will share a message entitled "God With Us ... In the Beginning" from John 1. Following the service we will enjoy refreshments. We hope you can come!

If you can't make it in person, our live-streamed broadcasts are available directly on stpaulsnobleton.ca or on our YouTube channel each Sunday at 10 a.m., or on demand at youtube.com/ stpaulschurchnobleton.

We invite your entire family for a free outdoor experience at our Walk-Thru Christmas, where we will celebrate the story of the first Christmas. Talk with shepherds guarding their real, live sheep; sing carols with angels; or keep warm with Roman centurions around the fire. Follow the wise men as they lead you to find the baby in the manger, and talk with Mary and Joseph. This event will take place at 5750 King Road, anytime from 3 to 6 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 17.

Christmas Eve worship will be Saturday, Dec. 24, 7 p.m. We invite you and your friends to hear the story of the new-born King Jesus at St. Paul's as we celebrate the true meaning of Christmas.

Christmas Day worship will be held on Sunday, Dec. 25 at 10 a.m. Because Christmas Day is a Sunday this year, we will gather in person for worship, and share the Lord's Supper together. This will be an intergenerational family gathering, so feel free to bring the kids and come in your pajamas, if you like!

Quilting and/or knitting has started up again. We will be sewing and tying quilts for people who could really benefit from them. We would love to have you join us, if this might be of interest to you.

St. Paul's is coordinating with the King Township Food Bank in the distribution of "St. Paul's Love Bags." These bags include items that are seldom donated and are in high demand for those less fortunate. If you would like to help by contributing to this mission, please check www.stpaulsnobleton.ca to find a list of items needed.

St. Alban's By John Arnott

What with destructive hurricane spawned winds, and gales sweeping up the Atlantic coast of North America earlier this fall and the strong winds we've been experiencing off and on right up until very recently, to say it's been a windy summer and fall is for sure a mammoth understatement. But high winds are nothing new to York Region and its neighbour Simcoe County.

George Marsh, who with his wife Frieda, both now of blessed memory, came from Kent in England to the Nobleton area in 1927 recalled that a particular wicked windstorm shortly after they'd arrived brought down one of the large heavy wooden funnel shaped decorative turrets that decorated each of the four corners of St. Alban's red brick bell tower. The tower top was so damaged by this incident that it was decided on the advice of George Courtney, master plumber, and knowledgeable in construction, fondly known by the parishioners as "the engineer," that the remaining three turrets be removed and the bell tower itself scaled down to the way it stands today.

George Marsh had a long connection with this historic bell tower as he soon became St. Alban's official bell ringer, a post he held for some 60 years.

Tottenham United Church on Mill Street has a fine example.

The JOY candle was lit for the third Sunday of Advent and the Rev. Dr. John Vissers spoke from Isaiah 35:1-10, entitled, the Joy of the Redeemed describing the fulfilment of God's plan to the Israelites. John also mentioned that Mary, the young expectant mother of Jesus, must have been confused and not happy in her situation, but she had joy and said in Luke 1 that her soul magnified the Lord and her spirit rejoiced in God her Saviour.

Joy is a gift from God because of His gift of Jesus – something that C.S. Lewis realized he had been missing until he accepted God's gift told in his book "Surprised by Joy."

This fourth Sunday in Advent we'll light the candle of LOVE. Following the worship service we will enjoy a Christmas Lunch together as safely as possible. Let us know if you can come.

We are looking forward to being together for our Candlelight Christmas Eve Service at 7 p.m. with Carols and Readings. We hope you can join us for this beautiful hour-long service.

The Ladies' Bible Study on Tuesday evenings and Art-for-the-Soul on Wednesdays is virtual. Contact Lynn Vissers at 416-998-4652 for the ZOOM link.

Contact Lynn or Kathy (905-833-0391) regarding prayer requests or to share in thankfulness to God. We'll be happy to pray with you or for you in confidence. Philippians 4:6,7 reads: "Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with scends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus."

The Greater Grace Fellowship Bible Study Service meets Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m. For more information call Pastor Niyazi and/or Irada Bilgen at 416-878-8499.

For pastoral care, please call Lynn Vissers (416-998-4652) or our Interim Moderator, the Rev. Jonathan Dennis (905-724-1979).

All Saints Anglican Church By Patrick Gossage

Advent Repentance - A sermon by Rev. Erin Martin:

"In today's story of John the Baptist in Matthew 3, he says, 'Repent, for the kingdom of heaven has come near!' We tend to think of repentance as being about penitence – feeling or showing remorse for having done wrong, but there's more to it than that and this is where Advent comes in. Repentance means to turn around, starting over, heading in a different direction.

"There are things we as a country we should repent: of Climate change.

justice. The lack of clean water, especially in Indigenous communities. War and violence ... the list goes on. It's not long before it's really tempting to give up on the whole repentance thing. But in this Advent, we can do some simple things that might save us from being overwhelmed. Let's try to do just three small things this advent:

"First, I want you to imagine what God's vision for you is. What do you think God wants you to be and do? God wants us to see beyond what we're doing now, and imagine something bigger and better. Isaiah wrote about God's dream of a world where there is no predator or prey, no fear or hatred. That is a dream by which we can set our course. How is God calling you to be a part of that dream? Second, choose one – just one - element of your lives of which you'd like to change direction.

"Make that change this advent. Is there a practice you might take up that would produce a more abundant life for you or those around you? Is there a broken relationship you'd like to heal? Can you imagine using your time differently for a better purpose? Third, can you think of one element of our communal lives at All Saints that needs thanksgiving, present your requests to Poverty and food scarcity. Racial in- repentance? A ministry that needs a reboot. How you could you contribute to that change or redirection. Can you volunteer for a ministry that needs help? Can you make an additional donation to something that needs support? By engaging in these acts of repentance, we should be ready for Christmas, and ready to welcome Jesus more fully into our lives.

> "My prayer, is that by looking for ways to live that out that repentance – turning around in the direction God is showing us - that we'll have a more meaningful Advent, and a more meaningful Christmas, Repent, the kingdom of God has come near! This is a blessing and a joyful thing."

ADVERTISING RULES OF THIS NEWSPAPER The advertiser agrees that the publisher shall not be liable for damages arising
